Wilson Charged with Murder as Holt Succumbs Senate Promptly Confirms Historic Nomination-First Negro to High Level Job

Victim Fatally Shot During Gun Fight at New Yrs.'s Eve Party

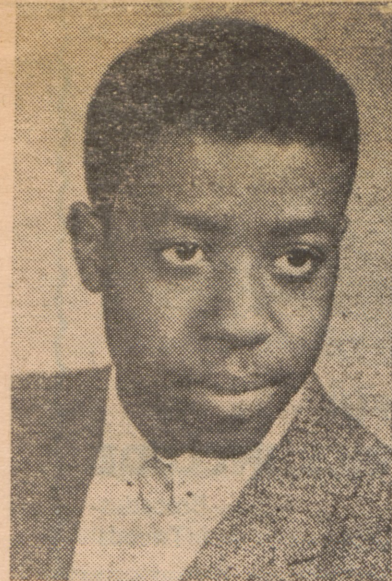

A post-New Year's Eve gun fight between two men who reportedly held a grudge against each other culminated in the death of a third man, an ex-serviceman who had been injured critically when struck by two bullets from a .38 caliber revolver.

The victim was Harold Holt, 26, of 1040 16th street who died about 2:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 17 at Broadlawn Polk County hospital.

Douglas McArthur Wilson, 21 of 1549 18th street was charged Monday with murder in connection with the death. Wilson had been at liberty without bond since the shooting after being charged with going armed with intent to use a gun unlawfully.

Shots Exchanged

Herman Mure, 21, of 815 Crocker street, has been at liberty under $1,000 bond pending a hearing Friday, Jan. 21 on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder filed in connection with wounds Wilson suffered in the altercation.

Police Detective James Thompson said Holt was shot in the stomach in an argument between Mure and Wilson early New Year's morning in which the two fired at each other in the 1100 block of 10th street. All three had been at a party earlier.

Wounded in Leg

Wilson was shot in the knee and leg in the argument, treated at Broadlawn and released, Thompson said. Mure was not injured.

Thompson said Wilson was using a .38-caliber pistol and Mure a .22-caliber pistol.

Wilson appeared Monday morning before Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton and pleaded innocent to a charge of murder. Wilson was held without bond pending a hearing Friday to determine whether he can be released on bail.

Hearing on the murder charge was set for 1:30 p.m. Feb. 7. Glanton then dismissed the charge of going armed with intent.

Home From Germany

Holt, a lifelong Des Moines resident, had been an office employee of the Iowa Manpower Development Council since his release from the Army last October, after serving three years in Germany.

He was a graduate of North High School, attended Berkeley (Calif.) Junior College two years and went to night school at Drake University. He played on the tennis, basketball

Thousands of Marchers Jam Traffic to Protest Refusal To Seat Ga. Legislator-elect

Atlanta, Ga.—Thousands of marchers led by noted civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King, of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, converged on the state capitol here last Friday, Jan. 14 to protest the refusal of the Georgia House to seat Representative-elect Julian Bond.

Tangled Traffic

The influx of marchers tangled traffic and about 50 sign-carrying demonstrators were shoved from the capitol steps by police during the afternoon rally. The marchers, in turn, flailed officers with picket signs, pocketbooks and umbrellas.

"We want Julian Bond!" chanted the crowd that massed a few minutes earlier in the street. Leading the cry was Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The rally climaxed twin marches from two directions by Negroes and white supporters.

Aim of Protest

The protest was aimed at the ton press conference at which Mr. Brooke, Republican, announced his political intentions. Mr. Brooke and Mr. Kendrick are members of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity and long-time friends.

House refusal last Monday to seat Bond, 26, a Democrat from Atlanta. The refusal came after Bond's endorsement of a statement which described U. S. involvement in Vietnam as "aggression." He also said he admired the courage of draft card burners.

While the demonstrators battled state police at the capitol, a federal judge ruled that a three-judge court should hear Bond's lawsuit seeking to force the House to accept him. Bond filed suit Thursday.

No Justification

Dr. King told the cheering crowd there was no justification for the House action. He stood on a truck bed in the street in front of the capitol entrance.

"It is both amusing and ironic to hear the state legislature today talk so reverently about protecting the United States Constitution," Dr. King said.

Rev. Shuttlesworth Leaves Ohio Church

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth resigned as pastor of Cincinnati's Revelation Baptist Church after months of bickering with a part of the 1,100 member congregation. Another section of the congregation (about 250) left the church and set up a new church, the Greater Light Baptist Church. Shuttlesworth, a civil rights leader and an official of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference accepted the call to be its pastor.

Washington, D. C.—President Lyndon B. Johnson took a giant step into history Thursday, Jan. 13 when he announced the appointment of the first Negro to serve in the Cabinet of the President of the United States, Robert C. Weaver, the new Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The President said: "After looking over 300 outstanding potential candidates and talking to literally dozens of people about him, I have come to the conclusion that the man for the job is Robert Weaver."

Under Secretary

The President also announced the appointment of Professor Robert C. Wood, chairman of the Political Science Department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as Under Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs.

Commenting on Weaver's operations over the past four years, the President said:

Welcome

"I think his performance as the Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency has been marked by the highest level of integrity and ability, and I think he has been able to stimulate a very genuine team spirit in that department. I just presented him to the Cabinet, and his colleagues there welcomed him with open arms."

Board of Directors

Dr. Weaver became a member of the NAACP Board of Directors in 1951. Later, in 1955, he was chosen vice chairman of the Board and, in 1960, chairman, succeeding Dr. Channing H. Tobias. In 1961, after President John F. Kennedy appointed him administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, he resigned as chairman of the NAACP Board.

Citation

In 1962 he was awarded the coveted Spingarn Medal "in recognition of his distinguished service to his city, state and nation; in tribute to his pioneer role in the development of the democratic doctrine of 'open occupancy' in housing; and in gratitude for his militant and responsible leadership in the Fight for Freedom."

Dr. Weaver entered government service in 1933 as an aide to Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes. Later he became special assistant to Nathan Straus, administrator of the U. S. Housing Authority. During World War II, he served with the Office of Production Management and the War Manpower Commission.

Anti-Poverty Staff Seeks Neighborhood Service Sites

The Polk County anti-poverty staff is seeking to solve its No. 1 job—finding sites for "service centers" in neighborhoods. So far space has only been found in the Roadside Settlement, 620 Scott avenue, said Woodrin E. Kee, the staff's neighborhood organizer.

According to Kee federal officials have advised the staff to concentrate on setting up the centers first and add services later.

Where Needed

According to the plan each center eventually will be the place where needy residents of the neighborhood will come for help in areas such as family counselling, employment, legal aid, health and birth control. The services will be given by professional persons who will travel from center to center on a regular schedule. Kee said each neighborhood will list what kind of services it wants. This will be done through the neighborhood anti-poverty group.

In addition to professionals, each center will have two or three non-professional aides—residents of the immediate area—whose job will be to make sure their neighbors know the services are available, Kee said.

Areas

Besides the Roadside area southeast of the downtown business district, the following areas have been selected for service centers:

The Chesterfield area of southeast Des Moines; the Logan School area northeast of the Capitol Building; the Delaware Township district outside the northeast corner of Des Moines (Babbitt, Norwoodville and Capitol Heights); and four areas north and west of the downtown business district: Walnut Hill, Willkie House Service Area, Woodland and the Julia B. Mayer Community Center.

Plans call for adding centers in other areas later, Kee said.

Active Units

Neighborhood anti-poverty organizations are active in all but the Mayer Community Center area north of University avenue between Harding road and Seventh street.

Some, like the Walnut Hill group, haven't yet qualified for official representation on the county anti-poverty policy agency, the 45-member Community Action Council (C. A. C.).

To get a vote on the C. A. C. under procedures set up by the staff, a neighborhood group must have officers, formally elected, and a set of bylaws by the time the C. A. C. holds its annual meeting Jan. 31.

Justice Department Argues On Voting Before High Court

Washington, D.C.—The U.S. Justice Department along with 20 states including Iowa asked the Supreme court Tuesday to declare the 1965 voting rights law a constitutional means of assuring southern Negroes the right to vote.

Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach told the high court that the law, attacked by six southern states at unconstitutional punishment and "arbitrary in nature", is appropriate under the 15th amendment.

After hearing a rejoinder from South Carolina Chief Justice Earl Warren closed the two days of argument, saying the case "has profound implications in the life of our nation."

The court will announce its decision later this month. In presenting the federal government's case, Katzenbach said Congress has broad authority under the 15th Amendment to assure that voting rights are not abridged by discrimination, and that the law is an appropriate exercise of that authority.

Of literacy tests, Katzenbach argued:

Negro and White Unions Merge

Chicago, Ill.—The all-white Local 10 of the American Federation of Musicians and the predominantly Negro Local 208 of the union merged Tuesday. Officials said the A. F. L.-C. I. Editor Hints He'll Race Gov. Brown

San Francisco, Calif.—The editor of a San Francisco Negro newspaper says there is a "strong possibility" he may oppose Gov. Edmund Brown for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the June primary.

"Governor Brown . . . has broken many promises," Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett, editor of the Sun-Reporter, told newsmen Wednesday. "Negroes could even support (G.O.P. candidate) Ronald Reagan were it necessary to convince the Democratic Party that the Negro vote is not in their pocket," he said.

non Dahmer, former president of the Hattiesburg, Miss., NAACP Branch, and the attempted assassination last August of George Metcalf, president of the Natchez, Miss., NAACP demands such action by the Congress.

The letter also urged the branches to hold protest mass meetings.

Telegram

Previously in a telegram, dispatched Jan. 11 to 122 key NAACP branches, Mr. Wilkins called for similar action and charged that the murder and assault are "part of a war on NAACP front-line branch of officers and on the civil rights crusade. This war must be halted. New legislation is urgently needed."

Wilkins pointed out in his letter of Jan. 12 that "both Dahmer and Metcalf were engaged in voter registration campaigns. For this they were bombed and Dahmer lost his life. This intimidation, this terror, this murder must be halted."

Cassius Clay's Parents Visit Movie Studio

Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Clay, Sr., parents of the world boxing champion, were guests of Universal Studios during a recent visit to Los Angeles.

Following lunch at the studio commissary, the Clays visited the "Beau Geste" movie set where they talked with star Guy Stockwell and actor Marcellus (Mark) Clay, a cousin of the champion who portrays a legionnaire in the film.

Cassius, Sr., registered surprise when told by Stockwell of the 12 to 15-hour days put in by actors and crew while making films.

"It all looks so easy when you see it on the screen," he noted. "But those hours would even be tough for a fighter in good condition."

Following the studio tour and a brief stay in the city, the Clays boarded a plane for their home in Louisville, Kentucky.

Shot—Now He
Trains Again

Houston, Tex.—Heavyweight boxer Cleveland Williams, who was seriously wounded when he was shot by a highway patrolman a year ago, says he has completely recovered and has been in training since November.

After extensive surgery, Williams' weight dropped from 217 pounds to 159 and there were reports he would never fight again. He weighed 216 Wednesday.

"I'm all right now," Williams said. "As a matter of fact, if anything, I feel even stronger."

Oilman Hugh Benbow, Williams' manager, said Williams had applied for a 1966 license in Texas and hoped to appear in his first comeback bout in a few weeks.

Benbow said Williams, who was ranked high among the heavyweight contenders at the time he was wounded, is "the only man around who can beat Cassius Clay."

HEALTH FOR ALL

WHEN THE DUST FLIES

When the dust flies—as it does in many places where people are at work—a certain amount of damage may be done to lung tissues. The resulting diseases are known by the formidable-sounding name: pneumonocinosis.

Various kinds of dusts are generated in manufacturing and mining operations. Some are dangerous, others aren't. Some can cause serious disease leading to severe injury or even death. The variety is considerable. There is anthracosis, caused by inhaling a combination of coal dust and silica. Asbestosis results from inhaling asbestos fibers. Berylliosis is caused by beryllium dust. All of these ailments can be quite serious.

Symptoms

Symptoms of dust diseases are hard to detect, late in showing up. The earliest symptom is usually shortness of breath. Some time later a persistent cough becomes evident. When the disease is far advanced, and dust covers much of the lung area, there are chest pains. The dust deposits, which have slowed up the normal flow of oxygen into the blood stream, may result in blueness of the lips and ear lobes. Complications in the form of other serious lung ailments may develop.

Treatment

Treatment is mostly a matter of relieving the effects of the symptoms, and removing the cause of the disease. Obviously, a "must" measure for someone with a disease caused by inhaling dust at his job is to switch to some other type of work. But sometimes it may be possible to bring about sufficient reduction in dust intake to permit continuance at the same job.

If shortness of breath or a persistent cough develops, the only sensible course is to consult a doctor. Your Christmas Seal association reminds you that early action can ward off a lot of trouble; delay can be serious or even fatal.

Iowan with Johnny Mathis Show at KRNT Theat e Appearance Sunday, Jan. 23

We had a call from Mrs. Robert Sloan, 1219 15th street, who told us that one of the persons of the Johnny Mathis show is a cousin of her and her husband.

The young lady is Toni Robinson, of Los Angeles, daughter of Mrs. Quincy Robinson and the late Mr. Robinson, the granddaughter of Mrs. Lillie Dudley and niece of Mrs. Mary Dudley, all who formerly lived in Des Moines before leaving in the 1930s to make their home in California.

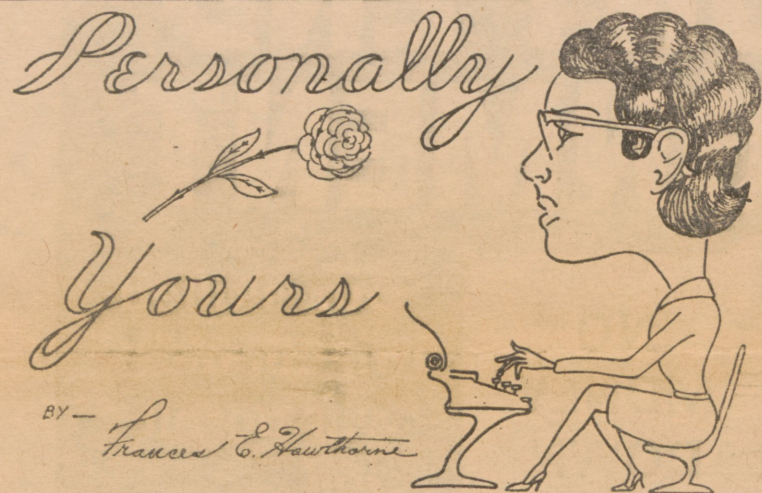

Miss Toni Robinson, is a harpist, who has been traveling with the Johnny Mathis show since her return last August from Israel where she gave concerts.

Miss Robinson, like the rest of the show's cast will be in the city for only the one-night stand before leaving.

Mrs. Sloan says Miss Robinson has other relatives here including her grandfather, Carl Robinson, an aunt, Mrs. Leland Johnson, and numerous cousins, Mrs. Johnson's children, Mr. and Mrs. Australia Grace, W. F. Sloan, Mrs. Geneva Lewis and Evesta Elagin.

Miss Robinson was not born in Des Moines but Mrs. Sloan says she has two brothers who were. She has made several public musical appearances in California, too.

Another week is history and when you look back upon it from the standpoint of news media and communications, some of the most inane incidents or interview remarks have been reported. One of them concerned the Harvard professor who proposed that children be taught from elementary school on up, the use of liquor and how to handle it. At least it afforded some lively conversation and remarks around the city and perhaps country.

It seems with each passing year that someone who purports to be an authority is thinking up ways for the welfare, teaching and care of children to be taken out of the hands of parents and put into the hands of professionals—what ever their career. What are they advocating, a nation of zombies?

Thank goodness there are still some old-fashioned parents around, and there are more than you think, who shoulder the responsibility for the emotional, and character-building as well as physical care of their offspring.

BY FRANCES HAWTHORNE

A note came from Mrs. Roberta Frazier, 328 E. Creston, about a club that was organized on Valentine's day in 1948 by Mrs. Ethel Volineer. Mrs. Volineer invited seven women friends whom she had known some 20 years and who had stuck loyally by her the year before when she lost her wonderful husband, Deacon James Volineer.

Mrs. Frazier wrote, "In 1949 Mrs. Mae Howard (now deceased) thought it well to repeat it on Valentine's day and in 1950 the women were officially organized into a Valentine's club. Later after one dropout we were named 7 Friends club; with two deceased we are only Five Friends now, but are still active."

"We had a delicious birthday dinner on Jan. 8 celebrating the birthday of the organizer, Mrs. Ethel Volineer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geneva Robinson with all five friends attending who quoted, "With old friends who shared our joys and tears, those who have been faithful throughout the many years, we feel free to speak words that come straight from the heart with no fear, that our words, will cause our friends to depart. New friends are like silver but old friends are pure as gold."

Guests at the dinner celebration were Deacon Travis Bailey, Deacon Ed Frazier, David Duke, Alonzo Warden and Charles Tolson.

Rice Consumer Service, Inc.

MEAT, RICE 'N' PARMESAN EGGS

There couldn't be a better tasting main dish than this one! It's made of cut up canned luncheon meat with rice baked until bubbly in mushroom soup and sharp cheese. Some green pepper adds color and crisp texture. When the rice is tender, six eggs are broken over the top and baked until done under a generous covering of nippy flavored Parmesan cheese.

INGREDIENTS:

- 12-oz. can luncheon meat, diced (cut some of the meat into wedges to use as garnish, if desired)
- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 10 1/2-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup grated sharp cheese
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
- 3 1/2 cups water
- 1 cup cooked green peas
- 6 eggs
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

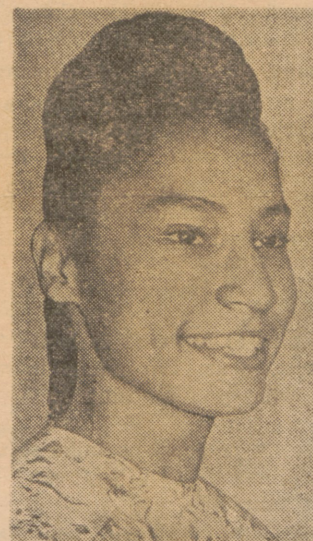

METHOD: Put the chopped luncheon meat (but not wedges), rice, mushroom soup, the 1 cup grated sharp cheese, salt, pepper, green pepper and water in a greased shallow baking dish. Stir gently to mix well. Place in a pre-heated 350° F. oven. Bake uncovered for 1 hour or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Add a small amount of water if mixture becomes too dry. Stir once during the baking to mix any uncooked grains of rice with the liquid.

Remove from the oven and stir in the cooked peas. Make six depressions in the rice-meat mixture. Break an egg into each depression. Arrange the wedges of luncheon meat around the eggs. Sprinkle with the grated Parmesan cheese. Return to the oven and bake 10 to 15 minutes or until the eggs are set. Serve at once.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

PRAISE, CONGRATULATIONS TO JOHNSON AND WEAVER

President Johnson has named Dr. Robert C. Weaver as secretary of the newly created cabinet post: Urban Affairs. The appointment comes following a series of maneuvers both for and against Dr. Weaver.

Dr. Weaver is eminently qualified for the post both by education, training and experience. He holds two degrees from Harvard University, one a doctor's degree in economics, served the federal government in various capacities under the New Deal, taught at Columbia University in New York City, was deputy housing commissioner in New York and finally head of the Federal Housing authority.

In both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, cabinet posts have been given to Jews, Poles and Czechs who, in big cities, constitute strong backing for the Democratic party. These appointments serve to strengthen the party in largely populated areas. This follows the pattern with Negro voters.

President Johnson is to be congratulated for displaying the courage to do for Negroes what he and other Presidents have done for various racial strains and for naming a man who is qualified for the post.

The President kept silent about the appointment for sometime feeling the pulse of the country. He must have heard the reports of strong Negro leaders who regard Dr. Weaver's appointment as a matter of racial justice and in recognition of ability among Negroes; also as a reward (and this is kept in mind in most such appointments) for delivering the vote, which has kept him in the white house.

COURT IS CONSISTENT IN PARK RULING

The U. S. Supreme court ruled Monday that a facility created by the will wherein the donor attempted to restrict its use to white people only but was operated by the city of Macon, Ga. violated the Fourteenth Amendment and thus Negroes could not be excluded from its use.

The court has held that where the state (and that includes any political entity) takes part in the operation of a facility, its use cannot be restricted to exclude Negroes.

Justice Douglas wrote the majority opinion of the 6 to 3 decision. Justices Harlan, Black and Potter dissented one arguing that such a ruling would upset a long line of decisions by the Court.

This same argument was made against the 1954 school case and others where the right of political bodies to practice racial discrimination was attached. The dissenters evidently felt that we must continue to do a thing wrong simply because it has been done wrong for years past.

The case was conducted by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. It is another of its many court decisions which have wiped aside discrimination in one area after another.

DANGER OF EXCLUDING
EXCELLENT TIMBER

Iowa University is tightening up its entrance requirements so as to slow down the size of the school which had a big upsurge last fall. The university has 16,000 students which taxes its facilities to the limit.

In the course of a hearing before the board of regents seeking approval of the policy, one member complained that, at times, a quota prevailed in the graduate schools for minorities.

School authorities denied the charge. On the other hand some types of discrimination are hard to prove and can only be pinned down by long absence or token admissions.

Of course, if everyone gets the same breaks under standards set by the authorities, there can be no complaint. But often admission committees constitute a stop gap which serves to weed out "some they don't want" for things that should not enter the picture.

It is like the civil service commission here which gives the written tests for firemen and policemen. The dirty work is done by the pension boards which give the oral and physical examinations.

More Negroes have been in the medical and law schools since World War II. It is well that a close watch be kept on just how free the schools are from racial exclusions.

Ever so often we write a column that is so good that we keep it in our pocket and don't let anyone see it. That is what happened to last week's literary masterpiece. We carried it around until well past the deadline.

But there has been so much happening over the week-end that we threw the old news away. First Iowa U. has to develop a winning formula for road games if they intend to get in on the Big Ten basketball race. To date the fellows have played two road games and lost two. With Michigan, Minnesota and the rest coming up I don't see how they are going to make it. Minnesota, with Lou Hudson back, looks like the team to beat for the crown.

DRAKE, IOWA STATE

Drake has shown that they can come up with the big win. Now maybe they can do it more often and at least make a showing in the Valley race.

IOWA STATE blows hot and cold and seem to be going nowhere fast. Did you notice all of those Negroes on the floor when Michigan State played a televised game, Saturday? They must have had at least seven.

FOOTBALL

The football season finally staggered to an end. On Saturday the American League All-Stars whopped the league champion Buffalo Bills in a game in which the defense was the key to the All-stars success.

Then on Sunday there was supposed to be the shoot out between Gayle Sayers of the Chicago Bears and Cleveland's Jim Brown. Well, sir, the score took away whatever chance Sayers may have had to outshine the Cleveland star. When your team falls 20 some points behind you must go for the quick score and can't do too much receiving. So Sayers had worries all afternoon in spite of a couple of fine kick-off returns. Brown was voted the back of the game. But, really there is no fair way to compare the two players. Sayers plays on a team that features a strong running attack so he gets to run more. Brown's team goes for the long score although Jim can carry it in when he has to, like he showed us Sunday. Let's wait a few years and see how well the Bear's flash does under the test of time which is the tried measure of all great stars in any game.

Prep Wrestling

The city high school wrestling meet caused us to reflect that the SHADE family is the wrestling family around these parts. There has been one to three Shades on Tech's wrestling teams for at least six years. And they all have been outstanding performers. This year there were three of them. Two won city titles and the third missed by a narrow margin. Bet he gets the guy in the District Meet. OUR HAT IS OFF TO THE SHADE WRESTLING FAMILY.

Ashe Wins 4th
Title on Tour

Hobart, Tasmania—Arthur Ashe of the United States won his fourth championship on the Australia tennis circuit Sunday when he overpowered Australian John Newcombe, 6-4, 6-4, 12-10, for the Tasmanian title.

Judy Tegart of Australia beat Carol Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, in the women's singles final, 8-6, 3-6, 6-2, but Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., gained a share of the mixed doubles title.

Ashe's power tennis put consistent pressure on Newcombe, and although the U.C.L.A. star's service was not as strong as usual, he made up for it with accurate placements and fine cross-court backhands.

Satchel Paige's Mother
Dies in Alabama

Mobile, Alabama—Funeral services were held Jan. 11 for Mrs. Lula Coleman, 104, mother of baseball veteran Leroy (Satchel) Paige.

Mrs. Coleman died January 5 at her home. Paige came here from his home in Kansas City, Mo.

Surviving Mrs. Coleman who was born Aug. 17, 1861, are three sons, including Satchel, four daughters and 20 grandchildren.

Paige formerly pitched for the Cleveland Indians and started twice last season for the Kansas City Athletics. He is reported to be in his 60s and will serve the A's next season as a pitching coach.

Gilliam Will Scout Ohio
For Football Recruits to Iowa

Frank Gilliam, the first Negro coach in the Big Ten conference and star end for the 1957 Hawkeye Rose Bowl champs, will be recruiting for the Hawks in his home state of Ohio.

At a meeting in Chicago, Ill., Coach Ray Nagel discussed his reason for bringing Gilliam back to Iowa City.

Iowa Graduate

"He's a graduate of Iowa, and that's important," said Nagel, who brought most of his staff with him from Utah. "And he's from Ohio, where we haven't been recruiting well for several years."

Nagel paused a moment. Then he added, "and his being a Negro didn't hurt his cause with us either."

"Did it help," Nagel was asked? Noting that "reverse-discrimination" hint, Nagel smiled and answered rhetorically:

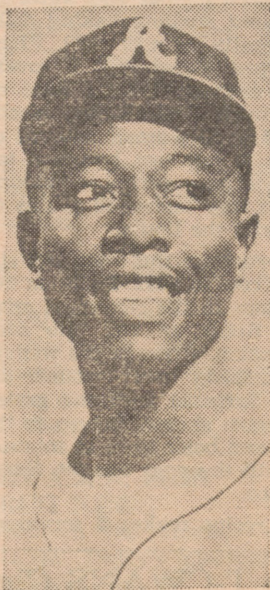

"What do you think?"

Scored Coup

Before he ever diagrammed a play for the Hawkeyes, Nagel may have scored a recruiting coup over his Big Ten rivals. Gilliam is the only Negro football coach in the Big Ten.

Iowa, with Gilliam leading the search, is eager to cut into Woody Hayes' area in an Ohio section that includes the Cleveland-Akron-Massillon - Mansfield - Barberton - Youngstown region.

Sports Briefs

Chicago—As 1965 ended, 1966 started with a dilemma for Jesse Owens, 52-year-old former Olympic champion—now a local radio disc jockey. A Federal district judge delayed until Feb. 1 the sentencing of Owens for having failed to file income tax returns on $142,000 in income from 1959 through 1962. Owens, who changed his plea from not guilty to no contest, faces a $40,000 fine and a four-year prison term.

Baltimore—Wedding bells rang at last for pretty Jo Ann Winchester on Jan. 2. The 24-year-old school teacher finally was married to Baltimore Colts shift defensive halfback Alvin Haymond, after two postponements caused by the Colts down-to-the-wire losing campaign for the National Football league's Western division title. The couple are honeymooning in the South.

A PRAYER
FOR TODAY

O Lord, whichever one it may be, give him a star to steer by.

Drain away the passion and the hate flowing on all sides of him.

Make cool the fevers of discension; make charitable the followers of his foe.

Unite us, not for war or victory, but for righteousness; and we cannot fail.

Give him the courage to do the right as he sees it, not seeking the favor of men or the applause of nations.

O Lord, whichever one it may be, make him walk straight in the darkness of these days, with only a star to guide him;

Ignoring the voices that are not your voice; casting off the hands that are not Your hands.

Sunset On A
Dreamy Dusk

As the sky began to close its one bright eye

A vision stole up softly

The Sunset sitting on the sill of iron green window.

I sat there quietly like a meditating fly,

Bothering none.

Think of the Universe

I said, and it flicked a rose-flecked lid at me.

An owl's spirit perching there in a solemn solitude

And now, as I recall, I had seen its flight from the sky;

It laden down the window blinds, as an old man

Easing down the courthouse step. I watched it sedate on my iron green ledge

And reflected for a moment. Of its character, its traisted humbleness, as I began

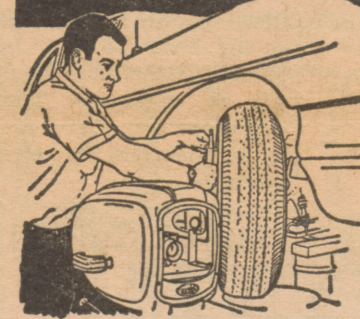

To give it human habits

It was gone.
