Gary Gray, SUI Student, Injured in Cycle Crash

Hits Car as Driver, 82, Runs Traffic Stop Sign

Gary Gray, State University of Iowa student, is in Mercy hospital where he is recovering from serious injuries sustained in a motorcycle-car crash accident on Wednesday, July 14.

Young Gray had bought the motorcycle from another SUI student at the close of the college term. He planned to use the motorcycle for transportation to and from his job in Ames this summer. The accident occurred when the motorcycle hit a car driven by an 82-year-old man, who ran a stop sign at a highway intersection. A Des Moines policeman was injured also enroute to the scene of the accident.

Immediately after the accident young Gray was taken to Broadlawn Polk County hospital with a broken left arm, internal injuries and extensive facial and head cuts and bruises. Later one of his lungs collapsed and he was on the critical list. Five days later he was transferred to Mercy hospital.

A junior at SUI, young Gray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Gray, of 3635 Cornell street. Another son, Seymour, Jr., who received his degree from SUI last June, also was injured in an accident a little over a year ago when he fell 40 feet along a river cliff in Iowa City, miraculously escaping death.

Bystander Plans Special "Back to School" Page August 19; Sponsors Sought

Schools will be opening in August and September. Many a youth is bewildered, misguided and unable to find a niche for himself. Many have dropped out fearing the effort is hopeless. And this in spite of the many programs which have been set up to alleviate the situation.

On the other hand, many youngsters are doing well. Others need encouragement, guidance and emphasis on the value of continuing their studies. This the Bystander has tried to do at every opportunity.

At the suggestion of its national advertising agency and in keeping with the policy in past years, the Bystander is publishing a "Back to School" page August 19. In it will appear cuts of some graduates who have won honors and scholarships and plan to move on with their studies; also the names of some successful men and women in Iowa who have succeeded, attributable to having stayed in school and finished

Rev. Horace Lewis Named Hospital 'Chaplain' in Perry

Perry, Ia.—A new city playground in the northeast section of Perry soon will be opened, thanks to the Rev. Horace Lewis, who saw the need for it and leased two lots to the city for $1 a year.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis said the lots, measuring about 100 by 150 feet, have been cleared of underbrush and a baseball diamond is being laid out. The city has installed lights, he said, and will provide swings and slides for younger children.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis, 60, has lived in Perry since 1914 and for the past 18 years has been pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, a congregation of 32 members.

He also works full time as custodian at Dallas County Hospital. The Perry Ministerial Association recently appointed him unofficial "chaplain" of the hospital. The budget allows no funds for official chaplain.

Duties

"I perform the duties of chaplain for patients when their own ministers can not be at the hospital," the Rev. Mr. Lewis said. "Sometimes I'm called on before a patient has surgery, or at the time of death."

Former Iowan Named NAACP Youth Director

New York—The appointment of Eugene Hampton, Jr., formerly of Davenport, Iowa, as director of youth programs for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was announced this week by Roy Wilkins, executive director.

While a student at Tennessee State University, where he received his engineering degree in 1961, Mr. Hampton, 26, was active in the 1960 sit-in movement in Nashville as a student co-ordinator which led to his being arrested and threatened by the National Association for the Advancement of White People (NAACP).

Prior to joining the NAACP staff, Mr. Hampton was employed as a facilities engineer at the Rock Island Arsenal. Before that he worked for Boeing Aircraft Company in Seattle, Wash., and the U.S. Housing and Home Finance Agency office in Philadelphia, Pa.

Family

Married and the father of two young daughters, he has done work towards his masters degree at the universities of Iowa and Washington. Mr. Hampton was born in Chicago, but attended high school in Pike County, Miss.

In naming Mr. Hampton to direct the activities of the Association's 65,000-member Youth and College Division, Mr. Wilkins said: "With Mr. Hampton's youth and experience we expect the youth program of the NAACP to move forward at an accelerated pace, especially since we will be adding young people to his staff as workers in the North and South."

Mr. Hampton, who fills the post left vacant last spring when Laplois Ashford resigned to become Deputy Commissioner of Public Safety for the City of Rochester, N. Y., will be working under the supervision of Gloster B. Current, director of branches and field administration.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Minneapolis, Minn. — The brutal slaying in an apparent robbery last week of a prominent St. Paul business man, credit union official and NAACP officer shocked the Twin City area. Slain was Royal H. Pastor T. Spencer Patton Claims 'Lifetime' Tenure Despite Restraining Order

Davenport, Ia.—Despite a temporary restraining injunction issued against him on Friday, July 23, the Rev. T. Spencer Patton, Jr., of Third Missionary Baptist church, said that he planned to attend services Sunday at the church. It was not learned by the Bystander if he actually attended the services.

The Rev. Mr. Patton said he planned to participate in the services because "The injunction does not have anything to do with religious services of the church. The court has no jurisdiction over the religious activities of a corporation," he said.

A guest minister from Memphis, Tenn., was scheduled to speak at the services Sunday.

The injunction, issued by Scott County District Court Judge Clay LeGrand, enjoins the minister, the Rev. T. Spencer Patton Jr., and board of trustees of the church from "dealing in any manner with the church on its property."

Tells Plan

Mr. Patton said he planned to remain as minister of the church because 149 members of the congregation in a special meeting June 26 voted to retain him for the rest of his "natural life".

The special meeting is one of the points of contention covered in the injunction order requested by six "duly elected members of the church's board of trustees" against Mr. Patton and eight persons identified as "newly-elected members of the church board."

The eight are Flynn Griffin, Herman Smith, Alex Flenol, Bobby Ray, Walter Harrington, Sylvester Mitchell, Erma L. Bowman and Martha Polite.

The injunction suit was filed by the Third Missionary Baptist Church, as a corporation, and Alfred Garrett, Benjamin Cater, Frank Camp, Alfred Newman, Rosebelle Sample and Elsworth Randall.

Minister Not Retained

According to the petitioners, the church congregation at a quarterly meeting June 4 voted to terminate Mr. Patton's services and the minister was instructed to vacate the pulpit effective June 13.

The petitioners claim that the minister called a meeting of the congregation for June 26 without proper notice to the board of trustees.

Plaintiffs in the action contend that the minister refused to agree to a mutually acceptable moderator to preside at this meeting, and appointed a Burlington resident as moderator.

Confusion At Meeting

The petitioners allege that the moderator refused to acknowledge members of the congregation who were opposed to retaining Mr. Patton as the minister, and the meeting was held in "great confusion and disorder."

They further claim that because of the "disorder" the majority of congregation members left the meeting, and that the persons remaining voted to retain Mr. Patton and to elect the new board of trustees who are defendants in the action.

Claims

Members of the "duly elected board" claim the defendants have made attempts to take control of the church and its properties, and as a result the amount of contributions to the church has "seriously diminished."

Defendants in the action through a Des Moines attorney, Henry T. McKnight, have petitioned for court action to dissolve the temporary injunction. A hearing on the motion has been set for Aug. 2 at 9 a.m. in district court.

Building Program

Mr. Patton who has been minister of the church since 1951, couples the congregation's current difficulties with a planned building program.

"When you start dealing with money, you have problems," he said, adding, "this situation is one of the reasons we have been delayed in our building program."

The congregation has been working more than a year on plans to put up a $135,000 building on a two-acre site on Eastern Avenue, the minister said. The Pattons have already moved into a newly purchased parsonage at 3509 Eastern Ave.

A meeting with the church architect is set for Aug. 8. Plans call for building to start in the spring of next year.

NAACP Transfers Leonard Carter to West Coast

San Francisco, Calif.—Leonard H. Carter has taken over his duties as West Coast Regional Director for the NAACP, following his appointment by Executive Director Roy Wilkins of New York City.

Mrs. Tarea Hall Pittman, a native of California and a long-time NAACP staff worker, is now the West Coast fund raiser for the NAACP Special Contribution Fund. Since contributions to this fund are deductible for income tax purposes, Mrs. Pittman's wide knowledge of prominent West Coast persons and institutions is expected to be productive of new monies for the NAACP program.

From Midwest

Mr. Carter was transferred to the San Francisco office from Kansas City, Mo., where he held a similar position supervising NAACP activities in the Mid-West states of Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Wyoming and North and South Dakota.

On the Coast, Mr. Carter will oversee units of the NAACP in the states of Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

Before joining the Association's full-time staff in January, 1960, Mr. Carter was an active NAACP worker for many years, having held numerous offices in the St. Paul, Minn., Branch including president. A native of Minneapolis, he is also an NAACP Life Member.

Appointment

Mrs. Pittman's appointment to the NAACP staff in April, 1962, culminated more than ten years as an officer of the Alameda County Branch. She resigned her volunteer post as first president of the NAACP's Northern California Area Conference of Branches to accept her first staff position as a field secretary.

The regional office here is at 948 Market Street in the heart of downtown San Francisco.

Files 12 Complaints Charging Discriminations in Hospitals; Bring Total to 110 to Date

Washington, D. C.—The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund and the NAACP today filed complaints charging 12 federally assisted hospitals in six southern states with discriminatory practices.

The complaints, filed against hospitals in Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, North Carolina, Georgia and Florida, make a total of 110 such complaints filed with Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, by the two organizations since February.

Letter

In a letter to Mr. Celebrezze, Jack Greenberg, Legal Defense Fund director-counsel, and J. Francis Pohlhaus, NAACP Washington Bureau counsel, asked "that appropriate action be taken to insure immediate compliance with the nondiscrimination provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964."

Under the law, federal funds could be withheld from facilities that practice discrimination.

No Negroes

One facility, St. David's Hospital, Austin, Texas, is charged with excluding Negro professional workers from its staff, and with refusing to treat Negro patients.

Dauterive Hospital, New Iberia,

La., allegedly will give emergency treatment to Negroes, but thereafter transfers them to another hospital.

The NAACP and the Legal Defense Fund, an independent organization, represent individuals who have encountered discrimination in the hospitals.

No Negro has ever been knowingly admitted to the facility, the complaint states.

Other hospitals are charged with maintaining segregated wards, wings and floors, segregated lounges, dining facilities, rest rooms and admitting offices and refusal to hire Negro professional employees and trainees.

Hospitals

The 12 hospitals named in the complaints are: Union County and Warner Brown Hospitals, Eldorado, Ark.; St. David's Hospital, Austin, Tex.; Dauterive and Iberia Parish Hospitals, New Iberia, La.; and Lasalette Hospital, Loreau, La.

Also, Northern Surrey Hospital, Mount Airy, N. C.; Baldwin County Hospital, Milledgeville, Ga.; Hutchinson Memorial Tri-County Hospital, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.; Calcasieu-Cameron Hospital, Sulphur, La.; Bay Memorial Hospital, Panama City, Fla.; and Henderson County Hospital, Trinidad, Tex.

SAMMY DAVIS BIOGRAPHY TELLS LOVE, COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE IN August LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

Intimate details on the courtship and inter-racial marriage of Sammy Davis, Jr., and May Britt are disclosed for the first time by the famed entertainer in the August issue of Ladies' Home Journal.

The story of the romance is an excerpt from the Davis biography, "Yes I Can," which will be published later this year.

From the day he saw her at a studio commissary ("her hair was very straight, framing a face that was unbelievably beautiful") through the period of strategy of asking for a date ("with this girl if I call her cold, it's a definite turnaround . . . you have to call her for me") to their meeting ("I was desperate to make real conversation, but I'd never really talked to a girl before"), Davis was haunted with the idea of defying common sense.

It was on a long-distance telephone call that he finally proposed marriage, and Miss Britt accepted immediately. Her parents received the news with affection. "Your skin is not important to us," Mr. Wilkens, May's father, said. "We care what is in here." He touched his heart and smiled warmly. "You make us all very happy."

Details on how the famous star and his bride-to-be faced prejudice are highlighted in the Journal article, along with a first-hand account of how the Davis-Britt wedding was voluntarily postponed because the politically-active best-man, Frank Sinatra, was a target of adverse public opinion.

When their daughter, Tracey, was born, Davis said he only prayed that by the time the baby was grown she would live in a world of people who would not notice or care about a layer of skin.

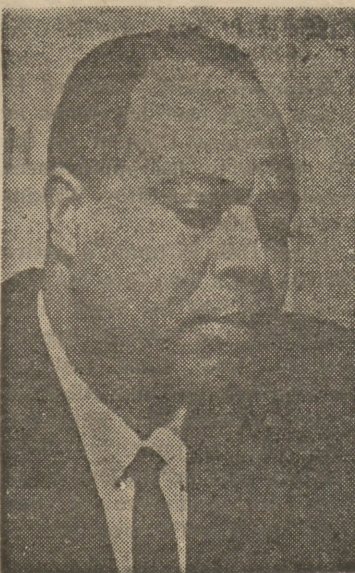

President Names Marjorie Lawson to D.C. Crime Group

President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed Mrs. Marjorie Lawson vice chairman of the new District of Columbia Crime Commission after she submitted her resignation Saturday as Judge of the District of Columbia Juvenile Court.

The President named Aubrey E. Robinson, Jr., 43, a well known Negro Washington lawyer, to the Juvenile Court vacancy for a ten year term. Robinson is a graduate of Cornell and was strongly recommended for the position by the District bar. He is married and the father of two children.

Mrs. Lawson's resignation as Juvenile Court Judge becomes effective Aug. 20.

WHAT'S A TELEPHONE AREA CODE?

IT'S A QUICK "ADDRESS" FOR A LONG DISTANCE CALL!

Area Codes are part of the "telephone address" for Long Distance calls. They route your calls to the part of the country you are dialing. For example, to call Denver: Dial 1, which connects you to the Direct Distance Dialing network; dial the Colorado Area Code (303); then dial the telephone number you want to reach. Area Codes for many communities are listed in the front pages of your telephone book.

You use an Area Code on all DDD calls except when the Area Code listed is the same as your own. (Your home region's Area Code is shown on the front cover of your directory.)

Rights Activities

Moore was scheduled to begin field work with an integrated team on July 1. On that day his car was struck in the rear by another on the highway between here and Asheville, N.C. He never regained consciousness.

Moore had been active in civil rights work for many years but he became prominent in 1962 after he and his wife enrolled their 7-year-old daughter in a previously all-Negro school in Sevier County. This broke segregated school patterns in that county, which is 15 miles east of here.

FREEDOM SCHOOL IS BIG SUCCESS

Albany, Ga.—More than 100 Negro students ranging from pre-school to teenagers, are now attending the new Freedom School here.

Miss Betty Daugherty, Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee volunteer from Georgetown, University, is coordinator of the school.

HEALTH FOR ALL

TWO LITTLE LETTERS

It isn't Rural Delivery, Radio Diffusion, Relatives Departing, or Raspberry Delight. All of those things can be very nice, and the initials RD can be used to denote any of them. But more and more those two innocent-looking letters are coming to be known as the symbol of something that shouldn't happen: Respiratory Disease.

Time was, and not so long ago, when a persistent cough was generally thought of as a homey, comfy-like, almost friendly sort of thing. Some people never coughed except when they had a cold, others seemed to cough all the time, and what difference did it make? The difference it made—and still makes—is that a chronic cough is a symptom of disease of the breathing apparatus.

Labored

That's how it is, too, with labored breathing. You start getting older, and you develop shortness of breath, and it all seems so natural. That was the theory. The fact is—and people have only recently been catching on—that shortness of breath isn't natural. Not even in elderly folks. Shortness of breath is another symptom of breathing sickness: Respiratory Disease.

Major Problems

Within the last few years this common type of ailment has been recognized as a major health problem. Short-term respiratory diseases alone, including influenza and the common cold, cost the nation more in lost time than any other group of acute illnesses. Chronic RD includes such serious difficulties as asthma, chronic

PAULINE B. HUMPHREY, Manager

Here we are again, back much refreshed and rested after a much needed week of vacation. The only thing is we have been meeting various comments to the effect that they thought we were going to be gone two weeks. Too bad we didn't know of these expectations prior to our vacation, or else we might have been tempted. We took our three oldest youngsters to Eolia, Mo., where they are vacationing two weeks with their grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Watson, and various young aunts and uncles. Letters from all three last week informed us they are having a good time and one went as far to say, "Don't come and get us too soon."

Our vacation week almost got off to a bad start, what with almost a dozen phone calls wanting to give us news. Our husband stepped into the breach and thus insured us a quiet week of relaxing vacation at home. We were at a loss to understand how two notices, one on the front page and another in this column, to the effect that we were going to be on vacation, could have been overlooked. But we put it down to human nature.

Another incident threatened to dampen our quiet vacation plans. When we returned we discovered that some youngsters, evidence pointed to young children, had broken into the house and carried off almost three dollars in change, two cans of tennis balls, our best ones of course, (they left two cans of unglazed ones we saved for our youngest to bounce around), and some cards. In addition the toy box in our daughters' closet was emptied out on to the floor, and various comic books were strewn about. The typewriter, stored in its case, had been used, and the keys left jammed. Then a filing cabinet was opened.

It was a little startling as nothing like it had happened to us before. The evidence pointed to children, because various small appliances and other family furnishings and accoutrements were left untouched.

While in Missouri, we attended the annual basket dinner at First Baptist church in our hometown, Eolia, and saw many girlhood and school friends. Later that Sunday evening one of our friends, Mrs. Iretha Perry of Los Angeles, Calif., with our brother and family, the John Watsons, Jr., stopped in for a visit. It was only the second time in 19 years we have seen each other since high school.

Earlier this week Mrs. Ethel Jeffers, 1120 17th street, stopped in to show us a sample of the quilting that she and five other women of Corinthian Baptist church do. We recall the craft from our childhood days in the country but thought it had died out.

The group has been meeting about three hours each Tuesday for six years. They piece quilts from the start, or finish tops that have been treasured by various family members in Des Moines.

In fact the fine sewing prowess of these ladies has gotten around town. Other churches, of other races, have tried to press their work on them, but they have not enough time.

Each fall the ladies display their wares, and sell some at a bazaar at the church. They make on the average of a dozen quilts a year. Prices usually range from $10, some higher. Proceeds go to their church building fund.

They have even had request from some bachelors to have quilts made out of pieces from heavy men's trousers. The ladies make their own designs for all quilts.

On winter days they refresh themselves with coffee and a little cake; summer days they partake of something cooler.

Members of the group besides Mrs. Jeffers are Mrs. Adelaide Bowman, Mrs. Janie Morrow, Mrs. Minnie Wilcot, Mrs. McGee and Mrs. Madge Gaiters.

Mrs. Jeffers told us that longtime friends of hers, Rev. and Mrs. George Kendrick, 947 9th street, Des Moines residents for a number of years, will be leaving Des Moines Friday to make their home in Tucson, Ariz. Both are in ill health and will be moving to the warmer climate for health reasons and also at the urging of four of his sisters who reside there.

The lot on which their Des Moines home is has been sold to Corinthian Baptist to be used as a parking lot.

Our boss, received a note from Marie Ross, Kansas City, Kas., in reference to a picture and story published last week and he granted permission for part of its publication. It read:

"... Last week you carried on the front page of the Bystander, pictures of 'Top Farmers on State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committees.'"

"Caldwell McMillan is my sister, Sylvia's husband. She has been asking me for months if I had not heard or read about her husband's appointment. The Bystander is the first paper I have seen the story."

"... You remember Sylvia; she worked for you before I got there. With

Sigma's 30th Boule Involves Hard Work

New York—It will be all work and very little play for the 500 soror delegates expected to check into the Statler Hilton Hotel for the 30th Annual Boule of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc., on Sunday, Aug. 1.

Coming from all sections of the country, the sorors will spend most of their six days in business sessions devoted to the roles they should play in the current social revolution. Grand Basileus Mrs. Annie W. Neville, a Rocky Mount, N. C. school principal, wants her membership to be in the thick of the fight whether it be on the civil rights front or participating in President Johnson's anti-poverty projects.

Aided by the hostess Kappa Sigma chapters 102 members, Mrs. Ruth Whaley, the sorority's legal advisor and Boule Hostess, has worked out an interesting program. Many of the problems that visitors usually experience have all been taken care of by Mrs. Whaley such as housing, sightseeing trips and recreation for the youngsters coming with their parents.

POWELL DODGES FOR PARTY LOYALTY

Recently, when the measure to amend the Taft-Hartley labor bill designed to outlaw the right to work laws in the 19 states was being considered, Representative Clayton Powell, (D) of New York, chairman of the labor committee to which it had been referred, blocked a vote to send it to the house for a while. He insisted that the amendment should include a provision which would have made it illegal for labor unions to practice racial discrimination.

Later, for some reason, Powell relented. The measure was voted out and bids fair to passage. During consideration of the measure this week, Representative Ford (Rep.) of Michigan offered an amendment aimed to accomplish just what Powell was insisting on when the measure was before his committee. In this instance, Powell led the way to defeat the Ford amendment.

Anyone who is realistic knows that one of the greatest roadblocks Negro labor suffers is the practice of many of the powerful labor unions in blocking them from apprenticeship opportunities and jobs where Negro journeymen show up. And this in spite of the fair employment practice measures in many towns, cities, and states.

When congress passed the civil rights bill in 1964, it provided that states and school districts must agree to abolish segregation in order to receive grants from the federal government. It has done much to hasten integration because the law has teeth in it. It has power.

Recently, the national labor relations board has ruled that racial discrimination by labor unions constitutes unfair labor practice. But here again, lawsuits and other programs have not been able to do much.

It is apparent that Rep. Powell grows hot and cold; that his interest in fair play for his race is secondary to party loyalty. Such leadership as he makes the road to equality longer for the Negro—and particularly the one who needs help most.

NEGROES LOSE GROUND
UNDER HUGHES
ADMINISTRATION

Just about all the Iowa state boards and commissions have been filled by Gov. Hughes since the election last fall. Because of his expressed interest in equal opportunity, he should have named some Negroes among these appointments.

Gov. Erbe appointed William Parker, now a municipal judge in Waterloo, a member of the board of parole. It is the highest job ever held by a Negro in any state administration. Negro citizens hailed this a breakthrough and a precedent which succeeding governors should follow.

Thus, it is surprising that the governor, who got most of the Negro votes and who is a product of the middle class category and got a chance to move up, should so far do nothing to show that he practices what he preaches. After all, talk means little without action. The governor should not allow this record to stand.

HELP FOR UNEMPLOYED
YOUTH LAGS

Congress has authorized programs which would provide employment for youngsters available for summer jobs—some to go beyond the summer but for a limited time. It was hoped that such programs would help reduce the crime rate as well as provide employment and, of course, money in the pockets of the youngsters.

A casual look will reveal many youngsters idling away time, gathering in spots and raising a question as to just how well these programs are being communicated to them in order that they may be fully aware of the opportunities open to them. As long as funds are available, they should be used to the fullest extent.

Cookie Gilchrist Adds to His Pro-Football Troubles;
Broncos Sue for $400,000

Denver, Colo.—Denver Bronco officials said Sunday they will sue full-back Cookie Gilchrist for refusing to play for the American Football League club in violation of a two-year contract.

Gilchrist failed to show up for the opening of the Bronco training camp Tuesday, arrived in Denver Sunday, conferred with team officials and left town.

The team issued a statement saying Gilchrist insisted on being traded to Oakland. He was quoted as saying that he would rather retire than play in Denver.

Damages

Club officials said they told Gilchrist they will sue him for $100,000 for breach of contract; $100,000 for money he has already received and supplemental damages; $100,000 for "Fraud and willful deceit" and $100,000 for exemplary damages.

They said they would also seek an injunction to keep him from playing for any other team.

Contract

Gilchrist signed a two-year contract July 2 calling for $35,000, the officials said. They said this was more than the $28,000 he earned at Buffalo last season.

The Broncos gave Buffalo fullback Billy Joe plus an undisclosed amount of cash for Gilchrist in a winter trade.

Coach Mac Speedie said Gilchrist will be fined $100 for each day he is late in reporting to camp plus $100 for each day he remains out of camp—if he ever returns.

Davenport Sports Column Highlights Life of Former Football Star, Phil Ashby, Now of L.A.

The following excerpts were taken from a sports column "Sport Chats" by John O'Donnell in the Davenport Democrat published July 25.

"Remember Phil Ashby?" the man asked. Well that turned back the clock.

Maybe I should have been given a break at the start of the conversation. Phil was a halfback, and a good one with speed to burn, in 1931, 1932, 1933, and that isn't just yesterday. He moved to Los Angeles in 1952 and has been there since.

So it has been a long time between glimpses.

Phil was left half for the Blue Devils under Jesse Day.

He continued his athletic action by playing on the basketball team under Paul Moon.

"Seems to me I got my Gold D in basketball," Phil recalls. "I think I was the first Negro to play basketball at Davenport High."

In the grid sport some of his teammates were Larry Morrissey, Perky Bowers, Les Jurgens, Forrest Burmeister, et cetera.

"My brother, Jim, played at the same time, too," Phil related. "He was a little fellow who just seemed to come out of the ground. I remember in one game he scooted between the legs of Morrissey and into the end zone, but the referee called back the play at a certain spot, claiming that Jim's knee had touched the ground."

"I always wondered how he could tell that. Jim was that short."

Why did Phil Ashby move to California?

"Well, it happened this way," he stated. "In 1951 I visited in Los Angeles. I thought then that the Negro would have a better chance for employment there than in Davenport. There were more opportunities. So I moved there in 1952."

Phil had worked at the Davenport post office for 10 years before being transferred to Los Angeles.

He is in the registry division of the L. A. post office.

Phil has three children. One of them established two "firsts."

"Verne LeRoy, age 24, won a basketball scholarship to Southern California University, the first Negro to do so," Phil explained. "He was 6 feet 3. He was pretty good. He is also an assistant coach of the freshmen there, the first Negro at USC to have a coaching job. He is a sales representative of a pharmaceutical company."

"Phillip James, age 26 and 6 feet 2, is a graduate of City College of Los Angeles and State College of California. He is now teaching at Parmalee school in Los Angeles."

"Marsha Grace, 17, is a senior at Disney High. She wants to become a teacher."

No doubt that this former left halfback of Davenport High has made good out there on the Coast, what with his family coming along well and with Phil still looking more like 165 than 200.

His father and mother-in-law are Mr. and Mrs. Orville Jones of 1120 Scott St., and he is the brother-in-law of Charles Roberts, another former Davenport High athlete.

As you know, Los Angeles could be the scene of some of the World Series games this year.

"What do you think of the Dodgers' chances?" I asked this fellow with a hearty laugh.

He didn't hem-or-haw.

"I'm hoping the Dodgers will do it, go all the way," he stated. "They hung in there well in the first half of the pennant race, and I think they have enough of everything to keep it up."

"Those Dodgers don't seem to get many hits, but they get them when they are needed. Then there's Sandy Koufax. You see what he is doing. He could have one of those great, great years. Those Dodgers are fighters, and Manager Walt Alton has them going strong."

Because of Record Thefts

D.M. Police Crack Down on Unlicensed Bicycles Here

Des Moines police began a crack-down on all bicycle riders in an effort to make certain that all riders are riding licensed bicycles. This move, made necessary because of a record number of bicycle thefts this summer, is primarily for the protection of bicycle owners.

Licenses

When your bicycle is licensed, a description of it is recorded, along with the serial number and the name and address of the owner. Then, if your bicycle is stolen, and later found by police, it will be returned to its rightful owner. No unlicensed bicycle is turned over to anyone, including the rightful owner, because the police has no proof of ownership—as is the case of licensed bicycles.

The fee is nominal and the time it takes to take it to any fire station is very little.

Traffic Capt. E. Dale Allen said all police officers have been instructed to issue summonses requiring ing a court appearance to all cyclists riding unlicensed bicycles.

Record Thefts

Theft of 162 bicycles here during June set an all-time one-month record and indications are that bicycle thefts in July will exceed the June figure, Allen said.

Police have 45 bicycles impounded for which owners can not be found because the serial numbers are not on record. Last year, 18,500 bicycles were licensed here. So far this year only 4,500 have been licensed, Allen said.

Tan Teenager
Wins Soapbox
Derby In N. C.

Greensboro, N.C.—Dogged determination paid off for Joseph Hamilton Holloway, 15, who after three years of trying, raced across the finish line in the final event to win the Greensboro 1965 Soap Box Derby, here Saturday, July 10.

With the win goes a $500 savings bond, a handsome trophy, an all-expense trip to represent Greensboro in the National Soap Box Derby Finals in Akron, Ohio in early August and a big chance at the top prize of $10,000. It was his last opportunity for competition is restricted to 15 years or below.

For "Champ" Holloway, as he is now called, the victory was a perfect climax for his efforts which began in 1963. He won no prizes in 1963, but explains, "I learned a lot." This fact is proved by the progress he has made since. In 1964, he was more successful winning the runner-up position in the Class A bracket, but losing in the finals.

His achievement marks the first time a youth of his race has won the Greensboro event, though several have come close.

THE TESTING

To walk when others are running.
To whisper when others are shouting;
To sleep when others are restless,
To smile when others are angry;
To work when others are idle,
To pause when others are hurrying;
To pray when others are doubting,
To think when others are in confusion;
To face turmoil, yet feel composure;
To know inner calm in spite of everything—
This is the test of serenity.
