Virginia Stewart, 'Oldest' Bystander Employee, Dies

Miss Virginia V. Stewart, 63, 1243 14th street, oldest Bystander employee in terms of years, died Monday, Sept. 27 at Mercy hospital after a year's illness. Death was caused by a heart ailment. Services were held at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 29 at the Caldwell-Brien funeral home with burial in Glendale cemetery.

Miss Stewart served as a claims examiner for the Veterans Administration for 18 years and prior to that was employed by other governmental agencies.

Born in Keokuk, Ia., Miss Stewart was the first Negro graduated from Keokuk High school. She came to Des Moines in 1921 and worked in the early years as society editor and columnist for the Bystander three years and also did general secretary work for the editor and his two legal partners.

She held the distinction of having worked for just about every attorney in Des Moines and also held many firsts in several of numerous secretarial jobs during the years. From 1942 to 1947 as a clerk-stenographer in Washington, D. C. in the Pentagon. She later transferred to Des Moines in the VA offices in the Valley Bank building.

Dr. Wormley Named Acting President of Howard U.; Dr. Nabrit to UN Council

Washington, D. C.—The Howard University board of trustees today granted President James M. Nabrit, Jr., a one-year leave of absence to serve as U. S. Representative to the United Nations, a post to which he was appointed by President Lyndon B. Johnson last month. At the same time the trustees named Dr. Stanton L. Wormley, academic vice president of the University, acting president for the 1965-66 school year.

Dr. Nabrit

President Nabrit left the University immediately for New York City, where he took the oath of office for his new post on Sept. 21.

The action by the trustees followed the annual Formal Opening exercises at Howard, where President Nabrit delivered his final address to the faculty and student body before leaving for the U. N. Dr. Nabrit urged his Cramton Auditorium audience to continue towards its goal of academic excellence and the even more important goal of bringing the blessings of democracy to all men.

Dr. Wormley

In naming Vice President Wormley as acting president, the University trustees selected a man who has been a member of the Howard faculty since 1938, when he was appointed assistant professor of German. A native of Washington, D. C., where he received his early education, Dr. Wormley holds two degrees from Howard the Bachelor of Arts (1930) and the Master of Arts in German (1931). He also earned a diploma at the University of Hamburg (Germany) and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in German at Cornell University in 1939.

Vice President Wormley was promoted to associate professor and head of the Department of German in 1944. He rose to the rank of full professor the following year. He served as director of the Summer School at Howard from 1956 until 1960, when he was named acting dean of the Graduate School.

In August, 1964 Dr. Wormley was named the University's first academic vice president.

Asks High Court to Review Negro's 1962 Rape Conviction

Washington, D. C.—The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund this fall will go to the U. S. Supreme Court to seek reversal of the conviction and death sentence of a Negro accused of raping a white woman in Alabama.

In its brief filed with the Supreme Court today, the Legal Defense Fund raised five questions concerning the 1962 conviction of Robert Swain.

Allegations

The brief alleges:—Swain was denied his rights to due process and equal protection when tried and convicted by a jury from which Negroes were systematically and arbitrarily excluded. —There is evidence of racial discrimination in the application of the death penalty to persons convicted of rape in Alabama.

Grant to Juries

—Alabama's grant to juries of

"unfettered discretion to impose capital punishment for all offenses of rape irrespective of the existence of aggravating circumstances" permits cruel and unusual punishment in violation of the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments.

—Swain's rights were violated when the prosecutor commented, contrary to other Supreme Court decisions, on his failure to testify in his own defense.

Conviction

It further notes that from 1930 through 1964, 11 times as many Negroes as whites have been executed for rape in Alabama.

This, combined with 1960 census figures which indicate that less than a third of the state's population was Negro, indicates a "racially discriminatory system of justice," the brief states.

Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, discusses the agency's progress in civil rights compliance with his chief. Mr. Godfrey received a special commendation from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman recently for effective administration of his agency's non-discrimination policy. Mr. Phillips has been assigned as ASCS civil rights coordinator. He was promoted from personnel assistant and equal employment opportunity officer.—USDA Photo.

Democrats Invite 4 Rights Leaders to Wash. Confab

Washington, D. C.—The Special Equal Rights Committee of the Democratic National Committee will meet in Washington on Oct. 5-6 to confer with a top-level panel of political scientists and hear from leaders of six civil rights organizations, Committee Chairman David L. Lawrence announced today.

The Special Committee was appointed earlier this year by Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey to assist states in meeting the 1968 Convention call. Specifically, the Committee's role is to help State Democratic Parties to assure that "all voters, regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin, will have the opportunity to participate fully in Party affairs." This requirement was made part of the 1968 call by the Democratic National Convention last year on recommendation of the Credentials Committee which Lawrence chaired.

Formerly Governor of Pennsylvania, Lawrence is Democratic National Committeeman for that state.

"As part of our fact-finding process," Lawrence said, "we have invited leaders of six civil rights organizations to meet with us on October 6 in order to obtain any information they may have that bears upon our work."

Asked

Those asked to attend are Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Whitney Young of the Urban League, James Farmer of the Congress of Racial Equality, Dr. Martin Luther King of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, John Lewis of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, and Lawrence Guyot of the Mississippi Democratic Freedom Party.

Ford Employee, Wife Rear 15 Children

Dearborn, Mich.—Henderson Hendricks, 61, a crane operator who has worked for Ford Motor Company 40 years, has good reason to feel proud of himself—and his family.

Hendricks and his wife, Norma, who live in Inkster, Mich., a suburb of Detroit, have raised 15 children, seen all of them through high school and sent five on to college. They have 21 grandchildren.

His pride showing just a little, Hendricks gives his wife credit for rearing the children so well. "She's precinct committeewomen, members of auxiliary groups in such import-put a lot of gumption into them," he says, "and she's tireless."

Ford Employees

Five of Hendricks' sons now are working for Ford: Henderson, Jr. at the company's Dearborn (Mich.) Stamping Plant, Charles at the Dearborn Assembly Plant, Robert at the Wayne (Mich.) Assembly Plant, and Edward and Melvin at the Dearborn Iron Foundry. (Melvin, a student at Tennessee State College, works summers.)

Son Freeman is a U.S. Budget Bureau supervisor in Washington, D. C. Another son, Ernest, is an interior decorator.

Daughter

Six of the girls have chosen medical careers: Theresa and Charlene as practical nurses; Helen, Nancy and Artelia and nurses' aides, and Florence as a medical receptionist. A seventh daughter, Dorothy, teaches mathematics in a Kentucky high school. The youngest, Carolyn, is a senior at Inkster High School and hopes to teach.

Retirement

Hendricks, who plants to retire from the automotive company, has worked the night shift at Ford's Dearborn Stamping plant for about 17 years. "It gives me more time to be with the children," he says.

The Hendricks were married in 1931 and have lived in the Inkster home since 1942.

Asked how he and Mrs. Hendricks met, he answered, "Well, we grew up in the same neighborhood and began talking over the back fence. "We've been talking a long time."

But you had a work to do I know how beautiful it must be to dwell high upon the mountains, and above the sea. Far away from the noise, care and strife of our day. Where we want you to remain. When pain and suffering seem to be your lot. Who are we to question our God who had a meaning kind. We only want to rejoice with you, when the Angels sing your favorite song. All night, and all day, the Angels watching over me. We so dearly loved you Dad. You will always be missed. God bless your peaceful rest.

A BEAUTY SALON
FOR TELEPHONES?

Ever heard of a beauty salon for telephones? According to J. E. Trabant, telephone company manager here, the industry has found more ways to put cosmetics to use than women ever dreamed of.

He explained that phone folks polish metal parts with rouge and keep machinery whistle-clean with freon—the gas used in hair spray.

Mineral oil and spermaceti, two main ingredients in lipstick are used to lubricate and cool machinery parts. Beeswax, the "body" in eye shadow creams and pencils, is a remarkable wood finishing compound for small wooden parts.

Glycerine as used in hand lotion is used in testing telephone cables.

Even talcum powder is in pressed cores for loading coils. These are placed in telephone circuits to prevent echoes in conversations, and isopropyl alcohol from colognes and perfumes is used to prepare finishing solutions.

Trabant said, "Although cosmetics undoubtedly subtract years from a woman's age, they add years to the life of a telephone!"

Protests Slaying of Sick Colored Woman

Savannah, Ga.—The NAACP has vigorously protested the wanton fatal shooting of a mentally deranged Negro woman by the Bullock County sheriff last week.

Witness

In the statement the witness reported that he had warned the sheriff of the woman's mental condition and urged that additional help be obtained before trying to apprehend her.

Instead, the sheriff approached her as she was walking down the highway and fired three times, the third shot entering her head and killing her instantly.

Atty. General

In his letter Mr. Law stated that the sheriff "was negligent in his duties and acted with rank prejudice toward the victim because of her race."

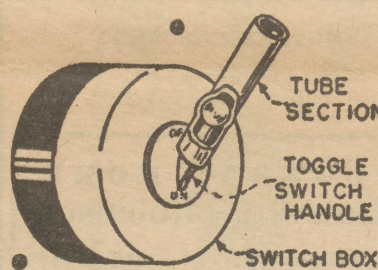

Mr. Law called on the Assistant Attorney General, who is in charge of the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department, "to promptly investigate this dastardly crime and bring to justice the guilty person involved."

Even without the chilling temperatures there would be no mistake that fall is here. Football, the perennial fall American sport is swinging into high gear as millions of fans trek weekends to the stadiums and cheer their favorite gridiron heroes onto victory. The World Series isn't here yet but if you didn't know anything at all about baseball, you could easily think that it had already been played. The sport that has been the star of the summer months has all but faded from view.

We learned of a charming story about a couple, both senior citizens, who drove all the way from Los Angeles, Calif., earlier this month to visit in Des Moines.

Mrs. Clarence Adams, 1610 Walker street, told us about the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kindred, who came to visit her and Mr. Adams on Sept. 13.

Mrs. Kindred who is 84 formerly lived in Des Moines; her husband is 74, and did all the driving. They just decided to come for a week's visit with the Adams and other friends and former neighbors in Des Moines.

Driving a seven-year-old car they took the southern route, mostly Route 66, and had no trouble at all, making about 600 miles a day, staying in hotels at nights. They made the trip in three days. They left on a Friday about 5 a.m. and arrived here about midnight on Monday. They drove around about an hour because the freeway was new to them.

Mr. Kindred forgot and left his glasses on the dining room table in his home so his wife read the signs for him all the way.

Mrs. Adams, who hails from Missouri, says that Mrs. Kindred happened to be the first person she met in Des Moines when she came here on a visit some years ago. Mrs. Adams had agreed to temporarily help out a family in need of help and Mrs. Kindred was laundress for the same family. Mrs. Adams, however, never returned home, deciding to stay in Des Moines.

The Kindreds have been living in Los Angeles for 11 years and when they left, promised they would return in 1967.

Many people asked them out to dinner. While here they attended Bethel A.M.E. church. Enroute home they planned to visit in Tulsa, Okla.

In listing names of Jack and Jill members who served as hostesses at the "Rearing Children of Good Will" conference we omitted the name of Mrs. William Cropp, 4512 Wakonda parkway, who stayed all day and registered delegates and visitors in the afternoon. Mrs. Woodrow Lewis and Mrs. Lewis James enjoyed the sessions so much they also stayed all day. Mrs. H. P. Wallace stayed during the morning session.

Mrs. Cropp told us there were almost a dozen other Negroes, some from out-of-town, attending the sessions.

The birthday group No. 2 of the L. T. Club opened their fall meeting with a Ho-bo party. All members rode in a box car off their vacations to the Ho-bo camp site, the Ralph Parker home on DeWolf. The table-setting was Ho-bo fashion joined a pot of chili with slow wood fire, tin dishes and paper tablecloth, whole onions, crackers in box and carrots and small stalks of celery.

One member got in town late so she came from the airport, dressed. Since no one was admitted to the camp site dressed, she had to return later, dressed appropriately.

Prizes for worst dressed ho-bos were won by Christina Martin, Mrs. Maggie Johnson and Mrs. Orea Buice.

Group 2 members are Mildred Bayles, Dorothy Vaughn, Mary Parker, Mary Hardaway, Myrtle Johnson and Josephine Jones. Next meeting will be Oct. 6 with Mrs. Hardaway.

DON'T DO AS I DO
BUT AS I SAY

Like all leaders, including Jesus Christ who brought his followers a long way toward the good life, Dr. Martin Luther King is being shot at from many angles today. Knocks come not only from people of the South but also the North who have witnessed or had some experience with the upheavals which occurred in densely populated cities where large numbers of Negroes have moved in.

The latest broadside comes from James M. Kemper of Chicago, president of the Lumberman's Mutual Insurance Company and other insurance groups who, in a speech in Syracuse, N. Y., before New York Mutual Association Agency, charged that Dr. King's non-violent protests and disobedience to law and order were at the root of the recent riots and other disturbances. He claimed that these doctrines were the underlying causes of the sit-ins, lie-downs, lie-ins and other mass demonstrations.

The trouble about Kemper's charges is that the root he speaks about did not begin with Dr. King but in the automobile plants of Detroit; that the mass blocking of entrances to and from buildings to emphasize a cause did not begin with Dr. King but in the farmer and labor groups which still go on where men are beaten up, the cars turned over, wrecked and in some instances murdered occur as happened in Wisconsin only this year; or maiming such as occurred in Waterloo or bombings such as have occurred in recent years with nobody convicted; or the irate farmers in Plymouth County, Iowa who invaded a judge's court room, placed a rope around his neck and drug him from the bench for the purpose of lynching him simply because he presided over foreclosure of mortgages on their farms, or participants in the now famous Boston Tea Party which acts were illegal but in years later have been dubbed heroic.

No, Dr. King's tactics may have helped egg the riots along but he was taught by those who got what they wanted by illegal methods that this is the quickest way to get results.

The Bystander does not for one moment condone riots or mob violence in any fashion. It subscribes wholeheartedly to law and order. And it has warned that along with the advent of full rights for the Negro went a greater responsibility of citizenship.

Kemper announced in this speech that he had created some scholarships for Negro youngsters. That, no doubt, is solace to sooth his conscience. He has lived and prospered in Chicago where some of the worst conditions exist among Negroes. Surely he knows about this but we have never heard of anything he has done to improve these conditions before now.

Dr. King has reached a high place in the hearts and minds of many people. He has done a lot. He has made some mistakes. Now that he has reached great objectives in his crusade for human dignity, he might well turn some of his efforts toward solidifying the gains that have been made.

THE ANNUAL DRIVE IN UNITED CAMPAIGN

The annual United Campaign drive for funds in Des Moines began this week. Forty-one agencies are supported by the funds raised which serve all races, all religious denominations, all classes of people.

During the past few years, the job of raising the announced goal has not been easy. When the combined solicitation for welfare agencies was formed, its backers hoped that there would be but one solicitation for funds thus averting the incessant calls which resulted from multiple agencies.

However, in recent years, independent agencies soliciting from the public continue to multiply. It keeps a set of solicitors calling from door to door or beating tin pans and ringing bells on the street continuously that constitute a big nuisance. There is no earthly reason why these groups should not join in the one solicitation and give the public some peace.

No doubt all these groups do some good. But they develop an air of selfishness fearing that this or that group will be cut short.

The United Campaign does an excellent job. It is well managed and uses very little of the solicited dollar for administration. Des Moines should meet its quota.

Well, sir, the boys who argued that the Iowa Hawkeyes would not win a game in the Big Ten had better take another look at their predictions. If you saw the Iowa game on TV last Saturday and saw the game at Iowa City the week before you would have thought you were seeing two different ball clubs. The boys looked as good Saturday as they had looked bad the week before. If they can keep their momentum and if Oregon had anything at all to really test them, the Hawks will give somebody trouble before the season ends. Oh yes, we said it looked like a long tough year for Coach Jerry Burns and the Iowa fans. But now our guess is a 5-4 year which may save the job of the head coach.

We have often heard the pool hall and side line coaches say that Burns doesn't like to feature Negroes too much. We have seen four and four in his lineups last year and with the running of Silas McKinnie and Farley Lewis we don't see that he has much choice. But we still think it is a guess by these august coaching bodies who say such things.

Iowa State looked good and so did Drake. But we have to ask how much did the other teams have. The Cyclones are in a tough league and even if they are better than they were last year the other teams have improved too. So we can't see much for them. But if they could give Nebraska a real tussle this weekend it might do something to the Ames boys for football is a game wherein mental attitude is really important.

Drake has lost only once in all the games they ever played South Dakota and our older brother helped engineer that 6-3 defeat the Bulldogs suffered way back when. Doesn't seem like 46 years but it was. But back to the jet age. The Bulldogs ought to have a good year and they are drawing more people. We can remember when people were punished by being sent out to see Drake play football.

Warriors

Our Warriors team is running into some near big time opposition now. If they can survive this year financially they may build a better club for next year; for now they are learning what they need for a winning club.

HEALTH FOR ALL

SUN IS FUN (NOT TOO WELL DONE)

"What a lovely sleep I had on the beach!" said Snoozy Susan shortly before the chills and fever set in. It happens every summer—a new crop of victims to the innocent idea that you can't have too much of a good thing.

Susan felt robbed when the blisters began forming, because she thought she'd acted with just the right amount of caution. The sky was overcast—so where was the danger of sunburn? Unfortunately it doesn't work that way. You can get as cruel a burn on a hazy day as on a bright one.

Differing

Skins differ in their sensitivity to sunlight. Children burn more quickly than adults. Babies under two, and delicate children of any age, need to be watched closely when sunbaths are taken.

But even for grownups, more than 15 minutes of exposure for the first time in a season can be dangerous. After that first quarter-hour, the exposure time can be increased by

Little League Football

The undefeated West 49'ers in the lightweight division and the West Packers in the heavyweight division remain leaders in the Little All-American Football League standings.

In games this past weekend the North Colts whipped the East Giants 30-0 and the West 49'ers defeated the South Rams 6-0 in the lightweight division. In the heavyweight division, the East Lions stopped the North Cardinals 19-6 and the West weekend and those fellows are awfully hard to beat up there. North had trouble with Mason City and really got run over while Tech was simply outrunning Roosevelt. Norm McCune, Neal Williams and the rest of the guys were just too fast for the West side boys. And Tech didn't use Willie Herndon at all the second half or the score might have been bigger. This Herndon guy does everything but sweep out the stadium for Tech.

Little League

The Little League footballers just about made yours truly their press agent for the games here. But we have to see one other fellow before it is final.

Baseball

A week ago we said the Giants and Twins were all but in. Well, the Twins made it big. But the Giants! Some guy said we put the jinx on them but really it seems to be the Dodgers hot streak, the first one they have had all season, that makes it tough for the Giants.

another 15 minutes each day. That way a gradual suntan builds up—the kind that furnishes real protection. The other way can put you to bed for days.

Beneficial

Sunbathing if not overdone is beneficial to most people, but can be definitely harmful to others. People with TB, for example, have been known to suffer from a worsening of their condition after prolonged exposure to the sun. Getting overheated in the hot sun can put a strain on the internal organs, particularly the heart and blood vessels. An elderly person, or one with heart trouble or any other serious disease, should consult his doctor before sunbathing.

Severe sunburn can cause serious illnesses accompanied by chills, fever, and delirium. A doctor should always be called if blisters develop; blisters bring danger of infection.

In short—have a nice day at the beach! You will if you take your sun in sensible doses.

Fallen Evening

Autumnal winds breathe frosty air
Across a withered flower.
The weeping willow hangs her head
Remorsefully
And slips her faded leaves upon the lawn
Each year becomes a graying strand
Upon the head of Life
Each leaf that falls is but another
Soul departed
Old Man Time has swung his sickle
One more stroke
As summer goes about its tiptoe way.

New York—Cassius Clay will make the second defense of his world heavyweight championship against Floyd Patterson at Las Vegas, Nev., Nov. 22.

Final details for the 15-round bout were worked out last week as the state of Nevada agreed to recognize the fight for the heavyweight crown. Nevada is a World Boxing Association state and Clay has been under suspension by the WBA.

Bud Traynor, chairman of the Nevada State Boxing Commission, sent word of the official sanctioning to Al Bolan, who is promoting the fight.

With the paper work out of the way, Clay settled down to the business of boosting his rival, who twice held the heavyweight title but who twice was knocked out in the first round by Sonny Liston.

Clay began training for the fight at a site in Florida Monday.

It's daring blythly the field of chance
While making of life a brave romance.
It's going onward despite defeat,
It's fighting staunchly but keeping sweet,
It's being clean and playing fair;

"How was it?" asked his companion.

"The book was better," he replied.
