NAACP Treas. Chides Johnson Administration

Says Not Enough Done With Slum Clearance, All Poverty Programs

The National Treasurer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Alfred Baker Lewis, spoke Monday evening at a dinner meeting of the Des Moines branch of the NAACP at Bishop Buffet in Wakonda Village on the topic of "The War on Poverty."

Not All Racial

"Poverty is not wholly a racial problem," said Mr. Lewis. "The worst pockets of poverty are in the Appalachian Mountain Region, and they are almost solidly white. But Negroes do suffer more from poverty in proportion than do whites, and would gain more from making the war on poverty a real and successful war instead of just a skirmish, which is all it is now."

More Jobs

"But particularly we need more jobs, especially for Negroes and young people whose rate of unemployment is alarmingly high. Automation is cutting into jobs in industry, and the technological revolution in agriculture is doing the same in important lines of farming. And this is happening just when a larger number of young people are coming out of high school and college, needing work. So the country desperately needs more jobs, he said."

Slums

Above all, we need more slum clearance and urban redevelopment, provided that it is accompanied by a much larger program of more public low rent and moderate rent housing—otherwise the people displaced by slum clearance have nowhere to go except to crowd in on other poor families, so that the slums are not eliminated but just spread around."

Criticizes Administration

"In this respect the Johnson administration and Congress are not doing anything like what should be done to provide more jobs. The Job Corps and job training centers are helpful; but under the present program they will at best provide for about 10% of the young people who are neither in school or college or at work."

Wages

"We also need to raise the wages of the lowest paid workers. Those who are worst off are our migrant agricultural workers. But hardly anything is being done to improve their conditions except a law to forbid the importation of low paid agriculture workers from other countries, chiefly from Mexico."

"We also need more and better education. The two are closely linked, for poor education means unemployment, particularly for Negroes who have suffered and are still suffering from separate but unequal education, especially but not only in the South."

Better

"Here the Johnson administration is doing a somewhat better job. We need to provide scholarships and/or free tuition colleges beginning but not ending with two-year community colleges to make sure that everyone with the ability to benefit from a college education will not fail to get it because of lack of funds."

"Our whole society is more complicated. And the horizons of every

Last Thursday, Burke reported to police that he was robbed of $41 at pistol-point by a man with whom he had been drinking.

Cooley, 30, Fatally Injured, 2 Sons Hurt As Car Runs Light, Collides with Semi

The July 4th holiday weekend took its toll of tragedy from Des Moines residents as elsewhere around the nation. A young father was fatally injured and his two sons hurt in a car accident at the beginning of the long weekend. And on the last day, as the holiday was winding up, a 15-year-old youth suffered a broken neck and was paralyzed when he dived into a city swimming pool, and hit the bottom of the pool.

It was a beautiful day, the last of a long holiday weekend. The pool was almost empty of young swimmers who were crowding around five and six deep, straining to see what was happening, as the policeman and fire department rescue men walked quickly but quietly between the closed door and along the pool apron. Nearby, her eyes glued to the door, a mother fought valiantly for control. A local TV cameraman stood motionless, his camera trained on the closed door. The swimming director broke the muted silence urging the youngsters to return to the inviting pool waters.

Watched

Behind the door the father watched as oxygen was given to his stricken son, who lay paralyzed on a cot, able only to move his eyes. This was the scene of tragedy at Good Park swimming pool about mid-afternoon Monday.

The victim, 15-year-old Hurl Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reece, 1067 17th street, was put onto a stretcher, wheeled out to the rescue ambulance, which with wailing siren rushed him to Iowa Lutheran hospital.

Critical

There he was found to have suffered a broken neck. Still paralyzed, he was placed in the intensive care ward and remained on the critical list Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Reece said her son dived into five feet of water when he first entered the pool about 2:30 p.m. She said another boy and a lifeguard pulled him out.

Liked Swimming

Young Hurl was described as a good swimmer who went to the pool a quarter-block from his home almost every day. He is a 9th grader at Washington Irving Junior High school.

Accident

The July 4th holiday claimed its first death in Des Moines when Robert L. Cooley, 30, of 929 10th street, was fatally injured when the car he was driving collided with a semi-trailer at 2nd Avenue and University avenue. Cooley was thrown from the car after the collision.

Cooley's son, Dwight, 2, was admitted at Broadlawn Polk County Hospital for observation of a possible fractured skull. Another son, Robert, Jr., 3, was treated at the hospital.

George Violet, 41, of 6010 S.W. 15th street, driver of the truck, and Ronald Thomas, 30, of 909 Laurel street, who also was thrown from Cooley's car, escaped injury.

Accident Investigator Edward Rand said the semi-trailer was going south and the car was going east. Rand said Cooley's car skidded 90 feet and passed a red traffic light, before colliding with the semi-trailer. Cooley was an unemployed construction worker. He was a former Marine and a lifelong Des Moines resident.

Services for Mr. Cooley were held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 7 at Estes and Son Funeral Home with burial in Glendale cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth; a daughter, Deff Ann; three sons, Robert, Jr., Dwight and Kenneth Wayne; parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cooley of Des Moines; four brothers, William, Donald, Abraham and Carl, all of Des Moines; four sisters, Mrs. Marvella Mure, Mrs. Wanda Mae Johnson and Miss Bernice Cooley, all of Des Moines, and Mrs. Lula Teal of Omaha, Neb.; and grandmother, Mrs. Estella Overton of Des Moines.

Dr. King Aide in Selma, Ala., Indicted on Embezzling Charge

Selma, Ala.—This southern city, scene of intensive voter drive registration campaign that was marked with bloodshed, Tuesday made headlines of another sort, when one of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., aide was indicted on an embezzling charge.

A special grand jury indicted the Rev. Frederick R. Reese, president of the Dallas County Voters League, on three charges of embezzling a total of $1,850 in funds belonging to the civil rights group. Reese was arrested earlier Tuesday.

10 Days Ago

Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, said the arrest was the result of an investigation begun 10 days ago at the request of the league members. Baker said the investigation began when a complaint of misuse of funds was filed by Negro leaders against William Ezra Greer, 41-year-old civil rights leader. The investigation turned up no evidence against Greer, but did against Rev. Reese.

In Atlanta, Dr. King reaffirmed confidence in the league's leadership but said the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which he heads, would investigate the charges.

"At this time we have no reason to doubt either the interest or integrity of the Rev. Mr. Reese or any of the Dallas County leadership, Dr. King said."

Suspend 2 Policemen In Seattle Slayings

Seattle, Wash.—The fatal shooting of a Negro by an off-duty police officer resulted Thursday, July 1 in charges against another officer and four Negroes and the suspension of both policemen.

Mayor J. D. Braman announced he would conduct an investigation to determine whether Seattle police are prejudiced against minorities. He promised steps to correct the situation if they are.

An all-white coroner's jury ruled Wednesday, June 30 that the shooting of Robert L. Reese, 41, by Patrolman Harold J. Larsen outside a Chinatown cafe June 20 was excusable homicide. The jury said Larsen, 34, and his companion, Franklin G. Junell, 28, had been drinking and used offensive language and that Reese and four other Negroes assaulted them.

Assault Charges

Both officers are white. Prosecutor Charles Carroll charged Junell with provoking an assault. The four surviving Negroes were charged with assault. Larsen was not charged.

Acting Police Chief C. A. Rouse called the two policemen "fine young officers" but said they were suspended for eight days and the suspension might be extended if investigation warrants.

Will File Suit

Jack Tanner, northwest head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he would file a civil suit seeking to make the city liable for actions of the off-duty policemen.

He said he also would file a complaint with the U. S. attorney's office, alleging violation of Reese's civil rights, and a damage action under Washington's wrongful death law.

Mississippi Legislature Passes New Liberal Voting Statutes

Jackson, Miss.—Gov. Paul Johnson's program to liberalize state voting requirements cleared the Mississippi Legislature Thursday and was signed into law.

Shortly after Johnson announced he had signed the 10 bills to relax registration and voting laws, the state Senate by a 35-9 vote cleared a proposed constitutional amendment to make similar changes in the State Constitution.

Aug. 17

The proposed constitutional changes go before the people for ratification Aug. 17. They eliminate as voting requirements such provisions as good moral character, ability to interpret the Constitution and knowledge of citizenship duties. As a compromise with those who opposed such relaxation of restrictions, the House added a provision to permit the Legislature to enact additional voting requirements in the future.

Character

The good moral character, interpretation and citizenship provisions had been used in some areas to discriminate against Negroes seeking to vote—since the county registrar was the judge of whether a registrant met the qualifications.

The governor's package of 10 bills and the constitutional amendment completely reversed the trend of

NAACP Convention Hears Reports of Membership Gains; Pres. LBJ Sends Greetings

Denver, Colo.—Announcement by Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, that membership in the Association showed an increase of 44.6 per cent over that of this time a year ago, brought enthusiastic cheers from the nearly 2,500 delegates and friends who attended the opening session of the 56th annual NAACP convention here, June 28.

WILKINS

The six-day convention was welcomed to Denver, where it had met once before, 40 years ago, by Mayor Thomas G. Curran and Nathan Walker, general chairman of the 1965 convention planning committee. Due to flood conditions in the state, Gov. John A. Love was unable to attend the opening session.

The 44.6 per cent membership increase, Mr. Wilkins said in his keynote address, "does not include gains in youth members or in members-at-large. Life memberships also have increased and received an extraordinary boost a few days before convention time of $45,000 from Detroit. If this rate is maintained, we will be well over the half-million membership mark on next Dec. 31.

"In Freedom Fund contributions from branches, the 1965 convention figure shows an increase over the same figure in 1964 of 67.4 per cent."

President Hails

When the NAACP opened its 56th annual convention, the delegates were welcomed and greeted by city, county and state officials as well as the local citizenry. In addition to these who were present to welcome the NAACP on its return to Denver after 40 years, there were many messages from well-wishers throughout the country, including President Johnson, praising the civil rights organization and wishing it success in the years ahead.

Charting

President Johnson said: "The occasion of the 56th Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will provide an opportunity to examine the genuine progress of the past year towards our goal of achieving equality of treatment and of opportunity for all Americans. But more significantly it offers the chance to assist in charting the course to be followed in the coming year and the years to follow.

"The NAACP has been a leader in the various stages that have brought us to today. I am confident that it will continue to play a significant and meaningful role in the struggles that lie ahead . . ."

Response to new types of work sessions at the convention, has been overwhelming, according to Althea T. L. Simmons, NAACP secretary for training.

Institutes

A special leadership Development Institute was held on three days during the convention, designed to train NAACP branch officials on how to conduct meetings, making correct decisions, problem solving and conference and discussion leadership.

Although the Institute was originally planned for only 100 persons, more than 250 delegates enrolled in the session, Miss Simmons said. The response to the material discussed at the Institute has been so enthusiastic she continued, that plans are being made to make this a regular feature of future NAACP conventions.

3 Regions

Three NAACP regions and branches in Hawaii, Alaska and Wyoming have already requested that special training institutes be held in these places. Miss Simmons indicated that the institutes will probably also be held at regular NAACP regional conferences.

140 Ways To Keep Cool

What's better than a refreshing glass of iced tea to cool you off these hot summer days? Answer: 140 glasses of iced tea! And that's exactly how many you see surrounding this lovely miss who has just made up the entire batch from a single giant size 3-oz. jar of Nestle's instant tea. No wonder she's cool! Modern instant tea is one of those homemaker hot weather boons that puts joy into summer beverage preparation.

You can make iced tea by the glass, by the quart — just as much as you need for family or guests. Simply add one rounded teaspoon of Nestle's instant tea to each glass of cold tap water. Sweeten to taste and drop in a few iced cubes. For a real "cool" garnish, use lemon or orange slices, or a fresh strawberry pushed end-down onto the rim of the glass. If fresh mint is in season, a sprig of it will enhance the glasses. Then insert a straw — and your 140 glasses of iced tea will win praises all-around.

To discourage the federal government from sending federal registrars into the state to register Negroes with only minimal qualifications.

To permit white persons to register with county registrars on the same basis as Negroes, who will be registered under the federal court orders.

Foes claimed the state was doing away with all voting standards, preparing the way for an unqualified electorate, and surrendering its sovereignty to the demands of the federal government, which they have said are not constitutional.

Armstrong said one of the most rewarding experiences in his long career occurred in 1931—"when I visited an orphanage in New Orleans and gave them some instruments."

Maybe that's because when he was very young and playing a four-string guitar made of a cigar box and copper wire, the superintendent of the colored waifs' home for boys gave him a bugle and later a cornet.

Orders Miss. Police Not to Interfere with Calm Demonstrators

New Orleans, La.—The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has ordered Jackson, Miss. policemen to stop interfering with peaceful demonstrators.

More than 900 people were arrested before the court's order June 30, including 20 persons jailed the morning the order was handed down.

Most of those arrested are members of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP), a statewide interracial political party organized last year. The MFDP contends that the current session of the Mississippi legislature is illegal, since fewer than 6% of the state's eligible Negroes are registered voters.

The MFDP has also charged that the legislature, which met to liberalize state voter registration laws, was attempting to escape federal registrars under the 1965 voting law.

HEALTH FOR ALL

NEW TIMES, NEW TREATMENTS

Ever get stymied trying to read those great old classics? No wonder, when you consider how language and customs have changed.

Sherlock Holmes is just great for Grandpa. But when A. Conan Doyle's super-sleuth of the Gay Nineties hails a "hansom cab", what can it mean to this generation except maybe a new pink and purple taxi with a drop top? And when Thackeray starts talking about "bathing machines", who can be blamed for thinking of him as a science fiction writer whose robots liked surf swimming?

Technology

It's the same with the less ancient classic—Thomas Mann's "Magic Mountain", a novel about the population of a TB sanatorium. They were a hapless company who stayed year after year and seldom got any better.

Well, of course it was technology that wiped out Sherlock Holmes' two-wheeled horse taxis. And saner customs overtook Thackeray's little mobile modesty motels in which people did their surf-splashing without being seen in their "bathing drawers".

Obsolete

But what made Thomas Mann's long-range TB sufferers obsolete was one of the most striking developments of our time—a scientific revolution in TB drug treatment. In the 1950's tuberculosis stopped being a disease that kept people bedridden for years. And today six months in the hospital is all that's needed in many cases. Treatment with the new, potent drugs usually continues at home or at a clinic; but the rate of cures has gone up tremendously.

Not Licked

TB isn't "licked"—far from it. More than 50,000 new active cases still appear each year. Because the disease is hard to detect, people who have it in active form can spread infection before they realize they are sick.

That's why your Christmas Seal association urges you to get a tuberculin test or a chest X-ray. The "Magic Mountain" is a thing of the past, but TB will remain a threat as long as there are sick people capable of passing it on.

Happy Times...Happy Doings!

SHE'S IN BUSINESS! Who'd guess that half-an-hour ago she was lost in the summer doldrums—nothing to do, bored with her toys . . . AND THEN, Auntie gave her cookies, the nice man at the corner store contributed soda pops and Mother suggested she make a couple dozen frozen suckers. So, quick as a flash she opened shop! And what she doesn't sell she'll give away—or eat, herself!

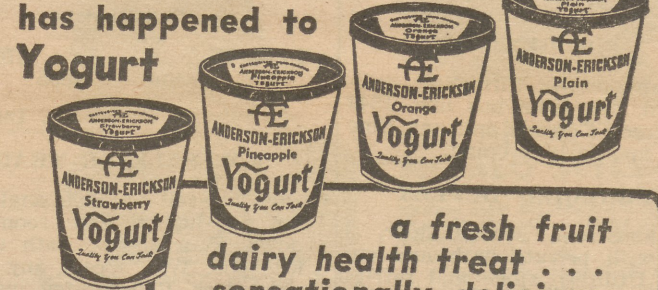

FROZEN SUCKERS

- 1 package Jell-O, any flavor*
- 1 package Kool-Aid, any flavor*
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups hot water
- 2 cups cold water

Dissolve Jell-O, Kool-Aid, and sugar in hot water. Add cold water, mixing thoroughly. Pour into ice cube trays or sucker molds and freeze until almost firm. Then push sucker stick or paper spoon into center of each cube or mold for handle. Continue freezing until hard. Makes about 20 to 24 suckers.

*Match the flavors—it's fun. Cherry for cherry; orange for orange, etc. (ANS Features)

In most respects it was a wonderful July 4th. In some respect it was a little sad and tragic. Despite showers the weather could not have been more co-operative for travelers, or for residents who celebrated America's day of Independence with the family at home or entertained visiting guests, in their backyards or in their favorite park. There were family reunions, club family picnics, dances, weddings and social get-togethers. Accidents, minor and serious, mixed in the sadness to the weekend. For most employees it was a day of rest or an added day to a long vacation weekend; for others it was just another working day to begin the week as they supervised swimming pools, recreation areas, or manned the service laboring groups such as fire, police, hospital and others.

We relented on our "no work" on a holiday to make a brief visit Monday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Buice, 1070 17th street, where they were hosts over the weekend to relatives from four other states who came to attend a family reunion.

Mrs. Della Wylie, correspondent for News Press International (NPI), who works out of Chicago, Ill., and New York City, phoned us, saying our name had been given to her by our former college journalism classmate, Lee Blackwell, now city editor of the Chicago Defender.

As we indicated the weekend was a crowded one. We attended the lovely Sharp-Powell wedding and reception later. Mrs. Bernia Daugherty, one of the members of the Puella Legatoes club, who served as hostesses, had been unable to attend because the family had left two days before for North Carolina. Her husband, Dr. Chauncey Daugherty had completed his residency at Veterans hospital.

We left the wedding party for a social for six visiting Africans given by the Winthrop club at the home of one of their members, Mrs. Willard Cushingberry, 827 E. 24th street.

It proved to be a most congenial and successful evening with none more pleased than the honored guests, their hostesses and other invited guests. Among invited guests were Mrs. Clifford Bayles, and Judge and Mrs. Luther T. Glanton, Jr., who delighted the guests from Kenya by disclosing they had visited their country on separate occasions several years ago. It sounded like old homeweeek as they exchanged names of friends, knowledge of customs, incidents, and exchanged Swahili greetings.

The Africans had been in the city on several occasions and had expressed a desire to meet some of the American Negroes socially. The Saturday evening affair was the answer and it was a good one.

Pictures were snapped by the hostess after everyone had dined on a delicious potluck dinner supplied by members of the club.

Temperature-wise it was a most wonderful time for the Kenya residents to visit in Iowa. In Kenya their temperature never rises above 78. So they had no chance to witness any of Iowa's usually torrid weather. However, one of the visitors had spent the winter in Wisconsin, and reported the winters "As terrible!"

Guests and hostesses had some of the most fun when the Kenyans were persuaded to try one of America's most popular fruit, watermelon and another time when one of the Kenyans gave a lecture on how Africans wear the pants in the African family.

YOUNGSTERS RIOT
AT IOWA LAKES

It is odd that a group of 500 youngsters chose Independence day, July 4 weekend, to stage a series of riots which shocked the people of Iowa. Arnolds Park, a resort comprising a segment of the Iowa great lakes, was the scene of lawlessness, disregard for other people and an abuse of the privileges of decency and decorum which branded them as just blind sheep following a few outlaws.

All kinds of reasons have been given as a cause of this dispicable episode. Just what these young people expected to gain by participating in such an adventure is hard to explain.

Of course, there are those who says it was communist inspired; some that it was the result of a lack of discipline by the parents; some that it is simply evidence of the restlessness of people all over the world.

We are not so sure that there was some of all these things present. But the problem goes further. In recent years, we have talked so much about rights and freedom that many people have come to believe that they are free to do anything they choose and get away with it. Too many people feel that they need not respect the rights of others—they are 21, free and white or black as the case may be.

There is an old axiom in the law that says "so use your own as not to injure the rights of others." It embodies the philosophy which should prevail in dealing man to man in any situation.

Most of the crimes committed by these young people are punishable by fines not exceeding thirty days in jail or a hundred dollar fine or both. The courts have fined those pleading guilty the minimum. This, of course, was a mistake and forms one of the reasons why many people cannot quit believing that courts will deal with them other than with kid gloves and give them a slap on the wrist.

Youngsters who commit these crimes know what they are doing. They must not be permitted to fix their own punishment as kids where they commit a man's crime.

America is fast becoming a lawless country. People hesitate to walk the streets at night or day in many places for fear of being molested.

Incidents such as these riots over the weekend should be handled in a stern prompt manner so as to make the participants know that such conduct will not be tolerated. To do otherwise simply prepares the participants for the next one.

CONSOLIDATE RIGHTS
GAINS IS NEXT

Delegates to the annual convention of the NAACP in Denver were reminded by Roy Wilkins and other speakers that racial discrimination by law was no longer part of our legal system—a goal for which the organization was formed. Sure, pockets of discrimination and denial of civil rights prevail but in time will be wiped out.

With this statement we fully agree, for the civil rights act of 1964 and the sure passage of the voting rights bill by Congress cover the field which present laws fail to reach.

We believe that since this has been accomplished, the Negro should consolidate his gains; should clean up his own shortcomings which tend to make his first class citizenship insecure.

One of the first things he must do is quit sit-downs and sit-ins when they are remote from the things protested and do nothing but lose friends for the cause; he must clean up bad neighborhoods, conduct himself as honorable men and women (and we don't mean as Uncle Tom); insist on keeping his youngsters in school and see that they secure adequate counseling; find a job and do it well; if there are instances of discrimination in employment or the exercise of civil rights, go to the authorities for redress. And in most cases the fellow who does this is going to get along.

Yes, the Negro and his friends fought long and hard to secure the tools to enforce his rights. Let them be used intelligently, promptly, relentlessly but always with an attitude of seeking the enforcement of that with which every man in America is endowed.

The NAACP has done a great job. It has had the help of many fine organizations over the years. The efforts of some of the recently formed organizations have helped in their own way. For all this we have much for which to be thankful. Let's consolidate the gains that have been made by demonstrating that we are first class citizens and quit marching simply to keep up a rumpus.

Wonder what a veteran of 25 years in the ring thinks about as he prepares for his fight against some kid who wasn't born when the veteran was in his prime. How badly does a fighter need money to keep going at 45? Or is it really money? It would just about have to be that. At 35 training becomes a chore. So you can imagine how much torture it must be 10 years later. Then there is the plan of action. One has to get hit with punches that wouldn't have come close to the old fellow even 10 years ago. When the guy he's fighting was anywhere from 8 to 13 years old. Then I was 35 on top of the world and thinking about quitting.

Now here I am in the ring again, watch the kid. Yet the timing on his moves and use this timing to set him up. Maybe I can land a good one and we can go home early. There it is, the opening, I set him up for. Here goes that murderous left hook. It lands but nothing happens. The guy must be tough. Actually, time has taken the steam out of that left hook. I think I am really banging it in there, but really nothing is further wrong.

By using experiences and heart I manage to keep the kid off balance until I began to get tired. So tired. The rest between rounds isn't nearly enough. Then we go back with each round seeming like a week. The fight is over and I can hardly stand, but they announce me as the winner. How? I don't know; the money is about a thousand dollars. I used to give my valet that much for a tip after a big fight. Oh well, now for the next one.

Wonder what the veteran manager must think as he looks at his fighter. He has been with the guy through all of his fights and ups and downs. Shared the big money and now divides up the peanuts with his man. How does one feel signing a contract to appear for maybe a thousand or 1500 when that used to be one-fiftieth of your fighter's share? Does the manager really need the dough or is he just sticking with the vet for old times sake? Where will it end? It must really hurt a manager or trainer to see his man get punched around by a kid who probably would not have been good enough to fight a preliminary bout on the championship bouts that the vet had so many of.

Why don't the pair quit?

Football

The All-Star football game is just around the corner. We should like very much to be there at the kickoff. Maybe we will. Haven't seen one for some time. This could be our year.

They say our Des Moines pro-team is shaping up pretty good and may make a real showing in the league they are in. If they have a winning team the fans will come out. If they don't one can use the phrase made famous by a local daily paper writer: "Forty thousand people stayed away." This town just won't support any sort of losing team.

IN ACCOUNT WITH LIFE

One midnight deep in starlight still,
I dreamed that I received this bill:
In account with life:
Five thousand breathless dawns all new;
Five thousand flowers fresh in dew;
Five thousand sunsets wrapped in gold;
One million snowflakes served ice cold;
Five quiet friends; one baby's love;
One white-mad sea with clouds above;
One hundred music-haunted dreams
Of moon-drenched roads and hurrying streams,
Of prophesying winds and trees,
Of silent stars and drowsing bees;
One June night in a fragrant wood;
One heart that loved and understood.
I wondered when I waked at day,
How—how in God's name— I could pay!

POEMS FROM

Rules for Daily Life

BEGIN THE DAY WITH GOD;
Kneel down to Him in prayer;
Lift up thy heart to His abode,
And seek His love to share.
OPEN THE BOOK OF GOD,
And read a portion there;
That it may hallow all thy thoughts,
And sweeten all thy care.
GO THROUGH THE DAY WITH GOD,
Whate'er thy work may be;
Where'er thou art—at home, abroad,
He still is near to thee.
CONVERSE IN MIND WITH GOD,
Thy spirit heavenward raise;
Acknowledge every good bestowed,
And offer grateful praise.
CONCLUDE THE DAY WITH GOD,
Thy sins to Him confess;
Trust in the Lord's atoning blood,
And plead His righteousness.
LIE DOWN AT NIGHT WITH GOD,

Who gives His servants sleep;
And when thou tread'st the vale of death,
He will thee guard and keep.

Broncos think they have a bargain in a "big old horse" named Carlton Cookie Gilchrist.

Gilchrist, Denver's newest 250-pound showpiece, signed a contract Wednesday reported to be around $35,000. That would be a raise of about $7,000 over his contract last year with AFL champion Buffalo.

Denver got Gilchrist in an off-season trade with the Bills for Billy Joe, another 250-pound fullback, and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Gilchrist, an 11-year veteran of pro football who held AFL rushing titles in 1962 and 1964, had a stormy career with Buffalo. He once was fired and rehired within 30 hours by Bills Coach Lou Saban.

2 Years

His Denver contract was reported to run over two years. He had asked for a three-year contract.

The burly fullback, who looks like a scholar and talks like a diplomat, flew into Denver Wednesday, talked with Empire sports board chairman Gerald Phipps and Bronco Coach Mack Speedie, signed then left again.

"I'm sure Cookie will make us a great football player, and will give us no trouble," Speedie said. "He left well satisfied with his contract and seemed anxious to get back in uniform."

When he was traded this winter, the 30-year-old Gilchrist said he was honored that Denver traded a "young horse Joe for a big old horse."

Griffiths to Try 160
Pound Division Next

New York—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith will step up to the 160-pound class when he meets Jose Gonpales at Madison Square Garden Tuesday, July 13, in a 10-round non-title bout.

Griffith, who successfully defended his welterweight title at the Garden March 30 with a 15-round unanimous decision over Jose Stabile, will make his first serious attempt for the middleweight crown. The 30-year-old Virgin Islander said he planned to campaign for the heavier title in the future.

In a previous bout with Gonzales, Griffith scored a close 10-round decision. Griffith's record includes 16 knockouts and six losses in 51 bouts. Gonzales has 29 triumphs, 10 losses and one draw.

What is electricity? A COOL TREAT ON A WARM DAY...

Electricity is a box of frozen treats . . . It's a whole supermarket at your fingertips. Electricity is your favorite television program. It's freshly washed clothes. Electricity is probably 30 to 40 household servants right in your own home . . . five or six times as many as you had just a generation ago. With electricity doing so many useful things for you, it stands to reason that your bill is higher today. But the actual cost per kilowatt-hour of electricity is a full 30% lower than it was a generation ago.

Yes, electricity is many everyday wonders. At today's low rates, it's your biggest household bargain. Faithfully yours, from
