Powell Explains 'Black Power Is Brain Power'

Molotov Cocktails 'Are not the Answer' Rev. Guilty of Libel

New York — At the Abyssinian Church in Harlem, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell denounced violence as a means of achieving Negro equality. "Riots can play no part in the fulfillment of black power," said Powell from his pulpit Sunday.

"After years and years of rioting, black people should realize by now that when we burn a neighborhood dry cleaners in a riot, we set our own clothes on fire.

"Instead of 'burn, baby, burn,' we should be shouting 'learn, baby, learn.' Instead of lighting the sky with Molotov cocktails, we should be brightening the skies with the stars of millions of registered voters.

Powell rejected the "black power" concept of Stokely Carmichael, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (S.N.C.C.), calling it a "fuse for rebellions in America's cities."

Disagreed

Afterwards Powell held a news conference during which he strongly disagreed with Carmichael's philosophy.

"It's his concept versus mine," Powell said, "Any effort to tie me with the Snick (S.N.C.C.) definition of 'black power' is totally erroneous. I do not agree with it."

Godly

Powell defined "black power" as "Godly power, black pride, black initiative."

Negroes Take Weapons From Police in Calif.

Los Angeles, Calif. — After a crowd of Negroes grabbed a man being arrested on an intoxication charge from two policemen early Sunday, they attacked the officers, police said.

Someone threw a bottle from an apartment balcony, hitting a cop, and others clubbed an officer with his own nightstick, while being choked.

About 25 Negroes in a Negro section of suburban Venice were involved.

Police said the man they were attempting to arrest got away. Three others were arrested, two on suspicion of taking a prisoner from police custody and another on suspicion of drunkenness.

Police said the two beleaguered officers fired three shots, two at the unidentified balcony thrower and one into the air. No one was reported hit.

Home is Bombarded By White Juveniles

Philadelphia, Pa. — Since Sunday, when a Negro family moved into a rented home in an all-white neighborhood, crowds of white teenagers and adults had milled about, hurling insults and throwing things.

A heavy 400 police guard enforced racial peace last Thursday night in the Kensington District and picked up 34 persons in the area for questioning. Four of them identified as Ku Klux Klan members, were charged with disorderly conduct.

Gov. William W. Scranton said he saw no need at the time to call in the state police or national guardsmen. "We have two men at the scene watching the progress," he added.

Hampton Institute Receives $50,000

New York — The largest gift ever made by a major American company to Hampton Institute was announced Wednesday, Oct. 5 by Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of the predominantly Negro college and Birny Mason, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of the Union Carbide Corporation.

"We believe the $50,000 grant is an excellent investment," Mr. Mason said, "because there are far more positions in industry available to college-educated Negroes than ever before. The real problem is to find the applicants. By supporting Hampton Institute's efforts to strengthen its faculty, facilities, and academic programs, we think we can play a positive role in helping to alleviate the critical shortage of qualified graduates."

Job Completed: Wilkins Lauds Little Rock Nine

New York. — Almost nine years ago to the day when nine Negro youngsters attempted to enter Little Rock's all-white Central High School, the NAACP announced the closing of a Special Scholarship Fund which was established to assure the youths of higher education opportunities.

In his letter to Mrs. Daisy Bates,

Scholarship Fund Helps Student Gap

New York, N.Y. — During the long, hot summer of '66, 21 representatives of the GAP Program of the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students, including staff members as well as especially recruited high school guidance and college admissions officers, journeyed to 160 college campuses. The purpose — to lend their special skills in getting young people into college to a $20 million program of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

These summer institutes, known as "Upward Bound", and designed to strengthen the credentials of college-bound boys and girls from disadvantaged backgrounds, began as a demonstration project in 1965. A conspicuous gap in the early program was the lack of student counseling — how to select and enroll in the right college, and secure financial aid, according to Richard L. Plaut, NSSFNS president in the agency's annual report released today. The GAP counseling program, supported by a grant from the Carnegie Corporation, was established by NSSFNS to fill this need.

James Dunn to Speak At American Friends

James Dunn, who directed the Southeast Bottoms Project this summer, will speak in a seminar on poverty next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the American Friends Service House.

The seminar is the fall project of the Iowa Methodist Student Movement. Sessions will open at 7:30 P.M., Thursday and end at 2:30 P.M. Saturday. State and city officials will confer with seminar participants on problems involving welfare, urban renewal, civil rights, police, war on poverty and inner city ministry.

Dunn, a social worker, was one of several in the police brutality marches in August, protesting the the leader in the historic struggle for school integration, Executive Director Roy Wilkins wrote: "I am sure that the efforts of the NAACP have been more than justified by these students."

Seven of the original nine youngsters have completed their college education, and one is in the process of doing so. Three have become teachers. Thelma Mothershead, whose mother administered the Scholarship Fund, is teaching in a junior high school in East St. Louis, Ill. Elizabeth Eckford is planning to enter the school system in Little Rock, Ark., and Gloria Ray teaches in Chicago, Ill.

Jefferson Thomas is in the Army. Terrance Roberts is married and lives in Los Angeles. Ernest Green is married and lives in Brooklyn where he is field director of the apprenticeship training program of the Workers Defense League.

College

Carlotta Wells is attending the University of Colorado, and Mrs. Bates is still hopeful that Minniejean Brown will resume her interrupted college career.

The NAACP signally honored "Mrs. Daisy Bates and the Little Rock Nine" by presenting them with the Spingarn Medal at its convention in Cleveland in 1958. The medal is awarded annually for distinguished achievement by a Negro American. The inscription hailed them for "their pioneer role in upholding the basic ideals of American democracy in the face of continuing harassment and constant threats of bodily injury."

Roller Skating At Willkie House Sat.

Saturday afternoons — 12:30 to 2 P.M. Willkie House initiates its Roller Skating program. Admission is 15¢.

There are no definitely organized classes but Drake students assisting with the program are available to give individual assistance to beginners and to lead in figure skating and skating games.

Skaters are expected to bring their own skates, but Willkie House can furnish a limited number of skates in several sizes at 25¢ for shoe skates and 10¢ for clamp-ons.

President Johnson to Rebuff 'Backlash'

Washington, D.C. — President Lyndon B. Johnson last Saturday issued a double rebuff to the backlash by pledging in his press conference to continue his civil rights leadership and then naming four Negro lawyers to judgeships.

The President set a record of appointments unparalleled in American history.

He nominated Spottswood W. Robinson, former Howard Law School Dean, to the U. S. Court of Appeals; Aubrey E. Robinson, of the D. C. Juvenile Court, to the U. S. District Court; Assistant U. S. Attorney Harry T. Alexander to the Court of General Session and Attorney Richard B. Atkinson to the D. C. Court of General Sessions. All of these judges will serve in the District of Columbia and are residents of Washington, D.C.

The President at his press conference said, "I have — the three years I have been President — tried, by word and action, to do everything I could to bring about equality among the races in this country and to see that the Brown decision affecting the integration of our schools was carried forward expeditiously and in accordance with the law.

Julian Bond Appeal Supported by NAACP

New York. — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has filed a friend of the court brief with the United States Supreme Court asking for reversal of a U.S. District Court decision upholding the refusal of the Georgia House of Representatives to seat Julian Bond, a 25-year-old civil rights activist.

The NAACP brief, filed Oct. 5, notes that Mr. Bond was duly elected in 1965 and twice re-elected by his Atlanta constituents to the Georgia Legislature's lower house. The House denied him a seat because of his publicly expressed opposition to United States policy in Vietnam.

At stake, the NAACP contends, is Mr. Bond's right "as a public official to express his views on a matter of public interest and concern. Since Bond has been re-elected on two occasions after the House refused to allow him to take his seat, it is clear that a majority of the voters of House District No. 136 do not consider Mr. Bond's views a disqualification."

Moreover, the NAACP charges, the House's refusal to seat Mr. Bond constituted an act of racial discrimination, denied him freedom of speech and deprived his constituents of a meaningful vote.

Karate Class at "Y", Ten-week Classes

The Des Moines YMCA will inaugurate a Karate program for high school and adult members beginning Monday, Oct. 17 under the leadership of Jerry Ryan, a Korean registered black belt.

Karate, the art of empty-hand fighting, will be conducted for a 10 week period and will emphasize training on a beginning level.

Open to all YMCA members, special three months' membership is available to individuals taking an instructional course at the "Y". A $5.00 class fee is also required.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Minneapolis, Minn. — Richard Barrett of Minneapolis has been elected into senior membership with the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers (IEEE). The Institute is the National Professional group for electrical and electronic engineers.

Chillicothe, Mo. — The Executive Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Roy Wilkins, will be the banquet speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Missouri State Conference of NAACP Branches this year. The Conference will meet Oct. 5-16 at the Strand Hotel.

New York, N.Y. — Mrs. Jane Pierce, 33, daughter of Ralph J. Bunche, Nobel Peace Prize-winner and U.S. undersecretary of the United Nations, died when she fell or jumped from the roof of her first floor Bronx apartment residence. New York City police said. An autopsy revealed death due to multiple fractures and hemorrhage apparently resulting from "a fall from a good height."

Omaha, Nebr. — This year's Homecoming Dance at Technical High School was cancelled because in recent years, the homecoming dance has become more difficult to control, according to assistant Principal John Peace, who said that fear of racial conflict had nothing to do with it. Although several Tech students contradicted this, Peace said that in past dances some had wanted to smoke in the building, thrown rocks at windows and challenged him to fights.

Tampa, Fla. — Warning shots were fired into the air and three Negroes were arrested Sunday after a crowd of them disarmed two policemen who tried to break up a fight. Police said two white officers, W. L. Howell and G. R. Stroud, were surrounded by about 300 Negroes who took their guns, nightsticks and portable two-way radio.

Methodists Warned: Church Segregation

An Iowa Methodist newspaper has stated that the key issue facing the denomination's Nov. 7-12 General Conference at Chicago may be whether progress toward ending Methodist church segregation shall continue "on faith or on target."

Danger

An article in the Oct. 3 issue of the HAWKEYE METHODIST, monthly journal for 300,000 Iowa Methodists, said, "There is a danger that the November General Conference will eliminate the (all Negro) Central Jurisdiction without arriving at a racially inclusive united church."

The HAWKEYE story points out that the 1964 Methodist General Conference forbade any references to racial units in the new constitution. While the new constitution has no reference to race, the HAWKEYE cautions that this may lead to "elimination by deletion," with the Central Jurisdiction disappearing but separate Negro annual conferences remaining.

Reject White, Black Racism 'Employment--Deplorable; Insurance Discriminates'

The 26th Annual meeting of the Iowa State Conference of branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People met, denouncing black power, urging the 1967 legislature to pass a more adequate fair housing bill and permitting cities to establish their own Human Rights commissions.

The convention last week, headed by President Louis A. Garland of Receiving life membership plaques were Mrs. Harry Harper, of Ft. Madison, and the Sioux City branch, accepted by their president, Mr. Garland. Presented flowers were Miss Virginia Harper, youth advisor and chairman of this year's Conference. Winning the Ike Small trophy was the Ottumwa branch. The award, given each year to the branch with the most accomplishments and increase in memberships, is in honor of the late Ike Small, national vice president of the NAACP Board.

Life Memberships

The Conference resolution hit hard at the employment situation: "Much of the plight of the Negro in Iowa can be attributed to the Iowa Employment Security Commission and its local units."

Newly elected officers were President—Att. Robert A. Wright, D. M.; first vice president—Father Francis Duncan, Davenport; second vice president—Mrs. Clara Bayles, Des Moines; third vice president—James

GARLAND

Sioux City, endorsed resolutions to strive for equal opportunities for all minority group peoples, denouncing racism, whether it was "black power or white."

Evers Speaks

Guest speaker for the event was Charles Evers, Mississippi field director. Evers, brother of the murdered Medgar Evers, former Mississippi field director, told the convention that all Mississippi Negroes were concerned in making life better for all men. "We will never again take and accept what we have in the past, and we do not intend to."

Adding that if the wrong people interfere, Southern Negroes intend to "shoot to kill."

NAACP resolutions called for Att. General Lawrence Scalis, who had said that the Municipal Human Rights Commission were working without legal authority, to give cities and towns the right to establish human rights commissions and to properly staff and finance them.

The Conference opened with workshops by Perry Hooks and James Thomas, executive director and secretary of the Des Moines and State Human Rights Commissions. With the theme "area of concern," they discussed Des Moines' Oakridge Housing problems, the opposition to low-rent housing and education.

Resolutions touched on discriminatory practices in insurance which included such acts as refusal to insure Negroes, higher premiums and quota basis insurance.

Elimination

According to the HAWKEYE, "Negro Methodists make it very clear that their goal is a racially inclusive church and not just elimination of the Central Jurisdiction."

"A stalemate has developed in some areas," the HAWKEYE said, "between geographic and Negro annual conferences. The geographic conferences are willing for the Central Jurisdiction to disappear but refuse to set any timetable for the union of Negro churches into the geographic conferences where they are located. The Negro churches refuse to agree to any plan without dates."

Singing professionally since 1957, he began in his father Baptist Church in hometown North Chicago.

In '59 he scouted around to get with two more guys — Charles Williams on drums and Dave Stevens, bass.

tative and black productivity. "Internationally, nationally or in the community," he said. "I have never seen nor read in the history books where violence has ever solved a problem."

Powell owes $160,000 in libel damages to a Harlem widow, Mrs. Esther James, 68, as a result of a jury's 1963 decision that he libeled her. In a 1960 television broadcast, he called her a bag woman, or graft collector, for the police department.

An all-white jury of nine men and three women found the Democratic congressman from Harlem guilty of illegally evading five separate court orders in the protracted libel action.

Powell's lawyers say they will appeal.

You Can Make Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM Yourself!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy bakery, you can now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them, too; enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies
1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 1/2 cup saltine cracker crumbs; 1/2 cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven (375°F) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

Do's And Don'ts

Ex-basketball Star Named Labor Dept. Att.

Washington — Walter Dukes, a former college and professional basketball star, has been appointed as an attorney in the Labor Department's Office of the Solicitor.

Dukes, a professional basketball player for 10 years, will work out of the regional attorney's office in New York City.

In his new position, Dukes will be concerned with legal issues arising under the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Labor Management Reporting and Disclosure Act and other laws administered by the Labor Department.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Dukes received a B.S. degree from Seton Hall University where he starred in basketball.

The 36-year-old attorney obtained an L.L.B. degree from New York Law School and a master's degree in business administration from New York University. He also attended the Sorbonne in France.

From 1953 to 1963, Dukes starred professionally with the Harlem Globetrotters, New York Knickerbockers, Minnesota Lakers and Detroit Pistons.

Equality--Job Testing

By KERMIT DUNAHOO,
Minority Specialist,
Manpower Council

The Federal Government is taking a broad look at the concept of job equality. As was pointed out in last week's article, companies holding federal contracts must in fact be "equal opportunity employers" not only in their hiring practices but in their entire employment cycles (including testing procedures, salaries, training programs, employee facilities, fringe benefits, and all other phases of post-employment personnel practices).

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Washington, D.C., recently published a set of guidelines which all companies can use to ensure fairness or equality in one phase of the employment cycle — testing procedures. The Commission, emphasizing that it is now carefully scrutinizing the employment tests used by companies which have been shown to have discriminated in the past, stated that the language and legislative history of Title VII of the (United States) Civil Rights Act of 1964 "make it clear that tests may not be used as a device to exclude prospective employees on the basis of race."

Arguing that performance on the job is what counts, the Commission recommends that companies also stress job analysis, recruitment, screening and interviewing related to job requirements, and test selection on the basis of specific job-related criteria. In other words, the Commission does not say that tests should be done away with, but rather that the tests should be used only to measure the applicant's ability to perform the particular job for which he is being considered.

Stressing that a fair employment test is one which "minimize(s) cultural differences," the Commission feels that test results for a minority applicant should be validated or evaluated from a sample of applicants which includes both whites and Negroes (and other representative minorities).

Minority applicants who feel that companies have used employment tests to discriminate against them should contact any one of several civil rights agencies.

REV. NORMAN R. OLPHIN'S tender shepherding of his flock — as I observed him at last Sunday afternoon's program — is developing a GREAT SOCIETY of Corinthian's very own. There can be no waste of talent there, either!

MARY JANE DIXON, of the talented Dixon family — Husband "R. C." and Son "Robert C., Jr." — presented a very fine group of singers at Corinthian Baptist Church last Sunday. Mrs. Dixon displays versatility and creativity in her planning and presentation of programs. She is truly dedicated.

CAROLYN CLINTON, Shiloh Baptist's wondrous songstress was tremendous in her recital last Sunday and this week unanimously acclaimed "A Young Mahalia". The supporting singers are to be commended for their excellence.

JAMES N. BETHEL, ACSW, Glenwood State School's community consultant is chairman of this year's Iowa Welfare Association Conference, to be held in November. Mr. Bethel is a former VA psychiatric social worker.

"MITCH GREEN", former Eastern Iowa field representative for the OEO (State Office of Economic Opportunity) is now a faculty member of Iowa Wesleyan College's Department of Sociology, Mount Pleasant. Friends here wish him the best!

THE GERTRUDE HARRIS CLAN has reached the zenith in clansmanship. When son, Edward C., married last Saturday, the only outsiders present were the bride, Hanne Cain, and her small daughter, Allison.

ELAINE ESTES was radiantly beautiful as she made her appearance among the other librarians modeling yesteryear's fineries. The occasion was the Des Moines Public Library's Centennial Open House. The large audiences found the affair to be even more interesting than Ruth Stokesberry, the radio voice, promised it would be.

NILES AND JONES: Wilbur Hunt had a 245 high game and a 649 series; high among the women: Jane George had a 225 high and a 672 series; Helen White bowled a 506 series.

A PERFECT DESCRIPTION of a local professional man who has lost no time outdistancing colleagues was given this way: "He's left the rest of us choking and sneezing in his dust".

AIRPLANE BOMBING OF UNITED STATES! "Tis said to have occurred first on Nov. 12, 1926 when the Sheltons and Birgers, rival beer and rum factions were feuding in Williamson County, Ill. in the city of "Bloody Herrin." The plane, swooping low, aimed three bombs over the farmhouse of Charles Birger. The bombs, crudely made, did not explode, undoubtedly sparing the lives of the Birger faction, for the flyer was an exceptionally good marksman. There was no conviction for the crime.

Forest Hill Has Discussion Meeting

Subjects to be discussed at the Forest Hills Neighborhood Opportunity Center, 801 Forest, held every second Thursday at 7:30 are better police protection and neighborhood lighting and housing, healthier children, more playground areas and elimination of bootlegging, gambling and prostitution.

The Measles Clinic is open Sunday, Oct. 16, 12-6 P.M.

Tuesday and Wednesday Adult Basic Education classes nights are at 7 P.M., and High School Equivalency classes are Tuesday and Thursday night at 7 P.M. Monday and Wednesday morning classes begin at 9:30.

Planned Parenthood meetings are held Tuesday and Thursday, from 9:30-11:30, with a movie each Thursday.

Student study classes with tutoring are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 7-9 P.M.

The Center would like to organize a Choral Group with age 11-15 children.

Oakridge

Some 128 persons attended a ham and chicken dinner and a talent show Friday at the first annual "Family Night Out" sponsored by the Oakridge neighborhood group at the opportunity center, 1301 Center street.

Performing in the talent show was a rock 'n' roll combo — Ricky Stone, Ronald Fisher and Mike and Kilroy Beeler; singing by the Williams & Atkins Girls Quartet; and dances of the Roaring Thirties by Amy Jo Jackson and Rochelle and Tyrone Stewart.

Mrs. Goodwin Returns From Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Priscilla Goodwin, of 1330 9th street, who returned home last week from Saginaw, Mich., where she attended the funeral of Mrs. Leana Hoffman, a former Des Moines resident, was accompanied to Chicago, Ill., with Roy Taylor, son of the deceased, to visit friends and relatives there.

MRS. GRAVES

This Week: From ADC To Red Cross Worker

"What made me decide? I was tired of being poor, that's why," said the secretary, momentarily averted to her switchboard.

The secretary was Mrs. Josephine Graves, of 1444 Garfield, who, "tired of being poor", enlisted in a twenty-week training program last January that later landed her a well-paying job at the Polk County Red Cross, at 514 4th street.

Mrs. Graves, formerly of Lovilla, Ia., came to Des Moines in 1964, where she applied for Aid to Dependent Children (ADC), but it wasn't enough to satisfactorily care for her two boys, Terry, and Teddy, 6.

Training

After Mr. Perky (Gale Perky, Director of the ADC Work Training Program) informed her of the newly organized Training Program connected with the Red Cross, she applied in January for a twenty-week training session, where she and about twenty other ADC mothers brushed upon general office practice and business skills, among other classes.

After the training program, the Red Cross Department had an opening in the clerical field in July and the Director of Volunteers and Red Cross Youths, she sometimes works on the switchboard.

It's Hard

"It's hard," she admitted, "when there is just one parent in the home, but if the children are near school age, the mother should get out and work; if she wants her children to have the things they need, and if she wants to be someone in her own eyes."

WE MUST SPEAK
LOUDER AGAINST
HOODLUMS—ENEMIES

The Bystander has long compared the civil rights movement to a battle. A general is given an objective to conquer. To complete his mission, not only must he be able to accomplish his objective but to be able to stay there—to prevent the enemy North and South—toward the—soon.

Since World War II tremendous strides have been made—North and South—toward the full enjoyment of civil rights. And while much is left to be accomplished, the movement has gained great momentum.

Unfortunately, also, it has not been the enemy only, but also irresponsible misinformed people who in their enthusiasm to exercise their rights, have formed mobs, destroyed property and molested citizens generally on the pretext that somebody has been abused.

The Bystander has further urged that the churches, social organizations and civic groups should use their influence toward obedience to law and order along with orderly protests against racial discrimination. Frankly, this approach has lagged.

Last week a group of local Negro ministers announced that they proposed to police the rowdy people. It is a fine gesture which we hope will not be allowed to die a natural death soon.

In his weekly article in the Des Moines Register Sunday, Roy Wilkins pointed out how irresponsible, rowdy conduct has undermined the Negro's civil rights progress by losing support for the movement. He cited numerous anti-Negro candidates for public office who had been nominated recently.

Representative A. Clayton Powell, in his sermon at Abyssinian Baptist Church, called Stokely Carmichael's methods and beliefs a detriment to the cause of civil rights. However, at a press conference following the meeting he refused to condemn Carmichael. (Powell is good at that.)

Negro mobs have done no more than white mobs. (The riot in Harlem, Iowa, last week is an example). Unions have done the same thing over the years in order to force their demands. However, Negroes cannot afford to copy the bad, rotten things some whites do, for by so doing, they hurt the whole race as well as themselves.

It is fortunate that these protests against violence have been broadcast in all places. They point up concern for disobedience to constituted authority and a positive call for leaders to speak out against lawlessness and do something about it.

COURT PLACES

CANDIDATES NEARER
TO THE PEOPLE

In a history making decision Monday, the U. S. Supreme Court upheld a decision by the Iowa Supreme Court that heavily populated Iowa counties must be subdivided into smaller districts for the election of state legislators.

In that decision, the Iowa court directed the 1967 Legislature to provide for subdividing in the larger counties and held that the Iowa Constitution does not prevent this.

The decision means that large counties must be cut into districts, say Polk, so that voters will not be required to vote for eleven representatives composed of a slate of hand picked candidates coming from one section of the city.

We have always favored this position and carried further should apply to a city. Here, the whole city council is elected at large which has resulted in no member from the southeast side since the present plan was adopted. Municipal organizations have called for a change which would elect at least a part of the council by wards.

Maybe someone should challenge that at large system in cities just as a group did which won this case.

COMMANDING GENERAL
PRAISE FOR SOLDIERS

Some irresponsible people have said Negroes should not fight in the Viet Nam War. Of course, this is foolish and attempts to negate the fact that Negroes have had an upsurge of progress after each war as a reward for their valiant services.

This quote from General Westmoreland, commander of the forces in Viet Nam, appears in the current issue of LOOK magazine this week!

"The Negro soldier's come into his own. This is one of the dramatic stories of the war. He has the self-respect he didn't have before. You can't tell the difference between Negro and white soldiers."

The general put it strong but too much about "self-respect."

The fine record these boys are making must not be allowed to be tarnished by groups of worthless hoodlums who are no good to themselves or anybody else.

We would have to say that the LOS ANGELES DODGERS and the IOWA HAWKEYES have something in common. They can't seem to get any wins. IOWA, of course, was up against a top-rated ball club last week with one of the nation's best powers. But the guys just didn't cash in on what few chances they did have. If their morale isn't shaken up we would give them a good chance to get MINNESOTA next weekend. We still think they may win two or maybe three conference games. But the HAWKS had better get to winning.

IOWA STATE looked good against KANSAS and makes one think the CYCLONES might break even in their conference game if they can keep their key players in one piece.

DRAKE gives every indication of having an unbeaten season. Those guys are a lot tougher than we think they are. They have good throwers, good catchers and can run a little. Think they might get a BOWL BID?

We didn't look for much out of that DENVER team that played the WARRIORS. Those independent teams just don't have it any more. Just about half the football, basketball and baseball players who want to play and are any good at all are in organized ball, either major or minor.

Here is our high school battles, the stage is set for the showdown between NORTH'S JIM KIRBY and ROOSEVELT'S KEN WHITNEY. The two guys are one-two in the race and each one had to go for his team to win. WHICH ONE WILL IT BE?

EAST was apparently still in a state of shock behind that WATERLOO game because those lads almost fumbled away another one. But this time they got on the right side of a fumble and scored the game's only score.

TECH just can't seem to get going. They dropped one to MARSHALLTOWN and we just don't know who they are going to beat. A far cry from the days when the ENGINEERS were really rough.

HOW DID YOU like the short WORLD SERIES? We were a DODGER rooster, but now as we look back, we would offer our opinion that this DODGER team, as it is made up hasn't got the style. The speed just isn't there to do the things those guys did even two years ago. With about three replacements the team might win again, but not next year. And now they have a new managing wizard whose first job was to obey the first rule for successful managing or coaching.

The first fundamental rule about this job is to get some guys who can play. The ORIOLES did that. Even though we would have liked a DODGER win, we were glad to see FRANK ROBINSON come through in grand style.

D. M. Warriors Lead
IN Prof. League

The Des Moines Warriors, leading the Professional Football League of America with a 5-1 record, drew 3,555 Saturday night for an exhibition game with the Denver Bandits. Des Moines won, 63-0.

Frank Anderson, president of the Des Moines Warriors, Monday denied a report that he is attempting to move the club to Cedar Rapids.

"I don't think that's the answer," Anderson said. "Des Moines is the town we want to be in."

Shock-Haired Sen. Here
Kennedy Back Ia. Dem.

Among the screams and cheers of delighted onlookers, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived here in the whirlwind tour of his Iowa Democratic rally.

In a speech at Fort Des Moines Hotel, Kennedy pointed out Democratic achievement over Republican ventures and urged Americans to help its fellow men: "If 68.5 per cent of all young Negro men taking the armed forces medical test faked... we cannot say that medical facilities are going well."

Unemployed

"If 24.5 per cent of all New York Negro males are unemployed... we cannot say that the employment rate is going up."

"Life has changed for the young. Already, a high school education is a virtual necessity to enter the Armed Forces. Even a high school diploma may not qualify a young man for work; Two-thirds of the young men, all high school grads, who took a completely objective test could not qualify for apprenticeship in the plumbers' union."

Mississippi

In Mississippi, machine automation will force Negroes, in all probability, to the poverty ghettos of New York and Chicago and Los Angeles. They have no education; they will have no jobs; they will have no future. But the same change which affects Negroes affects whites."

Kennedy, state senator from New York, who attended a twenty dollar plate luncheon prior to his speech, was in Iowa to endorse the Democratic candidates of the fifth district, among which were A. June Franklin.

With the senator were Gov. Harold Hughes, Senatorial candidate E. B. Smith and congressman Neal Smith.

Political Candidates'
Doings and Sayings

The Republican Congressional Candidate Fred Schwengel, said that while expenditures for the Vietnam war were rising the Johnson Administration should be cutting back on domestic spending.

Schwengel stated, "Such programs as the War of Poverty are overloaded with high paid officials. The Job Corps training is more expensive than Harvard or Yale. People in the middle-income brackets can get their rent paid through an ill-conceived rent subsidy program."

William G. Murray, Republican candidate for governor, said Wednesday that higher amounts of aid alone would not bring about the property tax relief which was absolutely necessary.

"A new method of distributing state aids must be found so that school boards will know that a certain percentage of their costs will be covered by the aid. The present system, which has infrequent large amounts of state aid dumped into the school district, is unwise and can lead to poor administration," Murray said.

Iowa State End
Eppie Barney Hurt

Ames, Ia. — Iowa state split end Eppie Barney was listed as a doubtful starter Monday for the Cyclones Saturday.

Coach Clay Stapleton said Barney had re-injured his back in Iowa

In an address on the subject "How can good citizens take an active part in politics?" Sunday evening at the Asbury Methodist Church in Bettendorf, First District Congressman John R. Schmidhauser emphasized that open public debate of the vital issues of the day constitute a clear cut obligation to be met by any candidate for political office.

Schmidhauser pointed out that despite the length of the congressional session, he has helped a number of civic-minded groups arrange one of the fullest debate schedules undertaken by any political candidate in recent years.

Bucks Farmer 7% Tax Credit

E. B. Smith of Ames, Democratic candidate for United States senator, said that farmers should be allowed to continue the 7 per cent tax credit for investment in new machinery and equipment.

Much of Iowa's economy depends on farmer investment in equipment for increasing yield, he said, but this spending contributes little to inflation.

State's 24-7 victory over Kansas. The injury first cropped up two weeks ago against Nebraska.

Before the Nebraska game, Barney led the Big Eight receivers with 11 grabs for 142 yards. To date, he has caught 20 for 253 yards.

Barney, quarterback Tim Van Galder's favorite target, also led the Big Eight in pass receptions last

The Kingdom
Of Summer

After the grain was cut and harvested and the stubble hardened in gray, waving rows,
the melons put out green and yellow tendrils
and blossomed with stars.

From the back gate, which swung on a rusty spring and creaked when the slimmest breeze slipped into the yard, it was one thousand, two hundred,
and sixteen steps

(long-legged, at that) to the first melon vine.

Summer was such a slow-poke!
The cottonwoods loosed their feathery cargoes; goldfinches riddled the poppies;
and a second crop of sparrows piped along before the melons lost their green muteness.

And he who came bearing the first ripe melon of summer shouldered against the sunset, came a king.

LAUGH LINES

A beatnik raced up to the psychiatrist at his Army physical and pleaded, "Take me right now! Forget about basic training! Just give me a rifle. Send me to the front. I am power and strength! I am the conqueror."

Said the doctor: "You're crazy!"

"Write that down, dad," said the beatnik. "Write that down."

The amphetamines can produce psychological or emotional dependency. Many, though not all, of the tranquilizers can cause the user to become addicted, and their overuse can result in stupor or even death.

The hallucinogenic drugs — notably marijuana and LSD — are defended as "harmless" in some quarters, but their use for pleasure or sensation is condemned by doctors generally, and their sale is illegal. Marijuana causes loss of judgment that can result in accidents; it may also open the door to heroin use and addiction. LSD can cause temporary or lasting insanity, or even death.

Frank Robinson is Outstanding Player

The hard-hitting outfielder who got the Baltimore Orioles off winging in the first game of the Series by belting a two-run first-inning homer against Don Drysdale to lead the Birds to a 5-2 rout, was named Sport Magazine's Corvette Award winner as the outstanding player in the 1966 World Series.

Frank Robinson, who was the Series leader in home runs and runs-batted in, received the award, a 1967 Corvette, at a luncheon in the New York Hilton Hotel yesterday.

Robinson, who moved over from the Cincinnati Reds last winter, also won the triple crown at bat in the American League.
