Human Rights Commission Survey to Determine Exact Employment of Negroes

The Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination began a survey this week of some 600 Des Moines business firms in an effort to determine how many Negro workers they employ. The firms are being asked for information on what types of jobs their Negro employees hold, how many Negro applicants have sought employment with them, and what the firms expect in the way of future job openings.

The survey comes less than three weeks before Title VII of the 1964 U.S. Civil Rights Act, becomes effective and when a number of Des Moines firms will come under its provisions.

Rights Act

The section, whose enforcement provisions will go into effect July 2, applies to employment of 100 or more persons or unions with 100 or more members.

Among other provisions is a prohibition against racial discrimination in hiring, firing, promotion or job referral of workers.

In another year, the figure will drop to 75; then to 50 and 25 in succeeding years.

Firms surveyed will be asked to fill out a questionnaire prepared by the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination. Copies of the questionnaire were mailed to the businesses Monday.

Purpose

The purpose of the survey is not to uncover cases of employer discrimination against Negroes, said Ernest Russell, executive director of the commission, but to gather information that will be helpful both to local employers and to Negroes seeking jobs.

In addition to the employer survey, Russell plans a study of the Negro community to determine the amount of unemployment and the job skills possessed by out-of-work Negroes.

Clearing House

In this way, Russell said, he hopes that the commission can become "a sort of clearing house" through which unemployed Negroes and prospective employers can be brought together. A card file will be kept to list available Negro workers.

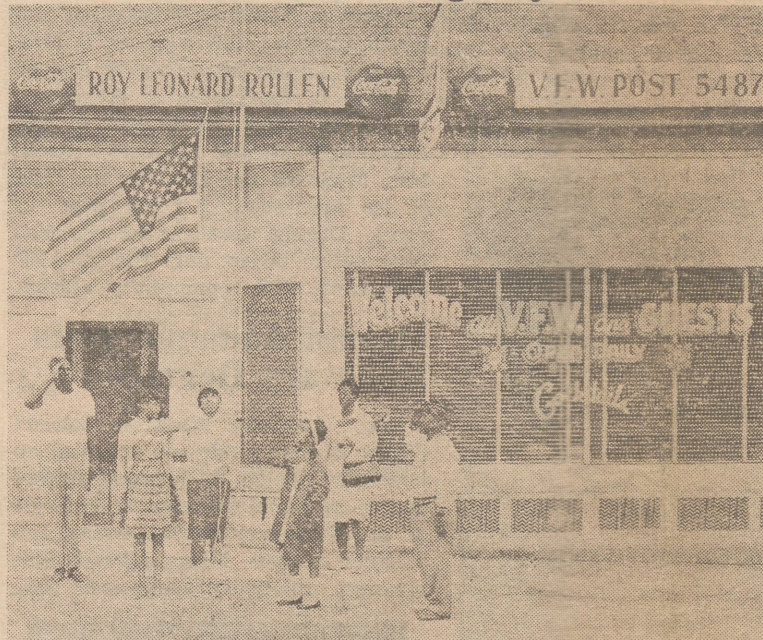

Russell said the survey will be the most extensive study to date of minority employment in Des Moines. Earlier and less comprehensive studies have indicated that a disproportionate number of Des Moines Negroes are employed in unskilled and menial jobs, he said.

New Activity

The study is part of Russell's plan to step up the commission's activities this year. Another new activity that recently began is a series of

76th Mo. AME Zion Confab Ends; Rev. Peavy Retained

The 76th session of the Missouri Annual Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church closed out at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, June 13, after six days of meetings and services.

During the session many general officers of the A.M.E. Zion church and other distinguished guest ministers visited the conference.

Morning

The 11 a.m. service Sunday morning began with a processional led by the Gospel Choir of Metropolitan A.M.E. Zion Church of St. Louis, Mo. They were followed by twenty ministers, fully robed, including Bishop W. A. Hilliard, of Detroit, Mich., and Presiding Elder James F. Gray, of Kansas City, Kan., who retired at this conference.

Dr. A. Marshall, Jr., pastor of the Metropolitan Church of St. Louis, brought a very inspiring morning message while his Gospel Choir rendered the music.

Afternoon

The afternoon service opened with a processional led by three choirs from Metropolitan A.M.E. Zion Church of Kansas City, Mo., whose pastor is Rev. O. D. Carson. They presented a soul-stirring musical program that was followed by a memorial message which was preached by Rev. W. F. Scott, pastor of Blackwell Chapel A.M.E. Zion Church in Webster Groves, Mo.

Appointments

After ordination service with two being ordained, Bishop Hilliard handed out the appointments to churches with only a few changes. Rev. O. M. Peavy was returned to Kyles and to Melick Temple in Perry, Ia., and the members of both churches were well pleased and very happy. Rev. G. W. Whisonant, formerly of East St. Louis, Ill., was moved to St. Paul A.M.E. Zion Church in Kansas City, Mo. and was appointed Presiding Elder over the Kansas City District. Rev. W. F. Scott was appointed Presiding Elder over the St. Louis District.

Crowd

For both services the church was filled to capacity with about 300 in the morning and 325 in the afternoon. There were many guests from St. Louis, Mo., and Kansas City, Mo., and also many visitors from around Des Moines. Many commented that this was the best entertainment of a conference they had witnessed.

Mayor Charles Iles and Municipal Judge and Mrs. Luther Glanton brought greetings at a welcome program Wednesday night, June 8 and greetings were read from Gov. Harold Hughes, now on a trip to Europe. The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the church met Tuesday in conjunction with the conference. This marked the first time the conference had been held in Des Moines.

NAACP Has 200 Volunteers To Work in 7 Northern Cities

New York—Ghetto communities in seven northern cities have been designated for the summer Community Action Project (CAP) of the Youth and College Division of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, it was announced this week by Granville Reed, CAP co-ordinator.

The cities are the West Side of Chicago, Ill.; the Brownsville and Bedford-Stuyvesant sections of Brooklyn, and Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Detroit, Mich.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Springfield, Mass.; and Wilmington, Del.

Reed said that close to 200 college students and other young people have volunteered to work in the impoverished communities through the NAACP's CAP program during their vacation. Some of the volunteers are coming from as far away as Texas, California, the State of Washington and Canada, he revealed.

Under CAP, the workers will show residents of the area where they will serve how to organize themselves in order to make effective use of available resources to help solve community problems. Specific programs

Sacramento, Calif.—California has become the first state in the Union to require by law the teaching of Negro History. Through a law authored by Assemblyman Mervyn Dymally, 53rd District, Los Angeles, it has become mandatory in the state of California that, "The governing board of each high school district shall include only such textbooks which correctly portray the role and contribution of the American Negro in the total development of the United States and of the State of California."

2nd Attempt

It was Assemblyman Dymally's second attempt to get such a bill through the Legislature. Early in 1963 he made an unsuccessful attempt to have a House Resolution passed on the same subject matter. This bill was hailed by the Capitol and the Sacramento News Services as an outstanding piece of legislation.

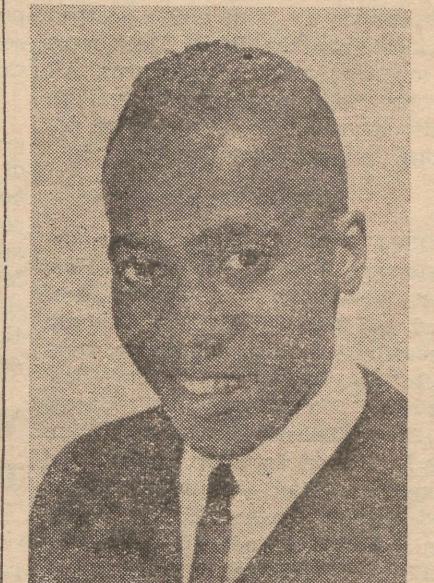

Role of Negro

Because of his experience as a school teacher before his election as an Assemblyman, Dymally stated that, "Now it will be possible for

Philo Debs Entertain at 2nd Graduation Ball, Banquet at Hotel Savery

Beauty, elegance and youth were much in evidence Saturday evening in the Terrace room of the Hotel Savery as the Philomathean Debs honored their three graduating sisters at their second annual formal banquet and ball.

Inspired by one another and their vivacious but untiring director, Mrs. Lee Gurtha Hughes, the Philo Debs reached for the stars of a social evening and proved once again it can be done, if you want to and try hard enough to make it come true. The Philo Debs, their younger sisters, Junior Debs, and their escorts presented a lovely panorama for the guests and parents who came to the event, which honored graduates, Noretta Fowler, Jo Ellen Spriggs and Jacqueline Taylor.

Banquet

The evening began with a sumptuous banquet, preempting the pre-banquet program because of the late arrival of some guests. Seated at the banquet table were guest speaker, Mrs. Willie S. Glanton and her husband, Judge Luther T. Glanton, ball master of ceremonies, Atty. Robert Wright and his wife, Mrs. Bernice Wright and the Philomathean Debs and their escorts.

MISS SPRIGGS

Speeches

The young ladies of the Philo Debs proved that they have brains and poise as well as beauty when they presented brief speeches for the banquet program, which began when petite Noretta Fowler gave the welcome address followed by a tribute to the seniors by Donnetta Claybourne. Miss Spriggs who with Bobbetta Elliston, president of the Junior Debs, wrote all the speeches, gave an excellent presentation of "Suddenly There's the World." It was announced that Miss Spriggs, who graduated number 10 in a class of 427 at North High was the recipient of a $2,000 scholarship from Simpson college.

Speaker

Kimberly Reeves graciously introduced the speaker, Mrs. Glanton and later presented her with an orchid corsage from the Philo Debs. Other brief speeches included a tribute to the Philo Sisters by Miss Taylor, an original poetic tribute to Mrs. Hughes by Carla Burse and the closing address by Paula Walker.

Gowns

As the Debs retired to change to their formal gowns guests and parents mingled at a social hour. The graduation ball began with the master of ceremonies announcing the Grand march, led by Miss Marsha Fowler and her escort, James Smith. Philo Debs were beautifully attired in white ball gowns fashioned with a large bow in front and a scooped neckline, and the Junior Debs were in matching pink formal gowns. All escorts were erect and formal in white tie and tails. Gowns were designed by Mrs. Lucy Gunley.

Debs & Escorts

Other Philo Debs and their escorts were Noretta Fowler and Herman Wadsworth, Jr., Manala Hendred and Herhall McCurn, Deborah Anderson and Raymond Brown, Donnetta Claybourne and Otto Neal Williams, Carla Burse and Harold L. Hall, Kimberly Reeves and Stanley L. Carter, Jo Ellen Spriggs and Donald L. Hall, Jacqueline Taylor and Michael Carter, Cecelia Thompson and Ronald Anderson, and Paula Walker and Michael F. Fowler.

Junior Debs and escorts were Bobbetta Elliston and Franklin G.

Queen

Announced as Queen of the Ball was Jacqueline Taylor who was crowned by last year's queen, Mrs. Karen Heath Stuart. The tiara was carried by little Valerie Hughes, daughter of the director. Miss Taylor was presented a large lovely spray of red roses and a cash scholarship of $100.

Then came the most beautiful sight of the evening when the Philo Debs, Junior Debs and their escorts danced the stately but beautiful minuet, followed by the Grand dance, Royal arch and the opening dance with Senior Debs, parents and escorts.

Hostesses

Hostess for the evening were Mesdames Minnette Copeland, Brenda White, Karen Hawkins, Rennie Hawkins and Misses Judith King, Marie Harmon, and Pam Williams.

Afterwards

The Debs memorable "stairway to the stars" ended shortly after midnight Saturday but they had other activities planned including a slumber party supervised by their director and a delicious breakfast at her home. They wrapped up the gala affair when the Debs joined their escorts to go horseback riding after breakfast on Sunday morning.

NAACP Seeks Inquiry On Negro Astronaut

Washington—The NAACP has called on the Defense Department to make a thorough investigation into the dismissal of a Negro Air Force pilot from the nation's space program.

Victim

An article in Ebony Magazine this month charged that Capt. Dwight was eliminated from the space program because he had protested racial discrimination in the Air Force.

"From all indications, a sincere and dedicated young American who was willing to join with others in risking his life for advancing our space program has been the victim of a shameful combination of prejudice and unfair tactics," Mr. Mitchell said.

REV. McNEIL

The Rev. J. F. Johnson, pastor of the 28-member New Hope church and the Rev. Kenneth McNeil, pastor of the 200-member Burns Methodist church were greeted by Bishop James S. Thomas, Iowa Methodist leader. They were presented by the Rev. Clifford Lott, Mount Pleasant, Burlington district superintendent, and the Rev. O. E. Cooley of Des Moines, the Des Moines district superintendent.

Conference delegates rose and cheered the group. As the brief ceremony ended, delegates spontaneously broke into singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

The two churches were in the former Lexington conference in the denomination's racially segregated Central Jurisdiction. The Lexington conference was transferred to the nine-state North Central Jurisdiction, which includes Iowa, last July in the plan of Methodists to end segregation within the denomination. The Negro congregations are being merged into existing annual conferences.

Hostesses At Elegant Parisan Ball

School is out and within a matter of days summer will officially usher itself in, although with some of the cool temperatures we have had it has prompted a questioning eyebrow or two. It is ideal weather for active sports and for picnic and outings in the parks. In addition for the sun worshippers, the swimming season opened over the weekend and the pools were crowded.

Saturday evening we had our first opportunity to see the second annual Philomathean Banquet and Ball at Hotel Savery. It was indeed a lovely sight to see all the youngsters decked out in their formal gowns and tails. Most of the parents of participating youngsters were there to see the three young graduating ladies take their bow to society. Much credit must be given to both Mrs. Lee Gurtha Hughes, director of the Philo Debs and the Junior Debs and to the young ladies themselves, who did most of the work the past year to meet the financial expenses of the event which probably neared the $1,500.

Most inspiring were the brief speeches read by the young ladies, which we learned were written in collaboration with Jo Ellen Spriggs, honor graduate from North High and Donnetta Claybourne. Carol Burse also wrote and read an original poetic tribute to Mrs. Hughes entitled, "To Our Philo Mother."

Mrs. Willie Glanton's speech blended well into the theme of the young ladies' speeches, which emphasized, pushing onward to your goal and that anything can be accomplished if you want to hard enough and try hard enough.

And Rufus Spates and his orchestra played as if they were inspired. We don't know if it was because in the audience Spates had his daughter who was hearing him play for the first time in public or because of the youthfulness of his audience.

Again we say Congratulations Mrs. Hughes, Philo Debs and Junior Debs. Our Hat is off to you!!!

We slipped up on a number last week in this column. We should have said the Woodrow Lewises were celebrating their 19th wedding anniversary. We heard about it when we met at the Jack and Jill club picnic Sunday afternoon at Walnut Woods State Park. In our seven year tenure on the paper we have had our share of bawling outs but this was such a nice, painless one. Somehow friends like her have a better understanding of why or how a mistake can and do happen.

Rebecca Wilcoits, honor graduate of Tech informed us too late last week of the change which put her in the top 15 per cent of her graduating class. Consequently, she was not on the front page with other graduates, which we regret.

Mrs. Charles Holmes, 6224 Forest Avenue, recently informed us that they have a new grandson, Charles Anthony Jones, newborn infant of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert (Butch) Jones, 1316 Laurel street. The Jones have another girl.

Mrs. Stanley Griffin, 1608 44th street, was remarking on the recent ballet recital prior to school closing here. She said: "It was such a pleasure to see an interracial performance at the ballet recital at College Avenue Christian church, Thursday, May 27th. The Werblowsky Dance Studio has always been open without regard to race, color or creed. The largest ballet studio in the city is still lily-white. How come?"

We learned that Carole Kennerly and two other girls who received their Master's degree from Howard recently, were scheduled to leave for Europe for a three week's vacation and relaxation.

Mrs. Ada Tripplett Nichols, 1334 11th street, who just returned from Washington, D. C., said Miss Kennerly told her of her plans when they visited.

Mrs. Nichols, who is an employee of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, said she liked Washington very much and plans to move there later to live and be near her Army service husband. She plans to transfer her job and visited the Phone office in D. C. while there. She said she was pleased to see the number of Negro girls working in the office.

Enroute home Mrs. Nichols traveled on the Baltimore-Ohio train, which she described as quite luxurious. She saw to her amazement, a full length movie while traveling on it.

Mrs. Catherine Bell Hosts Pasha Club

The Pasha Club met at the home of Mrs. Catherine Bell, 3100 Linda Vista drive and made plans for fundraising activities and other club agenda.

A nice reunion was held with Mrs. Bell who has been and still is on the sick list, which did not prevent her from serving a delicious repast.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Edna Harris, 715 Hull avenue.

Denver Resident Visits in Des Moines

Mrs. Zola Edmonds, of Denver, Colo., made a business trip to Des Moines. She attended her former church, Mt. Olive Baptist, and enjoyed services and many of her friends after morning worship. She was a dinner guest of Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Galters at the new Bishop Buffet in Wakonda Village.

Extending her courtesies were Mrs. H. D. E. Johnson in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haley Houston, Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. Linda Lacy, Mrs. Jeannie V. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Moore and Mrs. Caldonia Williams. Before leaving for home Mrs. Edmonds expressed her appreciative thanks to everyone.

The Roy Todds Entertain Floridian

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Todd, 1051 17th street, entertained Mrs. Daisy M. Murrell, of West Palm Beach, Fla., on June 3 at dinner. Other guests sharing the courtesies were Mrs. Murrell's hostess, Mrs. Louise Dysart, Mrs. Alice Lomas, and Mrs. Ora Burrell.

Earlier in the week Mrs. Burrell took Mrs. Murrell on a sight seeing trip of the city.

Mrs. Inice Carter Entertains Guests

Mrs. Inice Carter, 852 14th street, entertained her daughters over the recent Memorial day holiday, Mrs. Magnolia Waller of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Mrs. Alberta Crosby of Canada. Also visiting were her grandchildren, Paulette Clark, Deloris Davis of Cedar Rapids and Carl Waller and three great-grandchildren, Johnny Davis, Gary Clark and Harmonica Davis.

Other guests sharing the courtesies were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reeves, Mrs. Mary Simmons, Mrs. Geraldine Ayers, Mrs. Willa Mae Bell, Mrs. Virginia Foster and Mrs. Carter's sister, Mrs. Leona Jordan.

The Fred S. Andrews Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Andrews, 1113 University celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary with a small party Saturday evening.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jessie J. Johnson, Clifford Igou, Mrs. Lucille Long, Mrs. Jeanette Waylon, and daughter, Ruth, Mrs. Ruby Gordon, Mrs. Vashti Bradley, Mrs. Bima Williams and Will Sandford.

Mrs. B. Williams and Mrs. L. Long were co-hostesses. A delicious buffet and punch were served. The honorees received many lovely gifts. Pictures were snapped to preserve the memorable occasion.

Mrs. Thelma Clark Released from Hospital

Mrs. Thelma Clark, 1114 10th street, is home from Mercy hospital where she underwent surgery on June 4. Her daughter, Mrs. Delores Frelot of Los Angeles, Calif., who came to be with her, returned home on June 10.

COMPLIMENT AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY

For many years, the American Legion in Iowa and its Auxiliary have conducted boys and girls state for high school students. The program is designed to give the youngster first hand knowledge as to how their government operates. They elect a governor and other state officials, conduct a legislative session at the state house and perform generally the duties of state officers.

These sessions have been highly successful both as a recreational project, a practical knowledge of politics and an opportunity for young people to meet boys and girls from over the state.

Just as the Iowa American Legion has offered Negro veterans full participation in its program, so have the sponsors of these states done for Negro youngsters. Invariably, either a Negro boy or girl has held a state office in practically all of the sessions.

These youngsters can well point with pride to their leadership for total integration in a project which provides a lasting example of just how all of our public projects should operate.

UNWISE DEMONSTRATIONS
HURT THE CAUSE

Negroes in Chicago have long directed criticism of its superintendent of schools accusing him of favoring defacto segregation. His term expired recently and in spite of stiff opposition to his retention, the board rehired him.

The masses of Negro residents in Chicago have long been concentrated in a few densely populated sections. While beneficial for politicians because they have used that concentration to control elections, but provided little uplift otherwise, the situation presents a convenient set-up for Negro schools in an integrated city.

Sit-ins, lay-ins, and all kinds of demonstrations have been carried on at the school headquarters. Recently a lay-down was conducted down town in the busy section of the city tying up traffic and otherwise discommoding the public in the hope of calling attention to the "defecto" segregation in the city.

Leaders planned to picket and otherwise obstruct the parade accorded astronauts McDermitt and White, but very wisely called it off.

The Bystander has not hesitated to support every effort Negroes have conducted in the quest for equal enjoyment of civil rights provided it was made at a condition which it could be pointed to directly.

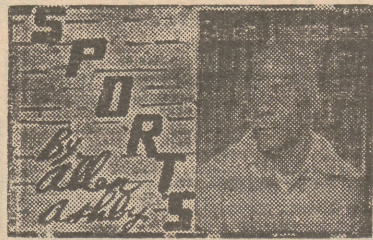

There was nothing wrong with picketing or sitting in at the school headquarters, but to obstruct traffic downtown and otherwise discommodate a lot of people who had nothing to do with defacto segregation in Chicago does nothing but lose a lot of friends and demonstrate irresponsible action by people who should know better.

NAACP NEEDS
FULL SUPPORT

The Des Moines Branch NAACP is in its final stage of the annual membership drive. The quota set for 3000 memberships is far from fulfillment.

The NAACP has a fine history of accomplishment in the nation and here in Des Moines. It has tackled race problems in the legislature, the courts and in Washington. It has established a backbone of constitutional rights which gives courage to Negroes in their efforts everywhere which has brought the greatest advancement in civil rights observance since the Civil War.

EVERY HE-MAN who has any sense of carrying his share of responsibility for racial advancement should join. Heretofore the quota has been met. It should be met this year.

The Little League baseball games make you wonder sometimes if the kids have the fun they are supposed to have in their play. Everything seems so organized and sometimes winning seems to be the main goal. Some subs don't get to play because the game is too close or something. Then we wonder at the way parents rave at the umpires and coaches. The managers are really second guessed by irate parents whose teams lost.

"Yell to Maim"

The other day we heard a father tell his son to hit the batter with the ball. "Break a couple of ribs and that will teach the guy a thing or two." Well, now, even the major leagues where the play is really for keeps, frown on deliberately hitting a batter with a pitched ball. In fact, there is a $50 fine if the hurler is even suspected of entertaining such thoughts. And here is a game in a setup designed to teach sportsmanship along with baseball and the pitcher is advised to maim the batter.

Umpires

The poor umpires really get it, from not the kids but the parents. Now, when we were kids we didn't have all this organization but we had ball clubs. Instead of raving and blaming the umpire or manager when we lost a close game we were always glad that it was a close game even when we lost it. Umpires were not given a bad time because they were hard to get. When we played a game with an umpire we really were in the chips.

Years Ago

And our parents left us alone. They might come out once in a while to see us play, but not too often. Not that they weren't interested. Some of the teams had suits and equipment that couldn't have been bought without parental help.

And we turned out some pretty fair ball players, too. But now everything is organized with more kids than ever playing the game, largely because there are more kids than ever. But with all the coaching and parental pushing we don't think the proportion of good ball players today is any greater than it was before Little League.

Now don't get us wrong. We think this Little League thing is a fine deal. The players should and no doubt are taught that winning is fine, but learning how to win or how to lose are really important. Then play by the rules is important all these things come out of Little League baseball. If they don't they would if the parents could be kept out.

Moe Eubanks defended his carom billiard title at Wells Billiard parlor last week. The match was a replay of the last tournament with Moe meeting brother, Delmar Balridge for the title. Moe especially wanted to win this one because a lot of sideline players hinted that Del let him win last time. So Moe wanted to prove he was the best and did by a score of 100-81.

Charles Dixon defeated Thomas Baker for third place and won the high run prize with a run of 23.

Willie Wells thanked everyone for the participation, Spectator interest and attendance. Monday he was working on a scheme to promote some free pool under some conditions he is working out. This he hopes will create a lot of interest among non-players.

Beef Dairy Show
Slated Consecutively
For '65 Iowa Fair

Winners from all breeds of beef and dairy cattle showing at the 1965 Iowa State Fair will be lined up along the Blue Ribbon Road for the 10-day run of the exposition, Aug. 20-29.

Because the beef and dairy shows are scheduled consecutively this year, the new plan will enable fair visitors to get an overall view of the cattle at any time.

Howard Waters, Danville, cattle department superintendent, said the Blue Ribbon Road will be along the main walkway of the open class cattle barn.

HEALTH FOR ALL

HEALTHY HARMONY

When doctors agree (as they often do), ordinary folks may well perk up and listen.

Recently two teams of physicians raised their voices in close harmony on an important question of public health. Though their numbers were small, what they represented was mighty large. So was their subject.

One of the groups was the Committee on Therapy of the American Thoracic Society. The other was the Committee on Tuberculosis of the American College of Chest Physicians. Together these two medical societies represent all but a tiny fraction of the nation's chest specialists.

Expert

What was this big league medical talent getting together on? They were jointly approving an expert task force report made last year to the U.S. Surgeon General, outlining a comprehensive plan for the wiping out of tuberculosis.

Question: Who needs it? Answer: The 500,000 Americans found by the experts to be at high risk of contracting active TB. Plus the more than 9,000 who will die of the disease this year.

Continuing

No doubt about it—TB is a continuing health problem. What the chest specialists would like to see happen is the launching of just such a broad-front assault as the Surgeon General's group proposed. This intensified attack would include improved care of TB patients in and out of hospital, closer watch on people highly exposed to the disease, more technical training for nurses and other personnel. Federal grants for TB control, averaging $22,400 a year for ten years, feature the plan.

Agreement

Most concerned doctors agree that TB can be wiped out in our country. The two committees of chest specialists officially speak for themselves, but disagreement by their colleagues is considered unlikely. If that kind of unanimity exists among the "pros", we might as well get busy and carry out their prescription.

During the past academic year, the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee held a series of conferences for college students in Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Alabama.

This conference was also an orientation session for those who plan to work in the South this summer and an educational experience for those who do not.

WITH FRIENDLINESS

Begin the day with friendliness and only friends you'll find;
Yes, greet the dawn with happiness, keep happy thoughts in mind.
Salute the day with peaceful thoughts, and peace will fill your heart;

"Except for 'John Brown's Body' and 'Harlem Shadows,'" Dr. Henderson said, "there is no other narrative or epic poem in American literature dealing with the spectrum of the Negro, projecting in breadth and depth his involved and fascinating history."

Quote of the Week

A Blessed thing it is to have a friend,—one human soul whom one can trust always, who knows the best and the worst of us, and who loves us in spite of all our faults.
