Iowa NAACP Board Urges More Progress In Human Rights

At its mid-winter board meeting Saturday the Iowa State Conference of Branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People passed three resolutions on human rights and fair housing.

The conference urged both President Johnson and Iowa Gov. Harold Hughes to recommend that better fair housing laws be initiated on the "federal and state levels to insure equal opportunity for all citizens" both in Iowa and the nation.

Rights Commission

Another resolution called on Iowa Republican Senators Bourke B. Hickman and Jack Miller to urge the federal government protection and insure the enforcement of all laws in Mississippi and other areas and that Congress be requested to enact new laws for civil rights protection.

The board also expressed "dissatisfaction" with the progress made by the Iowa State Human Rights Commission and recommended that the commission meet with the NAACP group at its next conference in Des Moines on April 2.

Los Angeles — Mrs. Marguerite Mays, former wife of baseball star Willie Mays, will seek recourse through the courts for damages growing out of theft charges leveled against her by local and Pasadena stores.

Mrs. Mays was charged with stealing several expensive rings last year. She also will seek damages from several West Coast newspapers carrying headlines of the theft account.

Charges were dropped against her after she flew to both cities and the stores decided it was all "a case of mistaken identity." During one alleged theft, Mrs. Mays was 3,000 miles away in Atlantic City, N.J.

'Judge' Constance B. Motley Takes Another Gaint Step

New York—The New York headquarters of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. burst into an uproar of excitement this week when word came that President Lyndon B. Johnson had named Constance Baker Motley to the Federal District Court bench.

Mrs. Motley, nationally known for her amazing string of civil rights legal victories, served in the Fund's number two administrative post prior to her entry into public life.

Jack Greenberg, the Fund's director-counsel relayed the news from Washington.

$5,000 Out

As a federal judge, Mrs. Motley will have to take a $5,000 cut from the $35,000 a year she now makes as Manhattan Borough President. However, the judgeship is a lifetime position.

A New Haven benefactor helped launch Mrs. Motley on her career, but her colleagues at the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund Inc., where she championed the cause of civil rights for more than 20 years, know that Connie Motley wrote her own success story.

Education

She attended Fisk University in tist church where she is a member. Also receiving a bachelor degree in music education at the Drake ceremony was Ruth Spriggs Turner, 1253 E. 17th street court.

Nashville, but after a year and a half transferred to New York University where she earned a degree in economics.

From there she went to Columbia University Law School "because Abraham Lincoln believed law is difficult and I want to do something difficult," she said. She took her law degree in 1946, and has been doing difficult things ever since.

Civil Rights

While still at Columbia, she joined the Legal Defense Fund as a law clerk. After graduation, she married Joel Motley, and plunged full-time into the civil rights struggle as a Legal Defense Fund staff lawyer.

Her boss at the Legal Defense Fund was Thurgood Marshall, who later became a federal circuit court of appeals judge, and is now U.S. Solicitor General.

Carved Reputation

With vigor and determination, the lady lawyer carved a reputation for herself as one of the nation's leading civil rights attorneys. She rose to Associate Counsel, the number two post in the Legal Defense Fund behind Jack Greenberg, who succeeded Mr. Marshall as Director-Counsel.

She went before the U.S. Supreme Court six times, winning all six cases. A seventh Supreme Court case

N.J. Board of Realtors Seats First Negro

Trenton, N. J.—When Mrs. Carolyn D. Martin of Princeton sat down to dinner at the Trenton Country Club Jan. 27, not only was she breaking bread, but she was breaking a long tradition that barred Negroes from membership in the local board of realtors.

After an 11-year struggle and a law suit pressed by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund Inc., Mrs. Martin last month was accepted as the first Negro member of the Trenton and Mercer County Board of Realtors.

She attended a dinner meeting of the board for the first time Jan. 27. A real estate broker since 1952, Mrs. Martin first applied for membership in the real estate board in 1954. Six times her applications were denied without reason before she took her case to the Legal Defense Fund.

Medical Technician Who Recovered from Blindness Given Distinguished Award

Sioux City—A man whose recovery from blindness resulted in a vow to do "God's work", and a junior high school teacher who gives generously of her time and help "without fanfare or recognition", were honored as outstanding Sioux City citizens Saturday night.

Grady Lee Bluford, a medical technician at the Methodist Hospital, was named Outstanding Young Man; and Miss Helen Nord, West Junior High teacher, was named Outstanding Teacher, at the annual Sioux City Junior Chamber of Commerce awards dinner at the Holiday Inn.

The giving of the Distinguished Service Awards concluded the annual Jaycee Week activities in Sioux City. Jake Bishop, Jaycee president, was in charge.

Morningside Degree

Mr. Bluford came to Sioux City as a boy, was educated in city schools and received a bachelor of science degree from Morningside College in 1958.

According to a report by the award judging committee, "many hardships accompanied Mr. Bluford's pursuit for a formal education." Shortly after enrolling at Wayne State Teachers College at Wayne, Neb., he contracted an eye ailment that rendered him totally blind for almost two years.

"With dedicated medical treatments, he regained his sight, but the expenses were staggering. It was at this point that Grady Bluford decided to follow medicine and also made the vow, 'I shall always do God's work.'"

NAACP Cites Council's Refusal to Strengthen Fair Housing Ordinance in City

The Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People chided four city councilmen who recently expressed opposition to strengthening the city's housing ordinance.

The criticism came in a resolution by the branch at its meeting on Jan. 25 at Willkie House. The resolution termed the councilmen's views "regrettable" according to Robert A. Wright, branch president.

The resolution said the council should not be "moved into complacency" because of the lack of complaints because the measure does not cover 70 percent of the units for rent or sale in Des Moines, Wright explained.

Existing Ordinance

Councilmen James W. Callison, Wallace E. Buss, George J. Nahas and Jens Grothe expressed their views January 20th at a meeting of the Greater Des Moines Board of Realtors. Mayor George C. Whitmer, the fifth council member, was out of town at the time.

Community Action Com. Adds More to Powerful Exec-Group

Eight executive committee members and five groups for at-large membership were elected Monday night by the Polk County Community Action Council (C.A.C.) at a meeting at the Argonne Armory building. About 80 persons attended.

Chosen for the five at-large member seats after two ballots were: The Des Moines Council of Parent Teacher Associations; Polk County Dental Society; Greater Des Moines Committee, Inc., a business-industry group; the League of Women Voters and, jointly for the fifth seat, the Des Moines and Polk County Education Associations, teacher groups.

N.A.A.C.P. Bid

A request by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (N.A.A.C.P.) for direct representation on the C.A.C. was referred to a committee for study.

Under present bylaws, the Des Moines Human Rights Commission has power to select three minority-group representatives. The commission doesn't want to be in the position of having to pick the three.

The N.A.A.C.P. wants permanent status on the 45-member board, Mannheim said.

isterial Alliance, which has Negro clergy members, also "feels strongly we should have permanent status and not have to depend on being chosen by some other agency."

The C.A.C. unanimously endorsed a resolution, proposed by spokesman for the poor, which calls upon local employers to co-operate with employees who need time off to attend anti-poverty "meetings, programs and functions."

Urged to Attend

Vice-President Jackson urged non-poor members of the C.A.C. to attend meetings of neighborhood units organized to speak for the poor. He heads such a unit on Des Moines' east side.

"This way," Jackson said, "the board of directors will see how we in the neighborhoods are operating and it will bring us closed together."

The idea won general support from the Woodland Improvement Association, complained that Bird School officials ignored an invitation to her group's last meeting.

Nab Man Wanted In Shooting Here

Police detectives received word Monday night, Jan. 31 that Obie Taylor, 37, Kansas City, Mo., wanted here on a charge of assault with intent to murder, has been arrested in Davenport.

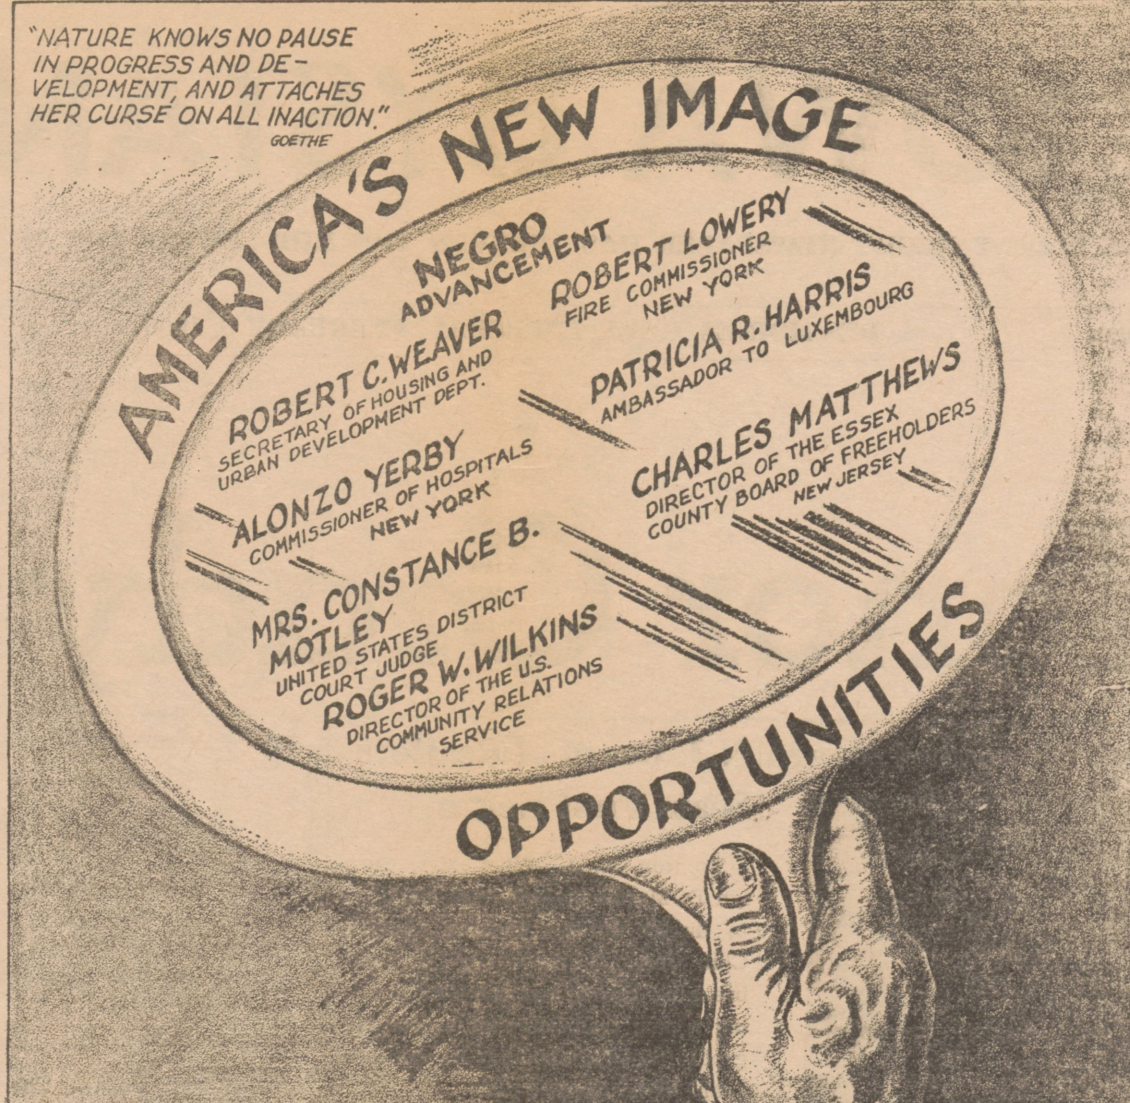

Lt. Frank C. Manny said Davenport police are holding Taylor on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon and three charges of false uttering of checks. Manny said Scott (Davenport) County and Polk County attorneys will decide in which county he will be prosecuted. Taylor is charged with shooting Emma Payne, 17, in her bedroom at 505 Clark st., about 11 p.m. Jan. 19.

Firestone Employees Get $1170 Cash Awards

Payments are made for written suggestions which employees submit through the plant suggestion system.

Wilkins

New York—The unpunished slayings of civil rights workers in the South have so alarmed and disturbed Negroes throughout the country that they are insisting upon enactment during this session of Congress of protective legislation, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said at a news conference here, Jan. 27.

How Long?

"Everywhere I go, in the North and West as well as in the South, the questions Negroes ask are, 'When are they going to be stopped killing us?' 'What is the Government going to do to stop these killings?' 'How long do they expect us to take this?'" Mr. Wilkins said.

To meet this demand for Congressional action, the NAACP and other constituent members of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, of which Mr. Wilkins is chairman, have completed a draft of a proposed bill. Mr. Wilkins made it clear that the draft is not the finished version which will be submitted for introduction in both Houses of Congress.

Announces Nationwide Exams for Temporary Summer Employment

The U. S. Civil Service Commission today announced a Nationwide competitive examination for temporary summer employment in a limited number of Post Offices throughout the United States. Applicants interested in summer work as Seasonal Assistants at $2.37 an hour should ask for a copy of Announcement No. 390B, "Post Office Summer Jobs for 1966."

Seasonal Assistants are hired during the summer to assist the regular workforce in handling the mail. Some assignments will involve the operation of motor vehicles.

Application

The Announcement and Application Form 5000-AB are available at many Post Offices and U. S. Civil Service Commission Offices. A completed 5000-AB must be mailed before Feb. 2b, 1966 to the Post Office Boards of Civil Service Examiners listed in the Announcement. This will enable the Applicant to take the one hour written test which will be given in various cities early in March. The test will measure clerical skills, vocabulary, reading comprehension and abstract reasoning.

All Citizens

All citizens will be given equal opportunity to compete in the Nationwide examination. Those who pass the test will be sent a list of those Post Offices in their State of Residence where appointments will be made. They may then select three of those Offices for which they want to be considered.

conference, provides for (1) reform of the jury selection system in Federal and state courts; (2) prosecution in Federal courts of cases involving violence against civil rights workers; (3) civil preventive relief through the issuance of injunctions restraining threatened acts of violence when there is advance knowledge of intent; (4) the right of certain defendants to petition for removal of the trial to a Federal court; (5) payment of damages to victims of racial violence or to their survivors or estates; (6) removal of state or city police in instances where they're deemed derelict in the performance of their duties; and (7) necessary amendments to Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. An eighth point of the draft dealt with certain miscellaneous amendments.

Angrier

Colored citizens, the NAACP leader said, are "angrier than ever before about the killings of Negroes and civil rights workers." He cited the 1963 assassination of Medgar Evers, NAACP field secretary for Mississippi, in Jackson; the murder of the three youthful civil rights workers in Philadelphia, Miss., in 1964; the killing of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo and other civil rights workers in Alabama in 1965 and the acquittal of the accused slayers.

Chester Jones Named By Urban League

New York—Chester H. Jones, former executive director of the Columbus affiliate, was recently appointed field supervisor of Project ENABLE, at the National Urban League's headquarters office.

It was announced here today by Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the nationwide interracial community service and social work agency.

Project ENABLE (Education and Neighborhood Action for Better Living Environment) is national in scope and operates under the combined supervision of Family Service Assn. of America, Child Study Assn. of America, and the National Urban League. This is the first major undertaking of its kind by three long-established agencies which have combined their specialized skills in a massive drive against the causes of poverty.

As field supervisor, Jones is a member of the administrative team of the project, taking part in the planning and implementing of work plans and schedules.

Roger Wilkins O.K.ed By Senate Committee

Washington, D. C.—The Senate Commerce Committee gave its unanimous approval Tuesday, Jan. 25 to the nomination of Roger W. Wilkins to be one of the nation's top trouble shooters in race relations as director of the Community Relations Service.

The committee action cleared the way for the Senate to act on the nomination of Wilkins, who is the nephew of Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The service was established in the 1964 Civil Rights Act to help communities work out racial problems and carry out provisions of the act.

she won without argument.

James Meredith

But it was her masterful handling of the complex legal action that led to the enrollment of James Meredith in the University of Mississippi that catapulted her to national fame.

Mrs. Motley also led the legal teams that broke down the barriers of segregation at the University of Alabama (despite Gov. George Wallace's abortive stand in the doorway), Universities of Georgia and Florida and Clemson College, South Carolina.

The list of Mrs. Motley's courtroom victories encompass nearly every area of racial strife—housing, transportation, public accommodations, sit-ins, mass demonstrations and criminal prosecutions.

She has personally defended prosecutions of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King as well as scores of lesser known civil rights activists.

Rugs and carpets probably take more of a beating than any of your other home furnishings. However, there are several things you can do to make your carpets stay beautiful and last years longer—and save yourself the money it would cost to replace them.

Use an inexpensive carpet sweeper every day to pick up lint, crumbs and dirt from the surface of your carpet. A few minutes a day will keep dirt from being ground deeply into the carpet. Use a vacuum cleaner once a week. A good vacuum cleaner removes deep-down dirt, as well as surface material. When the carpet begins to look dull, use a rug shampoo to get rid of dirt that your vacuum cleaner can't get to. Modern rug shampoos require little work and are well worth the effort to keep your rugs and carpets beautiful. Once a year is the minimum for shampooing every carpet in the house.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THE VANISHING BIRTHMARK

Every mother remembers her first inspection of her newborn baby. And the held breath and pounding heart that went with it. Some of those mothers recall, too, their sinking feeling at the discovery of a red, raised area in a conspicuous spot.

Most of the unhappy mothers found out later, though, that their dismay was unnecessary. These birthmarks are quite common in infants. But, for the most part, they disappear completely during childhood. So says Dr. Victor H. Witten in a recent issue of Today's Health.

Blood Vessels

What are these vanishing birthmarks? Hemangiomas, as they are called, are small masses of blood vessels, reddish or purplish in color. No body knows what causes them; they serve no purpose. They're benign—they are not and do not become cancerous.

The raised, soft strawberry mark is one of three kinds of hemangiomas. It usually appears within the first few months of life and grows rather quickly for six months to a year and a half. It may increase by several times its size during this period, then stay put for awhile, then slowly begin to shrink and fade. It disappears completely in 7 out of 10 cases by the age of seven. And among those that don't disappear completely, only about 6 per cent are so unsightly as to call for treatment.

Consult Doctor

If you or your child has a hemangioma, you should consult a doctor of course. If it's close to the eye or some other vulnerable spot, treatment may be necessary.

For the most part, though, nature does the job unaided. Don't be frightened by a strawberry mark. Like many other undesirable things in life, it's probably on the way out.

Deviled Sardine Sandwich

Rounds of fresh rye bread generously filled with Deviled Sardine filling makes real hearty eating on hot August days.

When the sand-lot set comes busting into the house, there's a familiar shout . . . "What'll we eat?" You'll be tops on the list, if you give them Deviled Sardine Sandwiches. Clamoring youngsters will really go for the fresh rye bread generously spread with this tangy filling.

A shining virtue of this sandwich treat is that it can be made from foods stored on your kitchen shelves. This is almost a "must" for these impromptu feasts of the younger set. Another laurel for this inexpensive filling is that it can be stored in the refrigerator so each member of the family can fashion his own sandwich—mid-day or mid-night.

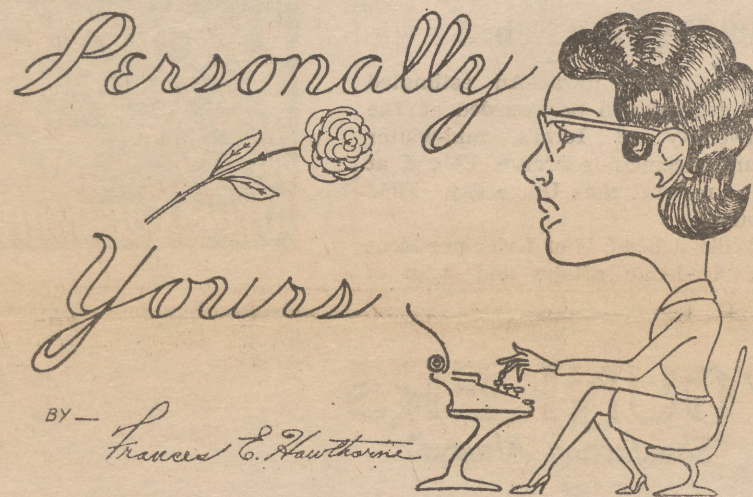

Make up the shopping list for an easier and cooler "August National Sandwich Month." It is the month for light appetites, sandwiches, three-course meals and cool eating. Complete sandwich meals are the easy cut answer. A variety of breads can be selected from the bakery or grocer. All the "go-withs" can be purchased as you do the weekly shopping in the market. Add your own ingenuity with the attractive garnishes, beverages and desserts. A sandwich meal can be ready for the table in a matter of minutes. You'll enjoy this easy summer dining.

Think spring! That's what a leading garden expert advised readers in the midst of the bone-chilling sub-zero grip that Old Man Winter clamped on the U. S. over the weekend. They used to say in the old days, "It's not fit weather for man or beast!"

But a Bystander office worker Saturday put it rather succinctly as she greeted fellow workers, "Nothing but money brings people out this day!"

So, Think spring!!!

We take our hat off to Mrs. Frank Kaiser, Jr., 650 27th street. In the middle of last week she called mothers of the 8 to 10 year-old group of Jack and Jill and told them she would call for and take their youngsters to see the Des Moines Playhouse production on Saturday morning.

Saturday morning came with its record 23 degrees below zero temperature, and we were sure the phone would ring any minute announcing a cancellation. The instrument remained mum. So we had our oldest girl get ready. And sure enough around 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Kaiser breezed up in her car as if it was a warm summer day and made the rounds to six other homes then on to the Playhouse.

Last year mobiles or are in motion was sweeping the country with Caulder as its chief artist. This year it's Op Art or should we say, Art in optical illusions. Looking at it reportedly makes the viewer dizzy or thinks he is a little crazy. Op Art, as it is called, has leaped from the canvas to women's fashion, in dots, dashes, wavy lines and concentric circles. The latest fad is op art wigs.

But, if you think you have seen everything you should see the current art craze among the youngsters. They are collecting by the fistfuls, billfold size pictures of some of the wierdest looking monsters you can imagine. These monsters are given ordinary names like Susan, Jack, John, Henry, Julie, and the like. The gummed back cards of monster art are adorning books, notebooks, and other youngsters property.

Mrs. Joburness Kelso, 1081 12th street, and I get a kick out of each other when she calls in the "8 of Us" news. When she starts listing the mouth watering menu and especially the luscious desserts, we are practically drooling and she knows it. There is talk of audio-visual telephones in the near future and for that reason only, we hope it will not become a common reality. One of these days we just might surprise her and drop in at an opportune time, that is, opportune for us.

HERE AND THERE: Our neighbor, Mrs. Darlene Simon, 1227 10th street, certainly had her troubles over the frigid weekend; first her pipes froze and then as they were thawing out then her hot water heater burst and flooded water over her basement . . . Mrs. Bernice Richmond, 1232 13th street, was scheduled to go into the hospital on Wednesday but before she went she wanted to make sure her Bystander subscription was renewed so she called us about it and gave us a large can of delicious homemade fudge besides.

Home heating experts advise you on the coldest wintry days not to light a fire in your fireplace—because it increases your heating bills. We aren't disputing the experts but there is nothing more cheerful that gives off both physical and psychological warmth than a good blazing fire when the mercury ball agrees with gravity.

A sight to make you shiver: A small school bound child in short dress and coat with anklets, hunching along hurriedly in the sub-zero cold.

8 of Us Resume Meetings, Dining on Delicious Meals

The Eight of Us who have not met since last November, resumed meetings Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Colbert. It was a little hard to get into the meeting for thinking of their close friend and loyal member, G. W. Scott. A moment of silence was observed in his memory.

After a delicious dinner of three kinds of fish, baked corn, sweet potatoes, green beans, potatoes au gratin, salad and plenty of coffee, pickles and olives, they could hardly get around to the rest.

Their new member was so proficient they almost put him out of the club before he was in it. He is Mr. Bob Hayes and is a "barrell of fun." Mrs. Lucille Hamilton was a guest.

Snack time was onward to the kitchen time to enjoy a luscious lemon pie made by member, Mrs. Lillian Scales. High number was drawn by Mrs. Sylvester Parrish, second by Mr. Hayes and third by Mrs. Joburness Kelso.

They are hoping that Mrs. Mae Hawkins soon will be well again so Sidney Hawkins can return to them. Mrs. Hamilton enjoyed the meeting so well that she insisted they let her be host to the next meeting.

TOO MANY CRIMES
GO UNPUNISHED

The NAACP and others interested in civil rights and fair play for every citizen have expressed great concern over the unsolved and unpunished murder cases that have occurred in recent months.

In some instances, almost iron-clad cases have been made against defendants only to have juries bring in verdicts of not guilty. In some, the perpetrators are known but have not been brought to trial.

It is not always easy to track down night time bombings and killings, thus leaving the populace in fear of who will be next.

And if the courts cannot be counted on to dispense justice then to what are the people to turn. Jurors often take the oath to bring in verdicts based on the properly admitted evidence but vote otherwise in the jury room. Public officials are slow or fail to administer justice, fearing reprisals by their neighbors.

The courts have gone a long way and rightly so in protecting the rights of people charged with crime. Some way must be found to protect the rights of those who have suffered as a result of criminal acts.

ANTI-POVERTY GROUP
SHOWING THEIR OATS

The very nature of the anti-poverty program brings forth some foolish, impractical, unworkable suggested programs that eventually would wreck things if allowed to become a reality.

In Washington, D.C. a group applied for funds to set up a weekly newspaper. And while it is important to let the public know what goes on, to allow such would be like setting up a grocery store.

This week, a resolution was passed here asking employers to give employees time off to attend anti-poverty meetings.

We never understood that the anti-poverty program was designed to dictate to employers how they should run their business nor that the time spent in this work, unless paid by the administration, was other than extra activities.

These people would do well to run their own business rather than attempt a program to harass others.

CITY COUNCIL MAKES GOOD APPOINTMENT

The Des Moines city council is to be congratulated upon its appointment of Dr. Meredith Saunders to the Plan and Zoning Commission. It represents a step in the field of city government from which Negroes have been left out a long time.

True, there have been and are members of the human rights, housing and recreation commissions and park board. All are confined to social activities which call for the appointment must be because there is a race problem.

The park board provides a higher status than the commissions named, but the plan and zone commission has great power with the growth of the city within its activities.

Dr. Saunders is a young man, well trained in his profession with considerable general experience which fit him for the post admirably. It is another of those firsts which will work into bigger things in years to come.

Bulldogs Rout Tulsain Defensive Clash, 60-55
Cincinnati Bows to Bradley: Drake's on Top

Bulletin—Cincinnati lost Tuesday night to Bradley leaving the Drake Bulldogs undisputed leaders in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Visualizing themselves as champions in the Missouri Valley Conference the Drake Bulldogs outfought the Tulsa Hurricanes in a hard defensive battle Monday night 60-55 to share first place with Cincinnati, 4-2. It also marked the fifth consecutive game for the Bulldogs who beat North Texas State on Saturday night.

It was a bruising contest all the way until the closing minutes of the game with Harold Jeter emerging as high-point man with 22 points.

11 of 17 Shots

Jeter, who hit 11 of 17 shots, lifted Drake into a 49-49 tie with a long basket, and pulses were beating a mile a minute heading into the final 6 minutes.

After Harold Aldridge's free throw broke the deadlock, Drake suddenly came on with a furious rush and won the tense and duel going away.

Tulsa, bumped from the league lead with its second straight road loss, did not score a basket for 8 minutes down the stretch.

19 out of 20

Jeter's theft of the ball at mid-court set up a shot from the side by Herman Watson and the Drake margin inched ahead to 52-49.

At this stage in the game, with 3½ minutes to go, Tulsa had made the fabulous total of 19 free throws in 20 attempts to keep the score so close. But Sherman Dillard finally missed one and Drake gained possession.

Defensive

By far the best defensive player on the court was Drake's shifty Herman Watson, who was saddled with the responsibility of patrolling star sophomore guard Eldridge Webb.

Herman was terrific all the way. Webb, hounded at every turn, missed 11 of his 13 shots and ended with only seven points.

SIFFORD, FIRST NEGRO ON SHELL'S GOLF

of leadership amongst his fellow workers. He is a builder in the truest sense, but in a quiet way he has demonstrated that great things can be done for all people in God's sight," said Dr. James Brown.

According to the committee report, "Out of a world that seems to lead toward violence, Mr. Bluford lives by a great philosophy that should guide us all and prove his worthiness in the award.

"Your life should not be negotiated for you, but rather, your way of life should be earned through your own ambitions and desires. That your possessions, ideals and advancement must be built by your own creativity."

Married in 1959

The award winner married Harriet Trosper in 1959, also a Morningside graduate and a welfare worker for the county department of social welfare. They have one son.

He is a member of the First Christian Church and has served, on various church committees, has served a number of years as a counselor for Sanford Center, is active in the Mission Study group of Mount Zion Baptist Church, and is a leader in his neighborhood Anti-Poverty program.

File Job Suit
Against Wallace
Sewing Machine Co.

Wilmington, N.C. — Attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund today filed federal suit against the

We watched part of the picture of the heavyweight title bout between Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson. Of course, there was no doubt as to who won. We were interested in Clay's comments. He gave a pretty good argument for not knocking out the former champ if he could have. He spoke like a fellow who doesn't really give the killer instinct of a Dempsey or the cold ruthlessness of Joe Louis. He defended his stand by arguing that the people really saw an exhibition of what boxing was supposed to be... a contest of speed and skill.

Science and Skill

Clay's version of the thing was really the accepted method of boxing in Europe and especially England for a long time. They believed in boxing as an exhibition of science and skill. Several battles in which very few blows were actually landed met with applause by the British. They had a couple of the best in lightweight champion, Freddy Welch and flyweight champ, Jimmy Wilde. Both of these fellows were master boxers who couldn't or wouldn't knock your hat off with a punch. They were both old boxers before they were finally knocked out by American fighters. Benny Leonard often called one of the great lightweights of all time took the crown by a knockout from Welch. Wilde lost his to a Filipino who fought as wildly as his namesake.

Leonard was also scientific. He made a study of where and how to land a kayo punch and though not really a heavy hitter put a lot of fellows to sleep because he knew where and how to hit them.

Since Then

But since the Europeans have come up with fighters who can knock you dead with a punch they have revised their ideas about boxing. So when Clay was advancing his arguments we thought about the old masters.

Easy Going

But still the champ said of the early going that Patterson had taken his shots and hadn't gone down. But he could probably stop Floyd later on. But then Clay was a little tired, too. As we read the howls of sportswriters about boxing we wonder if the whole thing couldn't be resolved and all problems settled if some good white boy won the heavyweight crown.

Past Prime

Rocky Marciano retired undefeated. Yet his title defenses were all against men well past their prime—Jersey Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles, Archie Moore—all old men. Any one of them might have beaten Rocky in their day. It has been a long time since we heard anything on the favorable side for Clay. The fellow seems to get bigger and stronger with each fight.

He Is Fast

He is fast. Maybe even the great Dempsey would have had trouble catching the guy. The man's religion or political beliefs or whatever it is, is his personal business. So gee, fellows let's give the man a break and recognize him as champ. Then if you want to be glad if he finally gets beaten.

Court Orders

Admission of Negro to
N.C. Dental Society

New York—Jack Greenberg, director-counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., Jan. 21 called for the withholding of Federal funds from national, state and local medical and dental organizations because of racial discrimination in southern medical and dental societies.

In a telegram to John W. Gardner, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Mr. Greenberg charged that hundreds of medical and dental societies throughout the South exclude Negroes.

HEW has the authority under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to withhold funds from agencies practicing discrimination.

The telegram followed a Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling Thursday ordering the admission of a Negro dentist to the North Carolina Dental Society.
