Massive Rights Meet in Session

Legislator Gets 30 Days in Jail for Car Death

150 Additional Days Suspended; Driver Put On Polk Probation

Two months ago a Des Moines man left his night job shortly before midnight presumably homeward bound. As he started across Locust street near 4th street, a car hit him, leaving him mortally wounded. When policemen arrived they found him lying where the hit-and-run driver had left him unaided, one shoe and his glasses lying nearby, and his broken wristwatch unerringly recording the time of impact. A few feet further an ornament off a car hood was found. Local police initiated an intensive search for the driver that soon assumed statewide proportions. Four days after the accident local policemen journeyed to Cedar Rapids on a tip of a policeman from there. The alleged driver of the death car was found. His prosecution case ended last week in a Polk County District Court. His sentence was 180 days with 150 of them suspended.

State Representative William P. Wilson (Dem., Cedar Falls) Friday was sentenced to 180 days in the Polk County Jail on a charge resulting from the fatal injury of a Des Moines pedestrian.

Polk County District Judge Harry Perkins suspended the last 150 days of Wilson's jail term and placed him on probation to Polk County probation agents during that time.

Judge Perkins' order provides that Wilson begin serving the other 30 days in jail June 6. Wilson also was fined $500.

Pleads Guilty

Wilson had been indicted Wednesday by a Polk County Grand jury on a charge of failing to give aid and SEE PAGE TWO

'National Committee Charged With Attempt to Dictate to Negro Republican Assembly'

Detroit, Mich. — Meeting in a three-day session here at this city's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, members of the National Negro Republican Assembly elected, New York attorney Grant Reynolds its national president and baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson, chairman of its executive board.

On the face of it, this appeared to be simply another political convention and election of officers. Actually, the election of Reynolds climaxed a bitter, behind the scenes power struggle out of which Reynolds emerged the victor and Jackie Robinson the hero.

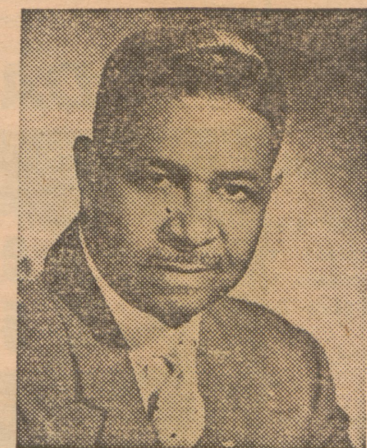

Background

Here is the background: NNRA came into being as the result of disaffection of Negro delegates and some of their sympathizers in attendance at the 1964 national GOP Presidential Convention. One of the non-delegate sympathizers and one of those who stirred up the most anti-Goldwater protest was Jackie Robinson, then an official member of the Nelson Rockefeller contingent at the Convention.

Soon after the thumping Goldwater defeat, NNRA members from all over the country, met and decided to go into permanent organization to build Negro strength in party councils and seek to prevent a repetition of the Goldwater takeover of the GOP.

View

Reynolds' unenthusiastic view of the National Committee is shared by Jackie Robinson who is wont to declare that he is "not that much of a real, honest-to-God Republican anyhow". Mr. Robinson, who is enthusiastic about New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller, feels the National Committee, under Ray Bliss, has not made any meaningful moves to show that it is really interested in the Negro vote. As for the Committee's former chairman, Bill Miller, anyone who reads newspapers knows what Mr. Robinson thinks of him.

Combined Forces

Recently, at a Saturday conference at the famed upstate New York Grossingers, Robinson and Reynolds met with Turk-type Republicans from around the state and organized the New York State Chapter of NNRA. Reynolds was elected President and Robinson Chairman of the Board. It was on to Detroit then and the national meet held here last week end.

Leon Mann Named Deputy Clerk in U.S. District Court

U. S. District Judge Roy L. Stephenson announced Wednesday a new plan for law clerks in federal court beginning July 1.

In connection with the change, Judge Stephenson appointed Leon Mann, 45, of 1161 14th place, as deputy clerk in the U. S. District court office. Mann has served as bailiff since 1960.

Judge Stephenson said he now proposes to appoint a young graduate attorney to serve as both bailiff and junior law clerk. After a year, this appointee would become senior law clerk, serving his second final year on the court staff in that capacity.

This will mean a new appointment each year, but will give the judge two years' service by each law clerk. The judge's present law clerk, Ronald Langstaff, 25, of 7257 Rollins drive, will become senior law clerk July 1. Langstaff was appointed law clerk last July 1. He is a graduate of the State University of Iowa law school at Iowa City.

Law clerks are appointed by Judge Stephenson after recommendations from the Iowa and Drake University law schools.

2,400 Delegates Will Help Chart the Future Course To 'Fulfill Rights' in U. S.

Washington, D. C. — With President Lyndon B. Johnson serving as host, 2,400 persons, representing all segments of American life, are spending two full days in Washington this week discussing and charting the future course of civil rights activity.

The President's White House Conference "To Fulfill These Rights" is being held June 1-2, with its main focus on developing new means and methods "to help the American Negro fulfill the rights which, after the long time of injustice, he is finally about to secure."

Keynoter

Heading the list of Conference speakers are Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall. The Vice President will address the opening session Wednesday morning and Judge Marshall, is to be keynote speaker at a dinner-meeting Wednesday night.

Moderators

Among the other participants, serving as committee moderators are: Ambassador James Nabrit, U. S. Deputy Director to the UN; State Representative Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland; Dr. Benjamin Mays, President of Morehouse College; G. William Miller, President, Texttron, Inc.; Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, New York author-educator; Dr. Louis Pollak, Dean, Yale Law School; State Assemblyman Percy E. Sutton of New York; Federal District Judge A. Leon Higginbotham of Philadelphia; and John Wheeler, President, Farmers and Mechanics Bank, Durham, N. C.

Objective

A. Philip Randolph, dean of the civil rights leaders and Honorary Chairman of the Conference, said the objective of the White House Conference "makes it one of the most important held to seek a solution to the Negro problem since the Civil War."

Randolph said, "Since black and white America has a major stake in the success of this Conference, citizens in all areas in the nation should rally to the support of the Conference for the achievement of racial and social justice today should have top priority on the national agenda with a profound sense of urgency."

Agenda

The Conference agenda consists of far reaching, action-oriented recommendations in four critical subject areas—Economic Security and Welfare; Housing; Education; and the Administration of Justice. The recommendations are contained in a comprehensive report to the Conference compiled under the supervision of a 30-member leadership council appointed by President Johnson to oversee the detailed planning for the Conference.

Conference Chairman Ben W. Heineman, who is also Chairman of the Chicago & North Western Railway Company, said, "the Council's report represents a broad point of view of a great many people with divergent interests and is consistent with our objective of involving the entire society in expanding the opportunities and rights of American Negroes."

The report details major actions that need to be taken by various segments of society—by government at all levels; by private groups such as business, labor, religious and voluntary organizations, and by private citizens.

In the area of Economic Security, the Council recommended:

Again Ask High Court to Hear $85,000 Damage Suit

Washington—The Supreme Court's dismissal of an NAACP petition for review of a Savannah, Ga., damage suit opens the way to civil actions designed "to harass, impoverish and eventually paralyze" the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Association charges in a petition for a rehearing filed with the Court, May 25.

Already, the NAACP petition said, new suits against the organization have been filed in state courts since April 27 when the Supreme Court dismissed the Association's petition for a review of the $85,793 damage judgment imposed by a Georgia court.

The Savannah suit was filed in 1962 after the branch had picketed a market, the owner of which reportedly severely beat a 14-year-old Negro boy employee. In response to an appeal from the boy's mother and following investigation of the incident, the branch instituted a picket line to discourage patronage of the market.

Another Means

If this judgment is allowed to stand, the NAACP petition said, "persons throughout the country antagonistic to the work and goals of" the NAACP will see in the Supreme Court's decision of April 27 another means by which the Association and its branches "may be harassed and their work—and indeed that of the entire civil rights movement — impeded, if not completely halted."

The Court's dismissal provides foes of the NAACP "with yet another technique capable of destroying its effectiveness. 'Labeling' of its relationship with its branch as one of 'agency' has been permitted to support an exorbitant award in this case," the petition maintained.

Challenges Irregularities in Alabama Primary Election

Birmingham — NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund attorneys today filed suit in federal district court here seeking to void the May 3 Democratic primary election in Greene County, Ala., where Negroes outnumber whites by more than four to one.

The suit, filed in behalf of four Negroes who were candidates in the primary, charges numerous irregularities in the conduct of the election. Other plaintiffs in the suit are four Negro voters who allegedly were victimized by voting officials.

Defendants

Defendants in the action, which seeks to enforce the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, are the County Democratic Party Executive Committee, and County Probate Judge Dennis Herndon. The probate judge is, under Alabama law, responsible for the conduct of all elections held in the county.

The suit alleges that large numbers of white persons who have died or moved out of the county were carried on the voting lists for the primary. While there are less than 1,500 qualified white voters living in the county, at least 1,789 whites cast ballots, the suit charges.

No Sample Ballots

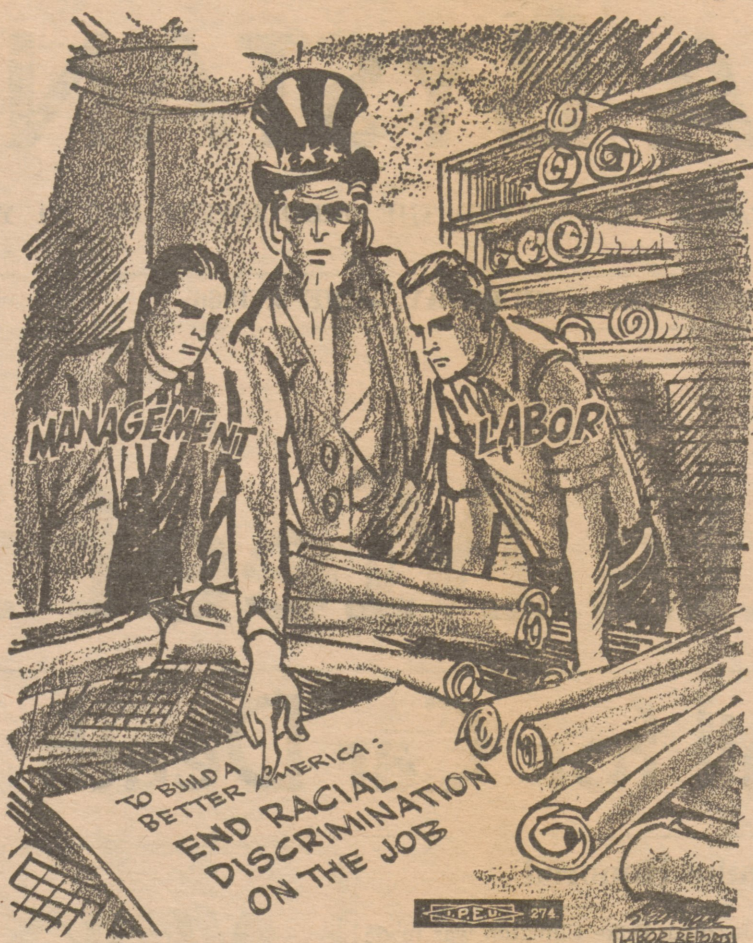

Further, the suit alleges that illiterate Negro voters were not allowed to use sample ballots to help them cast their votes, although white illiterates were granted that privilege.

Unable to use sample ballots, illiterate Negroes had to turn to voting officials for help in marking their ballots, according to the complaint. In many instances, white voting officials refused to mark the ballots of illiterate Negroes for Negro candidates, and instead marked them for white candidates.

UNITED NEGRO COLLEGE FUND TO SHARE IN U. S. STEEL COLLEGE GRANT

Some 33 member colleges of the United Negro College Fund will share in United States Steel's $2,600,000 program of aid-to-education, according to an announcement made recently by Roger M. Blough, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of United States Steel Foundation, Inc. The program comprehends grants to 700 liberal arts colleges, universities, and institutes and to twenty-one organizations dedicated to raising the quality of teaching and learning in America.

"In this," said Mr. Blough, "the 13th consecutive program in aid-to-education, the trustees have again directed the major part of the program to the multiple needs of the institutions of higher education which so significantly serve the needs of our free society. Grants made are primarily concerned with institutional efforts to secure and retain quality facilities, expand facilities, enhance teaching resources, improve educational research, and advance scholarship, as well as to stimulate ever-broadening support to higher education."

Located in 11 southern states, the 33 predominately Negro colleges and universities affiliated with the United Negro College Fund are reconstructing their educational programs in a concerted effort to train thousands of students for many areas of professional employment formerly closed to Negroes. U.N.C.F. member Stillman College, was recipient of another Steel Foundation grant earlier this year.

June Is American Dairy Month

Milk, Dairy Products Are America's Favorite Food, Says Industry

Milk and other dairy products are established favorite foods in America. This national preference for milk has helped to stabilize the dairy industry's per capita product sales and consumption, it is reported in "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods," an annual statistical review published this month by National Dairy Council, Chicago.

Overall

Overall stability in per capita sales and consumption of milk and other dairy foods is a dominant factor in the dairy business of the 1960's, says the NDC publication. Sales of fluid whole milk, for example, held constant at 249 pints per person in 1965, the same rate as in 1964. During the last five years sales of fluid whole milk have varied between 249 and 250 pints per person. Record consumption and increased sales for other dairy foods also were recorded, in 1965.

Results

It seems clear from these results that consumers have reversed the downward trend in sales of fluid milk that was evident prior to 1961. Nutrition education programs have alerted consumers to the good taste and good nutrition in milk, says "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods."

Per capita consumption of total milk solids remained strong in 1965, it is pointed out in "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods." During the 1960's, consumption of total milk solids has averaged slightly above 90 percent of the level of use during the 1947-49 period.

Milk Solids

"The decline in per capita consumption of total milk solids since 1947-49 can be traced primarily to a reduced intake of milkfat. Consumption of protein and other nonfat solids has remained relatively stable over the years. In contrast, consumption of milkfat has averaged only about 80 percent of the 1947-49 level of use. This leveling off of consumption of milkfat in recent years indicates the effectiveness of industry-wide educational efforts to inform consumers of the total nutritive value of milk."

10th Year

For the 10th consecutive year, an increase was recorded during 1965 in the consumption of milk through the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs. During 1965, approximately 6 billion half-pints of milk were consumed by children participating in these Programs. A decade ago, milk consumption through the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs totaled slightly more than 2.5 billion half-pints. The marked increase in milk consumption through these Programs reflects the interests and efforts of nutritionists and educators to improve the dietary habits of children, says "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods."

Family Finances

Old Equity Life, Evanson, Ill.

You can budget without being a bookkeeper. All that is needed is a little common sense and nine envelopes (marked Food, Clothing,
Rent, Operating Expenses, Health, Savings—Insurance, Educational and Recreation, Church and/or Charity, and Miscellaneous).

On payday put the amount you think you need to cover each of these expenses in the proper envelope. Keep this up for several paydays, trying to use the money in each envelope wisely.

At the end of a month or so, examine your "budget." You'll probably find that you have money left over in some envelopes, while others are empty.

This will tell you where you need more or can get along with less or where you need to spend more wisely. Adjust the amounts you need to place in each envelope accordingly.

Even if you pay by check, the same system will work except that you will have to do it on paper. ●

Whenever four generations of the family get together—it's picture time!

Don't Put Family Snapshots Off Until Tomorrow

TOMORROW is definitely too late for picturing people as they are today. There are some varieties of family snapshots that you definitely shouldn't put off taking.

Among these are the family groups, the four generation snapshots. Sometimes in our concentration on picturing the small fry and how they grow, we tend to forget about the grown-ups in the family. They belong in the family picture record, too.

Picturing the oldsters and the youngsters together is something that can be fun, and at the same time produce snapshots that will become family treasures.

Of course, when it comes to picturing a family group, it is always important to have a center of interest—something that all of your subjects can focus their attention on and not look at the camera. In taking the three or four generation pictures that should be a part of every family record, the representative of the youngest generation makes an excellent center of interest.

Group the adults in a comfortable manner and let them be admiring the baby. Nothing could be more natural—and because of that it ought to be a sure-fire means of getting good expressions on the faces.

When you have a group like that together, don't take just one picture—the subject is too important to take any chances. Shoot several and you are bound to have at least one exceptionally good picture, and you'll probably have a whole series.

—John Van Guilder

Orbs . . . In Color?

The time may come when women will be able to change the color of their eyes as easily as they now change the color of their hair. Eye color is not hereditary — except where both parents are blue-eyed—color is usually determined by the presence of a chemical substance called Melanin. Black and blue eyes contain it, and by altering the chemistry of this substance the eye color can be changed.

We may yet see the day that, when a man says to a girl, "Where did you get those big brown eyes?" She may reply: "At Emile's, corner of Fifth and Main!"

Have a Party for the Tiny Tots

OF COURSE, IT'S ALWAYS A PARTY where there's ice cream and when you serve crunchy crisp molasses rings too, it's a ball. This ingenious mother has inserted a skewer into a rubber rabbit to hold the goodies. She drizzled real New Orleans molasses over the ice cream to give it that tart-sweet taste that children love and added chocolate milk to round out the festive feeling.

CRISP MOLASSES RINGS

1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and ginger

1/2 cup real New Orleans molasses
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup granulated sugar

Sift together dry ingredients. Combine real New Orleans molasses and shortening in a small saucepan and bring to boil. Cool. Combine two mixtures and blend thoroughly. Chill. When dough is firm enough to handle, roll out about 1/8" thick on lightly floured surface. Cut with doughnut cutter, or large and small biscuit cutters, to make rings. Roll out punchout pieces. Arrange on greased cookie tin and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375°F.) about 8 minutes, or until done. Makes approximately 3 dozen cookies, depending on size cut. (ANS)

Hope you had an enjoyable holiday and that any sadness you may have had may have been overshadowed by its counterpart, gladness. The weather was ideal for park outings and many families took advantage of it. As for ourselves ours was a quiet week end in which we prodded ourselves to move out on the tennis courts and get in a few long overdue practice sessions.

It is that time again. The anniversary issue is coming out next week with new and familiar features. Many of the June high school graduates will be featured in pictures and writeups. If you should want extra copies will you call the Bystander by the first of the week (Monday or Tuesday) and leave your number of copies you wish to be sure of getting them. Individual copies are .10 cents each. Or better still why not send in for a subscription. What better time to take out your subscription than with the anniversary edition. Remember your anniversary greetings. If your club isn't represented yet, it is not too late to call or send it in. They begin at $5.00. This is one of the ways you can show your appreciation to a newspaper institution that prints your news without cost.

Saturday afternoon we accompanied Mrs. Dorothy Holmes, 6224 Forest avenue, to chaperone the 11 to 13 group of Jack and Jill club on a tour of the Des Moines Playhouse. The interesting tour was conducted by Miss Georgine Mason, who gives many volunteer hours to the playhouse working with and making props for the stage productions. Also showing the youngsters how the stage lighting and sound systems work and even let the boys try their hands at demonstrating how they work.

Afterwards the group journeyed to Mrs. Holmes' home where they enjoyed an outdoor picnic in the Holmes' spacious back yard.

We have talked by Alexander Graham Bell invention to Miss Mason on several occasions and of course, have followed various daily paper articles on her talented paper mache animal head props, but this was our first opportunity to talk with her. Since she is from our alma mater, Lincoln University, Mo., naturally we had very much to talk about.

PRE-FREEZE FOR ANGEL PIE

When the freezer is put to use the best of the season's crops can be preserved for later enjoyment. One of the most eagerly awaited is the strawberry. Home frozen strawberries retain the fresh, juicy taste of newly picked ones for months when packed in approved freezing containers like Vapocons, square, waxed-board containers with rigid plastic lids.

Strawberries to use later in dessert recipes should be prepared in a dry, sweetened pack before freezing. This is all you have to do. After they are washed, drained, and hulled, tumble berries in sugar, 1/2 cup per quart. Pack in square, waxed-board containers and freeze immediately.

STRAWBERRY ANGEL PIE

Here is a way to put a container of home frozen strawberries to mouth-watering use. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar to 4 egg whites. Beat until stiff. Beat in 1 cup granulated sugar. Beat in 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Spread in well-buttered, 9-inch pie plate, having mixture higher around the edge to make a rim. Bake 1 hour at 275°, then cool. Spread with 1/2 cup whipped cream. Let stand several hours. Spread a layer of 1 1/2 pints thawed strawberries over cream. Cover with second layer of whipped cream.

Handy Incinerator

FOR burning household rubbish, an incinerator built of concrete blocks on a concrete foundation is excellent. The base is 4 by 5 feet, and the concrete should be reinforced with chicken wire, according to Family Handyman.

Use standard size building blocks, setting the first course on a thin layer of mortar and leaving two 8"x8" spaces at the front to provide ample draft for complete incineration.

The cover is turkey wire, 1"x1" mesh, with welded joints so the wires won't separate due to the heat. Eye-bolts may be inserted in the joints between two of the top building blocks, if you want to hinge the mesh cover by looping down two pieces of the wire into the metal eyes.

SOFT CUSTARD OVER CAKE FOR EASTER BRUNCH DESSERT

PART OF THE JOB of menu-making is making the menu appealing as well as wholesome and nourishing. In the dessert course this is not too difficult. Take a plain jane standby like soft custard and make it into a delightful Easter Brunch dessert, by serving it over slices of devil's food cake. Then watch your little bunnies gobble it up.

This recipe for Soft Custard will give you a thinner more delicate consistency which you will not find in any other recipe. That is because it is made with sweetened condensed milk. This particular type of canned milk is whole milk and sugar cooked down and blended to a creamy smoothness that is perfect for custards. Furthermore, this custard means more nourishment through the double-richness of sweetened condensed milk. Try it once and you'll find it turning up on the family menu often through popular demand.

SOFT CUSTARD

1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cups hot water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 to 3 eggs, slightly beaten*
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine sweetened condensed milk, hot water and salt in top of double boiler. Gradually add beaten eggs while stirring constantly. Cook over hot, not boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a silver spoon. Remove from heat at once. Cool quickly. Add vanilla and pour into dessert dishes (or pitcher, if to be used as a sauce). Chill.

* If eggs are small, use three.

CIVIL RIGHTS LAWS
DON'T CREATE RIGHTS

Too many well informed people get the notion that the various civil rights laws are designed to accord the Negro his rights, afford special privileges not enjoyed even by other races.

This is far from the truth. The constitution guarantees certain rights to ALL people but because they have not been enjoyed equally by ALL citizens special legislation has been required to implement them.

It is generally conceded that racial discrimination by law is a dead issue. It now behooves the people to carry out these laws.

Opponents of civil rights legislation often argue that you can't legislate against moral issues. That is true. But you can legislate against the things that racial discrimination produce.

This conquest for remedial legislation has built up in some minds a feeling of pride and responsibility. This is as it should be. On the other hand some have taken it as a license to carry on irresponsibility that is bound to alienate the support of many people and tends to create, even in youngsters, belligerent attitudes toward others, including what others own.

BIG JOBS REQUIRE
LOTS OF MONEY

Dr. Martin Luther King has called upon the federal government to spend a hundred billion dollars to rid the country of city ghettos, provide adequate education, in order to bring Negroes generally up on an even level with other Americans.

This is a lot of money. However, the improvements Dr. King calls for are needed by Negroes, yes, but also a lot of white people living in areas where opportunities for them have not been good.

The announcement was somewhat startling and yet when we consider how America is financing millions of people in other countries, it cannot very well allow millions of its own people to live beyond accepted standards.

One ridiculous benevolence in which the U.S. is engaged is the importation of hundreds of Cubans into the country at our expense and giving them money to tide them over until they can get work. These people are supposed to be anti-Castro refugees seeking a haven in this country.

Of all the fool things to do this is one, for if the so-called anti-Castro refugees are imported to this country, then Cuba will be populated by adherents to Castro only and his communist followers, cutting off a chance to overthrow his government in the foreseeable future.

Negroes received no such benevolence even after slavery. They have had to make their own way and it has not been easy. And while many white people have helped with money and education, the federal government never offered them any such bonanza.

While Negroes have said little about it in public, there is an undercurrent of deep dissatisfaction with the government for using their tax dollars to do for strangers what has never been done for them.

CONTRIBUTORS TO
HEAVY TRAFFIC TOLL

More than five hundred people were killed during the three day memorial holiday—a terrible slaughter of human lives. This has gone on for many years with admonitions only that people should drive more carefully.

The auto manufacturers have been somewhat on the defensive as charges are being leveled that cars are unsafe. Of course, any machine may have some defects and it is ridiculous that this has not been kept in mind as cars are built.

But as accidents are investigated, very few are attributed to defective cars. Practically all are due to poor or reckless driving and disregard for the safety of others, or to the notion that the courts will mete out punishment that are slaps on the wrist and deter nobody from doing the same things again.

Thus law enforcement officers must bear their fair share of the responsibility for the large numbers of accidents that occur from day to day.

There is a young fellow we know of who is finishing his senior year in high school. He had a great year and appears set for even greater things in possibly football and certainly track. We don't know the fellow too well, but we have read that he had already picked his college, a Big Eight school. Then we further noted that his grades were not quite up to Big Eight standards.

But the fellow who do know the guy say he can get really top grades in whatever he wants to if he wants to do so. Well, now he will have a chance in his last year to really hit those books hard and give himself a chance at getting into the school of his choice. Most fellows don't think about their college until they are out of high school and if they didn't have good enough grades they were in trouble.

As we see it this young fellow has everything going for him. Parents who care and will help all they can; a lot of other people who can help have expressed an interest in the boy.

Now all this is because nature has given a young man a strong pair of legs and fleet pair of feet. He also has size that could let him grow into a real halfback whenever he goes to school or even next fall for his own high school.

But with all those assets goes responsibility and we certainly hope this fellow meets the challenge and makes it big wherever he goes.

There have been so many nice things written and said about the guy that you wonder how he would react to adverse criticism designed to help him. But that will surely come and we hope he can handle it well. We don't know the youngsters' summers plans but we would like to see him going about ten pounds of hard muscle so he wouldn't lose any speed and then see him playing in his high school backfield. You see the fellow could make it in any college as a back and superb track star.

Who won the Valley golf meet that we called the Central States meet last week. A fellow really shouldn't show his ignorance like that. Maybe one just should not mention things he doesn't know too much about.

Baseball

Oh yes, a fellow stopped by the other day to remind us that the Yankees aren't dead yet. He thinks they could win the American League pennant. But it is still a long haul from now until September.

And now those pin stripes don't scare the rest of the league so the Yankees won't win their usual ten or 20 games because the other guys are scared. If they could win it would be a real tribute to a club that had to battle all the way against odds that we doubt they can overcome.

Streets Are Unsafe
Play Areas, Says AAA

"Completely absorbed in play, children may move suddenly into the line of traffic where playing too near the street," warned C. H. Lambach, President of the Motor Club of Iowa, in a reminder to drivers that they must be constantly alert to the possibility of children darting into streets after balls or playing in the streets during the coming months.

Mr. Lambach advised parents to provide supervised play areas for children away from traffic. "Make these areas attractive and interesting as well as safe, so that children will not be tempted to play on sidewalks or in streets. Help your child plan a safe route to the play area just as he planned one for going to and from school," Lambach recommended.

He urged parents of pre-schoolers to establish boundaries beyond which their child could not go when playing. "This first traffic safety lesson can give a child a proper attitude toward his relationship to traffic," the AAA official reminded parents.

ANOTHER PHONE
RATE REDUCTION

Reduced rates for long distance telephone calls within Iowa were filed today with the Iowa State Commerce Commission by the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company. Other reductions and changes are also included in the filing which is expected to save Iowa telephone users $2,020,000 a year.

Discussions

As filed, the new long distance rates will become effective July 9.

The proposed reductions in long distance rates range from 5¢ to 20¢ on a three-minute call, depending upon the type of call, distance and time of day. The lower rates would apply for calls over 47 miles.

According to J. E. Olson, Northwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager, the reductions result from discussions between the Iowa State Commerce Commission and the Company and reflect economies from increased use of new equipment and new techniques which are helping to lower the cost of handling intercity calls over longer distances.

3rd Reduction

Olson said, "This is the third intrastate long distance reduction since 1964 and is by far the largest. The savings to Iowa phone users from the three reductions total more than $3,500,000 annually." He also stated that during the same period Northwestern Bell has invested more than $118 million in a program of service improvement and expansion in Iowa.

Exchange

In addition to the long distance rate reduction, the filing includes a reduction in some exchange services for a few customers in scattered locations throughout the state, an additional charge of 15¢ on completed intrastate collect calls and an intrastate inward wide area telephone service—INWATS—a new service providing unlimited in-calling at a flat monthly rate, according to Olson.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THOSE FRIENDLY CALORIES

Does exercise provide the answer to overweight? Not likely, according to a Southern Illinois University nutritionist, unless you're ready to drop everything and practically make exercising your career.

That's true particularly of people who lead sedentary lives, but it also applies to more active individuals. You might be surprised to learn how much muscular exertion is required to work off those contraband cream puffs and smuggled-in French fries. For the sake of enlightenment of the subject, Dr. Frank Konishi has compiled a "calorie activity table".

Time

It takes one minute of running, or about four minutes of walking, he figures, to use up 19.4 calories. In other words, there's nothing wrong with helping yourself to a malted milk shake and a slice of layer cake beyond your normal calorie allotment, and then "working it off" through exercise—if you're ready to walk for two and three-quarter hours. A couple of between-meals exploits like that (858 calories per exploit) would cost you five and a half hours of walking.

Of course you could cut down the time expenditure by running for a mere hour and a half. But to get in shape for that you'd have to cut out malteds and layer cake in the first place. Sort of makes you stop and think—except that you can't stop because you've got all that running to do!

Calculations

According to Dr. Konishi's calculations, even an innocent-looking hamburger and a glass of skim milk would take an hour and 23 minutes to walk off if you wanted to expend the acquired energy. If you're a little busy and want to save those 23 minutes, you could switch to a glass of beer and a slice of pizza.

Better still (assuming you really mean it about controlling your weight) would be to resist that snack-snatching impulse and keep your calorie intake within normal bounds. Exercise does benefit general health and has some effect on weight. But it takes a heap of exercise to exorcise that bulge.
