K. Washington, Grandson of Bystander Publisher, In Look

New York—Members of Stanford University's Sigma Chi fraternity chapter believe that the recent suspension of their charter by the fraternity's national office was "punishment" for pledging a Negro, a national magazine said today.

An article in the current issue of Look Magazine reports on the controversy that erupted when the Stanford group pledged 19-year-old Kenneth M. Washington last spring.

Harry V. Wade, national President of Sigma Chi, denies in the article that Washington's pledging caused the suspension. Wade claims the chapter was disciplined for regarding the national organization with contempt, ignoring rituals and maintaining "the dirtiest fraternity house I have ever seen."

Stanford Sigma Chi's claim Wade's reasons are not valid. They point out that a letter from Wade, received in 1964 in response to an earlier effort to pledge a Negro, stated:

"... it is difficult for me to believe that high scholastic standing necessarily is a breeding place for extreme liberalism within a fraternity chapter."

Commenting on the furor, one member of the Stanford chapter is quoted in Look:

"We're not on any crusade. We pledged Ken because he's a nice guy and a good man... We're not trying to impose our ideas on anybody."

Young Washington is the grandson of Bystander publisher, James B. Morris, Sr., and his wife, Mrs. George C. Morris. His parents are Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Washington, of Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Harris Sworn in As 1st Negro Woman Ambassador

BY ADOLPH J. SLAUGHTER

Washington—(NNS)—In the elegant setting of the John Quincy Adams diplomatic reception room of the Department of State, Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris became the first Negro woman to be sworn in as an United States ambassador to a foreign country, Luxembourg.

More than 200 persons, mostly friends and guests of the Ambassador and her husband, Atty. William Beasley Harris, filled the historically named room and watched an historic ceremony which began shortly after 4 p.m., Friday, July 9.

Delay

The ceremony was delayed slightly because of the late arrival of Secretary of State Dean Rusk who watched solemnly as the oath of office was administered to Mrs. Harris by Norman Armour, assistant chief of Protocol for ceremonies.

Immediately after Mrs. Harris completed the last words of her pledge of allegiance to the United States, which she repeated after Armour, the throng broke into loud and sustained applause.

First to speak to the new Ambassador and the audience was Mr. Rusk who welcomed Mrs. Harris to the diplomatic ranks of the United States. He said the appointment of Mrs. Harris was a selection long considered and that the administration has had "its eyes on her" for some time.

Response

Mrs. Harris began her response to the Secretary's remarks in a loud and clear voice, but before she had gone too far, her eyes lowered slightly, and her voice quavered a bit as the apparent emotion of the occasion overwhelmed her.

Alluding to this circumstance, she said, "you well imagine the emotion that wells up in me now..."

She thanked both the President and the country for providing her the opportunity to "represent the United States in a country which is a friend and voice for decency in the world."

The Harrises will leave the U.S. in August.

House Passes Voting Bill

BY ADOLPH J. SLAUGHTER

Washington—(NNS)—Passage of the Administration-backed voting rights bill last week was a whopping victory for the President; a precursor to increased registration and voting by southern Negroes, and a humiliating display of divisiveness among both House Republicans and Southern Democrats.

Vote

By the lopsided margin of 383 to 85, the Johnson forces—with the help of 112 Republicans, and 21 Southern Democrats—notched another milestone in the recent flood of legislation designed to equalize the Negro in America.

Committee

The bill is now in conference committee of both House and Senate members where differences between the House bill and that passed by the Senate, May 26 (77-19), are to be worked out to mutual satisfaction.

Loopholes

What is astounding, however, to most observers here is that the GOP House leadership attempted to get the House to go for a voting rights bill which it designed and wanted to pass instead of the Administration's bill. The GOP Bill was a much weaker bill and left loop holes by the bushel full for Southerners to use in delaying and preventing Negroes from registering and voting.

Prior to the voting rights bill, the GOP had established an enviable record of cooperativeness with the Democrats which resulted in a truly bipartisan Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Plea

The most impassioned plea, however, for passage of the Administration-backed bill came from a South-erner whose remarks in another day would have been unthinkable.

Representative Hale Boggs of Louisiana, who is the assistant Democratic leader in the House told his colleagues he loved Louisiana, and "I wish I could stand here and say that there has not been any discrimination, but unfortunately, it is not so."

"I shall support this bill because I believe the fundamental right to vote must be a part of this great experiment in human progress under freedom which is America," he added.

Obviously, as the vote showed, there were a few Southern Democrats who agreed with Boggs.

This latter-day agreement, however, is the saddest commentary of all on what "good thinking" Southerners are saying now, as opposed to their comments of no later than last year—certainly one hundred years before.

Woods was appointed by Johnson earlier this year as an associate director of the Agency, with responsibilities which ranked him about fifth from the top.

Woods was recently married in Chicago to another former St. Louisan, the former Jane Matthews.

NAACP Urges Senate to Reject Coleman As Judge, Denies 'Deal' with Govt.

Denver, Colo.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called upon the United States Senate to refuse to confirm the nomination of former Mississippi Gov. James P. Coleman as a judge on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit.

Shock

At the closing session of the Association's 56th annual convention here, June 28-July 3, the delegates passed a resolution expressing "shock" at the nomination and calling upon "the President to screen all persons who are considered for judgeships and to make certain that anyone appointed is fully committed to uphold the law and to protect the constitutional rights of all Americans without regard to race, creed or color."

No Deal

Debate on the resolution was marred by the implication asserted by one delegate that a "deal" had been made between NAACP Board and/or staff members and the Johnson Administration not to press for opposition to the Coleman nomination. "Who wants to get into the Cabinet? What deal was cut?" the delegate demanded.

The allegation of a "deal" was bitterly assailed by Executive Director Roy Wilkins following adoption of the resolution. It's up to the delegates to adopt whatever resolution they desired, he said. "What you decree, I will attempt to carry out." However, he went on, "I deeply resent this rude lie," referring to the remarks made by the delegate from Flint, Mich. "I have not been offered any position, do not expect any offer and do not want any. I wouldn't trade my position with the Association even for the seat in the White House," he declared.

Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington bureau, likewise assailed and denied the remarks made by the delegate and offered to settle the issue "in debate on the floor, or out in the corridors. I don't take that kind of stuff from anybody."

The delegates gave the Resolutions Committee, the Executive Director

PRE-FREEZE FOR ANGEL PIE

When the freezer is put to use the best of the season's crops can be preserved for later enjoyment. One of the most eagerly awaited is the strawberry. Home frozen strawberries retain the fresh, juicy taste of newly picked ones for months when packed in approved freezing containers like Vapocons, square, waxed-board containers with rigid plastic lids.

Strawberries to use later in dessert recipes should be prepared in a dry, sweetened pack before freezing. This is all you have to do. After they are washed, drained, and hulled, tumble berries in sugar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup per quart. Pack in square, waxed-board containers and freeze immediately.

STRAWBERRY ANGEL PIE

Here is a way to put a container of home frozen strawberries to mouth-watering use. Add  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt and  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon cream of tartar to 4 egg whites. Beat until stiff. Beat in 1 cup granulated sugar. Beat in  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon vanilla. Spread in well-buttered, 9-inch pie plate, having mixture higher around the edge to make a rim. Bake 7 hours at 275°, then cool. Spread with  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup whipped cream. Let stand several hours. Spread a layer of 1  $\frac{1}{2}$  pints thawed strawberries over cream. Cover with second layer of whipped cream.

Stylists for Beautician Convention

The National Institute of Cosmetology, sponsored by the National Beauty Culturists' League, Inc., will feature a number of widely known stylists July 25 to 31 at the Washington Hilton Hotel. The Institute will be followed by the organization's national convention August 1 to 5. Among the stylists will be, from left, Adolph Elia, New Jersey, president of the International Forum and consultant to hairdressers; Mrs.

Dayzelle Hill, outstanding hair stylist of Detroit, and Paris Harrington, Kansas City, who is listed among the top ten male stylists. Mrs. Hill was one of the first graduates of the Cosmetology Institute.

As we type this column, nearly the last of a large mass of news copy for this week's issue, we are beginning to feel a slight letdown, that one customarily feels near the end of a week's work before vacation begins. Yes you guessed it. Next week we'll be on vacation and we can hardly wait. And we mean this literally. For the past few weeks we have just been hanging in there almost through sheer grit. Those of you have not been on your vacations yet, know what we mean.

Later this week we are going to Missouri for a visit and will leave three of our offspring with their grandmother and other relatives for a vacation and later will return to Missouri to bring them back home. It will be their first long vacation away from the parental nest and should prove to be quite a mutual experience for parents, children and grandmother. We plan to wind up their vacation with a trip to St. Louis, Mo., to see a major league baseball game.

Sunday, July 18 we will attend one of the annual affairs in Eolia, Mo., our hometown. The occasion will be an old fashioned Basket dinner and all-day services at the Second Baptist church there. It has been several years since we have been there at the time. Usually many relatives and friends of residents of Eolia, return to attend and meet old acquaintances and schoolmates.

In between our youngest will turn five and celebrate her birthday that she has been talking about most of the year. Her older brothers and sisters will not be able to share the day with her for the first time in her young little life.

Many local friends have been hinting that we should take a vacation and after the series of little mistakes we have made the past several weeks, we heartily but weakly agree.

To our chagrin we made a mistake by omission last week after we had made a series of phone calls in an effort to avoid, the very thing we did. This pertains to the Winthrop club. We called Mrs. Idella Cushingberry at whose home the social event for the visiting Africans had taken place. There was no answer and later we learn the Cushingberry family had departed on a vacation in Kansas.

Then we turned to Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, a member of the club, whom we felt would tell us what we wanted to know—all the names of the club members. We didn't want to leave any out! And do you know what we did we put all the names in but Mrs. Lewis—the very lady we had called to help us.

A water carnival will be held at Good park this evening (Thurs.) with swimming teams from Birdland, Ashworth, Northwest and Goode participating for prizes. This is always an event worth seeing. If you can take the time, come out and watch the youngsters perform. The event begins at 6:30 p.m.

Speaking of swimming a young man who has been taking swimming lessons when he came to Des Moines on vacation for several years, this year is teaching the Shark club's group at Goode park this summer. He is Norwood (Bussie) Thomas of Columbus, Ohio who is vacationing in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Morrow, and their children, Joyce and Tony, at 1701 Carpenter street. Bussie and Tony have also been getting in quite a few tennis practices. Both are learning the sport this summer.

Quite an unfortunate accident happened to Russell Reeves, 3010 3rd street, who was the subject of an "Who's Who in Iowa" series several years ago. He is a veteran employee at Armstrong Rubber company and has been holding a supervisory position for a number of years. Last Thursday, July 8 his arm was caught in a machine that he was working on and was broken in four places. He was placed in the intensive care ward at Iowa Lutheran hospital because doctors wanted to be sure no other internal injuries had been caused when he was pulled, by the machine.

By the way he was in the same room as young Hurl Smith, who suffered the broken neck on July 5 when he dived in the Goode park swimming pool and hit its bottom. It will be some weeks yet before the youngster knows if he will be able to walk again but reports are that his morale remains high despite his total paralysis.

Though he isn't allowed visitors we are sure that a card or brief note from friends and acquaintances will help him to realize that they are thinking about him. As far as we know his sight or hearing has not been impaired. And if the doctors should decide not to allow him to see the cards or have them read to him, they can always be kept until such a time is possible.

Don't forget that we will be on vacation next week. If you have news mail or bring it to the By-stander before Tuesday noon or phone it in before that deadline. Your thoughtfulness will be appreciated by the staff remaining on duty. Until then we will be back with you on Monday, July 26.

Carole Kennerly Returns Home After Exciting Graduation, Tour of Europe and New York City

Miss Carole Kennerly of 1129 12th street, returned home last week after an exciting and eventful month. On June 4 she received her master's degree in medical social work at Howard university, in Washington, D. C. This was the 97th Annual Commencement and highlighting the program was the appearance and remarks given by the President of the United States.

Courtesies

Carole's parents, Raymond and Chrystal Kennerly journeyed to D. C. for her graduation. They spent a week with her, during which time they took in the sights of D. C. and New York. They viewed the Statue of Liberty and found the World's Fair to be more than enjoyable.

Europe Trip

Carole and three other classmates met in New York and they joined 24 others at the beautiful Kennedy International Airport where they departed by jet airliner on a Howard University tour. She visited six countries, England, Belgium, France, Italy, Switzerland, and Germany. There was time for sightseeing, picture taking, shopping and night life.

Some of the highlights of her vacation were visiting the Westminster Abbey in London, going shopping in Paris; seeing the art treasures in the museums of the Vatican, by such painters as Michelangelo in Rome; having lunch on a steamer on the Rhine river and found Switzerland to be beautiful and the people most friendly.

In Venice the streets are of water so travel is by boat. She also visited the Lido, the playground of the world and witnessed demonstrations of glass blowing. Enroute to Cologne, in West Germany she visited the famous Cathedral and had lunch in Brussels, Belgium.

Carole met most interesting and friendly people feels that this is an experience she will long remember.

Tasty Summer Treat

"It's truly a treat—first, to eat; and second, to prepare"—that's a fine description of this hearty rice salad. The base is made in minutes with packaged pre-cooked rice, which means little time in the kitchen. Bologna, carrots, peas and pimento give it unique flavor, and for additional goodness it has a garnish of tomato aspic molds and ripe olives. Serve it with crispy bread sticks, a cooling beverage and a favorite dessert. This new recipe salad is a nourishing meal in itself, with plenty of "eye appeal"—yet one that's quick to make. It can happily supply the answer to a luncheon or dinner menu these hot, humid days.

BOLOGNA RICE SALAD

1 1/2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 to 1 1/4 cups mayonnaise
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 to 1 1/4 cups cooked peas*

Combine rice, water, and 1/2 teaspoon salt in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. (Do not stir). Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Then uncover and let cool to room temperature.

About 1 hour before serving, combine mayonnaise, onion, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, and the pepper, mixing well. Add remaining ingredients and the rice, mixing lightly with a fork. Chill. Serve on crisp lettuce with individual molds of tomato aspic. Makes 8 cups, or 8 to 10 servings.

*Cook 1 box quick-frozen green peas as directed on package. Cool and drain. Or use cooked fresh peas.

Mr. Robert Wright of Minneapolis, Minn., was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Adams, 1610 Walker street. He was in Des Moines to attend the funeral of William S. Jewett.

Mr. Wright recently received a 20-year award as an Old-Timer at Minnesota-Moline, Inc. The presentation was made by William L. Soss, M-M president.

CHANGES OFFER MANY NEW OPPORTUNITIES

New changes are appearing in human relations everyday — everywhere — changes that the older generation wished for but never thought they would occur in their lifetime.

In years gone by, we wrote editorials commending some outstanding appointment of a Negro to office. Now they occur so often that they must be dealt with in batches.

Of course, times are different, laws are different, people are different, making the climate such that many things are done without fanfare.

An example of local interest is the appointment by City Manager Chenoweth of Dr. Julius Conner as health commissioner. He holds an M.D. degree from Nebraska Medical School and the Harvard School of Public Health.

Last week, President Johnson appointed Major Hugh Robinson, a West Point graduate, his military assistant (formerly the office was military aid). This week he named Thurgood Marshall, now a circuit judge, to the post as solicitor general.

These are splendid recognition of the worth of prepared Negroes in high place, in white collar jobs. But somehow we have not been able to reach those middle class workers who earn good salaries and are really the backbone of the community.

Such appointments indicate the progress that is being made and have a way of compensating for the bad incidents that occur in our daily life.

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL
IN DES MOINES

A group of citizens in Des Moines is in the process of organizing a professional football team. A surprising number of interested players has come out to join up, financial backing seems to be coming and the project bids fair to present Des Moines with more sports and recreation.

The managers propose to join up with a league which is being formed consisting of about ten teams in and out of the state. At a meeting with the news media Saturday, representatives from Illinois and Michigan cities attended.

All such things help a community and can succeed if the people support them. At one time, baseball did very well in Des Moines but drifted lower and lower until there was none. The public did not support it.

If this venture is to succeed, a way must be found to get people out. Teams don't do well when they play to benches.

RIGHTS GROUPS OPPOSE
GOVERNOR COLEMAN

The battle over the appointment of former governor James P. Coleman of Mississippi by President Johnson as judge of the fifth circuit of the federal court is somewhat similar to the one made on Justice Hugo Black when he was appointed by the late President Roosevelt.

Representatives of the NAACP, CORE and SNICK appeared before the senate judicial sub-committee in opposition to Coleman citing statements made in opposition to integration and his signing legislative bills which attempted to circumvent the school segregation decision of the supreme court.

In his statement before the committee, Gov. Coleman admitted most of the charges but insisted that Coleman as governor—a politician—and Coleman as judge were two different situations, besides he states that the times are different.

Undoubtedly Gov. Coleman will be confirmed, but it is well that the President and he be put on notice that bad records in race relations generally meet a fellow down the road.

The halfway mark in the pennant races is here and you could cover the first five National league teams with a blanket. Seems that the first team able to mount a substantial winning streak in this last half could get the nod. In the American league the Twins have come up with some surprisingly good pitching and got a pretty fair lead going. They could win that one if they can keep their key players intact. In the National the Dodgers may have all their crimples back for the stretch drive and if Drysdale and Koufax can hold out they could take it all.

All-Star Game

The All Star game was a sight. In the starting line-up of the Nationals were six American born Negroes, one dark Cuban and two white players. The American league always a little conservative came up with only two Negroes and one Cuban.

But even 20 years ago nobody dreamed of a thing like this happening. If they had Jackie Robinson would never have made it. Just about every week one reads a column wherein some writer confesses that he didn't think Negroes belonged in the majors. But now he admits he was wrong. How long dots it take people to wake up?

Local

Our tennis season is just around the corner. This is the four-day deal known as the Hilltop Open tennis meet. The thing is probably the oldest open meet in the city now. And if one cared to include the days when it was a closed meet, perhaps the oldest in the state. We still think that in these days of interracial talk that our meet is a mark to shoot at. We can't find another tennis meet around that is 90 per cent-white and run by a group of Negroes. We mean run, because if it had not been run right it would not have lasted this long. Now, we get entrants from all-over the state and we have a housing problem, something we never expected to have.

Regret

Our chief regret is that we have never developed a Negro champion in the thing in men's events. Esther Myers has won the women's singles at least three times and been runner up that many more. There have been a few fellows who might have had a chance had they worked hard at it. But their chief concern was not improving their game but beating the older club members so they couldn't improve beyond a point. We would like to see some Negroes names on the traveling trophy for the doubles team, but that probably won't happen unless things take a sudden radical change.

HEALTH FOR ALL

IT CAN TAKE YOUR BREATH AWAY

The name of the ailment is Emphysema. It's not only one of the hardest to pronounce (try it this way: Em-fizz-EEM-uh), but doctors are now calling it one of the toughest to avoid after a certain age. For men, at any rate.

If that seems surprising, consider the word of Dr. Albert Roberts, chief of the Cardiopulmonary (heart-lung) Disease Division of the U.S. Public Health Service. He estimated recently that nine out of ten American men over 45 have at least a "slight" case of emphysema. Between one and two million persons have the disease in severe form, he says. Women are the lucky ones: emphysema attacks a far higher proportion of men.

Slow Disease

Like a quiet marauder, the disease comes on slowly and sneakily. It attacks and breaks down the numerous little air sacs and tiny blood vessels of the lung. Result: the lung loses its elasticity. Its ability to get rid of stale used-up air is impaired. The breathing process may become a desperate struggle, often straining the heart until it can no longer function—and death results.

Karate Expert

Washington, D. C.—Top karate amateur in the greater Washington area is Lawrence D. Dyson Sr., of Gaithersburg, Md., a special police officer and member of the Montgomery County, Md., Deputy Sheriffs association. He started "police-Chinese" karate and ju jitsu training in 1962.

According to karate instructor Joseph Chiang, Dyson is the first local student to break a 4-inch thick piece of lumber with his hand. He demonstrated his skill at the recent National Press Club outing by breaking two three-inch thick cement blocks with a single, quick blow from his right hand.

Softball

This is probably the first year in many that there hasn't been a Hotent team in either the softball leagues or tournaments. A few of the younger fellows are playing with other teams around.

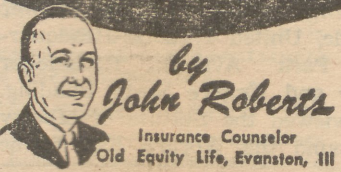

We guess the era of good Negro teams, as such, is gone. Most of the team were formed because it was hard to get to play with a white team. So the boys formed their own teams and did alright. But now there are so many teams needing players that they can't afford to pass up anybody. So we have just any number of teams with Negroes playing where it used to be hard to even get to practice with the other boys.

Exactly what causes emphysema isn't known. A chronic cough and undue shortness of breath are typical symptoms. It's apt to follow a long succession of colds with cough, or pneumonia, or chronic bronchitis. Cigarette smoking, while not a proved cause of emphysema, is usually found to have been a long-standing habit with those that have the disorder.

No Known Cure

No cure is known, either. But a lot can be done to make the sufferer more comfortable, enable him to breathe better with the equipment he has, and help him keep to a reasonably normal way of life—if the condition is detected in time. Your Christmas Seal Association, which fights all respiratory diseases including emphysema and TB, suggests that you have a doctor look you over if a cough refuses to go away or shortness of breath sets in.

Family Finances

Service is as important as the product you buy.

Save money by making sure... before you buy... that reliable repair service is available locally.

Six rules of buying a product that will need maintenance or repair:

1. Expect good sales service. If you don't get it you're likely to have trouble when you need repairs.
  2. A guarantee is only as good as the organization behind it. Read it carefully.
  3. Think of the product in terms of need for maintenance and availability of parts and service.
  4. A good product name is essential but not enough if facilities for service are lacking.
  5. Utility companies may be able to tell you where to obtain good service.
  6. A dealer with adequate service facilities may have to charge a slightly higher price for the product.
- You save in the long run with those who have facilities for good service.

"Don't live in the past!" the Psychologist said.
"It's bad for your state of mind. Keep your face forward, your eyes to the Sun, And never look behind!"
Well, suppose nobody lived in the past;

Iowa greets Randy Duncan and Bill Reichardt on head coach Gale Gibson's Warrior staff.

The Warriors also announced the addition of former Coe College player, Steve Souder to the Roster. Souder, a 5-11 starting Right Half Back for Coe College, 61-63-64, completed his college eligibility last fall and while playing with the Warriors, will complete work at Coe for his degree.

Where would our history be? Would we know what happened in Bethlehem? Or what happened on Calvary? Would we know of the brave and noble ones

Who lived and served and died That justice in the world prevail, And no one be denied?

So maybe this is what he meant: "pour not more oil on the fire; Destroying all that man can do, Some others to inspire. Don't open up the healing wound To see what lies inside! Because of this, beyond a doubt, A million men have died. Once you have crossed the dismal swamp

Where dragons abound; Keep to the right! Stay in the light! And lay your worries down!"
