Southern Marches to Protest Klansman Acquittal

Dr. King Cuts Short European Tour to Lead Demonstrations

Paris, France—Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Nobel Peace prize winner, is cutting short a European tour to return to the United States to personally conduct massive demonstration marches as a protest against the acquittal of a Ku Klux Klansman in the death of a white civil rights worker. He arrived in New York City Tuesday.

Collie Leroy Wilkins, Jr., was freed in Hayneville, Ala., Friday night, Oct. 22 after being found innocent of the slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo. Dr. King called the jury verdict "one of the most dastardly crimes against justice that the south has performed to date."

Statement

In a statement, Dr. King said the acquittal of Wilkins "threatens all of the progress that we have made up to this point in the south, for if murder can go unpunished who will dare to use public accommodation or attempt to register to vote when death may well be the price of these rights."

"It is also a serious challenge to the non-violent movement. We have

Negro Daily Makes Debut in New York During Paper Strike

New York—A new Negro daily newspaper has joined the ranks of the present two—Atlanta Daily World and Chicago Daily Defender. Born out of the newspaper strike which had left the city almost readerless for local papers, the new publication is the Harlem Daily.

Published by Clyde Reid and edited by Grey Harris, it will be distributed in Harlem, the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn and in the Bronx. Concerned mainly with community news, the Harlem Daily will spotlight important events not now covered by the daily press, national and international events important to residents of the communities it serves.

$2,000 of Couple's Savings Recovered

Nearly one-third of the $7,000 stolen Oct. 17 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson at 1140 9th street, was reported recovered by police last Thursday, Oct. 21.

Detective Chief Cleatus Leaming said $2,163.25 was found in a can hidden underneath a pile of rubbish behind a vacant house in the 1500 block of East 17th court.

Leaming said that police went to the vacant house after receiving an anonymous call in which the caller told where the money could be found.

Johnson had reported that $7,000 in bills and coins was taken from a locked closet of the home while he and his wife were absent late Sunday afternoon.

Police said that about $800 of the money recovered was in coins and the balance was in bills ranging from $1 to $10 denominations.

Johnson, 72, had told police that the money stolen was his life's savings.

Leaming said investigation of the burglary is continuing.

Commend Alabama Atty. Gen. Flowers

New York—Alabama Attorney General Richmond M. Flowers was commended today for his "courageous stand" in prosecuting two civil rights murder cases.

Dr. Gayraud S. Wilmore Jr., executive director of the United Presbyterian Commission on Religion and Race, praised Mr. Flowers in a telegram sent this morning.

"We are heartened that you in your position as attorney general have labored for the integrity of the law and for human dignity," Dr. Wilmore said. "We are appreciative of the political and personal cost of your action. We want you to know you have our support in your efforts to obtain justice for persons of all races in Alabama."

Powell Does About Face On Pastorate Of Harlem Church

New York—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) has done a complete about face on the matter of the pastorate of Abyssinian Baptist church.

The nationally-known Congressman had previously announced he would quit as pastor as of Jan. 1, 1966 as the result of a threatened revolt within the membership of the church.

An aide of Powell denied there was a rift and declared that Powell would remain.

The aide also denied press reports that Powell had been requested to leave the church because of his action in dismissing the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, former top aide to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Gain One-Third of Voting Power on 41-Member Polk Community Action Council

In a well organized drive nine additional members of the anti-poverty program target (low-income) area in Polk County won appointments to the 41-member Community Action Council, the planning group that determines programs in the war on poverty.

In a meeting on Oct. 20 at North High school, that was marked by heated debate, protests came loud and clear from representatives of the impoverished group. More than 100 persons attended most of them from low income groups in addition to the 29 council members.

Members

Added to the anti-poverty council were William Fenton, 2680 N.E. 44th avenue, Porter Dimery of 2572 S.E. Harriett street, Jack Rossean of 2929 N.E. 51st court, Vellie Sanders of 4353 N.E. 42nd street, Paul Wilson of 1164 14th street, James Stoker of 3165 N.E. 44th avenue, Mrs. Myrtle Myers of 732 27th street, Mrs. Gladys Hurt of 1931 Lynner street and Robert A. Jackson of 1405 Buchanan street.

Two representatives of low-income neighborhoods had previously been appointed to the council. They are Mrs. Hazel Burns of 422 S.E. 10th street, and Mrs. Oma Rhodes of 2223 Drake Park ave.

Speakers

Frank Bailey of 2527 Onawa st., a representative of the Chesterfield Improvement League, told the council members they "have the nucleus of everything needed except us."

The Rev. Kenneth McNeil, pastor of Burns Methodist Church, 811 Crocker st., expressed concern over representation of Negroes in planning the program. Said he: "We're the majority among those to be helped."

Federal officials have contended that members of the target area should have at least a one-third council membership vote and thus have a say and action in planning programs that are for their own benefit.

In addition federal officials offered a compromise to give the Council of Social Agencies more time to relinquish its control of anti-poverty money.

Threat

The controversy here started when federal officials threatened to reject all pending applications for federal money for county anti-poverty programs unless the Council of Social Agencies relinquished control of the programs to a separate Community Action organization with at least one-third of its members representing impoverished and low-income areas of the county.

The ultimatum also brought to the surface a power struggle between the Council of Social Agencies and some local workers in the anti-poverty drive.

The Council of Social Agencies, a community welfare planning group supported by United Community Services (U. C. S.) received the initial $60,000 grant to plan anti-poverty programs.

Court Orders Wright to Pay $25,000 to Mrs. G. Hall in Real Estate 'Trade' Suit

After deliberating 12 hours a Polk County District Court jury ordered Atty. Robert A. Wright, to pay $25,000 damages to a former client, Mrs. Gertrude Hall of 1108 7th street, who claimed she was defrauded by him in real estate transaction.

Wright immediately announced that he would ask the Polk Court for a new trial or judgment notwithstanding the verdict, or, if necessary, appeal to the Iowa Supreme court.

Will Resign NAACP

(A few hours after the verdict, Wright announced that he will submit his resignation as president of the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to the organization's governing board.

(Wright said he was resigning because "I do not want any thing I have done or the jury's verdict to reflect against the image of the N.A.A.C.P., as I have the greatest respect for the organization, its purposes and for its dedicated members and workers.")

At its meeting Tuesday evening the Des Moines NAACP board of directors voted not to accept Wright's resignation and the branch took no action on the matter.

Trade

John L. Haskins of 2031 Forest ave. was a co-defendant in the case, which involved a 1961 trade by Mrs. Hall of her home and property at 1308 Keosauqua way (now the site of a tavern) to Haskins for a residence at 1223 Fifteenth place.

Mrs. Hall, who was represented by Wright in the transaction and in subsequent dealings, contended Haskins did not have title to the 15th place property when the trade was effected, but had deeded it previously to the Grandquist Construction Co.

Ruling

The jury was not asked to decide if Haskins should pay any monetary damages to Mrs. Hall in this case, but had to rule on whether a $14,500 judgment Wright obtained later in 1961 for Mrs. Hall from Haskins (and agreed to by Haskins) covered the same "cause of action" brought by Mrs. Hall in this case in which she claimed she was defrauded by Wright and Haskins.

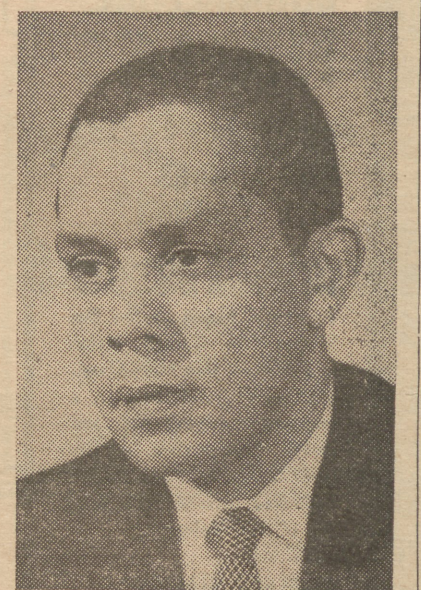

The jury ruled that it did.

Effect

Court officials said the effect of the ruling is that Haskins who owns no property now, is barred from canceling the $14,500 judgment by having it discharged in a federal bankruptcy court, and either must pay Mrs. Hall or have it remain on the records as a lien against any property.

been patient. We have waited for the morning of justice to emerge.

"Now we have no alternative but to organize a massive direct-action movement to make murder of persons in the pursuit of their constitutional rights a federal crime tried in the federal judicial seat.

Possible Sanctions

"We will organize marches on courthouses, including Lowndes County (Hayneville), and possibly institute economic sanctions against communities which perpetuate such mockery of justice.

"It is either this militant non-violent solution or risk the beginning of vigilante justice from Negroes in the south."

Alabama's Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers said Friday in Hayneville that two other Ku Klux Klansmen will be tried on murder charges in the Liuzzo slaying despite the acquittal of Wilkins.

The five-day trial that ended Friday was Wilkins' second for the murder of Mrs. Liuzzo, 39, a Detroit housewife. The first ended in a mistrial with a deadlocked jury.

erty he might acquire.

In his instructions to the jury, Judge Fountain said exemplary damages against Wright could be assessed if Mrs. Hall established that Wright's acts were "malicious."

Original Asking

Mrs. Hall originally sued Wright, Haskins and the Grandquist Construction Co. for a total of $200,000, but this was reduced during the trial by her attorney, Henry T. McKnight, to $10,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages.

Also during the trial, Judge Fountain removed Grandquist as a defendant, ruled out Mrs. Hall's allegation that the three original defendants "conspired" against her and dismissed her allegation that Wright was negligent, the last because the alleged negligence occurred more than two years ago.

FIFTY YEARS OF OVERSEAS RADIO TELEPHONE

In these days of communications satellites and space age technology we take pretty much for granted our ability to talk to virtually anyone—anywhere.

But, it was just 50 years ago that electronic voice communications across ocean barriers was achieved. According to J. E. Trabert, Northwestern Bell district manager, it was October 21, 1915 that the first trans-Atlantic radio telephone transmission was made.

Only fragments of the first transmission—from Arlington, Virginia to Paris—were heard by the listeners at the Eiffel Tower. But, by 1927 overseas radio telephone service to Great Britain and Cuba was a regular thing. There were 11,750 overseas calls that year.

Today, by contrast, we use submarine cable, and orbiting satellites as well as radio telephone for overseas service—and Americans can reach 98 percent of all the telephones in the world. Well over five million calls speed from and to land each year. A far cry from the thousands of calls in 1927—and the first fragmentary overseas radio telephone message of fifty years ago.

Mrs. Pearl D. Staten Sentenced to 10 Yrs. At Rockwell City

Mrs. Pearl Dutch Staten pleaded guilty Oct. 21 in Polk County District Court to a grand jury indictment charging her with the murder of her husband, Edward. On Monday she was sentenced to 10 years in the Women's Reformatory at Rockwell City. She could have botched the maximum—life sentence.

The grand jury returned the open murder charge against Mrs. Staten, 62, in connection with the shotgun shooting of her 63-year-old husband Aug. 11 at the Staten home, 510 S.E. 3rd street.

Five Witnesses

Five witnesses testified in Judge Wade Clarke's court at a hearing to determine degree of guilt, which was started after Mrs. Staten's plea of guilty was received.

Three of the witnesses—Police Patrolmen Ronald Babb and Gary Clark and Detective Robert Good—said Mrs. Staten told them her husband had abused her.

"Scare Him"

Other witnesses were Detective William Moody and Lt. Carroll Dawson of the police identification bureau.

At the time of the slaying, police quoted Mrs. Staten as saying she planned to "shoot over his head and scare him" following a violent quarrel. She earlier pleaded innocent to the murder charge.

Lids on Cabinet Door

ROUND-KNOBBED lids of cooking utensils may be neatly stored inside a cabinet door where they will be both accessible and occupying otherwise waste space. Here are directions for making this handy storage unit:

Measure the door and obtain a piece of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood which covers the interior excepting for one-half inch on all sides. If the door is paneled, there will be room between the cabinet door and the Presdwood for the knobs to fit into openings the shape of large keyholes. If the interior is one plane from one side to another, it will be necessary to install a strip of lumber about one inch thick as a perimeter.

Lay out the round-knobbed lids on the Presdwood so that their positions may be marked. With a bit and brace, bore holes about one-quarter inch larger than the knobs. Underneath each, with a keyhole saw, complete the oversized keyhole, forming a slot into which the neck of the knob will fit. The final step is to fasten the panel to the interior of the door with finishing nails. The panel may be left unfinished or painted.

TEMPORARILY
HALTS BENEFIT

New York City—Critical surgery which Bill Eckstine underwent Oct. 19 has temporarily halted plans for a six or seven city benefit series which the noted star had intended to launch in support of The Southern Christian Leadership Conference's Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The benefit series, labelled by "Mr. B" himself "Project American Progress—1965" was to have taken place during the period of Jan. 1 through Jan. 10 and would have involved some of the nation's top stars.

Nereim Seeks City Council Post as Write-in Candidate

- 1 Self Employed Ins. Agent
- 2 Democratic Committee Man
- 3 East High School
- 4 Central Lutheran Church
- 5 Chamber of Commerce
- 6 VFW and American Legion

Although the electors of the city of Des Moines did not cast a sufficient number of votes in the primary to qualify me as one of the six candidates to be placed on the ballot for the general election I have decided that I will still remain a candidate on the write in ballot.

The encouragement on my behalf has come from many people and for many reasons. First and foremost is the fact that 2100 voters did cast their ballot in my behalf. Second is the obvious fact that the citizens do not have what I feel is a moderate choice in the other candidates. I am also concerned on behalf of the electors who cast their votes for the other seven candidates that were eliminated in the primary. All of these gentlemen like myself offered themselves to the public in order to present their views on what they believed to be the major programs and solutions in Des Moines. There are a number of problems yet to be solved and whoever is elected to represent us can either spurn or accept ideas and assistance. The question in my mind is will either one of the slates equally represent us towards what we consider to be the proper services and policies.

My concept of policies that would best govern a growing city such as

NEREIM

Des Moines is to continue in the direction that the present council has set forth regarding plans for its future growth. My main concern however is that I do not believe the public is being fairly represented under our present plan of electing councilmen. I am in favor of electing seven councilmen by dividing Des Moines into four districts, fairly apportioned, with a councilman being elected from each district and three at large. The terms of office would still be staggered. In my opinion this plan deserves consideration for two basic reasons, (1) If we don't like our present councilman we can get rid of him easier (2) Our councilman would be directly concerned with the problem in his district and answerable to his constituents.

Ladies and Gentlemen of Des Moines, this is your government and your opinion is important. If you do not feel that some of the other candidates will represent your ideals, then I offer myself as a candidate on the write in ballot. The election laws provide that you may write in another candidates name while voting in a voting booth. The election judges will answer any questions pertaining to this procedure. Here's To Halloween!

By BETTY BARCLAY

Halloween season is here again so why not honour the occasion by serving some of the timely treats which follow:

Ravioli Cheese Bake Makes An Ideal Meal

Here is a dish that is easily prepared because it takes advantage of a 15½-ounce can of ravioli right off the pantry shelf.

This ravioli made from a renowned chef's recipe saves you time and work yet allows you to show off your culinary talent to best advantage. The ravioli—tender little macaroni pies filled with ground beef that have been simmered in a special sauce of juicy red tomatoes, beef and delicately spiced—are placed in the casserole. Then you pour a custard mixture over the ravioli and bake it for about 30 minutes.

Ravioli Cheese Bake

- 1 can (15½ oz.) ravioli
- 2 cups milk or cream
- 1 cup grated store or cheddar cheese
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion or chives
- 8 eggs, well beaten
- ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese (optional)

Place ravioli in a greased 1 quart casserole or 4 individual casseroles. Heat milk slightly. Add grated cheddar cheese, stirring over a low flame until cheese melts. Blend in salt, paprika and chopped onions or chives. Beat eggs and blend well with the milk mixture. Pour cheese custard over the ravioli in the casserole. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese, if desired. Bake in a 350° F. oven for 30 minutes or until custard is firm. Serves 4.

Fondant Stuffed Fruits

- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup KARO Syrup, Red Label

- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 4½ cups (1 pound) sifted confectioners' sugar
- Dried dates, prunes, figs, apricots, for stuffing.

Blend butter or margarine, Light Corn Syrup, salt and vanilla extract in large mixing bowl. Add sifted confectioners' sugar all at once. Mix all together first with a spoon; then with hands knead in dry ingredients. When mixture clings together and leaves bowl clean, turn onto board and continue kneading until mixture is well blended and smooth. Makes about 1½ pounds candy. Flavor and shape may be varied to suit taste. Almond and vanilla goes well with many fruit flavors. Set aside and prepare fruits.

Stuff or fill dried fruits with pieces of fondant. Roll in sugar if desired. Store in cool place.

Halloween Tart Treats

- 1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
- ½ cup water
- 1 cup orange juice
- 4 baked tart shells

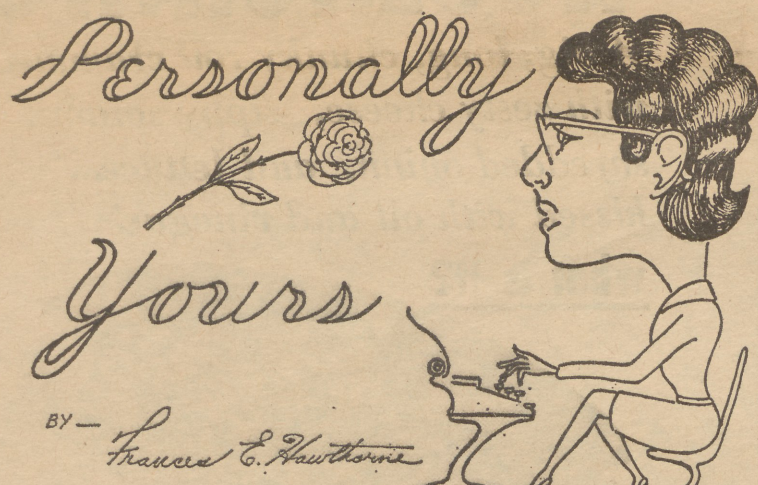

Combine pudding mix, water, and fruit juice in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into baked tart shells. Chill. Decorate with Halloween candies. Makes 4 servings.

Spirit's Treat

- 3 large oranges
- 2 cups milk (not canned)
- 1 pkg. Chocolate "Junket"
- Rennet Powder
- Whipped cream
- Candy corn

Cut oranges in half, squeeze juice and remove membrane from shell. Cut a strip about ¼" wide around top of each half shell, leaving it attached for about ¼" on opposite sides. Lift strips and tie together with ribbon to make handles.

Warm milk slowly to lukewarm, not hot (110° F.). Test a drop from spoon on inside of wrist, as you would test milk in baby's bottle. Then remove from heat at once. Empty package contents into milk—stir until dissolved, not over one minute. Pour at once while still liquid. Let set undisturbed 10 minutes until firm. Then chill. Garnish each basket with whipped cream and a few pieces of candy corn before serving.

Old Jack Frost sort of stepped in over the weekend and put a cold clammy hand on Iowa's lovely Indian summer days, although, no doubt, we will see a few more sunny days amidst the wintry ones . . . The Des Moines population was swelled by an influx of more than 20,000 teachers the latter part of last week and vacant lots and acreage around a four block radius of Veterans Auditorium, ISEA convention headquarters resembled somewhat of a car-lot gold rush day, as convention goers parked wherever they could find available 6 to 8 foot grassy lots.

Of course, with the teachers off to attend the ISEA convention it meant that school youngsters got a full-day's holiday. The day could not have been prettier for outdoor play and many youngsters took advantage of it. However, it turned out rather disastrously for our eldest son, Victor, 13. While playing football in the neighborhood with friends he sustained a broken left arm on Friday afternoon. Since both bones were broken and one complete in two, the doctors had to put him to sleep, next morning to set it. He was scheduled to be released from Iowa Lutheran hospital sometime later this week.

Another young boy, age 10 had broken his ankle the day before and the two were roommates in the pediatrics section. The other youngster who lives in Polk City, had sustained his broken ankle in a fall from a barn on the farm where he lives.

Recently, we had an interesting conversation with Mrs. Hiawatha Potter, 1014 Laurel street, about her name. She went on to reveal that her name and that of her sisters, are all Indian ones. Her sisters are Mrs. Pocohantus Goode; she is better known as Mrs. Pinkie Goode and is employed as a sales clerk at S. & L. store. The other sister is Mrs. Sequayah Bryson. Their father was a full-blooded Cherokee Indian and they come from Oklahoma, said Mrs. Potter.

Mrs. Potter revealed something else that is an unusual coincidence. Several years ago she read about another lady who has her identical name, Mrs. Hiawatha Potter in Chicago, Ill. At the time the two Mrs. Potters held the same post in their respective Daughter of Isis—Illustrations Commandress.

Mrs. Potter of Des Moines wrote her namesake in Chicago, Ill., commenting on the coincidence of their names. They have been exchanging letters since.

And, incidentally they now hold the same office again—treasurer—of their respective Daughter of Isis.

Mrs. Potter went on to tell us that she is not the only person in Des Moines who has the name, Hiawatha. She said a Mrs. Hiawatha Willis lives on Enos avenue.

Back to Friday, the school holiday: it will probably go down as the "day of the broken arms." Our youngest son returned home from school Monday to tell us that another boy who formerly lived across the street, fell over another boy's legs Friday while playing soccer and broke his arm, too. He is Nolan Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. John

VOTER REGISTRATION IS PROGRESSING WELL

When the voting rights bill was pending in Congress, some predicted that its passage would insure the registration of 900,000 new Negro voters in the South. Recent figures show that less than 200,000 have registered so far and critics imply that the claim was fantastic and the whole program a failure.

This, of course, is taking snap judgment about a situation that has prevailed for years—one which will require education, organization, and determination to bring to reasonable fruition.

It must be remembered that this voter registration is being conducted in hostile communities whose citizens have kept Negroes from the polls by fear and intimidation. And this intimidation is carried on where these people work, live, and worship. They realize that their jobs may be taken, their credit ruined, their homes bombed and the everyday safety of their lives is in jeopardy 24 hours a day.

A recent article in Pageant magazine contains criticism of the press for giving a distorted picture of the civil rights struggle. Here is an instance of it. And while many newspapers and magazines are not guilty of the charge, there is enough of it to require attention.

It is like the charge that once public accommodations were open to the Negroes generally, they would rush in in great numbers and ruin some people's business. But at last we do have such a law and there are no instances where such has happened.

Then, too, some cities want more time to solve the civil rights question but criticize when Negro voters are not running to the polls in great numbers as they thought.

LITTLE INTEREST IN CITY ELECTION

The citizens of Des Moines go to the polls Tuesday to elect three members of the city council. Seven candidates are in the race. They are debating the issues before select groups, in the newspapers, on radio and television.

This is a new type of campaigning. The same thing was done in the primaries with the result that the turnout at the polls was miserable. And while more are expected at the general election, the increase will not be such as to give Des Moines a creditable vote.

One group of three of the candidates favor city government along the lines we have had for the past few years. Another group of three feels that the city government today has much that is undesirable and that the government is too far removed from the people.

There is merit in both groups. But the voter seems blind to much that is said and done until his pocket book is hit. The By-stander has long since learned that elections converge around a clique and unless a candidate is fortunate enough to be included in the ring his chances are slim.

We have a duty to go to the polls and vote our wishes. Tuesday is the time to do it.

AMERICA HAVEN FOR DISSATISFIED FOREIGNERS

The 89th Congress enacted legislation liberalizing the immigration law. This, of course, means more immigrants coming to our shores and increasing an already step up in population that has gone on in recent years. And most of these people are headed for the big cities where an already unhealthy urban situation exists.

Premier Castro decided recently that the best way to strengthen his communist hold in Cuba was to allow all who are dissatisfied with that country to leave. Here again Uncle Sam is the haven for those Cubans who are dissatisfied with their country. They too will land in the big cities and add to the existing urban problem that officials find it difficult to solve.

It seems that these countries which hope to shake off communism should hold the people who are against it in their midst so as to help put up a fight against it. If all the anti-communist people leave the take-over will be more complete.

This country must sometime conclude that it cannot be the haven for all dissatisfied people who wish to leave their mother country. There are other countries with wide open space for settlement to which some of them should go.

Everywhere we go people ask us what is wrong with the Iowa University team. As if we know! We have seen a game or two and watched the films of all the other games. Our personal guess is a lack of co-ordination and teamwork that makes good offensive football. Defense doesn't require much timing and precision, so 11 good determined men can put up a wall of a defense which is what is happening. But the necessary blending of various abilities that make an offense go just doesn't seem to exist at Iowa.

In the first game the fellows acted as if they just met. But they snapped out of it in game No. 2 and we thought they were on their way. But now they could be on their way to the cellar for the first time in years. Recruiting may be a problem at Iowa largely because there are not many opportunities for work in Iowa City. But shucks fellows, they have been recruited before! How come not now?

Most of the sideline experts we talk to blame the head coach which is natural. We think the guy is a real football tactician. He can spot a flaw in an offense or defense right away and tell just how to take advantage of it. But for some reason Jerry Burns hasn't been able to do this as a head coach. Maybe the fellow is a natural scout or spotter.

Then in all fairness to the man he has lost a key starter at the beginning of each season before the first practice. Then to further add to his woes, Burns is the only coach we know of who never gets a break on his strategy. It always backfires, and yet his calls are logically sound, but just don't work for him. You would think a fellow could shut his eyes and pull a call out of a hat and be right just one. But not Burns. Well, he may go after this year. We don't have any personal sorrow to see it happen but we must admit the guy deserved a better break than he sometimes go in some games.

While we are about Iowa we talked to a guy who was at the Iowa State game in 1933 and he says he heard the same thing we did when Ozzie Simmons left the game. But we weren't sure if it was the band or just some individual musicians who played "Bye-Bye Blackbird." Probably never will know.

Drake went down to Kentucky and found out how it feels to be the visiting firemen. Maybe they will invite those fellows up here next year. Iowa State had the same story, a gallant fight, but no win. But there is always next week or next year.

HEALTH FOR ALL

TREATING YOURSELF
IS NO TREAT!

Herbs and roots, skunk oil and snake oil, horehound and honey and all kinds of unlikely poultices hot and cold! Those are the things that made life bright and bracing for the good folks who used to go in for home doctoring in days gone by.

Nor did those days go by very long ago. There are still a few veterans around who can remember the local healing woman who lived just over the hill. She had an uncanny gift for knowing what was wrong with folks; when she treated them for liver diseases, you could be sure it was liver disease that they'd die of!

Remedies

But rural remedies aren't the only form of the self-doctoring syndrome that causes more illness than it cures. Some people have a way of peering into that shallow chamber of ancient drug relics, the medicine cabinet; choosing something desirable by its color, shape, or age; and helping themselves to a dose. That can put an end to the illness, and possibly the patient, in one grand slam.

There's a third self-treatment habit, perhaps the most prevalent of all. In this "age of anxiety", so called, many people seem to feel the need of extra help to relieve anxiety, tension, insomnia, or other manifestations of stress. Often they become dependent on tranquilizers—and in many cases on "pep" pills taken to neutralize the depressant drugs.

Wrong

Of course there are many things wrong with this process. The patient is concentrating on his symptoms while his underlying ailment remains untreated. And, as he becomes accustomed to the drug, he may be increasing his doses to a dangerous degree.

Self-medication whether with drugs, poultices, or bags of camphor hung around the neck is no laughing matter. It's bad for the health; it actually endangers life. Your Christmas Seal association suggests: for safety's sake, let a doctor do the doctoring.

SEVEN DISTINGUISHED LEADERS
NAMED DEFENSE FUND DIRECTORS

New York—Seven men prominent in education, business, law and civil rights, have been named to the Board of Directors of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., Judge Francis E. Rivers, board president, announced today.

The new board members are: Peter L. Buttenweiser, director of instruction at North Carolina Advancement School, Winston-Salem, N. C.

A. G. Gaston, prominent Birmingham, Ala., businessman whose enterprises include a 65-unit motel, 70-unit apartment house, $15 million insurance company and a bank with assets totalling more than $8 million.

Dr. Percy L. Julian of Oak Park, Ill., founder of Julian Laboratories, Inc. and Laboratories Julian de Mexico, S. A., both subsidiaries of Smith, Kline and French Laboratories.

Damon J. Keith, senior partner in the Detroit law firm of Keith, Conyers and Anderson, and prominent civic leader.

Burke Marshall, former head of the Civil Rights Division of the U. S. Department of Justice, now in private legal practice.

Dr. David G. Salten, executive director of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, New York, and former Roosevelt. But North really deserves the honor for the week. They played Lincoln, called by some the best team in the city and just about chased the Rail Splitters out of the stadium. Such is high school football.

This is a good one. Iowa U won't play Iowa State. Iowa State won't play Drake and now Roosevelt wants to drop Dowling, because Dowling gets fellows with grade school experience. Well, that didn't make such a difference for about 12 years. Dowling had the same system then. How come it took that long to realize what was going on and all the while your school was winning!?

Record

Upon receipt, the department will emboss this written record onto a permanent green card which will then be returned to the parents. This green permanent card will be a useful record showing when their child had the various immunizations and will serve to remind them as to when boosters are needed. As boosters are received thereafter, a new green card will be issued.

Permanent Card

Parents may also obtain a green permanent ID card for their older children, provided their immunizations are up to date, by completing an application blank which are available at most doctors' offices and the health department.

This program stresses early immunizations of newborns, to be followed by boosters at the proper intervals. The series we will regard as basic include: D.P.T. (diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus), Polio, Smallpox, and Measles.

Family Finances

You can budget without being a bookkeeper. All that is needed is a little common sense and nine envelopes (marked Food, Clothing, Rent, Operating Expenses, Health, Savings — Insurance, Educational and Recreation, Church and/or Charity, and Miscellaneous).

On payday put the amount you think you need to cover each of these expenses in the proper envelope. Keep this up for several paydays, trying to use the money in each envelope wisely.

At the end of a month or so, examine your "budget." You'll probably find that you have money left over in some envelopes, while others are empty.

This will tell you where you need more or can get along with less or where you need to spend more wisely. Adjust the amounts you need to place in each envelope accordingly.

Even if you pay by check, the same system will work except that you will have to do it on paper. *
