Missouri Sitdown Group Must Serve Sentence

Civil Rights No License for Disorder Says State Court

St. Louis, Mo.—Demonstrators convicted of violation of a restraining order at Jefferson Bank on August 30, 1963 may be required to return to City jail and finish serving sentences.

The U.S. Court of Appeals, Eighth District, ruled this week that no federally guaranteed constitutional rights were denied defendants in district or state courts.

The defendants who served about 56 days of the sentence in 1963 are: Robert B. Curtis, William L. Clay, Rev. Charles Perkins, Lucien Richards, Norman Seay, Louis Ford, Taylor Jones, Benjamin Goins, Ian Grand, Mrs. Roberta Tournour, Kenneth Lee, Ronald Glenn, James Micheala Grand and Danny Pollock.

Consider Further Appeal

Attorneys for the demonstrators are considering two alternatives; appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court or petition to the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis for Application for Correction of Judgment. Attorneys are Charles Oldham, Joseph Duffey, Robert Witherspoon and Robert Curtis.

The demonstration upon which the contempt convictions were based, arose out of CORE efforts to have the Jefferson Bank and Trust Co. employ four Negroes in clerical positions in 1963.

The bank was informed that direct action would be taken by CORE if the requested positions were not made available. The bank replied that it had no openings.

Acting on information that CORE planned sit-ins, stand-ins, and lie-ins at the Jefferson bank on August 30, the bank obtained a restraining order.

The order was served on most of the defendants before the August 30 demonstration. The state court later found that demonstrators had notice of the order before the demonstration.

In the demonstration, the defendants locked arms and blocked entrance to the teller's window by sitting and lying in front of the windows.

While the demonstration was in progress a bank official read the order and the demonstrators were asked to leave. They were later arrested.

United Negro College Fund Distributes Over 3 Million

New York, N.Y., July 8 — The United Negro College Fund today distributed $3,350,000 to its 33 member colleges and universities, it was announced by James W. Bryant, the Fund's executive vice-president.

The distributed funds, Mr. Bryant reported, include $350,000 obtained from early contributions to the organization's 1966 appeal, and $3 million derived from the payments of pledges to a one-year development fund campaign launched by the late President Kennedy in 1963.

Money distributed from the annual appeal will be used by the Fund's member institutions to expand educational programs, bolster scholarship aid to more than 16,000 needy students, improve facilities, and build library holdings. Additional funds derived from the 1966 appeal

President Johnson Renews Vow to Continue Fight or Equality of Opportunity

Washington, July 6 (Special) — President Lyndon B. Johnson told newsmen in Texas Tuesday that "we're going to continue as long as I'm President to do everything we can to see that all citizens are treated equally and have equal opportunities."

The President was responding to a question about racial unrest in a press conference at his Texas ranch. He said: "We are not interested in black power, and we're not interested in American democratic power with a small d."

Cites Progress

"Now we can't do it all over night. We are much too late. But we have done more in the last 24 months than has been done in any similar 24-year period to face up to these conditions of health and education and poverty and discrimination. . . . We are trying every way we can to find employment for the unemployed in our cities. We are trying in every way we can to get people to quit practicing discrimination in our cities. We are trying to meet the poverty situation as we find it with the limited resources at our command."

Goals Sought

The President explained his point of view on the goals he seeks when he said: "We believe that the citizen ought to be armed with the power to vote. We believe the citizen, regardless of race or his religion or his color, ought to be armed with the right to have a job at decent

Omaha Program To Aid Negroes

Omaha, Neb. — City employees worked at two sites Saturday implementing state and city programs to improve job opportunities and recreational outlets on the near North Side where most of Omaha's Negro population lives.

The efforts were speeded up as officials sought to eradicate principal complaints believed to have inspired three nights of disorders over the July Fourth weekend.

Russell Hand, manager of the Omaha office of the State Division of Employment, dispatched a staff of three to a temporary employment office branch at the North Branch Y.M.C.A. to process job applications. He said the staff will be expanded to five on Monday.

wages. We believe that every citizen ought to have the right to have a decent home."

The President added: "And we're doing everything we can as quickly as we can under our voters rights bills, under our civil rights bills, under housing bills, under the proposals we've made in cooperation with the Mayors under the able leadership of the Vice President, to improve these terrible conditions that exist in the ghettos of this country."

Dr. Conner, Health Officer, Warns of Food Poisoning

Dr. Julius S. Conner, Director, Des Moines-Polk County Health Department, urges that you take great care in the preparation, storage and serving of food, especially for those social events and picnics.

"Several cases of food poisoning have occurred in Des Moines recently at social events," Dr. Conner said.

Every year an uncounted number of social groups find themselves burdened with the guilt that follows a mass food poisoning or spread of contagion, either directly or indirectly traceable to some function which they have run.

Food Poisoning

Food poisoning can occur after eating food that:

Contains disease-producing bacteria (such as Salmonella or dysentery organisms).

Contains poisons produced by bacteria (such as Staphylococcus toxins).

One of the most common causes of food poisoning is known as Staphylococcus aureus, a germ generally referred to as "Staph." No one is entirely free of this vicious creature, but its favorite haunts are the throats and nasal passages of those who have colds, and infected cuts or burns.

Republican Fund Drive September 22

Des Moines—"Buck Night," the Iowa Republican Party's statewide fund-raising drive, will be held Sept. 22, it was announced today.

Robert D. Ray, Republican State Chairman, said "the need to hold the second annual door-to-door drive has been strongly impressed upon us by recent events. New reports told us Iowa Democrats grossed a quarter of a million dollars from their $100-a-plate dinner and added another $150,000 to their treasury from membership in the exclusive $1,000 per-person fee to the Presidents Club."

Inflation An Issue

The chairman said "the inflation which all Iowans have encountered in their personal buying has struck just as hard at the Republican Party. The dollar or more that we can collect from every Iowa household will be a major help in telling our story

California Votes Anti-Riot Law

Sacramento, Calif.—A bill asked by Los Angeles official to give police power to arrest anyone suspected of inciting a riot won final legislative approval in the state Senate Thursday.

Senators voted 30-0 for the anti-riot measure, sending it to Gov. Edmund G. Brown for his signature.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor to incite a riot in conditions where a clear, present and immediate danger exists. Conviction would carry a $500 fine, six months in jail or both.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty and Police Chief William Parker appeared before committees to urge approval of the measure. The bill takes effect when the governor signs it.

Avoid Poor Refrigeration

In the greatest number of cases, Staph poisoning is traced by the Health Department sanitarian to food which has been improperly refrigerated (all readily perishable foods or drinks should be kept at 40°F or below). Room temperature is the ideal setting for the germs to multiply.

At the other extreme, hot foods should be kept at temperatures generally above 140°F to retard bacterial growth.

Prevalence

Here are six easy to remember rules for sanitation:

1. Keep hands clean.
 2. Keep cold foods cold, hot foods hot.
 3. Don't let foods stand at room temperature for one unnecessary minute.
 4. Use paper service or be sure that dishes and utensils are properly sanitized.
 5. Protect all foods from contamination.
 6. Don't let anyone with a skin infection or a cold handle food.
- To play safe — keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold, and select readily non-perishable foods for those social events and picnics.

during this year's important elections."

The State Central Committee authorized this year's "Buck Night" after seeing the success of last year's initial state-wide drive. On "Buck Night," thousands of volunteer party workers in every county will go door-to-door to collect donations.

"The theme of 'Buck Night' is simple," Ray said, "Don't pass the buck, give a buck."

Oakridge Rehabilitation project is moving ahead. One of the first steps will be to acquire and clear properties that cannot be brought up to standard, either because it would cost too much or because the structure cannot be rebuilt to meet standards.

These buildings will be purchased at the earliest possible time so that plans can go ahead either to replace homes taken out, or to increase the size of lots on either side to make lots of a more desirable size.

Judge Grund Warns Boys Seriousness of the Charges; Future Up to Youngsters

Following an extensive hearing before Judge Harry Grund in Municipal Court Monday, the cases of six youngsters charged with disturbing the peace and loitering at Good Park were continued on call with the understanding that they would be dismissed on October 11 if they don't get into trouble between now and then.

The six are Tonya Elaine Bond, 19, and Karen Ilene Anderson, 18, both of 1400 Tenth st.; Steve Al Simmons, 19, of 1036 Shaw st.; Owen Thomas Sloan, 19, of St. Paul, Minn.; Richard Franklin Duncan, 23, of 1250 Fourteenth st.; and Johnnie Lewis, 18, of 1233 Eighth st.

Most of the testimony indicated the six were victims of circumstance — they happened to be on the streets near Good Park when police cleared them in the wake of rock-throwing and firecracker-throwing incidents that started about 9:30 p.m. July 4.

Cars Were Damaged

Several police squad cars were damaged in the incidents and police officers were heckled.

John M. Estes, Jr., Des Moines, testified on behalf of the six youths. Estes helped quiet discontent in the Good Park area.

He said he rode through the area with Sgt. Carl Dunagan the night of July 4.

"Stoned Twice"

"We were stoned twice, but after that they (the crowd) knew I was in the car with Mr. Dunagan and there was no more stoning," Estes said. "We escorted some people from homes in the area to places outside the area."

Estes said Duncan was arrested as he went to his car after Estes and Sgt. Dunagan had told Duncan he could leave the area. Estes said in another case Sgt. Frank Kaiser gave permission for some people to leave the area and they were detained by police a short distance away until Kaiser could be contacted to verify his action.

Lights Were Off

Under cross-examination, Estes acknowledged that because street lights were off and there was confusion, it was hard to determine who was involved in the fracas.

Estes said he didn't see any of the six who were in court throw stones or cause trouble.

The defense attorneys were Robert Wright and J. B. Morris, Jr. Both are Negroes. Morris also helped to patrol the area July 4 and 5.

Peaceful Now

The attorneys asked Estes about conditions in the Good Park area now. Estes replied:

"It's peaceful at present. Patrolmen James Rodine and Max Dickerson have been accepted in the area because they're courteous to the people and have made friends. It's calm as far as I know. I've been up here every night since then (July 4) and there's no animosity."

Under further cross-examination, Estes said he had had complaints about police actions, but that he felt the action taken after the July 4 incident had a good effect on those who caused the trouble.

He expressed concern that the real troublemakers were not among those arrested, but added, "This (the arrests) would be a deterrent if this happens again. I think if they know they will be arrested if they refuse to disperse it will be a deterrent."

Malcolm Hogan of 4302 Wakonda parkway, an agent for the U.S. Treasury Department, also spoke in defense of the young people who were arrested. He said they all were friends of his children.

Respect for Police

"I'm quite concerned with the outcome of this type of thing, it's effect on the community," Hogan said. "I think a great deal of respect has developed for the police department in the last week."

"For the first time, I've actually seen them working together. And I've seen the children sit down and actually try to do something for the community — they organized the dance."

(Hogan referred to a dance held Sunday night at the Brotherhood building, Thirteenth and Center streets, which also will be the site for a new anti-poverty neighborhood center.)

Cautions Harsh Punishment

"It could be too harsh if severe punishment is imposed," Hogan said. "I think we should be absolutely firm in the position the police department will take. We then would be in a better position to get the perpetrators of this type thing. If we're firm, then we can say, look fellas, we advised you, you knew what would happen."

The Rev. Seymour Gaines of 1173 Tenth st., pastor of Union Baptist Church, added his support for the youths who were arrested, and said: "I think we handled this very carefully. I think Tuesday morning (July 5) the area should have been put off limits until everything was settled."

Considers Charges Serious

Judge Grund warned that he considered the charges and the over-all situation very serious.

"We have laws," he said, "and when someone breaks them and damages police cars, we all pay for it whether we are responsible for causing the damage or not. If I find you all guilty it will mean you'll have a mark on your record. We have no prior record against any of you."

"You have a lot of friends here. Johnny Estes and Rev. Gaines wouldn't come over to help you out if they didn't have confidence in you," Judge Grund said.

"I'm going to continue this on call for 90 days. Any time any of you get out of line, you're going to come back here and be sentenced. If you behave during those 90 days the charges will be dismissed."

Pickett Receives

Vet Award

Mr. David Franklin Pickett received his eleventh superior service award from Veterans Administration Hospital in the amount of $170.00. Previous awards ranged from $5.00 to $100.00. This award is given every year to workers who have contributed to extra consideration for patients and savings for the government. Mr. Pickett lives at 1120 14th Street Place with his wife and two children.

First Dance for Teenagers Passes First Orderly Test

In an effort to make a contribution to the solution of the disturbances as Good Park last week, the dance was organized on Saturday morning after Donald McKenzie, staff director of the Polk County Community Action Council, met with the youths and offered the Brotherhood building for recreational purposes. The building is scheduled for use as a neighborhood anti-poverty center.

The crowd was orderly. The affair was a success as a starter. However, the long pull of keeping the masses on an even keel will require much more than dances.

This dance was the first activity developed by youths involved in the Good Park disturbances. From all indications, the dance was a big success, both financially and socially.

On Social Security Questions and Answers

Arrangements have been made with the Des Moines office of the Social Security Administration to answer questions of the IOWA BYSTANDER readers about their Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance. Answers of general interest will be published in this column. Send your questions to Mr. W. C. Barclay, Field Representative, Social Security Administration, 205 12th Street, Des Moines, Iowa 50308.

QUESTION: Why is it that a person who has spent their life teaching school and in missionary teaching cannot get social security at age 62? This individual I am asking about has never married.

ANSW R: Eligibility for social security benefits generally requires that the working person have worked in employment or self-employment which is covered under social security. It may be that the occupations your friend was engaged in, were not covered by social security. School teachers are usually considered employees of a state or local governmental entity and as such could not have been covered under social security until 1951. In some states, teachers are still not covered by social security.

As a missionary teacher, employment would likely be for a religious, charitable or educational organization which is usually exempt from all taxes, including social security. Such an organization must waive its exemption from social security taxes and elect coverage for the employees. It is possible that her employer has never elected coverage for the employees. Your friend should visit the nearest social security office for a further discussion of her situation.

QUESTION: I visited the social security office some weeks ago to sign up for Medicare and now I believe they also had me apply for my social security benefits. I am still working and I do not expect to quit for several years. Therefore, I do not want my benefits now. Why did they sign me up for my benefits now?

ANSWER: We prefer to use the one application which will entitle you to Medicare benefits and establish your entitlement to monthly benefits. This gets your application on file so benefits can be paid at a later date. In this way, all you need to do later is to let us know when you retire and your benefits can start much more quickly since your application would have already been processed.

QUESTION: My son, who is 21, dropped out of college last year but he intends to go back to school this fall. Can he get benefits while going to school just like my other two children who are still in high school?

ANSWER: As a full time, unmarried student in an accredited school, your son could receive monthly payments until he reached the age of 22.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Hold Series of District Conventions

"Off to Canada" is the summer call for the Des Moines West Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses who will soon be leaving to attend the district convention scheduled for Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, July 27-31.

"We are expecting over 20,000 delegates from the Upper Midwest and Canada to attend the midsummer event entitled, 'God's Sons of Liberty' District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses," said Loy Olmstead, servant of the local congregation. This convention is one of a series of thirteen North American assemblies scheduled for 1966 which is really a part of an international tour of Bible seminars bearing the same theme. There will be six in Canada, six in the United States and one in Alaska.

Theme of Assembly
The public address at each assembly is entitled, "What Has God's Kingdom Been Doing Since 1914?"

Why such a tour of international conventions? "Our purpose as Jehovah's Witnesses is to reaffirm by this public demonstration our faith and trust in the Bible and its principles of moral cleanliness, family solidarity, chastity and parental discipline to control the human race instead of the permissive practices that have made delinquency a major international problem," said Olmstead.

Explaining the unusual assembly theme, "God's Sons of Liberty," Olmstead stated, "True liberty means living inside God's principles of freedom as outlined in the Bible."

Shades Of Summer Lamb

There's many a year-round food that spells cool eating for summer if you know just one little trick to make it different. Take lamb for instance.

Lamb's at its best when it's hot. So by all means serve it hot. And of course, always season it before cooking with a liberal shake of Ac'cent for natural flavor. Then—special dress for summer—cook shoulder lamb chops with this tangy sauce, brushed on during cooking with a mint switch. Chops come off the grill piping hot, yet minty cool in taste and oh so appetizing.

Serve them inside—or grill and serve on your porch or terrace. Whatever the setting, these lamb chops will fill the family's fondest desires for a satisfying hot-weather meal.

Grilled Shoulder Lamb Chops

1/2 cup orange juice	1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent*
1/2 cup lemon juice	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar	2/3 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon marjoram	Bouquet of fresh mint
1/2 teaspoon rosemary	4 double shoulder lamb chops, boned and rolled

Combine all ingredients except mint and chops. Let stand 1 hour. Tie the mint bouquet in cheesecloth. Dip chops in sauce; place on grill. Turn frequently, brushing each time with sauce, using mint "switch" as a brush. Broil 15 to 25 minutes, depending on degree of "doneness" desired. Makes 4 servings.

Members of Payne AME Church observed annual pastor's appreciation day last Sunday. Guest speaker at 11:00 a.m. service was the Rev.
Harold C. Huggins, pastor of St.
Matthew's AME Church, Detroit,
Mich. He was a former class mate of the Rev. I. V. Tolbert, pastor of Payne, and both had originally intended to become lawyers.

Ellis May, newly appointed Executive Director of community action program, will be speaker at recognition program and tea to honor some of the older members of Payne AME who have given in past years of their time and services, Sunday, July 17 from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. at the church.

Eddie Lee Smith of Stillman College, Tuscaloosa, Alabama is in the city and employed at Rath Packing Company in Production Management Training Program. He majored in business administration and was an outstanding student, and on the dean's list. As a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and polemar-ch of Epsilon Epsilon while in school, I felt a kinship because my husband the late Atty. Milton Fields was a Kappa as well as was my brother
the late Dr. Hubert H. London. Dr.
William N. London, Chicago physician and my nephew, also a Kappa.

There have been many deaths recently and we cannot always print all obituaries. However, our sympathies go out to all bereaved.

During the illness and death of Mr. Harvey Fullilove, relatives of Mrs. Fullilove and also his relatives came to do what they could. His sister Mrs. Maude Scott from Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Myers and little Terry came from Fargo, N. Dakota, where he is Executive Director of YMCA of University of North Dakota; nieces and nephews Mr. and Mrs. Paul Herrington from Colorado and nephews Jack and Cowin Herrington came for a night from Ontario, Canada.

Reginald Harvey, age 11 and in grade 6, wrote a message of condolence to his former teacher of piano,
Mrs. Fullilove. It reads
Dear Mrs. Fullilove,
"When you walk through a storm, hold your head up high and don't be afraid of the dark.
At the end of a storm is a golden sky,
and the sweet silver song of a lark,
walk on through the wind,
walk on through the rain,
Though your dreams be tossed and blown,
Walk on! Walk on! With hope in your heart and you'll never walk alone."

signed Reggie.

Reginald is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Harvey.

Wonderful Vegetables

There are almost half-million different plants on Earth. Most of them have been experimented with as medicines. Some, first endowed with strange magical virtues, were later discarded—and ended up on today's dinner table.

Others, first escaping detection, were to become the modern miracles of the wonder drug era. Used in intricate compounds, they serve mankind in countless ways—relieving pain, curing disease, and expanding the frontiers of an exciting new world of medicine.

Research into the mysteries of these wonderful vegetables continues. Each year the drug industry tests thousands of vegetal substances, unlocking from them chemicals that ease the miseries that affect mankind—Investigation is now expanding into the depths of the ocean floor, plumbing out the secrets of its plant life.

You can witness results of this research at WILLIAMS PHARMACY. See the new medicines placed on our shelves continually—the latest Prescription Supplies and Patent Medicines are always available at WILLIAMS PHARMACY, 1103 University, Phone 243-1253.

140 Ways To Keep Cool

What's better than a refreshing glass of iced tea to cool you off these hot summer days? Answer: 140 glasses of iced tea! And that's exactly how many you see surrounding this lovely miss who has just made up the entire batch from a single giant size 3-oz. jar of Nestle's instant tea. No wonder she's cool! Modern instant tea is one of those homemaker hot weather boons that puts joy into summer beverage preparation.

You can make iced tea by the glass, by the quart — just as much as you need for family or guests. Simply add one rounded teaspoon of Nestle's instant tea to each glass of cold tap water. Sweeten to taste and drop in a few iced cubes. For a real "cool" garnish, use lemon or orange slices, or a fresh strawberry pushed end-down onto the rim of the glass. If fresh mint is in season, a sprig of it will enhance the glasses. Then insert a straw — and your 140 glasses of iced tea will win praises all-around.

LEMON ICED TEA BRACER— A REAL THIRST QUENCHER

WHO hasn't wished, at one time or another, for a drink that would really quench a thirst? Try this recipe for a Lemon Iced Tea Bracer and you'll never have to worry about a drink that really relieves that parched, seemingly insatiable thirst. Make a lemonade mix, according to your favorite lemonade recipe, or dilute a 6-ounce can of frozen lemonade concentrate according to can directions. Pour into ice cube trays and freeze. If you use fresh lemons, put a thin slice of lemon rind in each ice cube before freezing. Prepare iced tea according to the new open saucepan method by bringing 1 quart of water to a full, rolling boil. Remove from heat. Immediately add 6 tablespoons of tea (3 teabags equal 1 tablespoon of tea). Brew 2-5 minutes, depending on how strong you like iced tea. Stir and strain into a pitcher or container of cold water. These measurements make about 2 quarts of iced tea. To serve, add 1-2 lemon ice cubes in tall glasses and fill with tea. A sprig of mint on top will add eye-appeal—and note, too, how the frosty glasses make the iced tea look and taste better—to help quench that thirst!

Lemon Ice Cubes
Thin strips of lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup water

Cut thin strips of lemon rind into 1-inch lengths. Prepare 1 for each ice cube.

Mix lemon juice and water. (Some ice cube trays may hold more liquid. If so, increase the amount of lemon juice and water.) Pour liquid into ice cube trays. Place a piece of lemon peel in each cube section. Freeze solid. Serve 1-2 lemon and 1-2 regular ice cubes with each glass of iced tea.

Note: Lemon and water may be sweetened to taste before freezing if desired.

SELFISH INTERESTS AS REGARDS THE PUBLIC

Like the Germans, the more intelligent we become the more warlike we get and that war-like attitude, which has little respect for anyone else, shows up in entirely too much of one daily life.

This attitude is well exemplified in the strike of machinists against several of the airlines which do about 70% of the business.

Travelers are stranded over the country unable to complete their vacations or business plans, many people are out of work and air mail has been sadly crippled. And all because men are unable to come to terms on their differences.

This strike is an example of the suggestion of President Hoffa of the Teamsters union who envisions the day where all transportation workers will be in one union.

President Johnson has been reluctant to take effective measures to halt the strike for fear he will offend the unions. He realizes that election years are dangerous times to antagonize the big block of votes which helped him get elected.

When the steel industry proposed to raise prices, the President landed on the officials in no uncertain manner arguing that to do so would add to inflation. The package demanded by the machinist as a basis for settlement exceeds the guide lines his economic advisors set at an increase which would not be inflationary, but the administration simply sets by and says "boys, let's get together." In the meantime the public suffers the penalty.

DANCES WON'T CURE OUR ILLS

A casual survey among the youngsters who were engaged in the Good park disturbance indicated that the lack of recreation and employment were the underlying causes.

In an effort to meet the situation, the officials offered their services in arranging a dance which the youngsters were asked to plan and conduct themselves with a minimum amount of supervision by grown ups.

The Brotherhood hall was donated for the dance by the anti-poverty administration; the orchestra was paid $175.00 for their services. The youngsters paid a dollar admission. Apparently the affair went off well and has been hailed by some as a start toward a solution to the problem.

True it is a straight and proved that these youngsters could discipline themselves if they wanted to.

However, the dance is simply a shot in the arm and can last just so long. The public has provided Willkie House where facilities are available for dances and other games. And yet it is not being used. Are we to let the anti-poverty program become a substitute for what we have already or are we to provide more lasting activities including jobs and other training.

Many of these youngsters are drop outs. Some have finished high school but have not trade or training for work; some don't intend to do other than be a parasite.

The anti-poverty and other groups should devise a lasting program which will give these youngsters work, teach them trades and offer some guidance programs which will go to teach them the responsibility which go along with full citizenship.

Dances are allright as far as they go but they don't go far. Let's not depend upon them to cure our ills.

Omaha has had its troubles with youngsters far worse than in Des Moines.

Last week, the governor of Nebraska said that temporary officers would be set up in the Negro area where youngsters may go to apply for work.

Local anti-poverty officials here are following the same course. Acting on the complaint of many of these youngsters who have had bad experience with the State Employment Agency, they plan not only to set up their stations but also to go directly to them.

This gets at the bottom of most of the problem. Undoubtedly results will follow.

We Welcome Letters

The Bystander welcomes "letters to the editor," be they adversely critical or complimentary. However, all letters must be signed complete with street address and city.

Perhaps the biggest news of the young week was that Russia had discontinued athletic relations with this country. Maybe by the time you read this they may have changed their mind. As we recall, the Russians had a track meet with one of their satellite nations and the big country boys didn't do so well. Their marks were so poor that the Russian coach said that they were caused by the athletes looking ahead for the American meet. No wonder they don't want to come over. This could be a bad year for them. It has been said that such actions by the Russians could bar them from the 1968 Olympics. That would be really tough, since we would probably lick them there also.

Just about time for our tennis players to get under way. Our meet starts August 4th and ends on the 7th. We heard there was the complaint of date again with the Cedar Rapids meet until Chet Williamson exploded some of his finest objections on the fellow who can get the dates changed and did so. So now we may expect a bunch of the fellows to come down from that meet to ours, as they did before last summer. And, oh yes, we received a card on Monday announcing a tennis meeting. Might have made it.

Northwestern Bell Reduces Rates

Reduced rates for many long distance calls within Iowa became effective Saturday, July 9, according to Mr. J. E. Trabert, Northwestern Bell manager here. The savings range from 5c to 20c on a 3-minute call, depending upon type of call, distance and time of day.

Third Reduction

This is the third intrastate long distance reduction since mid-1964 and is by far the largest. The savings to Iowa phone users from the three total more than $3,500,000 annually. All calls over 47 miles are affected. The biggest savings per call cases are on those after 8 p.m. and on Sundays with reductions up to 40 per cent. At the same time long distance charges have been dropped entirely on calls to neighboring towns, in a number of cases, he pointed out.

Collect Calls

Mr. Trabert said that a part of the change the present collect charge of 15c on some station-to-station collect calls within Iowa will be extended to all such collect calls. He said collect calls involve additional operator work, circuit time and accounting.

Where The Responsibility Finally Rests

OLD FASHIONED PRESERVES

A dish of your own home-made strawberry preserves is the surest way in the world to bring a gleam into the eyes of the lucky people who sit down to your table. The story is wonderful from beginning to end—the making of the preserves with the aroma of the bubbling sirup filling the kitchen; the sight of the rich red fruit and sirup in Ball Jars on your shelves; and, finally, the serving of the preserves, perhaps with hot, flaky biscuits.

The strawberry season will be upon you before you know it, so have your Ball Mason Jars and Ball Dome Caps ready to use the first day you see strawberries suitable for preserves in your garden or on the market. The season is all too short and you might wake up to find you've waited until too late.

For preserving, strawberries should be of medium size and firm-ripe. Preserves should be cooked in small batches, not more than 2 or 3 quarts at a time. A recipe for Old Fashioned Strawberry Preserves from the Ball Blue Book calls for 2 quarts of hulled berries and 7 cups of sugar. Mix berries and sugar and let stand overnight in a cool place. Bring slowly to boiling, then boil rapidly until berries are clear and sirup thick. Skim and pour into hot Ball Jars. Seal while boiling hot with Ball Dome Caps.

To Lubricate a Lock

If A LOCK becomes stiff and hard to operate, a temporary cure is available in any home in the form of a soft lead pencil. Simply rub the key until it is heavily coated with the graphite, and then turn it in the lock a few times. This treatment should make the lock work like new. Of course, you can use powdered graphite, which is available in most hardware stores. This lubricant is blown into the lock through the keyhole by squeezing the tube. The illustration appeared in The Home Craftsman.

SWEET POTATO TREAT

Your friends will talk for weeks about this toothsome dish once you give them a taste. A delicacy we owe to the Southland, Sweet Potato Treat is so easy to make you'll want to use it as a standard companion piece for your favorite ham recipes.

6 medium sweet potatoes
2 bottles Dr. Pepper
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 box marshmallows
Pare and slice sweet potatoes lengthwise into half-inch strips, filling casserole which has been well buttered. Pour Dr. Pepper over sweet potatoes and dot with butter. Dust with cinnamon, top with 8 or 10 marshmallows, and bake one hour in 300 degree oven.

Summer Tips

Buy insect repellent in an envelope? Yes, and it keeps mosquitoes, black flies and other biting insects away for hours. Greaseless, and without that "repellent" odor, too! This modern insect protection is called "Barrier," and is made by the Colgate-Palmolive folks. It is a folded, moistureproof envelope which comes in a moistureproof envelope no larger than a book of paper matches. Fourteen "Barrier" towelette envelopes come in a box at drug stores. So, pass 'em out to the family and forget the constant complaint about who's got the bottle of bug repellent. Everyone carries his own, and there are no spillable bottles, leaky tubes or bulky squirt cans to bother with! When bugs bite, or when you're near areas infested with chiggers, sand fleas, ticks and gnats, just tear open an

Total of 15 Held In Sacramento Negro Slayings

Sacramento, Calif.—The arrest total mounted Thursday in the slaying of two Negroes by shotgun blasts from a moving car in a Sacramento slum area. Police reported 15 young white men were in custody.

Except to say that he did not believe the killings were racially motivated, the police chief gave only scanty details of the crime. The chief deputy district attorney has said he can not ascribe any motive.

Police arrested three men in nearby towns within an hour after the shooting Tuesday night. Six more were arrested Wednesday and three Wednesday night.

The victims were killed as they stood on opposite sides of a street. They were described as transients.

Schlenker Named IPALCO Central Division Manager

Ralph F. Schlenker, Iowa Power and Light Company Vice President, today was named Central Division Manager of Customer Service. A. Paul Thompson, Iowa Power President, made the announcement. Schlenker, a 1949 electrical engineering graduate of Iowa State University, joined Iowa Power that same year as a cadet engineer.

Prior to his recent assignment, Schlenker had been located at Council Bluffs as Western Division Manager of Customer Service for Iowa Power. Thompson said that Schlenker, in his new role, will be working closely with another Iowa Power vice president, A. D. "Al" Carlson, who will have completed 40 years of service on his 65th anniversary, January 11, 1967.

Schlenker formerly was Manager of Industrial and Commercial Sales in Des Moines prior to moving to his management position in Council Bluffs in 1961.

Asks Recreationists To Stop Littering

Plastic bags, watermelon rinds and beer cans strewn along shorelands and afloat on Iowa's waters make for a most unpleasant and unsanitary sight and create a dangerous safety hazard for boaters and swimmers according to Roy Downing, Superintendent of Waters. Littering problems, he added, are most acute on sandbars and beaches where people concentrate for swimming and picnicking.

As an incentive to Iowans not to destroy the beauty of the state with litter, he noted that the last session of the General Assembly passed legislation dealing with this problem. The new law provides for fines of up to $100 on conviction of littering violations.

Made from a star-spangled recipe that's 25 years old

The cake above is something we whipped up to help celebrate the 25th birthday of the United States Savings Bond program.

Although there will be no confetti, no horn-blowing—in fact, no party—there are a number of reasons to celebrate this quarter-century observance.

Since the first one was sold on May 1, 1941, Americans have bought more than $150 billion worth of Series E and H Bonds and still buy them at a $4-$5 billion-per-year clip.

About $100 billion have been cashed and spent for homes, college tuition, new cars and furniture, emergencies—and helping dreams come true for millions of American families.

Over half the Bonds bought are purchased on the Payroll Savings Plan—a voluntary, automatic plan that works wonders for people who might not otherwise save a nickel.

Today there are outstanding almost $50 billion in Bonds—a solid financial rock for millions of Americans.

And today, Savings Bonds are a sure way for all Americans to support our men in Vietnam. While they are there, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines.
