Judge Wade McCree Named to Appeals Court

Detroit Jurist Is 3rd Negro Appointed To Eminent Position

Washington, (Special) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, who has named more Negroes to top Government posts than any President in U. S. history, announced Monday, Aug. 15, the appointment of Federal Judge Wade Hampton McCree, 46, of Detroit, Mich. to the U. S. Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit in Cincinnati.

JUDGE MCCREE

The President also reappointed Judge Austin L. Fickling, well-known Negro jurist of Washington, D. C., for another 10-year term on the D. C. Court of General Sessions.

Third Negro

Judge McCree of Detroit is the third Negro in history to be appointed to the U. S. Court of Appeals. The others are Judge William Hastie serving in Philadelphia and Thurgood Marshall who resigned from the Appellate Court when he was named Solicitor General of the United States by President Johnson.

Judge McCree is a graduate of Fisk University and the Harvard University Law School. He was in private law practice in Detroit and a leader in Democratic Party affairs in Michigan when he was named to the U. S. District Court. His appointment to the U. S. Court of Appeals is subject to Senate confirmation.

Prior to 1960

Prior to 1960 there were no Negroes serving on the U. S. District Court bench and the only major judicial post was held by Judge William Hastie, who was appointed to the Appellate Court by President Truman. Today there are six Negroes on the U. S. District Court and Thurgood Marshall is the first Negro to serve as Solicitor General of the United States.

Judge McCree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade McCree, Sr., lived in Des Moines during the early 1900's and owned and operated the first Negro drugstore here.

Robert Parker, 13, On Bicycle, Hit By 2 Car, Hospitalized

Robert Parker, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parker, of 1229 15th street, was released from Broad-lawn Polk County hospital Wednesday, Aug. 17 where he had been treated for brain concussion, bruises and abrasions. He sustained the injuries when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car at 6th avenue and Clark street the day before. The youth was riding east on Clark street about 5:45 p.m. when his bicycle was struck by a northbound car driven by Wilma Naomi Henson of 1228 E. Seneca avenue.

No charges were filed by police.

Club Waiter Reports Theft

Howard Smith, a waiter at the Des Moines Club at 8th and Locust streets, reported to police that $380 was stolen Thursday from his locker at the club.

Smith said he put his billfold, containing the money, in the locker about 10 a. m. Thursday, Aug. 18 and, when he went to pick it up about 4:30 p. m., the locker's padlock was open and the money was gone.

Smith said he had intended to pay bills with the money.

Reports Theft

Eddie Davis of 927 12th street reported to police that two coin banks containing $112 were stolen from his apartment between 8 a. m. and 8 p. m., Friday, while he was at work. Police said Davis told them he left his apartment unlocked.

Senate to Debate Rights Bill Sept. 6

Washington, D. C. — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield announced that debate will start (Civil Rights Act of 1966) on Sept. 6, the day after Labor Day. The bill, he said, would not be referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee but would, instead, be held on the Senate calendar until the time came to take it up. He was by-passing Judiciary, Mansfield said, with engaging frankness, because it has been considering a companion bill for three months without doing anything and because its Chairman, James O. Eastland (D., Miss.), "has repeatedly interposed his towering presence in the procedural corridor between the Judiciary Committee rooms and the Senate floor. Once in that position, he has proved time and time again that he is immovable." A civil rights issue, Mansfield observed, "seems always to bring out the resisting best or worst in the Senator from Mississippi, depending, of course, on one's point of view."

"It is in the Senate that the shape and substance of the new law will be

Plan Public Reception Tonight For Simon Estes at Willkie

Once again bassoist Simon Estes, one of Des Moines most famous and recently celebrated 'sons', will return to the city where he and another American celebrity will be honored at a public reception tonight (Thurs.) from 7 to 9 p.m. at Willkie House, 900 17th street.

Estes, who took third place in the Peter Tschalkovsky vocal competition in Russia this summer and Miss Vernice Tyler of Pittsburgh, Pa., who took second place in the same competition will be official honored by the residents of Des Moines, which Estes calls home.

The two just returned from a performance at the Hollywood Bowl in California and will leave Saturday for an engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City.

Estes, who was born in Centralville, Ia., received his initial formal musical education at the Juilliard School of Music in New York. He is

Negro Denied Admission to Show at Sac County Fair

Sac City, Ia. — A Negro was denied admission to a 'go-go' show at the Sac County Fair, and the operator of the show chose to close the show.

Sheriff George Maas said Isiah McArthur, about 45, called him about 11 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 16 to complain that he had been denied admission to a 'go-go' dancing show at the fair grounds.

McArthur said he was called an obscene name in being refused admission.

A Choice

The sheriff said he drove to the fairgrounds with McArthur and spoke with the operator of the show. "I told him he would either have to sell McArthur a ticket or close the show," Maas said.

"All right, I'll close the show," the man said and that's what he did."

Walter Wadsley, president of the determined finally. And it is in the Senate that we must now concentrate our energies not merely to prevent any weakening of the bill but rather to have it strengthened to meet more fully the demands of the present racial crisis."

Sac County Fair Board, said the man who ordered the closing is Sheldon Shorter, operator of several concessions that go by the name of Greater Shorter Shows.

No Further Action

Wadsley said that the fair was to end Wednesday and that officials planned no further action.

McArthur, a construction worker for the Martin Mauer Co. of Sac City, is the only Negro living in Sac City, Maas said.

McArthur, who said he came to Iowa several months ago from Brooklyn, N. Y., asserted he is seeking to make a complaint to the Iowa Civil Rights Commission about the Tuesday show incident.

Receive Ford

Foundation Grant

New York — Three programs to train community workers — mainly from poor neighborhoods — will be assisted by grants announced today by the Ford Foundation: among them is $300,000 to the National Council of Negro Women for the recruitment and training of Negro women in community service, both on a volunteer and a paid basis.

The National Council of Negro Women, which was organized in 1936 by the late Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, will apply its grant to train 6,000 women volunteers and to establish a national corps of ninety Negro women equipped to train other women for paid and volunteer service. The grant will finance expansion of the council's staff, which now has only two full-time professionals. Training will take place in thirty cities, and participants will be

Demand Grievance Board, Strict Rules for Riot Guns Be Established and Used

About 60 persons Saturday marched on Des Moines police headquarters and demanded that a 20-member 'grievance board' be appointed and that the department set stringent rules on the use of riot guns. However, when the group arrived at Police headquarters some name-calling and police taunting occurred and several rights leaders were shouted down when they attempted to quell the disturbance.

The integrated march was precipitated by the recent shooting of Dwight Green, 20, by a policeman with a riot gun. Persons in the march ranged from late teens to early 20s.

The demands drew opposition from Capt. Wendell E. Nichols, administrative assistant to Police Veer V. Douglas.

City Council

Nichols said, however, that decision on such policy matters are made by the City Council. Some marchers, who voiced protests of the Green shooting and alleged police brutality in general, said they may take their demands to the City Council.

Nichols told a delegation of marchers in his office that a warning shot is inadvisable because a suspect would have more time to flee. Innocent bystanders might be wounded, he added.

The delegation asked why Officer Park couldn't have used a pistol instead of the 12-gauge riot shotgun. It Warrick, who said the youth was attempting to steal a car. Officer Park was with Warrick in that incident.

Before the meeting, about 200 persons demanded Nichols talk to the whole group assembled on the police station steps.

Nichols, substituting for Chief Douglas, who was reported to be out of town, said he had an agreement to meet in his office only with a delegation, not a crowd.

Catcalls, Boos

There were catcalls, booing and denunciations of the police force. At one point, Carter pulled Nichols by the arm toward a microphone, insisting Nichols answer to the whole group.

Later, Carter shouted down Robert A. Wright, president of the Des Moines chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Wright was arguing that was stated that Park is an expert with a pistol.

Iowa Law

Nichols said Iowa law and local police policy leave the choice of weapons up to the officer. He added that many times the shotgun is a good deterrent.

In addition to the Green case, the delegation also brought up the wounding of Joseph Gomez, 16, who was shot last September by Officer Robert the police are "attempting to create

Protest Police Brutality Form Citizens Committee Here

BY ELEANORA TATE

The Aug. 19 demonstration against "police brutality" sparked a new organization, the Citizens Committee to End Police Brutality, set up to make the community aware of civilian mistreatment by police. Organized Aug. 20 at Goode Park, its first aims are for the removal of shotguns from patrolmen's cars and a review board to investigate such police violations as shotgunnings, miss-arrests and "trips up the elevator". This term generally connotes a beating by the police as a prisoner is riding up to his cell.

Pat Williams, 18, one of the more outspoken members of the Committee, told of various incidents which she feels led to last Friday's demonstration. "The shooting of the Gomez boy, trips up the elevator, and the miss-arrest by police of some Negro boys added to the tension. Not long ago the police arrested some boys who had gotten in a fight with some Navy men who had insulted a colored lady in a train station. The police let the soldiers go, but had the boys put in jail without a thorough investigation.

Review

"We want to appoint a review board, but Captain Nichols was against everything we suggested when we talked with him. He said that he wouldn't go along with demands of a few, but if everyone in Iowa wanted a board, he'd go along. He said that a review board would have authority without responsibility."

Spokesmen

"The Committee," Miss Williams explained, "has no officers, but there are several spokesmen, such as James Dunn, a social worker, Larry Carter, Tyrone Helmen and Ronnie Simmons. There is no predominant age or racial grouping within its ranks, although it seems that most brutality cases involve Negroes."

"People," Miss Williams said, "must be made aware of police brutality before it happens to them."

The Committee plans to hold a rally, Sunday, Aug. 28 at 3 P.M. at East 1 street and Grand, by the river.

NONWHITE JOBLESS RATE HOLDS STEADY AT 7.9% AS NATION'S OVERALL RATE DROPS TO 3.9%

Washington, D.C. — The Nation's civilian unemployment rate edged down from 4.0 to 3.9 percent in July, but the jobless rate among nonwhites held steady at 7.9 percent.

This was reported in Bureau of Labor Statistics data which also revealed that the nonwhite unemployment rate stayed more than twice as high as the 3.4 percent rate among whites.

Over the year, however, the non-white jobless rate fell one full percentage point, while that of whites dropped only six-tenths of one percent.

Nevertheless, unemployment among nonwhite workers, at 800,000, accounted for one-quarter of all the jobless persons in the Nation, the data shows.

In July, total employment pushed to an all-time high of 76.4 million — 1.6 million more than a year ago.

While farm employment continued its long-term downward trend, non-farm employment registered 63.8 million or 3.1 more than in July 1965.

In addition, teenage employment in July was 900,000 greater than a year ago.

Chicago Gets Court Injunction Against Marchers

Chicago, Ill. — Nobel Peace Prize winner Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Friday denounced an injunction obtained by the City of Chicago, limiting the number and size of civil rights demonstrations.

The injunction bans any group from sponsoring more than one march at a time within the city limits. Sunday two open-housing marches were held by Dr. King. They were greeted by jeers, rocks and firecrackers but heavy rain prevented any violence.

Criticism

King said when told of the suit: "It is very unjust, illegal and unconstitutional. We are prepared to put thousands in the street if need be. The city hasn't seen the number of people we can put there."

The temporary injunction was issued by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in Cook County Circuit Court about two hours after the city filed suit seeking it.

Actions Restrained

The order restrains King and his associates in the Chicago Freedom Movement from:

Holding marches in more than one area of the city on any one day.

ELKS DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION WILL GRANT $60,000 IN SCHOLARSHIPS

Memphis, Tenn. — George W. Lee, Grand Commissioner of Education of Memphis, Tenn. has announced from his office at 526 Beale street, that the goal of $60,000 in scholarships for bright young students had about been reached. "Prior to last year, Mr. Less stated, "our department gave on an average of seven new scholarships per year. Our 1966 Scholarship Roll will contain the names of more than 75 students to which our order will extend scholarship aid in addition to the 44 students already on roll which will make a total of 119 students receiving aid from the scholarship fund. Of these, five are white students."

Since 1925

Since 1925, this effort of the I. B. P. O. E. of W. has recruited high school students to speak on some phase of the American Constitution to arouse the Negro from his complacency and teach him the privileges and concessions set down in this historical document. More than 1,295 students speak each year to a collective audience of more than 500,000 people.

Dedication

In the 41 years of the Department of Education's existence, more than two million and one half dollars have been raised by dedicated men and women of the antlered herd throughout the states and regions covered by the Negro Elks which proves the Negro's capacity and willingness to do for himself. "I believe," Lee said, "that the future of the Negro lies in fishing with the thin net of education for exceptionally endowed young men and women and developing their full potentials."

The feature of our Grand Lodge Program will be a banquet saluting State Presidents who have raised $500 or more for the scholarship fund. Dr. Kenneth W. Clement, a diplomate of the American Board of Surgeons, and a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, President of Morehouse College of Atlanta, Georgia, will deliver the Baccalaureate message.

National Contest

At the National Oratorical Contest, Monday night, Aug. 22, held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Grand Exalted Ruler, Hobson R. Reynolds, presented the Alumni of the Year Award to Mr. William T. Patrick, Jr., a member of the Common Council of the City of Detroit, Mich., who earned an Elks Scholarship in 1937. And Grand Daughter Ruler, Nettie B. Smith, presented an award to Mrs. Inetrix Jones, Chief Dietician at the Woman's Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, as the winner of the first Oratorical Contest when the Grand Lodge met in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1926.

Harrington set no date for a hearing on making the injunction permanent.

Rev. Martin Luther King

The suit contended the city faced "a clear and present danger of riot" if multiple marches continued.

Protesting Bias

King and his associates have led repeated marches to all-white neighborhoods in recent weeks in protest against alleged racial bias in the sale and rental of homes and apartments. The drive for open occupancy has been met with violence by white residents.

Earl Bush, press secretary to Mayor Richard J. Daley, said the action does not seek to prohibit the parades, but to regulate them.

Bush said the suit was filed in behalf of the city and the police superintendent, Orlando W. Wilson.

Not Enough Police

When civil rights leaders began scheduling multiple demonstrations at various locations simultaneously, Wilson announced that the police force was too small to control the marches and hold down Chicago's crime rate at the same time.

On Wednesday, Aug. 17 King rejected Daley's plea for a moratorium on the marches. After a 10-hour meeting with the mayor and the Chicago Board of Real Estate, King said city and realty spokesmen had not guaranteed open occupancy so he would not call a moratorium.

Some machines even have a high-school education

(Shouldn't you do at least that well?)

Even a machine needs a good education to get a good job today. So the message should be clear to you.

Jobs are becoming much more complicated. Much more demanding. And that's why more and more employers are insisting on a good education as the number-one job requirement.

Now more than ever, a good education isn't some kind of luxury. It's an absolute necessity!

The plain fact is . . . to get a good job today, you need a good education. So don't let anything stop you from getting one.

If you're in school now . . . stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. For full details, talk to the Youth Counselor at your State Employment Service. Or visit a Youth Opportunity Center.

Iowans Point Out Needs and Reasons for Education or Vocations

The following are excerpt statements from representative professions and vocations in Des Moines, expressing their opinions why youths of today should stay in or return to school and the values of an education. Several of the representatives appeared in a similar sponsored ad project last year.

• MRS. MARRI JOHNSON, Medical secretary in Psychiatrist department of Veterans hospital: "Tools of some sort are necessary in doing any job. An education is precisely this—tools for life's pursuits. It might be a good idea to acquire these tools early—like first?"

• SILAS S. EWING, Accounting Department manager at Preferred Risk Insurance Company: "A college education is a most important tool for better living, although the guarantee is not in education but in the individual. The latter is complemented by the former. A college degree or any degree of higher learning is not an automatic passport to higher earnings or better way of life but it materially enhances the possibilities."

• MARGUERITE COTHORN, Executive director of the Council of Social Agencies: "Negro youth has today the greatest opportunity to be an individual to achieve and to be recognized for their own abilities. Staying in school, learning a skill, assuming responsibility, and developing character are the tools by which you take advantage of opportunities today and tomorrow."

• JULIUS S. CONNER, M.D., Director of Public Health Des Moines-Polk County Health Department: "School attendance until the sixteenth birthday is a necessity for minimum independent existence. However, education and training beyond high school is essential for achieving one's maximum potential in this complex society. Only prepared persons are capable of meeting life's responsibilities for themselves, their families and the community."

• STANLEY E. PROCTOR, Postal Clerk Examiner: "In today's world education is the brightest hope for the future of youth. You are urged to take advantage of the educational opportunities of the present that you may be prepared for a successful future."

• REV. N. E. OLPHIN, Minister, Corinthian Baptist Church, Des Moines, Iowa: Four years in college receiving the A.B. degree; two and a half years in Seminary; one year at Va. Union University; three years at other Seminaries in Church History, Theology, Homiletics, etc. at Bloomfield Seminary in N.J., a part of Princeton University, Andrew Newton Theological Seminary in N. Y. City. Periodic refresher courses. One at the Drake School of Religion. Altogether the number of years spent in school were more than 18½ years. In other words one never stops studying. Learning is a continuing process.

• DR. H. D. HARPER, Physician and Surgeon, Ft. Madison: I spent four years at University of Iowa, four years at Howard University Medical school and two years in post graduate work. For me those ten years were most enjoyable because I had my dreams, and dreams are the stuff that one's future is made of.

The "Drop Outs" had no dreams. Their future was already shaped, today, tomorrow and forever the same.

• FRANK B. ROBINSON, SR., Assistant Superintendent, Delivery and Collections, U.S. Post Office: University of Iowa, two years; Drake Community College, one year; completed extension work in labor-management relations, International Correspondence School, Eastern Michigan University; Postal service for twenty-five years.

• MALCOLM C. HOGAN, Auditor, Internal Revenue Service: Tax examiner with the Internal Revenue Service since 1954, progress from a file clerk to his present job as a tax technician. Qualification: Completed or expected to complete within 9 months a 4-year course leading toward a bachelor's degree; or 3 years of experience in administration, professional or other responsible work or, had equivalent combination of educational experience. The principal subjects for qualifying were accounting and economics, finance, business administration and law.

• LACEY SPRIGGS, Principal of Irving Junior High: "It is self evident that we are lagging behind in preparation for job opportunities available today. If we are going to progress as a group or individual, we have to close this gap fast and the only way is through education."

• TURNER BELL, department foreman at Armstrong Rubber company: "One of the decisions a youngster in American needs to make is to choose one of the constructive, educational courses being offered today and follow through to its conclusion."

• MRS. ELAINE ESTES, First assistant in Reference Department of Public Library of Des Moines: "We live in an era of continuing education. Schooling no longer ends with a high school diploma or a college degree. One cannot meet the demands of society whether in the home or on the job. We should all be prepared to take advantage of the many forms of entertainment and recreational facilities available in the community. Education teaches us how to live and to grow old gracefully."

• W. L. OLIVER, Attorney at law: "The prime reason for education is that there is nothing in the world today for the person without formal education." Technology requires a formal education for survival. Education provides a person with a foundation for better living."

Low Rent Housing Voted for Nov. Ballot

After a relatively short discussion the City Council Monday voted unanimously to place the "Two Rivers Low Rent Housing Project" on the Nov. 8 ballot here.

The project calling for construction of 600 low-rent units and 250 units of rehabilitated and leased housing would cost a maximum of $12,875,000. The project had been worked on for several months by the Des Moines Low Rent Housing Agency.

10% to City

William Poorman, chairman of the agency, explained that the federally backed bond issue financing the project would cost the city nothing.

Poorman said that 10 per cent of the rents collected in the housing project may be paid to the city in lieu of taxes and would be "about double" what the city would get in property taxes.

Wendell Gibson, member of the housing agency, said that "real estate people have not voiced any opposition to this project."

Whispering

Gibson said he hopes there will be no "whispering campaign" like that which, he said, helped to defeat the project in 1961.

"We are five years behind," said Gibson, "There has been a great deal of human misery which need not have been caused."

Robert Conley, another agency member and a former city councilman, said he felt the housing agency was "very conservative" in allocating only 600 new units, which, he said, may not be keeping pace with those now being removed by urban renewal and other projects.

The only opposition voiced at the meeting was by Harold Belken of 416 E. Gray st., who objected to one of the five proposed housing sites in the Stone Park area.

This one would be built on a four-acre site bounded by S. E. Third and S. E. Park and Gary street.

Belken presented a petition he said carried the names of over 100 protesters.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Johnson and sons, Mason Jr., Donald Patrick, and Wilford spent a wonderful 14 days visiting in Los Angeles, Calif. recently. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gatson and Mrs. Edna Steen. Mr. Gatson is Mrs. Johnson's brother, and Mrs. Steen is her sister. Through the Johnsons it was pleasing to hear from Susie Lee-Norman that she reads our column each week. Susie will be remembered by many as Susie Lee, and by others as the widow of the late Dr.
H. A. Martin of Dubuque. We do hope to hear from her again.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Burke have returned from Aspen, Colo. There they visited Francis Oliver-Taylor and her husband Joe, who is a carpenter. Aspen is known as a ski resort in winter and is famous for music festivals in summer, I am told.

Passing through Waterloo enroute to Michigan and other points, Mr.
and Mrs. Trenton Johnson and son LaVerne and Miss Josie Campbell of Mt. Pleasant stopped by to see Mrs.
Bertha Holt.

Two showers were given for Mrs.
Verona Cook Stevenson. A personal shower with 10 a.m. coffee was given by Fannie Bell Graves and Mrs.
Theo Penn, and a paper shower was later given by Mrs. Penn and Mrs.
Leora Roberts.

On Sept. 3 at high noon Mrs. Stevenson and Mr. John Trosper of Sioux City will be married. They expect to reside there.

Governor Backs Civil Rights Comm. Probe
Into Driver Case

Gov. Harold Hughes said he has directed the State Employment Security Commission "to co-operate 100 per cent" with the Iowa Civil Rights Commission in the investigation into the Raymond Driver case.

Hughes said he is opposed to a directive by Henry Carter, chairman of the Employment Commission, that would force the rights unit to question state employees only if a lawyer of the commission is present.

The governor said an Employment Security Commission lawyer should be present during a questioning session only if the commission employee requests it.

Hughes' comment came after James Thomas, state civil rights director said his agency's probe into the Driver case has been stymied because of the refusal of the employment commission to permit its employees to confer privately with the Civil Rights Commission.

Driver was chief of the Youth Opportunity Center here before he resigned on June 30, stating later that he criticized some union policies in regard to accepting Negro apprentices.

IN THE MATTER OF THE TRUST OF KALMAN MUSIN, Deceased,
Known as Kalman A. Musin.
TO: BERNICE R. MUSIN, WIDOW;
DORIS HENI MUSIN, HOWARD ALAN
MUSIN, STEPHEN AARON MUSIN,
MINOR CHILDREN OF KALMAN MUSIN,
DECEASED; AND BERNICE R. MUSIN, YVETTE HARRIS, EXECUTOR OF THE ESTATE OF KALMAN MUSIN, PROBATE
NO. 5426, MELLON A. TONINI, ATTOR-NEY FOR YVETTE HARRIS, EXECUTOR OF THE ESTATE OF KALMAN MUSIN; AND TO THE UNKNOWN AND UNBORN
CHILDREN, LAWFUL DESCENDANTS
AND HEIRS AT LAW OF KALMAN MUSIN, ALSO KNOWN AS KALMAN A.
MUSIN, BERNICE R. MUSIN, DORIS HENI MUSIN, HOWARD ALAN MUSIN AND STEPHEN AARON MUSIN.

YOU and each of you are hereby notified that on the 2nd day of August, 1966, Valley Bank and Trust Company, Trustee under a Trust Agreement (hereinafter called "Trust") made and executed the 19th day of November, 1959, between Kalman Musin and Applicant, as Trustee, did file an application in the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Polk County, located in Des Moines, Iowa, writ application stated, in part, as follows:

1. That the decedent, Kalman Musin, unwillingly with the execution of the Trust hereinabove referred to, executed a Will (later revoked) that provided that certain assets should be delivered to the Trustee and disposed of pursuant to the Trust Agreement.

2. That on the 6th day of May, 1965, the decedent, Kalman Musin, executed a Last Will and Testament, effectively revoking the former will referred to in paragraph 1 of this notice, and on the 12th day of May, 1965, the decedent executed a codicil to his Last Will and Testament dated May 6, 1965.

3. That the decedent departed this life the 16th day of August, 1965, and Yvette Harris was duly appointed Executor under the Last Will and Testament dated May 6, 1965, and Codicil thereto.

4. That on or before June 3, 1965, the decedent requested the withdrawal of all Trust assets from the Trustee, son-sisting of insurance certificates and policies, for the purpose of revocation and execution of change of beneficiary thereon, but the subject to his death, it was determined that with respect to American Mutual Life Insurance Company policy
No. 23, dated December 1, 1959, no change of beneficiary had been submitted by the decedent, although with respect to all other insurance policies delivered to said Trust, designation had been declared.

5. That the act of this decedent in requesting delivery of said insurance policies and certificates for the purpose of change in the beneficiary and the execution of the Last Will and Testament, inconsistent with the Trust and Former Will, raises the question as to whether or not the decedent did not intend, as did in fact, revoke the provisions of the Trust, and that it is necessary that the Court construe the Trust in the light of these existing facts, and instruct the Trustee, with reference to the disposition of the assets of the Trust, being hereinafter mentioned.

6. Said application further prays that the Court in the exercise of its Trustee and its successor, both for ordinary and extraordinary, appoint a guardian ad litem and for such other relief as the Court may deem proper in the circumstances.
For further details, see copy of application now on file in the above identified proceedings.

YOU are hereby further notified that pursuant to order of the District Court of the State of Iowa in and for Polk County entered on the 2nd day of August, 1966, all persons named in this notice shall appear at the hearing on said application to be held the 19th day of October, 1966, at 9:00 A.M., Central Daylight Time, before the Probate Court, Room No.
414, at the Polk County Court House located at 5th and Mulberry Streets in the City of Des Moines, Polk County,

HEALTH FOR ALL

THE GERM THAT GETS AROUND

Music with its charms may soothe the savage beast, but at times music-making can bring out the worst in one of man's most dangerous enemies — the TB germ.

Why music? Because it has been known under certain conditions to furnish the TB organism with a ready means of transportation from an infected person to one or more possible victims. Its favorite mode of travel is via the tiny droplets of moisture that people emit not just when coughing or sneezing, but even when laughing, singing, or otherwise expelling air from their breathing organs.

Devil Germ

And so, when people get together to sing or play wind instruments and one of them has TB in its active (communicable) form, that old devil germ has a good chance to hitch a person-to-person ride and set up shop in new territory.

Which is exactly what happened in a couple of recent instances where local epidemics occurred. In an Arkansas boys' school an outbreak of the disease was traced to a member of the school choir who had active tuberculosis and possessed it on to some of his fellow songsters. In another case, a clarinet player in a British military band infected eight other musicians before a doctor diagnosed his active TB and stopped

Albert Fox preaching.

Starting at 11 a. m. Saturday, Aug. 27 the Y's will be serving chicken and fish dinners. Eat at the church or call 288-2391 for delivery

All kids are asked to come Saturday at 10 a. m. and bring their pets and friends to the Pet Parade and show. Prizes will be awarded. Baths and decorations will be available to make each pet look pretty.

The first Quarterly conference of this conference year will be held Monday, Aug. 29 at 7:30 p. m. at the church.

the music.

Eradication

All this doesn't mean that the campaign to eradicate TB should include music eradication. But it does underline the importance of tuberculin tests and chest R-rays as detection devices. In the case of children, experts recommend a TB checkup on entering school and on reaching the seventh grade. In between, parents are advised to see that Junior gets a tuberculin test when he goes to the doctor for his annual medical checkup.

All teachers, bus drivers, and other adults who associate with children should have regular TB checkups. As for persons young or old who live or work in close community, the nonmusical lesson of the military band speaks for itself.

West Coast Visitors At Mrs. Jackson's

Mrs. Nancy Jackson of 1653 Walker street had as her guests Aug. 1-6, her father, Mr. George Sampson of Mason City and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Dixon and daughter, Lisa, of Los Angeles, Calif. Many courtesies were extended them.

We may be a little reluctant to recognize it, but fall is just around the corner as our October temperatures have been chillingly reminding us this past week. With school opening just hours away, thousands of youngsters will flock back to school prettily attired for the good old school days.

Some will tell you, You can't expect better weather since this is Fair week. And to some extent their presumptions are true since it seldom fails to rain during part of the State Fair.

In our lives, all of us have hours, days, weeks or even whole months when nothing seems to go right; it seems as if our life is just off kilter as the rest of the world goes whirling by. This is just about the kind of summer Mrs. William (Venita) Wells, 680 26th street, has had.

Besides being plagued by colds, laryngitis or flu from time to time, one of the employees at the Internal Medical Clinic, where she works, quit suddenly to get married and Mrs. Wells had the job of training a new girl. This has required her working on Saturdays, something she has not had to do before.

Then shortly before she was scheduled to go to Atlanta, Ga., for the Jack and Jill national convention, she was called at work by her babysitter and informed she was quitting.

Mrs. Wells' mother, Mrs. Ethel Quincy of 1079 12th street, and her son, Steven, went to the International convention of Jehovah Witnesses in Canada and enroute home stopped in Minneapolis, Minn., for a visit with another daughter, Mrs. Cecil Newman.

One Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Wells after returning from work received a call from her sister, telling her their mother was in the hospital and critically ill. Mrs. Wells, hurriedly checked on available air flights and in a matter of hours with her youngest, Andra, was flying to Minneapolis.

She has flown before and didn't think too much of it, but she had ahead of her one of her most harrowing experiences. When the plane left Waterloo, the stewardess announced that they were approaching a severe storm, but that they would only be flying 23 minutes before reaching their next destination, Rochester, Minn. She also announced that the radar would pick up any funnels if there were any.

"It was awful!" Mrs. Wells recalled. "Lightning lit up the sky and the plane dipped and it seems as if we were flipping over cloud after cloud. Andra started crying (he is 6) and I was scared to death. I have never experienced anything like it in my life."

Mrs. Wells said, "It was pouring rain when we landed in Rochester and then we took off again. But at least, the ride was smooth from there to Minneapolis."

Mrs. Wells' relatives in Minneapolis spent anxious moments there after being told that a plane had crashed. They all learned later that the plane which was an hour behind the one in which Mrs. Wells and her son flew, had crashed with 42 fatalities.

Mrs. Wells returned the following day after visiting her ill mother and despite her nerve wracking ordeal, returned to work that Monday. For days it was touch and go with her mother, but the story had its happy ending.

Her mother returned home last Sunday, and though some what weak from her illness, is doing nicely at home.

We noticed that among the some 300 new teachers joining the Des Moines public school system are Mrs. Robert (Charlotte) Parks of 1929 Buffalo road who will teach first grade at Bird school and Anne

BACK TO SCHOOL
VERY IMPORTANT

Reopening school for the fall term begins next week; for some areas, following Labor Day. As an incentive for youngsters to return to school and stay in school until their course is completed, several business concerns have joined the Bystander in sponsoring a "Back to School Ad."

In addition, several citizens, who have stayed in school and completed their education or stuck to a trade which they started out to learn, have added their endorsement.

In these days of automation and more technical skill, the requirements for training gets higher and higher. And those who manage to remain in school or work hard to complete their training get the best jobs.

More and more, opportunities are available for Negroes everywhere. In some areas, there are more opportunities for trained people than are to fill them. When the opening comes, there is little time left to prepare.

Today, youngsters have opportunities that did not exist ten years ago. There are scholarship, grants and loans to the deserving. Many students have worked their way through school and have gone on to high success in their chosen fields.

Much must be done to encourage youngsters to get more education and training.

WE CAN'T GO ALL THE WAY

Appearing on a special "Meet the Press" on the NBC Television Sunday were the heads of the leading civil rights movements in the country. Questions by newsmen attempted repeatedly to draw criticism from each of the other but without results.

Two significant statements were made which deserve attention:

Cornichael stated, and was backed up by James Meredith, that Negroes should arm themselves against white people when law enforcement officials fail to apprehend criminals who commit depredations against them and are not punished.

With this, of course, we disagree. Such a course is impractical and tends to stir up trouble without any hope of success.

Whitney Young of the Urban League criticized the progress being made by the Equal Opportunity Program, complaining that instead of enforcing the law they were floundering around trying to secure voluntary compliance by the offenders. Such a program tends to defeat efforts to secure compliance.

Definitely, Roy Wilkins' answers were more sound, yet firm—a position which the NAACP has pursued over the years with great success.

"POLICE BRUTALITY"
PLAYING ON WORDS

There are those in Des Moines who wish to make headlines over police brutality rather than illegal conduct by individual officers.

Last week an unfortunate incident occurred when a Negro charged with burglary was killed by an officer when he refused to halt on the spot.

The killing raises a serious question whether it is better to let a burglar escape than kill him.

A group marched to the police station last week with demands that a civilian board be set up to investigate "Police Brutality" and that the use of riot guns be discontinued.

The Bystander does not believe that police brutality in Des Moines has reached the proportion that complaints cannot be dealt with by appeal to the city manager, chief of police and/or the civil service commission. It must be admitted, however, that appeal boards made up of policemen make the appeal board the respondent, the prosecutor and the judge. Consequently they are prosecutor and judge at the same time.

Youngsters are often hotheads, copycats, and lose sight of intelligent actions because of their immaturity. Yet, they desire to be supported when their action is contrary to law and order. No matter what the complaint, when good judgment is thrown out the window, these people make trouble for themselves and others seeking to right their wrongs.

We wonder if another Arthur Ashe is going to be able to get into shape in time for the home stretch of the Davis Cup tennis matches. Of course, we don't really know how much tennis the guy played while serving his reserve hitch in the army. But the competition wasn't as sharp and that makes a difference. This could be the year we get back the big mug from down under and we just might keep it awhile.

So the heavyweight boxing champion of the world takes on two opponents pretty quick—his draft board and the German heavy. His chances against the German are better than his chances against his draft board. And did you notice that Ernie Terrell was quietly ganted a licence to box in the state of New York. Now, if they can think up some way to squeeze Cassius Clay through we may yet have that bout that was called off a while back. With the champ drawing huge crowds in Europe while our promoters sit on their hands, they had better come up with something to keep the heavyweight's interest in boxing over where some people think it belongs.

As we write this, the Cleveland Browns' minus Jim Brown, seem to be doing all right, at least in exhibition games. They have won all of them to date. The club always had a sound defence. The players weren't singled out as all stars, but they worked together as a unit. The chances are that without Brown, the Cleveland boys have to come up with something else in record on third down and short yardage. Now everybody in the ball park won't be able to guess who will carry the ball in those situations.

Baseball

And meanwhile back in the baseball business. Willie Mays struggles to hit 714 homers before he retires. And the National League pennant race is another one of those closer than 99 to 100 affairs.

We would say if the Dodgers don't win the pennant, Baltimore will be a good bet to win the Series. The Club has what it takes to win a short Series, such as good hitting players, and top flight throwing. But if the Dodgtr make it we must go with Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale.

50 Minutes

The march started at 5:45 p.m. from Wilkie House, 900 Seventeenth st. The marchers had a parade permit and were given a police escort. Sympathizers in cars rode behind the marchers and joined the demonstration at police headquarters.

The three-mile, 50-minute march coursed from Wilkie House south on 17th, east on Center and Keosauqua Way, south on 9th and east on Locust to the police station.

Demonstrators' signs said: "Thou Shalt Not Kill," "My Back is Turned, Don't Shoot," "Are You Protected?," "End Police Brutality," "How Many More?," "Peace or Else," "Hire Humans on the Police Force," "Solve Murders, Don't Commit Them," "Police Farce," and "We Need Cops With a Conscience."

There were no incidents during the march.

Marshals

Apparent leadership in the march was vested in three or four youths, themselves led by James N. Dunn, about 30, a former settlement house worker. This summer, Dunn has been directing a group of youths living in the Southeast Bottoms and working with Marshals there.

Marshals in the march were Earl Hamilton, 23, of 1620 Thirteenth St.; Ronald Dean Simmons, 19, of 1306 Clark St.; Tyrone Helmon, 20, of 1289 E. Nineteenth St.; James Wadsworth, 24, of 1410 E. Eighteenth St.; Floyd Shade, 20, of 617 S. E. Maury St.; and Herman Baring, 22, of 830 Seventeenth St.

Perry Hooks, executive director of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission, and a staff member, Sam Stampley, were among the adults following the march.

Can Willie Mays Be Manger?
Jackie Robinson Says 'No!'

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 — "I don't know about Willie Mays as a manager," says Baseball Hall-of-Famer Jackie Robinson in an article in the current issue of SPORT magazine.

"I think he knows baseball, I think he has all of the ability," continues the former Brooklyn Dodger infielder, "but besides having baseball ability you're also going to have to be a standup kind of a guy or else you're going to run into trouble with the Negro population."

Race Issue

"If you're not willing to stand up on the race issue — and I'm not sure Willie, as a manager, will stand up on the race issues — then you will run into trouble. That goes for anybody who isn't willing to stand up on issues that are important to the masses of the people," concludes Robinson in his evaluation of Mays as a manager.

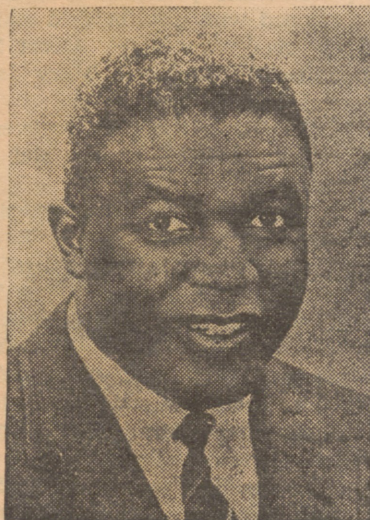

Possibilities

"In my opinion, the best Negro managerial possibilities in baseball today are guys like Bill White, Elston Howard, Wes Covington, Ernie Banks, and Hank Aaron," volunteers Jackie in the SPORT magazine interview. "I know these guys will stand up and be counted."

Beginning to Change

However, with Robinson himself

having been appointed general manager of the Continental Football League's Brooklyn Dodger franchise, and with Bill Russell having been appointed coach of the Boston Celtics, Jackie concedes that things are beginning to change.

"I think that the progress is going to continue," says Robinson. "I would certainly like to see it spread out from the playing field into ownership and management. The owners have to have the courage and the guts to do it," concludes Jackie in the SPORT article.

Basketball Players
On World Tour

An all-star team of basketball players, sponsored by the Gulf Oil Corporation, has embarked on a worldwide tour which began in Luxembourg, Aug. 2, and ends in South America sometime in 1967. It is believed to be the most extensive privately sponsored tour taken by American amateur basketball players who customarily participate in such trips under sponsorship of the U. S. State Department.

The squad, selected from 20 who trained in July at St. Joseph's College field house in Philadelphia, Pa., consists of some All-American choices and numerous sectional stars. They will be coached by James McGregor, former Whitworth College and New Mexico State University mentor who has been coach for numerous foreign national teams since 1953.

Dorothy Heights Gets Training Award

Washington, D. C. — Miss Dorothy I. Height, President of the National Council of Negro Women announced today a training grant award of $154,193.00. The Commissioner of Welfare, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare approved the application submitted by the Council through the Office of Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Development.

Trainees will be women from varied backgrounds and experiences who will be trained to work as volunteers with pre-delinquent and delinquent girls.

The target population is made up of girls who are at the bottom of the economic and educational ladder. In alarming numbers the non-white teen age girls out of school and out of work looms in larger proportions than any other group in the population today. Many of these girls have been isolated from the mainstream of life and living; they have never been a part of nor able to cope with the traditional agencies, programs and services of the community.

The grant award is for the period Aug. 15, 1966 to Aug. 14, 1967.

Start Right Away

If you want to be happy,
Then start right away
Doing one kindness
For someone each day.
Scatter some sunshine,
Forget about self,
And put all your worries

Away on a shelf.

If you want to be happy,
Just begin to be glad,
Keep thinking of others
And never be sad;
And don't wait till tomorrow
But start right away
Just doing one kindness
For someone each day.

Lucky Wig Winner

Mrs. Sadye Taylor, 1131 9th street, was the lucky wig winner offered by National Wig Company of 2302 University avenue, which also advertises in this newspaper.

MRS. TAYLOR

Mrs. Taylor said, "The phone rang and I was told I had won a beautiful $100 wig."

Mrs. Taylor, who attends St. Ambrose Cathedral, is the mother of three sons, Norman who is working on his masters degree at Illinois State University; James who is working for and indisputably at the top of the heap of all recognized leaders."

In a leadership sample, which the magazine described as a "good deal more sophisticated in how it rates the men in the forefront of the movement," Dr. King was on top by 87 per cent.

Laugh Lines

Little Jimmie's Mother had a streak of white hair that she had always concealed among the rest of her dark hair. When light streaks came in style she decide to let it show.

"The first time she did her son looked up at her admiringly, and said, "Gee, mom, you sure look nice. Just like a skunk."

"The traffic cop was explaining to an indignant matron that she had wandered over the double line three times, ignored a stop sign, and executed an illegal left turn.

"The trouble with your policemen," the woman protested, "is you spend all your time picking on respectable citizens. Why don't you catch some of these drunk drivers for a change?"

"Madam," was the soft reply, "I thought I had one."
