Hail Marian Anderson in Finale Benjamin O. Davis Nominated for Lieut. Gen.

Highest Negro in U.S. Military Forces; 2nd Command in Korea

Washington, D. C.—Maj. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, Jr., Friday was nominated for promotion to lieutenant general in the Air Force, the first Negro to reach that high rank in the U.S. military forces.

Gen. Davis is the son of an equally famed military man, former Brig. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, Sr., now retired.

World War II

The younger Davis, now 52, first received acclaim during World War II when as a fighter pilot he commanded a fighter squadron, then all Negro. Gen. Davis won the Silver Star for leading the squadron in strafing Nazi airfields in southern Germany. He also wears the Distinguished Flying Cross, The Distinguished Service Medal, The Air Medal and the Legion of Merit.

Major General

Presently Gen. Davis holds a staff job as assistant deputy chief of staff for programs and requirements. He has been a major general for 10 years. His promotion, second highest in the Air Force, requires confirmation by the Senate, but this is routine.

The nomination for promotion was announced by White House Press Secretary George Reedy who also told newsmen that President Johnson had approved the assignment of Gen. Davis to be chief of staff, or second in command of U.S. forces in South Korea and of the United Nations Command, Korea.

Born in Washington, Gen. Davis was educated at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, the Univer-

Background

After graduating from the U.S. Military Academy in 1936, Gen. Davis was commissioned in the infantry but shifted to the Army Air Corps, where he received his wings in March 1942.

In addition to North Africa and Italy during World War II, Gen. Davis' overseas duty assignments have included commands in Korea and on Formosa and staff posts in Tokyo and Germany.

Gen. Davis married the former Agatha Scott in 1936.

New York — NAACP branches throughout the country have been asked to recruit volunteers for the NAACP "Summer Project" in Mississippi and Alabama, Gloster B. Current, director of branches and field administration, announced this week.

3,000 Pay Tribute to Great Contralto Singer in Last Formal Appearance

New York City—Marian Anderson, whose voice was described as "once in a hundred years," retired from the concert stage in triumph here Sunday afternoon.

Nearly 3000 men, women and children jammed Carnegie Hall to hear the great contralto voice in its last formal concert appearance.

The Great singer, who had been acclaimed the world over, in concert halls in three continents—North America, Europe, and Asia, stood with eyes glistening and a smile on her face. She repeatedly whispered, "thank you, thank you," as the audience rose in a dramatic standing ovation, in tribute to the legendary one who was making her last formal concert appearance before them or any other audience.

Farewell Tour

After a formal announcement by her manager, Sol Hurok, who discovered her over 30 years ago, Marian Anderson had begun last year what was called her "Farewell Concert Tour," beginning in Chicago, Ill. With each appearance in each city, civic leaders, and music lovers had gathered on each occasion to pay homage to and honor the contralto singer who had given command performances before many of the world's kings and leaders. She had more praise, acclaim, citations and medals, heaped upon her in 25 years, than most have in a lifetime.

D.A.R. Snub

Yet the possessor of the voice that has thrilled millions around the world, had attained the pinnacle and stayed there. Once she had been snubbed by the Daughters of the American Revolution when they refused her permission to sing in Constitution Hall. The late Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who equaled the ladylike and humane greatness of Miss Anderson, came to her rescue, resigned the D.A.R. and sponsored a huge outdoor concert that was acclaimed throughout the nation's capitol.

MISS ANDERSON

Honors

Among her international honors were the receiving of the Presidential Medal of Freedom, highest award bestowed by the United States upon a civilian. Born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1908 she received the Spingarn Medal in 1939 for highest achievement for a Negro recognized by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

She was presented the Book Award in 1940 and was the first of her race to sing in the Metropolitan Opera. Her first great successes came in Europe. In 1958 she was appointed alternate delegate to the United Nations General Assembly.

N. Y. Youtn Is Senate Page; Illinois Boy Picked for House

Washington — The longstanding Congressional page boy color line was broken Tuesday, April 13, when Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R.N.Y.) appointed 16-year-old Lawrence Wallace Bradford, Jr., as a Senate page. Lawrence, who began work immediately, is president of the New York Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The appointment was approved by Senator Everett M. Dirksen (R.Ill.), Senate minority leader.

House Page

The next day, a 15-year-old Negro youth from Springfield, Ill., was named a page in the House of Representatives. Frank Mitchell, a high school sophomore, was selected by Rep. Paul Findley (R.Ill.) and approved by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr., (R.Mich.), the House minority leader, and Rep. Leslie C. Arends, also of Illinois, the House Republican whip.

Senate Page

The new Senate page is the son of a door fitter at the Ford Motor plant in Mahwah, N.J., and an honor-class sophomore at the New Lincoln School, a private high school in New York City. His NAACP activities include participating in voter registration drives and tutoring younger students.

Although Senator Javits was instrumental in bringing the youth to Washington, the prime mover was Mrs. Emma Bowen. She is Lawrence's former Sunday School teacher and NAACP Youth Council advisor. Mrs. Bowen arranged a meeting between the youth and Sen. Javits in January.

Special Committee

A special committee, headed by Rep. Edith Green (D.Oreg.) studied the page system last year and reported that no Negro had ever served as a page in either chamber. It recommended an end to the discriminatory practice.

Felton Johnston, secretary of the Senate, said, "I cannot say that many, many years ago there were not Negro pages, but I have not heard of any." Mr. Johnston began his service with the Senate in 1929.

Chicago — U. S. District Judge James B. Parsons, rumored to be in line to fill the next vacancy on the U.S. Supreme Court, was in Michael Reese Hospital last week undergoing a complete physical check-up.

Parsons, who represents the Northern District of Illinois, was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy as the first Negro U. S. District judge.

Large Number of Complaints Against Southern Hospitals Is Filed with NEW Dept.

Washington—A record number of complaints against "discriminatory practices in 36 federally assisted hospitals in six southern states" has been filed with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Joint announcement was made here Apr. 14 by the NAACP and the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., two separate but closely associated organizations.

Urge Action

Messrs Frank Pohlhaus, counsel of the NAACP's Washington Bureau and Jack Greenberg, director-counsel of the Legal Defense Fund requested that "appropriate action be taken to insure immediate compliance with the nondiscrimination provisions of Title 6 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964."

Hold Payments

The attorneys asked HEW Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze "to hold up further payments (of government monies) pending investigation of this complaint and compliance of Title 6.

This complaint brings to a total 78 southern hospitals cited for discriminatory practices during the last three months.

Florida leads in this most recent complaint, with 17 hospitals cited; Alabama has 11; Louisiana has four; Tenn., two; Georgia one, and Virginia, one.

Dr. King Returns to Selma; Report 100 Negroes Fired From Jobs After Vote Drive

Selma, Ala.—Dr. Martin L. King, Jr., returned to Alabama for the first time since the historic "Selma to Montgomery" march and met with various civil rights officials in the state. After conferences he reported that more than 100 Negroes had been fired from their jobs in Selma as a result of their participation in voter registration demonstrations.

Davenport Speech

Dr. King, who speaks in Davenport, Ia., next week where he will accept the peace award given by the Catholic Interracial Council, addressed a rally on Monday night at Brown's Chapel A.M.E. church.

Dr. King also told his listeners that "more people are swinging toward our side for a economic boycott of Alabama." Another voter registration campaign will be conducted in the state, he promised.

Plans Reorganization

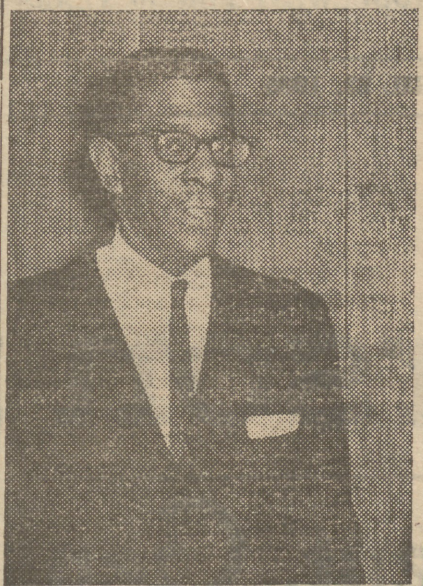

On Friday, a three-judge federal court had ordered Sheriff James G. Clark to stop using his 200-man posse in racial situations in the city. The posse is composed of civilians, including horsemen, appointed by the sheriff as auxiliary officers. Sheriff Clark vowed he would reorganize the group after he gets past a technicality of the courts.

Other Restraints

The panel also restrained Clark and his agents from arresting, detaining under unreasonable bail "or punishing discriminatorily and without just cause, any person exercising or seeking to exercise his right to vote or to register to vote, or to use public accommodations free from

Clark also was restrained from interfering with persons "organizing, meeting or assembling to discuss or advocate the exercise of their constitutional rights."

Justice Department

The injunction was sought by the U. S. Justice Department.

"There is no question," the court said, "that the purpose of Sheriff Clark's personal actions and conduct, and also that of his agents, as herein found, was to suppress efforts by Negroes to exercise their lawful and constitutional rights."

Cotton Workers Form Labor Union in Miss.

Greenville, Miss.—Over 60 members of the newly formed Mississippi Freedom Labor Union (MFLU) picketed a U.S. Department of Labor sponsored meeting here.

The union organized less than a week ago has over 500 members in six counties.

The meeting, also sponsored by a number of state agencies and the Mississippi Delta Council, an owners group, dealt with farm labor in the Delta.

Picketers

The picketers protested the fact that no Negroes were invited to speak or participate in the conference. An organizer for the MFLU explained, "The conference dealt with the fate of thousands of Negroes and none of us were invited to participate."

Pledge Form

Members of the Freedom Labor Union, formed April 9, 1965, have signed pledge forms calling for—a $1.25 minimum wage; an eight hour day with time and a half for overtime; children under 16 and people over 60 not having to work; sick leave and free medical care; full compensation from the government for those who can not get jobs; health and accident insurance; and equal employment practices in wages, hiring and working conditions.

Direct Action

Union members have pledged to use all forms of direct action including "strikes, picketing and boycotts," to win their demands.

The union was formed in Shaw, Miss. when 45 workers signed the pledge forms. "The idea for the union came out of Freedom School Meeting," said George Shelton a resident of Shaw and organizer for the MFLU. "We felt that we should be getting a fair price for what we were working for," he added.

Shelton explained that, people down here get $1.75 a day for chopping cotton for a ten hour day. "Ten members of our union have gone on strike," Shelton said. "They fill only work for $1.25 an hour."

Counties

The Mississippi union has organized workers in Bolivar, Sunflower, Washington, Issaquena, Sharkey and Holmes Counties. "We have been contacted by interested parties in a number of counties in the Delta," said Robert Weil a worker for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

GOP Official Says Negro is Needed in Republican Party

Bankers Life Report Excellent "Growth"

The excellent growth rates recorded last year are continuing in the first quarter of this year, Earl F. Bucknell, president, reported to the annual policyowners meeting of Bankers Life Company on Tuesday morning. He reported gains in new life insurance sales, new health insurance sales, volume of insured pension plans and life insurance in force.

Increases

"During the quarter just closed, new life insurance totaled almost $218 millions," he reported. "Of that total, new individual policies accounted for $131 millions and group insurance for $87 millions. These totals represent increases of $33 millions of individual and $25 millions of group life insurance over the same quarter last year."

Life insurance in force reached a new high total of $5,356,000,000 by the end of March, an increase of $134 millions during the first quarter.

Moving Day Can Be Easy With Phones

"Starting today, moving across the state can be as easy as moving across town—as far as telephone service is concerned," said J. E. Trabert telephone company district manager.

When moving to another community in Iowa served by Northwestern Bell, arrangements to have service discontinued here and established at your new location now can be handled with one phone call.

Contact Office

Previously, customers had to contact the local business office to disconnect their service, then contact the company in the new location to establish service there. Now, one call to the business office in Des Moines is all that is needed.

"We have made it as easy to arrange telephone service changes for an intercity move as for a move across town," Trabert said. "With one call to our service representative here, arrangements can be made to discontinue your present service and set up complete new service in your new home."

One of First

Townes, one of the first of his race to hold office in a southern Republican state organization, told a Dallas audience on Apr. 13, that Negroes everywhere can help the Party attack such problems as crime, urban deterioration, and the need for better educational opportunities, equal justice, respect for human dignity, and an unabridged voting franchise.

Critical

In his remarks to the Downtown Republican Women's Club and the Federated Oak Cliff Choirs, the Virginian was sharply critical of the role of President Johnson and his fellow Democrats as "great emancipators," saying they came on the scene too late, miss too many cues and are to obviously acting.

HEALTH FOR ALL

AGE OF UPROAR

A "quiet evening at home"? Soothing hours of retreat from the noisy workaday world?

It's a beautiful thought. But for many people in these supermechanized days it's just a wistful memory. "Today's Health" magazine unquietly sums it up thus:

"In almost any 'quiet' suburban home, the mixer and blender grind away in the kitchen. Dad's power saw runs full tilt in the basement. Junior shoots it out with the TV badman in the living room, while upstairs, sister plays her favorite Beatle record for the sixth time."

Age of Noise

Not to mention the automatic cooling or heating system, the plumbing, the occasional passing truck, plane, fire engine...

See President

Townes and Texas Negroes should see the President as "a man who only because of political expediency, not because he believes it's morally right, is projecting the image of being sympathetic. I'm not saying we do not appreciate improved and changed attitudes. But I'm not so naive as to think this is a moral-fiber change."

Let's face it, we live in an age of noise; and noise is a factor in health. U. S. industry loses about $4 billion a year in lowered production and higher accident rates due to skyrocketing decibels. Office workers waste almost one-fifth of their energy "just fighting noise". A too-loud environment can bring on or aggravate gastrointestinal distress, allergic reactions, or migraine headache, according to Dr. Lee E. Farr of the University of Texas.

Do-It-Yourself

Many cities now have noise abatement programs, with varying success. For the private home owner, some good do-it-yourself possibilities exist. Carpets or rugs on floors, curtains or drapes or well-filled bookcases along the walls, help to absorb sound of its "bounce". Sound-reducing materials can be obtained for insulating ceilings. Natural noise reflectors, such as hard wall surfaces or large picture windows, should be avoided by the noise-conscious householder.

Life, growing richer, isn't likely to grow quieter. If we can't lick noise, we might as well join it on the most livable terms.

LEMON ICED TEA BRACER—A REAL THIRST QUENCHER

WHO hasn't wished, at one time or another, for a drink that would really quench a thirst? Try this recipe for a Lemon Iced Tea Bracer and you'll never have to worry about a drink that really relieves that parched, seemingly insatiable thirst. Make a lemonade mix, according to your favorite lemonade recipe, or dilute a 6-ounce can of frozen lemonade concentrate according to can directions. Pour into ice cube trays and freeze. If you use fresh lemons, put a thin slice of lemon rind in each ice cube before freezing. Prepare iced tea according to the new open saucepan method by bringing 1 quart of water to a full, rolling boil. Remove from heat, immediately add 6 tablespoons of tea (3 teabags equal 1 tablespoon of tea). Brew 3-5 minutes, depending on how strong you like iced tea. Stir and strain into a pitcher or container of cold water. These measurements make about 2 quarts of iced tea. To serve, add 1-2 lemon ice cubes in tall glasses and fill with tea. A sprig of mint on top will add eye-appeal—and note, too, how the frosty glasses make the iced tea look and taste better—to help quench that thirst!

Lemon Ice Cubes

Thin strips of lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups water

Cut thin strips of lemon rind into 1-inch lengths. Prepare 1 for each ice cube.
Mix lemon juice and water. (Some ice cube trays may hold more liquid. If so, increase the amount of lemon juice and water.) Pour liquid into ice cube trays. Place a piece of lemon peel in each cube section. Freeze solid. Serve 1-2 lemon and 1-2 regular ice cubes with each glass of iced tea.

Note: Lemon and water may be sweetened to taste before freezing if desired.

Easter Sunday was a wonderful day. Church attendance was at its peak. We now go into another phase, Clean Up Week.

I see by the paper that rubbish placed in proper containers will be picked up in the regular garbage collection. This includes lawn clippings, leaves, garden rubbish and tree trimmings. Branches trimmed from trees should be tied in bundles of not over three feet long and weighing not more than 50 pounds. Garbage and rubbish may be placed in the same can. Papers and refuse items that might blow away should be wrapped before being placed in the garbage can.

Visiting in the home of Mrs.
Geneva Oliver, 509 Shilliam, was Mr.
Otto Tankersley, a nephew, and Mr.
James Allen. They are formerly of Waterloo and are now employed as entertainers in Mandan, North Dakota. Mr. Tankersley served as guest organist at Payne AME Church on Sunday. Mr. Allen also attended services there.

Mrs. Brown Hentz, 215 Sumner, is at home recovering from knee surgery which she underwent at Allen Hospital a few weeks ago.
Even though painful, she must exercise the knee regularly in order to overcome the resulting stiffness.

Mrs. Montrose Johnson, 223 Sumner, has as house guest Mrs. Ethel C. Dyson of Kansas City, Mo. She is just one of Mrs. Johnson's sisters and came to spend Easter.

May 9 is Women's Day at Payne AME Church. The captains of teams are busy working to make it a successful day.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles (Dorothy) Holmes, 6224 Forest avenue. Mrs. Billejean Morrow is program chairman and Mrs. Venita Wells is president.

All the solemn pageantry and colorfulness of Easter is past for another year. The only drawback, if it might be called that, was a slight chill in the air, but remembering the day a year ago, who could complain about that? The day was more colorful to the eye with the prettily dressed children, from toddlers to teens, who like very colored flowers blossomed out at Easter services and programs.

The falling down of the Sixth Avenue bridge caused some sensation over the weekend, particularly among motorists, habitually use the street. One Des Moines mother among the parade of last minute shoppers Saturday searched stores in vain to solve a "new collar" problem for a beautiful cherished dress for her little daughter. Vowing to remain undaunted by the problem, she with her mother, got in the family car about 3 p.m. and drove to the Park Fair Shopping area. Her most logical route would have been to turn north on sixth avenue. However, as fate would have it she was in the wrong lane so continued along University avenue until she got to Second avenue, before turning toward Park Fair.

When she returned home shortly she was stunned to learn over the radio news that the Sixth Avenue bridge had met with disaster.

Another Des Moines mother who had assisted her parents in cleaning up and resettling after the flood had made numerous trips over the Sixth avenue bridge route helping to move furniture in a pickup truck. On one of the trips over the bridge she glanced at the water in the river below, the bridge seemed to sway, similarly as you get the effect when standing on a bridge and looking down at the water, you seem to sway, although you likely are standing perfectly still.

The mother remarked to her son jokingly, "Look, the water is so high, it has the bridge swaying." When she learned later of the actual bridge disaster, her hair almost literally stood on end when she realized that the bridge must have literally swayed.

It was wonderful to read the stories and see the pictures of the

LABOR UNIONS
MUST PLAY FAIR

An editorial in the March issue of the Crisis, official organ of the NAACP, takes highly organized labor to task for its failure to integrate Negroes into the organization. This results in the almost total exclusion of Negroes labor in the building trades—to some extent most unions.

Like the attack on school districts and other agencies, which are being required by the civil rights law to eliminate racial segregation in order to participate in the allocation of federal funds, so will construction, including the union, aided by federal funds, be required to include in its contracts provisions against racial discrimination with penalty clauses for failure to comply.

No organization has a more justifiable right to call upon labor to stop racial discrimination than the NAACP. The organization has worked closely with the labor leaders and supported their candidates for office.

In fact, labor leaders have collaborated with the NAACP and supported its program. But somehow the favorable pronouncements of no discrimination and equal opportunity have not reached down to the local unions and their hiring halls with the result that most of it has been lip service and no jobs.

The NAACP can undertake no more urgent campaign than for the inclusion of Negroes in the full ranks of labor, a lack of which prevents them from earning an independent living and on the relief rolls far out of proportion to that of the whole population.

Labor unions, like any other group which controls the economic future of the nation, are unworthy of their position when they use their combinations to exclude citizens from making a decent living.

SECOND BOND

ISSUE DEFEATED

Citizens of Des Moines went to the polls Tuesday and overwhelmingly defeated a proposed bond issue for the construction of a central service center, where practically all equipment used to maintain public facilities were to be kept.

Many organizations including business and labor endorsed the bond issue. A committee was organized to help publicize the need for the center, but like the low cost housing measure which had been endorsed by many groups and lost, found itself upset by a public which was not informed adequately about the advantages of the center. (The committee was rather restricted and included only these representing groups who had been sold on the deal anyway.)

The results showed that voters in the area not represented on the committee cast a strong ballot against it.

This is the second defeat for such a proposal which makes one think that something is wrong under the surface, which the city administration does not know about.

LEGISLATURE RESPONDS TO THE TIMES

The Iowa legislature has passed a civil rights bill which broadens the present law and provides for a commission to enforce it. Housing is not dealt with in the law.

Iowa has had a civil rights bill for three quarters of a century. However, it has been only in the last few years that it has been enforced. It restricted areas of discrimination to the then existing establishments. And since courts have held that such statutes should be strictly construed, many concerns which have grown up over the years were not violators—technically.

Amazingly, both houses passed the measure without a dissenting vote—much to their credit. The attitude of the legislators indicated that they are tuned with the times, and this includes no discrimination against a citizen on the basis of his race.

Most establishments had already fallen in line and comply with the present law. Some do not. The new law provides a statewide system of making Iowa a state where public accommodation is available for all.

Well, it is here again, the 57th running of the Drake Relays. Reminds us that we have been watching those things a long time. We would guess off hand that we have seen 40 of them. Maybe one or two more. We aren't really sure. But we do recall that when we saw our first meet there were tents that housed the various athletes. Each college had its own tent on the infield which looked like a tent city.

One could wander from tent to tent in an easy, informal manner and meet just about all of the athletes and coaches. Out of those years have come some funny experiences. One of the funniest to us was when we were in high school. We were sports editor of our school magazine and we thought we would interview one of the top Negroes of our story of the month. We picked out a sprinter from Iowa University. A guy named Roberts. We got a Drake man to introduce us. Before we could say what we wanted or anything, the guy stuck out his mitt and said, "Oh yes, I saw your race. You ran a fine race. Jus keep it up and you'll make it." And the only race we ever ran out there was to the pop stand!

Then there was the weekend Mack Robinson, brother of Jackie, came to town. We got the fellow to stay over Sunday, fixed him up with a dinner and a date. But the date had a steady boyfriend who was jealous. So we couldn't leave Mack alone with his date or the fellow and his gang would have jumped him. So we had a body guard of Brother Bill, Chet Williamson and Tommy Avant and we guess the Robinson guy didn't get much privacy but he got on the train for home in one piece. The thing is too big now for fun like that. But we expect to see you out there.

Wilbur Lewis, whom nobody gave a chance won the Wells Pool tournament by beating Sonny Mitchell in the final. Lewis is the first handicapped player to ever win one of these meets. (Because this column arrived late at the news desk, the remainder had to be published next week.)

NAACP PRESSURES
MEMPHIS BANKS ON DISCRIMINATION

Memphis, Tenn.—In separate letters to President Lyndon B. Johnson and to the presidents of nine banks and financial institutions here, the NAACP has called for an end to discrimination in employment policies, loans to businesses practicing discrimination and a ban on buying securities of Mississippi, Alabama and local governments "which refuse to recognize and practice the principles on which this nation was founded."

In the letter to President Johnson, the NAACP charged that "these institutions have refused to hire Negroes as tellers, clerks, or secretaries. In fact, their general policy is to hire Negroes as messengers, maids and janitors," the letter added.

MAYS PLAYERS' CHOICE FOR MVP, HOME-RUN KING

New York—Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants will be the National League's Most Valuable Player and home-run leader, according to an exclusive poll of more than 500 major league players published in the current issue of SPORT magazine.

Other Choices

Mays, who led the National League for the third time with 47 homers last season, captured the MVP award in 1954.

The balloting also named the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Phillies as probable pennant winners.

Other choices for top individual honors in SPORT's 13th annual poll are Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, who is the players' choice as American League MVP, and Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, expected to be the Junior Circuit's home-run leader. The leading hitters for average, according to the ballplayers' consensus, should be Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves and Tony Oliva of the Twins, while the leading hurlers named are the Los Angeles Dodgers' Sandy Koufax, if his elbow holds up, and the Los Angeles Angels' Dean Chance.

Rookies

According to the players' selections, the outstanding rookies will be White Sox hurler Bruce Howard and either infielder Joe Morgan of Houston or infielder Tommy Helms of Cincinnati, tied in the balloting.

Koufax Rates Aaron
Top Hitter in Baseball

New York—"Hank Aaron is the top hitter in baseball," declares Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Sandy Koufax in an exclusive, by-lined article in the current issue of SPORT magazine.

Koufax, called baseball's top pitcher by most experts, also lists his ten toughest batters in the article, giving his personal evaluation of each.

"If I make the pitch I'm trying to make against most hitters," says the Dodger lefthander, "I feel I'll get the most. Against Aaron, I can't be sure. He has so much power, he can be fooled and still get enough of the ball to get on."

Youth Arrested for Burning Cross on Policeman's Lawn

On Tuesday morning, Apr. 13 Patrolman John Cason, prepared to leave his new home located at 2128 E. 21st street, in a previously all-white neighborhood.

As he stepped out the door his eyes beheld a sight more common to southern racial scenes—a crudely made cross—lying on the lawn. When he reported the incident to police headquarters, an investigation was launched.

About a week later police arrested a 17-year-old youth who admitted burning a cross on the Cason lawn.

Capt. Nick Kerpon, head of the police juvenile bureau, quoted the youth as saying the burning of the cross "was just a prank."

Police said the investigation was continuing.

THE MAKING OF FRIENDS

If nobody smiled and nobody cheered and nobody helped us along,

If each every minute looked after himself and good things all went to the strong,

If nobody cared just a little bit for you, and nobody thought about me,
And we stood all alone to the battle of life, what a dreary old world it would be!

If there were no such thing as a flag in the sky as a symbol of comradeship here,

If we lived as the animals lived in the woods, with nothing held sacred or dear,

And selfishness ruled us from birth to the end, and never a neighbor had we,

And never we gave to another in need, what a dreary old world it would be!

Oh, if we were rich as the richest on earth and strong as the strongest that lives,

Yet never we knew the delight and the charm of the smile which the other man gives,

If kindness were never a part of ourselves, though we owned all the land we could see,

And friendship meant nothing to all of us here, what a dreary old world it would be!

Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made and the things which in common we share;

We want to live on not because of ourselves, but because of the people who care;

It's giving and doing for somebody else—that all life's splendor depends,

And the joy of this world, when you've summed it all up, is found in the making of friends.

Laugh Lines

The Best Way

A little girl walked up to the teller's window and asked if he'd change her dollar bill into nickels.
He did . . . and a few minutes later she returned and asked to have the nickels converted into dimes. Again he complied—and she returned to the bank twice more, to go through the same procedure with quarters and half dollars. Finally, he asked her what the big idea was.

"I'm learning to count money."
