Ala. Tests New Voting Procedures Council Acts to Strengthen Fair Housing Act

Owner-Occupied Duplexes Exempted; Refuse Any Penalties

The Des Moines City Council removed all exemptions from the present housing ordinance excepting owner-occupied duplexes but refused to attach a penalty clause. The councilmen directed the city Legal department to prepare an ordinance repealing the present exemption for apartment buildings with three, four, five or six living units, thereby bringing them under the operation of the fair housing law.

No Penalty

However, the council unanimously rejected the request of the Human Rights Commission that teeth be put into the ordinance by adding a penalty clause calling for fines and jail sentences for persons found guilty of racial discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

The Human Rights Commission, in a letter sent to the council last week, also had asked that all duplexes be included in the ordinance.

Nahas, said that removing the exemptions, with the exception of the owner-occupied duplex, will aid Negro families who will be displaced from Oakridge in finding new housing.

Exception to Statement

The council took exception to a statement in the Human Rights Commission's letter, signed by the commission chairman, Sol M. Davidson, that said the "City of Des Moines should show leadership in this area, rather than merely going along with the tide of public opinion."

Compromise

When the fair housing ordinance was adopted in 1964, it was viewed as a compromise between civil rights advocates and opponents of any such law. A proposed penalty clause was turned down, with Grothe and Whitmer among those voting against such a clause.

Monday's rejection of a penalty clause was not in the form of a formal vote. It simply was not included in motion to remove the exemptions.

Although it was not discussed, the motion as made by Nahas also would result in removing another exemption that excludes the rental of fewer than four rooms in a one-family dwelling (the so-called Mrs. Murphy exemption).

NEWS In A Nutshell

St. Louis, Mo.—The acting medical director of Homer G. Phillips hospital, Dr. Phillip Venable has vehemently denied a report, published in last week's ARGUS quoting him as declaring that Homer G. Phillips Hospital should be closed. It now appears that information furnished the newspaper was erroneous and neither Dr. Venable nor Dr. Leo V. Mulligan, medical director at City Hospital, made such a recommendation to an aldermanic sub-committee which was considering budget proposals of the city's hospitals.

Washington—Dr. Vivian W. Henderson, nationally prominent economist and President of Clark College, Atlanta, Georgia, has been named Director of a special task force on "Economic Security and Welfare" in preparation for the White House Conference on Civil Rights.

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will apply for a rehearing before the United States Supreme Court in the Court's dismissal of the NAACP petition for a review of a damage case in the 1962 boycott of a Savannah market by the Association's branch in that Georgia city.

Dallas, Tex.—Bishop college has been granted $527,483 in federal funds under the Economic Opportunity Act for the furtherance of the College Work-Study plan, for the period from July 1, 1966 through June 30, 1967, according to Bishop's Director of Student Aid, Don O'Bannon.

New York — Following telephone calls threatening the life of Mrs. Irene Smith, president of the New Jersey State NAACP, Gloster B. Current, NAACP director of branches and field administration called upon Governor Richard Hughes to provide "round-the-clock" protection for her.

St. Louis — Charles J. Baskin of Falstaff Brewing Corporation has received the 1966 Distinguished Salesman Award from the Sales and Marketing Executives of Metropolitan St. Louis. At St. Louis branch salesman for the brewing firm since 1960, Baskin was one of 50 St. Louis area salesmen honored at a recent dinner at the Chase Hotel.

Norfolk, Va.—After more than 10 years of litigation by attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, a plan for the desegregation of Norfolk public schools was approved last week.

President Asks Congress for Strict Laws on Housing Bias

Washington, D. C.—In a long awaited civil rights message, President Johnson called on Congress last Thursday to enact a nation-wide fair housing law, guarantees of non-discriminatory jury selection in state as well as federal courts and new statutes to fight racial violence or intimidation.

Broad Authority

The proposals, if enacted, would give the government broad authority in major new areas and would, in

Negro Ballot Heavy But Governor Wallace's Wife Wins Landslide Victory

Birmingham, Ala.—The eyes of the nation were focused Tuesday on Alabama, where the first major test of procedures under the 1965 Voting Rights Act, was staged. Gov. George E. Wallace, through his wife as proxy, was running for election to retain his hold on the state's system of government which has battled over the past several years against what he called encroachment on state's rights by the federal government.

Negro Votes

But more important, it was a test of the Negro voting power following unprecedented voting registration campaigns in recent months. Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, won by an overwhelming majority against nine opponents and assured that the reins of Alabama's government would remain with her husband who technically will be her "one-dollar a year" aide, but in reality will be making the major decision on government.

Enmassed

Negroes came out enmassed to vote, many of them for the first time. Long before polls were opened, they stood in long lines to cast their ballots at voting places that were manned and protected by nearly 200 federal observers. The Negro vote was heavy commanding about 20 per cent of the total unofficial returns, but the white voters came out enmassed, too.

A heavy turnout of new Negro voters—their number doubled under the federal voting rights law—failed to turn back the Wallace gamble to retain power another four years.

But three Negro candidates for sheriff were leading white opponents and two Negroes were within striking distance of winning nomination to the all-white legislature. They were among 52 Negro candidates for county offices or legislative seats in Alabama.

Flowers Second

Running a distant second to Mrs. Wallace was state Attorney General Richmond M. Flowers, a racial moderate who campaigned against Wallace's segregationist tactics.

Despite a heavy bloc-vote push by Negroes—commanding 20 per cent of

Anti-Poverty Group Select Candidate for Vocational School Board Election May 17

Representatives of the poverty target areas in Polk County Community Action Council, planning body of the war on poverty, have banded together to sponsor four candidates for the nine spots on the central Iowa area vocational technical school.

The "Assembly of Those to Be Served," which represents impoverished neighborhoods in the county and has 15 votes on the 45-member anti-poverty council, decided in a series of private meetings last week and over the weekend to get into the school board race.

"A Voice"

Robert Jackson, a member of the Assembly and vice-president of the Council, said the new schools are designed to help residents of low-income neighborhoods, and the residents "need to have a voice in running the schools."

This is the first bold step by the anti-poverty group to mobilize its voting power in the neighborhoods to win an election.

Candidates

The candidates, all members of the assembly:

—Paul Wilson, 56, of 1164 14th street, a clerk in the Iowa State-house post office. He represents the

Wilson

Walnut Hill Improvement Association on the Assembly and will be running for the school seat from the Ninth District, which covers south Des Moines.

PORTER DIMERY, 42, of 2572 Harriett street, a packinghouse worker here. Dimery represents the Chesterfield Improvement Association in the war on poverty and will be a school board candidate from the Eighth District, which includes the northeast part of the city.

City Trucks Will Pickup Trash in Walnut Hills Area

Residents living in the Walnut Hills area are asked to have their trash and yard debris piled on the curbing in boxes and other containers in front of their homes today (Thurs.) and Friday for pickup by city trucks.

William Jones, 1318 Ascension street, cleanup drive, said that city truck will make one trip along each street, during the two days.

The Walnut Hills Area is bounded by University avenue, Keosauqua way, 6th avenue and Chestnut street.

Says Unions, Contractors Must Hire More Negroes Hint at U.S. Court Action

Building contractors and labor unions leaders in Des Moines were told last Wednesday to bring Negroes into the skilled trades involved in the construction of the $8-million Federal Office Building here.

Progress Report

Robert J. Harlan of Washington, D. C., a member of the Federal Services Administration (GSA) said he has asked for a "progress report" from the contractor and subcontractors within three weeks.

Harlan said he raised the possibility of action by the U. S. Department of Justice if efforts are not made to "improve the situation."

6 Negroes in 134

Harlan said he came here because a GSA count showed on April 6 that of 134 skilled and unskilled workers on the project there were only six Negroes, "all of whom were laborers."

Local Negro spokesmen claim that Negroes are "systematically excluded from membership in some construction trades. Youths enter such trades through apprenticeship training programs.

Apprentices

Harlan said he suggested that Negro youths be hired as apprentices in the skilled crafts employed on the Federal Office Building.

He said he suggested "looking into the local labor market" and consulting city and state civil rights agencies, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the state Manpower Development Council.

Major Problems

Harlan said a major problem in recruiting Negro apprentices lies in "the dissemination of information" about training programs by state agencies and the building industry.

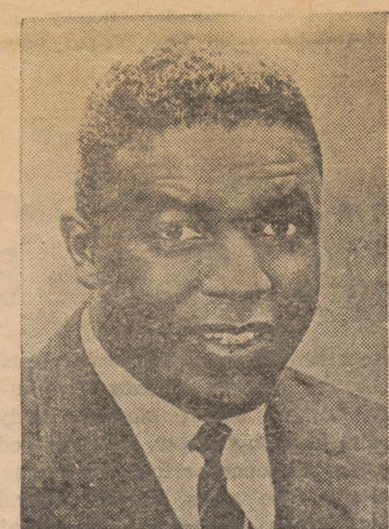

He said he "placed a lot of responsibility with the contractors."

He said he suggested industry leaders "come out with an affirmation of intent relating to equal employment opportunities in Des Moines."

After Interview with Robinson, Rockefeller Rejects Miller's Offer

New York, N.Y.—Following an interview with Jackie Robinson, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller did an about-face and rejected the offer of William E. Miller, Barry Goldwater's running mate in 1964, to participate in the governor's campaign for reelection this fall.

The rejection contrasted with a statement a week ago from the governor through a spokesman that he would accept Miller's help in the election.

No Room

The governor spoke to newsmen at his New York office following a lengthy talk with Robinson, who had warned that, if Miller served on the campaign staff, "there's no room for me."

The 47-year-old former baseball star, who became Rockefeller's special assistant for community relations early this year, said: "I have been assured by all that there never was any intention of his (Miller's) working on the campaign."

Hails President's Civil Rights Proposals

New York—Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Friday issued the following statement on President Lyndon B. Johnson's message to the Congress and his proposals for new civil rights legislation:

"The President's message to the Congress and his legislative proposals emphasize that, despite notable beginnings towards elimination of some aspects of racial discrimination, much remains to be done.

Tightening

"The tightening of legal procedures to assure punishment of terrorists who inflict violence upon civil rights workers is the vital core of the President's proposals.

"Shoring up the system of jury selections against racial discrimination is a crying need.

"The snail's pace of school desegregation and the damage that inadequate schooling is doing to Negro and white children each school term makes mandatory the broadening of the Attorney General's authority.

"The President's proposal to ban racial discrimination in all housing is bold and challenging. It poses a real test to those persons who ardently support anti-discrimination in distant places, but not next door. Yet housing is the core of segregation in schools, recreation and health services, and is responsible for the attitudes on public accommodations.

"We regret the omission of any proposal to provide indemnity to the victims of racial violence or to their survivors, and we will seek to have such a provision added to the bill."

NAACP Seeks Rehearing To Void Damage Suit

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will apply for a rehearing before the United States Supreme Court in the Court's dismissal of the NAACP petition for a review of a damage case in the 1962 boycott of a Savannah market by the Association's branch in that Georgia city.

Robert L. Carter, NAACP general counsel, announced on Apr. 27 that such an application would be filed. His announcement followed the Court's 5 to 4 decision not to grant the NAACP's petition for a writ of certiorari.

No Knowledge

In its brief supporting the petition for a writ of certiorari, the NAACP said it "had no knowledge of the Savannah Branch's picketing at respondent's market until it was served with the petition making it a defendant in this action. It did not supervise the conduct of the Savannah Branch, nor did it have any employees there."

In Error

Expressing the view that the majority decision was in error, Mr. Carter said that "the dissenting opinion of Justice Douglas embodies our views on the merits of our claim that the decision of the Supreme Court of Georgia sustaining an award of damages against the National Office and our Savannah Branch was erroneously decided." Damages in the amount of $85,793 were awarded the owner of the store, Haldred Overstreet, by a Savannah jury. This award was upheld by the Georgia Supreme Court.

"We cannot take the view," Mr. Carter continued, "that the majority of the U.S. Supreme Court, by its action, intended in any way to limit the right of peaceful protest accorded under the First Amendment.

"In any event, this is not a decision on the merits and we will continue to engage in peaceful picketing and other forms of peaceful protest in furtherance of the civil rights cause."

Dissenting

The dissenting opinion, written by Justice William O. Douglas and concurred in by Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William J. Brennan, Jr., and Abe Fortas, charged that the majority opinion opened the way for "crushing verdicts that may stifle organized dissent." Further, the dissenting Justices said, the majority opinion raised "a threat to political associations."

Report

The majority rejected the NAACP petition in the following words: "The writ of certiorari is dismissed as improvidently granted."

HEALTH FOR ALL

COUNTING YOUR COUGHS

"Do you cough too much?" It's a question often asked in modern health literature. Your answer might be, "How much is too much?"

To shed some light on the average frequency of coughing, a doctor at the University of Texas sat in on medical lectures for an hour a week over a period of three years and actually counted the coughs of each person present. He came up with a "normal" cough rate of approximately three per person every two hours.

Chronic Cough

So far so good. But there's another question. How long can a person go on coughing before it's considered "too much"? Doctors already have an answer to that one. According to the American Thoracic Society (the medical section of the National Tuberculosis Association) a cough that persists for a month or more is a chronic cough—one that calls for a doctor's attention.

Mrs. Holt, recently selected as "Oregon Mother of 1966", raised a family of six children, adopted eight war orphans and with her late husband founded an orphanage. Over 3500 orphans have found homes in America. Many of them are Negro-Korean children and the need for homes continue to increase.

That's true even if the chronic cougher has several cough-free hours each day. It's true if the cough is "just a cigarette cough", or "only in the morning", or "just when I lie down", or "only in the winter". The test of a chronic cough is how long it persists—or, if it goes away, how regularly it comes back.

Important

A chronic cough can signify the presence of asthma, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, tuberculosis, or some other serious Respiratory Disease (RD). Such diseases can be treated if found early enough—and that's why it's important to see your doctor if you cough and keep on coughing.

For more information about coughing, ask your County Tuberculosis and Health Association for the free leaflet "Chronic Cough: The Facts", or write to the Iowa Tuberculosis and Health Association, 1818 High Street, Des Moines, Iowa 50309.

Virus To Solve Riddle Of Life

While our attention is on space and its planets, science is concerned with a tiny world so small that it cannot be detected by even the most powerful optical microscope. Inhabiting this tiny world are germs called Viruses—organisms that have baffled science for over 50 years. Virus is the connecting link between the world of the living and the non-living. It is an inanimate substance incapable of motion, but it is attracted to other live cells that act as magnets. Under these conditions it comes alive, it multiplies by the hundreds—and as the cell bursts the virus turns back to dead matter... seemingly in wait for other cells.

If we could ever get to know what happens within that cell, the great riddle of life itself may be solved!

SEE PAGE TWO The NAACP picketing grew out of a report of the brutal beating of Robert Lee Bolden, a 14-year-old Negro boy employed at Overstreet's Tropical Market, by the owner on May 28, 1962. The youth's mother appealed to the NAACP Branch which, after investigation, launched a boycott, said to be 99 per cent effective. The store was located in a Negro area and 90 per cent of its customers were Negro.

Des Moines residents may be uncertain about the rainfall at different times of the year but it can predict with unerring accuracy that it will pour on one or both of the Drake Relays days. It is becoming an annual phenomenon. Even with the rain the event is one that many Iowans and other midwesterners look forward to, like an alma mater homecoming. There are many who care little for the track events but come to renew old acquaintances and participate in the various social activities surrounding the Relays.

Though most of the track events are dominated by colleges and universities the Relays also has a part where senior and junior high and elementary schools seek their fleeting place in the sun, looking forward to the day when years later they may participate in the college or university section.

The efforts of these youngsters are viewed with pride by family and friends. One mother, Mrs. Moses Clinton, 1530 Maple street, proudly brought a clipping of the Junior preliminary high event indicating that her son, Jerome, was on one of the qualifying teams, Woodrow Wilson Junior high.

Then there was Peggy Spates, sophomore at North high school, who was among the few youngsters who were proudly participating for the first time as their school band member for the Drake Relays parade.

And many households made last minute preparations last week preparing for an influx of visiting relatives and friends. Some of these included Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery of 1214 11th street, Mr. and Mrs. Loyatus Clark of 1114 10th street and Mrs. Pinkie Goode, sales clerk at S & L department store, who was expecting her son and family from Minneapolis, Minn.

Last Friday morning during an assembly Irving Junior high bid a fond fare to Mr. Earl Bridgewater, who for the past year has been school principal and officially welcomed Mr. Lacey D. Spriggs as principal. Mr. Edgewater did much in his short tenure for the school. The school is growing in stature as well as in physical accomplishments and number of students. There are many new programs parents and community members should be aware of and participate in. We are certain that Irving has some of its greatest years ahead in the near future.

No good leader is no better than the quality of the co-operation he gets. So it is with a principal. Mr. Bridgewater did much because he had the co-operations of school administrative leaders, teaching staff, student body and parents. So it will be for Mr. Spriggs.

Among the many services for students and in which the community can share is the new library services where anyone in the Irving surrounding community can come to and even check out books, whether you have a child at Irving or not. Check the school for the hours.

Another Des Moines mother, Mrs. Catherine Daniels, who is receptionist and stenographer at the Bystander recently learned that her daughter, Sandra, has been selected from Bird school to attend Tri-T camp in Minnesota this summer.

Mrs. William S. George, 4025 56th, of the Des Moines T.T.T. chapter wrote Mrs. Daniels:

"It is with a great deal of pleasure that I write to you in regards to your daughter, Sandra. Your school principal, Miss Divine highly recommended Sandra to me as a possible selection to attend our T.T.T. camp in Eden Valley, Minnesota.

"For the past three years our chapter has sent two girls from Bird school. Last year the two girls were Ruby Robinson and Mildred Duke.

"T.T.T. is a national organization with some 30 chapters in Des Moines. Summer camps are operated for deserving girls of 10 or 11 years of age. The summer camps are financed by assessments to members and chapter and by individual gifts.

"Campers are selected, outfitted and transported to and from camp by the T.T.T. chapter. We provide necessary clothing as outlined on an approved clothing list. From our Des Moines chapter the girls all go together by chartered bus along with three of our T.T.T. women. This year the Des Moines Area Camp period is July 10-22."

Sunday will be Mother's day and we hope that all of you mothers out there have a wonderful and inspiring day.

PERSONAL OBSERVATION
WHY JOIN THE NAACP

The Des Moines Branch NAACP is conducting its annual drive for members. It has not done very well in recent years partly because a lot of "good people" have arrived and see no further need for giving their support.

Speaking Personally

The editor of the Bystander has been in this fight for almost fifty years in Des Moines and therefore knows "what was" and "what is". It knows that some Negroes are holding good jobs as a result of the work of the NAACP and still do not join.

"I remember when the veterans hospital was built. No Negroes worked there or were admitted as patients. The NAACP and the Lincoln Post American Legion got this changed. Some Negroes who hold good jobs there don't belong.

"I remember the NAACP and the Interracial Commission's fight for Negro school teachers. There are many today. Some don't belong to the NAACP.

I remember the challenge to industry and downtown institutions and business during World War II found the NAACP fighting hard to include Negroes in the general stream of employment. Many are holding good jobs and earning fine salaries as a result of this. Some don't belong to the NAACP. And the same is true of some others of the leading citizens who should be ashamed of their position."

If education has meant anything, it should be used to help the fellow who has been less fortunate. And if the "big folks" sulk in their support of the force that has helped "make them" then what can be expected of the ignorant and unfortunate.

Maybe we should publish a list of the NAACP members at the close of the drive in order to see who the free loaders are.

We must continue to win this fight and the NAACP is best equipped to do it.

TREAT ALL HUMAN BEINGS
ALIKE—IT PAYS

David Lawrence, long time newspaper columnist and one among those people who have used his interpretation of the U. S. Constitution to deny the Negro his rights, takes every opportunity to magnify the worst side of those thoughtless Negroes who go beyond good sense in pressing their bid for the full enjoyment of their rights.

The Bystander has opposed extreme conduct by Negroes in calling attention to injustices heaped upon them, not that they are doing worse than other segments of the population seeking to obtain their objectives, but because the masses look upon them differently. They feel that since great progress has been made, Negroes should keep still and be thankful for what they have.

People lose their perspectives and often overstep the bounds of reason, forgetting that other people should be considered in every act they undertake. An old axiom of law, "so use your own as not to injure that of another" fits well in this situation.

While there are hundreds of examples which show that white people lose their heads too, we will note only two that are close to home. During the depression when the mortgagors were foreclosing and taking Iowa farms with no right of redemption or no money with which to redeem, a mob of farmers entered the court room of Judge Fuller of LeMars who simply carrying out his legal obligation, placed a rope around his neck and dragged him out to lynch him. Timely appeals by the sheriff and level headed citizens averted a terrible situation. The farmers won a moratorium over the foreclosures. It was a horrible way to protest, but they did and got results.

A few years ago the National Farmers Organization decided to boycott the sale of milk to the dairies and processors in order to raise prices. Some farmers joined in the withholding program. Some did not and attempted to cross the picket lines in order to sell their milk. Trucks were turned over by the pickets, milk strewn over the highway and in the end at least one person was

Despite Inevitable Cold Rains 56th
Drake Relays WAS Greatest Ever!

By Staff Writer

Again Friday and Saturday, like an evil spirit it seems, the inevitable rain clouds and chilly winds massed forces and again, this year, attempted to cast their gloomy spell on this another Drake Relays Classic. And again, as in other years, failed in their unrelenting efforts to disseminate gloom upon this bright, colorful affair.

Star athletes with star performances made it otherwise. Twenty-six records were established as one great after another performer fought to win over his also great adversary.

Excitement

In the process old man gloom, that wanted everybody wet and cold as was routed as 30,000 hearts were warmed by the thrill and excitement of the Relays, excitement generated by the star runners and jumpers and the sheer pageantry of it all.

Two Southern relay team, who are used to heat, both on the track and off warmly thrilled the crown with killed. The NFO got pretty much what they wanted.

And it is terrible to imagine what would have happened in New York during the transit strike last January, which made life miserable for 3 million innocent people, if an effort had been made to operate the trains.

The 14th amendment which was ratified in 1868, provides that should a state deny any of its citizens the right to vote, representation in Congress should be reduced to reflect the true voting population. Most southern states provided one device after another to keep Negroes from voting for years but no Congress had the courage to enforce the law. And it was only until the voting rights law of 1965 has the southern Negro had a suckers' chance to exercise the ballot.

Congress has finally come forward with laws which tend to implement the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments, following consistent decisions and proddings by the Supreme Court. But like the 14th amendment, they are not being enforced adequately and thus the restlessness of a lot of people who are unwilling to continue to wait.

Of course, all Negroes will never come up to their responsibilities just as it is the case that all white people won't. All the Negro asks is that he be given an even chance and that the bad things a few do are not charged up to every Negro who walks the streets.

Negroes are better off in Des Moines than ever before greatly because, over the years, the NAACP has tackled injustices and conquered their objective. The organization must be supported in order to hold the gains.

their running abilities. Texas Southern, Houston Tex. and Southern University, Baton Rouge, Texas Southern set the cinders on fire Friday and set two records in the process. In the opening heat of the preliminaries Texas won over Northeast Missouri in the attractive 440 race in a record 40.4 seconds whittling a tenth of a second off the old mark set by Southern of Baton Rouge last year.

100-Yard Dash

The following day the boys from Texas Southern won the 440-yard relay in a record 40.2 seconds. Texas Southern was composed of Arnold Bristol, Roy Hicks and Des Moines own Clyde Duncan and James Hines. Southern came in second and Grambling third and Northeast Missouri fourth. Over in the high jump area John Hartsfield of Texas Southern sailed over the bars with a record 16 feet 10 1/4 ins.

Meanwhile, the great Randy Matson of Texas A. & M. hurled the 22-pound ball a record 65 feet 3 and 1/2 to eclipse his own previous record.

Charley Greene of Nebraska scampered ahead of the pack in the 100-yard dash to win a wind-aided :09.3. Jim Hines of Texas Southern was second with :09.4 and Jim Freeman of Murray, third with :09.4 and Duncan with :09.5.

Wichita State's Fred Burton pole vaulted a record 16 feet six inches to win that event. Southern beat the Texans in the 880 on Friday with a near world record 1:22.7 to the Texas 1:23.2. The Southern forces included Webster Johnson, George Anderson, Grundy Harris and Theron Lewis.

Just about every year the people who watch the Drake Relays go away saying this was the greatest. Well, this time they were right. This was the greatest meet of them all. There were more records broken and better time recorded in this meet than in all the rest.

Kirby

We couldn't begin to tell about all the Negroes who played prominent parts in their teams' victories unless we had a four page spread. And just about everyone interested in track knows what happened anyway.

The thing that stood out in the high school section was the running of North's Jim Kirby. The guy ran away from the field in the 100-yard dash and anchored his team to a win in the mile relay and lost out in the half mile by a whisker. He ran a blazing mile relay but had too much ground to make up.

College Time

Then the fellow turned in a college time quarter to bring his team home in first in the mile relay. The other outstanding guy was Gene Baker of Davenport, Ia., who would have probably been the whole show in any other year.

When the Tech runners went after the short relay title which they missed by a narrow margin, we were surprised to see a tall fellow out there. The last time we saw him he wasn't knee high to a duck. But we guess these kids do grow up.

Special Events

There were so many things that were outstanding in the special events that we can only remember the blanket finish of four Negroes in both the 120-hurdles and the 100-yard dash. Don't know when that happened before. Clyde Duncan ran a 9.5 and finished fourth in the 100. Those guys were traveling.

Oscar Moore

Then there was Oscar Moore of Southern Illinois who thought he had the three mile race in his pocket Friday only to have some guy come up from nowhere and nip him. Well, Mr. Moore made sure that didn't happen Saturday in the two-mile. He lit out like he was running for his life and widened his lead with each stride. He ended up lapping some running and set a new record. Then he casually jogged about a quarter mile to cool off.

Half-Mile

We have seen some great races in our time but that anchor half-mile duel between Texas Southern and Southern in the sprint medley must be the greatest we ever saw. Those anchor men raced stride for stride for about a quarter and a half. When the Texas Southern runner tried to pass his rival in the back stretch of the last lap, the latter doggedly hung on by just about a foot and they came in to the tape just like that, too exhausted to do much more than jog.

Pulled Muscles

Then there was Nebraska's Charley Green who pulled a leg muscle. Oh there were a lot of pulled muscles out there. Michigan State's three footballers who helped win the shuttle hurdles relay. We were asked at least 50 times where Southern Central State and Texas Southern were. This rivalry between Texas Southern and Southern is just about the best thing that ever happened to the Drake Relays. Just imagine that big crowd taking sides cheering one or the other on and forgetting that they were anything but runners.

Gravestone

A grave stone in Jaffrey, New Hampshire reads: "Sacred to the memory of Amos Fortune, who was born free in Africa, became a slave in America, purchased his liberty, professed Christianity, lived respectably, and died hopefully, Nov. 17, 1801."

Prayer

"Lord, make me a channel of Thy peace,
That where there is hatred I may bring love
That where there is wrong I may bring the spirit of forgiveness;
That where there is discord I may bring harmony;
That where there is error I may bring truth;
That where there is doubt I may bring faith;
That where there is despair I may bring hope;

And where there are shadows I may bring Thy light;
That where there is sadness I may bring joy;
Lord grant that I may seek rather to comfort than be comforted,
To understand than be understood,
To love than be loved;

For it is by giving that one receives,
It is by self-forgetting that one finds,
It is by forgiving that one is forgiven,
It is by dying that one awakens to eternal life."

—By St. Francis Assisi

Laugh Lines

At the neighborhood barbeque a child reached across the table for a large piece of cake without saying "Excuse me."

"That's not the way to do it," her father reproached her. "Don't you have a tongue?"

"Yes, daddy, but my arm is longer."

"What did you do in school today?" a mother asked her 1st grader.

"Nothing much," the boy replied. "Some woman wanted to know how to spell cat, and I told her."

Jackie Robinson
Heads Grid Team

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Jackie Robinson, former star of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team, Monday became general manager of the new Brooklyn Dodgers of the Continental Football League.

Robinson, first to break the color line in big league baseball, thus becomes the first Negro to manage a professional team.

Robinson was a football star at the University of California at Los Angeles in 1939 and 1940 in addition to starring in basketball, baseball and track.

"It didn't take much persuading for me to accept the job," he said. "I think Brooklyn is starved for sports. I hope we can build a stadium for both football and baseball."

The Continental League starts its second season in August and is considered the strongest of the minor football leagues.

COURT VOIDS EXTENDED TERMS
FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Montgomery—A three-judge federal court last week struck down a provision of an Alabama law that would have postponed elections of Bullock County Commissioners for two years. The commissioners are the county's principal governing body.

The court, acting on a suit brought by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, was divided 2-1 in its opinion.

District Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr., who concurred in the decision, said the history of voting discrimination in Bullock County and the State of Alabama "has been systematic, intentional, invidious and in clear violation of the Fifteenth Amendment."

The terms of two of the four county commissioners expire next January. The law, enacted two weeks after passage of the federal Voting Rights Act, would have extended their terms two years, thus postponing elections for those posts until 1968.

The court ordered a primary election to be held May 31, with a general election in November.
