

Howard U. Celebrates 100th Anniversary

Washington, D.C. — Howard University will inaugurate the year-long observance of its 100th anniversary Monday, Sept. 19, with exercises at Cramton Auditorium. The formal opening program will be the first of more than 100 planned for 1966-67 in conjunction with the Centennial. Each of the programs will be devoted to the Centennial theme, "The University in a Changing Society."

Vice President Humphrey will be the principal speaker at Monday's exercises. The University will confer the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters upon him.

Charter Day

The highlight of the year is expected to be the annual Charter Day exercises, set for March 2, 1967, the 100th anniversary date. It was on March 2, 1867 that President Andrew Johnson signed into law the charter establishing the University, which had been enacted earlier by the 39th Congress.

The first Centennial program will have a local emphasis, according to Howard officials. During the exercises the University's contribution to the Washington community during the past 100 years and the community's contribution to Howard will be stressed. Participants in the Formal Opening program will include ranking District Government officials, local leaders in business, education, religion, and the arts, and civic and fraternal leaders.

were qualified to fulfil those positions.

"The Des Moines Branch NAACP was quite shocked last Thursday when we learned that the Greater Des Moines Chamber of Commerce did not wish to have its name added to the 'good neighbor pledge' being sponsored by the Des Moines Commission of Human Rights. When we received our request to support this effort, the NAACP felt that this would improve race relation matters and foster a greater degree of understanding. We think it would be regrettable if the Chamber of Commerce remains adamant on this very simple issue," said Robert Wright, President.

Omaha

"It is significant to note that the city of Omaha is having its problems because the community leaders do not wish to recognize the problems that exist and fail to move forward in that community. We are extremely proud of many of the attributes we have, but we think it is important to continue to move if we are to remain as one of the leading midwestern cities and make progress in the field of human relations as we have in the past.

"The NAACP commends the Human Rights Commission for making an extra effort in trying to get the support of the business community in this effort."

Julian Bond Quits S.N.C.C. in NAACP

Julian Bond, the Negro who has been denied a seat in the Georgia House for his Viet Nam and draft views, resigned in Atlanta, Ga., as publicity director of the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee (S.N.C.C.). He had been with the militant civil rights group five years. Last year he endorsed S. N. C. C. statements denouncing U. S. policy in Viet Nam and said he admired the courage of anyone who would burn his draft card. The Georgia House refused to seat Bond twice. He is a candidate for reelection in this month's Democratic primary.

Bond told a Negro radio station there were many reasons for his resignation. "There are things I want to do and S. N. C. C. is doing some things I don't want to do," he said. "But primarily it's because I'm 26 years old now and it's time to find out if there's anything I can do and if I can do anything at all." Bond said he hopes to become active in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, of which he is a member.

LDF Attorney Hit U. S. Steel Firms

Birmingham, Ala. — Job bias cases against five Southern industrial giants were heard in Federal District Court here this week, part of a massive drive by Legal Defense and Educational Fund (LDF) attorneys.

It marked the first time a Federal Court heard this many labor discrimination cases at one sitting.

LDF lawyers named the United States Steel Corporation as defendants in two separate cases.

The general complaints against these companies are: a) Maintenance of segregated job categories. b) Maintenance of differential hiring rates for Negro and white employees performing the same duties. c) Segregated facilities for Negro employees. d) Maintaining separate lines of progression.

In four of these cases the local workers unions are also named as co-defendants. The defendant-unions are charged with failure to properly represent the Negro employees.

The unions involved in the suits are: Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America; International Molders and Allied Workers Union; United Steel Workers of America; and the United Mine Workers of America.

Seven cases were originally filed in the Birmingham area. However, the case against the U.S. Pipe & Foundry Co. was settled out of court, by officials of the NAACP, a separate organization from the Legal Defense Fund.

Walnut Hill to Cook Chicken Dinner Sat.

The Walnut Hill Improvement Association will have a chicken dinner Saturday, Sept. 17th, sponsored by Mrs. Minnie Jones, from 11 P.M. to 5 P.M. Free delivery for two or more dinner, and orders may be placed with Mrs. David Pickett, 1120 14th Place. Call 243-3012. Price will be $1.00.

Dr. Jackson Renamed Nat. Baptist Pres.

Dr. Joseph Harrison, pastor of the Olivet Baptist Church in Chicago, Ill., and past president of the five and one half million member organization since 1952, was renamed president at the 86th annual session of the National Baptist Convention, USA, Inc., in Dallas, Tex., where some 15,000 delegates and visitors last week were attending the gathering.

"We do not need the presence of white people to bring dignity to ourselves," Dr. Jackson declared. "There are in America today a class of white people who seem interested in being with us in order to help us, but some of these are undesirable. Their moral standards are low, and they themselves are cheap and ordinary, and they bring into our presence the worst of their race in language, culture, and deportment."

Defeat

Dr. Jackson warned that "with all her wealth, her scientific know-how, and her military might, America today is closer to defeat than ever before in her long eventful history."

"Some of the most dangerous enemies of this nation are living among us," he added. "Some are in the ranks of government, some in business, labor, education and some among civil right groups, and some are now even hiding within the ranks of organized religion."

Black Power

He condemned the term 'black power', for it was the other side of the "old coin of segregation and it renders the people who use it guilty of the same type of prejudicial thinking and feeling that they have so long condemned in white segregationists."

Dr. Jackson attended Colgate-Rochester Divinity School (B.D.) in Rochester, N.Y. and holds an A.M. Degree in education from Creighton University, in Omaha, Nebr.

Shout for Mayor Allen; Want Carmichael SCNCC'S

Atlanta, Ga. — 16 year-old Hubert Vornes was shot down by a unknown assassin, in the second outbreak of rioting last Thursday.

More than 20 persons were injured when an estimated 40 angry Negroes poured into the street and hurled bricks and bottles after the shooting.

The shooting and subsequent rioting occurred on Cap Boulevard, a busy four-lane thoroughfare that bisects a predominantly Negro neighborhood near downtown Atlanta.

A white policeman was wounded by gunfire and a white television reporter was struck down with a fractured skull when an angry crowd of Negroes gathered after the shooting.

Violence

The crowd broke several store windows and attacked whites with bricks, bottles and fists several times during the night. The violence continued sporadically until after 2 a.m. Dozens of angry Negroes continued to mill in the street at daybreak.

Fifty-eight persons were arrested. One policeman suffered a bruise when he was hit by a rock as a barrage of bottles and other missiles were thrown at officers, including a Molotov cocktail which rolled under a police car and burned brightly for a few minutes before dying out.

Mayor

Mayor Ivan Allen, following his pattern of last Tuesday and Sunday nights, arrived on the scene and hustled into conferences with residents.

As Allen talked, he was approached by about 100 Negro youths who surrounded him and listened as he told of the city's efforts to apprehend the gunman, including offering a $10,000 reward. Police Tuesday arrested 42-year-old William Haygood James, white and his wife, Ruth, 38. He was indicted on a murder charge.

Carmichael

Allen was shouted down numerous times and questioned concerning Stokely Carmichael, jailed national director of the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee.

Allen said Carmichael was in jail "because he was charged with inciting a riot."

The Negroes ringed Allen so closely he could barely move.

As the mayor, who received commendations from Vice-President Hubert Humphrey for his action in the Tuesday riot, walked away from the crowd, he was followed and one Negro shouted: "We ain't going to stop (rioting) until you get him (Carmichael) out."

Officers sealed off the area. Police Chief Herbert Jenkins, who kept reserve riot units nearby, said he was doing everything possible "to avoid a show of force."

Savage

Meanwhile, Hosea Williams, a top lieutenant in Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, held a news conference on a street corner and attacked Atlanta police.

Williams said: "In all of my years of civil rights activities, my long records of civil rights arrests and jailings, never have I seen members of a police force act so beastly, brutally savage and totally inhuman toward their fellow human beings."

Mrs. Verona A. Stevenson and John T. Trosper were married on Sept. 3. The Melvin Reed of Ottumwa performed the noon ceremony which took place on the patio of the home of Mrs. Theo Penn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. James Cook of Waterloo.
Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Trosper of Sioux City.
Mrs. Audrey Ceasar was matron of honor and Mr. Gene Jackson served as best man. Rev. I. V. Tolbert was honored guest.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs.
Leona Jordan, Mrs. Cecil Lewis, Mr.
and Mrs. Charles Wells of Des Moines; Mrs. Georgia Hawkins and daughter, Mrs. Pearl Cooper of Keokuk; Mrs. Blueford, South Sioux
City, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. Goody Blueford, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Jackson of Sioux City, Iowa; and LeRoy Bird of Denver, Colorado. The couple have established their home in Sioux City where Mr. Trosper is employed.

Glen Cooper of Dayton, Ohio was in the city visiting his sister, Mrs.
Eugene Holt, 207 Ash street. Mr.
Cooper says he is the second child of Negro birth to have been born in Waterloo, Wardell Coyle says he was the first. Mr. Cooper is the son of the late Mrs. Sarah Hood. He is now cataloging technician for U.S.
Government and has been for ten years. He moved from Waterloo in 1935. He left to spend a few days with relatives in Des Moines before concluding his vacation.

Griggs Woods Jr. of Los Angeles is visiting his parents at 914 Mobile.
Accompanying him are two friends,
Mr. Matt Windham and Miss Patricia Hurd of L.A.

Mrs. Willie Mae Wright and three children—Lajune, Yvonne and Alvin and Mrs. Hattie Harrington motored to Goodman, Miss., where they spent one week visiting Mrs. Cecil Harrington, mother of Mrs. Wright.
The family went picnicking, fishing and horseback riding. The mother returned with them for a visit of Waterloo.

Said Petition prays (a) that the Court declare the structure situated on the above-described premises to be a public nuisance and enter an Order directing the owners of said premises or those claiming an interest therein to immediately abate said public nuisance by demolishing and removing said structure at their own expense, and (b) that in the event such has not been done within 10 days from the date of said Order, to authorize and direct this plaintiff to abate said nuisance by entering upon said premises and demolishing and removing said structure, and (c) to assess the cost thereof, including the costs of this action, against said premises as provided in Sections 363.3 and 368.3, Code of Iowa, 1962.

For further particulars see said Petition
now on file.

No personal judgment is sought against any defendant.

Iowans Return From East Coast See N.J., N.Y., Pa., The Supremes

Three Iowa girls recently returned to their home state from the East Coast after working eight weeks as consultants and counselors in Vincentown, N. J.

Cynthia Ambler, of Independence, a student at Rider College in Pennsylvania was employed as a Arts and Crafts consultant; Patricia Brown, of Bedford, a graduate of Northwest Missouri State Teachers College and a music teacher in the Creston Public School System, was a unit leader and song director. Lynda Walker of Drake was programming director, unit leader and child guidance consultant for the emotionally disturbed children. All of the girls were in training in their own fields a week prior to the opening of the camp season.

Camp Danwendwin, is a private girls' camp located near Vincentown, N. J. and situated on 540 acres of beautifully landscaped territory.

A total of 37 were employed on the staff — girls represented from Finland, Norway, Denmark, Trinidad and Israel. All of the girls were college graduates or students.

Upon the closing of camp, the staff drove to Long Beach Island for a banquet and a day on the beach.

Before returning home, Misses Walker and Brown were entertained by many in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

They toured Brandywine Battlefield in Chadds Ford, Pa., Longwood Garden in Kennett Square, Pa. and the King's Tavern in Haddonfield, N.J., which was at one time a station of the underground Railroad. While in Atlantic City, N.J., they saw the famed board walk, and visited the Steel Pier Night Club to view the Supremes, Count Basie, the Ramsey Lewis Trio and Little Stevie Wonder.

While in Philadelphia, Pa., they toured the American Wax Museum, Independence Hall, the Betsy Ross House, the Philadelphia Art Museum, the grave of Benjamin Franklin and the Valley Green Inn.

While in New York, they stopped at Chinatown for dinner, and an evening in Greenwich Village and the Village Van guard. Also, the trio saw Broadway, Times Square, the Statue of Liberty, and many of the famed historical sights.

They were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robinson. Mrs. Robinson is Miss Walker's aunt, the former Dorothy Danforth of Des Moines.

Miss Walker was also the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Xavier Leae of Long Island, N.Y., and Att. and Mrs. Arnold Di Mao of Syracuse, N.Y. Many affairs and parties were given in their honor.

Miss Walker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Warfield and the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons of Des Moines.

everyone was — I called Greyhound Bus Station; yes two charted Jefferson buses left at 5:30. Which was really, but really, gone!

Being the type who can't unwind gracefully, I quickly realized the thing I had to do! Begging my husband for whatever money he had — putting it with whatever was loose in my pockets, purse and suit case, bought a round trip ticket with 35 cents remaining. (Don't forget my well-packed lunch) I boarded a bus at 7:35 for a fast trip to Minneapolis. But will I ever take good care of me next year—I may even charter the bus, sell'em their tickets and drive'em myself! You just wait!

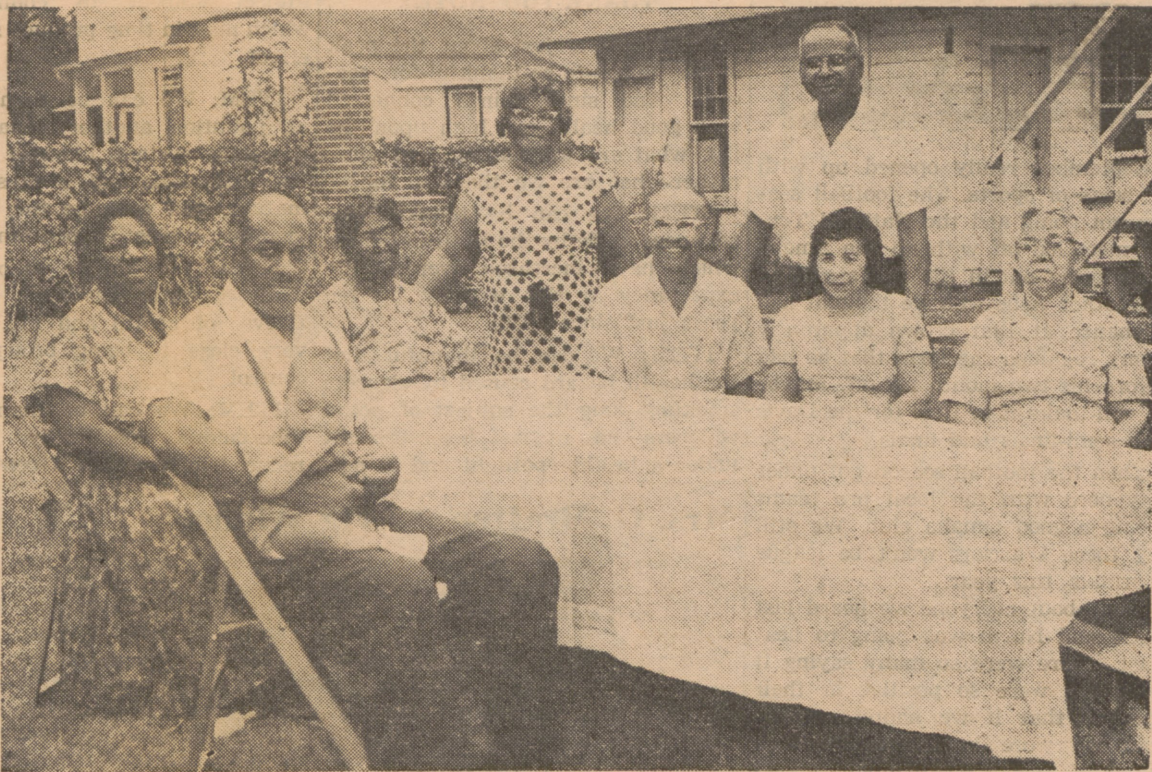

Minneapolis: From the domicile of newlyweds, Arthur and Jean Sidner, my daughter and son-in-law, I found only a few people had not yet ventured forth on Labor Day picnics. Among them were Delores Young, a Des Moines beauty, whom everyone knows; Mrs. Mary Hyde, a former Des Moines teacher, who was preparing to leave on their outing, but graciously shared her time. Her older son, Robert N. Hyde III is spending all of this week in our City visiting his father — Robert N. Hyde, his grandmother — Mrs. Branham Hyde and other relatives. He will then leave to enter John Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md.

First of all: Readers of "Personally Yours" which has been written for many years by Frances Howthorne will certainly miss her delightful column. I am sure you join me in wishing her great success in her future work.

Seeing is Believing: Thursday evening, Sept. 1, my son, John E. and I set off for Mason City Junior College. We were nearing the outskirts of Ames, when he murmured; "I'm hungry," and then, "There! let's go there and get a hamburger!" There meant Griffs. As I turned the car around, I asked "Griff's or Henry's?" They were opposite each other. He says "Griff's—I've never been there." As he turned the door handle, he was observing a couple of fellows walking toward Griffs. He paused, scrutinizing them, asked, "W-h-a-a-t? Bruce? It can't be!" Since he was about four years old there's been only one "Bruce" — Bruce Durlham. So my question "Bruce Durlham?" was unnecessary. Returning from Griff's, he was laughing so contentedly, as he said, "It WAS Bruce!" I asked, "Does he live here?" "No, he's on his way to Central College!" Bruce and John E. as a twosome are a legend with Day Care teachers of their day. Old Webster school teachers who, unable to stand them as a team, placed them in separate classes. (I know because one of John E.'s cards informed me of this necessity.) In Day Care Bruce was the comedian—John E. his willing audience. Bruce's best subject was making faces about the food before him. John E.'s stint was to "fool" the teachers, claiming to have eaten food, whereas under Bruce's delighted attention he made his peas "disappear" by tossing each one separately over his shoulder. Their paths cross en route to college! Wonder where they'll meet again.

Resuming our trip: Sighting thick stretches of Sumac whose fall beauty equals that of any variety of trees, I squealed, "Look, John E., look, What's it called? What's it called?" John E. responded with great dig-

NO FUTURE IN DISREGARD FOR LAW AND ORDER

Much has been written and said about civil rights during the past two decades—more than ever before. And there has been a great turnover and upsurge in the enjoyment of rights far greater than many had expected.

But somehow, the forces that should be working for law and order and personal responsibility for everyone to exercise and be bound up with first class citizenship, have not done any good job.

Too many people—especially youngsters, and they seldom are cautioned by elder people—feel that the exercise of rights means that they can destroy and mutilate other people's property, disregard law and order and complain all the same time that they are denied jobs and other good things of life because they are black.

Last week, the National Baptist Convention meeting in Dallas, Texas, said in its resolutions that "respect for law and order and the Christian concept of life are basic".

This was followed by a statement from Dr. Joseph Harrison Jackson, president of the convention, that called for a summit conference to deal with the problems of riots and make a constructive approach to first-class citizenship.

This is sound advice. It should be heralded from local pulpits each Sunday and enlarged on in the light of local conditions.

There are those who attempt to justify lawlessness by comparing the riots with conduct during other social reforms. It is true that labor, farmers and other groups have and still do take the law in their own hands to settle their demands. The difference is that they do stop railways from running, planes from flying, the sick from being cared for, cities from maintaining police and fire protection. In other words, they are organized and can tie up life here and there. They either become heroes or enemies of the public about which they care little as long as they get what they want.

The courts, the law and the legislatures are fearful that they incur the wrath of labor leaders and fail to get elected again.

The Negro cause cannot stand the consequences of lawlessness and a disregard for the rights of others. The extreme measures others have used gain a few concessions but lose the support of many people who heretofore have been favorable to their cause.

The Bystander believes that everyone can get a job if he wants to work, can enjoy public accommodations, exercise his right to vote, secure redress of any wrongs committed against him and otherwise live a normal life if he tries, in good faith and otherwise lives the life of a first class citizen.

REAL ESTATE GROUP
TRUE TO FORM

It comes as no surprise that the real estate board of the Chamber of Commerce has announced its opposition to the "Two Rivers Low Rent housing project" which will be voted on at the election November 8th.

The City Council last month unanimously approved placing on the Nov. 8 ballot the project which calls for 600 new low-rent units and 250 units of rehabilitated and leased housing through a federally-backed bond issued of a maximum of $12,875,000.

Robert Madden, president of the realtors group, said that their opposition stems from the fact that the project does not serve enough people, is economically unsound and does not pay taxes as a private owner does.

Of course, there are no improvements which don't have objectionable features, real or imaginary. We think in this the objections are imaginary, otherwise most cities of any size would not have such projects.

Anyone who knows the antics of many individual members of the group is not surprised at this action. First, they look at it as a Negro project when in fact it would serve the low income group of both races. Second, most members of the group have opposed selling, renting or financing property to Negroes in integrated neighborhoods and they fear this would offer more opportunities for decent less fortunate people

September really opened up with all sorts of sports. The football season got going and the National Tennis meet led off with all the Americans losing out in the men's singles.

Another Ashe who we thought had a chance at that crown apparently hasn't regained the form that he had before his two month lay off. Maybe he will make it in time for the Davis Cup semi-finals and finals.

Then the football season got under way here with the local pro teams seeing a good Omaha club. We still say these Warriors won't be league doormats this year.

Just about everyone we heard last week said North was going to beat East. There were so many saying it and they were so positive in their opinions that if we hadn't realized that we were in the midst of a bunch of former North High fellows they might have convinced us we knew North had a great team last year and we thought they might pick up where they left off. So a win over East didn't seem too important. But when the dust settled it was East again. But we bet East is glad they played North first instead of last. By the end of the year if and when Jim Kirby learns to handle his speed, the Polars Bears will be rough.

East could go all the way this year. Maybe they will.

Roosevelt uncovered the second Negro back we ever heard of out there and he broke in with a bang. Young Ken Whitney may be the find of the season. We heard some guys say he was a little timid. But all backs should be so timid. This guy was really fantastic and may be what the Rough Riders need to make them tough. We think he is the first Negro to play varsity out there since Jim Thompson did it in the last Thirties or was it the early Forties?

Iowa State has had the yearly sky scare and now the guys can get back to work. With these days of movies of games and the constant study, we would think a scare would be as old-fashioned as high buttoned shoes. But it is good and the players got a lot of mileage out of it.

Iowa unleashed its teams Saturday, and it would like a win. And, oh yes, there was a prize fight in Germany last Saturday and the would-be champ Cassius Clay whopped the big German fellow. The surprise was the length of the battle.

And there is still a red hot pennant race in that National League. We have to go with the Dodgers to repeat something that hasn't been done in that league since 1958.

Perry To Broadcast
For CBS's Steelers

Lowell Perry, former Pittsburgh Steeler offensive end, will be the analyst for the Steelers games to be broadcast exclusively on the CBS Television Network during the 1966 season. Joe Tucker, long-time Steeler commentator, will handle the play-by-play.

Perry, who is now a labor relations attorney in Detroit, signed with the Steelers in 1956 after an outstanding career at the University of Michigan as an offensive end and defensive safety. He was a unanimous All Big Ten selection in 1951 and 1952 and made several All-American teams.

Perry's pro career with the Steelers was cut short when he fractured his pelvis in a game against the New York Giants. It was the sixth regular season game of his rookie year. He spent 13 weeks in a hospital and the following year returned to the Steelers as an assistant coach. From 1958 through 1960 he was on the team's scouting staff.

These are the same people who have contributed to the slow growth of Des Moines by following reactionary methods that other places have discarded years ago.

When the measure was voted on before, everybody was for it but a minority voted for it. Organized labor, of all groups, supported it with lip service but failed to get their members to vote for it.

If the present measure is to meet a different fate, its supporters must organize and spend some money to get the message over to the favorable voters at the polls.

HEALTH FOR ALL

THANK-YOU NOTE

Right now is just about the peak of the things-to-be-thankful-for season. And since things connected with good health are high upon the list, what are we waiting for? Or—rather—what are we thankful for?

ITEM: We can be thankful for advances made by the health sciences which have increased average life expectancy in this country by ten years just since 1930.

ITEM: We can be thankful that the health hazard caused by cigarette smoking—long the subject of polite whispers—has at last been brought under a bright spotlight and is now subject subject to counterattack which may in time produce some real effect.

ITEM: We can be thankful that air pollution, another menace to the breathing system, likewise is receiving recognition and, if present plans mature, will soon be the target of vigorous corrective programs.

ITEM: We can be thankful that many specific diseases, long the thieves of health and life, are now very close to being brought under control.

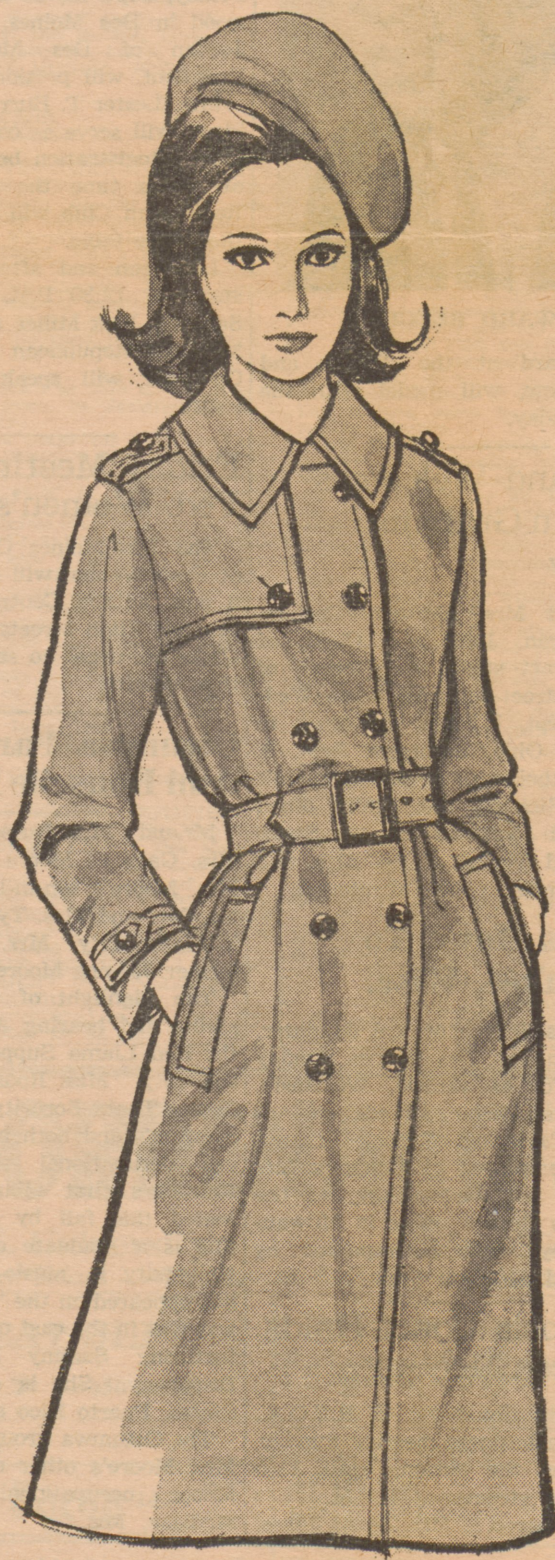

ITEM: We can be thankful that tuberculosis, specifically, has been reduced in less than a century from

Laugh Lines

After watching a demonstration of a tape recorder in school one afternoon, the first grader rushed home and announced to her mother, "You know what? We've got a new kind of machine at school. It's something like a mother. When you scream at it, it screams right back at you."

The Priest was instructing a Confirmation class. "Be certain, girls, that your hair style leaves the forehead open so the bishop can mark it with holy oils."

Then as an afterthought, he added: "I guess that goes for the boys, too."

portedly are paid $100,000 a year, but Robertson says their salary has no bearing on what he's asking. Oscar earned about $80,000 last season.

Robertson Contract;
$100,000 To Oscar

Cincinnati, Ohio — Oscar Robertson is reportedly asking for a contract of around $100,000 from the Royals of the National Basketball Association, the Cincinnati Enquirer said last Thursday night.

"It's somewhere around there," he told basketball writer Jim Schottelkotte. "It might not be quite $100,000. It might be a little more—it might be a little less."

Robertson, a celebrated hold-out last year, said he expects to be signed soon when the Royals begin training. Manager Pepper Wilson refused to comment on the negotiations.
