Mississippi Fire-Bomb Death Shocks President

Explosion Destroyed Home, Store; Injured Wife and Daughter

Hattiesburg, Miss.—A Negro civil rights leader, who in first reports Monday was not seriously injured, died the same day of burns suffered in a pre-dawn firebomb attack that destroyed his home and small store.

Injuries

Vernon Dahmer, 58, suffered burns on his face and hands. His wife, Ellie, and 10-year-old daughter, Betty, were injured also while fleeing the subsequent fire which destroyed their four-bedroom frame home near here.

The attack came one day after Dahmer was described in a radio-broadcast as a leader of a vote registration drive in this area.

Dahmer Said

Dahmer, talking to a newsman from his hospital bed after the attack, said:

"I've been active in trying to get people to register to vote. People who don't vote are deadbeats on the state. I figure a man needs to do his own thinking. What happened to us can happen to anybody, white or black. At one time I didn't think so, but I have changed my mind."

He was awakened by gunshots about 2:30 a.m. He said he grabbed a shotgun and fired several blasts at a rapidly disappearing car before fleeing with his family from the house.

Tires Punctured

Officers found a car, with its tires punctured by shotgun pellets, abandoned about 2½ miles from the Dahmer home.

Kappas Reelect Thomas Bradley, Hear Dr. Ralph Abernathy

Boston, Mass.—Thomas Bradley of Los Angeles, Calif. was reelected grand polemarch of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, as the group held its 53rd Grand Chapter meeting at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in downtown Boston Dec. 28-30.

More than 500 men attended the convention which emphasized a program of social awareness and civil rights throughout general session.

The conclave also spotlighted a round of formal balls, parties, dinners and other social events for the fraternity and in behalf of more than 200 women and scores of young people who came to Boston.

Bradley, a lawyer by profession, is a member of the Los Angeles City Council, a former police lieutenant and a former track star at U.C.L.A. This is his second term as grand polemarch, top executive office of the Kappas.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Nashville, Tenn.—Dr. Henry L. Taylor, a department head at Tennessee A. and I. State university here, has been director of the Schools, Education and Training State of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Community Development Service.

St. Louis, Mo.—David Earl McPherson of St. Louis last week became the first Negro in history to become a member of the Missouri State Highway Patrol. McPherson, 28, began work Jan. 3, along with 39 other officers.

Omaha, Neb.—The first public meeting of the Nebraska Negro Historical Society was held Jan. 9. The Society recently was incorporated as a non-profit organization bringing together those people interested in the history of Negroes in the development of Nebraska.

Minneapolis, Minn.—A Minneapolis Negro, a railroad dining car commissary executive, civic and political figure has been named to the Minneapolis Park board by Mayor Arthur Naftalin. He is Richard (Dick) Hall, Minneapolis assistant to the Superintendent of the Great Northern R.R. dining car department.

New York City—Guichard Parris, veteran public relations director of the National Urban League, was recently re-elected to a second one-year term as vice-chairman of the National Public Relations Council of Health and Welfare Services, Inc.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Michael Berry is one of six young men from Minneapolis nominated by Congressman Donald M. Fraser to compete for a vacancy at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

New York—A 24-year-old former prisoner, now a mental patient jailed for non-support found a novel way to provide the steady flow of money for his family—forging checks with the signature of the sheriff. He had gotten away with signing the sheriff's name.

Failure to Withhold Funds From Segregated Institutions Dismaying to Rights Groups

New York—The reluctance of the Johnson Administration to withhold funds from segregated schools under Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, "has alarmed civil rights groups," Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here Monday, (Jan. 3) in his report to the Association's annual meeting. This alarm, he said, stems from "the obscurantism" of the Administration's interpretation of the law and "the reluctance of its enforcement actions in the field of public education."

Dismay

"To the dismay of civil rights proponents, both the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Justice Department seem inclined to accept mere assurances from local school officials that their systems are in compliance" with the law, Wilkins asserted.

"In recent days new statements have been issued in Washington, seemingly uncompromising on the point of enforcement, but uneasiness in the civil rights camp persists. If Title VI, in effect, is repealed by administrative action, the most effective weapon for enforcement of school desegregation will have been lost," the NAACP leader said.

Effective

"Either an effective desegregation plan is put into effect or Federal funds should be withheld and this applies as truly to discrimination in the hospital and health fields as it does to education," he continued.

In an effort to enable Negroes to walk through the gates of opportunity, as proposed by President Johnson in his Howard University commencement address, "the NAACP will not only intensify its regular program, but will expand, as rapidly as funds permit, its citizenship clinics program," Wilkins said.

Pending

"The projected program on the training of parents in family cooperation with school and community policies, drawn up last fall, will not be held up pending full-scale financing. It will be launched at least on a pilot basis . . . In this new endeavor, the NAACP serves notice that it will enter, full scale, into work within the community. Heretofore our prime interest has been the elimination of artificial barriers and the securing of constitutional rights, with community work on the second level—in short, opening the freedom gates. We now seek to assist our people in the next phase of civil rights.

Review

In his report, Wilkins reviewed NAACP activities during 1965 in such areas as voter registration, legislation, employment, housing and education.

During 1966, he noted, "work is needed in school desegregation, not only in publicized protests, but in day-to-day dealings with parents, neighborhood groups, teachers, school boards and legislatures. The monumental problems of dropouts, textbook contents, classroom behavior and home environment are the legitimate concerns of civil rights groups at the local level.

Leontyne Price Awarded 50th Spingarn Medal

New York—Metropolitan opera star Leontyne Price received the 50th Spingarn Medal of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at special ceremonies at the NAACP's 1966 annual Fellowship dinner at the New York Hilton Hotel on Jan. 2.

The Medal, awarded annually to an American Negro for highest achievement, was presented to Miss Price by Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The honor was given to Miss Price "in recognition of her divinely inspired talent, in tribute to her extraordinary achievement as the outstanding soprano of our era, and in appreciation of her priceless contribution as artist, citizen and person to the continuing crusade for justice, equality and understanding among the peoples of the world."

The Metropolitan Opera diva was described as a "golden-voiced opera singer, ambassador of good will and exemplar of universal brotherhood."

Star Basketball Player Appeals to District Court To Overrule School Board

Waterloo, Ia.—A 17-year-old Waterloo East High school senior and outstanding basketball player, with his 16 year-old bride, went into District court here Friday, Jan. 7 seeking to overturn a school board rule that prevents him from playing basketball at the school. He is Ronald Green, who was one of the stars on last year's East High team which only lost once in 24 games.

Specific Rule

The Waterloo School has a rule specifically prohibiting married students from taking part in any extra-curricular activity, including basketball. Green was married last August.

The basketball season is half over but Green took his case to court claiming the school board rule is arbitrary, unreasonable and a denial of the equal right under the Iowa and United States Constitution.

Green's name to nine checks, ranging in amounts from $75 to $250, for a total of $1200.

Newark, N. J.—When Charles A. Matthews, 43, is formerly elected in January, he will become the first Negro chief executive of county government in New Jersey, and possibly in the nation.

Tallahassee, Fla.—Two teachers groups—one white and one Negro—agreed to merge forces by July 1, 1966. Most of the state's 55,000 Negro and white school teachers will be affected by the planned merger of the Florida Education association and the Florida State Negro Teachers association.

4 FIRST-TERMERS AMONG 20 ELECTED TO NAACP BOARD

New York—Members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, voting in their local branches, chose six of ten candidates seeking election as members of the Association's Board of Directors at-large. Altogether 20 persons were elected to three-year terms on the Board, four for the first time. Miss Evelyn Roberts of St. Louis represents Region IV.

Results of the election, announced at the NAACP annual meeting here, Monday, January 3, showed the following winners: Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, New York City; Kivie Kaplan, Boston; Frank Reeves, Washington, D.C.; Theodore M. Berry, Cincinnati; Alfred Baker Lewis, Greenwich, Conn.; and Mrs. Margaret Bush Wilson, St. Louis.

School officials in turn argued that their rule protects students such as Green by preventing outside activities such as basketball to detract from their marriage, home responsibilities and an education.

Meet 4½ Hours

The 4½-hour hearing was held before District Judge Blair Wood, who was to hear final oral arguments at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11. His decision will come later.

On the surface, this case would appear to involve only Green, who may not even be able to make the East squad because he hasn't practiced.

But the implications of the matter go deeper because it is estimated that perhaps half the high schools in Iowa have rules similar to Waterloo's barring married students from outside activities.

Testimony

There was testimony here Friday about responsibility of marriage; about danger of early marriage; about school dropouts and marriage; about so-called undesirable influences of married students in high school.

Through it all Green sat impassive. He wore a neat suit, tie and white shirt. His mother sat in the audience. His wife, Sharon, 16, was not in court.

Played Guard

Green is 6 feet tall, weighs 180 pounds and last year played guard on the East High team that ran undefeated until it reached the state tournament. He scored an average of 8 points a game.

He was to have been a returning letterman for this year's team.

Green's Grades

Testimony showed that Green's grades for the recent fall semester included one A, one B and two Cs.

Sydney A. Thomas, a lawyer and school board president, testified that the married student rule was established in the fall of 1961. He testified that the board had discussed the matter at several meetings prior to the passage.

Mrs. Cecile Cooper of Bethel AME was installed as May Fellowship Day Chairman at the Annual Meeting of the United Church Women of Davenport. Installation activities took place at the Faith Evangelical United Brethren Church in Davenport, with The Rev. Heinz Grabia of Calvary Baptist church installing the 1966 officers.

Rev. Simeon T. Johnson of Bethel AME chose for his sermon topic on Sunday, January Ninth—"Flourishing Christians." Plans are being made for the annual Allen-Lincoln-Douglas Banquet in February, according to the banquet chairman, Mrs. Connie Overton. Further details will be announced later.

Legal Defense Fund Lawyers List 1966 Legal Emphasis

New York—Programs emphasizing employment, housing, health care, schools and administration of justice will be the focus for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund in 1966, Jack Greenberg, Fund director-counsel, said here today.

Noting "signs of disenchantment" with enforcement of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 evidenced in school segregation demonstrations in Crawfordville, Ga.; Natchez, Miss.; Huntsville, Texas and other communities, Mr. Greenberg said the Fund will emphasize implementation of the Act.

95 Per Cent

The Legal Defense Fund, which handles an estimated 95 per cent of all southern civil rights litigation not handled by the Justice Department, operated on a budget of $1.7 million last year. The 1966 budget is estimated at $2 million.

The first dozen suits charging employment discrimination under the Act were filed in 1965, he said, but indicated that many more will be filed this year.

1500 Complaints

Greenberg said the Legal Defense Fund will select the suits from more than 1,500 complaints filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission by the Fund and the NAACP.

The 1966 employment program will concentrate specifically on the southern textile industry, the construction trades and banking and finance. It will pay special attention to apprenticeship programs and -segregated lines of seniority.

Housing

Increased use of anti-trust laws to combat housing discrimination was also predicted by Greenberg. Housing is not covered by the Civil Rights Act.

One such suit in Trenton, N. J., last year resulted in the admission of a Negro realtor to the previously all-white realtors association.

Public Housing

The Legal Defense Fund also plans suits challenging site selection for public housing which virtually guarantees that the projects will be segregated, Mr. Greenberg said.

The Fund established in the courts that hospitals receiving Federal funds could not practice discrimination, but despite a Civil Rights Act section which specifically calls for cutting off Federal money from segregated facilities, government money is still being paid.

Part-time field workers in both northern and southern states, Mr. Greenberg said, will work to inform citizens of their rights with respect to health care.

School Suits

The workers will also help accelerate the filing of complaints with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Greenberg said the Fund will continue to file suits in precedent-making cases until HEW takes action to enforce the law.

More than 175 school cases are pending on the Legal Defense Fund docket, and new ones will be filed only when they can set new precedents, Mr. Greenberg said.

Suits will also be brought to integrate about 150 school districts which have refused Federal funds, and thereby been exempted from the

Testimonial Dinner Slated Saturday

The Hon. Marguerite Stitt Church, former U. S. congresswoman from Illinois' 13th district, will share the speakers' platform with Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky at the testimonial dinner for Fred Schwengel Saturday evening, Jan. 15, at Davenport's Hotel Blackhawk.

Schwengel, a Republican, recently announced his candidacy for a return to Congress as representative from Iowa's first district.

Mrs. Church, who resides in Evanston, Ill., was first elected to Congress in 1950 and served 12 years. For ten years she was a member of the important house committee on foreign affairs. She is a noted lecturer, author and civic worker.

Civil Rights Act.

The firing of Negro teachers, something totally neglected by HEW, will also be the subject of a great deal of litigation, Mr. Greenberg said.

Political Office For NAACP Officials Banned by Board

New York—The Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at its quarterly meeting here, Jan. 3, voted approval of Executive Director Roy Wilkins' memorandum of Dec. 22 calling upon NAACP branch and state conference presidents to resign from the presidency of the NAACP unit "upon assumption of elective public office."

The Board extended the policy to apply to the national president of the Association and to regional chairmen. Further, the 60-member Board voted to have a special committee study the whole question of NAACP officers elected or appointed to partisan political office.

Compromises

In his memorandum to all local units of the Association, Wilkins said that for the president of an NAACP branch to hold public office "compromises the non-partisan policy of the Association. A branch president is the official spokesman of the local branch. As an elected official, he is committed to the program and policy of the political party under whose banner he was elected to office. The interests of the political party may, at times, be at variance with those of the NAACP."

Georgia House Bars Seating of Bond, Viet Nam Protester

Atlanta, Ga.—Seven Negroes were sworn in Monday to be seated in the Georgia House of Representatives but Representative-elect Julian Bond, 25, civil rights worker, was prevented from taking a seat because of his endorsement of statements denouncing U.S. policy in Viet Nam and urging Americans to avoid the draft.

A special committee, named to investigate the challenge of Bond's loyalty to his country, reportedly voted 23-3 against seating him. The entire House voted 184-12 to bar him.

No Incident

The challenge took place without incident. A packed gallery watched quietly.

Minutes later, Bond left the House chamber. He became the target of a move to bar his seating last Friday, Jan. 7, after he endorsed a statement by the student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (S.N.V.C.C.) terming U. S. action in Viet Nam aggression and urging Americans to avoid the draft.

mer home. Officers said the owner reported it had been stolen. State and federal officials quickly joined Forrest County authorities in investigating. They said Dahmer told them at least one tear gas bomb was tossed into his house along with firebombs.

U.S. Atty. General

Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach, in Washington, said in a statement that President Johnson had expressed to him "his deep concern over the grievous tragedy" in Hattiesburg. Katzenbach said he advised the President that the FBI has an intensive investigation under way and that "the full resources of the (Justice) Department will be made available until the persons responsible are identified and apprehended."

"A Tragedy"

Katzenbach said: "The violent death of any man is a tragedy, but it is doubly tragic when the victim is a man like Vernon Dahmer. As a man many in the Department of Justice came personally to know and to respect, Mr. Dahmer was engaged in the highest kind of citizenship—helping to secure basic rights for his fellow citizens."

Dahmer was a past president of the Hattiesburg chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

His daughter Betty, 10, was listed in fair condition at the hospital. Mrs. Dahmer was treated and released. The couple's two sons, Harold, 26, and Dennis, 12, escaped injury.

Deputy Sheriff T. A. Woodward said the fire was started by a fire-bomb thrown into the house.

Vio'ence in Alabama In Voter Registration

Birmingham, Ala.—The first outbreak of violence in the two-week old voter registration drive here came Tuesday when about 300 Negro high school students went on a 90-minute rock throwing binge when they were barred by school officials from joining a voter registration demonstration. Later they marched on the Jefferson County Courthouse.

The voter registration drive was begun by Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference. An adult Negro leader reportedly shouted encouragement to the excited students who were surrounded on the school yard by a 6-foot high metal fence.

Police officers fired several shots.

HOWARD UNIVERSITY ANNOUNCES PLAN FOR YEAR-LONG OBSERVANCE OF 100TH YEAR

Washington, D. C.—Howard University officials today announced plans for a year-long observance of the school's 100th anniversary. The Centennial celebration will begin next September and continue through August 1967. The highlight of the observance is expected to be the annual Charter Day exercises, scheduled for Mar. 2, 1967, the 100th anniversary date of the granting of a charter for the establishment of the University by the 39th Congress of the United States.

gun blasts into the air to prevent the students from leaving the school. Rocks, bottles and sticks flew at the officers. There were no serious injuries. One rock smashed the window of a patrol car and another hit a policeman on the leg.

Faculty Locked Gates

Faculty members at Parker high, a four-year Negro high school, had locked the gates to keep the pupils from leaving. Police blocked the street. After about an hour and a half, several youths tore down part of the fence and ran across the street. They shouted at the others to follow.

Tore Down Fence

More and more youngsters escaped the school yard and faculty members finally told the remainder that they could go on their own responsibility.

An instructor at the school said unrest started at the school Monday when several white civil rights workers came to the school to recruit demonstrators. He said the rock throwing erupted Tuesday after the whites returned and again tried to coax the students away.

HEALTH FOR ALL

OF HEALTH AND HAZARDS

Now at last the verdict can be called final. Not only final, but a matter of history. And not only history, but law.

On January 1 the federal statute known as the Cigarette Labeling Act went into effect. Every package of cigarettes must now bear a printed message: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Hazardous to Your Health". This law, passed by both Houses of Congress and signed by the President, obviously expresses their combined opinion that the smoking of cigarettes can harm the smoker.

Link

Does anybody else agree? Practically everybody: the U. S. Public Health Service, the National Tuberculosis Association, the American Thoracic Society, the American Heart Association, the American Cancer Society, the American Public Health Association, the American School Health Association, and about a dozen other public and private health agencies have gone on record emphatically as believing that there is a link between cigarette smoking and certain diseases of the lungs and other organs.

Then why get excited? Don't they only repeat what most of us already know? Answer: they do a lot more.

Warning

Those nine little words of warning on every pack of cigarettes, placed there by order of the nation's highest legislative and executive authority, are a visible symbol of the cigarette threat and its seriousness. Protection of the public against specific products that may be harmful is the normal job of executive departments of the Government, not Congress. When Congress takes it on as a special case, you can be sure it's important.

Suggests

Whether you are a confirmed smoker, a beginner, or some one who's thinking about starting, your Christmas Seal organization suggests: Next time that "Hazardous-to-Your Health" label meets your eye, think of the things suffered by all the people whose case histories finally helped bring about the Cigarette Labeling Act.

To Name Negroes

George T. Smith, re-elected House speaker after the swearing-in, had said he would name a special committee to look into the Bond controversy.

Smith announced Monday that the special committee will include two of the seven other Negroes elected last June. Prior to Monday, there had been no Negro members in the House since 1907.

To Lubricate a Lock

If A LOCK becomes stiff and hard to operate, a temporary cure is available in any home in the form of a soft lead pencil. Simply rub the key until it is heavily coated with the graphite, and then turn it in the lock a few times. This treatment should make the lock work like new. Of course, you can use powdered graphite, which is available in most hardware stores. This lubricant is blown into the lock through the keyhole by squeezing the tube. The illustration appeared in The Home Craftsman.

Bacon Rolls

Peanut butter and bacon bits team up to make a flavor hit in Bacon Rolls.

Long a favorite combination, crumbled bacon and crunch-style peanut butter meet in new fashion in Bacon Rolls. The rolls are made from a beaten yeast batter that requires no kneading.

You'll find the "wheat and meat" combination of Bacon Rolls makes an ideal pick-up for a light supper of an omelet or souffle, hot vegetable, crisp salad and coffee.

The batter for Bacon Rolls is made with enriched flour to give three B vitamins and food iron. After the batter rises for an hour it is stirred down and spread in a greased, eight-inch square baking pan. Crumbled bacon is sprinkled over the top in rows, dividing the batter into 16 two-inch rolls. Pressing the bacon to the bottom of the pan firmly separates the rolls and gives a "bacony" taste all the way through.

When you haven't time for making yeast rolls at home you can still give your family a variety of tasty, enriched breads. Choose them from the wide selection at your bakery or food store.

Bacon Rolls

- | | |
|---|--------------------------------------|
| 1 package yeast, compressed or dry | 1 teaspoon salt |
| ¾ cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry) | 2 cups sifted enriched flour (about) |
| ½ cup milk | ¼ cup crunch-style peanut butter |
| ¼ cup brown sugar | 1 egg |
| | 2 slices bacon |

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add brown sugar and salt and cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup flour and peanut butter and beat until batter is smooth. Add softened yeast and egg. Mix well. Add enough more flour to make a thick batter. Beat thoroughly. Cover and let rise in warm place until bubbly (about 1 hr.). When light, stir down. Fry bacon until crisp. Makes 16 rolls.

Our jumping jack weather brought some sub-zero temperatures to the city but alas not long enough for ice-skating youngsters to get in on their favorite winter pastime. The snowless days, while welcome to drivers and many adults, are a little disappointing to youngsters. It is also hard on their shoes, which means they might go through an extra pair as they walk to and from school and participate in play.

We had several calls to inquire about the televised program on Negro History which was shown on KDPS-TV last week. We were naturally pleased to see the interest generated in the program. Perhaps the program will also stimulate an interest in reading some of the history of the Negro people, through many of the books that are available at the public library. There are many good, thought provoking books written on the subject by such noted, qualified authors and historians like, John Hope Franklin, E. Franklin Fraser, and others whom the librarians can direct you to read.

We were rather amused at several bantering remarks we heard lately. One came at the close of a dance as one gentleman referred to dancing as "legalized hugging." Sounds like a repartee for the comic dictionary.

Youngsters are always quick to turn the ordinary into the whimsical or point up the ridiculous aspect of an incident. For instance there is the commercial, we couldn't tell you which one, exactly, where the husband waiting for his wife and yells to her to hurry up, hears the reply, "I can't comb my hair." It seems some youngsters have turned this around to their fathers, particularly with beards of moustaches. As the couple hurry to go out, the wife urges her husband to hasten and he replies, "I can't get my moustache combed," and in desperation he sprays with his wife's hair spray.

A note arrived from Mrs. Leola Hubbard, secretary-receptionist at the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights:

"I am sending along this clipping from the Kansas City Kansan, which appeared last week. I thought perhaps you might be interested in it since Mr. Sidney Graham was a long time resident of Des Moines on the East Side. He moved to Kansas City with his oldest daughter after his health failed. Though perhaps you might want to include it in the Bystander since many people know Mr. Graham.

"I was in Kansas City over the weekend. John and I drove down to attend a retirement banquet which was given in honor of my father, who retired after 29 years, 10 months, 4 days of service with the Kansas City, Mo., Post Office.

"The Local Union there gave this affair in his honor because he organized it many years ago. I was glad that we were able to go and it was well worth the effort, and it

Museum Issues 1966 Negro History Calendar

A 1966 Negro History Freedom Calendar featuring pictures and biographies of 12 women who contributed to our nation's freedom, education, art and science has just been issued by The Museum of Negro History and Art, 3806 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

The 1966 Freedom Calendar is highly valuable for classroom use, for libraries, clubrooms, Sunday Schools and other groups according to Mrs. Margaret Burroughs, Museum Director. Mrs. Burroughs said that the material in the biographies of the twelve women honorees is not readily found elsewhere and "our children need to know about these women." She added that the time is long overdue that Negro women who have given so much to our nation should be properly honored.

Among the women cited are Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, founder of Bethune Cookman College; Mrs. Fannie Lou Hamer, freedom fighter from Mississippi; Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, campaigner against segregation who lived well into her 90's; Mrs. Moranda Smith, tobacco union organizer and vote campaigner in Winston-Salem; and Mrs. Viola Luzzo, civil rights worker who was killed in Alabama.

The calendar which is suitable for daily notations, carries beautiful drawings of each personality by Bernard Goss, well known Chicago artist. The biographical essays were written by Eugene Pieter Romayn Feldman, history instructor at Britannica Academy and Museum Research Director.

The calendars are $1.50 for single copies plus 10 cents mailing fee. In orders of 10 or more, they are $1.00. All sales benefit the Museum, a not for profit educational institution. Schools, libraries, teachers and club leaders are urged to place their orders immediately as the supply is limited.

Now living in Lincoln, Nebr., Mr. Lockman was the Sunday school superintendent at Coppin Chapel A.M.E. church. We considered it a loss to the entire community when Richard left and hope him success in whatever task he encounters.

LAWS MUST BE OBEYED BY ALL

Civil disobedience becomes more and more of a problem as one group after another elects to decide what laws they will obey.

A local example involves the Amish citizens in Buchanan county who have refused to send their children to a school with accredited teachers as required by law. They adhere to the horse and buggy instead of automotive power of transportation; they do the same about educating their children.

As much as officials dislike to penalize citizens, the Amish have no more right to violate school laws than they do laws making murder a crime.

The recent civil rights act authorizes the department of Health and Welfare to withhold federal funds from those states or school districts which have refused to at least come up with a plan for integrating their schools. Many school districts have flatly refused or continue to stall for time hoping the law may be declared unconstitutional; some simply thumb their noses at authorities and say they won't comply.

Civil rights groups are complaining that the department is not fulfilling its responsibility, failing to use its most potent weapon to secure compliance.

The time and place to complain about a law is in the legislative halls or in the courts rather than refuse to obey them. That's the trouble with the transport unions in New York. It is the trouble with the Amish people in Iowa who insist on breaking the law because of some antiquated belief they propose to go by.

LOOSE TALK IS

USUALLY ILL ADVISED

The Student Non-Violent Committee, inexperienced and ill advised, issued a statement last week, critical of the position on the war in Viet Nam and argued that the draft be flaunted.

"People often lose their heads with success, become drunk with power and attempt to demonstrate that they know all the answers. This is exactly what happened to the leaders of this group."

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. fell into the same trap last year and was criticized severely for it. After all these people are working in the cause of civil rights. They have no experience in diplomatic affairs. They forget that the President conducts our foreign policy. And while many do not agree with some phase of the conduct of the war, Americans cannot afford to boost the cause of our enemies.

Generally, Negroes are loyal to their government. They have never refused to do their share (often they were not permitted in the past) and today they are carrying their share in this war as may be seen by the press and on television.

The NAACP has condemned the statement and rightly so. Men who clamor for and enjoy rights must be willing to stand up and defend them. Representative - elect Julian Bond, the first Negro elected to the Georgia house since 1907 very forcibly endorsed the statement. When the session opened Monday he was not sworn in. Several members had vowed to prevent him from taking his seat. Later he was denied his seat. While each is judge of the qualifications of its members, a legislative body seldom turns down one who has been elected legally. Undoubtedly he will serve eventually. This may lead him to desist from making irresponsible statements.

Gov. Hughes of Iowa says that the statement is a blow to the civil rights cause much as to say every foolish thing said or done by some irresponsible individual or group of Negroes is chargeable to the whole race.

With this most people cannot agree. There are foolish people in all groups. Certainly it would be unfair to charge all white people (even southerners) with the terrible crimes that have been committed against Negroes. The statement should not have been made. We don't subscribe to it and most people will agree that it does not represent our views.

This is the second ill advised statement the governor has made about Negroes. Not that we believe he means to be other than

THE YEAR" BY SPORT MAGAZINE

New York—Sandy Koufax has been named SPORT magazine's "Man of the Year" for 1965 in its 19th annual "Top Performer" selections appearing in the current issue of the magazine.

The Los Angeles Dodger pitching star, who captured the same award in 1963, is the first winner to gain SPORT's "Man of the Year" distinction for a second time. He was also named SPORT's "Top Performer in Baseball."

Say the editors in explanation of their choice: "Not one of baseball's pitching immortals—not Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean, Lefty Grove, Bob Feller—even in his best year, had as good a year as Sandy Koufax in 1965."

Another special award covering the entire world of sports goes to spectacular Chicago Bear running-back Gale Sayers, named SPORT's "Rookie of the Year." Last year's top all-sports rookie was Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins.

Other Winners

SPORT also named the other winners of its 19th annual "Top Performer" awards, covering participants in every major sport. Jimmy

Brown of the Cleveland Browns was named "Top Performer in Pro Football," and Mike Garrett of the University of Southern California received the "Top Performer in College Football" award.

In basketball, Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics received the "Pro" citation and Bill Bradley of Princeton was his "College" counterpart. High-scoring Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks won the "Top Performer in Hockey" honors.

Performer

The "Top Performer in Boxing" was heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, and on the other end of the scale, Willie Shoemaker rode off with "Top Performer in Racing" honors. NCAA and AAU champion Roy Saari of USC captured SPORT's "Top Performer in Swimming" award.

Manuel Santana of Spain earned the "Top Performer in Tennis" designation and South Africa's Gary Player was similarly named in "Golf."

Randy Matson of Texas A&M, the world record-holder with a shotput of more than 70 feet, is "Top Performer in Track and Field," completing SPORT's magazine's 1965 awards listings.

MORE THAN 440,000
NAACP MEMBERS

New York—As of Dec. 27, membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People totaled 440,159, Gloster B. Current, the Association's director of branches and field operations, reported to the NAACP annual meeting here Monday (Jan. 3).

When all figures are in from the Association's 1,624 local units in 50 states, the total 1965 membership will probably exceed 450,000, Mr. Current estimated.

Mr. Current reviewed the multiple, productive and dramatic activities of the local NAACP units during 1965. These involved political, legal and direct actions to level racial barriers and to gain new opportunities for Negro citizens.

"The year began and ended," Mr. Current said, "with demonstrations by NAACP branches against voting denials in Alabama and Mississippi and for better employment opportunities, school desegregation and courteous treatment in stores."

"Significantly, the Natchez Branch under the stellar leadership of Field Director Charles Evers, won a major victory in its three-month boycott campaign which began after the near-fatal bombing of George Metcalfe, Natchez NAACP Branch president, Aug. 27, ending with a signed agreement on Dec. 3.

Justice Must Be Done in Tuskegee!

New York—"That the year's first civil rights slaying should occur in Tuskegee, where Negroes possess significant power and where harmonious race relations have been traditional, is shocking," NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins said of the killing on Jan. 3 of Samuel L. Younge, Jr., 21-year-old Navy veteran and civil rights worker.

Explosive

The arrested suspect, a 67-year-old white service station attendant, "must not be allowed to go free on bond as has been the practice in other Alabama murders. Unless justice is done in this slaying, Tuskegee will descend to the depths of Hayneville and Selma," Mr. Wilkins said.

"The just anger and indignation of the young veteran's fellow students at Tuskegee is indicative of the explosive situation his murder has sparked. Only prompt and severe punishment for this crime will ease the tension in the community," he added.

Victim

A member of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, Younge headed the Tuskegee Institute Advancement League, a campus civil rights organization. Last summer, according to James Blake of Charleston, S.C., a member of the NAACP national Board of Directors, Mr. Younge participated in the NAACP-sponsored voter registration drive in Charleston.

LET ME BE KINDER

Let me be a little kinder,
Let me be a little blinder to the faults of those about me;
Let me praise a little more
Let me be when I am weary,
Just a little bit more cheery,
Let me serve a little better—those that I am striving for,
Let me be a little braver, when temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little more to be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker with the brother that is weaker,
Let me think more of my neighbor and a little less of me.

And even when you find them;

To dare go forth with a purpose true,
