Racial Conflict Breaks Out Anew in Natchez

Natchez, Miss.—Racial conflict broke out here again three days before Christmas as police officials attempted to curb NAACP-sponsored picketing of downtown stores which continue to discriminate against Negroes.

Half-a-dozen persons were beaten, allegedly by police, during a scuffle. The victims were then arrested and charged with inciting, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. All have been released on bail.

The disorders started on Dec. 21 with the arrest and beating of Annie May Wiley, a 15-year-old picket, at one of the stores which rejected the demand of the Negro community for jobs and courtesy. A man who came to her rescue was also beaten.

Also Beaten

The next morning, Robert Moore, a white youth and picket, was also beaten and seriously injured. When police started shoving Negroes around in the downtown area Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, the disturbance broke out.

The police action was in violation of the agreement reached between the Negro community and city officials on Dec. 3. Under terms of that agreement, jointly announced by Mayor John J. Nossor and Charles Evers, NAACP field director for Mississippi, "no member of the Police Department is to use undue force, verbal abuse or brutality in discharging his duties."

Mr. Evers, who has been directing a similar movement under NAACP sponsorship in nearby Fayette, hastened back to Natchez to aid in settling the issue there.

DR. CHARLES WESLEY TO WRITE NEGRO HISTORY

Washington, D. C.—Dr. Charles H. Wesley, who recently retired as President of Central State College, Ohio, and who presently serves as Executive Secretary of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, is completing the history of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, Inc. The announcement is made by Mrs. Mamie B. Reese of Albany, Georgia, National President.

Aides

The distinguished educator accepted the project several years ago while he was associated professionally with the late Dr. Hallie Quinn Brown, a former president of NACWC and long time member of the faculty of Wilberforce University. Working closely with Dr. Wesley during the initial research were the two immediate past presidents of the National Association—the late Mrs. Irene McCoy Gaines of Chicago, and Dr. Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit.

Goal

The goal to complete the volume by mid-1966 will coincide with the celebration of the 70th year of the establishment of NACWC. The Association was founded in 1896 in Washington, D. C. with Dr. Mary Church Terrell as first president. It is the oldest organization for Negro women in America with Federated Clubs in forty states, including Alaska. The membership numbers more than 100,000.

Mrs. C. Berry Knocked Down, Robbed of $445 Xmas Eve

A Des Moines Christmas spirit received a severe jolt here last Friday when she was knocked down and robbed of her purse which contained $445 in cash, $140 in checks and jewelry.

Mrs. Clementine Berry, 1142 Ascension street, said she was returning home from a party and had just unlocked the front door of her home when the man grabbed her, threw her to the ground and took the purse. The robbery took place about 5 a.m.

Also in the purse were four checks totaling $140, and a 1/2 carat diamond wristwatch and a 1/2 carat diamond necklace.

Mrs. Berry said the man ran after getting her purse. On the basis of Mrs. Berry's description of the thief, police put out a pickup order for "a Negro, about 40 years old, 6 feet tall, weighing 180 pounds, and wearing a dark jacket, a red shirt and a dark hat."

Service Academies Ask For More Negro Applicants

Washington—The U. S. military academies are looking for more Negro applicants, U. S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has announced.

In emphasizing the appeal for minority group youths to make application for the Army, Navy and Air Force Service academies, Mr. McNamara pointed out that it is the Department of Defense's determination to see that "military careers are free from discrimination and that opportunities for admission, assignment and advancement are completely equal."

Midshipmen

Last August, during a conference with President Johnson, Executive Director Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People made the observation that only nine Negroes were among the 4,000 midshipmen at the Naval Academy. As a result, President

Mrs. Cole—who as Maria Ellington sang with big bands such as Count Basie before her marriage in 1947—is getting set to resume a singing career.

She is going to use the proceeds to aid the Nat King Cole Cancer Foundation, she discloses in Ebony.

Maria Cole has set a 5-year limit for her new career, she tells Ebony. "I don't plan to become an institution. My personal ego makes me want to be a success, but, if I am, five years should suffice."

Johnson ordered a probe to determine why so few Negroes were enrolled in the service school.

Only 29

A Pentagon spokesman confirmed Wilkins' observation as well as the fact that there were only 29 Negroes among the 2,529 cadets at West Point and 14 out of 2,512 airmen at the Air Force Academy.

In his announcement, McNamara said all young men of high scholastic achievement, leadership potential, good character and good physical condition are being urged to seek admission to the service academies.

He said students desiring to enter an academy upon graduation from high school should apply late in the spring of their junior year and graduating seniors who have not previously applied should do so early in the fall of their senior year.

Congressman

Each applicant, he said should write to his Congressman or Senator if a Congressional nomination is sought or to the Registrar or Dean of Admissions at the academy. Addresses are:

Registrar, The United States Military Academy, West Point, New York 10996.

Dean of Admissions and Registrar, The United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. 21402.

Registrar, The United States Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80840.

Youth 20, Shot in Attempted Robbery At Service Station

A charge of assault with intent to commit robbery was filed against Harold McQuarry, 20, of 229 S.E. 29th street who was wounded in the left shoulder as he and a younger companion attempted to hold up a service station here early Friday morning.

McQuarry was treated at Broadlawn Polk County hospital for a gunshot wound in the left shoulder then was taken to city jail. He was arraigned last Friday. His 17-year-old companion was referred to Polk County Juvenile court.

At 5 A.M.

James Hazelbaker, 44, of 1540 Glenwood drive, the attendant at Dean's Phillips 66 Station, 1005 University ave., told police that two youths walked into the station about 5 a.m. and pointed a gun at him.

Hazelbaker reported to officers that he earlier had had "a premonition" that something was going to happen at the station and that he had placed a pistol on his lap with a grease rag over it.

He said that when the youths tried to hold him up he pointed his own gun at them and said "we can both play the same game."

"Not Loaded"

Hazelbaker said the youth identified as McQuarry said, "Don't shoot—this gun isn't loaded and is broken."

The attendant said the two youths started to leave and that he told them, "Halt, or I'll blow your brains out."

When they kept running, Hazelbaker fired his pistol, knocking McQuarry to the floor.

The second youth, who police said is 17 years old, ran from the scene and was arrested about an hour later at a friend's house.

NAACP Fights Union Bias in Cincinnati Building Trades

Cincinnati, O.—Following the refusal by officials of Local 212 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers even to acknowledge an NAACP request for a conference, the NAACP plans to renew demonstrations protesting union bias in the building trades, it was announced here this week.

The NAACP has long sought an ending to union discrimination in the building trades and a sit-in demonstration at the office of Local 212 of the Electrical Workers on Dec. 2 resulted in several arrests.

Request

On Dec. 14, the NAACP requested a conference with the union to discuss the NAACP charges that the union has been and is still deliberately excluding Negro workmen from membership in both the journeyman and apprenticeship classifications in direct violation of Federal, state and local laws.

Will Head New Federal Literacy Training Group In the Nation's Capitol

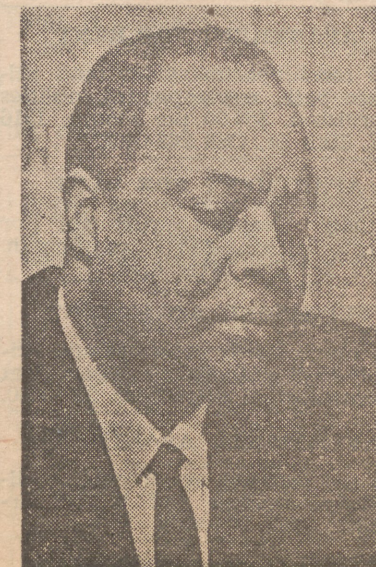

Washington, D. C.—James Farmer will resign as national director of the Congress of Racial Equality which he has held since its inception, to become president of a new nationwide-literacy-training program financed by federal and private anti-poverty funds.

A spokesman for CORE Saturday confirmed the impending resignation of Farmer. Greg Harris, the CORE spokesman, said a successor "is now being selected."

The effort to reduce illiteracy among Negroes and members of other minority groups is the first large continuing national project to have the support of most major groups in the civil rights field. One forecast here Saturday was that the literacy and training program eventually would involve expenditures of "millions of dollars."

Farmer is expected to come to Washington this spring as president of the Center for Community Action Education, Inc. The non-profit agency is referred to by government and CORE officials as "the Center."

The organization will have such civil rights leaders on its policymaking board of directors as the Rev.

FARMER MOVES TO NEW FIELDS

James Farmer, who headed the Congress for Racial Equality for the past 23 years, has resigned. He is to head a new nationwide literacy training program to be financed by the federal government and private funds.

Farmer is expected to go to Washington this spring as president of the Center for Community Action Education, Inc. The non-profit agency is referred to by government and CORE officials as "the Center."

A spokesman for CORE Saturday confirmed the impending resignation of Farmer. Greg Harris, the CORE spokesman, said a successor "is now being selected."

The policy making board is composed of representatives of the leading civil rights groups which indicates that the project has the blessing of the parent bodies.

In the haste to improve the civil rights of the Negro, organization leaders had little time to carry on a program which would raise the general level of the race to keep pace with the full enjoyment of civil rights.

This is a noble undertaking if plans are laid carefully and the message gotten over to those who need it most. Apparently social organizations and the churches have not taken full advantage of the opportunity to do a good job in this direction.

The Bystander observed recently that an organization of high school students had been formed to teach youngsters what to wear. This is excellent and we hope the Negro students will participate fully for some of their dress is hideous too.

Anything which will raise the general level of the people so that they may know better how to live will help the whole racial problem.

STRIKES BY SCHOOL TEACHERS DEPLORED

Teachers in St. John University in New York are threatening a strike against the school charging that the refusal to meet their demands for suggested changes violates their academic freedom.

The AFL-CIO is supporting the proposed strike with both their influence and money. The university is resisting the move claiming that strikes have no place on university campuses.

It does seem that when people reach the university level as teachers they should be wise enough to be willing to negotiate present differences and try again later.

America is fighting a war today because men did not settle their differences by peaceful methods. Nations have not reached the stage where the conference table is a substitute for a battlefield.

The Bystander has never favored strikes by school teachers because they are strikes against the state and set a bad example before youngsters who, after all, learn a lot from teachers.

It seems that every entity of our country is organized primarily to push its demands. Basically, the combinations are formed to get the maximum out of what they do. Naturally the heads of labor support them. It's all right to work for advances, but it does seem that our civilization should have reached the point where men can settle their differences peacefully. If nothing else, they should be an example for nations to follow.

RIGHTS GROUPS CHALLENGE HOSPITAL BIAS

Washington—The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund and representatives of thousands of Negro physicians last week questioned the sincerity of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in enforcing non-discrimination provisions of the Civil Rights Act.

In statements released here, the Legal Defense Fund, the 5,000-member National Medical Association (NMA) and the 3,000-member Medical Committee for Human Rights (MCHR) charged HEW Secretary John W. Gardner with shirking his responsibilities under Title VI of the Act.

Title VI calls for withholding of Federal funds from local agencies that discriminate.

Representatives of the three groups met with Assistant HEW Secretary James M. Quigley, who is in charge of enforcing Title VI, to discuss Federal aid to medical facilities, payment of funds under the Medicare program and investigation of complaints of discrimination.

This was just another year in the milestone of our life but there were a few things we got a kick out of writing about. Such as the genuine happiness among fight fans over the win of Floyd Patterson over George Chuvalo. The packed Madison Square Garden house gave the guy a standing ovation. The remarkable showing of the Iowa University-Iowa State and Drake basketball teams. The number of top ranked college teams with at least three Negroes in their starting lineups. This was the greatest running of all the Drake Relays and the performances of our Negro schools was a source of pride.

We recall we wondered what the Iowa U coaching staff had in mind when they limited their spring football practice to incoming sophomores and juniors. Didn't turn out too well either.

The major league pennant races never gave anybody a chance to relax until the Minnesota Twins busted the American league race wide open.

We picked the Dodgers and Yankees; we were half right. The Twins caught on here in Des Moines and lots of people found excuses to get up to Minnesota on weekends when the ball club was home. Here we never had an all-Negro softball or baseball club in major competition; although Negroes were well sprinkled around on all the clubs. We were proud of the way our Hilltop tennis meet closed in spite of competition from Cedar Rapids. That conflict caused us to miss our first Cedar Rapids date in years. Even Negroes who wouldn't know a tennis ball from a boiled egg were talking about Arthur Ashe and his fine play in major meets.

Then there was the long dreary football season for Iowa U which culminated with the firing of Coach Jerry Burns. The new guy may not do too well but he isn't going to fail because he had a race complex. For the first time in Big Ten history there is a Negro assistant grid coach on a full time basis.

Drake had a good season and now is thinking about getting into the Valley grid play again. Iowa State was tough and now looks forward to 1966.

The high school race here was a merry scramble with East winning the title and North probably the best team at the end of the season.

We were gratified that just about every sport in schools had Negro participants on them and they weren't just along for the ride. That went for colleges also.

There may have been a lot of things we have overlooked but we must say that 1965 was quite a year. What could we say about the two title defenses of Cassius or the retirement of Sugar Ray Robinson for good we hope?

Services for Fred Bryson, 67, of 2025 Washington ave., will be at 10 a.m. Monday at Estes & Son Funeral Home, with burial at Glendale Cemetery. Mr. Bryson died Wednesday at Veterans Hospital after an illness of about three weeks.

Mr. Bryson, a native of Shawsville, Va., was a Des Moines resident for 25 years. He was a retired railroad worker and a World War I veteran. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Lulu Moore of Des Moines, a brother, Eugene Bryson of Ottumwa, and two sons, Fred, Jr., and Roy, both of Shawsville.

Union

by the NAACP to John Appairius, secretary of the Building Trades Council, was not answered.

No Answer
To date, the NAACP has not received an answer to another letter sent on Dec. 8 to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, requesting that he "lend the full weight of your office to the implementation of the AFL-CIO non-discriminatory policies, that you send a team of representatives to Cincinnati to this end and that you insist that these unions comply with the Federal, state and municipal laws."

Sayers Named Rookie of Yr., Brown, Most Valuable Player In Pro-Football Ranks for '65

New York City—Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' halfback, has been voted rookie of the year in the National Football League, winning by a landslide in the voting of a panel of 42 sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 14 league cities.

Hours later Jim Brown, everybody's choice for All-Star fullback, with the Cleveland Browns, was named the most Valuable Player in the National Football League in an Associated Press poll.

Brown, always a controversial figure, easily won his eighth rushing title in nine years as a pro with 1,544 yards in 279 carries.

It was his second best year but short of his record of 1,863 in 1963. He broke Lenny Moore's touchdown record with 21 but finished second to Sayers, who wound up with 22.

The Cleveland Browns' ace, who will be 30 on Feb. 17, has said repeatedly that 1966 will be his last year. He is working on a term contract that expires after the next season.

Sayers, the former Kansas star received 35 votes, fullback Ken Willard of the San Francisco 49ers drew four and linebacker Dick Butkus of the Bears got three.

Sayers simply was sensational. There was no other word for it.

Ties Record

The six touchdowns he scored against San Francisco, tying the mark set by Ernie Nevers in 1929, and the record-breaking total of 22 touchdowns in his first season made him a standout in a year of good rookies.

"They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake, and rise and fight and win.
"Wait not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I turn the records of the day—

At sunrise every soul is born again!
"Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgment seals the dead past with its dead.
But never binds a moment yet to come.
"Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;
I lend my arm to all who say: 'I can.'
No shamefaced outcast sank so deep,
But ye might rise and be a man!

Does reel from righteous retribution's blow?
Then turn from blotted archives of the past
And find the future pages white as snow.
"Art thou a mourner? Rouse thee from thy spell,
Art thou a sinner? Sins may be forgiven;
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to heaven."

Telephone Excise Tax Reduced January 1

Northwestern Bell Telephone Company reminded its customers today that beginning Jan. 1, telephone bills will show a reduction in Federal Excise Tax. For most telephone services, local and long distance, the tax will drop from the present 10% to 3%.

According to J. E. Trabert, district manager here, this is the first step in the gradual elimination of the excise tax authorized by the last Congress. Each succeeding January for 3 years there will be additional 1% cut until the tax is completely eliminated at the start of 1969.

"The telephone customer will realize all the savings resulting from this reduction," Trabert said, "since the telephone company has merely been collecting the tax for the Federal government."

significant facts about chronic bronchitis: (1) Most of its victims live in cities beset by an air pollution problem; (2) practically all of them are, or have been, heavy cigarette smokers.

Acute bronchitis — distinguished from the chronic form in that it strikes suddenly, hard, and soon goes away—affects just about everyone at some time or another. It's an inflammation of the lining of the bronchial tubes, which connect the windpipe with the lungs. Air flow to and from the lungs becomes difficult, and heavy phlegm is coughed up. These symptoms often accompany a severe cold.

Chronic Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis occurs when coughing and expectorating last for months and return each year—usually for a longer spell than the year before. Since the people to whom this happens are mostly cigarette smokers, a mellow myth has grown up to the effect that this kind of cough is "just a smoker's cough" with the implication that it's a sort of jolly, harmless nuisance and nothing more.

People who get chronic bronchitis may have bronchial tubes that were irritated by bacteria at some earlier time. Or the irritation may have started with another disease such as influenza or with infected tonsils, or with an allergy. But the most common causes of irritation are cigarettes and contaminated air.

About 275,000 case of chronic bronchitis were reported in 1964, according to the National Tuberculosis Association, which combats all ailments of the breathing system. About 3,500 persons died of the disease; in how many deaths it was a contributing factor would be hard to say.
