Thomas, Rights Comm. Conclude Driver Report Board Refuses Applicant, Human Rights Comm. To Investigate Situation

D. M. Negro Heads Say They'll Continue; Morris, Jr. to Lead

After six weeks investigation, the Civil Rights Commission concluded its report, it was revealed this week. The investigation, based around the resignation of Raymond L. Driver, former manager of the Youth Opportunity Center here in Des Moines, finished its report because it was unable to find sufficient evidence to proceed to a formal public hearing.

Driver formally resigned from his job July 22, in a Special Advisory Board meeting of the YOC.

Facts

James Thomas, State Director of the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, led the investigation, which set forth several findings of undisputed facts. "The question with which we are concerned in whether the circumstance of Raymond Driver's resignation tion revealed evidence of a violation of the Iowa Civil Rights Act," ran the report sent to Governor Harold E. Hughes.

The Civil Rights Commission stepped into the case to see if Driver had been asked to resign from his job because of remarks he made concerning Negro apprentices in plumbing unions.

No Evidence

The commission found this:

There was no evidence that any commission of the Employment Security Commission was directly connected with the resignation of Raymond Driver. (Commission Chairman Henry E. Carter had been the central figure connected with Driver's resignation.)

The principal point of dispute was whether Driver's resignation was requested or voluntarily offered. At a June 22 meeting Driver was made aware that his earlier public statement

"If you don't get out of here, I'll knock your block off," threatened a gruff voice, and the burglar fled.

Freddy Daye, 29, of 925 Forest avenue was arrested by police Friday morning and charged with burglary after he broke into the upstairs home of Mrs. Bella Hull, 59, of 1112 9th street, an employee at Friendship City, about 2:30 A.M.

LDF seeks Damages for Widow and Children

Los Angeles, Calif. — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) filed a $3,000,000.00 damage suit this week against the city of Los Angeles in behalf of Barbara Jean Deadwyler.

Mrs. Deadwyler's husband, Leonard, was shot and killed by police officer J. M. Bova on May 7, as he drove his pregnant wife to the hospital under the expectation that a child was about to be born.

The suit asks damages for the wrongful death of Leonard Deadwyler and for emotional distress suffered by Mrs. Deadwyler.

Los Angeles police pursued the speeding car, which flew a white cloth from its radio aerial, for blocks before overtaking it.

The suit, filed in Superior Court for the county of Los Angeles by Johnnie L. Cochran, Jr. of the Los Angeles bar, asserted that Officer Bova "negligently, recklessly, carelessly, wantonly and imprudently caused his service revolver to discharge in close proximity to plaintiff's body, thereby mortally wounding plaintiff's husband.

President Johnson Has Hopes for Rights Bill

President Lyndon B. Johnson said last Wednesday that despite a temporary setback in Congress, "I think we are going to get fair housing legislation in this country — because simple justice demands it and I think the American people have always, when they know all the facts and get the truth, done what is fair, what is right, and what is just."

The President's remarks were made at the swearing-in ceremony in the Cabinet room for the new chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Stephen Shulman.

Speaking of the failure of the Senate to get cloture and put the 1966 Civil Rights bill to a vote, the President said: "Congress has bowed, temporarily, to the doubters. Although a majority in the senate favor this bill, a majority is unable today to work its will. But its will will be worked and the bill will be passed in due time, I believe."

Vice Pres. Humphrey Calls End to Rioting

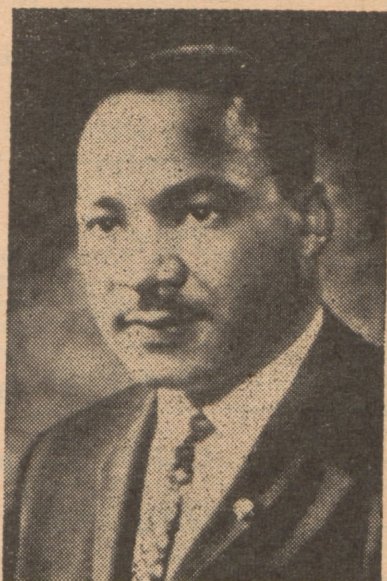

During the exercises Dr. Stanton L. Wormley, acting president of the University, conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters on Mr. Humphrey.

Washington, D.C. — Vice President Hubert Humphrey called upon the nation's citizens to end both the rioting of recent weeks as well as the conditions which he said have brought about the civil unrest and violence.

"We cannot acquiesce to those who would destroy our system of laws and justice through violence, riots and civil unrest," the Vice President said.

"But neither can we acquiesce to those conditions which have contributed to directly to the outrage we encounter among so many who believe themselves sentenced to lives of poverty, dependency and misery."

The Vice President's remarks came Monday, Sept. 19, during exercises marking the beginning of Howard University's year-long observance of its 100th anniversary. A capacity crowd of more than 1500 was on hand at Cramton Auditorium for the program, while several hundred more viewed the exercises over closed-circuit television in adjoining Ira Aldridge Theatre.

Black Power

Of black power, "We must come to see that the need in America is not for black power or white power, but for black power—of black and white together. We are bound together whether we like it or not."

The Commission earlier had voted a resolution to send messages to the President and to key congressmen that action against Adam Clayton, Harman, N.Y. Democrat, Powell "apart from an overall change in the total committee structure . . . can only further undermine the faith of American Negroes in the legislative process and give encouragement to some of worst elements of American life.

Police said the white couple reported the attack occurred July 25 when the Negroes pulled them from a parked car, knocked the boy unconscious with a link chain and assaulted the girl.

Ku Klux Klan on Rise In North and Midwest

New York — The "white backlash" which we feared but never realized in the 1964 elections this year is giving new impetus to the Ku Klux Klan, said the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Research findings on current Klan membership and activities were made public by Arnold Forster, general counsel of the League. The show that the Klan, whose national membership had plummeted by last January, is on the upsurge again, holding rallies and recruitment drives throughout the South, its traditional home grounds, and making new

A young Des Moines man who always passed his physical, filed a complaint alleging discrimination in hiring practices of the Fire Department.

Milford Fonza, 22, of 1800 13th street, charged the Board of Trustees of the Fire Retirement Fund, had deliberately refused him acceptance on the grounds that he was Negro.

However, at a meeting of the Board, held on Sept. 21, members Fire Chief Lee Williams, Leonard Richards, Russell Johnson, John Taylor, Earl Crouch (Acting City Treasurer) and Lyle Case listened to the report given by secretary Harvey Bogenrief.

Rejection

The report said that Fonza had filed the complaint with the Des Moines Human Rights and Job Discrimination Commission, charging the "Police and Fire Retirement System" with unlawful practice, alleging that he could not believe his medical examination was valid for his rejection by the Board and that he thought it was an excuse because he was a Negro.

Fonza was reported by Thomas R. Ghrist, M.D., to have a high blood pressure rating and a "trace" of albumin in his urinalysis, and was rejected by the Board Sept. 9 for those reasons.

Normal

However, Fonza had been checked by three other certified doctors before and after Ghrist's examination, and found him to neither have a dangerous blood count nor albumin present. Fonza, five feet, ten inches tall, weighs 164 pounds and served in

Ark. Teachers Win, Get Pay, New Jobs

St. Louis, Mo. — Seven school teachers and their principal — all Negroes — won the right last week to be rehired by the Arkansas school board which had fired them rather than allow them to teach white children.

This victory, which struck down a pattern in many southern communities which agree to integrate Negro pupils, was won by attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc.

The suit was brought by Clement S. Smith and Margaret Sanders, teachers at L. V. Sullivan High School for Negroes in Morrilton, Ark., and the Arkansas Teachers Association, Inc., of which Mr. Smith and Miss Sanders are members.

The Association is the professional organization which represents most of the Negro teachers in Arkansas.

Specifically, the Court ruled that the Defendant Board of Education reinstate the Negro teachers if they are interested in returning to the Morrilton district.

LDF attorneys also won damages for the teachers, thus entitling them to the back pay lost by their dismissal.

inroads in the North and Midwest.

the Army three years.

Fire Chief Williams said that no member in the evaluation study had any information as to the race of any of the applicants. He also said that one Negro applicant had been approved by the Board, but he didn't give the name.

Re-Check

Samuel Stamply, Relations Specialist of the Human Rights Commission, requested that the Board arrange a re-check physical examination for Fonza, at the expense of the Board, but the Board, which rejected two other applicants due to blood pressure readings, said that Fonza would have to apply again.

Among the approximately 350 employees of the Fire Department, there are no Negroes.

Work

Fonza, a graduate of East high school, is employed as a butcher in a packing plant. He served in the Army from May 1962-May 1965, and was discharged with the rank of specialist-4. He was a radar operator.

Fonza said he did not receive a copy of Dr. Ghrist's finding. The form notice from Bogenrief saying he was not accepted did not give the reason.

"I just turned the whole thing over to the Human Rights Commission," he said. "In my opinion, I can do this work."

Reluctance

Commission member Rozenting Hardaway, a Negro, said the reluctance of Negroes to apply possibly could go back to a time when, indirectly "colored boys were told their application would be thrown in the wastebasket."

Another commission member, Richard L. Sirfus, said at the time:

Discrimination

"If there is any chance of discrimination it would be in civil service oral interviews."

He added, however, he did not think the Civil Service Commission discriminates on racial grounds.

Urges Board

A member of the rights unit, Dr. Robert M. Johnson, charged in April that City Manager Tom Chenoweth has been "allowing discriminatory patterns to persist" in City Hall. Chenoweth denied the charge.

The Rights Commission and manager have held several discussions concerning the city's record of employing Negroes.

In a meeting Tuesday night, the Des Moines branch NAACP, directed its legal Council to take whatever steps are necessary to see that the rights of Fonzas are fully protected.

At a later meeting of the Advisory Board of the YOC, Driver agreed that his remarks regarding the apprenticeship programs had much to do with his resignation.

However, Negro leaders here condemned the report.

A committee of five were to meet with James Thomas, to explore the facts behind the report.

The condemnation came in a meeting of the Des Moines Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at Willie House.

James B. Morris, Jr., proposed the motion containing the condemnation and authorizing the appointment of the committee to insure the follow-up of this matter and, if necessary, to file another complaint under law.

Mayor Lindsay Lauds United Negro Fund

New York — "Higher education that is open to all on every social and economic level can serve as a great equalizing force," New York City's Mayor John V. Lindsay declared here Sept. 14, speaking at the kickoff luncheon of the United Negro College Fund's New York City Municipal Committee appeal.

He noted that the Fund has helped provide educational opportunities for many thousands of Negro students who could not possibly have continued their schooling without the Fund's support.

Citing the Municipal Government, Mayor Lindsay pointed to the fact that, among Negro supervisory employees in the City's Welfare Department and Transit Authority, one out of every five is a graduate of a college or university affiliated with the United Negro College Fund.

The Mayor, who is honorary chairman of the Municipal Committee, addressed more than 80 representatives of City agencies, including 43 City Commissioners and Departmental Heads.

Wilkins: Equality For Adam C. Powell

New York — Unless members of Congress proceed with a complete reorganization of committee structure and procedures in both Houses "they will give substance to Congressman Adam Clayton Powell's charge that he is a victim of racism," Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here, Sept. 22, commenting on the action to strip the New York Congressman of some of his power as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee.

"Representative Powell has been an effective, productive and skillful chairman of the committee," Mr. Wilkins said. "We do not approve of his absenteeism, his alleged abuse of authority and other misuse of his position, particularly the present holding up of an anti-poverty bill. But we know from experience that other committee chairmen have been guilty of similar offenses. Two wrongs do not make a right, but regardless of our feelings on Mr. Powell's private idiosyncrasies, he must have equality in the judgement of his official conduct."

Launch Against Banks, Protests Apartheid

109 well-known religious, labor and political figures are now sponsoring a campaign urging withdrawal of accounts from Chase Manhattan and First National City Banks, as a protest by Americans against the significant economic and psychological support to South African racism given to the apartheid Government by these banks.

A. Philip Randolph, dean of U.S. civil rights and labor leaders, is Chairman of the campaign. Among the sponsors are Joan Baez, Theodore Bikel, Stokely Carmichael, Ossie Davis, Ruby Dee, the Hon. Charles S. Diggs, James Farmer, Floyd McKissick and the Right Rev. James A. Pike.

Goal of the campaign is the withdrawal, on or before December 9th, of the day before Human Rights Day, of individual and institutional accounts from Chase Manhattan and First National City Banks, in protest against their economic support of South African apartheid. First National City is the only American bank to have its own branches in South Africa.

Equal Opportunity Employers Can Help

BY KERMIT DUNAHOO,
Minority Manpower Specialist
State Manpower Development

Negroes and other people of minority races looking for jobs should apply first to those companies which include the phrase "an equal opportunity employer" in their help-wanted ads in newspapers or other advertisements. The phrase "equal opportunity employer" means that the company is stating publicly that it is the company's policy to hire people according to their ability only. In other words, that company is saying that it will not discriminate upon the basis of race, creed, color, or national origin.

Many of the "equal-opportunity" employers hold contracts with various federal agencies, thus bringing the companies under the federal policy (President Johnson's Executive Order 11246) forbidding discrimination in employment involving federal contracts.

The ultimate penalty for continued discriminatory hiring practices by the company is cancellation of the contract. It is apparent, therefore, that any company with a federal contract will give proper consideration to any job applicant.

Crescent Beauty School Hosts Two-day Workshop

In a two-day seminar held at Crescent Beauty School, Iowa cosmetologists practiced with Mrs. Helen Martinez, Midwest Area Technician, from Chicago, Ill. She demonstrated techniques of Epic Hair Relaxer, a product of Professional Products, Division of Gillette Company.

"Proper application of Epic," Helen Martinez said, "by an experienced hair dresser takes little more than an hour." She has used Epic for four years.

The workshop, held Sept. 19-20, and hosted by the Cosmetists Club, local 102, was for licensed beauticians, and one of the first ladies to display her new permanent was the owner of Dorothy's beauty salon—Mrs. Dorothy Fowler, from Burlington, Iowa.

Glossy Beauticians commenting on Mrs. Fowler's permanent and on the relaxer thought Epic would be less damaging to the hair and eyes, since it didn't burn, and should be especially good for children. Others mentioned that "with practice it looked easy to apply."

Under Mrs. Martinez's direction, beauticians practiced on their models.

Coming in a kit, Epic has a shampoo, two conditioners, one for tinted and the other for untinted hair and hair dressing among its products. The relaxer lasts between four to eight weeks, depending upon the grade of hair.

PAULINE B. HUMPHREY, Manager

LINE by Marri Johnson

VELMA RALEIGH, a promising young writer here, stepped into a new role Sunday night, when she served as narrator for brother-in-law, Deacon Ira Hicks, at the Golden Echoes musical program given for St. John Baptist Church in behalf of its Projects Committee.

ALLEN DOWNEY served as stage manager in the Playhouse's recent production, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown". He also portrayed the "Young Waiter" in the same play. Al, a popular performer, has been in many productions — most recently in Confetti Ball. (Local theater devotees consider Al a "natural".) He is the husband of Ann Downey, who is also a fine actress.

ANDY McBRIDE explains a "sanction game" to be one played under ABC rules and regulations. Niles and Jones bowlers are under such rules. If one of them rolled a 300 or, that is, 12 strikes in a row, they would then be eligible to select a ring, a watch, gold belt buckle, a trophy electric mantle clock, or bowling pin trophy—whichever selected would have in it a diamond. Andy has won several and wears his proof.

FORRESTER, President of Niles & Jones Mixed League, had a high game of 233 with a total series of 633. Homer McCurn had a 232; Harold Lewis had a 227; and Bill Bruce was next with a 220.

With the women we have Jane George with a 198 high game and a total series of 538; Betty Shepherd was next with a 166 high game and a 469 series.

Speaking for Team 12, they had a high game of 856. Their series was 2273. This is an exceptionally high game for a mixed league.

EUGENE WILLIAM DAVIS, JR. — better known as "Gene" and a 1966 Tech High graduate and track man, was home over the weekend. Now a Mason City Junior College student, he reports that he is enjoying school and is a cheer leader and Vice President of the Pep Club. Gene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wade.

MAE HENRI EWING, another mother of this fall's off-to-college-crowd expressing her fatigue resulting from a busy summer and last minute details of daughter Manala's departure sighed, "When she goes, I'm going to crawl into a shell". This week, from deep within, said "shell", she had talked long distance to Mother Ethel Crumb in New York City and daughter Manala in Greeley, Colo. That's saying a lot for a "shell". But then there's always something new to be had in telephones these days, as Mae would know!

ANOTHER ESCAPE FOR EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION

Some weeks ago, the Iowa Civil Rights Commission undertook to ascertain whether Raymond Driver, a former employee of the Youth Opportunity Center, had been pressured out of his job because he made the statement that the plumbers union had practiced racial discrimination.

At the outset, the Employment Security Commission immediately attempted to set up road blocks so as to stymie a fair hearing. Apparently Governor Hughes felt that way for he asked the commission to make a full investigation which in a way, gave the rights commission his blessings.

This week the commission issued its findings which left much to be desired and so far resulted in a white wash for the opponents of Driver.

Matters of racial discrimination are hard to prove and with henchmen placed in strategic spots to block investigations and cover up evidence, just complaints are often thrown out the window.

The Bystander has no reservations in saying the Driver was asked to resign because of his disapproval of unfair labor practices. The report left the door open for further investigation which should be followed through.

If the commission expects to show its value, these matters must be followed through. The law is on their side and they should use it.

These disappointments in the outcome of the legal process help fan the flames of discontent among Negroes today. And people often wonder what they are mad about.

REP. POWELL PRESENTS
A POOR EXAMPLE

Representative Adam Clayton Powell of New York is in the headlines again doing something against somebody or being done against.

This time, the committee on Health and Welfare in Congress of which the chairman, under the leadership of Rep. Goggs, has stripped him of some of his authority, and charged the misuse of funds and other abuses of authority. Powell contended that the charges smack at racial discrimination and vowed he would win. He also attempted to justify his misdeeds because other members had done likewise.

Rep. Powell is in a position to do great things in the cause of advancement of the Negro. But he has failed. His antics are poor examples for youngsters to follow and help perpetuate the ignorance and poverty in the district from which he comes.

Roy Wilkins, in an effort to lend him some support, urged the committee to deal with Powell in an orderly and legal fashion without regard to his race. But Powell, like he usually does, pulled the rug from under Wilkins by announcing that he had not been dealt with unjustly.

Powell is a well prepared individual, an able preacher but his score in raising the general level of his race has been poor.

SUPPORT THE UNITED
CAMPAIGN DRIVE

The United Campaign for funds to meet charitable needs in Des Moines is in progress. Forty-four agencies, mostly characterbuilding, depend upon this source for their income. Consequently any let down in support of the drive pinches the agencies.

Unfortunately, all the city charities are not included in United Campaign which makes the solicitation for funds more difficult. People object to a solicitor for funds at their door day in and day out.

United Campaign has tried to avoid as much of this as would be permitted thus bringing an efficient orderly administration of the funds interested to their care.

In this day of unrest, particularly among young people, every effort should be made to work with the home, the church and other character building organizations to the end that every available assistance is given in an effort to build better communities. Everyone should do his share whether small or large. It is highly desirable that small givers

Well, we were properly shocked at the defeat of Iowa U. and Iowa State. We thought both teams had good chances to win. In the Hawk-eye's case, they made some defensive adjustments in the second half and held their opponents down, and with a lucky break or two might have climbed back into the game.

We still think they will win two Big Ten games, although we don't know really which two. If they can win this weekend, the Hawks might make it three Big Ten wins.

And we are glad to see the basketball team getting eligible for the first half. We never could believe that boy could make it in their grade for two years. We still argue that the guy just won't study for one reason or another.

IOWA STATE'S second half of the grid season depends on whether the Cyclones can come back after the Nebraska game. That we'll probably have two good trouncings. Then if they aren't too badly battered, the team will get into somewhat easier sailing. They could still have a respectable season.

If DRAKE can get by this weekend the Bulldogs could have an unbeaten season. That would be nice. Those guys are just about ready to play Missouri Valley football and they wouldn't be last.

Now that our Warriors are finally standing at the top of the League in the pro football league, maybe they will draw some crowds. Everyone who has seen them say they have a good football club. They might wind up as the League champs.

HERE IN OUR local high school, the kids are presenting problems for the all-city team picks and the season isn't half over yet. The four best backs in the city are Jack Johnson and Del McGuire of East, Ken Whitney of Roosevelt and Jim Kirby of North, with Tech's Willie Herndon right on their heels. Of course there has to be a quarterback, but who would you leave off? That Whitney boy runs as if he had the only football and the other guys are trying to take it away from him. And you know about Kirby and the other fellows.

OH WELL. There was a time when we had a big say in picking the all-city teams, especially the Negroes, but it wasn't really known. But time passes, and so we passed alo. Now, we wouldn't want the job in 1966.

MEANWHILE OVER in the National League, the Dodgers and Pirates are heading for home with the L.A. Club out in front by a mere. The manager is so slim, but the other boys have to catch them and so far they haven't done it. Maybe they won't.

And now we got a call saying we are not even noting Dowlings Negroes and we belong to the Bowling club!

State NAACP Branches
Hold Conference

The Iowa State NAACP Branches will hold its annual conference at Ft. Madison, Iowa, from Oct. 7-9. All members are to send their credentials as soon as possible. Registration fee for adult delegates is $7.50 and $3 for youth delegates. Fee for observers will be $1.50.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Charles Evers, Oct. 8. Evers is the Mississippi NAACP Field Director.

be assured that their contributions are welcomed and encouraged.

The last two campaigns have not been fully successful. Just why is difficult to pin point in view of the full employment and prosperity we have today.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Speaking of disease eradication, as doctors often do, a study made public by the World Health Organization dramatizes the difficulties of that enterprise.

The WHO study was on tetanus—one of the diseases you would least expect to hear about in the second half of the 20th Century, considering the progress made in immunization. In the United States, it's true, tetanus isn't very far from the vanishing point, with the annual number of cases down to about 350. But on the world scale, while no precise figures exist as to number of cases, the disease is known to kill more than 50,000 each year.

And — here's the rub — it's axiomatic among physicians that a disease can't really said to have been eradicated anywhere until it's been wiped out everywhere.

Tetanus, familiarly known as lockjaw, is caused by a germ whose common habitat is in the soil, though it also is found in the intestinal tracts of human beings and animals. It enters the body through wounds or lesions — anything from a scratch to a serious injury. It once was a serious menace to armies in war, but by World War Two it was so well controlled that the problem was minor, at least among the forces of the more developed nations.

Thriving best in tropical areas where sanitation and medical care are less than adequate, tetanus takes its greatest toll today in Africa. In the United States it occurs most frequently in the South, with a death rate among nonwhites about five times that of whites.

Tetanus vaccination is recommended and widely practiced in the United States. A course of three injections establishes basic immunity; to maintain it, booster shots are required every three to five years.

The Candidates Speak:
On War, Taxes, Money

Sioux Citian Wiley Mayne, Sixth District Republican candidate for Congress, charged last Thursday in a speech that Democratic incumbent Stanley Greigg failed to combat inflation on a key vote preventing a cut in foreign aid on Tuesday, Sept. 20. He said Greigg has once again shown himself to one of Pres. Johnson's most obedient big spenders.

"Tax credits for education offer a practical and much-needed solution to the financial problems which beset the family and the education community," declared Don Mahon last week, Republican candidate for Congress from the fifth District.

Charles H. Day, Peace Independent candidate for Iowa Senator, said that Iowa voters were sick and tired of the Viet Nam War and should have an opportunity to vote on the great issue.

"We are headed for major escalation of the war after the November elections. It is not too late to stop this war."

KATE GOLDMAN, Vice Chairman of the Iowa Citizen's Council on Crime and Delinquency, and Republican candidate for State Senator, took issue with Governor Hughes's statement about the needed changes for Iowa Juveniles.

"Patricia Malone's case in Wapello County is but a tragic demonstration that has called to public attention the need for improved welfare and court services to children in Iowa."

Rep. Powell on Hot Spot, Again

"I voted because I don't believe in hypocrisy," said Rep. William Ayres of Ohio, but Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was still stripped of many of his powers as chairman by a 27 to 1 vote of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Powell agreed to go along with a rebellious majority of his committee, and thus averted a bitter fight that had headed toward a showdown over new rules.

Powell indicated that he viewed the outcome as a victory. Puffing a cigar and smiling he said that the committee had merely reaffirmed the rules of the House, under which all committees are supposed to operate.

Clay: To Get Terrell
After Williams Fight

New York, N. Y.—Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay said Friday he expected to fight Ernie Terrell, the World Boxing Association titleholder, after the bout with Cleveland Williams in Houston, Nov. 12.

He also said he was willing to fight Floyd Patterson again "if the public wants it."

"Patterson beat the man I picked and therefore is a definite threat to my title," said Clay.

"I can't announce the date," said Clay, "but I'll fight Terrell for sure after the Williams fight, then possibly Patterson. At the rate I am going I could fight them all in six months."

The Presence of Mountains

Coming in from the sea you notice the presence of mountains, they lift trees, roads, houses, cattle, people near to the sky; their crests thrust beyond cloudtop, sluiced they are by streams. You can hear wind whistle music out of them fluting past birds to starsong's clear tenor. For climbers they make handhold and struggle.

Rocks grow on them jutting, outcropping, stone's toughest progeny.

Rotted under this ocean sprung from earth's foundation their grave strength draws deep from there pouring up higher higher than our construction.

Coming in from the sea you notice the presence of mountains.

A. L. HENDRIKS

Powell's authority to hire and fire staff employees and to spend committee funds. For the remainder of the year, he will have to get the approval of a majority of the committee for his decisions in these areas.

Last Monday a special House Administration looked into Powell's use of taxpayer's funds for staff salaries, personal travel and other expenses.

The subcommittee, headed by Wayne Hays, (Dem. Ohio), is Powell's arch enemy.

Trips

One area that Hays said his subcommittee will look at first is the trips taken by Powell and his staff, largely to Miami and Puerto Rico. In the Eighty-ninth Congress, Powell and his aides reportedly charged plane fare to Washington, D.C.
