National Urban League Signs First Major Contract

In Human Resources Development Program

New York, N. Y.—Whitney M. Young Jr., Executive Director, National Urban League, on March 14 signed a $56,580 planning contract with the U. S. Department of Labor under the Department's new Human Resources Development Program. Under the terms of this contract, the Urban League will coordinate and direct the development of Human Resources Programs in selected cities throughout the country.

First Attack

The Human Resources Development Program, enunciated in December, represents the first national comprehensive attack on the problems of the hard-core, unemployed, out-of-school youth who have not been reached by previous programs.

Unique

The program differs from earlier efforts in that it will reach out to find, identify, and register such young people. It is also unique in that education and training will be individualized on a case-by-case basis and program developed on the basis of individual needs.

The Urban League played an important role in development of the program through Frank L. Stanley Jr., the League's Associate Director, who was a key member of the Department of Labor Task Force which developed the national program.

Negro G.O.P. Leaders Meet With Ray Bliss

Washington, D. C.—The Republican Negro Advisory Committee, meeting with National Chairman Ray C. Bliss, agreed recently to the immediate formulation of a program to recruit Republican voters among the nation's Negro population.

Special Assistant

The Committee recommended appointment of a special assistant to the National Chairman to carry out the program. It also recommended appointment of a woman to aid the assistant to implement the program. The recommendations included the appointment of a public relations specialist and a research specialist to augment the program.

Chairman Bliss expressed his appreciation of the work done by the Advisory Committee and immediately set up procedures for putting it into effect. The full Advisory Committee will meet with the Chairman within the next few weeks to review applications for the new positions.

Frank Discussion

The new special assistant to the Chairman will work with Bliss in the overall Republican organizational drive. He also will be in constant consultation with the Advisory Committee which will meet at intervals throughout the coming months.

The Committee recommendations followed a frank discussion by all members of the needs of the Republican Party for increasing its support among Negro voters.

Leaders Help to Restore Order As Uneasy Calm Settles Over Watts Area

Los Angeles—While an uneasy calm settled over the Watts section of this city, NAACP officials in the area maintained their vigilance to help maintain the peace after the one-day rioting which took two lives this week.

City officials praised the instrumental role which the NAACP played in calming the rioting and in restoring order to this continually tense community.

Credit

In fact, the Negro leadership, including the civil rights organizations and political leaders on the scene, were credited with doing more than anyone else to quell the disturbance which arose when fighting broke out between Negroes and Mexican Americans living in the area. In the ensuing fight a Negro was shot by one or more Mexican Americans, triggering the riot.

To the Scene

Several NAACP personnel went immediately to the scene and remained there, circulating among and talking to the growing crowds. Included were Loring Smile, NAACP field director; Norman Houston, president of the Los Angeles NAACP Branch; Edward Warren, president of the NAACP Watts chapter; and Leonard H. Carter, NAACP West Coast regional director.

Basic Cause

While at the moment the situation is under control, a heavy cordon of police is patrolling the area and, according to Carter, additional flare-ups can be anticipated unless the basic causes of unrest are solved.

Among the reasons for discontent are the failure of funds from the Anti-Poverty Program to reach the impoverished Negroes in the Watts area, the existence of programs which are more political than community-oriented, and the almost total lack of employment opportunities for Negro males in the area.

Do You Know Your Rights Under Iowa's New Statute?

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

How well do you know your rights under Iowa's new civil rights act? Do you know exactly where to go and what to do in case a discriminatory act, based on race, creed or color is committed against you? Do you know that the Iowa Commission on Human Rights can give you these answers and many more?

Just a letter, card or visit to the Iowa State Human Rights Commission offices at the statehouse will bring you much valuable information or answers to your questions.

Contact Office

"We are encouraging any individual who may have suffered racial discrimination in public accommodations, employment (hiring, firing or promotion) or even housing," to drop us a card or letter telling us about the incident," said James Thomas, executive director of the state rights commission.

"We answer all letters whether they are just asking for information

U.S. Court Clears NAACP Right to Work in Miss.

New Orleans—The U. S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit has upheld the right of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to conduct its activities in the State of Mississippi.

The Court further ordered a Federal Court in Jackson, Miss., to block quick arrests of civil rights demonstrators or attempts to halt the right of peaceful demonstrations against racial discrimination.

Cleared Away

The decision, handed down Mar. 9, cleared the way for the NAACP to obtain a charter from the state, which state officials had tried to block through legislation passed in 1962.

At that time, Mississippi changed its law regarding non-profit organizations and required such organizations to file an application for a charter which would be accepted only if it would be "to the best interests of the State of Mississippi."

No Action

While the NAACP filed its application in Dec. 1962, no action was taken on it until the NAACP filed suit. Then the state returned the application and refused to register it as a domestic corporation.

Basing its decision on a similar case of the NAACP v. Alabama, the U. S. Court of Appeals dismissed the contentions of Mississippi that it was not in the best interest of the state to allow the NAACP to do business there because of its sponsorship of the participation in civil rights activities. The further attempt to apply to the NAACP those laws regarding incorporation of Mississippi corporations was dismissed as having no application to a foreign corporation seeking to do business in the state.

Pattern of Conduct

The court specifically ordered the government, the Secretary of State and the Attorney General of Mississippi to accept the NAACP application.

Regarding the arrests of demonstrators, the court noted "a pattern of conduct on the part of officials of the City of Jackson that leads us to the conclusion that defendants took advantage of every opportunity, serious or trivial, to break up these demonstrations in protest against racial discrimination, and that a large number of the arrests had no other motive, and some had no justification whatever, either under municipal, State or Federal law."

Waterloo Youth Files Charges of Brutality In Police Arrest Case

Waterloo, Iowa — An 18-year-old youth has filed a complaint of police brutality with the Waterloo Commission on Human Rights. He is Albert Campbell of Waterloo.

Eddie Benton, chairman of the committee on human rights of Local 46, United Packinghouse, Food and Allied Workers, said Wednesday afternoon that, according to a witness, Campbell was treated roughly by police early Tuesday, Mar. 15 on a street here. Campbell was later charged with careless driving and disturbing the public quiet and is now free on bond.

He pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Tuesday, Mar. 15 to the charge of careless driving and was fined $15.

He pleaded innocent to the disturbing public quiet charge. Hearing on that was set for 3 p.m. Wednesday, Mar. 23. Police said this charge was based on profane language Campbell used when police issued him a summons for careless driving.

Campbell's sister, Mary, said the "police had Albert down on the ground, and were beating him and that when they let him up, he was all bloody."

She said a neighbor heard Albert saying, "please don't beat me, please don't beat me."

The Rev. I. V. Tolbert, pastor of the Payne Memorial A.M.E. Church here, and chairman of the Waterloo Commission on Human Rights, said the commission received a complaint from Albert Campbell. A committee was appointed to investigate the complaint and will report back to the commission as soon as possible.

Voided Ticket, Policeman Suspended

Police Sgt. Frank W. Kaiser was suspended Thursday, Mar. 15 for two days for "violation of a Police Department order."

Capt. Wendell Nichols, police administration officer, said Kaiser had voided a traffic ticket. Voiding of traffic tickets is possible, under certain conditions such as errors on the ticket, police officials said, but Kaiser didn't follow "present procedures" in making the cancellation, Nichols said.

Captain Nichols said the cancellation was discovered when the summons, for speeding went into Municipal Court. It was reported that a friend of the violator asked Kaiser to mark it "void."

Kaiser supervises one group of patrolmen on the 3 to 11 p.m. patrol. His suspension was ordered for Saturday and Sunday.

No Housing Power

"We do not have any jurisdiction in housing discrimination yet, but we are interested in hearing about racial discriminatory incidents in this area so that we may gather data to go before the legislature asking for powers."

What To Do

"Many times people, when they are discriminated against, do not know where to go even in their local or state area to complain. Too, they may dread the tedious red tape that may be involved, particularly if they complain to the wrong agency. Others may not complain because they fear it may eventually end a long drawn out court case. In all these instances we have the information for them. We can immediately tell them whether they have a case under state law, or where to go to in their community and who to see.

Commission

"In addition, in cases the individual complaining does have a case that eventually lands in the courts, it will be the Iowa State Human Rights commission who will initiate the case and bear the costs. The state office carries the ball."

"It is important that an individual act promptly because we (the commission) must act within 90 days of the discriminatory act or else we lose jurisdiction."

May Meeting

Thomas disclosed that a statewide meeting will be held in Des Moines at the YMCA on May 12, sponsored by the State rights commission. Civil rights organizations around the state and any individual citizens without civil rights organization in their town or wishing to start one are asked to attend. Purpose of the meeting will be to encourage statewide co-operation among the various groups and create an awareness of Iowa Law and the role of the commission. About 100 persons are expected.

The next meeting of the Commission will be held in Davenport on April 14.

To Illinois

An earlier meeting (similar to the one in Sioux City) had been scheduled for Des Moines this week but was cancelled because of a conflict with the conference on Freedom of Residence being held this week in Chicago, Ill. Thomas and other Iowa commission members are attending that meeting.

Reflecting on his first few weeks in office, Thomas said, "We are keeping busy. We are gradually beginning to assess the problems. But we are particularly concerned to get Iowans to become aware that we are here to help and can help."

New Ruling in Fraud Case Against Attorney

Polk County District Judge Ray C. Fountain has ruled that Des Moines Attorney Robert A. Wright will be granted a new trial unless Mrs. Gertrude I. Hall agrees to accept $17,400 damages from Wright instead of $25,000.

The ruling was made in a suit in which Mrs. Hall, 1108 7th street, claimed she was defrauded by Wright in a real estate transaction. Atty. Henry T. McKnight, representing Mrs. Hall, said that his client has signed a document agreeing to accept $17,400 instead of $25,000. (Wright however, does not have to agree to pay the lesser amount and can still appeal his case to the Iowa Supreme Court.)

Mrs. Hall sought $10,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages. A

HEALTH FOR ALL

SWEET PROSPECT

Captives of the slenderizing diet, take heart! If you've been pining for forbidden sweets, relief may be in sight. And sound, healthful relief at that. Some day you may munch lemons as happily as if they were candy bars.

That, at least, is the possibility held out by "miracle fruit".

Miracle fruit? It's an African berry whose happy story was told in detail by a nutrition scientist in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Dietetic Association. The red, football-shaped berry is used by people in certain parts of Africa, says Dr. G. E. Inglett, to improve the sour taste of locally produced bread and beverages. It evidently achieves its effect by coating the taste buds so that sour things taste sweet, while other taste responses—salty and bitter—remain unaltered.

According to the scientist, the "natural flavor of citrus fruits eaten after miracle fruit is vastly superior to any sugar-sweetened citrus produce . . . The delightful flavor of fresh strawberries eaten after miracle fruit is so wonderful that it defies adequate description".

These berries aren't entirely unheard of, nor is the name "miracle fruit" just an adman's inspiration. The berries were encountered in 1852 by English visitors to Africa who called them "miraculous berries".

One slightly sour note modifies the story's sweetness. The fresh berries retain their special sweetening effect only a few days. How to preserve it for use in food packaging remains an unsolved problem. Until it's mastered, we'll just have to lose weight and stay healthy the hard way—on an artificially sweetened, low calorie balanced diet.

But some day — !

Information Service of Polk County Tuberculosis Association

jury last October awarded her the $10,000 actual and $15,000 exemplary damages.

Assaults Verdict

Wright asked for a new trial, sustained by sufficient evidence, claiming the verdict was excessive and was the result of "misconduct, passion and prejudice" by the jury.

In resisting the motion for a new trial, Mrs. Hall's attorney, Henry T. McKnight, denied Wright's allegations and said all Wright would be entitled to was a reduction of the jury's award if Judge Fountain felt it to be excessive.

Ohio Judge Joins U.S. Inspection Team

Washington, D. C.—The Department of State has announced the participation of Judge Robert V. Franklin of Toledo, Ohio, and Mr. Ramon S. Scruggs of New York City to serve as public member of Foreign Service Inspection Teams.

The Inspection Corps is made up of senior Foreign Service Officers who serve on special assignment for two years. Working in two-man teams, the inspectors examine every overseas Foreign Service post every three or four years. Since last year, a public member—an outstanding civic or business leader—has been assigned to work with inspection teams, accompanying them on extended visits to overseas missions around the world.

Precinct Causus
To Be Held Mar. 28

Democratic precinct caucuses are scheduled to be held on Monday, March 28th. The caucus was given the authority by the 1965 State Legislature to elect its committee men and women, in addition to choosing the delegates to the county convention.

"The precinct caucus is the basic unit of political structure and the link between the voter and the candidates of his party," said Mrs. D. D. Tucker, president of the Des Moines League of Women Voters. "Therefore, it is vital for an interested voter to attend the party caucus and help in the selection of these persons."

The Republican precinct caucuses are scheduled to be held on May 2.

Rugs and carpets probably take more of a beating than any of your other home furnishings. However, there are several things you can do to make your carpets stay beautiful and last years longer—and save yourself the money it would cost to replace them.

Use an inexpensive carpet sweeper every day to pick up lint, crumbs and dirt from the surface of your carpet. A few minutes a day will keep dirt from being ground deeply into the carpet. Use a vacuum cleaner once a week. A good vacuum cleaner removes deep-down dirt, as well as surface material. When the carpet begins to look dull, use a rug shampoo to get rid of dirt that your vacuum cleaner can't get to. Modern rug shampoos require little work and are well worth the effort to keep your rugs and carpets beautiful. Once a year is the minimum for shampooing every carpet in the house.

To Extend Toggle Switch

If the toggle switch on a power tool is difficult to reach, American Builder, "bible" of the building industry, has a solution. Take a short section of stiff tubing and slip it tightly over the toggle switch handle. This lengthens the handle and brings it within reach. Use either plastic or stiff rubber tubing

Cake of the Month

It's a Happy Easter indeed when bonnets and cakes alike can be decorated with lovely and colorful flowers. Plenty of time to see the Easter Parade, too, when you bake your cake with the new instant yellow cake mix that's unbelievably faster to mix than ever before. A Lemon Cream Frosting covers tops and sides of the layers, while hyacinths bloom around the sides of the cake in pale green and lavender frosting. A lovely tribute to a very special day!

Hyacinth Easter Cake

1 package Instant Swans Down Yellow Cake Mix
Lemon Butter Cream Frosting

Prepare cake batter according to package directions. Pour batter into two 9-inch layer pans, which have been lined on bottoms with paper, and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. Spread Lemon Butter Cream Frosting between layers and over top and sides of cake. Smooth frosting flat on top and sides for decorating.

Lemon Butter Cream Frosting

½ cup butter
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ cups (1 pound) sifted confectioners' sugar

Cream butter until soft. Add salt and part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Then add egg yolks and grated lemon rind; blend well. Add remaining sugar alternately with milk, until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Makes 2½ cups, or enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers.

Prepare an ornamental frosting by combining sifted confectioners' sugar with a little water. Tint some of this green and some lavender. With the green frosting, write "Happy Easter" across top of cake. Outline hyacinths around sides of cake, using lavender frosting for the flowers and green for the leaves.

Mix-Tracks

MCT Enjoy "Come As You Are Party"

No Freedom in MCT!—(Mary Church Terrell Club No. 2) some Threaten to burn their Memberships or appeal to Civil Liberties Union to preserve the sanctity and privacy of their homes. They insist the "spies" on the program committee Nicky Mann, Leola Hubbard and Edith Newcomb choose an ungodly hour to fan out over city and drop in just when you had wiggled out of your girdle and kicked off your shoes.

Members were greeted with smiles, well scrutinized, and after a few pleasant exchanges were told "I was just checking to see what you are wearing." "You are to come as you are—and smile because you may be on candid camera."

Along with the scare crow and rag muffin outfits—the better dressed members were accused of conspiracy. Mildred Brown the hostess defended herself by saying "being a hostess allows one a little immunity and a few privileges—"yea" but what's with this way out orange bit you are wearing?" Laughingly she said—"it goes better with the decor of my room you know."

Members spent an enjoyable time looking at picture albums brought by several members that took them back into the "olden days."

From the motly make up of some—one member's husband has grounds for divorce and others will get their proverbial "letter."

PAULINE B. HUMPHREY, Manager

Early last week as I was preparing copy for last week's issue of the Bystander I became quite ill with what I termed "flu of the head," which persisted in such intensity that the majority of the news preparation and subsequent reading of it, that my husband had to take over and finish. To be truthful he practically got out the news side of the paper for me, I am telling this in part to explain several errors that might have proved embarrassing to the senders.

I realize it doesn't help very much, but we do extend our apologies to Mrs. Frank Burk whose letter appeared in this column last week. The unintentional omission of one word, a key one, changed the meaning that was intended. The specific line should have read "I did not want to embarrass him."

In addition I reported the glee club robes at Irving as being maroon and gold when we should have said purple. So as you see last week wasn't my week.

We were pleasantly surprised by a phone call Monday morning from Mrs. Betty Rice Hughes, a former journalism classmate of ours at Lincoln university, Mo. She was in Des Moines to visit relatives including her cousin, Mrs. Frank Burks and Mrs. Dorothy Weathers, 1610 Gillette. We caught up on the past 15 years about families and other former classmates.

She is enroute to Senegal, Africa where she will attend the Negro World Festival of Arts and Culture and will remain in Africa several years to free lance articles for various newspapers as well as attend school in Ghana.

She formerly worked as a reporter for the San Francisco Mirror.

Mrs. Gertrude North, 817 13th street, is nearly recuperated from a pulled ligament she suffered in a fall in early January from a Des Moines Transit Bus. Mrs. North said she had no broken bones but was hospitalized at Mercy hospital for about a week.

We extend our congratulations to Connie Evans, the young lady whose story appears elsewhere on this page. She is a wonderful example of being prepared and not giving up hope. She graduated from high school, took night courses at Drake and was working on a job days. She had a difficult job landing a stenographic job, as she was schooled for, but she did work briefly at the Bystander. Before going to Washington, D. C., she was working at Look magazine, where one of her fellow employees called her attention to the vacant job in D. C.

Miss Evans also was our former baby sitter for several years, was most reliable and cheerful. It seems when the F.B.I. called around on their security check as they do with all persons seeking government employment, the calls momentarily shook up a few people, but their fears were readily quelled. After all it isn't everyday that people's phones ring and on the other end the voice says, "This is Mr. So-and-So of the F.B.I."

Another Des Moines girl who knows the value of preparing herself, appeared in the Visitor, newsletter for the personnel management of the St. Louis region of Civil Service Commission. Her picture and writeup appears on Page three under the title, "Neighborhood Youth Corps." She said in the article: "My name is Arlene Webster and I work for the Civil Service Commission in Des Moines under the Neighborhood Youth Corps. At present I have been working a month and I have been able to get my typing skills up and I have learned to use the dictaphone and the photostat machine. I have also learned a filing system. My duties in the office include typing memos and forms, filing, typing and sending out correspondence, answering and making phone calls. This makes my work interesting because there is much variety in the work and you are not doing the same thing all the time. I think this program is a good thing because you not only receive training but a chance to gain experience and earn money while training."

Jack and Jill Teens

Tour ISU Campus, See Water Show

The teenage group of the Des Moines chapter of Jack and Jill of America, Inc., went to Ames, Ia., Saturday afternoon where they toured the campus, buildings and facilities of Iowa State University.

Beginning at 1 p.m. they toured the Memorial Union, dormitory facilities, the new gym, Bayer hall, classroom facilities at Pearson hall. In addition they heard talks and explanations of the school grading system from a university counselor athletic director, foreign student counselor, returning to the Memorial Union for dinner in the Common Room. In the evening they attended the annual water show.

Making the trip were Carol Bethel, Paula Perkins, Portia Perkins, Stanley James, Kim Reeves, Vonderlyrie Watkins, Joyce Morrow, Tony Morrow, Norman McCune, David Lewis and Eva Cropp.

They were accompanied by Mesdames James Morrow, Woodrow Lewis, and Edward Reeves.

Mrs. Dorothy Jones took the 11 to 13 year-old-group bowling at Van Ginkel's lanes on Saturday afternoon, Mar. 19. Mrs. Lewis James will take the same group to see the production, "The Canterbury Ghosts," on Saturday afternoon, Mar. 26 at the Des Moines Playhouse. They will

WHAT IS IN THE FUTURE FOR OAKRIDGE?

The Des Moines city council has decided to go ahead with the Oakridge urban renewal project, a long awaited action by the people living in the area.

They propose to handle the project somewhat differently from the River Hills projects in that all buildings will not be torn down. Some will be renovated to bring them up to the requirements of the city building code.

On the other hand, there is this similarity; adequate housing is not available for all the people who are displaced. This will result in the purchase of some of the old large homes located on the perimeter of the project only to be converted into small inadequate apartments thus creating another rundown neighborhood.

Unfortunately, the real estate interest joined by other selfish citizens succeeded in blocking federal low cost housing from the beginning so that instead of rows of nice brick houses as may be found in some places we have the old houses converted into apartments. In a few instances some have used the proceeds of the sale of their homes to move into better neighborhoods.

Fortunately, moving expense and rent subsidy payments are available under the Oakridge project which provides a more equitable deal for the displaced.

Many will be disappointed that they will not be able to buy another house with what they receive for the old one. But by and large, the people have been treated pretty well.

It will be smart for these people to get professional help with their problems. This pays in the long run.

RIOTS SHOW LACK OF RESPONSIBILITY

Ordinarily, people learn from experience or at least take necessary precautions to prevent mishaps from recurring.

Last year, the Watts section of Los Angeles was struck by a terrible riot which lasted for days. Some people were killed and some beaten up, buildings and other establishments burned or destroyed and stores looted. News media reported a miserable situation which few people could imagine.

Committees and commissions made studies in an effort to arrive at the cause of the riots and what should be done to prevent a recurrence of the trouble.

The consensus was that poor living conditions, lack of jobs and an unwillingness to insist on obedience to law and order were the underlying causes.

Since then, the anti-poverty program attempted to ease the situation by allocating millions to the area designed to help the work shortage which does much to aggravate the other things complained of.

Another riot occurred last week. The complaint was that the money allocated to the area by the anti-poverty program was finding its way into the hands of the few who draw the big salaries.

This complaint is heard in many communities and will continue. Much of it is being used simply to provide "jobs for the faithful." On the other hand it will help some.

The Negro has made great gains in the enjoyment of freedom during the past 15 years. Some have not been prepared for it. Just as the job situation caught them unprepared, the social, education, citizenship side had not been sufficiently cultivated to enable the masses to make the transition to the responsibility which goes along with freedom.

The Bystander as always felt that the religious, social service and other groups working in the field of human relations did not do their job well while those working for complete civil rights were doing their work.

Suffice it to say, that affairs such as occurred in Los Angeles hurt all those for whom this great campaign for civil rights is being carried on. It hurts those of other groups who have the courage to join in the struggle. Now that hard won gains have been secured, Negroes must demonstrate that they want to hold them and are willing to work hard to do so.

Marshalltown Emerges 1966 Champions of State Boys Basketball Tournament Here

By Staff Writer

In a colorful spectacular called the 1966 Boys State High School Basketball Tournament, a marathon three-day affair that involved eight talented teams, the Marshalltown Bobcats emerged as the crown princes of the Iowa high school cagers for 1966 as they up-ended the Cedar Rapids Warriors 77-63.

Saturday night, at the climax of the meet, at Veteran's Auditorium, resounded distinctly and clearly above the exuberant throng were the exclamations: "We did it! We did it!" "We're State Champs!" "We're State Champs!"

Cheering

15,000 cheering fans saw them do it. "Beat 'em. Beat 'em," the cheering girls and boys yelled as they stomped their feet like herds of cattle. "Beat 'em! Beat 'em!" they implored. From beginning to end they continued this entreaty.

The cheering sections were seriously engaged in the business of inspiring their teams to victory.

Balanced Scoring

The talented Bobcats from Marshalltown, with balanced scoring punch, tenacious desire, high percentage shooting and rebounding prowess responded more effectively to the "beat 'em" chant as they from the sound of the buzzer grabbed the opening tip and swished the ball through the net. The Warriors then missed their opportunity to place the ball through the hoop and the Bobcats rebounded and swished. They scored again to lead 4-0. The Warriors buckled down and tied the score at 4-4 in the early seconds of the first quarter but after that, basically, their efforts were null and void.

Determined

It was evident from the onset that the Red and blue Bobcats came to town to win the title . . . that they were determined to be champs.

Firing a torrid 70 per cent in the first quarter they capped a 25-18 margin that they never relinquished.

Rebounding

During the second quarter Marshalltown continue to get rebounding position allowing the scarlet and blue from Cedar Rapids only one shot at the hoop. Mainly because of this they carried a 44-37 edge to the dressing room.

The third quarter found the boys from Marshalltown no less still warm as they utilized their patterns to almost perfection to boost their lead by 13 points, 60-47, as the gong sounded ending the third quarter.

Pepper Pot

Meanwhile, Mike Seyfer, Cedar Rapids pepper pot, high scoring guard and the tournament's second highest scoring leader continue to aid the Warriors cause as best he could but grew cold in the field goal department in the final quarter.

Marshalltown, however, continued to play a consistent game and as a result increased their lead at the final buzzer to 17 points.

Thus the Marshalltown Bobcats became the champs and the number one team in Iowa basketball for 1966.

Score

However the night before they became champions they had the scare of their lives as the hot shooting basketballers from Sioux City Heelan high school fought them frantically until the final buzzer and they barely escaped upset minded Crusaders 69-68 as the Bobcats Frank Buchanan drilled the winning goal through with 4 seconds displayed on the clock. They escaped to become champions.

Cedar Rapids, of course were runners-up. Sioux City Heelan took third place honors and Ames' Little Cyclones wound up with the fourth place trophy.

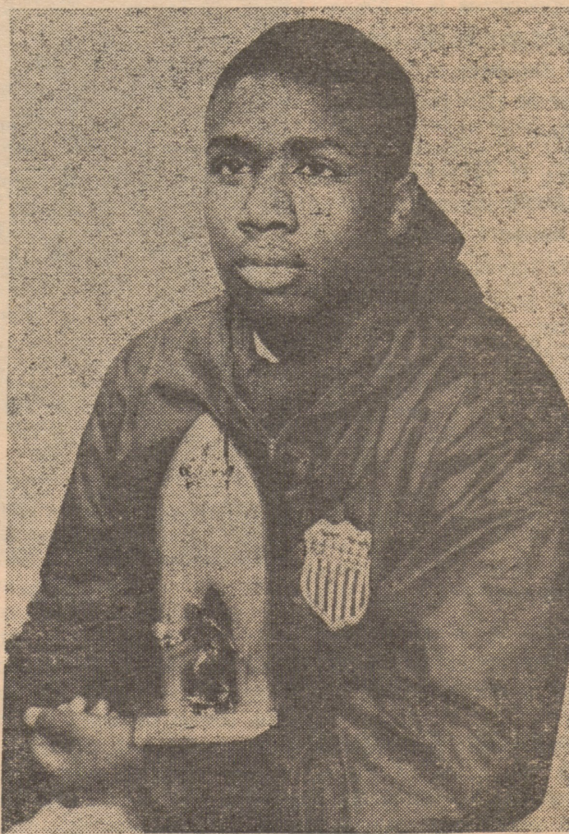

Eight Teams

The entire eight team compliment played a good game of basketball and supplied the fans who came to see them with plenty of action and thrills as well as displaying loads of individual talent.

On Thursday, elimination day, Ames defeated Algona Bulldogs 65-53 and Cedar Rapids eliminated Dubuque Wahlert High School in a good game 63-55. Marshalltown blasted the Shenandoah Mustangs with a record 100 points to 54. While Sioux City turned back Waverly-Shell Rock Go-hawks 56-54.

Though born and reared in New Brunswick, Canada, O'Ree is contemplating U.S. citizenship and will probably take up residence in Los Angeles.

Dear Editor:

If any other Negro is wondering why we are being contained the way we are in ghetto that is suppose to be torn down for urban renewal one only has to look at himself.

If all you see is a run down apartment with you in the middle of it than this is one good idea of what the landlords of the apartments or homes are afraid that this will happen to their places. If we are to be recognized as a part of this community instead of animals and I say animals because those are the only thing one wants to confine, we are going have to stop acting as such. We must start out by taking our aggression out in some other way than shooting, cutting and fighting each other. Such thing as the shooting last week on or about Mar. 10.

If we could get this much action in the direction of the betterment of our advancement of our race than we would not have to continue complaint about what we don't have. It has been printed in the Des Moines local paper that Center Street is not going to be torn down.

If we allow the people in charge of urban renewal to pass up the improvement of our only place of

We pay taxes in this city and to the government just the same as everybody else and we should not be deprived of the things that go along with rest of the taxpayers. For those of us that frequent Center Street have known that it has not changed very much in the last twenty or thirty years.

The city is just going to figure out how to tear down those building one at a time so that we will have some place to go so we won't contaminate their beautiful city. If a Child Lives

Why do some youngsters grow up to be well-adjusted adults, while others go wrong? There is no simple answer to this question, but most psychologists agree that children are inclined to follow the example set by their parents. With this thought in mind, perhaps, an unknown writer created this list of cause-effect observations:

If a child lives with hostility, he learns to fight.
If a child lives with criticism, he learns to condemn.

If a child lives with fear, he learns to be apprehensive.

If a child lives with jealousy, he learns to hate.

If a child lives with self-pity, he learns to be sorry for himself.

If a child lives with encouragement, he learns self-confidence and integrity.

If a child lives with praise, he learns to be appreciative.

If a child lives with acceptance, he learns to love.

If a child lives with approval, he learns to like himself.

If a child lives with fairness, he learns justice.

If a child lives with honesty, he learns what truth is.

If a child lives with friendliness, he learns that the world is a nice place in which to live.
