NAACP Invokes Rights Act in Job Lawsuit

Brings Action Against Corporations, Unions

Washington, D. C.—Acting under mandate of the NAACP 56th annual convention, Herbert Hill, the Association's director for labor program, on July 15, filed the first of a series of sworn complaints alleging job discrimination by several major corporations and two trade unions in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Mr. Hill appeared before the new Equal Employment Opportunity Commission here on behalf of NAACP members in Alabama, Illinois, Louisiana and Tennessee who charged that they had been denied equal opportunity for employment and promotion. NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter appeared with Mr. Hill before the Commission.

Businesses and Unions

Among businesses named in the complaints are the Southern Bell Telephone Co.; Sears, Roebuck department store chain; Brown Iron Foundry, Bermico division, Birmingham; Darling and Co., East St. Louis, Ill.; New Orleans Public Service; and Kroger Baking Co., Memphis. Two AFL-CIO unions—the International Molders and Allied Workers and the International Chemical Workers—were also charged with discrimination.

Negro workers employed by Darling, a leading manufacturer of fertilizer and other chemical products, are restricted to membership in a segregated local of the Chemical Workers Union, the complaint alleges. White workers at the plant hold membership in "lily-white" locals of the Carpenters Union, Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the Union of Operating Engineers. Qualified Negro workers, Mr. Hill told the Commission, have repeatedly been denied admission to the white locals, the wage scales of which are substantially higher than those of the all-Negro Chemical Workers local.

New Mississippi Voter Laws Encouraging

Jackson, Miss.—Mississippi's newly simplified voter registration procedures have substantially brightened the prospects for a highly successful summer drive by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to increase the state's Negro electorate.

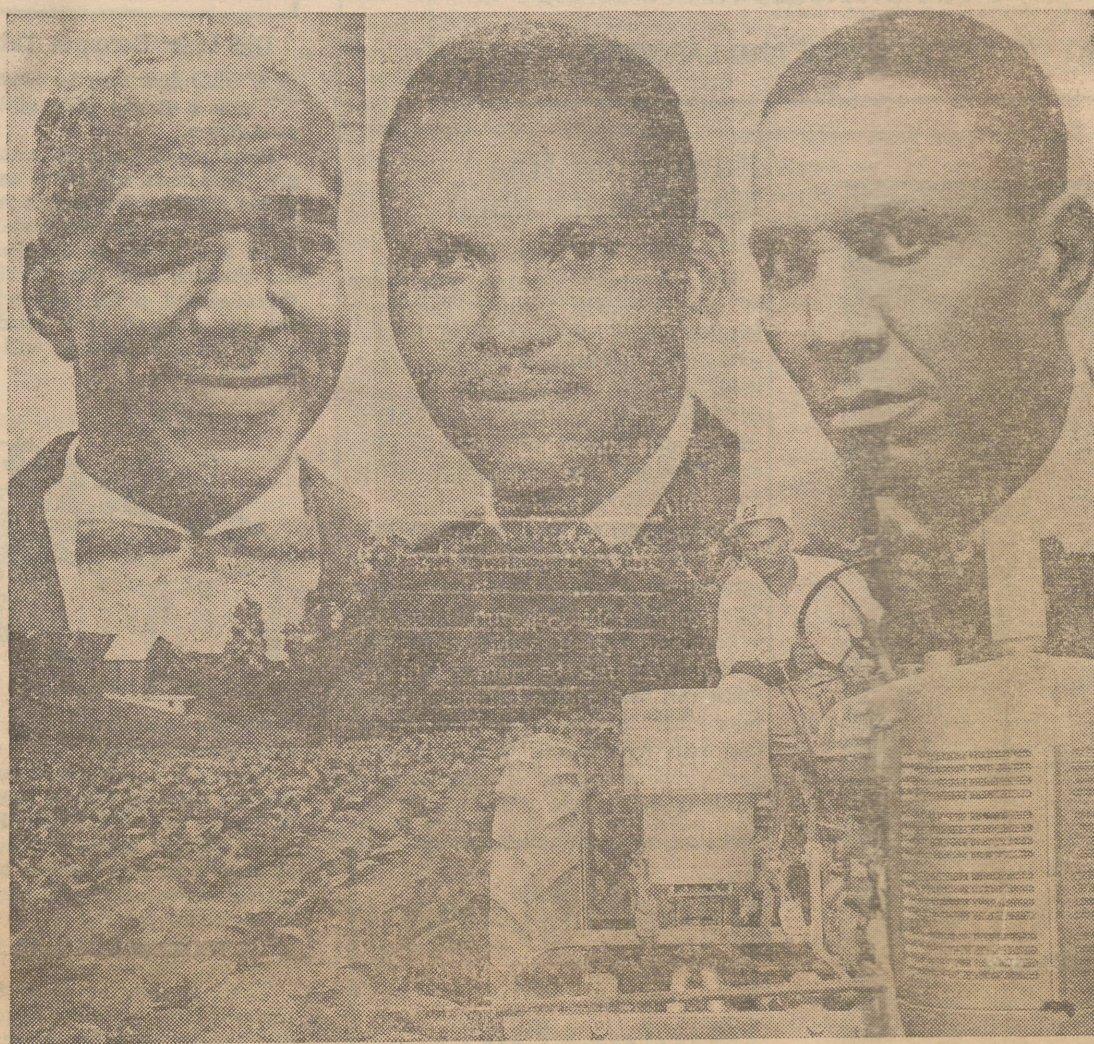

On Wednesday, July 14, it required only about 30 minutes for Charles Evers and 25 other Negro citizens to fill out the new forms, working in groups of fours.

Wilkins Speaks

Addressing over 1,000 persons at a kick-off rally of the NAACP's Summer Project, Sunday, July 11, Executive Director Roy Wilkins noted that his "first impression" of the voting changes just passed by the Mississippi Legislature was that the state's new registration blank was "even simpler than the one in New York."

Although the NAACP campaign to increase the number of registered Negro voters looks encouraging from the standpoint of legal roadblocks, it is the extra-legal acts of intimidation and harassment that are providing the problems. As was observed by Miss Althea T. L. Simmons, coordinator of the NAACP project, as she pondered some incidents which have occurred during the week that ended, July 15, "The

Mourns Passing Of Judge Walden

New York—In a letter of condolence to the widow of Judge Austin T. Walden, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins expressed the Association's sympathy and sense of great loss in the passing of the Atlanta leader.

Judge Walden, a former member of the NAACP Board of Directors and until his death, a vice president of the Association and a member of its national legal committee was 80 years old when he passed away on July 2.

Atty. Walden served at Fort Des Moines in 1917 and is well remembered by many friends in Des Moines.

$200,000 Loan For Calif. Negro Meat Co.

Los Angeles, Calif. Aug. 2—Small Business Administrator Eugene P. Foley today urged Negroes to become more business-minded as a step toward assuming a stronger role in the nation's economy.

Foley spoke at a ceremony dedicating the opening of the Watson Meat Company's new plant in Los Angeles, Calif. The plant received a $206,300 loan from the Small Business Administration to expand meat packing operations—the largest SBA loan ever to a Negro firm.

racists haven't got religion yet."

Fearful

While many Mississippi Negro citizens have expressed their delight and appreciation at having NAACP volunteers and staff assist them in the project, there is still the long-standing, wire-spread fear of reprisal from the white community if they attempt to register. There is also apathy stemming from a feeling that if they should it will not make any difference anyway.

First of Race Wins Soap Box Derby

Greensboro, N. C.—Dogged determination paid off for Joseph Hamilton Holloway, 15, who after three years of trying, raced across the finish line in the final event to win the Greensboro 1965 Soap Box Derby, here last Saturday.

With the win goes a $500 savings bond, a handsome trophy, an all-expense trip to represent Greensboro in the National Soap Box Derby Finals at Akron, Ohio in early August and a big chance at the top prize of $10,000.

Elks To Honor Two Scholarship Graduates

George W. Lee, the Grand Commissioner of Education, said that one of the features of the Department's 40th Anniversary celebration at the IBPOE Convention will be the awarding of plaques to Dr. Leroy Weekes and Norman Carey Amaker, graduates on Elks scholarships many years ago. "I feel," he stated, "that Philadelphia, the birthplace of our democracy should give us the proper setting for parading two of our graduates who have become first-rate examples of the American business and professional career."

Klan Enters Racial Conflict In Louisiana Rights Crusade

Bogalusa, La.—In spite of threats and boasts of the Ku Klux Klan, civil rights workers paraded and picketed Saturday in the face of a barrage of fruit and eggs and a shower of soap suds.

About 200 biracial demonstrators marched on the city hall where they held a brief prayer service. Onlookers yelled and blew horns and pelted them with ripe tomatoes and eggs. William H. Park, a white civil rights worker from Bogalusa, was arrested on charges of disturbing the peace by using obscene language, and interfering with and failing to identify himself to a police officer. A young Negro girl also was arrested. Her name was withheld.

Grayson, Deputy County Auditor, Renigs When Officer and Family Appear

A damage suit for $10,000 was filed in Polk County District Court last week by Sergeant Wallace and his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Jean Mims, against Larry F. Grayson and Marie Grayson, his wife, owners of the Army Post Trailer Park.

Sergeant Mims is attached to the Air Force Command in Des Moines, Iowa. He alleges in the petition that on or about May 15, 1965, entered into an oral negotiation for the renting by defendants to plaintiff and his wife of a space in their accommodation for the parking and location of the house trailer owned and occupied by plaintiffs and their minor children. That pursuant to such negotiations the parties entered into an oral agreement by telephone for the renting of space twenty-five (25) or twenty-six (26) of said Army Post Trailer Park at the choice of plaintiffs.

Forwards Check

That on or about May 17, 1965, pursuant to said agreement plaintiffs forwarded to defendants a United States Postal Money Order which was to reserve the space and to be applied toward the first month's rent.

That soon thereafter defendants acknowledged receipt of the deposit, confirmed the rental contract and furnished plaintiffs with information as to the facilities available and other details relative to the location of their house trailer.

Moved From Texas

Mims further stated that in reliance upon defendants representations and in conformance with their agreement plaintiffs did on or about June 4, 1965, move their family and house trailer from Denison, Texas to Des Moines, Iowa, and prepared to install, situate and locate their house trailer in Grayson Army Post Trailer Park as agreed, but that defendants in person or by and through their agents, representatives or servants refused to honor their contract for rental of trailer space to plaintiff and did default therein.

Plaintiff attempted to rent space in several trailer courts following the failure of Graysons to honor their commitment but were refused. Subsequently the wife, Mrs. Mims and children were taken to Mississippi and remained until a lot was leased on Fremont Street.

Grayson is chief deputy in the Polk County auditor's office.

The action was brought by Morris & Morris and Robert A. Wright, president of the Des Moines Branch NAACP.

Mary Parker Sues for $42,000 For Injuries in Auto Crash

Mrs. Mary Parker, 1326 DeWolf St., has filed a $42,000 damage suit against Atty. Robert A. Wright in Polk County District Court.

The action grows out of an automobile accident near Princeton, Mo., when she was a passenger in the Wright car enroute to an NAACP convention in St. Louis last year.

Mrs. Parker states in here petition that the driver was negligent in the operation of his car, losing control because of excessive speed. She states that severe back injuries resulted causing great pain and expense. She asks for a jury trial.

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Arrangements have been made with the Des Moines office of the Social Security Administration to answer questions of the IOWA BYSTANDER readers about their Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance. Answers of general interest will be published in this column. Send your questions to Mr. W. C. Barclay, Field Representative, Social Security Administration, 205-12th Street, Des Moines, Iowa 50309.

QUESTION: I receive social security. I was born in April 1892 so was 72 last year. Can I earn over $1200 this year without losing my social security.

ANSWER: Yes. As of April 1964 (the month you were 72) you were no longer required to limit your earnings in order to receive your social security.

QUESTION: I became 65 in April of this year and ever since my wife has been after me to sign up for social security even though I do not intend to retire yet. Shouldn't I wait until I retire?

ANSWER: We feel it is good business to make your application at age 65 or soon after that. The advantages are all in your favor: The exact amount due is established, benefits could start immediately when you retire and you cannot possibly lose any benefits that may be payable under little known parts of the law. You should at least come in and discuss it with a representative.

QUESTION: I know you won't print this, but I just want to ask how you think a person can live on $40 a month from social security?

ANSWER: I would be the first to agree that you cannot live on $40 a month. The point is that social security is not based on how much money you need but rather how much money you or your husband have earned on which social security tax has been paid.

Picnic Time Again!

ANYONE can have a picnic right in the back yard, providing there's a picnic table and benches. Now available is a free plan that makes this furniture for outdoor dining a simple acquisition.

With materials obtained from the lumber yard, the home craftsman will find this project a pleasure to build. Unlike the old style benches, the ones described in the free plan are separate, so one needn't climb over them to sit down. When the picnic's over, they fit neatly under the table!

The table is rugged and sturdy. Its smooth, splinter-free top is made of Masquite Tempered Presdwood, which will never split, splinter or crack. Rain, wind and snow won't affect it.

Another advantage of the design shown is that winter storage is made simple because one merely unbolts the "X" frame legs, folds them together and stores them. The table top can be hung on a wall in the garage or storeroom. Benches can be carried inside and used for wintertime or bad weather gatherings in the recreation room.

For a copy of the free plan, write Home Service Bureau, Suite 2039, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting Plan No. AE-279. With it comes information for making comfortable lawn chairs.

Five white men wearing red and white regalia of the Ku Klux Klan walked through the city inviting people to attend a Klan rally Saturday near Crossroads, Miss., a community about 10 miles from here. The five, all from Natchez, Miss., handed out cards which read: "The only reason you are white today is because your ancestors believed and practiced segregation."

Round of Talks

John Doar, on a peacemaking mission in this mill town of 23,000 population, staged another round of talks with Negro and white leaders. Doar, who heads the civil rights division of the Justice Department, came to Bogalusa two days ago after Mayor Jesse Cutrer wired the White House for help in melting down the racial tension of this southeast Louisiana community, 60 miles north of New Orleans.

Vows Stepup

A. Z. Young, the president of the Bogalusa Voters League, told a Negro rally that picketing would be stepped up. He said he didn't want another march turned around.

"If blood is going to be shed, we are going to let it rain down Columbia road (Bogalusa's main street)—all kinds, both black and white."

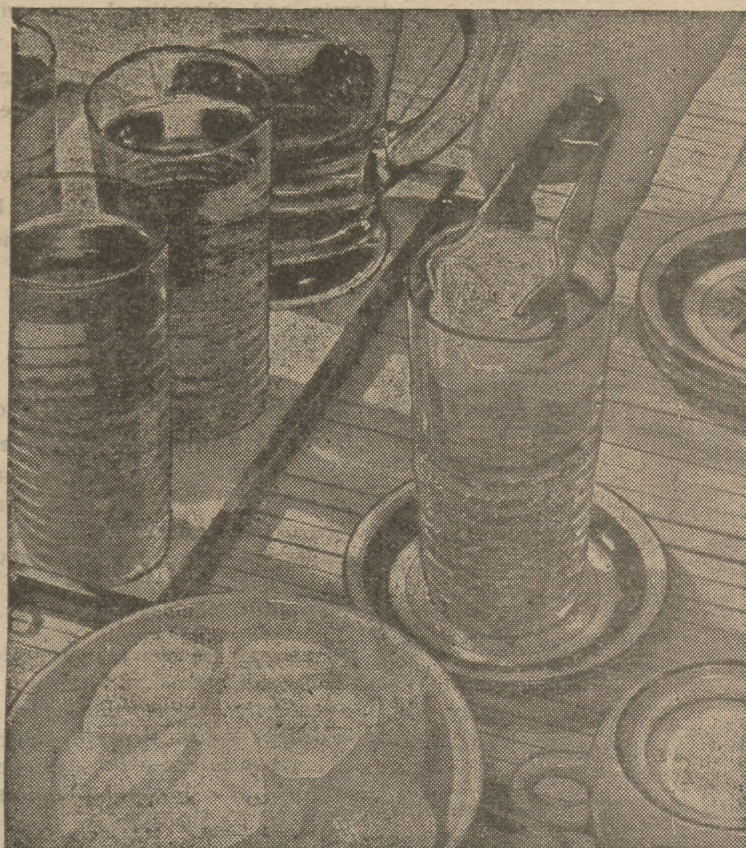

He told a newsman his group would do everything possible to prevent what he termed "a civil war." He added he wasn't pushing violence, "but I am saying, stand up and don't let these people run over you."

LEMON ICED TEA BRACER—A REAL THIRST QUENCHER

WHO hasn't wished, at one time or another, for a drink that would really quench a thirst? Try this recipe for a Lemon Iced Tea Bracer and you'll never have to worry about a drink that really relieves that parched, seemingly insatiable thirst. Make a lemonade mix, according to your favorite lemonade recipe, or dilute a 6-ounce can of frozen lemonade concentrate according to can directions. Pour into ice cube trays and freeze. If you use fresh lemons, put a thin slice of lemon rind in each ice cube before freezing. Prepare iced tea according to the new open saucepan method by bringing 1 quart of water to a full, rolling boil. Remove from heat. Immediately add 6 tablespoons of tea (8 teabags equal 1 tablespoon of tea). Brew 3-5 minutes, depending on how strong you like lead tea. Stir and strain into a pitcher or container of cold water. These measurements make about 2 quarts of iced tea. To serve, add 1-2 lemon ice cubes in tall glasses and fill with tea. A sprig of mint on top will add eye-appeal—and note, too, how the frosty glasses make the iced tea look and taste better—to help quench that thirst!

Lemon Ice Cubes
Thin strips of lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3 cups water
Cut thin strips of lemon rind into 1-inch lengths. Prepare 1 for each ice cube.
Mix lemon juice and water. (Some ice cube trays may hold more liquid. If so, increase the amount of lemon juice and water.)
Pour liquid into ice cube trays. Place a piece of lemon peel in each cube section. Freeze solid. Serve 1-2 lemon and 1-2 regular ice cubes with each glass of iced tea.
Note: Lemon and water may be sweetened to taste before freezing if desired.

nectar completed the welcome scene. The nectar was served to the guests. The first two glasses were served to Mrs. Fowler who was offered a welcome toast by Mrs. Gladys White.

Roses adorned the table compliments of Mrs. J. E. Johnson, widow of the late Dr. J. E. Johnson, 714 Spruce Street.

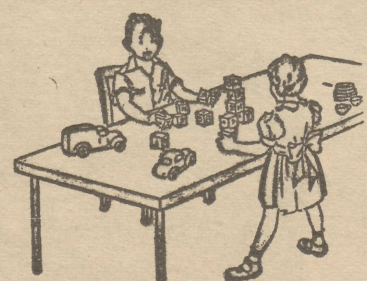

Some of the guests toured the shop and expressed thankfulness for having such a lovely, business personality serving our community. This we feel is the image Burlington has wanted and needed for years. We are proud of Mrs. Fowler. Her charm and businesslike manner has already made an impression in our community. We thank God she chose Burlington for the establishment of her profession. May her business continue to thrive, and may we all give her the support she so richly deserves.

Old Door Becomes Table

AN OLD door may be converted into a sturdy play table for youngsters.

First select some old water or gas pipes that will serve as legs of the right height for the youngsters who will use the table. Fittings that screw on the door, at the corners, and into which the threaded end of the pipes will fit can be obtained at a hardware store. Similar fittings will protect the floor.

All hardware on the door should be removed.

Provide a smooth, splinter-free surface by attaching a panel of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood with 1" brads. Protect the children's fingers further by applying strips of this material to all edges. By putting on the strips first, the top panel will cover the edges and make a neat job.

The legs may be painted, and the new table top likewise primed and painted or given three coats of waterproof varnish. With a table like this, children can have fun, indoors or out, for years, as the sturdy construction and durable surface will allow all sorts of rough treatment. As the children grow, the table can grow with them—simply by increasing the length of the pipe legs.

Mrs. Fowler is in close contact with all the beauticians of the City and takes part in all phases of her profession. She is sought after by the white proprietors to teach but is sacrificing to serve the community. Her shop is open to all clientele who wish to come.

Since her arrival in Burlington the white shops have opened their doors wider and are accepting our people in most of them. Mrs. Fowler feels as we do that this is a wholesome atmosphere and encourages anyone who desires to patronize the beauty school to feel free to do so but they are also welcome any time to partake of her services.

Handy Incinerator

FOR burning household rubbish, an incinerator built of concrete blocks on a concrete foundation is excellent. The base is 4 by 5 feet, and the concrete should be reinforced with chicken wire, according to Family Handyman.

Use standard size building blocks, setting the first course on a thin layer of mortar and leaving two 8"x8" spaces at the front to provide ample draft for complete incineration.

The cover is turkey wire, 1"x2" mesh, with welded joints so the wires won't separate due to the heat. Eye-bolts may be inserted in the joints between two of the top building blocks, if you want to hinge the mesh cover by looping down two pieces of the wire into the metal eyes.

Select Cook Out King at State Fair

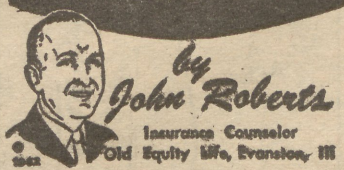

Iowa has it all the way here—an Iowa man or boy grilling Iowa meat or fowl on an outdoor barbecue can become Iowa Cookout King at the Iowa State Fair.

A dash of Iowa imagination in the way he tilts his chef's cap, sprinkles herbs, pours wine or condiments over the meat, arranges vegetables (Iowa's, naturally) flips the steak or chicken on the grill will help.

Last year Harley Peters, Charles City, won a special showmanship award for originality. He set up tents, awning, barbecue and accessories, then baked bread, roasted corn, barbecued a whole pig.

The Iowa Cookout King Contest will be on Wednesday, Aug. 25, which also is Iowa Food Day.

Family Finances

If you're planning to borrow money or buy on time, be sure you're familiar with the following points:

- No matter what interest rate is quoted, find out the actual cost in money.
- Before signing any papers, check the figures as to their accuracy and don't leave spaces to be filled in later.
- Question extra charges that would increase the total cost of the loan.
- If you're to own a firm other than the dealer you're buying from, find out if they are reputable.
- Find out what the penalties are for late payments.
- Don't skip the fine print. Read and be sure you understand.
- What does the contract say about repossession?
- Understand what security you are giving.
- Do not sign away legal rights or guarantees such as the right to refuse merchandise which is not as promised.
- Is there a provision for refund of interest on payments ahead of schedule?

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes sorting table on top. To do the best job from the standpoint of cost, appearance and long life, he should build a framework of 2 by 2-inch lumber and cover it with smooth Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick.

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of Tempered Presdwood unframed, may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.

Shades Of Summer Lamb

There's many a year-round food that spells cool eating for summer if you know just one little trick to make it different. Take lamb for instance.

Lamb's at its best when it's hot. So by all means serve it hot. And of course, always season it before cooking with a liberal shake of Accent for natural flavor. Then—special dress for summer—cook shoulder lamb chops with this tangy sauce, brushed on during cooking with a mint switch. Chops come off the grill piping hot, yet minty cool in taste and oh so appetizing.

Serve them inside—or grill and serve on your porch or terrace. Whatever the setting, these lamb chops will fill the family's fondest desires for a satisfying hot-weather meal.

Grilled Shoulder Lamb Chops

1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 teaspoon rosemary
1/2 teaspoon Accent*
1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains nutmeg
Bouquet of fresh mint
4 double shoulder lamb chops, boned and rolled

Combine all ingredients except mint and chops. Let stand 1 hour. Tie mint bouquet in cheesecloth. Dip chops in sauce; place on grill. Turn frequently, brushing each time with sauce, using mint "switch" as a brush. Broil 15 to 25 minutes, depending on degree of "doneness" desired. Makes 4 servings.

Hanging Shelf

SINCE students usually are interested in novelties, a hanging bookshelf over the desk will strike their fancy and be functional, too. Simple to make, the bookshelf consists of a framework of 1 by 2-inch lumber, of the desired length and about one foot wide, covered with Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood that is glued to the top and bottom.

As shown in the illustration, the shelf is suspended over the desk by means of heavy cord looped through screw-eyes. The shelf's front edge should tilt slightly. Edges of the hardboard should be rounded slightly with sandpaper.

The surfaces of Tempered Presdwood may be left in the natural dark brown color, with the exposed framework stained or painted, or they may be waxed, stained, varnished, painted or enameled.

By using Masonite Presdply, three-fourths of an inch thick, the same type of shelf may be produced with even less effort. Wood moulding glued to the edges is suggested when using Presdply, which has a core of plywood and surfaces of Tempered Presdwood.

TAXING BODIES

DRUNK WITH POWER

Taxpayers in Des Moines have complained of high taxes on real estate for many years. And in spite of the large building programs which have been carried on annually, nothing seems to prevent the taxing bodies from moving up taxes each year.

For years, officials have charged that property valuations were not equalized and thus many holders of real estate did not pay their fair share of the cost of government. They contended that a re-valuation of property would add to the value of the whole country and with the new building each year the general level of taxes would be no higher.

So far, none of these predictions has come true and taxing bodies are throwing up trial balloons announcing that possibly taxes would be higher in Polk county in 1966.

This is certainly a blow to the taxpayers and a deterrent to prospective taxpayers. Each of these bodies has yielded to the interests for more and better service to the point where they can't be had without raising taxes.

It is no wonder that the voters of Des Moines constantly reject bond issues exhibiting a lack of confidence in the spending of their money.

Many protests have been made of new valuations made by the assessors. Some made no protests feeling that their valuations were not too far off and with the wind-fall expected from balanced valuations and new construction they would at least hold the line. This the taxing bodies don't seem able to do.

Some members of the board of review suggested to prospective tax payers that their relief was at the taxing bodies and not before the board.

Now that the taxpayers see what the trend of the taxing bodies is, their remedy lies in protests such as have been made by civil-rights advocates — sit-downs and sit-ins.

The taxing bodies should be ashamed for their actions hurt rather than help the state. We want better schools and better service. The times demand them. But we do want the expenditures for them kept in the bounds of income so as to continue on an even keel, rather than additions to the budget each year.

MOVE TO ENFORCE
FEPC MEASURE

The NAACP has commenced legal action under the new federal employment section of the 1964 civil rights law charging several large corporations and labor unions with failing to comply with its provisions.

The corporations include nationally known companies and labor unions.

Undoubtedly these charges are true. The respondents know it to be true. They, like the governor and other officials think they are above the law in administering to the needs of Negroes.

Fortunately, the law is on the side of those who are bringing the actions, the courts are seeing that the constitution means to protect rather than hinder citizens in their quest to redress their grievances. In the final analysis, the law will prevail and we hope, in this instance, will move faster than school integration.

Suits attacking the unemployment of Negroes must be brought in the north also for many companies and unions are just as bad here as they are in Alabama. True, much progress has been made in recent years in behalf of white collar workers and even higher professional and scientific fields. But the basic employment of mechanics and skilled workers is almost untouched.

Of course, these jobs won't come overnight. They will come in time with apprenticeship opportunities and a definite commitment that there will be a change. The enforcement of the 1964 civil rights law is a big undertaking covering much territory. It is thus important that local commissions do a good job, make a real effort which, by the way, must be shown before the federal government moves in.

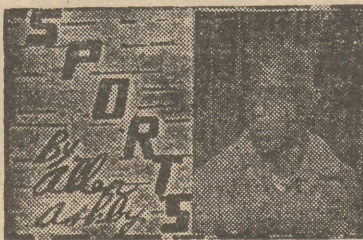

So far, the local fair employment commissions have been ineffectual partly because of lack of power to clean up the situation, partly because of timidity of those in charge of them.

To accord the Negro a fair break in the labor market helps him to be a better citizen and reduces his all too large proportion of recipients on the relief rolls.

Wonder if the golfers have as much trouble as do the tennis followers finding young players who really want to play. We used to see a few names of Negroes we know in some of the golf meets around the city. There may be some in the meets, yes, but they are fellows we don't know or don't recognize by name. Cleo Johnson shots golf well enough to play in some of the meets, but Cleo says he can't work all night and then go out and play tournament golf. We would have to say he is right.

There seem to be a lot of Negro kids playing tennis, but they just do it as a passing fancy. Just one of a number of things a boy or girl happens to like. But they don't like it well enough to really try to be good. Wonder if golfers find a similar experience.

Perfect Authority

A fine example of what we were arguing about in little league baseball came to light in our Davis cup team last week. The father of one of the finest prospects happens to be a tennis pro or teacher. So he wants to tell the coach and captain of the team how to run the Davis Cup squad. We should have to argue that no matter what we thought of the Davis cup captain, we would respect his position as a team leader and act accordingly. We might try to get in a position to make a suggestion if we could see it was in order, but that would be it.

Parents a Problem

It always amuses us when as tournament manager we have parents come to us and tell us when their daughter or son has played enough or when they will be allowed to play again. Most of the kids in these tennis meets come to play and they know they may have to play all day, but don't care. But the parents can really become a problem, which we have been lucky enough to keep ahead of.

We sort of thought the state open meet in Cedar Rapids might have troubles. There was a terrific interest among the small fry—but not too many adults in any division last year. So if the thing doesn't come up this year we would not be confused. Where there are so many junior meets around the state that it would keep a fellow jumping to be at all of them.

Boxing

We ran an article in a daily paper stating that only three ex-champions and none of the present champions came forth for the hearing on boxing that was held in Washington a while back. That was true, but we also noticed that the trio Jack Dempsey, Gene Turner, and Rocky Marciano all agreed that boxing needed a federal commissioner. They also agreed that he would accept the post if it were offered to him. What do you think?

HEALTH FOR ALL

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Health experts have been complaining lately about measles. Not their own—other people's. And no wonder. Here is an old-time contagious disease that could easily be scratched from the list. But it's still permitted to hang around.

But if the outlook for abolishing measles seems spotty right now, don't blame medical science. The doctors and researchers have done their part of the job by developing a safe and efficient vaccine. Trouble is that parents haven't been bothering to get Junior vaccinated. Result: half a million cases are still reported every year, and the U. S. Public Health Service estimates that ten times as many go unreported.

Ninety per cent of American kids have measles by the time they are 15, according to Dr. Luther L. Terry, U. S. Surgeon General. He also points out that the disease isn't as harmless as many parents think. Complications often result, and these include serious diseases such as encephalitis and pneumonia. About 10 per cent of the encephalitis patients die, according to Government health statistics. Of those that recover, 15 to 20 per cent are left with such unpleasant relics as mental retardation, sight or hearing defects, or behavior disorders.

Measles, in short, is nothing trivial despite a general feeling of complacency about it. And the irony of it all is that there is no real excuse for its remaining a guest in your house. It could be substantially wiped out in this country in a short time if the vaccine were widely used.

The Public Health Service has appealed to all parents to have their children immunized against measles during 1965. With only 7 million vaccinated so far, there are still 20 million to go. If you have children who lack measles immunity, your Christmas Seal association suggests that right now is the time to send them to the doctor for the protection they need.

Hot Weather Treat

Spiced pecan squares are good to serve with refreshing soft drinks when temperatures are high.

Summer days are often long and lazy, with chummy gatherings of friends on that cool porch or patio. Good conversation flows more freely when there are refreshments—preferably amber iced tea and a platter of compliment-provoking cookies. The hostess can turn out a batch of keep-well spiced pecan squares in the cool of the morning to have this chewy cookie ready for an appearance at the afternoon refreshment session.

No fuss or frills are necessary, since the cookies are cut in self-decorating shape. To make these tempting diamonds, bake the cookies in an eight-inch square cake pan. When baked, cool before cutting. Then make diagonal instead of straight cuts to form diamonds. The corners will be triangles for the cook to sample, or to give little Johnny a promise of good things to come.

SPICED PECAN BARS

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons molasses
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk

1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Add nuts. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add molasses and eggs, mixing thoroughly. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk and flavoring. Mix to a smooth batter. Bake in greased eight-inch square cake pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. When cool, cut in two-inch squares.

First there came that "Little Rock." Now it's Selma, what a shock. Can there ever really be, The day when we're actually free? How can you take a man, The kind that can't understand? Tell him what he can't see, One man's need to be free.

Freedom is the cry today. So why throw hard earned billions away. Fight this battle and maybe then, Freedom for all, freedom A-Men. Somehow you just can't hate, Those who would plan your fate. You pity them, for they are sad Even when you know what they do
