La. NAACP Reports Five Week Gain

New York. — "In just five weeks, 7,000 Negroes registered to vote, and 500 parents filed pupil transfer forms, due to our efforts in Louisiana."

Miss Athia T. L. Simmons, director of the NAACP Summer Project in Louisiana, cites these results as triumphs.

"Not only that, but, for the first time since Reconstruction, nine Negroes ran for public offices ranging from Mayor to police juror. Two of them will be in the run-off election, Sept. 24."

Charges Filed Against Mother and Son

Arrested late last week in connection with a disturbance at East high stadium following a football game Sept. 9 was Gary Wayne Carter, 21, of 1312 13th place, who pleaded innocent Tuesday before Municipal Judge Harry Grund to charges of intoxication and disturbing the peace by using loud and profane language.

Grund set Sept. 28 for a hearing for Carter, who posted $15 bond on the intoxication charge and $200 bond on the other charge.

Mrs. Mary Alma Carter, 38, of the same address, was charged with unlawful assembly to incite a riot. She pleaded innocent and was released on $500 bond pending a Municipal Court hearing Oct. 3.

Police reported Mrs. Carter was arrested because she tried to interfere with the arrest of her son at the stadium.

Willkie Director Elected To Board

John F. Mapp, Jr., executive director of Willkie House, Inc., was elected to the Executive Committee of the Iowa-Nebraska Federation of Settlements and Neighborhood Houses in its annual fall meeting at Friendly House in Davenport, Ia. on Saturday, Sept. 17.

Wansley Rape Case Continues in Va.

Lynchburg, Va. — Authorities here are continuing their four-year effort to execute 21-year-old Thomas Wansley on rape charges. Meantime, one of Wansley's attorneys, Phillip Hirschkop has been fined $50 for contempt and sentenced to five days in prison. The prison sentence was suspended.

The case began almost four years ago when Wansley was accused of raping a Japanese woman and robbing a white woman. He was convicted on all three counts, although he testified that he had previously had sexual relations with the Japanese woman and although the white woman could not positively identify him at the first trial.

Only 17 when the case began, Wansley has spent the last four years in prison, including 18 months on death row. He is still facing two capital charges, two death sentences plus a 20-year jail sentence on the robbery charge.

The Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals overturned the convictions and ordered new trials in 1964, after statewide and national protests about Wansley's treatment.

Letter Reveals Rioters Were White and Negro

"I am a 16 year old junior girl at Des Moines Tech High School. I attend church every Sunday as secretary of Sunday School. I don't smoke or drink." This is the beginning of a letter to Robert Wright, president of the D.M. NAACP. After receiving the letter, he passed it on to Mayor Whitmer for comment.

"Here in D.M. we haven't had race riots and violence. If these people on the news do it, so can we, this is the way the kids feel.

Mixed

"Now, these teenagers weren't doing all this with intention of injuring or causing violence, they did it for kicks. I know—I'm around them all the time.

"Another factor was the fact that the policemen stood in groups watching, doing nothing . . . when Katz's window was broken, the gas station and Smitty's shop damaged. The police didn't make any effort to stop them.

"Further, the rioters were mixed, white and Negro . . ."

Investigation

Robert Wright spoke out last week against the procedures which the police department had been using in their investigation of Monday's Cerebral-Palsy football game violence.

He found that students have been called out of their classes and have been required to give information concerning their participation and of others in the incident.

Improper

"It is improper for the police official," Wright said, "to question

Mr. Mapp was also appointed to chair the Social Action Committee year.

of the Federation for the coming year. The theme of the Conference was "Neighborhood Involvement." Mr. Mapp appeared on the conference program as a member of a panel discussing "A New View Of An Old Concept."

Presbyterian Board To Pay for Med. Bills

New York — Any medical expenses incurred from white racists' attacks upon Negro children as they attempted to attend school in Grenada, Miss., earlier last week will be paid by staff members of the Board of National Missions of the United Presbyterian Church U.S.A.

That announcement was made last week by the Rev. Dr. Kenneth G. Neigh, General Secretary of the denomination's home missions agency.

In announcing the staff's declaration of intent, Dr. Neigh deplored "the violence brought upon those children going to school according to the law."

Duke Williams Joins Universal Staff

Duke Williams, a 25-year-old San Franciscan, has joined the increasing number of young Negroes holding key positions in the movie industry with his recent employment in the Special Projects Press department at Universal Studios in Hollywood. As an apprentice publicist, Williams has been assigned the interesting job of publicizing the studio's extensive tour operation, the only one of its kind in the industry.

Y.W.C.A. Holds Membership Drive

The Y.W.C.A. membership program committee will sponsor a program for members and guests on Tuesday, Sept. 27, 7:30 p.m. at the Y.W.C.A., 9th and High. The program will feature Don Soliday, KRNT and KRNT-TV, with films of Spain. The travelogue will be followed by a question and answer period. Preceding the film, "The Entertainers" of the Sweet Adelines will sing three numbers.

Refreshments and a fellowship time will follow the program. Admission is free and the public is invited. Mrs. Lester H. Rockey is chairman of the event.

At Last, Home for Waterloo Director

Waterloo, Ia. — After 24 days, house-hunting troubles may be over for Ronald James, 29, a Negro and director of Waterloo's Commission on Human Rights.

Charles W. Granger, a Waterloo real estate man, said he had offered James an east side residential district house for rent, with an option to buy, and that James had indicated he would take it.

James said he has not yet met the owner but expects to soon.

Integrated Neighborhood

The house, Granger said, is in an integrated but predominantly white neighborhood.

After coming here from Washington, D. C., and looking over the city, James had expressed a preference for an apartment or house on the west side, which is predominantly white.

James, who had been a lawyer with the Justice Department in Washington has been unable to find such a place that would be made available to him.

day, Oct. 1. Boys and girls — five years and over — are being registered for ballet, tap and toe dance — beginner — intermediate and advanced. Do's And Don'ts

A seven-man panel of Army officers took 16 minutes of deliberation to find James Johnson, a 20-year-old Negro, guilty, and 24 minutes to decide his punishment. A completely different 10-man panel convicted Pvt. Dennis Mora, 25, Thursday, Sept. 8, and sentenced him to three years at hard labor.

Both soldiers, residents of New York, claimed their consciences would not permit them to take part in the Vietnamese war, which they considered "illegal" and immoral.

Detroit, Mich. — Doctors at a hospital to which he was rushed last week battled desperately to save the life of Murphy Summons, dribbling ace of Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, after he was stabbed in the heart in a tavern brawl precipitated by an argument between his wife and another woman. Summons was given less than a 50-50 chance to live following a delicate operation in which four stitches were required to close the wound in his heart.

Washington, D.C. — Only 50.9 per cent of the hospital beds in Mississippi have been certified for Medicare aid, federal officials announced. Hospitals in which these beds are located have promised to integrate their patient service. The Justice department has filed a suit in federal District Court against Marion County General Hospital, Columbia, Miss., charging segregation. It was the first such lawsuit filed against a hospital. Nationally, 97 per cent of the general hospitals have promised to desegregate.

Washington, D.C. — Dr. Paul P. Cooke, professor of English, became the first Negro president of the District of Columbia Teachers college. In Chicago, Ill., Calvert H. Smith was promoted to principal of the Central YMCA High school.

New York — Several of the nation's largest cities are now more than a third Negro — and indications are that many of them will have Negro majorities in a few decades, a new survey has revealed. Washington, D.C. leads with a 63 per cent Negro population. In the "40s" are Baltimore, with Newark, N.J., and New Orleans. Memphis and Atlanta are said to be 38 per cent black, Detroit 39 per cent black, and Chicago close to one third Negro.

Re-hire White Principal Dismiss Mrs. B. Banfield

Beryl Banfield Named Acting Principal

New York, N. Y. — A Negro woman was named acting principal of an embattled Harlem showcase school Monday, in line with racial demands. The integrated teachers' staff unanimously voted a strike in support of her white predecessor.

The latest development at the intermediate school began when its white principal, Stanley Lissner, asked for a transfer.

Parents of the school's 500 pupils had demanded that Lissner be replaced by a Negro or Puerto Rican principal, but the board of education claimed he stepped out voluntarily.

Lissner's Negro assistant, Beryl Banfield, was named to take over leadership of the school temporarily.

Housing 'Unconstitutional', Choked by Filabuster

Washington, D. C. — The Senate killed all hopes Monday for fair-housing legislation in this session of Congress.

It refused, for the second time in less than a week, to shut off debate on the administration's civil rights bill.

The vote was 52-41 — ten votes short of the two-thirds majority required to end a filibuster.

Dirksen

One gamble not likely to be repeated is to ask for legislation that Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen (Ill.) does not approve. For Dirksen, a key figure in this year's defeat, is expected to be fully as important in the next session.

Dirksen, who staunchly opposed the housing section of the bill, claiming it was unconstitutional, led the fight from the time the bill was introduced into the House.

Short

The first attempt to end debate last

Wednesday fell short by the same margin.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana withdrew the measure from Senate consideration.

This means the bill automatically will die when Congress adjourns, even though it was passed by the House last month.

Start Over

It also means that if President Johnson wants a bill he will have to submit it again next year and be prepared to go through the entire legislative process in both houses of Congress.

On the roll call, 42 Democrats and 10 Republicans voted to shut off debate, 21 Democrats and 20 Republicans voted against the motion.

Iowa's two senators, Republicans Bourke Hickenlooper and Jack Miller, voted with the winning side in opposition to halting debate on the bill.

Skeptics blame President Johnson for pushing the bill too quickly.

Smokers are now puffing smoke rings around the "CAUTION" Label on cigarette packages . . . as they have done around the millions of words on the subject of tobacco smoking.

"TOBACCO is loathsome to the eye, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs . . .". These are the words of James I of England spoken "way back in 1604 . . . an indication that the "CAUTION" has been around a long time.

The number of cigarettes smoked by Americans is now well over 500 billions a year, and experts predict the figure will be even higher this year.

OLD FASHIONED PRESERVES

A dish of your own home-made strawberry preserves is the surest way in the world to bring a gleam into the eyes of the lucky people who sit down to your table. The story is wonderful from beginning to end—the making of the preserves with the aroma of the bubbling sirup filling the kitchen; the sight of the rich red fruit and sirup in Ball Jars on your shelves; and, finally, the serving of the preserves, perhaps with hot, flaky biscuits.

The strawberry season will be upon you before you know it, so have your Ball Mason Jars and Ball Dome Caps ready to use the first day you see strawberries suitable for preserves in your garden or on the market. The season is all too short and you might wake up to find you've waited until too late.

For preserving, strawberries should be of medium size and firm-ripe. Preserves should be cooked in small batches, not more than 2 or 3 quarts at a time. A recipe for Old Fashioned Strawberry Preserves from the Ball Blue Book calls for 2 quarts of hulled berries and 7 cups of sugar. Mix berries and sugar and let stand overnight in a cool place. Bring slowly to boiling, then boil rapidly until berries are clear and sirup thick. Skim and pour into hot Ball Jars. Seal while boiling hot with Ball Dome Caps.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones made a trip to their cottage at Idlewild, Mich. When an adder, or was it a rattlesnake, paid her a visit at her back door there, oh did she scream! Snakes are rarely seen at Idlewild, but when they are it is usually, "a little timber rattlesnake about 3 feet long", describes Mrs. Jones. Adding that her husband felt the visitor was probably only an adder, she says he promptly left - "bare-handed" - to find the intruder!

GERALDINE JONES DRAFFEN won her wig without lifting a finger. Daughter, Barbara Black, while a Drake summer student, placed mother's name on the ballot. The wig, a beautiful strawberry blond with a touch of gray here and there looks stunning.

Incidentally, had you heard that Barbara is now a Fourth Grade teacher in Des Moines' Christ the King School? Miss Black is doing student teaching through Drake U. toward her teaching certificate.

JOHN W. PHILLIPS, husband of Mrs. Susie Phillips, was probably equally well-known among Eastsiders. He was a quiet, capable, sociable person and we shall all miss him. . . . Among out-of-town persons here for his service were George Bourland and daughter, Mrs. June Bell, both of Los Angeles; Mrs. Nettie Bourland Phillips of Bakersfield, Calif.; and Mrs. Carmen Chapman Tate, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Nearing Carmen's flight time for her return trip home, three carloads of us accompanied her to the airport. Making up the group were Sadie Jones, George, Nettie, John and Cora Chapman, Susie, June, Gene Harris, Elizabeth Bourland Bunkley, Mrs. Elaine Chapman Kaiser and her three sons, Kyle, Kelly, Korey. The group, made up of both family members and lifelong friends, was lively and goodwilled with a bit of mirth here and there. Francis Bates, an airport employee who knows each of us—by first names—created the biggest stir when he let Pinkie George know that George Bourland was in the terminal. Each roared a greeting as they came forward for a handshake. Gene Harris joined the two. This was a meeting of pomoter, trainer and one of their fighters. Pinkie George we all know.

Many will recall George Bourland was owner-manager of the Nu-Life Amateur Athletic Club. Among his fighters in those days were Rev. Wayland Heath, Rev. Wm. Heath, Elder John E. Johnson, Detective Wm. Moody, Dr. Robert Hatchitt, Hank Ulrich, the first AAU Bantam Weight Champion, and Gene Harris. . . . "THE NILES & JONES MIXED LEAGUE" was terrific Saturday night at Capital Lanes.

Jim Caldwell, subbing for Bob White, bowled a 251. Andy McBride announced a total of 677 for Caldwell, adding that this figure is the high series for the house this year! It was observed that, in bowling, it is unique for one company to sponsor a league as Niles & Jones is doing.

FAIRBAULT, MINN. — the other day when my bus stopped at this city, a very distinguished looking lady boarded the bus and sat beside me. Upon learning that I was from Des Moines, she observed that her husband, Kelley F. Davis, now deceased, had once lived here. She was Mrs. Helen Davis. She asked if I knew Gertrude Harris whose grocer husband had passed away about three years ago. I certainly did know Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. Davis is the only Negro resident in Fairbault, has been there 35 years. The nearness of Minneapolis keeps her in close and frequent touch with relatives and other friends.

Recently, her husband's sister, Mrs. Jean Davis Hill of Kansas City, Miss. and her daughter, Mrs. Brainard Burch (Vaughnzcill), of Atlanta, and her 11 year old granddaughter, Gail, from Kansas City, visited. Mrs. Burch had flown from Atlanta to Kansas City, to Fairbault and will return by the same route.

Mrs. Burch is personal secretary to the President of Spellman College. Her husband is principal of

SENATORS VOTE POLITICS
NOT CONSCIENCE

Supporters of the 1966 civil rights bill which had been passed by the lower house of Congress failed to secure sufficient votes (two-thirds) necessary to stop the filibuster against the pending measure before the senate.

Senator Dirksen, the minority leader, was a leader in opposition arguing that the housing section was unconstitutional.

On the other hand, leading constitutional lawyers added their endorsement to its constitutionality.

The vote was no surprise as the polls of senators had disclosed that there were not sufficient supporters to break the filibuster.

The filibusters are not new by any means. For years, every civil rights bill of any nature was killed by filibuster. In fact, some who opposed this one are among those who have used the same tactics to further their cause.

This being an election year, many senators voted politics rather than their conscience. Many have become disturbed over the riots which have given the same people the jitters.

No doubt, another effort will be made after the election and eventually the measure will pass.

GOOD MOVE ABOUT
GRAY'S LAKE

Last week, the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce offered to purchase Grays Lake located on Fleur Drive and donate it to the city for recreation purposes.

Earlier, a commercial developer had attempted to have the area rezoned so as to purchase the site for a real estate and amusement center.

Fortunately, some people interested in the overall development of this natural body came to the front and insisted that the public, rather than industry, develop the spot. Des Moines is an inland town and whatever water is available should be enjoyed by the public.

Today, people have more leisure time than ever before. In order that they may enjoy it, the public must offer recreational facilities wherever possible.

NO BRIEF FOR
DISRESPECT FOR LAW AND ORDER

Des Moines has finally joined the list of towns where young people so far lose their self respect and regard for law and order as to engage in senseless rioting and destruction of other people's property.

Friday night, following a high school game at Drake stadium, youngsters went on a rampage damaging cars, abusing passers-by, throwing bottles and rocks, breaking glasses, and otherwise making themselves a nuisance.

It was unfortunate and a reckless disregard of other people's property and rights.

Only one person was arrested at the time but others have been picked up following investigations by the police department.

It is strange that only one person was arrested during the fiasco. However, police officers wanted to be careful that they did not invite charges of police brutality.

Citizens can protest if they wish and will be protected in their rights to do so. On the other hand, people have no right to abuse other people and their property. And those who violate other people's rights should be punished.

During the past week others have been picked up and charged with taking part in this disturbance. If guilty, they should be punished. To allow them to escape simply suggests to others that they can violate the law and go unpunished.

The president of the NAACP has charged that officers have violated the constitutional rights of some people in an effort by the police department to ferret out the guilty parties. Of course, this is wrong and should not be tolerated. The Bystander and all other groups should back our police when they observe the law; otherwise if they do an injustice by using illegal methods to accomplish their ends.

Prompt, fair administration of the law is a deterrent to crime. Unfair administration of the law breeds disrespect and crime.

If the Iowa U. boys are as good as they looked last week, they could chalk up a couple and maybe get Big Ten wins. That would be a nice start. We figured about the third year of Ray Nagel's tenure the Hawks would start to move up. They might make it soon because there is nowhere else to go but up.

We thought Iowa State lost a game they could have won. It must have been a case of being over-anxious. We don't think the Cyclones will be in the Big Eight cellar.

Drake is just about ready to take its place in Missouri Valley football. The Bulldogs have been fielding some good big clubs and this could be one of their best in recent years. Maybe they ought to give Valley football a try.

And the Warriors suddenly find themselves in the top stand in the pro league here. Now they hope some people come out to see them play. Minor league pro football is going over big around the country and may soon become a seasoning ground for the pros who need a little help to make it in the big league.

Here at home, North High finally got in gear and dusted off a good Mason City team. This time the Bears got their juniors around the corner and when they can get all the speed they have turned up on down field someone is in trouble.

East rolled over what was thought to be a good live color club. Maybe the Scarlet might go all the way. They have two fine throwing backs in Del McGuire and Jock Johnson.

Tech must have wondered what hit them as Dowling ran over the Engineers. If they didn't have Willie Herndon, they would have been in even more trouble.

One of the most influential Negro backers of rights legislation, Clarence Mitchell, Washington director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and chairman of the Civil Rights Leadership Conference, described the White House planning conference which gave birth to the 1966 bill:

"The president called us civil rights leaders in and asked our judgment. He said Atty. Gen. (Nicholas) Katzenbach had advised him it would not be legal for him to tackle housing discrimination by an executive order. So he wanted to put housing in the bill."

HEALTH FOR ALL

Tuberculosis, once the top disease killer, now is often said to be "on the run." And it's true that the annual number of new cases grows smaller.

Yet TB experts have been voicing their dissatisfaction with pace of progress. The trouble is, as a medical journal recently pointed out, that the "run" has shown signs of slowing down to an easy trot.

How serious is the TB problem today? New active cases still number nearly 50,000 a year. There are 105,000 known active cases, plus another 110,000 inactive or possibly active, and doubtless many more unreported.

In 1959 it was generally agreed among experts that a 10 per cent reduction in the U.S. case rate should be possible in each ensuing year. But in spite of massive efforts by public and private anti-TB agencies, the decline has slowed down to an average of less than 4 per cent since 1960.

This Week:
Emmett Ashford, Ump

New York — Traditionally, American League umpires are quiet. But going to a baseball game and not noticing Emmett Ashford is like going to the dentist and not noticing the drill.

Explaining his penchant for the histrionic, Ashford says: "I've been making my own way, in my own way, ever since I broke into baseball. It's not an act, and I can't change."

"I realize that to survive being a Negro umpire, I have to be as near-perfect as possible. It hasn't been easy. I've been knocked down a few times along the way. I think they wanted to see how I'd react."

"But after all, it's not how you get knocked down, it's how you get up."

"Everybody says baseball needs more color, and nobody can fill the bill like I can," he added.

Ashford's troubled background began when he was deserted by his father in Los Angeles as a one-year-old and continued through 22 lean years as a postal employee and part-time semi-pro ballplayer.

Ashford worked his first game as an umpire. Substituting for the regular ump, who didn't arrive, Emmett officiated in two-tone shoes, green slacks and a sports coat. "Pandemonium ensued, the collection was heavy, and it was decreed that thenceforth I should umpire."

Sizing up the reaction to his work in the American League, Ashford

Many reasons are evident to the expert eye. Growing slums and lingering poverty encourage contagious disease. In sparser areas, a decreasing number of active cases makes the remaining ones harder to find. Another reason is the shorter hospital term made possible by effective drugs; the patient must continue his treatment at a clinic, and many neglect to follow through.

The slowdown in the retreat of the TB menace is being met by increased efforts of the part of its antagonists. There is greater emphasis on drug treatment to fight contagiousness; a quest for improved TB detecting tools; intensified research; and a long range study by the National Tuberculosis Association to find out how to improve clinic effectiveness. TB won't be eradicated tomorrow or the day after, but plenty is being done to get it back "on the run."

The Candidates Speak

Don Mahon, candidate for Congress, promised that if elected to Congress, he will support automatic increases in Social Security benefits to help older citizens meet the problem of rising living costs.

Fred Schwengel, the Republican candidate, last Tuesday signed the Code of Fair Campaign Practices and called upon his opponent to do the same. He further said his opponent bears a major responsibility for the increased cost of living.

Kate Goldman, candidate for the U. S. Senate, in an appearance on KDPS-TV Monday evening, Sept. 19, said, "The major issues of the last campaign in 1964 are still with us today: property tax relief, more state aid for education, and a host of rising social welfare problems."

"If our talented youth began to see the real evidence of a dynamic society, if they could see government and citizens working together in a great thrust to make the life of Iowa vibrant—they would be reluctant to leave the state for other places."

E. B. Smith, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, and his erstwhile primary opponent, Secretary of State, Gary L. Cameron, have announced that Cameron will serve as chairman of a state-wide Attorneys for Smith Committee.

Comments: "I know my job. I prepared for it. Not everybody is welcoming me with open arms; you can't expect it. Some people don't like anything."

If he has five or six children, he has too many; if he has none, he is not setting a good example.

If his wife sings in the choir, she is forward; if she does not, she is not interested in her husband's work.

If he speaks from notes, he has canned sermons and is a bore, if he speaks extemporaneously, he is not deep enough.

If he suggests changes for improvements of the church, he is a dictator; if he makes no suggestions, he is merely a figurehead.

If he fails to please somebody, he is hurting the church; if he tries to please everybody, he is a fool.

If he preaches the truth, he is insulting and meddling; if he does not, he is a hypocrite.

If he preaches an hour, he is tiresome; if only 20 minutes he is lazy.

He must have the wisdom of the owl, the courage of an eagle, the enterprise of a jay, and disposition of a dove . . . and often eat on what keeps a canary.

He must be an economist, politician, fund-raiser, marital advisor, father, confessor, disciplinarian, taxi-driver, preacher and pastor.

He must visit all the sick, and everybody else, teach a Sunday school class, direct the young people . . . and, oh, year, deliver sermons that are satisfactory to all members of his congregation.

You Can Make
Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM Yourself!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy bakery, you can now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them, too; enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies
1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 1/4 cup saltine cracker crumbs; 1/2 cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.
