Community Action Council Conducts All-Dam Seminar At North High School

Labor unions were criticized Saturday for being "responsible" for some unemployment among Negroes.

At a day-long poverty seminary at North High school, the Rev. Kenneth C. McNeil said at the morning session that close to 40 per cent of the country's Negroes are unemployed and "unions to a large extent are responsible. They have not thought of the well-being of the total community."

The Rev. Mr. McNeil represents the Inter-Denominational Ministerial Alliance on the Community Action Council (C.A.C.), the board organizing the anti-poverty effort here.

In the morning session, six panel members from the poor discussed employment, housing, youth, education, alcoholism and the family. The session was organized by representatives of the poor on C.A.C.

In the afternoon, the 125 persons at the conference split into nine different panels.

New Approach

At a luncheon address, Robert E. Mannheim, president of the C.A.C. said the anti-poverty program is the first new approach to working with the disadvantaged, "perhaps since this country was founded."

Predicts His 'No' Vote Will Kill Building Trades Pet 'Situs' Statute Next Week

Washington, D. C. — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., (Dem., N. Y.) last week declared war on building trades labor unions, which through the years have practiced racial discrimination.

The nation's most militant Negro congressman has decided to block a scheduled House vote on the 'situs picking' act, the bill regarded very highly by the building trades.

The bill would overturn a U. S. Supreme Court decision that bars construction unions from picketing at the many building sites where more than one contractor is on the job.

Boycott

Such picketing, the court has ruled, would constitute a secondary boycott against the contractors with whom the striking union had no quarrel, and was therefore illegal.

The controversial measure, voted out by Powell's Education and Labor Committee earlier this year, had been scheduled — with Powell's specific approval — for a floor vote Thursday.

But on Wednesday, House Speaker John McCormack (Dem., Mass.) received a letter from Powell saying he was now "unalterably opposed" to the legislation and had no intention of calling it up for a floor vote.

Unless Powell changes his mind, that appears to scuttle the bill for this session of Congress.

McCormack was visibly flabbergasted and angry as he read parts of Powell's letter to newsmen.

Cause

Here's what caused Powell to do his about-face.

Months ago, Powell warned the administration that he was "unenthusiastic" about the bill and would push it on only two conditions:

—If the federal Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) bill passed the House and appeared to have a good head of steam in the Senate.

—If the bill for expansion and upward revision of the minimum wage also appeared to be making good progress.

By the end of this week, Powell's aides noted the FEPC bill had indeed passed the House, "but we're told authoritatively that it's not going to go anywhere in the Senate."

Weekend Visit

As for the hotly debated minimum wage proposal, which Powell's committee also voted out, it has yet to come up for a floor vote in the House and may not for some time—if at all, this session.

Negro Leaders

Over the weekend, a group of Negro labor leaders visited Powell in Harlem and emphasized a point Powell already well knew: That the unions whom the situs picketing bill was designed to help—the building trades—had been the most reluctant to integrate.

Said a Powell aide: "That tore it. Adam decided that if the building trades were continuing to shaft Negro laborers, he was going to shaft them."

Commerce Official Asks Immediate Action to Provide Jobs for Negroes in Ghettos

Washington, D. C. — Economic opportunity and jobs are the most pressing need of the Negro community and the most direct route to true integration, Eugene P. Foley, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development, declared last week.

He addressed the annual inaugural banquet of the National Business League at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles.

Achievements

"The main achievements of the civil rights movement in this country to date have been largely political and educational."

Foley called for innovations and new techniques to bring economic opportunity to Negroes of this generation. He cited as an example the small loan program he instituted as Administrator of the Small Business Administration before moving to the Commerce Department last fall.

Loans

Against all professional advice, he said, he went ahead with the program which provided $6,000 loans for six years to very small businessmen. In the previous 10 years, SBA had made seven loans to Negro small businessmen. In the first year of the "six by six" program "we made 98 loans to Negroes, and not one has defaulted. We also made 110 loans to white businessmen, and only four failed."

Training and Jobs

"What Negroes want are jobs now—training, fine, but jobs, too," Foley said. And I think the record is all too clear in Watts and other ghettos that we are not doing all we can to provide those jobs.

"The facts of modern life are such that those jobs have got to be accessible jobs, in the city, within reach of the ghetto."

Region IV NAACP Takes Action Against Little Black Sambo

Topeka, Kan.—"Little Black Sambo" may be a kindergarten classic to some people, but as far as Region IV members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, NAACP are concerned, it is a story that should be banned from school bookshelves.

NAACP delegates from a 10-state area approved a resolution calling for removal from school libraries books that end to prejudice readers against Negroes.

NAACP Files Job Bias Complaints Against 27 Companies, 3 Unions

Washington—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People scheduled the filing of complaints of job discrimination against 27 companies and three local trade unions before the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission here, May 9.

The complaints involve charges made by 74 NAACP members in seven states, Herbert Hill, NAACP director for labor program, said. The filing of these complaints, he added, "continues the Association's struggle to make equal employment opportunity available to all."

Transportation

A large number of the complaints are against southern transportation companies which, Mr. Hill charges, "have traditionally excluded Negroes from the long-haul or over-the-road category of employment." Among the companies cited are General Motor Lines, Observer Transportation Company, and the Johnson Motor Lines System, all of Charlotte, N. C.

NEW ERA OF OPPORTUNITY

Recent graduates of Hampton Institute are being offered professional positions by leading corporations from coast to coast. At a press conference in New York, Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of Hampton stated that the country has opened a new era of opportunity for Negro college graduates. Follow-up studies of recent graduates have revealed that job progress is not being hampered by race.

Two typical positions are Lloyd Vann, rose to accounting supervisor with the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corporation in Oakland, Calif., after informal, on-the-job training; and Fred Carr, shown learning computer operation, is with the New York Central Railroad in New York City.

Urban League to Attack Segregated Housing Patterns

New York—The National Urban League will mount an attack on segregated housing patterns in a three-year demonstration project in up to eight cities, Whitney M. Young, Jr., Executive Director, announced today. The program will be financed with the aid of a $1½ million grant from the Ford Foundation.

First City

Several cities of varying size are making preparations for participation in the project. Cleveland, Ohio will be the first city to initiate the program, and will raise 1/3 to 1/2 of their operating budgets through matching funds. Half of Cleveland's budget will be met by the Greater Cleveland Associated Foundation.

4 Major Areas

The project will have four major areas of operation. Storefront offices will be opened in slum areas. Staffed by professionals in the field and aided by volunteers, these offices will serve as local clearing houses for information for families who are in need of more adequate housing or who wish to move into better homes. Counseling will be provided to such families and the offices will assist them in plans to improve their housing or to move into other neighborhoods.

Choices

Another aspect of this phase of the program will be to acquaint Negro families with the range of housing choices available to them and with the advantages of finding homes in integrated neighborhoods. Negro fraternal and social organizations will be utilized to help interpret the program to the community and speaker teams from suburban areas will also aid in this. Educational workshops and printed and visual materials will also be used to reach Negroes in search of improving their housing conditions.

2nd Area

A second area of operation will be to service and coordinate the ef-

Hampton Institute Enrollment Increases

Hampton, Va.—Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of Hampton Institute, reported today, May 11, an "unprecedented" 36.7% increase in applications for admission to the College.

At a New York press conference, the head of the predominantly Negro college—located in Hampton, Virginia—said that young Negroes are beginning to see that "the promise of equal job opportunity is becoming a reality."

ALABAMA NEGRO VOTE TO GROW IN INFLUENCE, WILKINS SAYS

New York — Commenting on the Alabama primary election, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, predicted an increase in the influence of Negro voters in that state.

Statement

The NAACP leader's statement, made public here on May 4, the day after the election, follows:

As a result of yesterday's election, Alabama Negroes apparently will be represented in the state legislature for the first time since Reconstruction. Incomplete returns also indicate that they may have elected a sheriff and that some Negro candidates will be in the run-offs in certain county elections and may win.

New Voters

The new Negro voters of Alabama need not be discouraged. Even though many of the candidates they supported failed of election, these voters have already had an impact upon the conduct of elections in their state. Their influence will grow greater as their numbers increase and as they and the white voters forsake racial polarization at the polls.

of "Little Black Sambo" and proposed to replace them with books which would "give a more truthful picture of the Negro's part in American history."

Mrs. Rogers said the resolution would be submitted at the national NAACP convention in Los Angeles this July.

Upsetting

"The 'Little Black Sambo' story is a kindergarten classic," Mrs. Rogers said, "but is upsetting to some Negro children. It is our position that it should be replaced with stories of Negro history."

Mrs. Rogers, wife of a retired Air Force colonel, said the story had been removed from school books in California schools.

The NAACP regional meeting attracted delegates from Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and North and South Dakota.

Urges Postal Savings Be Converted to Bonds

Postmaster, John P. McInerney, today urged local citizens who have funds on deposit in the abolished Postal Savings System to convert their holdings into United States Savings Bonds.

"Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, who is Chairman of the Federal Savings Bonds Campaign, has appealed to the 930,000 Americans who have $285,000,000 on deposit with the Post Office Department to convert their investments into United States Savings Bonds," Mr. McInerney stated.

"I join him in urging local citizens who have Postal Savings Accounts to make that change which will be of great benefit to both themselves and our country. Savings Bonds offer every advantage of convenience and security formerly available through Postal Savings Certificates plus many other advantages unique to Savings Bonds."

What to do about obscene or other offensive phone calls

We are very much concerned about these calls. Should you happen to receive any, the following simple guidelines provide an effective way for you to stop them:

1. Hang up—if the caller does not say anything.
—at the first obscene word or improper personal question.
—if the caller does not identify himself to your satisfaction.
2. Don't keep talking to the caller—what he really wants is an audience. Don't be that audience.

Remember, you are in control of your phone. You can end any conversation simply by hanging up.

By following these guidelines, you can usually discourage someone from continuing to call you. If the calls do persist, call the Telephone Business Office. We want to help in investigating and apprehending these callers.

Rx: "Take Thou" ...

The "Rx" symbol you see on your doctor's prescription dates back to 5,000 years ago when Egyptians drew the sacred falcon standing on its perch to represent the highest divinity. A simplification of this drawing, similar to the modern "Rx", became a sign used as an invocation to the sun-god Horus to shed lightness upon the mysteries of disease. Later when sorcery and superstition ruled the ways of medicine it was used as a magic talisman to ward off ill health ... and today it remains on prescriptions—an ancient symbol expressing your doctor's best wishes to you for a speedy recovery.

Speaking of Prescriptions, let us remind you that for dependable, personalized service you can rely on WILLIAMS PHARMACY where Prescriptions are a specialty—not a sideline. Make a note of our address and phone: WILLIAMS PHARMACY, 1103 University Ave, Phone 243-1253.

Exec. Director of Deltas

MRS. HOBART TAYLOR, JR.
Executive Director, Delta Sigma Theta

Mrs. Hobart Taylor, Jr., prominent educator and civic leader, has been named executive director of Delta Sigma Theta, one of the largest interracial women's organizations in the nation.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Dr. Geraldine P. Woods.

of Los Angeles, National President of the 35,000 member public service sorority.

Mrs. Taylor will administer the affairs of the 298 Delta chapters in the United States and overseas from the National Headquarters Building at 1814 M St., N.W., Washington, D.C.

Deltas Will Celebrate May Week by Presenting Books On Negroes to Willkie Hse.

Phi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority will hold their annual May Week program at Willkie House, 900 17th street on Sunday, May 15 at 4 p.m.

Purpose of May Week activities is to acquaint the public with Delta's National five point program which chapters utilize to solve problems of society that become aware of in their local community. Deltas are bound together by the common cause of scholarship and service on campus, in community, state and the nation.

Phi chapter's theme for the year has been "Identification of and for the Negro." This was in conjunction with Delta's national theme, "Decisive Action for Freedom."

Deltas have spent the year exploring the field of literature and art by the Negro and for the Negro; they have sought the advice of representatives familiar with available materials and resources to be explored.

Phi chapter under the leadership of the president, Soror Marguerite Cuthorn, and the chairmanship of Soror Mable Spencer and her committee has purchased books and received donations of books from interested groups and individuals for a Delta Library. Purpose of this library is to make available the materials to expose our heritage, to show to the Negro and to others that we have a tremendous history and much to be proud. Negroes have contributed much for the betterment of society.

Phi chapter will see the culmination of their year's work during May Week program when the Delta Library will be presented to the Willkie House Library. Although every member of the chapter has made some contribution toward the program's success, those on Soror Spencer's committee are to be commended. They are Sorors Adah Johnson, Carole Kennerly, and Marva Woterson. Soror Dorothy Simms is chairwoman of May Week program.

Well, the big day is over and hope all of you had a wonderful weekend and Mother's day. Aside from the temperature you couldn't ask for a better day Saturday. Three patrols of Junior Girl Scout Troop 362 of Trinity Methodist church, took advantage of the nice weather to take separate outings in backyards of one mother and at several parks for the others. It was a part of the camping preparation they are undertaking before the all-day camp which will be held May 21 at Greenwood park.

In addition the 5 to 7 members of the Jack and Jill were taken by Mrs. William Wells, on a shopping expedition downtown to purchase Mother's day gifts and cards for their mothers. They had a limit of expenses but had an opportunity to choose what they wanted to give. All we can say is that Mrs. Wells had courage and a lot of patience, with a goodly portion of humor, to be able to take a half dozen little ones into a crowded store and help them shop, and find what they had in mind. She was to have been accompanied by Mrs. Turner Bell, but her daughter, Daphne Bell, became ill and two evenings before had to be admitted to Lutheran hospital with a virus of some sort. She was due home for Mother's day but she or her mother were able to join the group.

Had planned to take in the ceremonies at the newly opened Children's Zoo last Sunday but the sudden drop in temperatures plus the falling moisture caused us to change our minds so we postponed until a further date. We saw the televised preview and if the zoo holds up to the TV preview, it is really something. Our youngest can hardly wait to visit there.

The zoo has become possible because of the many donations and organizations. We are proud to say that quite a few Negro clubs chipped in and did their share.

Flavorful Biscuits Make Luxury Shortcake

Biscuits made with margarine add a luxury touch to Strawberry Shortcake

Strawberry shortcake is only as good as the biscuits that are its foundation. Light, fluffy, tender, they absorb the delicious berry juice. When they are made with margarine, they make the berries taste extra good.

Biscuits for shortcake are best when they are a little richer than when they are served as hot bread. A hint of sugar gives them just enough sweetness to blend with the sweetness of the sugared berries. Both the margarine and the sugar help the biscuits brown lightly to give added attractiveness.

For an extra touch of flavor and luxury, split the biscuits as soon as they come from the oven. Spread them generously with soft margarine. Then heap sweetened berries and whipped cream on them and serve.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE (6 servings)

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt

6 tablespoons margarine
1 cup milk
1 quart strawberries
½ pint whipping cream

Sift together into bowl the flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in margarine until mixture is like coarse corn meal. Add milk and stir until flour is just moistened. Turn dough out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Knead lightly five or six times. Roll out dough one-half inch thick. Cut into rounds with 4-inch biscuit or cookie cutter. Bake biscuits on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450°F.) 12 to 15 minutes. When slightly cooled, spread biscuits with soft margarine. While biscuits bake, wash and hull berries. If berries are large, cut some in halves. Sprinkle a little sugar over berries. About ½ cup sugar to 1 quart of berries is a good proportion. Cover and set into refrigerator until ready to serve. When ready to serve, whip cream. If desired, add 1 teaspoon powdered sugar to whipped cream. Place one biscuit on each dessert plate. Cover with cleaned sweetened strawberries and a generous spoonful of whipped cream. Cover with a second biscuit, more whipped cream and berries.

REPRESENTATIVE POWELL
ON RIGHT TRACK

Representative Adam Clayton Powell of New York is chairman of the Labor, Health and Education committee in the lower house of Congress. He is an able man and in spite of some unsavory actions at times, is able to get re-elected every two years. His chairmanship is derived from his longevity of service and as a member of the majority party in the house.

Powell has wisely refrained from making the Negro issue in everything he stands for and yet there have been occasions where he should have spoken out on the question.

The house has had before it a bill which, if it becomes a law, would enable a few men on a construction jobs to block the work of hundreds. In other words it would constitute a license for a few members of the building trades unions to block construction work completely in order to carry out what are often wild cat strikes. The administration supports the bill since it constitutes a debt which it pledged to pay the unions.

The building trades union is one of the most flagrant violators of fair employment practices, constituting the greatest source of exclusion of minorities from their membership and construction work. It was this union which strongly backed the measure.

The bill was voted out of committee by a lopsided vote over Powell's objection and when placed on the calendar he demanded and secured its removal until the union leaders and their members did something concrete about their unfair practices.

Here is an instance where Powell is exactly right. He knows, as every informed person does, that Negroes have backed the Democratic ticket year in and out side by side with union labor. And yet these same unions have been and are cutting dirt from under the feet of Negro labor at every turn of the road.

The great concern is whether Powell will stand his ground as he is capable of doing or succumb to strong party pressure generated by labor leaders which does little but receive the support of Negroes which, so far, they don't deserve.

NO DISAPPOINTMENT AT ALABAMA VOTE

The primary election in Alabama surprised many people both in and out of the state in that the campaign drove the hard core segregationists together enabling them to win even where the Negro vote constituted a majority.

Many news columnists and commentators have expressed great surprise that the Negro vote did not make a better showing. They reasoned that since the right to vote was assured by federal law and a great effort was put forth to defeat some particular candidates, they would march to the polls en masse.

Frankly, most of the disappointed are ignorant or refused to face up to what the Negro was up against even with federal watchers in many places. In years gone by, in many places, Negroes have been kept from the polls by force and intimidation, often with a threat to their lives. Thus many were not so sure that the law would do what it was designed to accomplish.

By and large, the percentage of votes cast was higher than even some of our own communities.

Voters wanted to wait and see what the results would be. There was little disturbance of any kind. As years go by they will become more confident, will organize their efforts better and make the proper showing. The ice has been broken.

UNWISE MOVE BY SOME NEGRO REPUBLICANS

A group of Negro Republicans have formed a Negro Republican party in Michigan. As their sponsors say it grows out of dissatisfaction with the 1964 campaign which they claim left them out of the party organization.

We agree that they were left out, but disagree that the formation of a Negro Republican party is the answer. Such splinters generally arise when someone feels that by so doing he can command most of the attention and the crumbs which fall from the group of the powers that be. Undoubtedly, these people can do a far better job by getting in the regular machinery of the party than by setting themselves apart as an adjunct.

Things are happening all around us. Jackie Robinson is hired to coach a football team called of all names, the Brooklyn Dodgers. He hopes to make them big time caliber. We heard a sports announcer say the other day that Jackie probably would not have accepted his new position if the commissioner of that league hadn't stepped down. You recall when A. B. (Happy) Chandler was commissioner of baseball and tried to get Robinson to stay in his place or what Chandler thought a Negro's place should be.

The announcer said that Robinson lost a lot of respect for the man then and never regained it. Whatever happens we would like to see the Brooklyn Dodgers really go.

Texas Southern

Then the coach of Texas Southern track team is picked to head the American track team against the Russians. That never happened before. It seems that Wright has always observed the very first fundamental rule for successful coaching. Yet some guy who can do what you are is coaching. Wright once coached Bob Hayes of Florida A. and M.

Says Wright of Hayes, "The fellow could really run and he made a heluva coach out of me."

Tennis

Then Art Ashe goes after the Davis cup starting the first of a long series of matches that everyone hopes will lead to the mid-winter showdown in Australia. If the Ashe feller can stay out of the army that long.

And over here in this corner we have the heavyweight o' de world defending his title over in England. Cassius Clay figures to beat the Briton but one never knows.

Track

So much for that. Meanwhile back in Des Moines, Jim Kirby of North turns on his big guns for Clyde Dun-

HEALTH FOR ALL

LOCAL TB EPIDEMIC:
IT CAN HAPPEN HERE

It's an old, true story that recurs now and then like a bad dream. This time it was dramatic enough to make headlines throughout the nation.

In an affluent midwest suburb a little girl wasn't feeling well. The doctor remembered that the little red lumps appearing on her legs could be an unusual symptom of tuberculosis. He gave her a tuberculin skin test; the reaction was positive, confirming that the germs were present in her body. A chest X-ray revealed active TB. The child was hospitalized and treated.

Same Result

Soon afterward the same pediatrician, Dr. Frank J. Malje, was asked to look at an ailing four-year-old boy. Again his examination included a TB test. It brought the same result, so did the chest X-ray that followed.

Discovering that both youngsters attended the same nursery school, Dr. Malje alerted public health officials to examine the records of all employees. It was found that a can's marks which were to stand for a long time. But records were made to be broken. So here's wishing Jim luck. We still think he ought to get ready for college and go on first. And then comes track.

Baseball

And the baseball season rolls on. Looks like the Tigers would roll over and play dead but they are turning this year's races into a real jim dandy. Don't know who is gonna win. Over in the National league there isn't much time to pick one right. Picked the Dodgers last year and they made it. Come on you Dodgers.

The American league race is just about as bad. Anyone of five teams could get hot and win the thing. Don't count the Yankees out yet. Looks like an exciting summer.

teacher had had active TB but had "recovered" before she was hired. The disease had reactivated, which means that the sealed-off germs had broken out and were again causing contagious disease.

Examined

The other 55 children in the school were promptly examined; no less than 12 turned out to have active TB. All were immediately hospitalized.

It all goes to prove what many doctors, in and out of the National Tuberculosis Association, have been saying right along. TB is still an ever-present menace. Teachers and other adults closely associated with children should be checked regularly to make sure they aren't potential transmitters of the disease. Ask your Christmas Seal Association for the informative free booklet, "Facts about Tuberculosis".

A Prayer for Everyday Living

Make me too brave to lie or be unkind.
Make me too understanding, too, to mind
The little hurts companions give, and friends.
The careless hurts that no one quite intends.
Make me too thoughtful to hurt others so.
Help me to know
The inmost hearts of those for whom I care,

Their secret wishes, all loads they bear,
That I may add my courage to their alone,
May I make lonely folks feel less own,
And happy ones a little happier yet.
May I forget
What ought to be forgotten: and recall
Unfailing, all
That ought to be recalled, each kindly thing
Forgetting what might-sting.
To all upon my way,
Day after day,
Let me be joy, be hope, let my life sing!

Compiled By Howard

Washington, D.C.—A biographical directory of the nation's 2,500 Negro ministers and their activities in and out of the church has been compiled by Ethel L. Williams, School of Religion librarian at Howard University.

The listings include birth and family, education, church affiliation, memberships and address. At a buffet supper being given in Hollywood, guests were dismayed to find that they had no napkins. One
