Youths Fling Rocks at Police Cars

Second Week of Riot Rocks Omaha, Nebr.

Governor Calls Guard On Standby After 2-Day Disorder

Omaha, Nebr. — "Mob fireworks" which were reportedly touched off when a group of young adults fired illegal July 4 fireworks in a parking lot on Omaha's near North side. When police arrived to investigate the incident, they were pelted with rocks, bottles and debris by some of the crowd which numbered about 150. The incident continued two days when a neighborhood store was heavily damaged Friday night. To prevent any possible additional disturbances, the National Guard was put on standby orders by Lt. Governor Phil Sorenson, acting governor in the absence of Gov. Frank Morrison, who is in Los Angeles.

Rowdies

Police Chief C. Harold Ostler blamed the disturbance on "a small group of rowdies" and said it had "no racial significance."

Flying bottles and stones broke windows and damaged police cars. One policeman was slightly burned on the hand when a firecracker exploded inside a police cruiser and a television camcorder was punched in the face and later slightly cut by flying glass.

4 Stores

Four stores in a two-block area were broken into and ransacked but police recovered most of the merchandise before it could be carted out of the area.

The entire affair lasted less than two hours but Ostler declared an emergency and canceled police leaves for the holiday weekend as a protective measure.

Fireworks

Ostler said the incident began when neighbors complained about the discharge of fireworks—illegal in Omaha—in a supermarket parking lot in the center of the two-block area where the trouble developed.

A witness told officers 150 to 200 young Negroes between the ages of 17 and 21 were in the lot of the supermarket. Some estimates were larger.

Ostler said most of the crowd were spectators and did not interfere with police. He described the trouble makers as "older teen-agers."

150 Police

About 150 police were dispatched to the area, authorized to use tear gas, but they did not do so.

Eight persons were arrested on charges including looting, suspicion of burglary, drunkenness and disturbing the peace, disobeying an officer and illegal discharge of fireworks.

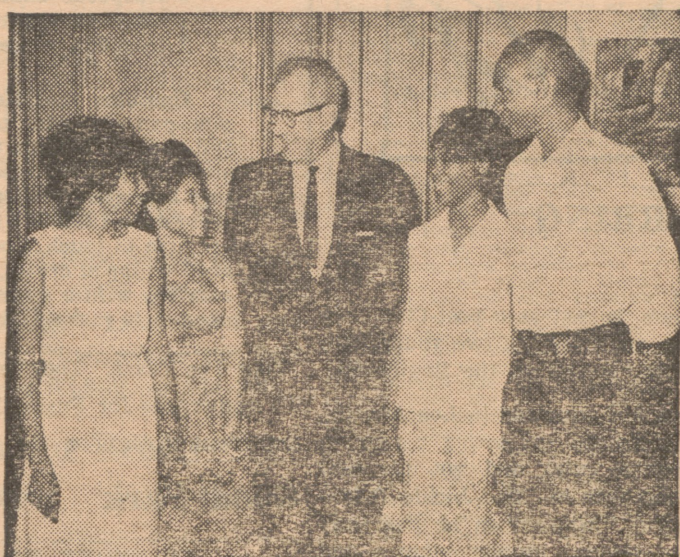

Not Racial

When a reporter asked Mayor A. V. Sorenson if the situation was primarily a problem in racial relations, he said flatly it was not.

Early Sunday, about 150 to 200 persons were involved in disturbances precipitated by what Police Chief C. Harold Ostler called young rowdies, who smashed bottles, threw rocks at police cars, exploded fireworks and ransacked four stores. Chief Ostler said this outbreak had no racial significance.

Band of Youths

Again early Monday there were disorders as a band of Negro youths moved along Twenty-fourth street, the near north side's main business artery, after a dance, breaking windows in several business establish-

Willard Wirtz gets the low-down on the Neighborhood Youth Corps from four enrollees present when an additional $1.7 million was awarded the United Planning Organization to set up more than 4,000 NYC job opportunities for young people in D.C. Metropolitan Area. Two of the enrollees, Diane Crawford and Bismark Henry will be appointed to permanent jobs with the Smithsonian Institute as a result of their NYC experience. Sharon Pitt and Dianne Free, school dropouts plan to return in the fall. "This is the story of the NYC, you don't need any words from me," the Secretary said.

NAACP Will Remain on in Miss. After Marchers Leave

New York — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, today issued the following statement, June 27, on the barring of NAACP representation at the Jackson rally concluding the Meredith Mississippi March, on June 20.

Stated Aims

"The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People supported from the beginning the stated aims of James Meredith, the stimulation of voter registration and the release from fear. The rally in Jackson underscored the determination of Negro citizens on these goals.

Petty

"The barring of Aaron Henry, our state president, and Charles Evers, our state director, from appearing on the platform and speaking at the rally in Jackson was a petty act. Mr. Evers is the brother of Medgar Evers who was slain three years ago in Jackson and whose martyrdom was not mentioned at the Jackson rally.

Section Veered

A section of the march veered from the direct route to pay deserved tribute to the memory of James Chaney, Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner, the Philadelphia, Miss., martyrs of 1964. There was, however, no similar tribute to Rev. George W. Lee, president of the NAACP branch in Belzoni, Miss., who was killed in 1955 because he refused to remove his name from the Humphreys County voters' list, although the Meredith march went directly through Belzoni.

As Charles Evers remarked when he was barred from the platform, "It's all right. I'll be here when they're all gone." The NAACP will, indeed, be steadily at work on civil rights in Mississippi, where it has been since 1918, long after the marchers have departed.

320 IOWA YOUNGSTERS TO WORK IN NEIGHBORHOOD YOUTH CORPS

Summer jobs for 320 Iowa young people will be provided in two projects under the Neighborhood Youth Corps approved by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

The Polk County Board of Education at Des Moines, will provide work opportunity for 250 youngsters between 16 and 21. They will be selected from among those eligible for Economic Opportunity Act programs. The U.S. Department of Labor will provide $104,390 for the project, with the sponsoring agency responsible for approximately ten percent of the total cost.

At Ottumwa the Ottumwa Park Commission will furnish job opportunities for 70 young people, with a Federal contribution of $75,580.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps is mented despite reinforced police details.

More than 50 were arrested and Mayor Sorenson said most of them were youths.

COLUMBIA PICTURES TO BE CITED BY WOMEN'S GROUP

It will mark the first time that a major Negro organization has cited a motion picture company.

Columbia is being cited for its awareness of the need to develop acting talent among all groups, the use of Negroes in non-stereotyped roles in motion pictures, and its contribution to movies as an entertainment medium.

Mississippi Voter Drive Gets Added Staff

New York — A beefing up of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's voter registration drive in Mississippi was announced here this week by Roy Wilkins, executive director.

Wilkins has appointed the Rev. Allen L. Johnson to assist Charles Evers, NAACP field director for Mississippi, in the summer voter registration drive. Four other workers will be added to execute task force operations in each of the state's five Congressional districts. Local volunteers will assist in the door-to-door canvassing of unregistered Negro citizens.

Five Vehicles Damaged; 3 Called to Assist Officers In Quelling Disturbances

Des Moines police aided by three men who have experience in youth work or civic interest, quelled a disturbance by a large gathering of youth at Good Park Monday evening.

The disturbance, which included a barrage of thrown bricks, rocks and pieces of wood at police who answered a complaint of fireworks in the park, began about 10:20 p.m. when a group of youth reportedly refused to leave the park's swimming pool at curfew time.

When police failed to disperse the group at the park at a nearby filling station, acting police chief, Wendell Nichols, phoned Atty. James B. Morris, Jr., John Estes, Jr., who is widely known for his youth work and Perry Hooks, director of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights.

We talked with Morris, Jr., for an eyewitness account of the incident after he arrived on the scene. He reported:

About 11 p.m.

"About 11 p.m. we got a call from police asking us if we would come down to the station. They told us that there was a disturbance at Good Park and they wanted our help.

"We went down and a police car was there to take us right out to the park. When we got there about 10 squad cars with two men each were on the scene. Bricks and bot-threw a brick through the big plate glass window at the filling station near 17th and University. All the lights were out which made it difficult to see. It would be hard to estimate how many there were. All you could see from time to time was a silhouette against the skyline.

Loud Speaker

"They had us to start talking over loud speakers to the youths when we first got there. They didn't stop at first but they did after a while. When things quieted down police decided they wanted to clean out the park and the three of us got out and started walking along the west side of the sidewalk on 17th street.

"We explained that we were citizens and not police, and asked them to please disperse and go home. Then we got in our car and rode around, and when we saw groups at various spots we went through the same procedure."

ESTES, JR.

Very Effective

"John was very effective with the boys. He knew many of them because they have played on teams he has coached at some time. Most of the youngsters were just innocent bystanders. Too, there were some youths sitting on steps of housing and there was some namecalling. We went into some of the houses, be-

Evers Rented Rally Platform From Which Leaders Barred Him

Jackson, Miss. — One of the ironies of the barring of Charles Evers from speaking at the Meredith rally here June 26 was the fact that Evers, as NAACP state director, rented and paid for the flatbed truck body used as the speakers' platform.

Evers, brother of slain Medgar Evers, was busy helping to prepare the truck bed for the afternoon ceremonies when he was told by newspaper men that the march leaders, by a 4 to 2 vote, had barred NAACP representatives from appearing and speaking at the rally.

cause we know most of the people who live along there.

"Later Iowa Power and Light restored the lighting and things were a lot better.

Tuesday Morris, Hooks and Estes, Jr., were commended by the Police department for their aid with the crowds Monday night.

STORM

However the storm was not yet over.

After Tuesday's early evening weather storm, with its eighty mile per hour damaging winds and driving rain, the youngsters again stormed into the night with disturbances anew.

At least five boys and two girls were arrested and others put on the run by police wearing protective helmets and banishing riot guns.

Police related to the Bystander early Wednesday afternoon that seven youth had been jailed as a result of Tuesday's disorder. Johnnie Lewis, 18, of 1233 Eighth St., Walter Hunter, 18, of 1718 Walker (Walker is also being held on another charge,

Annual Report for 1965 Cites Passage of Voting Act

New York — "Passage of the Voting Rights Act provided the Southern Negro with an additional tool with which to help shape his own destiny. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People again played a vital role in the enactment of this needed legislation."

So states the Association's 92-page Annual Report for 1965 released Friday, July 1, by Executive Director Roy Wilkins on the eve of the organization's 57th annual convention being held in Los Angeles this week.

Not Far Enough

The report states, "It was early apparent that the 1964 Civil Rights Act did not go far enough in assuring Southern Negroes the right to vote. Before the enactment of the Voting Rights Act, signed by the President on August 6, the NAACP had launched productive registration drives in Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi and South Carolina. As a result of these campaigns, 84,000 Negro voters were added to the rolls in these states. The combined efforts of the NAACP, other civil rights groups and the Federal examiners, together with voluntary compliance of election officials in these and other states and counties, added an estimated 350,000 Negro voters in the South."

Important Supreme Court decisions handed down during the year included LOUISIANA VS. UNITED STATES in which Louisiana statutes and procedures restricting voting by Negroes were stricken down; and MITCHELL VS. BOARD OF EDUCATION, MALVERNE-LAKEVIEW in which the court refused review. It thereby upheld a New York State Court of Appeals decision sustaining the right of the commissioner of education to order local school boards to eliminate racial imbalance.

Watts

The report deplores Watts with its toll of 34 deaths and $40 million in property damage. It calls attention to the unpunished killings of four civil rights workers and the attempted assassination of at least two others, the prolonged slow pace of school desegregation, and the continuing discrimination against Negroes in employment and in housing.

Included in the report are accounts of the NAACP's Summer Project

Open-Housing Law Confusion

Washington, D.C. — The compromise open-housing amendment pending in the House has caused widespread confusion among real estate brokers as to whether they are covered by the proposed law.

Members and staff experts on the House Judiciary Committee, which approved the measure last week, are themselves uncertain of its possible impact on the real estate business.

But to the sponsor of the legislation, Representative Charles M. Mathias, Jr., (Rep., Md.) at least its intent is clear: Real estate brokers will not be covered if they are working with a homeowner who is not covered.

The confusion arises through the approach taken by the amendment, which was adopted as a substitute for the administration's proposed ban against racial discrimination in all housing transactions.

The language of the substitute appears to be explicit. It forbids any real estate broker, agent or salesman, or "any other person" in the business of building, developing, selling or renting housing, from engaging in any discriminatory practice in such business.

A further exemption is provided for an owner who occupies one unit and rents up to three other units of a multi-family dwelling.

Midwest Elks Elect Richardson

Minneapolis, Minn. — The recent Mid-Western States Association of Elks which convened in Minneapolis June 18-22 at the Olson Memorial Church, was presided over by Elmer L. Watson, legal advisor of Cleveland, Ohio.

Election of officers was held and James A. Richardson, Omaha, Neb., was elected president by acclamation. Others elected were Thomas Martin, second vice president; Charles Guye, third vice president and J. Skull, trustee.

The large delegation coming from eight states, Nebraska, Iowa, Manitoba, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Oklahoma and Minnesota was royally entertained by Ames Lodge 106 IBPOEW, Theodore Martin, exalted ruler.

Youth Force Set for Dixie Summer Drive

New York — The NAACP's Southern Task Force will cover seven states this year, giving its action priorities to voter registration and compliance with pertinent portions of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The Specialist . . .

SPECIALIZATION in Medicine is not a phenomenon of modern times! It seems that throughout all civilizations the knowledge of Medicine has been so complex that it could not be mastered by a single man.

In Ancient Rome many families employed several doctors, each charged with the responsibility for the cure of a specific disease. As far back as 500 B.C. an Egyptian doctor would limit his practice to just one or two cures.

The danger with these customs was that the patient was forced to diagnose his own illness, then choose the healer. Today the family doctor is consulted and he may, or may not, recommend a specialist.

For all your Medical Supply Needs rely on Williams Pharmacy, 1108 University Avenue. Our pharmacists are Prescription Specialists who fill your doctor's orders with professional skill.

Happy Times...Happy Doings!

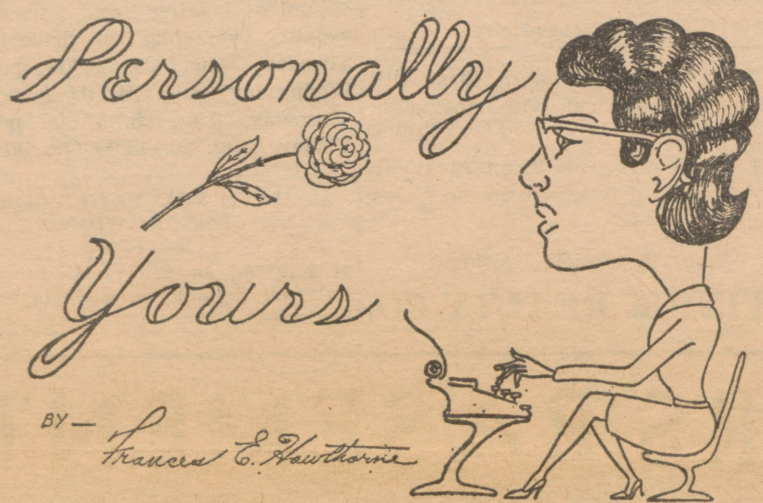

SHE'S IN BUSINESS! Who'd guess that half-an-hour ago she was lost in the summer doldrums—nothing to do, bored with her toys. AND THEN, Auntie gave her cookies, the nice man at the corner store contributed soda pops and Mother suggested she make a couple dozen frozen suckers. So, quick as a flash she opened shop! And what she doesn't sell she'll give away—or eat, herself!

FROZEN SUCKERS

- | | |
|---------------------------------|-------------------|
| 1 package Jell-O, any flavor* | 1 cup sugar |
| 1 package Kool-Aid, any flavor* | 2 cups hot water |
| | 2 cups cold water |

Dissolve Jell-O, Kool-Aid, and sugar in hot water. Add cold water, mixing thoroughly. Pour into ice cube trays or sucker molds and freeze until almost firm. Then push sucker stick or paper spoon into center of each cube or mold for handle. Continue freezing until hard. Makes about 20 to 24 suckers.

* Match the flavors—it's fun. Cherry for cherry; orange for orange, etc. (ANS Features)

Thanks to a last minute phone call and a generous offer of a ticket from Mrs. John E. Johnson, 2407 Garfield avenue, we were able to see and hear the President of the United States when he appeared here with his family last Thursday evening. We also owe thanks to Mrs. Orea Buice, 1070-17th street, who offered us a choice seat, after we wended our way through a warm, jammed crowd around the runways only to discover that all available good seats were taken. Mrs. Buice who was working there that evening and had sat down on an aisle seat to watch a few of the pre-festivities, got up and told us we could be seated there. Thanks to her we had a wonderful close view, even from the balcony.

For additional comments on the event see separate story on page one.

Through the past weeks we have discovered some interesting facts about some of the Little League and Babe Ruth league baseball activities. For instance Edward Robinson of 1228 3rd street and Bud Collier of 1226 13th street, are manager and coach respectively of the Mets Little League team in the University Little League. The interesting part of this is they are managing an all white boys team. These men have worked very hard with their boys and won the series in their classifications. The parents of these boys have thanked Mr. Robinson and Mr. Collier for their work. The boys also have expressed their gratitude.

Mr. Robinson and Mr. Collier have been asked to work with the boys in the major league next year. Mr. Robinson worked with the Woodland League last year and used to be a ball player himself. Mr. Collier was the well known pitcher of the Hot-N-Tots and now pitches for Western Tool.

And in the Raccoon Valley league William Robinson, 1109 19th street, is manager of the Cardinals in which his son is pitcher and infielder. Needless to say the two have kept things hopping around the home front and home plate, and there is talk that they will be in the tournament playoffs. Young Robinson, however, injured his ankle sliding in to base last week and was unable to do much manipulating around for a few days.

He particularly was hampered from attending typing classes at North High. He rides his bicycle and joins our two youngsters for the trip to and fro.

By the time you read this Mrs. William Wells and yours truly will be in Atlanta, Ga., attending the national convention of the Jack and Jill of America, Inc. We did our usual work on this issue but needed assistance from our husband for Wednesday and Thursday morning.

Next week yours truly will be on annual vacation and will return to our news editor-reporting duties on Monday, July 18. So please, if you have news, phone, mail or take it to the Bystander office, 221 Locust street. We would welcome the respite of having everyone remember this for the week of July 11-17.

Two Jack and Jillers Leave for Atlanta

Mrs. Wells is president of the Des Moines chapter and Mrs. Hawthorne is editor.

Cooking Thermometer Shelf

THERE is a growing trend in American kitchens to keep many utensils out in the open where they are easy to reach. This is particularly valuable in the case of often-used instruments and those which are apt to be damaged if left to roll around in a drawer with a lot of other tools. For instance, if you have a fine set of cooking thermometers, as is a very simple matter to construct a small, handy shelf to display them and protect them.

First take a rectangular piece of one-inch board and two rectangular pieces of Masonite Preswood. This is a particularly versatile material which can be used for innumerable jobs around the home. The dimensions of these pieces are up to you, depending on the available space and the number of cooking thermometers you wish to display.

These two pieces will actually make two shelves. Into the piece to be used for the top, drill two small holes, into which you can insert the stainless steel stems of your roast meat thermometer and your candy-jelly-deep fat frying thermometer. The round, clock-like faces of the thermometers will prevent them from slipping through the holes, and the thermometers will be always within easy reach if you attach your shelf to the wall or cabinet near the range.

There Is Something About Seeing the U. S. President

By Frances E. Hawthorne

There is something about seeing the president of the United States, no matter what party he be or the particular citizens, that puts excitement in the air. Last Thursday was no exception in Des Moines when President Johnson and his family came for a hectic seven hours in Iowa.

The weather was 90 degrees plus, but thousands lined the streets and highways to get a glimpse and hopefully a closer look at the Big Man from the White House, at his intermittent stops along the way.

That evening he was due to make a speech at Veterans auditorium. Several hours before he was due to appear there Mrs. John E. Johnson phoned me and said, "Would you like to hear the President tonight?"

Momentarily I thought she must be kidding but I answered, "Yes." She said she would drop a ticket by for me. We began feverish preparations to try and get there early to get a good seat and left only a few minutes before seven o'clock. Unfortunately the time was not soon enough for adequate parking as the lots looked as if they had been full for hours. I and others arriving were directed to a part of the adjoining field that the creeping pace made it seem we were bound for outer Mongolia.

All round the area of the Veterans auditorium, it looked as if every Des Moines policeman, State Trooper and the U.S. Secret Agent were on duty on the grounds. People were disembarking in droves from cars, and busses. Inside the jam was even more warm and packed.

I worked around over to an advantage spot in the balcony where Mrs. W. C. Buice, who was working there, gave me her seat. We had a good view of the raised speaker's table which was lavishly decorated with red and white flowers.

About 8:30 after the air had thickened with the heat and smoke from hundreds of cigarettes, the Presidential party arrived and the security tightened.

Being the politician that he is he didn't miss a bet. He walked briskly in and went down the long table shaking hands with its occupants which included Bishop and Mrs. James Thomas.

Also in the $100-a-plate audience on the floor were Judge and Mrs. Luther T. Ganton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wimberly and several others I did not recognize.

Vying for equal attention were the President, who ate his food with such obvious political gusto or real hunger, and the Secret Servicemen, who watched the crowd as if everyone was a potential suspect.

Lady Bird Johnson and her daughter, Luci and her fiancé, Pat Nugent, charmed the crowd, but it was the president, who kept the center of attention.

During my tenure on the Bystander there have been various thrills and high moments but seeing and hearing the president for an hour and a half, with his family, will always rank among the highest.

IT COULD NOT;
IT WOULD NOT;
IT DID HAPPEN
IN DES MOINES

Des Moines has prided itself with being a quiet orderly city. There have been a few flare-ups here and there with little consequences. We have just about been smug enough to feel that we were the exception.

Monday night, Independence day, a few misguided youngsters found themselves engaged in the defiance of law and order and damaging other people's property at Good Park. And while the melee did not last long, enough unpleasantness was witnessed to hope that such does not happen again.

However, these things don't just drop out of the blue sky but are the culmination of a few undesirable incidents that explode when something brings them together.

The Good park incident is no exception to the rule. Several days ago, a meeting was attended by a number of citizens and public officials where the problems of the area were discussed. It was reported that several undesirable grownups and teenagers hung out around the park engaging in off the record conduct. The park was poorly lighted which made it easy for misconduct to go on.

Apparently little came out of the meeting and when this flare-up occurred the place was poorly lighted, lights were out in some places with repairs on the job from the Iowa Power and Light Company without adequate facilities to make immediate repairs. Incidentally, when the lights came on the crowd began to desert its hoodlum-like conduct.

These incidents are difficult to handle, just as vice cannot be stopped. It only remains for law enforcement officials to do their job and work with the aid of responsible citizens who can help before trouble gets out of hand.

These riots by young people, while often egged on by forces beyond their control, continue to do the Negro cause great harm. And individually it does them absolutely no good, often leaving them with a stigma on their character which they can never erase. The south could not keep the Negroes down by mob violence. The Negro cannot win with it either.

WILKINS BLASTS

REAGEN'S CANDIDACY

At his press conference in Los Angeles Tuesday, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, called for the defeat of Ronald Reagan, Republican candidate for Governor of California. His position is based upon Reagan's wholehearted support of Senator Goldwater for president in 1964.

Reagan made speeches in behalf of Goldwater during the campaign endorsing his position on civil rights. He was among those supporting legislation which eliminated the California housing law.

With a record such as this, Reagan finds himself in the position of President Johnson after he had been nominated for vice president in 1964. He had opposed civil rights legislation during his years in the lower house of Congress but began a different position while a senator, particularly when he was majority leader.

President Johnson was invited to a meeting of Negro leaders during the Democratic convention in 1964. Fearful of his reception, he sent a representative to appear for him. Recently, Reagan was invited to a meeting of Negro Republicans. His reception was so hostile that he finally left in a huff.

Reagan is an actor, a personable man. It is difficult to understand him. He grew up in the middle west and at one time was a radio announcer in Des Moines. No evidence of the narrow attitude he followed in support of Goldwater showed up here.

Most Negroes in California are Democrats. They will oppose him and there is little chance that Republicans can take the kind of leadership Reagan followed and endorsed in 1964.

CAN THIS BE?

Perry Hooks, executive director of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination, told the radio audience that the youngsters engaged in the trouble at Good park are frustrated because of a lack of something to do.

How Come? The anti-poverty program and other federal agencies have millions of dollars at their disposal to be used to help young people and those eligible for anti-poverty assistance.

Why can't those people who are drawing thousands for salaries (we don't oppose these salaries if the individuals earn them) come to the front and accept this challenge. If they don't, they are not fulfilling the purposes for which the programs are designed.

We wonder what goes on in the brains of a baseball club owner or general manager. The guy at St. Louis gives away half of his pennant winning team for a handful of guys named Joe. Then Cincinnati gets rid of one of the best all around players in the national league because they say he is too old at 31. If they really thought that the guy was too old they would have traded him clear out of the league.

Then the boys who watch those things tell us that Kansas City had a fine crop of young Negroes coming in but has unloaded most of them. Why? Who knows?

We always think that a ballplayer is traded more for reasons involving personalities than for any other reason. Now and then a club will sense that a star is about to slip and will try to get rid of him while they can but that doesn't happen often. Sometimes the fellow traded can't get along with someone in the top bracket or with most of the other players. Else why would a club suddenly get rid of a real star like Frank Robinson? Some fellow said the guy could become the first player to win the Most Valuable Award in both leagues. If Baltimore should win the pennant credit the guy who traded Robinson to them.

Football

This could well be the last of the college all-star football game. Dreamed up as a stunt it grew to be a really big thing and since the coaches of the all-star squad have hand picked their players attendance has dropped accordingly. Still 65,000 isn't really a small crowd. It just looks small in that big Soldiers Field Stadium.

Reasons for dropping the game are the high cost of insurance for the young stars. The risk of injury that could keep a college star from making a pro team. Then there have been years when the college boys were supposed to have dogged it and merely went through the motions. If I had a $10 seat, I would raise more hell than the alligator raised when the pond went dry. It I thought that was true a game between two pro teams with keen rivalries such as Bears and Cardinals or the Bears and Packers would draw as many people as the all-star game draws now and would raise as much money for charity. Oh well, we shall see.

COMMITTEES FOR CENTRAL STATES
TOURNAMENT FINALIZE PLANS

The 36th annual Central Golf Association golf tournament to be held in Kansas City July 17-21 should be the best in the associations history. To the golfer, playing on three championship layouts should prove interesting for each course is laid out differently. Metro golf course and Stayton Meadows both provide courses along with America's finest public courses. Swope Number 1 will test the best and who ever wins the championship must have all of the shots.

Entertainment

For entertainment, Sunday, July 17 a Mammoth picnic at Lake Jacob — a 19th hole every day — a cocktail party hospitality rooms for refreshments ending up with a banquet with all of the trimmings — all of this for Central States. Dancing will prevail at the banquet with two bands furnishing the music.

Trophies from the Wofford Oil Company are beautiful and will be treasured by the winners. The associate sponsor the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company will see to it that liquid refreshments are on hand.

Flight

So, golfers, there is a flight for you — with your handicap you can be a streak winner if you happen to have a hot streak. Guest players from outside of Kansas City may participate and outstanding personalities in the athletic world are invited to play. Trophies will be awarded to them if they can take their flight. Senior men will compete in two flights, three flights for women and a championship flight — two flights for Juniors and six flights for men are on the top.

Committees who have finalized plans are the Tournament Committee, Housing Committee, Trophy Committee and Entertainment Committee. Don't forget to get in the swim from July 17-21 in Kansas City.

HEALTH FOR ALL

MIRACLE IN THE OFFING

Don't bet on miracles. It's a dependable rule, provided we don't get too rigid about it. Even in an age of great skepticism, miracles (or reasonable facsimiles) have been known to happen in the very bosom of Science.

There are, for instance, the "miracle" drugs. Like isoniazid, whose use along with some others dramatically changed the sickness and death rates in tuberculosis. Just a little white pill.

Valuable Function

Now doctors have confirmed another valuable function for isoniazid. It not only helps people recover from TB. When properly used for prophylaxis (disease prevention) it can help stave off illness in people who have TB germs in their bodies but do not have the active disease.

The exciting possibilities that lie ahead in the use of isoniazid were emphasized by Dr. Alfonso H. Holguin, the nation's chief tuberculosis control officer, before a meeting of TB association executives. "We now can solve the problem" of TB, he said "before it becomes a problem."

A Hitch

Unfortunately there is a hitch.

Isoniazid, in order to do its job of disease prevention, must be taken every single day for at least a year — maybe longer. It may sound like a trifling problem; but TB doctors and nurses will tell you from their sad experience that it's one of the greatest roadblocks to the final wiping out of the disease. People who aren't sick can get awfully bored and negligent when it comes to taking medicine day after day.

REFLECTIONS

ONE-WAY STREET

Life is a one-way street. We can travel it only one direction — forward, never backward.

If we could turn backward over life's route and rectify the wrongs we have done and correct the errors we have made, there is scarcely one among us who would not gladly do so.

But because this is impossible, the next best thing is to reduce to a minimum the missteps we make and to live each day so that we may look back over life with the fewest possible regrets.

So show that kindness to someone today; do some good for some fellow before the sun sets tonight.

Because today is the day you must sometime look back upon. You cannot live it again.

"Nature is so thin a screen, God breaks through at every point." —Emerson

Determined

Just the same the National Tuberculosis Association, and the whole anti-TB movement including your Christmas Seal organization, are determined to find an answer. They've embarked on a study of the way people behave during long-range treatment for the cure or prevention of TB. It will take lots of time, work and expense; but what they find can bring important benefits to mankind.

Laugh Lines

A Texas tycoon caught his seven-year-old son lighting a cigarette with a $1,000 bill.

"How many times," the enraged father shouted, "have I told you you're too young to smoke?"

The psychiatrist was more than mildly perturbed when a glassy-eyed man burst into his office dressed as Napoleon.

"What seems to be the trouble?" asked the doctor soothingly, as if he didn't know.

His visitor placed a hand inside his vest, struck an attitude, and proclaimed, "It's not myself I've come to see you about, Doctor. It's my wife, Josephine. She keeps thinking that she's just plain Mary Jones!"

Pulling Contest
Slated for State Fair

"The fustest" with "the mostest" will mean $100 each for four Iowa lads at the Iowa State Fair Aug. 19-28 in Des Moines.

State Fair Board Secretary Kenneth R. Fulk said, actually, winning in the fair's tractor pulling contest isn't quite that simple, but getting the most weight across a goal line first is the general idea.

First

In the first place, he said, each state finalist must qualify by winning a 1966 county fair or independent pulling contest — independent if no fair contest is held. County fair secretaries must certify eligibility of all winners, whether or not their boy.

Official entry blanks must be postmarked no later than Aug. 19.

Second Place

In the second place, Fulk added, entrants must be at least 16 and minors must have the consent of their parents or guardian to take part.

In the third place, drivers pulling the most weight the greatest distance will be the winner in each of four classes, Fulk pointed out.

Contest dates and maximum weights (including the driver) are: Tuesday, Aug. 23, 6,000 pounds; Wednesday, Aug. 24, 9,000 pounds; Thursday, Aug. 25, 12,000 pounds; Friday, Aug. 26, 15,000 pounds.
