Housing, Leader Urges

New York — On behalf of the Tacoma, Wash., NAACP Branch, Robert L. Carter, the Association's general counsel, has filed a petition with the Justice Department alleging violation of Executive Order No. 11063 and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act by the University of Puget Sound.

The University is charged with using Federal funds to build the fraternity and sorority houses, although it is known that the Greek organizations at the university practice a policy of discrimination.

The Tacoma NAACP asserts that the University applied for Federal funds to build "group housing," but when the houses were built, Greek letters then appeared over the doorways, signifying which fraternities or sororities were to be housed there. The NAACP, on behalf of the Tacoma Branch, is requesting that all Federal funds be withheld from the University until a ruling is made.

Bellmore, N.Y. — Mrs. Mattie Burke Gaines was appointed to the position of Assistant Director of the North Bellmore Public Library. Previously she had been District Elementary School Librarian in the Copiague School System.

Mrs. Gaines, who is in Des Moines for a short stay, stopped by the Bystander office, where I talked with her.

Competition

When asked if the competition of television, radio and theater reduced the importance of books, Mrs. Gaines answered, "Oh no. As a matter of fact, television has helped to spread the popularity of books. Where television can only give a limited amount of information on a subject, books are a source of unlimited knowledge on all subjects.

"Many children," she said, "have not had the opportunity to read books, simply because they are not available. This will almost always lead to reading and writing problems

Leaders, Urban Renewal
Officials Disagree on City's Responsibility for Homes

In a sharp exchange Negro leaders charged that the city had the responsibility to see that Negroes living in the Oakridge urban renewal area were not relocated in ghetto-less housing. Urban Renewal officials denied this saying the city's duty is to "place these people in decent, safe and sanitary housing."

The exchange came at a meeting, July 28 held at Willkie House. It was one of a series of meetings being held to answer questions and discuss responsibilities for property owners faced with the problem of having to find new homes elsewhere.

J. B. Morris, Jr., an attorney, said "you have an affirmative duty to see that they aren't placed in ghettos."

Edwin Emerson, Oakridge relocation director, said residents are asked what section of town they prefer. A woman in the audience confirmed that she was given such a choice. Emerson said size of family and ability to pay are considered in relocation referrals.

Emerson and Max Krumrey, urban renewal director, said owners who want to list properties for sale with the relocation office must agree not to discriminate.

No Negatives

"I cannot recall one instance where anybody has replied in the negative," said Emerson.

Emerson said his office also has the local "multiple listing", a real estate industry compilation of available houses.

James Thomas, Iowa Civil Rights Commission director, asked if Negroes are referred to areas "where no Negro has lived before."

Apprehension

Emerson said he knows of "no case where a person says he was refused because of race" when investigating a relocation possibility.

Snapped Morris:

"In the first place, we are extremely apprehensive of the people who call your office and list houses for sale because in 90 per cent of the cases the houses are dogs they want to foist upon the Negro population because they are in, quote, rapidly changing neighborhoods" (from predominantly white to predominantly Negro).

Thomas said he was surprised that Emerson and the others haven't encountered any racial discrimination because he has.

Woods and Trees

"It seems to me almost akin to walking in the woods without seeing any trees," said Thomas.

The exchange took place during a meeting at Willkie House. The Des Moines chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) called the meeting to clear up various complaints.

One complaint was that the city's urban renewal buyers were in effect intimidating owners by saying it would be costly and probably fruitless for someone to appeal for more money than the city offers.

Appraisals

Krumrey replied by saying a property owner can accept or reject the city offer, which is based on two

Charges Military Indifferent
To 50,000 Negro Servicemen
When Off Duty in Viet Nam

Saigon — The few Negro officers found among military personnel in Vietnam and the lack of concern by officers for what happens to their men during off-duty time were deplored by Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, upon completion of his tour of that war-torn nation.

The tour, taken by Young to tell some of the estimated 50,000 Negro military personnel there of the concern for them held by "their loved ones and friends back home," was sponsored and paid for by the National Urban League.

when the child is in school."

Her advice to parents is to urge their children to read—by reading with them and to them—and by helping them to select various good books and magazines. This can start as early as two and three years old with picture books.

Worked in D. M.

Mrs. Gaines, who at one time did librarial work at the Des Moines Public Library, said, "Just because a book has been published does not necessarily mean that it will be placed in a library. A librarian has to be careful in what she selects for the shelf. Obscene books are a good example."

Mrs. Gaines was born in Des Moines, and graduated from Drake University with a B.A. degree, and from Syracuse University with a Master's in Library Science.

The Federal Government provided him with access to installations and personnel, and protection on the trip. Young asserted that his trip was "not made to attempt to judge any aspect of the war itself."

Off Duty

Among highlights of his findings, Young noted the small number of Negro officers in the military, especially in the Navy, and he declared that military commanders and other officers displayed a too casual interest in the lives of their men during the men's off duty hours.

"We visited bars to check reports that there was bias at many of them. We found that a number of them were frequented solely by Negroes and others solely by whites," Young declared.

Bias in Bars

From all indications, he said, "the segregation in bars is by choice. But that should not be encouraged. Many of the officers with whom I talked could give me no information about their men's off duty time, they were unconcerned."

Teamwork

Young was "especially pleased" by the widespread interracial teamwork he saw operating "at the non-com and enlisted man level." He lauded General W. C. Westmoreland, commander of all American Vietnam forces, who has some 19 Negro of-

Catholic Group Urges Iowa
Rights Com. to Inform All
Realtors About U.S. Law

Davenport — The Davenport Catholic Interracial Council, Monday urged the Iowa Civil Rights Commission in Des Moines to duly inform all realtors, real estate agents and lenders in the state that they are, in fact, covered by the Iowa Civil Rights Act of 1965.

The C.I.C. request was made in a letter to James A. Thomas, executive director of the commission and came in response to a commission communication that the 1965 Iowa Civil Rights Act did apply to the licensing of realtors.

General Public

The Davenport C.I.C. also recommended that the commission make this information known to the general public "so that they will be aware of their rights under existing Iowa law."

Such informative action by the Civil Rights Commission on a statewide basis, C.I.C. officials contend, "would help to alleviate the deplorable housing conditions for minority groups in many cities of Iowa."

Evidence

To further clarify housing rights in Iowa, and specifically in Davenport, the C.I.C. asked Thomas to indicate what an aggrieved person would need as admissible evidence for a complaint to the Iowa Civil Rights Commission regarding discrimination in the sale, rental, or financing of property.

"We are confident," Charles W. Toney, C.I.C. president, noted in releasing the contents of the letter to Thomas, "that the state commission can render a genuine service to the relief of housing tensions in Davenport and throughout the state by taking such action."

Tunica, Miss. — Three NAACP summer task force workers organized 125 persons to participate in a mile-and-a-half demonstration march protesting segregated public accommodations here. They have asked for a hearing with the local mayor.

Edward L. Glick, 4925 Franklin Avenue, has been appointed as a neighborhood worker, and Joel B. Swetish, 1365 25th street, has been appointed a group worker at Willkie House, 900 17th street. The announcement was made by John F. Mapp, Jr., executive director of Willkie House.

Glick will organize neighborhood councils which will help area residents become oriented to fit the pattern of life in Greater Des Moines. He is a graduate of Roosevelt High School in Des Moines, and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Drake University.

Swetish will organize and supervise an expanded program of recreational activities for all age groups. He is from Racine, Wisc., and attended Milton College, Milton, Wisc.

In the two weeks of the task force operation beginning July 15, six local eating places have been tested for compliance with the public accommodations law, and in all but one service has been refused to Negroes. They have also been barred from the local theatre.

According to Miss Carolyn Quillion, NAACP youth field director, 15 complaints are in the process of being filed with the Justice Department against conditions in this town of 16,000 which lies just 30 miles southwest of Memphis, Tenn.

Miss Quillion says workers are also investigating a Neighborhood Youth Corps project where the participants are reportedly cooking and "cleaning up" with no exposure to the nurses training they are supposed to be receiving.

Arrested in Peoria

Peoria, Ill. — Six persons, including Peoria NAACP Branch President John Gwynn, have been arrested following a three-day sit-in at the offices of the Board of Education.

After the arrests on July 20, fifty members of the branch staged an all-night vigil at the jail, and announced that the demonstrations will continue.

The branch is making nine demands of the Board of Education. They are: improvement of procedures to insure employment of Negroes in administrative and teaching positions throughout the school system; inclusion of Negroes in advisory and policy-making positions; employment of more Negro counselors in regular and special educational programs.

We are placing the responsibility of first-class citizenship and power of the ballot in the hands of a voteless people."

Level Ghetto Walls Roy Wilkins Urges

Washington, D.C. — Refusal of Congress to take steps toward breaking down the ghetto walls could lead to "some heartbreaking developments that could be ugly as well," Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, warned on the eve of House debate on the civil rights bill of 1966.

Speaking on behalf of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, of which he is chairman, at a news conference here, July 26, Mr. Wilkins said:

No Threat

"We would not have the Congress act under a threat, and we make none. We would have it act upon facts and these are ample in supply."

"The fact is that Negro Americans are discriminated against in housing. The central fact is that housing discrimination insures the continuance of discrimination in schools, health and recreation and other municipal services."

Controversial

The housing section, Title IV of the pending bill, is the most controversial part of the measure. Wilkins condemned efforts to weaken it by exemption of "so many single family houses from the provisions of the bill that the suburbs would remain virtually lily-white. The center city ghettos would become poorer, blacker and more desperate than at present."

Strengthening

The NAACP leader also called for strengthening of other sections of the bill including (1) "an amendment for indemnification for the survivors of those killed while seeking their civil rights"; (2) deletion of the word "lawful" from Title V on the ground that inclusion of the word violates the intent of the section in that it would allow "an alleged trespass upon the grass" to be used as a "justification for tear gassing, clubbing and shooting"; and (3) addition of "a trigger device to increase the effectiveness of the title on jury selection."

Noting that a "loud segment of Negro and white Americans already is jeering the legislative approach to civil rights," Wilkins said that "a failure by the House to take effective action for fair housing will increase skepticism among more sober citizens."

ficers on his command staff. These include four lieutenant colonels, seven majors and eight captains.

Re-enlistments

He was able, Young said, to determine that the reason for such a high number of Negroes in Vietnam was because of the high enlistment and re-enlistment rates among them. Of some 300,000 military personnel in Vietnam, 50,000 to 60,000 are estimated to be Negro. "That would suggest something to us," Young said — "that these men would rather serve under conditions on the firing lines of Vietnam than to remain home, that conditions are better in the military services. It also serves to point up the unusual courage and patriotism displayed by our men — the flower of our communities."

Skills

Young talked with Negro and white military personnel but he was especially interested in finding out what skills the Negroes possessed and what they plan to do when they return to civilian life. He indicated that he would propose at the 56th Annual National Urban League Conference, which began Sunday, July 31, in Philadelphia, Pa., that the League should develop a program to help returning Vietnam GI's re-adjust to civilian life.

He said that businessmen, industrialists and the Federal Government had already shown interest in such a program.

"Too many of our men came home following the other wars (World War I, World War II and the Korean Conflict), and found the same depressing and discriminatory conditions existing as when they left. He said that the National Urban League was ready to do its part to help insure that conditions will have improved when the Vietnam military man returns to civilian life."

Rights Group Seeks Strong Housing Law

Washington, D.C. — Anticipating and countering the powerful real estate lobby against the fair housing section of the pending civil rights bill, the NAACP and the affiliated organizations in the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights brought 1,000 representatives from 23 key states to Washington to visit their congressmen urging them to vote for a strong open housing provision.

Lobbyists

The civil rights lobbyists gathered for a briefing session Tuesday night, July 26 and heard addresses by Roy Wilkins, Conference chairman and NAACP executive director; Clarence Mitchell, legislative chairman of the Conference and director of the NAACP Washington Bureau; and other civil rights leaders.

The following day the delegates went to the House Office Building button-holing their Representatives in a concerted effort to gain their support for a meaningful fair housing law, minus the exemptions proposed by Congressman Charles McC. Mathias.

Bulletin

Meanwhile, Mr. Mitchell disclosed a copy of a bulletin sent out by the National Association of Real Estate Brokers to its 83,000 members throughout the country calling upon them to generate grass-roots opposition to any open occupancy provision in the bill. The real estate bulletin condemned not only the original strong version of the bill but also the weakening Mathias amendment.

Despite the frenzied opposition of the real estate lobby, Mr. Mitchell, on July 29, expressed the conviction that "we are in striking distance of success."

The House vote on this section of the bill, Title IV, is expected on Wednesday, Aug. 3.

Seek National Group To Distribute O.E.O. Program to all Negroes

New York — Delegates attending the 52nd Annual Convention of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Incorporated will be asked to endorse and implement the formation of a National Commission for the Dissemination and Distribution of News of all Programs emanating out of the Office of Economic Opportunities in Washington to grass root Negro communities.

The project to be presented by C. Melvin Patrick, National Director of Publicity of the Fraternity calls for a National Commission structured and directed by the national fraternity, working in cooperation with local grass root leaders and organizations within the communities where Sigma has chapters and members.

The Commission is sought because of complaints of citizens to Regional Directors and local chapter presidents of Phi Beta Sigma which said that certain local home town officials in their respective communities fail to distribute information to Negroes in their town either because they did not want to buck the white power structure of their towns or upset traditional mores.

IPALCO Will Install 4 Turbine Generators Before Summer of 1967

Iowa Power and Light Company announced that four additional quick-starting turbine generators will be installed before the summer of 1967 at the utility's River Hills Station site at Second and Grand.

A. Paul Thompson, Iowa Power President, said these four oil or gas-fired General Electric generators will be identical to and located directly east of the present four units which were rushed into service during the recent heat wave only weeks after shakedown tests were completed.

These additional units for later installation when needed were referred to regularly in Iowa Power's presentations to the Urban Renewal Board, Park Board, Plan and Zoning Commission and the City Council last fall.

"The fine manner in which our present four new generators delivered well over their rated 62,000 kilowatts of generation to our customers when our peak demand neared 500,000 kilowatts for several days made us decide to install these at this time," Thompson said. "This additional standby generation thus will be ready if customer demands increase in 1967 as they did in 1966." Predicting rapidly developing additional demands in this area, Thompson pointed out that Iowa Power presently has 550,000 kilowatts of generation, mostly developed at plants south of Des Moines and at Council Bluffs. The River Hills Station oil or gas-fired generation, if needed, can supply an additional 124,000 kilowatts when all eight units are in operation. Each unit also can be operated individually.

Also, Iowa Power is planning jointly for construction of an 80,000 kilowatt automatic powered generating plant along the Missouri River. Iowa Power's share will be one-half of the total generation, or 500,000 kilowatts. For additional interconnected generation, Iowa Power has begun design of a 345,000 volt power line from Hills, Iowa, through Des Moines and on to the Missouri River generating plant. When completed in 1967, this line will give Iowa utility additional interconnected power supplies from the north, east, west and south. Another generating plant of large capacity is planned by Iowa Power & Light for the mid-seventies. It will be located in central Iowa.

REVISE KLAN CONTROL BILL, MITCHELL URGES HOUSE UNIT

Congressman Edwin E. Willis (D-La.), chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, "for the fearless manner in which he has attempted to place the grisly record of the Ku Klux Klan before the Congress," Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington Bureau, said the NAACP could not support the Committee's Klan control bill in its "present form."

In testimony before the Committee on July 21, Mitchell cited certain language in some sections of the bill which might be used against organizations like the NAACP and labor unions "engaged in controversial but not criminal or unconstitutional activities."

Rugs and carpets probably take more of a beating than any of your other home furnishings. However, there are several things you can do to make your carpets stay beautiful and last years longer—and save yourself the money it would cost to replace them.

Use an inexpensive carpet sweeper every day to pick up lint, crumbs and dirt from the surface of your carpet. A few minutes a day will keep dirt from being ground deeply into the carpet. Use a vacuum cleaner once a week. A good vacuum cleaner removes deep-down dirt, as well as surface material. When the carpet begins to look dull, use a rug shampoo to get rid of dirt that your vacuum cleaner can't get to. Modern rug shampoos require little work and are well worth the effort to keep your rugs and carpets beautiful. Once a year is the minimum for shampooing every carpet in the house.

On July 31, Rev. and Mrs. B. J. Faison, Jr. and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris and daughters journeyed to Des Moines to spend the weekend with their relatives, Deacon and Mrs. Sidney Warren and daughters. They attended the Mt. Hebron Baptist Church where Rev. James Harris pastors. While in the city, they went to see Gov. Harold Hughes' home and various other sights.

Because Aug. 21 is the anniversary of the minister of Olivet Baptist Church, we are asking everyone to come out to help us show their appreciation for our pastor.

If any citizens from Davenport have any news that you want sent to The Bystander, will you please call me at my home?

Voter Registration

New York — In less than one month, two of the NAACP's branches in the South report a total of 1,500 new voters registered as a result of intensive voter education campaign, according to W. C. Patton, NAACP field director for voter registration.

In Brunswick, Ga., more than 5000 individuals were contacted by branch volunteers under the direction of G. D. Miller, and 1100 new names were added to the list of qualified voters there. In Brunswick, located in Glynn County, considerable desegregation has taken place through negotiations because of the Negro voting strength.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THIEVES OF BREATHING

People with hay fever do a lot of sneezing. People with asthma do quite a bit of wheezing. All that sneezing and all that wheezing make some normally sensible people believe that the respiratory allergies—asthma and hay fever—are somehow sort of funny. They couldn't be more mistaken.

More than 5,000 people die of asthma each year in the United States. People who have hay fever (unpleasant enough in itself) often develop asthma—about one out of three. Another unfunny fact: respiratory allergy is responsible for one fourth of all the days lost from school but takes a lot longer, through chronic illness.

Plant Pollen

Hay fever—actually an inflammation of the nose tissues—is caused mostly by plant pollen, which turns out to be dagged in about 75 per cent of cases. Other causes of the disease are mold spores, animal dandruff, or plain ordinary dust.

Hay fever can usually be controlled by identifying the type of substance that causes the trouble, and developing a counteragent that can be injected into the patient to neutralize the troublemaker. It sounds a little like a TV spy drama, trolled by identifying the type of substance that causes the trouble, and developing a counteragent that can be injected into the patient to neutralize the troublemaker. It sounds a little like a TV spy drama,

Inherited

Asthma usually happens to people with an inherited tendency to allergy. Bronchial asthma affects the small air passages that carry air from the windpipe into the lungs. Acute attacks are often triggered by emotional upsets.

Asthma, like hay fever, is often controlled by injections of a desensitizing substance. Changes of climate may still be recommended in difficult cases; but pollen is apt to be found anywhere. Medical care can either cure or give substantial relief to sufferers from respiratory allergy. Gyps And Quacks Bait Traps With Medicine...

We liked a pun by Bennett Cerf, about the quack "doctor" who told his bedridden victim, "I'll have you walking within an hour"—and he did!—He stole his car.

The U.S. Government, the Medical Profession and the Drug Industry wage an all out war on vicious quacks who prey on the miseries of the sick. Thousands are jailed each year; but the pack appears again and again...

Makers of worthless "therapeutic" gadgets... Counterfeiters of medicines and cosmetics, that sell at "bargain prices" to unsuspecting retailers... and self-styled "doctors", ready to heal any and all ailments—except poverty.

For your protection, your doctor, your pharmacist, are licensed professionals. They earn your trust through years of training and constant diligence in their work.

At WILLIAMS PHARMACY your doctor's orders are met with exacting care... Prices are always fair—always! at WILLIAMS PHARMACY, 1103 University Avenue, PHONE: 243-1253.

MR. AND MRS. A. P. TROTTER

For four hours a constant flow of relatives, close friends and well-wishers went through the lovely, quiet home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Trotter of 934 14th Place, to congratulate the couple on their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday afternoon, July 31.

All the first floor rooms in the house were resplendent with large floral arrangements, most of them golden yellow roses, spider mums and Chrysanthemums and a solitary red sweetheart rose bouquet. Most were gifts from friends and well-wishers.

Many of the guests after offering congratulations and going down the receiving line were served from the lovely reception table and then made their way out to the Trotter home back yard where many lovely flowers, geraniums, zinnias, petunias and many others, grown and cared for by Mrs. Trotter were at the height of their beauty. Umbrella tables were arranged so guests could enjoy the colorful scenery.

In the receiving lines were Mr. and Mrs. Trotter, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ewing of Kansas City, Mo., her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Mead Ward of Chicago, Ill.; her niece, Mrs. Inez Ware of Council Bluffs, Ia., and another niece, Mrs. Gladys Hubbard, Riverside, Calif., Dr. Lester Ward, Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. Trotter was attired in a gold lame two-piece dress and gold shoes. A huge bouquet of yellow spider mums tied with a huge gold lame bow was placed behind the cake. Coffee was served from a gleaming silver service and orange frappe from a huge sparkling punch bowl.

In a small side room hostesses presided over gifts reflecting the golden occasion. They were arranged on tables, and around the walls. Most of it was money gifts in various denominations, arranged in a huge green circle under glass and on six beautifully designed money trees, and others on lovely cards along the walls.

Hand Crafted
Most of the gifts were hand crafted and imported from faraway lands; included among these was a letter holder from Israel, gold cake server from Italy, twin gold ash-trays with handles from India; in addition there were gold colored linens, gold candlesticks, salad bowls, hand painted nut bowls, antique gold carafes, and other assorted lovely items.

Cook & Freeze—Then Travel!

SPRING IS IN THE AIR—and many of us here have been bitten by the wanderlust bug! When the budding beauty of all outdoors lures us away from home it's fun just to study road maps! BUT—after the first exciting thought of far away places—we are abruptly reminded of those in our family who will be staying home—and they must eat!

One answer for them has been expertly answered for many households by the freezer. So here is a cake to make, to freeze . . . and later to be enjoyed to the last delicious crumb. If to be frozen for longer storage than the recipe indicates, then wrap cake carefully in aluminum foil after the initial freezing period. It takes but a moment to decorate with whipped cream and coconut at the time of serving.

COCONUT RIBBON CAKE

3 slices loaf cake, 7x3-1/2x1/2 inches
1 cup (1/2 pint) chocolate ice cream, softened
1/4 cup shredded coconut, cut

1 cup (1/2 pint) coffee ice cream, softened
1/4 cup cream, whipped and sweetened

Spread one slice of cake with chocolate ice cream. Top with second slice of cake. Spread this with coffee ice cream. Top with remaining slice of cake. Spread top and sides of loaf with thin layer of whipped cream, using only part of the cream. Place loaf in freezing compartment of refrigerator about 3 or 4 hours, or until ready to serve.

Just before serving, spread loaf with remaining whipped cream. Sprinkle with coconut. Slice and serve immediately. Makes 5 servings.

LABOR-MANAGEMENT
NEED STIFF LAW TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC

A few years ago, nobody would have thought their school teachers would strike. And when Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts promptly put down a strike by policemen in Boston, the notion that employees in public service should not strike prevailed.

All of this is out of the window today for no group, however important to the welfare of this country, hesitates to discommodate the public, obstruct the mails, block traffic, defense contracts and fights to meet its demands.

Unfortunately, politics and labor have become so wound up together that public officials, including Congress and the President, have abdicated their responsibility to protect the public.

The conduct of the administration in handling the airplane machinists strike is a disgrace. Secretary of Labor Wirtz and other officials have talked out of both sides of their mouth hoping that Congress would take them off the hook. Neither the strikers or the administration seems to have little regard for the public.

The latest group to break the pattern are the nurses of San Francisco. Even though their action will call irreparable harm to many patients, they propose to walk off the job complaining that they are not getting a fair share of the increased cost of hospital service.

Unfortunately, settlement of these strikes is followed by a continued boost in the cost of living which adds to the squeeze of the small wage earner.

These strikes divide the country into endless small cliques, which keep the government off balance and unable to protect its citizens.

Over the years, this country has operated on the theory that voluntary collective bargaining would handle management-labor relations and that compulsory arbitration was repugnant to our system of government. This is no longer true for if the rights of the people are to be protected, lawmakers must summon the courage to protect the public.

EACH POLICEMAN
SHOULD STAND ON HIS OWN

The Bystander has never had any sympathy for those people who don't want another person who has broken the law, arrested. The cap which touched off some of the recent disturbance—arresting a drunk—is so ridiculous that it is hard to imagine a crowd gathering to interfere with an officer.

These are the people who complain of police brutality when there is none.

Of course, there are police officers who don't do a good public relation job in dealing with the public. This is found to be true whether the arrested person is black or white. By and large most officers try to do their job properly. Those who don't should be reported and dealt with at headquarters and not on the streets.

It was rather interesting how men of the Michigan national guard handled their problem by being stern and also making friends with youngsters. Newspaper photos bore this out and they were interesting.

The FBI reported recently that few charges of police brutality had been proven. Unfortunately, most boards composed of policemen have exonerated their officers generally. They have not been investigated by impartial boards.

People cannot go wrong when they respect law and order for no country or group can grow and prosper without that attitude.

This is the week of our annual Hilltop tennis meet. The thing has been running for more years than most veterans care to remember. And in all these years we have had just one finalist in the men's singles, and one in the men's doubles. They both lost. But in the women's division it has been different; Esther Myers has managed to keep a share of the women's doubles crown several times and has been winner or runnerup in the singles division a half dozen times. We don't know of any promising junior who might come through for us.

This year a former champ, Stokstad, who lives in this city, will probably be after his second men's singles title.

There could also be a possible record placed on the Bill Ashby Memorial Trophy in the men's doubles. Well, we shall expect to see you out there.

Negro Cage Official
Breaks Ice in Big 10

Chicago — Art White of St. Elizabeth High was named the first Negro basketball official in the Big Ten history this week.

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed made the announcement in a letter to the veteran official.

Reed acknowledged that White will be the first Negro cage official in his circuit but added the choice was "based on personal character and competency."

On his appointment, White declared:

"I accept my appointment as a great honor. I think I can do the job. This appointment did not come quickly and all of the experience that I have had in Park District, AAU, high school and small college officiating will surely stand me in good stead in the Big Ten."

White was an outstanding player at Loyola of Chicago. He has been officiating for ten years.

White says, "Ray Meyer (basketball coach at De Paul University) and George Ireland (Loyola head cage coach) really gave me a boost. But it was Ed Bronson, one of the nation's top officials, who really went all out for me."

Clay and London to Square Off in Aug.
For Championship

Blackpool, England — Brian London, training for his fight with world champion Cassius Clay in London on Aug. 6, said today he really "doesn't want the heavyweight title."

"From a personal point of view I don't want to be a heavyweight champion of the world," said London. "If I were world champion I'd have to go all over the place—America, Europe, everywhere, and that would mean I would have to be away from my wife and kids."

"They are the only reasons I go on fighting — to buy them security."

The 32-year-old Londoner said he is under no illusion about the task facing him.

"Clay is certainly the greatest heavyweight I've ever seen, and the fastest," London said. "But nobody has ever really hit him, yet. That's what I'm pinning my hopes on. If I catch him, one of two things will happen, either he'll crumble, and I'll be champ or he'll come back at me, and that will be that."

London began his training here on Monday under the watchful eye of Harry Valey, who piloted Britain's Terry Downs to his middleweight title.

The Briton at present weighs 204 pounds, but hopes to be six pounds lighter by ringtime.

"My big worry is over-training," said London. "I don't want to lose that extra poundage until about five days before the fight."

Valey said the last word! "It's all very well for Clay to go on about 'London Bridge is falling down.' He should remember that London was built on Clay."

Gayle Sayers Says He's Not Afraid of Sophomore Year

Omaha, Nebr.—"I'm not afraid of any sophomore jinx," Gale Sayers, the ex-Omaha Central footballer who last year was the NFL's rookie-of-the-year and all-league halfback, says.

"I'm not superstitious. I'm planning to have just as great a season as I had last year. That's the only way an athlete can play the game," he explained.

Gale said the "key to the whole picture — mine and the Bears' — depends upon injuries. 'If we can stay in shape, I think we'll contend for the title,' he added.

Not Injury-Prone

"As for myself, I've never worried about getting hurt," Sayers continued. "I'm not injury-prone. The only injury I had last fall was a Charley horse."

Buddy Young, the NFL executive who convinced Gale to sign with the Bears rather than with the AFL's Kansas City Chiefs, doesn't feel the sophomore jinx will get Sayers.

Dedicated

"He's too dedicated to be affected by a mental thing like this," Buddy adds.

"Gale is one of only a few athletes I've known who are so great and so confident that they can say to themselves on a Monday that they're going to have a big game the following Sunday, and then they go out the next Sunday and make their prophecy come true," Young declared.

Gino Marchetti, John Henry Johnson, Paul Hornung and the late Big Daddy Lipscomb were others Young said he knew who fitted into that category.

Theron Lewis of Southern Leads
Relay Team to New World's Record

Theron Lewis, the Southern University Olympian who didn't run in the 1964 Tokyo games, in the two years since has more than made up for the slight.

Last Sunday in the Los Angeles International Track and field games the New Orleans quarter-mile marvel anchored the American 1,600 meter relay team which set a new world record of 2:39.6 for the event.

Sharing the winners podium with the Southern University senior were Bob Frey of UCLA, Lee Evans of San Jose City college and Tommie Smith of San Jose State college.

But the record-setting victory had to be sweeter to Lewis than to any other member of the quartet.

clined, the city will acquire the property by condemnation. In such a case a six-man commission selected by the Polk County sheriff rules on the price.

The owner may go to court if still dissatisfied, said Krumrey.

Below Appraisals

Another complaint was the the city offers in some cases have been well below the appraisals on which property taxes are based.

For instance, Mrs. Lucille Thomas, 1431 Maryland ave., said her house was appraised at $8,460 for tax purposes last year and the city has offered $5,800.

John Estes, Jr., an NAACP official, called this a "ridiculous discrepancy."

The tax appraisals were made by a company hired by local taxing bodies to establish "fair market values" on all property in Des Moines and Polk County.

Points

Urban renewal officials made these points:

for 867 yards and 14 touchdowns; caught 29 passes for 507 yards and six touchdowns; returned 21 kickoffs for 600 yards and one touchdown; ran back 16 punts for 238 yards and one touchdown; completed two of three passes for 53 yards and a touchdown.

"How can you say how far Gale Sayers will go?" asks Vince Lombardi, coach of the Green Bay Packers.

Answering his own question, Lombardi said:

"With the kind of talent he's got, Sayers still may be rewriting the record books in 1967."

Back in the 1964 Olympics Lewis was to have run a leg on the USA 1,600 meter relay team, but the Jaguar swiftie became a last minute victim of a coaches' whim and Henry Carr was handed the assignment which had originally been Lewis'.

The American team of Ollan Cassill, Mike Larabee, Ullis Williams and Carr sped to a 3:00.7 Olympic victory which was also good for a new world's record. This is the mark which Lewis and his mates shattered Sunday.

Whatever effect on Lewis the Olympic switch has had fails to show up in the two year performance chart of the Southern senior.

offer, it takes 60 to 90 days for him to get his money. After that, the owner can occupy the house rent-free for 30 days while looking for another home.

Most of the Oakridge land when cleared, will be used for "medical type facilities," commercial uses and apartments. The area north of the Des Moines Freeway, however, will have some residential buildings.

Just a Little

Just a little laughter
Mixed with work and play
Makes a happy ending
To a trying day.
Just a little kindness
Scattered 'long the way
Always helps to brighten
Skies, though dull and gray.

Just a little smiling
When we others meet
Change clouds to sunshine,
Makes the bitter sweet.
Just a little lifting
Helping here and there,
Makes so many burdens
Easier to bear.

Just a little singing
Of some cheerful song
Makes the hours seem shorter
Though the days are long.
Just a little courage
When the battle's on—
It will make your brother,
In the conflict, strong.

Just a word of comfort
And a handclasp true,
Breaks the clouds of sorrow
And the sun shines through.
Just a little praying,
A little loving, too
Will put a bit of heaven
Into things you do.— W. F. Iwan

Quiet Street

Scarves upon their processed hair,
All ten back-alley bandits
With nothing else to do but
Loot the frigid treasures
Of the working ice-cream girl.

So four of them, they went, went,
to stop the truck,
to throw the bars upon the street,
to laugh and jeer and hurt the girl who tried to keep them cool, nothing like such "harmless fun"
on Sunday afternoons.

Gulf Banks in Harlem

In a recent ceremony Gulf Oil Corporation opened an account with Freedom National Bank in New York City with a deposit of $10,000. Jackie Robinson, Chairman of the Bank's Board of Directors; William R. Hudgins, Bank President; Walter Hamilton, Gulf's Bronx-Manhattan District Marketing Manager, and Junius Johnson, Gulf Sales Representative, Bronx-Manhattan District were on hand for the ceremonies.

City offers have been accepted on about 35 of the 266 properties.

The city can pay up to $200 in moving expenses for persons displaced by the renewal. Some families can obtain city subsidies to help pay rent after relocation.

Oakridge, located northwest of Keosauqua way and south of University avenue, this year became the city's second major urban renewal project.

Slate First Midget
Auto Race at Fair

Eight auto racing events, including the first midget auto race, will be held during the 1966 Iowa State Fair, August 19-28.

The tastes of every race fan should be satisfied with the most complete schedule of speedway action ever presented in front of the amphitheater.

Semi-modified stock cars open the racing on Friday night, Aug. 19. The finale will be a 250 lap new model stock car event on Sunday evening, Aug. 28.

The midget program is scheduled for Sunday night, Aug. 21. There are two big car, open cockpit, races, two super modified events, and a 200-lap new model race included in the 10 days of State Fair activity.

Sanitary Crew
Stages Walkout

DeKalb County, Ga. — According to NAACP State Director Joe L. Tucker, a crew of two Negro women and six Negro men have staged a "walkout" from their jobs as a sanitary crew at Stone Mountain Park.

Complaints include "working conditions that were intolerable," refusal of park management to hire additional employees who are needed, lack of job insurance for hazardous duty, and no vacation, sick leave or other normal job benefits.

Mr. Tucker said: "The NAACP will continue to investigate and urge park officials to create better working conditions for the employees at the park."
