Only 2 Negroes Apply for Highway Patrol Jobs

Height Disqualifies 1; NAACP Will Canvass State for Candidates

Only two Negroes have applied for positions with the Iowa Highway Patrol and one of them has been disqualified because he does not meet the 5 feet 9 inch height requirement it was revealed here Monday.

The announcement came from state officials and the State Commissioner Gene Needles, who said that he had personally reviewed the application of the person turned down.

Attorney Robert Wright, president of the Des Moines NAACP, said that he will ask the organization's labor committee to make a last minute effort to seek some qualified Negro applicants for the patrol.

Both Wright and Needles said that Negroes who are qualified for the patrol are able to get better jobs elsewhere.

The starting salary of a highway patrolman is $5,200 a year. Patrolmen also receive a per diem allowance of $3.76 each.

New Laws

Wright said the increased demand for qualified Negroes is primarily the result of new federal laws dealing with fair employment practices.

"The federal government has urged many businesses and industries, and even given some an ultimatum to be more fair in their hiring practices or lose government contracts," Wright said.

The patrol has not had a Negro member since it was formed in 1935. Patrol officials say that the few Negroes who have applied in the past have not met the qualifications.

Vacancies

The patrol has 62 vacancies to fill—50 new positions created by the 1965 Legislature and 12 other openings resulting from retirements and resignations.

One Negro is under field investigation, along with more than 100 other applicants who have passed preliminary tests.

Several Negro leaders had met with Highway Patrol officers and officials of the Iowa Public Safety Department several weeks ago in an effort to interest more Negroes in applying for patrol openings.

Wright said one problem is that Negroes traditionally "have considered police agencies as their enemies."

Traditional

"They have met with failure in the past in applying for jobs in these areas and have come to believe that, even if they tried, they wouldn't get the job anyway," Wright continued.

The patrol will send about 70 applicants to a training school at Camp Dodge in April.

Washington, D.C.—Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss, Friday announced the appointment of an Advisory Committee to the National Chairman composed of 12 prominent Negro leaders to assist him in implementing a political action program designed to strengthen the Republican Party's support among Negroes.

"Results of municipal elections in New York, Philadelphia, Louisville and numerous other cities last November provide ample evidence that Negro voters will support Republican candidates when they offer attractive and constructive programs dealing with the important issues of the day," Chairman Bliss said.

Chairman Bliss said the first meeting of the Advisory Committee will be held on Friday, March 11, at 10:30 a.m. at the Republican National Committee headquarters.

Hampton President Speaks on 'Population'

New York—While population problems are of "staggering dimensions" today, an investigatory tour through Far East and Middle East countries shows that corrective measures are being established through family planning projects, Dr. Jerome T. Holland, president of Hampton Institute, reports.

Dr. Jerome H. Holland, President, Hampton Institute

As recipients of a Carnegie Corporation grant to study educational problems, Dr. and Mrs. Holland visited India, Pakistan, Egypt, Thailand, the Philippines and other areas. Of their findings, the educator and sociologist, who is a member of the Board of Directors of Planned Parenthood-World Population, said:

"I don't think any of us realize the staggering dimensions of the population crisis until we actually visit some of these lands. I had read a great deal but until I saw Calcutta, the Egyptian villages and the rural community developments in the Philippines, I had no idea of the immensity of the needs and the comprehensiveness of the impact of uncontrolled population growth."

Malcolm X Killer Confesses In Court to Assassination

New York, N. Y. — Talmadge Hayer, 24, one of three men on trial for the murder of Malcolm X, electrified the courtroom Monday when he confessed that he participated in the assassination of the Black Nationalist leader. In testifying he sought to exonerate two other men on trial with him for the murder.

Hayer, who last Wednesday swore under oath that he was innocent, told Supreme Court Justice Charles Marks and a jury that he now wanted to "tell the truth."

Co-defendants

Hayer's codefendants are Norman 3X Butler, 26, and Thomas 15X Johnson, 30.

Malcolm was shot down in the Audubon Ballroom Feb. 21, 1965, as he prepared to address a gathering of Black Nationalists.

He had formed the Black Nationalist movement after becoming disenchanted with the Black Muslims and breaking away from them.

Indicted

Hayer, indicted under the name of Thomas Hagan, said he and four other men had been hired to kill Malcolm X. He said he fired a .45-caliber automatic at Malcolm X after the Black Nationalist leader was felled by a shotgun blast.

Hayer denied that either he or the person who hired him was connected with the Black Muslims.

Feared Death

Malcolm X had publicly stated he feared the Black Muslims would kill him.

Hayer refused to say why the man who hired him wanted Malcolm X killed or how much he was paid.

Dermody suggested that Hayer was trying to protect Johnson and Butler. Dermody contended Johnson fired the shotgun and Hayer and Butler then riddled Malcolm X with pistol fire.

The trial resumed Tuesday.

Council Sets March 14 for Decision on Oakridge Area

At its meeting Monday the City Council set Mar. 14 as the date when it will make a decision on whether to authorize the proposed $5-million Oakridge urban renewal project.

The councilmen received a $4.2-million loan and grant contract from the federal government—the document that the city must sign in order to go ahead with Oakridge—and referred it to the Urban Renewal Board, the city manager and the Legal Department for study and a recommendation.

The planned project involves clearance and some rehabilitation in a 130-acre area northwest of the central business district. Final cost to the city is expected to run about $1 million.

Councilman Jens Grothe, who is expected to oppose the project, joined the other councilmen in asking the Urban Renewal Board for a recommendation.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Omaha, Nebr.—A protest was lodged last week by the Citizens Coordinating Committee for Civil Liberties with an assistant at Central High school over use of Stephen Foster's "Lemuel" in a junior choir-class. In the song the phrase "darkie boys" had been blotted out and "cotton boys" penned in its place. Negro students in the choir-class refused to participate in the singing of the song. There were several reports of white students ridiculing Negro classmates concerning the song.

St. Louis, Mo.—Some 16 children were overcome as a dangerous combination of carbon monoxide gas and newly painted walls and hallways resulted in noxious fumes sweeping through St. Edward's Catholic school last week.

Annapolis, Md.—Dr. Samuel P. Massie, recently resigned president of North Carolina College, Durham, will become the first Negro to serve as a professor at the U. S. Naval Academy.

St. Louis, Mo.—A 2-year-old girl, thought to have a cold, died of what was later diagnosed by the coroner as tubercular spinal meningitis.

St. Louis, Mo.—The Judges of the Circuit Court sitting en banc, selected Edward F. Tripp, as chief probation and parole officer becoming the first of his race to hold that position in the history of the circuit bench.

New York, N. Y.—Negro Democrats in the New York State Assembly received significant assignments this year. For the first time, Negroes were named to four key committees and a Negro was appointed Democratic majority whip.

GOP Youth to Hear Joanna Bower, Negro Ohio College Student

The second annual "Young America Day" program to promote political participation among Iowa teenagers will be held at the Hotel Kirkwood, Des Moines, March 26.

Three auxiliaries of the Iowa Republican Party are sponsoring the event, which last year attracted about 400 youth. Cooperating on this year's program are the Iowa Council of Republican Women, the Iowa Republican Workshop and the Iowa Young Republicans.

One of the main speakers following a luncheon will be Tom Van Sickle, a Kansas State Senator, who is president of the Young Republican National Federation. Van Sickle, 28, was elected president of the YRS at the convention in Miami, Fla., last June. Also appearing before the students will be Joanna Bowers, a Negro college student from Central State University, Wilberforce, Ohio. Miss Bowers, Dayton, Ohio, speaks

First of Race to Hold This Position with Monetary Agency Guiding Economy

Washington, D. C.—President Johnson nominated Andrew F. Brimmer, 39, an economist to serve on the Federal Reserve Board, becoming the first of his race to hold that position.

Brimmer who is presently assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, is termed a "moderate." This is supposed to be an asset to the seven-man board which is divided over monetary policy. The board strongly influences interest rates and the availability of credit in the economy.

Approval

Board Chairman William McChesney Martin, Jr., issued a statement indicating approval of the appointment, though Martin had urged that the President appoint a businessman. Brimmer replaces C. Canby Balderston, a conservative whose term had expired.

The division of the independent board over the course of the nation's monetary policy was graphically revealed last December in the 4-3 vote by which a move to higher interest rates was taken. The President criticized the move at the time.

Tighter Money

The Brimmer appointment does not necessarily give the President's generally-low-interest-rate views a preponderant position on the board.

The liberals on the board support tighter money and higher interest rates in some conditions. Prospects are for a series of close decisions with members occasionally switching sides.

Brimmer, who would be the first

Negro ever to serve on the board, has spent most of his career in academic life.

Mr. Brimmer, who has a Harvard University Ph.D. in Economics, has been serving as Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Affairs, a post to which he was appointed by President Johnson a year ago.

Choice of Many

In announcing the appointment, the President told newsmen: "I have given this appointment exhaustive concern for many months now. Of many men considered, Mr. Brimmer emerged as a choice of so many with whom I discussed the question. He is a man of wide professional experience and great personal integrity, a man of moderation whose brilliance is combined with a sense of fair play that I believe will enable him to serve with distinction in this new and important assignment."

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Board is a seven-man body which determines U.S. monetary policy, sets interest rates and controls the nation's money supply.

2nd Time

President Johnson's appointment of Brimmer marks the second time the President has named a Negro to a post in high finance. The President

Authorize 10,000 Part-time P.O. Jobs for Needy Students

Washington, D. C.—Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien today authorized immediate recruitment of approximately 10,000 "needy and deserving" students to help post offices all over the nation move the mails more rapidly during rush hours.

Hours

Up to 16 hours of work a week, at $2.37 an hour, will be provided.

Students must be meeting acceptable school standards and need the money for their education. Employing postmasters will be required to have school authorities certify that these conditions are being met.

Part-Time

The part-time plan is directed primarily at college students. However, it may also provide opportunities for some in resident secondary schools who meet the criteria of need and merit. The age limits for employment are 16 to 22.

A notice is being issued in the Postal Bulletin providing postal officials with detailed instructions on how to place the part-time plan in operation promptly.

House of Representatives to accept an appointment as attorney for the Federal Small Business Administration (SBA).

The wife of Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton, Jr., she was the first woman of her race to serve in the Iowa legislature. She and another Negro, James Jackson, of Waterloo, Ia., who had resigned earlier, were the first of their race to be elected to either legislative body before 1964. Thus, the Legislature currently has no Negro members.

Mrs. Glanton's resignation increases to 13 the number of vacancies in the current Legislature. The Legislature is not now in session and the vacancies are of no importance unless a special session is called in the coming months. In that event, special election would have to be called.

Lauds President's Rights Role; Gets Freedom House Award

New York—President Lyndon B. Johnson was warmly praised by NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins as the man "who ushered out the old ways" of racial discrimination at an impressive dinner here, Feb. 23, honoring the President. The occasion was the 26th anniversary Freedom House Award dinner.

Mr. Johnson was presented with a bronze head of himself sculptured by Leo Cherne, chairman of the Freedom House executive committee. The award bore the following inscription:

LYNDON B. JOHNSON

Freedom at home was never more widely shared nor aggression abroad more wisely resisted than under his leadership of the Nation

FREEDOM HOUSE—1966
Dinner Meeting

Addressing the dinner meeting at the Waldorf Astoria, Wilkins said: "The evaluation of Lyndon Baines Johnson in the domestically explosive and internationally sensitive field of civil rights must rest not only upon his precedent-breaking appointments of Negroes to government posts, but upon the kind of understanding and courageous cooperation that no President until now has placed upon the public record."

In Practice

The President and the people know that in practice the old ways have not been "wiped out in every vestige in every spot, but the government is now a committed ally, not an onlooker" in the civil rights struggle, the NAACP leader stated. "As permissible policy," he said, "the old ways are broken and gone."

Mr. Wilkins was one of five prominent Americans paying tribute to the President. Others joining in tribute to President Johnson included Douglas Dillon, former Secretary of the Treasury; Roscoe Drummond, chairman of the Freedom House Board; David Brinkley, NBC-TV commentator; and Mr. Cherne.

ROCKEFELLER BROTHERS FUND GIVES $35,000 TO U.C. COMMITTEE FOR THE 1ST WORLD FESTIVAL OF NEGRO ARTS

New York—The Rockefeller Brothers Fund has given $35,000 to the United States Committee For The First World Festival of Negro Arts, it was announced today by Mrs. Virginia Inness-Brown, president of the United States Committee. The Committee, a non-profit, private organization, is charged with sending to the Festival at Dakar, Senegal, the delegation of America's leading Negro artists and specialists as well as works of art. Over forty nations are participating in the Festival which takes place between April 1 and 24, an event which is the first of its kind.

The donation from the Rockefeller Brothers Fund will be devoted to the sending of an unusual assemblage of traditional African art from thirteen different American collections. Dr. Robert Goldwater, Chairman of the Administrative Committee of the Museum of Primitive Art in New York, arranged for the selection of forty-two unique pieces of sculpture for the Festival. Dr. Goldwater is also chairman of the United States Committee's Traditional African Arts Committee.

This American contribution will be an important part of the Festival's exhibition of traditional African art at Senegal which will consist of more than 500 pieces, the largest single exhibition of traditional African art ever to be held. Important loans will also be made by African nations and the leading museums of Europe.

The Museum of Primitive Art is the largest single lender of works for the American participation in the Festival. Other institutions which are lending pieces are the University Museum of Philadelphia, the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology of Cambridge, Mass., and the Museum of African Art of Washington, D. C.

DEFENSE FUND WINS DESEGREGATION OF FLORIDA DETENTION FACILITIES

New York—Two major breakthroughs in the fight against Florida's segregated penal institutions were announced here today by Jack Greenberg, director-counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

Paved the Way

A decision by the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals paved the way for desegregation of Florida's juvenile reform schools, and a Federal District Court judge in Jacksonville ordered desegregation of Jacksonville detention facilities.

"If we are to have equal justice under law," Mr. Greenberg said, "equal treatment must be given to the guilty as well as the innocent. We will continue to attack racial segregation of prisoners, particularly where it involves juveniles who should have equal access to rehabilitation facilities."

Both Suits

Both desegregation suits were brought by Negroes arrested during sit-in demonstrations in segregated restaurants in Jacksonville and St. Augustine.

The appellate court ruling reversed a Federal District Court dismissal of a suit to desegregate Florida's reform schools.

The Federal District Court in Tallahassee had dismissed the suit, brought in behalf of four juveniles, now 16 to 18 years old, on grounds that they are no longer inmates of the reform schools, and hence had no right to sue.

4 Juveniles

The four juveniles, two boys and two girls, were arrested and charged with trespass during July, 1963, demonstrations in St. Augustine. They were adjudged delinquents and committed to reform school after they refused the juvenile court judge's offer of probation if they agreed to stop participating in demonstrations.

NWB Annual Report Reflects Growth

Growth in use of Northwestern Bell services in 1965 reflected the generally good condition of business and agriculture in the area served by the company, A. F. Jacobson, president, said in the firm's Annual Report released today.

A gain of 138,000 telephones during the year pushed the year-end total to 3,099,000. Use of long distance and other intercity services had an aggregate rise of 10.6 per cent.

Northwestern Bell's 1965 construction program to expand and improve service cost a record $141 million. Investment in service facilities in the five states served by the company stood at $1.3 billion at the end of 1965, the Report stated.

Revenues increased by approximately eight per cent, and cost of providing service went up ten per cent. Operating taxes, together with the federal excise taxes collected by the company for the government, totaled $126 million. Earnings were at the rate of $2.27 per share of stock, compared with $2.31 for the preceding year.

UNCF Distributes Nearly 2 Million Dollars to Colleges

New York, N. Y.—The United Negro College Fund today distributed the record sum of nearly $2 million to its 33 member colleges and universities, it was reported by James W. Bryant, the Fund's executive vice president.

The disbursement totaling $1,955,009, exceeds all previous allotments derived from annual appeal funds, and represents the final distribution of gifts received by the organization during its 1965 campaign.

Desperately Needed

"This money," Mr. Bryant noted, "is desperately needed by our member colleges to help meet current operating expenses. It will be used to expand essential educational programs, bolster scholarship aid to more than 16,000 needy students, improve faculties and build library holdings."

The largest portion of today's distribution, $416,012, goes to seven colleges and universities in Georgia. Six institutions in North Carolina will receive $327,030; four in Alabama, $275,184; three in Virginia, $238,788, and four in Tennessee, $223,011. The remainder goes to nine colleges and universities in Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Texas.

Formula

Contributions to the Fund's annual campaign are divided among the institutions according to a formula agreed upon by the presidents of the member colleges. One-half is divided equally, and the remainder is distributed on the basis of enrollment and the financial status of each of the schools.

The predominantly Negro colleges and universities affiliated with the United Negro College Fund currently enroll 31,620 students, and serve all American youth without regard to race, color or creed.

During the past two decades, the Fund has distributed more than $90 million to assist its member institutions.

Much more could be said about Mrs. Bailey. Truly she is a disciple of Christ, leaving her footprints in the sands of time.

Popular Fish Dish for Lent

Canned salmon, flaked into creamy Newburg sauce, makes an elegant yet economical Lenten luncheon dish.

Each year, at this season, fish swim not only in the seven seas but also in the heads of countless cooks who, with fish an important factor in the family diet, ponder the problem of variety in their menus.

This seasonal necessity, like the proverbial mother of invention, has produced many tasty tricks in fish cuisine. As a result, it is no difficult or time-consuming task to prepare Lenten dishes which leave your family delightfully pleased and satisfied.

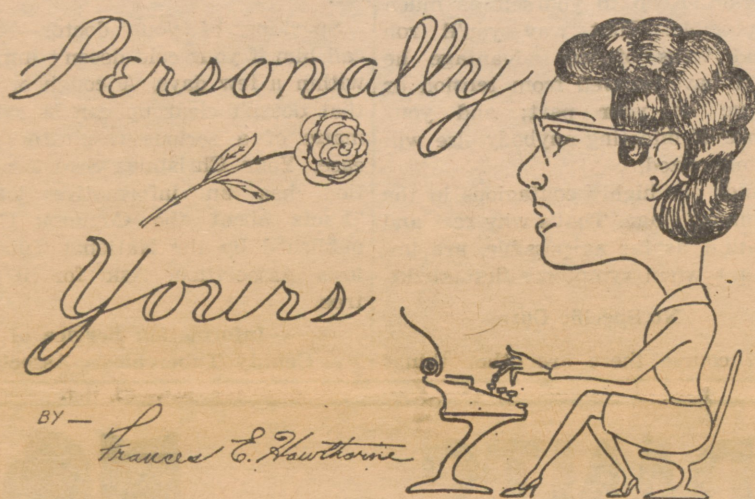

One, in particular, is made with colorful, canned salmon in a luscious, creamy sauce, delicately flavored with clam juice and perked with a dash of cayenne. For additional intrigue, a tablespoon of cooking sherry may be added just before serving. Serve with crisp saltines.

SALMON NEWBURG

3 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
1 can (1 pound) salmon
1/2 cup bottled clam juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup cream

In a saucepan melt butter. In it cook onion for 5 minutes. Stir in flour, paprika, and Tabasco. Gradually stir in liquid from can of salmon and clam juice and cook, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Flake and add salmon and parsley. Simmer for 3 minutes. Beat egg yolks and cream and stir into salmon mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring, for 2 minutes longer. Serves 4.

Can it really be two months since we celebrated the biggest of annual holidays? The past weekend and the early days of this week really get you itching for spring and all the spruce-up and clean-up that goes with it. And of course, many households are already watching the disaffection over the furnishings, walls and whatever.

For me the weekend was busy as well as relaxing. First my birthday came on Friday and as a part of my birthday celebration I was given the weekend off by my family and surprisingly they managed it. In the afternoon I was at the hairdresser's and thinking that I had to run down to the elementary school afterwards to hear about the Blue Star program, when my husband called with the short notice announcement that the postal clerk union had given him two tickets to attend the meeting and stage show that evening at KRNT for Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien who would be guest speaker.

When I finally arrived back home from the school, my husband was rushing around trying to get ready to go to the airport to meet the Postmaster General who was arriving by plane. He with several other union officials, was among the welcoming party for Mr. O'Brien. As 44 News Editor he got a personal introduction to Mr. O'Brien from Mr. John McNeerney, Des Moines postmaster.

It was only a matter of another hour before we were due at the KRNT theater for the show which included the fabulous Step Brothers, Comedian Wally (Ain't That Something) Blake and others.

Among others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Moses Clinton, of 1530 Maple Street. He is foreman of mails and she is a postal clerk.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Robinson, Dr. L. A. James and Mrs. William Clinton.

Among those on the honor roll at North high last semester were Peggy Spates, sophomore daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Spates, 1244 13th street and Clydette Bradford, senior daughter of Mrs. Clyde Bradford, 2901 5th street. Those making the honor roll had to make straight Is in all subjects.

Our youngest son, Vance, has made the honor roll for two successive quarters at Irving Junior high by making all ones and twos. Our oldest missed by one subject, in which he got a 3. Honor roll standards at junior high schools decree that you make all ones and twos or nothing lower than a two in any subject.

If you have a youngster who enjoys reading a lot, you might suggest they enter the "Books for Brotherhood" reading program now being conducted by the women's department of the National Council of Christians and Jews.

The lists of suggested books for the contest are sent to the schools but in some cases, several schools did not get theirs; so all your child need do is ask to see the Books for Brotherhood list at the main library or any branch, and select a book from it. Read it and write a report and mail it to the NCCJ office at the Empire building before Mar. 31. Each child gets a certificate for participation and may win the $5.00 cash award for her or his grade. In addition they get immeasurable experience and knowledge from reading the book.

Many persons seem a little confused about the Blue Star program and what it proposes to do and what demands are placed on the persons participating.

As explained by Police Sergeant Tom Baker, the program is designed for the protection of your child to and from school. You are not obligated to open your house to youngsters; in fact, it is not encouraged. You would be one of two or more persons on your block who would be home while children are on their way to schools in the mornings, at noon and the afternoon when they are coming home.

If a child should come to your home (with a blue star in its window) all you need do is go to the door, ascertain the need of the child, and call police or the fire department if needed, who will take the responsibility off your hands. At no time need you let the child inside your home as this would place responsibility on you. You are not to offer refreshments of any kind which might be dangerous in the case of a diabetic. In the case of serious injury to a child seeking help, you are not to administer first aid, unless you are qualified to do so and then not until you have called the police first.

If a child is enroute to school and somehow becomes injured to the point that you think he should not continue to school, you are to ask for the child's phone number and call the parents. If they aren't home call police and they will take over.

With the serious threat to your child from molesters, or some similar danger, the Blue Star program would be a godsend because it would deter many a habitual molester in the area where he sees Blue Stars. It is worth your while looking into and supporting.

TOO MUCH EXPECTED
WITHOUT A CHANCE TO PREPARE

Recently, Iowa had one of those flareups about the lack of Negroes on the Iowa highway patrol because of an impending examination for new men. As a result, the chief of the patrol agreed to review personally the examination papers of all Negroes who failed. Rights organizations agreed that a special effort would be made to recruit Negro applicants.

Considerable disappointment was felt when only two Negroes applied. One has been disqualified already while the other is being checked for lack of height.

The Bystander was not impressed with this last minute rush which should have been started six months ago.

The salary of $5,200 is enough to attract the average Negro man because, except in professional spots, he has not been hired in jobs of this category nor as apprentices or beginners to work up to such spots.

Prior to 1941 Negro teachers were required to go out of the state to get a job. When the door opened, there were few trained ones available to fill the openings. But in later years some have come home to teach; some have trained because opportunity is here. The same is true of the post office. Five years ago, there were one or two clerks and less than a half dozen carriers. Today carriers and clerks are in almost every department. There are approximately 73 clerks, 17 carriers, 30 mail handlers, 8 building maintenance employees and 5 supervisors.

Speaking before the Mayor's Commission on Human Rights some years ago, the manager of a Des Moines firm which carries on it ads "an equal opportunity employer" said they did not hire Negro men because they feared promotions might move them up as department heads and that would not do.

In other words, too many desirable Negroes have been forced to leave Iowa, after being educated here, to get a job. Some are returning home to find openings that did not exist when they graduated from high school or college. New ones are coming in to help fill the gap.

Just as Iowa was required to train a lot of bartenders in 1963 to tend bars when we get liquor by the drink, so must Negro men have an opportunity to train for the openings that exist in all fields.

For many years a Negro, the late Harry E. Wilson, was supply officer of the highway patrol. When he left, he was not replaced by a Negro.

TALK IS CHEAP
BUT ACTION COUNTS

Gov. Norman Erby appointed the then William Parker of Waterloo a member of the board of parole in 1961. He served with distinction the most responsible position given a Negro in the state.

Later Parker was elected judge of the municipal court in Waterloo. He is a Republican and by law Gov. Hughes was required to fill the post with a Republican. He did so but not a Negro.

Recently, the chairman of the board of parole, Howard L. Martin, was named a district judge. He is a Democrat. Gov. Hughes did not see fit to name a Negro Democrat to replace him. This is unfortunate and poses a distinct drop for Negroes in high places at the state house.

The governor has been active in securing a state human rights commission. He has spoken before various groups expressing his belief in equal opportunity. But when he has an opportunity to put these glowing words in practice, he has failed miserably.

It has always been the contention of workers in the field of human rights that the state should take the lead in equal opportunities for minorities as an example for private concerns to follow. The governor has not done this, not only offering a poor example for private business but also the county, city and school administrations to follow. He is not keeping pace by any means with his party leader, President Johnson.

GOD GIVE US MEN

God give us men!
At time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands;
Men for whom the lust for office
does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And dam his treacherous flatteries without winking!
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live
In public duty, and in private thinking.

A course in new math was being taken by a group of parents so that they would better understand it and be able to help their children with their homework.

After struggling with it for a few sessions, one parent threw up her hands in despair. "After this New Math, what next?"

Her neighbor. "Haven't you heard? Aftermath!"

An Oxford professor refused to recognize his female students. He always began his lectures with "Gentlemen." Even when the ratio of girls to boys was ten to one, he still insisted on "Gentlemen."

One semester he found 39 girls and one young man in his class. He surveyed the situation clenched his teeth, and boomed, "Sir!"

you can do. Things that can help by making you feel less miserable, though actually no specific cure is known for the common cold. Keep warm. Drink plenty of liquids. Forget the old wives' tale about "feeding your cold"; overeating never helped anybody but the druggist. If you use any nasal sprays, be sure they're recommended by your doctor.

Speaking of your doctor—better call him if your cold doesn't improve within a few days. A cough or cold that doesn't clear up can be symptomatic of a serious respiratory disease. Your Christmas Seal Association has an informative leaflet, "Facts about the Common Cold", published by the National Tuberculosis Association. Ask for it; it's free.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THE COLD THAT CAME IN—

Well, maybe it didn't come in from a spy—but it certainly came from somebody, because that old wheeze-and-sneeze disease known as the common cold just doesn't happen by itself.

In fact, common cold viruses are so pushy that even people who shun society often find themselves playing "host" to one of the barbarous little bugs.

What to do, then, if you find you're a victim? Your first thought may well be how to keep from passing the ailment on to those nearest and/or dearest to you. Your second thought (or maybe it's a photo finish) will be your own woeful condition and how to keep from getting worse.

Treatment

Fortunately, there's a double action treatment that works on both fronts. It's safe, simple, and pleasant—nothing to buy. The treatment: take it easy. Avoid undue exertion. Keep to yourself as much as possible. That way you'll rob friend virus of any advantage he might have derived from tension or fatigue on your part; and your chance of infecting anybody else will be minimized.

Colds are highly contagious in the beginning stage. That's why rest and isolation, as far as possible, are important when symptoms first strike.

No Specific Cure

Handy Incinerator

FOR burning household rubbish, an incinerator built of concrete blocks on a concrete foundation is excellent. The base is 4 by 5 feet, and the concrete should be reinforced with chicken wire, according to Family Handyman.

Use standard size building blocks, setting the first course on a thin layer of mortar and leaving two 8"x8" spaces at the front to provide ample draft for complete incineration.

The cover is turkey wire, 1"x2" mesh, with welded joints so the wires won't separate due to the heat. Eye-bolts may be inserted in the joints between two of the top building blocks, if you want to hinge the mesh cover by looping down two pieces of the wire into the metal eyes.
