Police Indignities, Instead of Burtality Spurred L.A. Riots

New York — Police indignities, rather than "police brutality," may have spurred the bloody Negro riots that convulsed the Watts section of Los Angeles last month, according to an article published today in a national magazine.

Central Fault

Writing in the current issue of Look Magazine Editor T. George Harris said that "whatever the substance of the brutality charges loudly aired in the press since the riots, the central fault of the police went largely unreported. It sounds too simple; yet it has to do with basic human dignity.

"Too many white cops used terms like 'boy' and 'nigger' on the black citizens they were supposed to protect. Too many showed subtle signs of racial contempt."

Interviews with friends and families of Negroes killed in the riots showed that "police indignities" enraged many Negroes who sought equal courtesies, the article indicated.

Memory

According to Harris, the mother of a 20-year-old Negro shot to death by police during the riots "still seethes over memory of a white patrolman who made a crude pass."

Harris said the dead youth, Charles Patrick Fizer, was given a $5 fine for jaywalking last year, but did not mind the fine so much as he "hated the way the cop addressed him: 'Boy! Where are you going?'"

The Look article said the major cause of the riots could be found in the "collapsing bonds of the Negro family," but also laid blame on the "failure of churches, of Negro leadership and of white businessmen."

214 Job Bias Complaints Filed by NAACP, Fund

Washington, D. C.—In a stepped-up effort to scuttle racial discrimination embodied in collective bargaining agreements, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has filed a series of complaints with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission alleging violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Herbert Hill, the Association's director for labor program, filed a total of 214 complaints with the Commission here, Sept. 15. Targets of his complaints, filed on behalf of NAACP members in 14 states, were major industrial corporations, trade unions, commercial institutions and state employment services. Collaborating in the action with the Association was the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

Pres. Johnson Names Judge Marjorie Lawson As U.S. Representative On U.N. Commission

Washington, D.C.—President Lyndon B. Johnson announced Saturday the nomination of Judge Marjorie Lawson to the post of United States Representative on the Social Commission of the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

Judge Lawson, who recently resigned from the District of Columbia Juvenile Court, succeeds Mrs. Edison Dick of Chicago and becomes the second Negro appointed to the United Nations by President Johnson within the last month. Dr. James Nabrit, President of Howard University was appointed last month as U. S. Representative to the United Nations with the rank of Ambassador.

Lawyer

Judge Lawson will continue to serve as Vice Chairman of the District of Columbia Crime Commission to which she was appointed by President Johnson upon her resignation from the D. C. Juvenile Court.

A distinguished lawyer and former newspaper columnist, Judge Lawson was praised by the President and Ambassador Goldberg upon the announcement of the new position. In her new position Judge Lawson will also serve as a Senior Advisor to the U. S. Delegation to the U. N.

Negro Wins Atlanta Vote

Atlanta, Ga.—A 44-year-old real estate man has become the first Negro nominated to Atlanta's Board of Aldermen in this century.

Q. V. Williamson defeated veteran Alderman Jimmy Vickers, 56, in a city-wide run-off primary Thursday, 33,314 to 15,165.

The general city election is Dec. 1 and the possibility of independent opposition for any of those nominated appeared faint.

Measures Crop Acres with Skill and Accuracy

Robert Copeland, top right, a junior in vocational agriculture at Prairie View A. and M. College, was one of 4,000 Negro summer employees of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Supervisors report that all made good. Copeland's supervisor, James E. Frierson, ASCS office manager for

Brazos County, Tex., is going over an aerial map of farmland with the student. He worked as a performance reporter, measuring acreages of allotment crops, such as cotton and feed grains to determine whether farmers had planted within their allotments. Below, Copeland is measuring cotton acreage. His supervisor says he did his work with skill and accuracy. —USDA Photos

Problems

In making his announcement, the Rev. Mr. Burnette said that "many of the problems that the present members of the City Council promised to overcome are still with us."

He cited low-rent housing, urban renewal, "fair government" and "adhering to the vote of the people on major projects such as the relocation of the city garage."

Ran Before

The Rev. Mr. Burnette came to Des Moines in 1958. He was formerly a pastor in Sioux City and in Los Angeles, Calif. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the council in 1961 and 1963.

Copenhagen, Denmark — Franklin H. Williams, U. S. Representative on the United Nations Economic and Social Council, and author Louis Lomax were among 30 participants on hand Monday, Sept. 6, for the opening of the Conference on Race and Color.

The world conference, the first of its kind, is being sponsored by the International Association of Authors, Artists and Scientists and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

First Negro To Attend Integrated Tennessee School Is School Prexy

Gainsboro, Tenn.—The first Negro ever to attend Gainsboro Elementary school has been elected president of her eighth grade home room class.

Peggy Williams was elected by about 30 white classmates as the school integrated for the first time.

Peggy's sister, Carolyn, became the first Negro to attend Jackson county high school this year.

Both girls had previously attended Negro schools in neighboring Smith county. They were transported at Jackson county's expense.

They now are the only Negroes in each school, both with over 550 pupils.

city primary election Oct. 19 will reduce the number of candidates to six.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Cleveland, Ohio—Lyle Davis, 18, of Cleveland, has been awarded a $1,000 Kimberly-Clark corporation scholarship for study of printing management at Rochester (N. Y.) Institute of Technology. The scholarship is renewable for four years.

Lincoln, Nebr.—Lancaster County Judge Ralph W. Slocum has appointed what he believes to be the first Negro ever to sit on a board of appraisers in Lancaster County and possibly in the state. Named to the three-man panel was Paul Adams, 45, retired Air Force colonel.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Father Divine, wealthy spiritual leader of an international cult whose followers believed he was God, died Sept. 10 of a heart attack at his spacious estate, "Woodmont," in a suburban Gladwyne. Divine, whose age has been estimated at 100 years, held firm rule over his "heavens"—temples, hotels and hostels—which included properties in Australia, Switzerland, Sweden and England.

Kansas City, Mo.—Details of suffering and of hardship as a result of losing money through the bankruptcy of the People Finance Corporation were told by men and women, many of them senior citizens, last week at the first meeting of creditors held in the People voluntary bankruptcy case.

New Orleans, La.—Two Ku Klux Klan leaders face the alternative of producing confidential files of the secret organization or going to jail. Saxon Farmer of Bogalusa, La., and Charles Christmas of Amite, La., brought a partial list of Klan membership and some conservative literature before a three-judge Federal Court on Sept. 9 but the judges called the evidence unsatisfactory.

Washington, D. C.—The happiness of a wedding changed to the shock of a slaughter early last week and 38-year-old Tommy Lewis was charged with the fatal stabbing of his 32-year-old bride.

Memphis, Tenn.—Rev. George J. Strong, 59, pastor here for the past 12 years, died unexpectedly after a 40-day fast, the last seven spent without food or drink. He had subsisted on water and orange juice in the earlier part of the fast.

Denver, Colo.—Episcopal church bishops endorsed a greater role for Negro clergy within the church but kept two touchy issues locked in committees. These issues involved the role of women—whether they may be elevated to full deacon—and heresy charges against California Bishop James A. Pike.

NAACP Branch Heads Win in N.Y. Primary

New York—Two local NAACP branch presidents emerged victorious over their opponents in this week's Democratic primary elections here.

Both men were running for seats in the New York State Senate. Basil Patterson, president of the NAACP Manhattan Branch, will be the Democratic candidate for the Senate from the 31st District.

Dennis Coleman, on leave as president of the NAACP Bronx Branch, will be the Democratic candidate for the Senate from the 35th District.

New Executive Director Stresses Education for Securing Equal Opportunity

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

Perry W. Hooks, the new executive director of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights, brings to the organization an abundance of zeal, experience, confidence and desire to work with the tools he has now and endeavor to sharpen them, if needed.

Like his immediate predecessor, Mr. Hooks comes to Des Moines from the Kansas Commission on Civil Rights, where he served two years as educational director and a year before that as field representative.

Interests

Since he took over his duties on Sept. 1 he has little time to know Des Moines but he is quick to emphasize his interests and hopes.

"First, I am interested in the employment picture. I am disappointed in the overall pattern of employment levels. I would like to see the community undertake programs in upgrading minorities and try to secure new jobs in the light of what automation is doing to us," he said.

Job Levels

"I would stress those Negroes who are qualified to seek employment at its maximum level of their abilities. I would like to see the community and civic leaders, the responsible leaders who establish policies, to offer as many opportunities to upgrade employees," he continued.

Education

In Kansas, Mr. Hooks said, they had no housing ordinance like Des Moines, but they had a Fair Employment Law and a Public Accommodations Law with stiff enforcement positions.

"However, we relied heavily on conferences, conciliation and using the educational approach. We will continue to do this in Des Moines, but if needed will follow the steps in the ordinance for enforcement. I strongly believe in using the tools we have and improve on them if needed," he emphasized.

Use Commission

In his short time here, Mr. Hooks has been busy meeting various civic officials, community and civil rights leaders.

"I want to see people use the commission, come to us if they have a complaint and trust us," he stated. Born in Coffeyville, Kans., Mr. Hooks received his early education there before going on to Kansas Technical Institute in Topeka. Then he received a football scholarship to Washburn University in Topeka where he received his B.S. degree in education. He has also done some post graduate work there.

Background

Following graduation he worked as a 'cottage parent' in Topeka, then as a social worker on the Shawnee welfare department before joining the Kansas Commission on Civil Rights.

Mr. Hooks and his wife Mary have two sons, 9 and 5. Mrs. Hooks is teaching kindergarten at Hoak school. Lost most no time in becoming involved in Des Moines organizations that reflect their interests. Mrs. Hooks affiliated with Phi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority. Mr. Hooks joined the Alumni chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. Both are attending Burns Methodist church, their religious denomination. The family lives at 1533 E. 18th street.

Interest in Youth

In addition to civic duties and affiliations, Mr. Hooks has a keen interest not only in his own children, but all youth of today. In Kansas he was active in P.T.A. organizations, also.

His interest in children was reflected in his statement, "Parents have a responsibility to see that opportunities are available to their children when they are qualified. Youth has a responsibility of becoming qualified; staying in school and planning to be the best they can be."

Midwest G.O.P. Set Up Group to Lure Minorities

At a 13-state regional meeting here last week the Midwest Republicans set up a three-member committee to find ways to win minority groups back to the party.

Prior to the day-long meeting, held Sept. 16, the Republicans had held a $100-a-plate dinner at Veterans auditorium with former vice president Richard Nixon as guest speaker. Among those attending the fund-raising affair was Iowa Bystander publisher-editor James B. Morris, Sr., one of Iowa's leading Republican party member.

Iowa G.O.P. Chairman Robert Ray announced the special committee following a day-long private session here between Republican leaders from 13 Midwest states and national party chairman Ray Bliss. Ray said the committee will aim primarily at the Negro vote and Negro participation in party affairs.

Drop

He said in an interview following the meeting that Republicans formerly had attracted nearly 50 per cent of the Negro voters, but this had dropped to 11 per cent in some areas.

"The committee," he said, "will contact the leaders of these minority groups to find out what the party can do to help them, and what they expect from the party."

Ray said the committee's work would not be limited to Negroes, but included "all minorities."

Low-Rent Housing Agency to Survey Public Housing Need

A survey will be made in Des Moines to determine the need for public housing here. This was the initial decision made by the new Des Moines Low-Rent Housing Agency at its organizational meeting last Friday. Five commissioners including John Estes, Jr., were sworn in on the committee a week before by the City Council, which created the agency.

Tentative Offer

The agency has received a tentative offer from the Iowa Urban Community Research Center at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, to make the survey at an estimated cost of $10,000 to $15,000. It would take six to nine months to complete.

The results of the survey would show how many public housing units are needed, if any, and where they should be located. The survey would be used as the basis for initiating a public housing referendum. A majority of the voters must approve each such housing project.

Referendum

The survey cost, along with all other costs incurred by the agency prior to a successful referendum, will have to be paid by the city. The costs then would be repaid by the federal government as part of the overall project cost.

Agency members met with Urban Renewal Director Max Krumrey and Neighborhood Improvement Co-ordinator Woodrin Kee for briefing on various aspects of federal public housing requirements. The two said the survey would be unlike any previously conducted by the city because it will attempt to relate actual housing needs of citizens to housing now available.

Rights Groups Ask HEW to Act on Charges Of Racial Discrimination in 16 Hospitals

Washington — Charges of racial discrimination were filed here Sept. 3 against 16 federally assisted hospitals in 8 southern states by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund and the NAACP.

The new charges make a total of 126 filed by the two independent organizations since last February.

States

Hospitals in Alabama, North and South Carolina, Texas, Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and Louisiana are accused of discriminating against Negro patients, employees, physicians, nurses and nursing students in the complaints, which were filed on behalf of persons affected by the discrimination.

Negro Wards

In one, Searcy Hospital, Mt. Vernon, Ala., the complaint charges that Negro ward attendants are assigned to Negro wards which are inferior to those reserved for whites. The Negro attendants are paid lower monthly salaries than their white counterparts, the complaint alleges.

Nurses

The complaints similarly charges the hospital with setting a lower salary scale for Negro nurses, and with permitting a policy whereby Negro nurses must perform extraneous chores such as housework for a white supervisor in order to qualify for raises, while white nurses get automatic promotions every six months.

Names Not Denied Public At Opportunity Center Says Norris, Polk School Head

Ralph C. Norris, superintendent of the Polk County Board of Education, emphasized that "names were not denied to anyone" Youth Opportunity center program this summer. Norris made his point in a letter to Drake Mabry, of the Register and Tribune, who recently published a story, "Secrecy of Names in N.Y.C." Norris sent a copy of the letter to the Iowa Bystander.

The letter read:

"In order to ascertain that those who care about the educational development of youth in this program know the faces related to the issue raised, I will state them.

Open to Public

"First, the list of names was not denied to you or to anyone else. I fail to see how this makes them secret. Any citizen can see the list by coming to this office.

"Second, the question of a policy which the story indicated had been established is misleading. It was to be discussed by the County Board of Education at its next meeting to be held in six days. I also explained to you that I would be willing to discuss the issue with any one of the higher officials of the newspaper in order to make my position clear.

Low Income

"The printing of the names of children or youth who are not only innocent, but also not responsible for their families' low income status is unfair to these disadvantaged children and youth. Neither does printing their names help the work supervisors and work coordinators who work with these youth to improve attitudes toward work or toward society in general. I could have discussed several kinds of youth and how I think newspaper stories might affect them. I wasn't given the opportunity.

Available

"You were told emphatically that the list of names was available for you to check. You were emphatically told that if anyone working in this Neighborhood Youth Corps program was found not eligible you could blame the administration of the program. The Youth Opportunity Center personnel are responsible for screening the youth.

Below the Belt

"There are two items in the story which hit below the belt—my salary and my politics—neither of which had anything to do with the Neighborhood Youth Corps, and both of which I am glad to discuss with anyone at any time. I can not, however, see any purpose whatsoever in using them in the context you placed them in the story. If I lived in some states I probably would be a Republican, and if I worked as an administrator with comparable responsibilities in business I would probably draw as much or more salary.

Rest Fine

"The rest of the story was fine, except that Des Moines, as well as Iowa City, had many good programs. I am enclosing two letters that illustrate some of the administration policy in Des Moines.

"It should be clear to everyone that I believe the newspaper generally to be very friendly to education, and even to the needs of disadvantaged youth and adults."

Pioneer Role of NAACP Praised by Dr. Bunche

Birmingham, Ala.—Unable to attend the recent special NAACP conference here because of the Indian-Pakistani crisis, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Under-Secretary of the United Nations, sent a telegram of greeting expressing his conviction that the conference would "strengthen our resolve to carry through with the struggle until complete equality is won."

The message was read by NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins at a packed rally here Sunday, Sept. 12, which Dr. Bunche was originally scheduled to address. As "a firm NAACP man," Dr. Bunche, a member of the Association's national Board of Directors, said he "wanted to be there to express my entire support for the NAACP and its program and to emphasize that in all the history of this epic struggle of the Negro, the NAACP, after all, is the pioneering and parent organization."

for the volunteers will be held on Sept. 27, at 7:00 p.m. in the Auditorium, Building 4, at Veterans Hospital.

Mississippi Labor Union Strikes Again

Shaw, Miss.—Workshops are being held here to discuss a Fall strike that will be sponsored by the Mississippi Freedom Labor Union (MFLU). All Negro cotton choppers, gin operators and tractor drivers in Sunflower, Panola, Coahoma, Pike, LeFlore, Washington and Bolivar counties will be asked to participate in the strike. A spokesman for the MFLU, Germaine Hawkins, said "this strike will include maids who are now working six days a week for an average of $14. Our main issue will be $1.25 per hour for all labor."

Cash Value

Mississippi is the largest cotton producing state in the south-eastern section of the nation and the 1961 crop totaled 1,625,000 bales. The cash value of the crop was $308,602,000.

Mississippi until a few years ago was the second largest cotton producing state in the nation. However, since her emphasis on industry and cattle during the past decade, Mississippi now holds third place in cotton. Texas and California now produce more cotton than Mississippi.

Baptists Re-elect Dr. Jackson At 85th Sessions in Florida

Chicago, Ill.—Dr. Joseph H. Jackson, president of the five-million member National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., has issued a call for national unity, urging all groups in the country to "rise above all differences of creed, color and caste."

"The powerful Baptist leader, who has been re-elected president of the convention each year since 1953, warned America of 'its plight and the perils of the many divisions that afflict and disturb this nation' in his annual address delivered at the 85th annual session of the organization in Jacksonville, Fla., on Sept. 9.

Pledges

He pledged the strength of the denomination's vast membership in calling attention to the national crisis.

The distinguished minister said Americans can no longer afford the luxury and "negative weights of past prejudices, hatred, envy, discrimination, disrespect for law and order, and for one another; race riots, and bloodshed."

"All of us must unite and work together as one for the nation's life and cause or eventually perish," he warned.

12,000 Delegates

Dr. Jackson, pastor of Chicago's Olivet Baptist Church, (3101 S. Parkway), said the civil rights struggle is, in reality, the struggle of Americans to implement all of the just laws of the land and to fulfill every promise and pledge that America has made for the equality of all Americans," he stated.

Approximately 12,000 delegates and visitors attended the convention.

Faith

Dr. Jackson said the convention chose Jacksonville as the site of its 1965 meeting because of "a great faith—faith in ourselves as a race, faith in all the people of the Southland, faith in our nation, and faith in the redemptive power of the Christian church, and faith in our God."

He said the officers and delegates hoped to "strengthen and to help spread the spirit of goodwill among the peoples and races of the city, state and nation."

Dr. Jackson pointed out that many white people who do not understand the wider view of the civil rights struggle think of it as a struggle of Negroes for their rights, and this group contends that Negroes should not "press too hard."

"No person can press too hard in the pursuit of the right, and no citizen can be too devout to his country or too much in love with the universal principle of freedom and justice," was the Baptist leader's answer to this contention.

Plan Wheel Program At St. John Baptist

The Missionary Society of St. John Baptist church is sponsoring a Wheel program on Sunday, Sept. 26 at 7 p.m. Guest speaker will be the Rev. R. L. Ryles, retired minister. A variety of selections will be given.

Apple Pie

Cool weather calls for hearty desserts—such as this tender, juicy Apple Pie—served warm.

Serve the all-time favorite, Apple Pie, for dessert tonight when hungry children trip in from school. It doesn't take long to make—and how pleased your family will be.

The recipe for the crust makes golden color and tenderness as easy... well, as easy as pie. The pretty design is no trick at all. Make one like it or draw upon your imagination plus a cookie cutter for your own version. Be sure, though, that there are openings in the top of the crust to let out flavor-laden steam from the baking apples. Press the top and bottom layers of pastry together and there'll be no spilling over of savory juices.

If you are hurried, order a baker's pie and pop it in a low-heat oven just before dinner is called.

Everyone is convinced that Apple Pie is good eating. Ever consider, though, that it has important nutrient contributions? The enriched flour in the crust contributes extra B-vitamins, food iron and protein. The apples add more vitamins and minerals.

Feature Apple Pie at your next dessert party. Trim the pie with wedges of sharp Cheddar cheese and serve along with a bowl of grapes and a dish of salted mixed nuts.

APPLE PIE

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup shortening
3 to 5 tablespoons cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Divide dough in half and let stand while preparing Apple Filling. Roll out half of pastry to circle 1/2 inch thick and line pie pan with it. Fill with Apple Filling.

Apple Filling

1 1/2 quarts apples
1/2 cup sugar (about)
1/2 cup sugar (about)
1/2 cup sugar (about)

Peel and slice apples. Mix lightly with butter or margarine and lemon juice. Combine sugar, flour and cinnamon and mix well.

Roll out other half of pastry to circle to cover pie pan. Place on top of Apple Filling. Trim and flute edges. Cut design in top of pastry. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes. Reduce to a moderate oven (350° F.) and continue baking 30 minutes, or until apples are tender.

Makes 1 9-inch apple pie.

How do you like the monsoon season in Iowa? Now you know how the other half lives, the half that lives in the exotic Pacific isles. Set out a few palms and coconut, get a few wild exotic tropical flowers, change our Des Moines river and curb side waters to blue-green and the sands to a dazzling white and we will have the Far Pacific on our doorsteps. Ever see such rains??

We saw an item in a daily paper that rather took our mind briefly off Iowa's typhons. It was about one of America's best dressed women being turned away from an Air Force post exchange in Spain. It seems she was wearing slacks which are frowned upon as public wearing apparel in Spain. We say three cheers for the Spaniards.

Now and then we hear the remarks, "Wonder if there is any humans on Mars? If so, wonder what they look like?"

When we look around us sometimes as we go out in public, like downtown or to a neighborhood store, we are often struck by the thought, if men from Mars came down to earth, they might think that they were looking upon little electronic women, with the huge curlers on heads the Man from Mars might take for little electronic cells, or some type of batteries.

The newspaper item about the lady in Spain reminded us about a visit we made to Houston, Texas. When we made several trips downtown we were so impressed by how neatly everyone was dressed. It was in August when the heat is almost at its height, yet there were no shorts of any kind worn by children, women or men.

When we remarked on this later to relatives, we were told that the city had an ordinance against casual wear—that is more suitable for beaches or swimming pools, being worn downtown.

We wished now we had thought

CONGRESS SEATS
MISSISSIPPI MEMBERS
FOLLOWING CONTEST

Following the election in 1964, the Freedom Democrats of Mississippi challenged the seating of members of Congress from that state on the ground that Negro voters had been excluded from voting while counted in determining the number of representatives to which the state is entitled.

They based their contest on the provision of the 15th amendment which authorizes Congress to reduce representation in Congress under the very circumstances prevailing in this election and the exclusion by force, treachery and intimidation practiced against the Negro voters.

The contest was referred to the committee on privileges and elections which heard testimony by the Freedom Democrats and others who, in the mind of most anyone, proved their case.

But like the Congress has done since reconstruction days, the appeal of the Freedom Democrats was turned down and the elected congressmen seated.

This, of course, is not surprising for once an official is elected to Congress, it is difficult to get members to prevent him from being seated or once seated to oust him.

Now that the voting rights bill has passed and is being enforced, the Freedom Democrats have the votes to defeat the erring congressmen at the polls. If they fail it is their responsibility for the law permits them to do for themselves what Congress has failed and refused to do over the years.

TWO PARTY SYSTEM
KEY TO REPUBLICAN PARTY SURVIVAL

Speaking at a $100 per plate dinner in Des Moines last week, former vice president Richard Nixon said the present administration in Washington was detrimental to the two party system in America. He said it was dangerous that one party has become so strong that its leaders get all they want and are strong enough to prevent the opposition from getting anything.

This country has thrived on the two party system. Generally, there has been sufficient strength in the minority to prevent the majority from going too far. There has been an occasional change in administrations which has enabled each side to get a pretty good idea as to what the other has done.

America had the depression of 1929 with the Republican party in power and the Democrat party has pointed to its policies as the cause. The same thing was true in reverse just before the turn of the century.

Roosevelt and Truman did much to change the image of the Democrat party stripping control of the executive branch from the reactionary race hating crowd but they still dominated Congress.

Unfortunately, the conservative way of the Republican party has been permitted, by default in most cases, to make entirely too much headway in the organization and like the convention in San Francisco dominated in too many interviews. Those who want to preserve the Republican party and thus the two party system must rally to the front and get elected to precinct, county and state organizations so as to control what goes on. The conservatives are like Communists boring in from every direction.

There is one thing sure: there are not enough conservatives to elect a national administration. The thought of following the conservative leadership frightens the Negro and his friends away and thus barring a calamity in the other direction no party which attempts to ignore or disregard the Negro vote can be elected to national office.

IOWA NEEDS A FOOTBALL COACH

The results of the football game between Iowa University and Washington State was a bitter disappointment to local fans and renews the demand of many that coach Jerry Burns, while an able assistant, has not produced a team that has won a fair share of its games.

Those who listened to the game felt let down as time after time, but through no fault of their own, the team was practically over the goal line and yet could not come up with that vital punch to do the job.

Winning games is not the whole object of athletics or college life but a fellow gets pretty tired of being on the losing end week after week with poor chances of improvement.

It looks like a really long season for Iowa University unless the Hawks can come up with a running game. Saturday, their efforts seemed to be more of a collection of individual efforts rather than work as a unit. The team work precision just didn't seem to be there. Maybe the guys are depending too much on their passing. If that is so, the other teams, now aware of Snook's passing ability, will simply concentrate on stopping that and letting the running game go. Iowa could really use Drake's Roger Brown. But maybe the fellows will come up with some surprises. Let's hope they do.

Drake

Here at home Drake was simply out of its league, but the Bulldogs didn't quit trying and made a respectable showing. They will likely have a winning season again. Iowa State seems to be in for a so-so year. Wonder why our two Iowa schools don't get the boys that other schools do. Is it the tough studies? They must have rough courses in other Big Ten and Big Eight schools. There must be a reason. Maybe, we will find it someday.

Warriors

Our Des Moines Warriors lost a squeaker to an Omaha team in a game they could have won. We can't see those guys finishing last in their league.

High School

At East High the fellows are saying they would rather have lost that one last week than to have gone all season and then lost the last one. Now, they know they have to work and likely will do so.

Dowling surprised Tech and the Engineers really aren't that bad. But, all they had last week was Willie Herndon. It was a good thing Willie came to play.

Another team that had troubles was North. As we heard it they had one of those games where nothing is on your side. Then we guess the field didn't help the Polar Bears any. We still think they will sneak up on someone. Now, the city series race is wide open.

Baseball

Looks like the Giants and Twins. That fourteen game winning spree was just too much for the rest of the contenders. But the L.A. Dodgers two-man pitching staff made it a tussle all the way.

Tennis

Now Arthur Ashe holds victories over both members of Australia's Davis Cup team... Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle. Maybe the tennis powers are sorry they passed him up in Spain. Maybe they knew what they were doing. Next year could be our year to ride in on Ashe and get back in the tennis saddle again.

Boring Thin Material
AMERICAN BUILDER, leading magazine for builders, recently disclosed a fool-proof method of boring holes in thin material. Simply place a block of wood on each side, holding the blocks together with a "C" clamp and then boring through the blocks. This method provides a clean, smooth cut with no raveling or splinters.

Ashford Becomes 1st Negro
Umpire in Major Leagues

Los Angeles, Calif.—The first Negro umpire in major league baseball is Emmett L. Ashford, a showman of the diamond who loves the work because "the calls come from deep inside."

Ashford provides a spectacle as an umpire, with dramatic arm-flailing and gesticulating that creates excitement by friction.

"I'm the kind of person who can't stand to do anything by halves. I have my own style. It's me, and I can't change," Ashford said after his appointment Wednesday.

American League President Joe Cronin said in Boston that Ashford will join a staff of 23 umpires at spring training next year.

Ashford, who will turn 47 Nov. 23, is being brought up from the Pacific Coast League, where he has been serving for 12 years. He was umpire-in-chief the past three years.

Ashford began his professional umpiring career in the Class C Southwest International League, then later moved to the Class C Arizona-Texas League and Class A Western International League.

In 1954 he joined the Coast loop at the invitation of President Clarence Rowland.

Ashford was also the P.C.L.'s first Negro umpire, and said that Rowland's successor, Dewey Soriano, has been working ever since to get him into the major leagues.

Jackie Robinson had his Branch Rickey and I had my Dewey Soriano," Ashford noted proudly.

He was referring to Rickey's efforts to bring Robinson to the old Brooklyn Dodgers as the major leagues' first Negro player.

HEALTH FOR ALL

SAME TO YOU!

"Keep well!" That benign sendoff—no less sincere because routinely uttered—is heard many times a day in this health-conscious age.

For most of us the odds in favor of living up to the admonition get better all the time. Vast improvements in general hygiene, nutrition, and disease prevention, revolutionary advances in drug development, medical practice and surgery, have been registered in our own time. At least in the more solvent areas of the world, and even among some of our poor-but-not-quite-destitute relatives, it's easier to stay healthy than at any time in the past.

Result

As a result, more people live to a ripe age, dodging or repulsing disease bugs that once slew their tens of thousands. Since 1930 the average life expectancy in this country has increased by ten years. And improved medicine, psychology, and social services help make those extra years worthwhile.

Rosy Pix?

A rosy picture? Yes—but you'll find there's a catch in it if you expect those attractive healthmanhood goodies to fall into your lap just like that. You can still get sick in any number of ways without half trying. Short-term or acute illnesses, nearly two-thirds of which affect the breathing system, are suffered by Americans at the average rate of twice a year per person, the National Tuberculosis Association reminds us. And some of the long-term, potentially fatal diseases—TB, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, cancer, heart ailments, and others—can develop without making their presence felt for a long time.

Remember Need

Want to get your share of the increased health dividends? Want to be a good neighbor and carry out your friends' instructions to "keep well"? One way is to remember your need—like everybody's need—for a regular medical check-up. Just feeling well can be deceptive; only a doctor's examination can determine the score. Your Christmas Seal association suggests that you arrange for that appointment now, and include a tuberculin test or a chest X-ray.

Send Yours Today

A MORNING PRAYER

Let me today do something that shall take

A little sadness from the world's vast store,

And may I be so favored as to make Of joy's too scanty sum a little more,

Let me not hurt, by any selfish deed Or thoughtless word, the heart of foe or friend;

Nor would I pass, unseeing, worthy need,

Or sin by silence where I should defend.

However meager be my wordly wealth,

Let me give something that will aid my kind—

A word of courage or a thought of health

Dropped as I pass, for troubled hearts to find.

Let me tonight look back across the span

"Twixt dawn and dark and to my conscience say,

Because of some good act to beast or man,
"The world is better that I lived today."

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox
