6 Hurt in Center Street Accident

Waterloo, D.M. Beauticians Host Successful Convention, Delegates From Four States

By Frances Hawthorne

Beauticians from four states jammed Crescent Beauty school, 1407 Center street, scene of the two-day 14th annual educational clinic sponsored by Cosmetiste Clubs No. 1 of Des Moines and No. 2 of Waterloo.

They were an eager audience for demonstrators, lecturers and technicians from the nation's leading cosmetic companies. Hair Strate, Clair-o-l, Lady Perm and Wav-O and guest stylists and wig artists.

Guest Artist

Guest artist was Mr. Paul, of the Red Carpet Salon of Chicago, Ill., who was making his second appearance at an Iowa beauticians convention. With skill and artistry he demonstrated the newest style, "Sasson," a short hair style with bangs and side curls, along with many of the current styles. He demonstrated the correct technique in shaping the modern hair styles and for setting, caring for and styling wigs.

Mr. Paul has traveled extensively in the United States and in Europe and Puerto Rico as a guest artist and lecturer and has received several awards for his hair styles and techniques.

Hair Strate

Henry Childrey, who heads Hair Strate and Summit Laboratories in Indianapolis, Ind., came to Des Moines to lecture and teach beauticians on the correct techniques and use of his company's products which include Kover 'N' Kote, a scalp conditioner, Mend, a hair conditioner and softener and of course Hair Strate, a permanent.

Pioneer

Mr. Childrey is recognized as a pioneer in pure permanents for adults, teenagers and children.

"Permanents are more in demand," Mr. Childrey said. "Our sales increased almost 200 per cent last year. The new trend is toward straighter hair and less curl."

He showed advertising posters for Hair Strate directed toward both the white and Negro market, for both sexes.

Clair-o-l

Mrs. Peggy Bailey, color technician for Clair-o-l, was making her second consecutive appearance at an Iowa clinic. She reported that her company's newest product, "Nice and Easy" 20-minute color, seemed to be causing more excitement among beauticians and clientele because it "is so easy to use; you just shampoo it in." The new product comes in 12 different shades.

Civil Rights Roundup

NEGRO PRESS INTERNATIONAL WEAK BIAS LAW

Washington—Sharp criticism of the fair employment practices provision of the Civil Rights Act as being without effective enforcement weapons against private employers who discriminate in hiring and promotion was given by two NAACP officials—Clarence M. Mitchell, and Robert L. Carter, last week. The criticism noted that the employment provisions of the act "are administratively cumbersome and unduly expensive to the average Negro who decides to fight job bias to the end."

POVERTY'S IMPACT

Chicago—"Poverty—Its Impact on the Negro" will be the chief subject of discussion at a luncheon meeting sponsored by the Chicago chapter, American Jewish committee, Nov. 22, at the Standard Club. Principal speaker will be Dr. Deton J. Brooks, executive director, Chicago Committee on Urban Opportunity. The luncheon meeting is part of a series which aims at examining "the roots, direction, and goals of Chicago's civil rights revolution."

SURGEON ARSONIST

Gray, Ga.—A former Marine Corps surgeon, Dr. Beverly Holland White, Daytona Beach, Fla., was ordered held under $5,000 bond by Justice of the Peace A. M. Green last week on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of an abandoned Negro church in Twiggs county. The surgeon, halted by police on a traffic charge in Forsyth, Ga., was found to be driving a car similar to the one seen near the burned church.

MIXED AUDIENCE

St. Louis—Negroes will not be barred from the meeting in city-owned Kiel auditorium at which Alabama Sheriff Jim Clark is scheduled to appear Saturday, according to Mayor A. J. Cervantes. Spokesmen for the sponsoring group, the local Metropolitan Citizens Council, had earlier said the program would be opened only to white. Clark is to be joined by Louis Hollis, national director, White Citizens Council, of Jackson, Miss.

CITY "SICK"

Princeton, N. J.—"I think it (Birmingham, Ala.) is on the critical list as a sick city," declared the Rev. Lucius Pitts, president, Miles college, during an address to Princeton university students on the plight of the Negro in the Southern city. He said that as a result of demonstrations a few years ago, Negro may now spend their money in previously all-white stores, but have little opportunity to improve their income.

RUSE FAILS

Philadelphia—A West Chester barber failed in his attempt to convince the State Human Relations commission that he needed the "proper tools" to cut a Negro's hair. The commission ruled that Richard F. Draper, Jr. was guilty of unlawful discrimination in refusing to cut Carl A. Brown's hair because he needed the proper tools and hadn't cut a Negro's hair in 50 years.

MORE WATTS BLAME

Los Angeles—Another item was tossed into the hat as being the blame for the recent Watts rioting. Ben Perry, a south Los Angeles political and civic leader, said last week the "deterioration of leadership in Watts led to the growth of an amoral generation." He claimed that "political leadership was gradually taken over by ministers who found political activity more profitable than their chosen calling, thus lessening the true religious leadership needed by the people in the area."

WELFARE STAND

Baltimore—Some 40 of Maryland's 244 nursing and convalescent homes have served notice that they will re-

President's Committee on Equal Opportunity, Housing Slates Conference Here Dec. 3

The President's Committee on Equal Opportunity and Housing will hold a one-day conference in Des Moines on Friday, Dec. 3 beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the Hotel Savary.

Announcement of the conference came from Perry Hooks, executive director of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination, which was contacted by the Washington committee to do the groundwork for setting up the conference.

Realistic Look

"We hope to get the community leaders and people in power to work to bring about a change and to take a realistic look at the housing available in Des Moines," Hooks said, explaining the purpose of the conference.

"We hope to point out all our bad problems and bad features in housing that exists in Des Moines and then come up with constructive suggestions to help break up the ghettos patterns in which minorities live," he continued.

Important

"One of the most important things we want to see accomplished is the establishment of equal opportunity in housing in neighborhoods," he em-

NEWS In A Nutshell

Mobile, Ala.—The rising political strength of Negroes in the South, and particularly in Alabama, was dramatized last week in a proposal to form a third Democratic party. Charles Morgan, Jr., a former Birmingham lawyer who jestingly labeled himself as head of the Alabama government-in-exile after being harassed because of his liberal racial views, proposed the formation of a "National Democratic Party." A Southern regional director of the American Civil Liberties Union, who now lives in Atlanta, he made the proposal at a meeting of the Alabama Democratic conference, probably the strongest of the state's predominantly Negro political action groups.

Fayetteville, N. C.—Blazing gunfire and a high speed auto chase ended the attempt by two Negro Marines to carry out an "oath" to destroy the local Ku Klux Klan. Pfc. Warren F. Arsdad, Philadelphia, and Sgt. Ernest S. Jones, Jr., Hopkinsville, Ky. blundered in their improvised raid on the KKK by going to the wrong house and venting their anger on a family of five before stealing their car to make a getaway.

Los Angeles — An "integrated" cake was the surprise gift to a group of motorcycle cops, along with a poem, from a Negro student.

Chicago—Action was taken last week to protect a Negro family of six in a Southside white neighborhood. A full-time police guard was posted at the home of James Brown, 56, after fire bombs and rocks were thrown at the house.

Birmingham—The Rev. H. H. Wheeler, an employee of a firm accused by the NAACP of job bias, has given up his post as president of the Southwest Jefferson County NAACP branch. Why Rev. Wheeler, who works for Hayes International of Birmingham, left his NAACP post and whether there might have been a conflict of interests could not be learned.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—A switch in traditional Dixie justice was recorded last week when a Forrest County jury convicted a young white welder for raping a Negro teenager. The incident marked the first time in county history that a white man was sentenced in an attack on a Negro. Norman Cannon, 19, of the Sumner community, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the July 13 rape of a 15-year-old school girl. Rape is a capital offense, but the jury may stipulate life.

Both Cars Demolished in Head-on Collision Sat; Driver Gets 3 Charges

The Saturday morning quiet was abruptly ended when two cars collided in the 1600 block on Center street, injuring six persons and totally demolishing both cars.

Hospitalized were Kathleen Rumley, 28, of 830 17th street who suffered arm and chest injuries and Robert Wesley Massey, Jr., 40, of 838 9th street, who suffered severe face cuts and chest injuries. Both were taken to Broadlawn Polk County hospital where they were listed in fair condition. Miss Rumley was released Sunday. Massey remained there Wednesday.

Victim Relates

The Bystander contacted Richard Rumley, 29, of 827 18th street, who was a passenger in the car driven by his sister Jo Esther Rumley, 18, of Knoxville, Ia. Rumley who was treated for chest injuries and released told this story of the accident. "We were driving along Center street toward town. We were going about 20 miles an hour. Jo Esther was driving and Vickie Lynn and Kathleen were in the front seat with her. My father (Raymond Rumley, 55) and I were in the back seat.

No Time . . .

"All at once there was this car coming up (west) Center street. It seemed like he was driving about 50 miles an hour. Suddenly it came over on our side of the street. There was no time to do or say anything. It happened so fast.

"It was an awful noise, a loud boom. The police and ambulance got there right away."

Injuries

Mr. Rumley said his sister, Jo Esther suffered mouth and face cuts and his other sister, had knot on her knee. They and his father were treated at Broadlawn hospital.

Mr. Rumley's parents and two sisters who live in Knoxville, had arrived in Des Moines about three hours earlier for a rummage sale his mother, Mrs. Bertha Rumley, was holding at her daughter Kathleen's home. Mrs. Rumley operates an Antique shop in Pershing, Ia.

Massey, driver of the second car, was charged with driving without a license, reckless driving and driving on the wrong side of the street.

Hold Planning Session This Week for D.C. Rights Confab

Washington—The first phase of what President Lyndon B. Johnson calls "the next and more profound stage of the battle for civil rights" begins in the Nation's Capitol this week (Nov. 17-18) at the Washington Hilton Hotel.

In a national effort to find new means and methods of helping the American Negro "to move beyond opportunity to achievement," approximately 200 persons have been invited to engage in a two-day Planning Session in preparation for the full White House Conference "To Fulfill These Rights," which will be held in the Spring.

Participants

Participants in the Planning Session were selected after extensive consultation with a cross-section of civil rights, labor, religious, business, and civic leaders, because of their experience and expertise in various fields. A number of "grass roots" citizens as well as scholars and experts are included among the participants.

Spelled Out

President Johnson spelled out the need and purpose of the White House Conference in his commencement address at Howard University last June 4 when he said, "We seek not just freedom but opportunity—not just legal equity but human ability—not just equality as a right and a theory, but equality as a fact and as a result."

Object

The main object of the Spring Conference, as the President said, will be to help the American Negro fulfill the rights which, after the long time of injustice, he is finally about to secure."

8 Areas

The Planning Session, of which A.

Board to adopt an 11-point program designed to eliminate all forms of racial segregation and discriminatory practices in the city's schools.

Philip Randolph is Honorary Chairman and Morris B. Abram and William T. Coleman, Jr., are Co-Chairmen, will be divided into eight major discussion areas. These areas are: Jobs, Income and Economic Security; The Administration of Justice; Voting and Citizenship Participation; The Family; Resources for Change; Health and Welfare; Housing and the Neighborhood; The Community; Institutions and Social Action; and Education.

Jones. The Chicago-Piney Woods Club, the Detroit-Piney Woods club, and the Jackson-Piney Woods Club are all sending delegates to join the western graduates and ex-students.

Warns Natchez Businessmen On Mass Firing of Negroes

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People warned businessmen of Natchez, Miss., that if they proceeded with their threatened wholesale firing of Negro workers, the businessmen would find themselves "involved in a nationwide struggle."

The warning was issued in a statement released by Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, chairman, NAACP Board of Directors, and Roy Wilkins, the Association's executive director, following its adoption by the NAACP Board Executive Committee at its regular monthly meeting here, Monday, November 8.

Supports

The entire Association, the statement said, "fully supports its Natchez Branch in the drive for equal job opportunity, for desegregation of the public schools and all public facilities and accommodations, for equality of courtesy, and for the right to vote."

Negroes in Natchez, under leadership of Charles Evers, NAACP field director for Mississippi, have been conducting an effective boycott of downtown merchants in pursuit of these goals.

Threats

The NAACP Board statement further said: "The threat by certain businessmen of Natchez to discharge all Negro employees unless the drive for equality is abandoned will not deter NAACP members and their associates in that city. Rather, it will bring to their active support the full political and legal resources of the national organization and all its local units throughout the country."

"We will not sit passively by," the statement asserted, "while our members and supporters in Natchez are being penalized for carrying out NAACP policy."

Omaha NAACP Divided Into Three Chapters

New York—The official reorganization of the Omaha, Neb., Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People into three neighborhood chapters was scheduled to begin Monday, Nov. 15.

Gloster B. Current, NAACP director of branches and field administration, said the Omaha Branch would be divided into smaller community-level units in accordance with the multiple branch proposal adopted by the National NAACP Board of Directors at its meeting Sept. 14, 1964.

Multiple Branch

The multiple branch plan was devised "to enable large branches located in metropolitan cities to better serve the total community by giving area problems the wisdom and attention of area organization and leadership," he said.

The multiple branch idea was formulated also, he said, "to enlist a greater number of members, to develop new leadership, and to improve the organizational structure of the NAACP."

Elsewhere

Under the plan, an NAACP branch has been organized to serve the following areas of Omaha: South; North and West; and Central and Near Northside.

Mr. Current also announced that plans are under way for introduction of the multiple branch system in Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and Kansas City, Mo. The process has already been initiated in Los Angeles and completed in Houston and Dallas, Texas.

Children's choir of Kyles A.M.E. Zion church directed by Mrs. Bertha Cassell. A Composition, The Eternal Flame, written by Fredric Harris will be sung by Walter Henderson, Des Moines Tech student, Iowa State Fair Talent winner. Maurice Johnson will preside at the organ.

Mrs. Joseph Wimberly will represent the John F. Kennedy club which will sponsor the memorial service. A simulation of the Eternal Flame at the Kennedy gravesite in Arlington National Cemetery, will be on the altar below a draped portrait of President Kennedy.

Bessemer Steel

A joint complaint was filed against the U. S. Steel Corporation and the United Steelworkers of America, Bessemer, Ala. A complaint was also filed on behalf of NAACP members in Macon, Ga., against the Georgia State Employment Service.

Typical of the complaints was the one filed on behalf of Anderson L. Dobbins, a member of the Cincinnati NAACP Branch.

A graduate of Hampton Institute, Dobbins has been certified as a journeyman electrician by the Electrical Underwriters Institute and has been working as such for the past ten years.

SUPPORT BRITAIN IN RHODESIAN CRISIS, NAACP URGES PRESIDENT

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on November 12, called upon President Lyndon B. Johnson to implement immediately his assurance of "co-operation with Great Britain in reversing the decision" of the all-white government of Rhodesia withdrawing from the British Commonwealth of Nations under a constitution which severely restricts the franchise and other rights of 4,000,000 Africans.

In a telegram to the President, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins noted that "our national policy and long tradition demand strong and effective supporting steps against the naked racist policy of the white Rhodesian rebels."

The full text of Mr. Wilkins' telegram follows:

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People urges United States to back up your recent assurance that our country will support action of Great Britain in Rhodesia. Our national policy and long tradition demand strong and effective supporting steps against the naked racist policy of the white Rhodesian rebels. It is intolerable that five percent of the Rhodesian population, already enjoying more than ten times the annual income of the remaining ninety-five percent, should be permitted in the twentieth century to continue this racial and economic slavery. This grave international situation calls for immediate implementation of your assurance.

Hill, who filed the complaints, stated that "the complaint by Mr. Dobbins demonstrates that ten years after the merger between the AFL-CIO, the pattern of discriminatory practices by the skilled craft unions remains intact."

Over 800

Since the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has been in operation since July, the NAACP has filed over 800 of the approximately 1,400 complaints received by the Commission.

Mr. Hill urged Herman Edelsburg, executive director of the Commission, to use the full powers of the Commission against unions and the controllers of the building and construction industry to secure compliance with Title VII. Wilkins in reversing the decision at Salisbury, Negro Americans and, indeed, the vast majority of all Americans, fully support whatever measures may be necessary to suppress this racist revolt.

Richmond, Va.—Some 45 complaints have been filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity commission, charging employment bias within the state, it was disclosed last week. Of the total, 32 were based on race, 11 on sex, and two were unspecified.

REFUSES TO PURGE

Detroit — Although the Detroit Public Library will no longer buy books of children's rhymes by modern authors which contain passages belittling racial or ethnic groups, it will not undertake to rewrite history and purge it of the racial slurs of the past. The library commission, in adopting this policy, referred to a complaint about "Ten Little Niggers" rhyme in the Oxford Book of Nursery Rhymes, which is published in Britain.

Named Palsy Chairman

Douglas Du Bay, 6705 Washington Ave., has again been named general chairman of the 1966 nine-county fund raising campaign for United Cerebral Palsy of Central Iowa, it was announced today by Morris Spence, president and supervisor of the Des Moines Public School's Special Education Department.

The campaign, the third planned by the health organization, will be conducted in 76 communities in the area Jan. 16-Feb. 29, 1966.

Luncheon to Honor Constance B. Motley For Work With NAACP Legal Defense Fund

New York—Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, Manhattan borough president, will be honored Nov. 20 for her work as associate counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

Mrs. Motley will be guest of honor at the 17th anniversary luncheon of the National Committee for Rural Schools at New York's Hotel Commodore.

Committee

The committee, organized by Miss Rae Bradstein of New York to aid children attending second-rate, rural southern schools, annually honors two persons for outstanding contributions to civil and human rights.

Also honored this year will be Gerry Wors, national president of the State, County and Municipal Workers Union, who fought discrimination as he organized hospital workers throughout the nation.

Election

Mrs. Motley, who won a landslide election to the borough presidency this week, served nearly 20 years with the Legal Defense Fund before being elected by Manhattan city councilmen to fill a unexpired term as borough president last year.

Beginning as a Legal Defense Fund law clerk while still a student at Columbia University Law School in 1945, she rose to the number two administrative post behind Fund Director-Counsel Jack Greenberg.

Gained Prominence

A former state senator and one of the few women civil rights lawyers in the nation, Mrs. Motley gained national prominence when she led the legal fight that resulted in the enrollment of James Meredith at the University of Mississippi in 1962.

Mrs. Motley also led the Legal Defense Fund teams that opened the doors of the University of Alabama (despite Gov. George Wallace's abortive stand in the doorway), University of Georgia, University of Florida and Clemson College, S.C.

EARLY DEADLINE NEXT WEEK

To have an electrical power failure the extent of the one in the eastern United States last week, is rather sobering, isn't it? We take so much for granted in this great United States! And when you think of it the world of automation which seemingly simplifies so much in machinery for us, in the home and business and industry, and our public services, can so easily be reduced to pathetic helplessness by the failure of a very small device to do its job. Like the newsman said, "This looks like our (United States) Achilles heel."

Don't forget we have an early

PAULINE B. HUMPHREY, Manager

Pheasant hunters flocked in drove to the hunting grounds in quest of the succulent wild birds they hope to ply their holiday table with for feasting by relatives, family and friends . . . The Iowa Hawkeyes continued along their losing ways. Fans cry loud and long, "What a shame!" but they seem to forget a fact of life. Winning and losing are parts of the game. Just as you have long winning streaks they are apt to be balanced by long losing streaks. After all the great teams like Notre Dame and others had their very bad days too. So why not Iowa? . . . Activity at the Crescent Beauty school increased to that resembling a beehive over the weekend as it was the site for the 14th annual Iowa educational and beauticians clinic. Some of the nation's top cosmetologists, and technicians and stylists were on hand to demonstrate the latest or improved in modern hair care. Somehow, some of the colors were even more spectacular than the styles.

Crescent Beauty school owned and managed by Mrs. Pauline B. Humphrey, has long been a nerve center and mecca for the training of qualified teachers and beauty operators. Directly and indirectly it and its students and graduates have contributed much to the economy of the city and state as well as to the well-being and grooming of its clients and citizenry. Mrs. Humphrey, who is a member of the National Beauty Culturists League, Inc., board, has long been a spearhead of cosmetology in Iowa and through her activities and achievements, has placed Iowa high in the ranks of successful, qualified beauticians.

LINDSAY SHOWS IT CAN BE DONE

The victory of John Lindsay, in his bid for mayor of New York, has made a lot of people guess what and how it happened, particularly in view of the fact that Democrat registration exceeded that of Republicans 3 to 1.

It is remarkable how in many of the big cities a close-knit political machine has elected its slate of officers year in and year out; a few key people get jobs, a few slickers grow fat on gambling, prostitution, pays off and other types of crime while the masses of the people live under conditions that are almost unfit for a dog.

Lindsay conducted a campaign much as did Gov. Rockefeller during his first election. He went to Harlem and the Puerto Rican areas and fraternized with the people. He talked their language as a result of which he received a larger vote from these people than any Republican for years back.

Lindsay did the same thing and he got a good vote.

But best of all, he refused to endorse Senator Goldwater last year; he refused to subscribe to the conservative line of action which did much to drive minorities out of the party.

Republicans may as well decide now that it must follow the leadership of the liberal wing of the party if it ever hopes to capture the ground it lost. The sooner the better. The decision to do so has been put off too long already.

Lindsay has shown what can be done if a candidate faces the people with forward thinking and action.

MOTIVE VARIES—THEY

NEED CORRECTION

A prospective Negro customer walked into an establishment, selected the item he went to buy. The clerk said "is this cash or charge?" The customer said "charge".

The proper papers were prepared and the customer was asked to sign which he did: "James Doughton". At the completion of the transaction the clerk said "thanks James, come back again".

The customer reminded the clerk that he had never met him before, that his short acquaintance gave no license to call him "James" and that to do so might be taken as an attempt to belittle him.

This is a thing which happens often: some by people whom the customer has never met; some do so because they don't know better; some as an act of "cutting him down to size."

It is always better to firmly and yet politely correct people who do these things for their motive cannot be determined with snap judgment on the spot. Most people will appreciate the reminder. And while no reputable business endorses this type of salesmanship, such things show that they have had no instructions along these lines when taught how to treat customers.

BURNS OUT AS

IOWA FOOTBALL COACH

The board of control of athletics has fired Jerry Burns as head football coach at the University of Iowa. Burns has had five seasons at the post each becoming progressively worse.

The Bystander has said prior to this season and again this season that Burns was not the type of leader to make a successful football coach. As an assistant to Evie, he did an excellent job and was hand picked by Evie to succeed him.

The decision to fire a man is often hard to make. The board gave Burns every opportunity to produce a good team. Not only did he fail to win games, but his teams did not play sound football and often gave evidence of poor coaching.

When Burns took over, Iowa was rated the No. 1 team of the nation. It dropped further from that spot every game it played.

The board should hire a coach who has proven his ability to coach and get results. It will do no good to look for a cheap coach and expect improvement in football at Iowa.

What is there left to say??

This is the first time in years that IOWA failed to win a Big Ten game. It doesn't look any better for this week-end. The last opponent, North Carolina State wasn't supposed to win a game; but the fellas forgot to read the script and in winning their last four games have shut out their last opponents. Looks like another long afternoon! But, still we have always contended that football is 50 per cent luck and 40 per cent emotion and 10 per cent ability. By luck we mean keeping your key players intact for all the way, keeping away from the big penalties at times when they hurt and getting good bounces on the ball.

Big Penalties

Keeping away from the big penalties is important and you'd be surprised how much luck plays a part in it. For instance, your opponent has third down and about 10 yards to go; you burst in there and get the passer by the head just as he starts down he turns his head and your fingers slide into his face mask. So they have first down instead of fourth. This happens a lot of times.

Then maybe your runner is off for a long gain and you throw a block at an opponent. Just as you start your contact the guy changes directions and you hit him from behind and there goes your long gain. You'd never guess how many times this happens. Very few players deliberately clip another because of the danger of serious injury; but the official has to call it to keep the game honest. These are some of the things that sometimes decide big games.

Better Proof

What better proof of the emotional side of football can be offered than the Alabama State-Nebraska game. Here was a team that figured to lose by 20 or more points but they came out all fired up and but for one of the breaks we mentioned . . . a 15-yard piling on penalty that kept that last Nebraska drive going the Oklahoma boys would have staged the upset of the year.

Then there was Indiana battling Ohio State all the way for three quarters until they ran out of gas. Those were fine examples of what spirit means to a team. Iowa had that spirit at times but never seemed to stay away from the break that decided the game against them. Maybe the Hawks will come out fired up for this one and bring it in.

Iowa State

Iowa State really but on a show and now the Cyclone rooters are yelling, "wait until next year." Drake has begun to sputter to a stop after a fine start; but still they will have a good year.

If Iowa State gets their stadium to seat maybe 40,000 they might get that game with Iowa.

Michigan played Michigan State but it was always at Ann Arbor until State built that big stadium. Forty thousand five dollar seats draw a lot of good teams. Right now Iowa U. does not feel like playing State before a big crowd at Iowa City one year and then going to that cracker box where the Hawks share would not be as much as they make on concessions at Iowa City. Dollars mean a lot in college football today. Football pays too many bills to be played before small crowds.

High School

Norm McCune and Jack Johnson made the All-City offensive team and it would have been news if they hadn't. The pickers incidentally didn't know what to do with Herb Cawthorne who is a fine passer so they put him at defensive safety.

Willie Mays Voted National MVP for Second Time

Boston, Mass.—Centerfielder Willie Mays of the National league runner-ups, San Francisco Giants, won the league's Most Valuable Player award for the second time last week. He won out over pitcher Sandy Koufax and Maury Wills of Los Angeles.

The 34-year-old Mays, who first won the M.V.P. Award in 1954, was the only player named on 20 ballots cast by two members of the Baseball Writers Association of America in each of the 10 National League cities.

Mays received nine first place votes, 10 seconds and one third in piling up 224 points.

Koufax, who captured the Cy Young Memorial Award as baseball's top pitcher after a 26-8 record this year, polled 177 points. Wills, the Dodgers' speedy shortstop, drew 164. Mays became only the fifth player since 1931 to win the M.V.P. Award more than once.

Stan Musial captured the honor in 1943, '46 and '48; Roy Campanella in '51, '53, and '55; Carl Hubbell in '33 and '36, and Ernie Banks in '58 and '59.

Koufax and Wills, who sparked the Dodgers to the pennant and a World Series victory over Minnesota, were left off two ballots. Koufax, who won the M.V.P. award in 1963, polled six first place votes.

Mays moved into fifth place among baseballs all-time home run sluggers.

Sugar Ray Gets
Nailed; Retires

Pittsburgh—(NPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, who in his heyday was perhaps the greatest fist fighter, pound for pound, the ring has ever seen, last week got nailed good and was almost knocked out by young, ambitious Joey Archer, a man he could have beaten for breakfast in his prime.

SUGAR RAY

But with 26 years of professional fighting behind him, Sugar Ray was over the other side of the hill. He had his jolt from weariness when Archer floored him for a nine count in the fourth round of their scheduled ten-round.

Afterwards, Robinson, who had hopes of topping his own five-time record by winning the middleweight title for a sixth time, said sadly he would retire.
