"America Cannot Ignore Negro"

King Announces Own Rights Plan for Following

Negro Powerless, "Needs Political and Economic Power"

Atlanta, Ga. — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has announced a dramatic new action program to make the nation "face the fact that the Negro is powerless and that it is absolutely necessary for him to amass political and economic power to reach his legitimate goals."

He warned that the white backlash and public criticism will never stop the Civil Rights Movement. "Our Movement is the most militant and most effective in contemporary struggles," Dr. King said after meeting in Atlanta last week with top advisers of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Non-violence

He called for non-violent demonstrations across the land to demand massive political, economic and educational measures for Negroes and all other poor people.

Justified Expense

Dr. King further said that though the expense of the Freedom Budget and other programs might conflict with the war budget, this "is not an argument for post-pone racial justice — it is an argument for ending the war."

Dr. King declined to repudiate certain civil rights organizations. The SCLC President and Nobel Peace Prize winner added that "connotations of violence and separatism attached to the 'Black Power' slogan must be resolutely opposed" by SCLC.

"The non-violent movement has never resorted to violence or separatism," he said. "We are justified, therefore, in reaffirming adherence to our founding principles on both moral and practical grounds."

Jerry Bolden Speaks And Citizens Answer

"The second offenders, give them a choice of a $500 fine or six months' free rent to tenants," he said with a short laugh, talking about discriminating landlords.

This came from 27 year-old Jerry Bolden, of 1110 12th street, who the week before last in a letter to the City Council, criticized Robert Wright, president of the Des Moines NAACP and James B. Morris, Jr., attorney, because he thought they did not represent the Des Moines Negro poor.

"They're controlled by the City Council," he explained. "City Council won't let them do anything."

"I don't have wood paneling or carpeting in my home — how can they represent me?"

Wright

"However, Atty. Wright said this: Pres. Johnson is the undisputed leader of all Americans, from the poor in Appalachia to the upper middle class. When he speaks, he speaks for all."

Perry Hooks, executive secretary of Human Rights Commission: "Apparently they (Wright and Morris) are the leaders for someone or else they wouldn't be president of the NAACP and wouldn't be a successful as they are. They must be representing someone."

Mayor George Whitmer: "Bolden is the first one who has expressed opposition to their leadership."

Hooks

"About Perry Hooks, I don't know," Bolden went on. "I guess

"Miss B&W" Crowned at Boston

Criminal Contempt Case, Arrest Harlem Democrat

In less than ten minutes after they had resumed deliberation, a jury of nine men and three women found Rep. Adam Clayton Powell guilty on five counts of criminal contempt in the New York State Supreme court last Monday, Oct. 10. Powell was tried on five counts of willful contempt arising from his failure to appear for examination of his assets in connection with a $164,000 judgment won by Mrs. Esther James, a Harlem widow.

Last Friday Supreme Court Justice Wilfred A. Waltemade ordered Rev. Powell's arrest when the Congress went into recess.

It was the second arrest order made against Powell, the first being in June, 1964.

Waltemade based his order on a finding that Powell was guilty of civil contempt for his deliberate failure to answer a Dec. 15, 1963 subpoena in the Powell-James trial.

Waltemade authorized any sheriff in New York state to arrest Powell when Congress was not in session and to detain him until the judgment had been cared for.

The court actions reach back to

Supreme Court Backs Mississippi NAACP

Washington, D.C. — The Supreme Court has refused to review an order directing Mississippi officials to permit the NAACP to become a domestic corporation in the state.

Mississippi Attorney General Joe T. Patterson had appealed on the basis that the issue involved was the right of a New York corporation "to force itself upon the state when no attempt has been made to interfere with its activities or the rights of its members."

In its ruling, the Supreme Court upheld the decision issued in New Orleans by the United States Court of Appeals.

he's doing the best he can. But he knows what will happen if he goes too far."

When asked about "going too far", Mr. Hooks replied, "I can only hope he means doing something which is disapproved of by the Commission."

What do you think?

Powell calling Mrs. James a "bag woman", or graft collector for corrupt policemen on a 1960 television show.

Borough President Backs Review Board

New York, N.Y. — Percy Sutton, president of New York City's Manhattan Borough, said here this week that "enough people can't wear these 'No' buttons which tell you how to vote to keep the Civilian Police Review Board." He made this statement as he accepted his button from NAACP representatives at a recent ceremony.

"I believe the maintenance of the Civilian Police Review Board is the most crucial issue on the November ballot. Some people are using their opposition to it as a disguise for bigotry."

Mrs. Lucille Rose, who is coordinating the 16 NAACP Manhattan branches in their drive to keep the Board, gave Mr. Sutton his "No" button. Present with her were Dr. John A. Morsell, NAACP assistant executive director; Jeff Greenup, president of the New York Branch, and Mrs. Shirley Farmer, secretary of the Mid-Manhattan Branch.

At 74.4 per cent Goal For United Campaign,

A total of $1,608,330 has been pledged to the Greater Des Moines United Campaign, or 74.4 per cent of its goal, it was announced at the Third Progress Report Luncheon at the Y.M.C.A. Friday, Oct. 14.

Chairman Edward Glazer and co-chairman Robert W. Dillon expressed pleasure that the dedication and cooperation of volunteers and givers alike has kept the campaign moving steadily ahead.

Leading the thirteen divisions in the campaign structure is West Des Moines with 92 per cent of quota pledged by firms and individuals in that Suburban city. Joseph S. Van Winkle heads that division.

NAACP Ex. Secretary Assails New Limit

"The House adoption of the Foundation amendment, a provision that would make it impossible for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to withhold funds from school districts that discriminate without protracted hearings, is the latest and perhaps most devastating blow in the current campaign to destroy the civil rights advances of the last few years," said Roy Wilkins, chairman of the leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

Attack

It is an extension of the on-going attack on the school desegregation guidelines. It will encourage further the enemies of civil rights who have already been emboldened by the election victories of the segregationists and indications of a so-called white backlash. It reflects the absolutely baseless charges now circulating that HEW is "too harsh" in its administration of the guidelines and is moving "too fast." When after 12 years only 8 percent of Southern schools are desegregated no one can say we are going too fast. And no one can say HEW has pushed desegregation too vigorously when despite widely documented violations it has withheld funds from only 89 of 7,000 hospitals and 37 of 1,800 Southern school districts.

Irony

"It is a terrible irony that a Congress which has done so much for law and order now does so much to make it difficult to obtain obedience to the law. This Congress slashed funds badly needed for enforcement. It is now pressing new restrictions upon government agencies. Its own abuse of legislative process can only feed unrest and disillusion among Negroes and spur on the bigots of the North and South to new excesses."

"We call upon all members of Congress who worked for enactment of recent civil rights legislation to defend their own laws — and reject the crippling amendments of the last two weeks. We call upon the President to stand behind the men he has named to office. And we call upon the public to recognize that nothing can create more disrespect for law than the vilification of public officials trying to uphold it."

NEWS In A Nutshell

New York, N.Y. — Elegant Magazine, a monthly publication printed in California with business and editorial offices in New York, Wednesday, Oct. 12, endorsed Governor Edmund G. Brown for re-election as governor of the State of California.

Washington, D.C. — A young man was under observation at D.C. General hospital, Saturday, confined there by police who struggled with him outside the office of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N. Y. A secretary found a box marked poison on the floor where the youth had been struggling with the policeman.

Chicago, Ill. — The famous gospel singer, Mahalia Jackson, reported in Chicago to Dr. Walter McDonald for examination of her fractured wrist. She broke the left wrist several weeks ago when she tripped over a microphone stand during a Los Angeles recording session. When the cast is removed she will start a European concert tour. Miss Jackson lives in Chicago.

St. Louis, Mo. — The appointment of Norman W. Powell to the position of national field assistant to the vice president and general sales manager of Seagram Distillers Company has been announced by Bernard Tabbat, president of Seagram Distillers.

In appointing Mr. Powell, Mr. Tabbat said: "Norman Powell's extensive experience in the liquor industry makes him uniquely suited to his newest assignment."

Frankfort, Ky. — The State Court of Appeals, Friday, dismissed a suit filed by a white woman now married to an Indiana Negro for custody of her five children by a previous marriage. The father obtained custody of the children through a 1964 ruling by Jefferson Circuit Judge Lyndon Schmid, at Louisville, who said, that "rearing these children in a racially mixed atmosphere will per se indoctrinate them with a psychology of inferiority."

Washington, D. C. — The Negro job situation showed little change in September after deteriorating from April to August, the Labor Department reported. The unemployment rate among Negroes in September was 7.8 percent, compared with a 7.9 percent average for the May-August period.

Baltimore, Md. — Joseph S. Eubanks, assistant professor of voice at Morgan State College in Baltimore and a former Oakland, Cal., school teacher at Oakland Technical, sang the National Anthem at the first game of the World Series in Baltimore last Saturday. Eubanks received his BA from S.F. State.

School Children Contribute Bundles

Approximately 25,000 bundles were contributed by children in the Des Moines public schools during the recent School Bundle Drive sponsored by the Des Moines Council of Parent-Teachers Associations, it was reported by Mrs. Robert Littler, chairman of the campaign.

'Crisis and Commitment' Statement Appeals for Full Integration Co-operation

New York, N.Y. — Releasing last Thursday a declaration rejecting extremist power structure advocates and bigots, seven of the nation's top Negro leaders of civil rights and fraternal organization signed a statement affirming their commitment to the attainment of racial justice, repudiating violence, leveling of racial barriers and asserting the continued urgent need for black-white cooperation in securing objective.

Crisis

"No one can any longer doubt or ignore the depth of crisis which today confronts Negro Americans struggling to enjoy full and equal citizenship in their native land," the statement ran. "The year's events have piled confusion and uncertainty on underlying racial prejudices in the majority population. The consequence has been intensified resistance to change at a time when the need for change is greatest."

The statement, entitled "Crisis and Commitment", represented Dorothy Height, the National Council of Negro Women; Philip Randolph, President of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, AFL-CIO; Bayard Rustin, Director, A. Philip Randolph Institute; Roy Wilkins, Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Whitney M. Young, Jr., Executive Director, National Urban League; Amos T. Hall, Executive Secretary, Conference of Grand Masters, Prince Hall Masons of America, and Hobson R. Reynolds, Grand Exalted Ruler, Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World.

Abandonment

"There is nothing new about these principles," it went on. "What is new are the conditions which compel us to re-state them — not the least of which is their abandonment by some and black, for bringing integration to pass. We not only welcome, we urge, the full cooperation of white Americans in what must be a joint endeavor if it is to prosper. It should go without saying that, in seeking full equality for Negroes, we cannot and will not deny it to others who join us in this common fight."

Worsening

The leaders did not condone riots, but did demand the means to end them, for the steady worsening of the average Negro's lot was increasing while the rest of the nation enjoyed general prosperity.

"Society cannot perpetuate discrimination against Negroes and then blame the victims of their leaders for the outbursts of those who have been made desperate."

Defending the Negro not involved in riots, the statement said: "The near total absence of this perspective is reflected in the survey figures showing declines in public sentiment favoring civil rights. Has the nation forgotten, for example, that for every Negro youth who throws a brick, there are a hundred thousand suffering the same disadvantages who do not? That for every Negro who tosses a Molotov cocktail, there are a thousand fighting and dying on the battlefields of Vietnam?"

James Farmer

"We cannot ignore the signs of a retreat by white America from the national commitment to racial justice."

Militants

Absent from the list of affirmers were Stockley Carmichael, director of SNCC (Student, Non-Violent Coordinating Committee), Floyd McKissick, national director and James Farmer, former CORE (Congress of Racial Equality) director and Rev. Martin Luther King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. But King released his own prepared statement concerning civil rights.

"Ninety years ago, this nation permitted the democratic promise of Emancipation to wither and die before a rampant reaction which condemned the Negro to segregation, disfranchisement, peonage and death. Then, as now, the voices of temporary and disillusionment with the capacity of the freedmen for full citizenship. Then, as now, the South capitalized on Northern weariness with the 'race problem' and was enabled to shut off the hope of freedom. But the 'race problem' remained, and today we are paying for yesterday's default."

"We are determined that history shall not repeat itself. We call upon all our Negro and white, of all ages, to move with us Individuals and groups whose positions are nevertheless frequently interpreted as representing the civil rights movement."

REYNOLDS

Signers declared that they were committed to pursue democratic and racial justice and repudiated any schemes which advocated the use of violence.

They condemned both rioting and "demagogues."

"As we are committed to the goal of integration into every aspect of the national life, we are equally committed to the common responsibility of all Americans, both white able many needy school children to warmly dressed during the coming winter months."

Miss Simone was represented as the writer on her latest Philips single, "Four Women." The contemporary ballad profiling four Negro women has sparked controversy among deejays because of its no-holds-barred lyric. Release of the single this past week was brought about by concentrated air-play of the song in her latest album, "Wild is the Wind."

"Four Women" will be performed by Miss Simone when she appears Oct. 26 on the Merv Griffin Show and on other pending TV assignments.

Ike Cole has been held over for this week. He's been drawing such an enthusiastic crowd out at the JAZZ SET SUPPER CLUB.

New York, N.Y. — A jury has acquitted Ernest Gallashaw, a 17-year-old Negro, of a first-degree murder charge in the shooting of an 11-year-old Negro boy during an outbreak of racial violence in Brooklyn last summer.

Gallashaw said after the verdict last Thursday night that he is going to finish high school "and try to become a detective on the New York police."

The jury's verdict, reached after six hours of deliberation, brought cheers from many of the 50 courtroom spectators, most of them Negroes. The panel included two Negro men.

The defendant's mother, Ernestine Gallashaw, was one of 16 witnesses who testified that her son was at home when Eric Dean was shot to death July 21 in the East New York section.

College Seniors to Get Medical Awards

Chicago, Ill. — Four-year scholarships to U.S. medical schools will be awarded to 10 outstanding Negro college seniors by National Medical Fellowships, Inc. of Chicago, under a $70,000 grant from the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

The scholarships, for members of the class entering medical school in 1967, are intended to encourage qualified young Negroes to become physicians and to help increase the disproportionately low number of Negroes now in medical practice.

The scholarship stipend, based on each student's need, ranges from $1,000 to a current maximum of $1,500 a year for a four year period.

To qualify for a National Medical-Sloan Foundation Scholarship, a student must have demonstrated outstanding achievement in college, be capable of scoring above average on the Medical College Admission Test, and be a U.S. citizen.

The Changing Scene: Roosevelt High

Theodore Roosevelt High School is in the process of a student revolution.

Five years ago there were less than ten Negro students attending the whole school. Now there are at least fifty, with more coming.

Five years ago there were no more than two Negro boys, if that, on any sports team. Now there have been wrestlers, track and field participants, football and basketball stars.

Five years ago it was unheard of, so to speak, to have a Negro girl in the Mimes dramatic troupe or in the Riderettes drill team. Now there are girls active in both.

Thompson

Prior to the recent influx, the last Negroes in sports were footballer Jack Thompson, back in the 40's and Billie Wells, who ran track in the 60's.

Now there is 17 year-old co-captain fullback Ken Whitney, the city's leading scorer in football, whose record extends from eighty and fifty-four yard runs to scoring in the victorious 1965 state championship basketball tournament.

And there is Beadie Stewart who likes history (because the teacher talks about America and all that jazz) and Robert Williams, Clifton Slaughter, Michael Clinton (Student Council representative) and the other guys who now play on sophomore and varsity football.

Riderettes

But our T.R.H.S. students do not limit themselves to sports. Linda Griffin and Stanlie James, seniors, were the first Negro girls ever to be accepted in the Riderettes and the Mimes. Stanlie, senior editor of the Annual, is also on the literary board and the Blue Cadets, as is Sandra Robinson. (These two girls are also in a club called, "Give me your pickles and you can have my salad.")

There are countless other students, including newly arrived Henderson Davis, Jr., son of St. Paul's Rev. H. Davis. He has been said to be one of the brightest boys ever to come along, in one counselor's opinion, one among the expanding cross-section of Roosevelt's "changing scene."

Interpreting Test Results

As a result of the sometimes disproportionate ratings and highly subjective method of evaluating an individual prior to job placement, it appears that objective data as a means of individual assessment will become increasingly more pronounced. Notwithstanding the fact that even objective tests are "cultural free," these test still provide one with a certain amount of self insight if interpreted properly. The results therefore should not be minimized by the individual.

The intelligence quotient is not to be discounted — but one is encouraged to look beyond this "IQ" for certain isolated factors that might be more indicative of one's abilities and aptitudes. For example, the General Aptitude Test Battery (GATB) not only reveals a general intelligence score, which can be converted to an "IQ", but also points out one's potential in the areas of clerical perception, manual dexterity, form perception and verbal reasoning, to mention a few.

Individuals required to take tests for subsequent job placement or training should not be content with shallow "feed back" from test interpreters nor should they be satisfied with an over generalization of a satisfactory or unsatisfactory test performance.

An Appraisal of a Fighter -- Kate Goldman for Senate

Why Kate Goldman is Our Candidate for The Iowa Senate

by Inez Morrow and John Estes, Jr.

We need a friend in the Iowa Legislature! Not a new-found friend who is interested in us only before an election, but a friend of long standing who is moved to politics by our cause.

Kate Goldman has been such a friend all her life. She proves herself every day by her work and interest in civil rights, education, welfare and housing. Those who know her well, knows she cares deeply about human dignity and human need.

Great Record

She cared and worked hard as a member of Governor Erbe's and Governor Hughes's Human Rights Commissions. In 1963, she took on the responsibility, and passed almost single-handedly, the first Iowa State Fair Employment Practices law. She made friends in the Iowa Legislature that served to help pass in 1965 the Iowa Civil Rights Commission legislation, the Revision of the Juvenile Code, Work Release for county Prisoners, the Child Abuse law, the Public Defender Law, the state security hospital, and numerous other legislation in the public interest.

Kate does not sit back and hope society will improve itself. She's a doer who gets things done.

In the last three sessions of the Legislature, as a plain citizen, she worked to inform our representatives and senators about the needs of people, and guided bills through the process of getting them passed. She has been working tirelessly for us even though we may not know it.

Understanding

For three years, as one of the original panelists of the Know Your Neighbor Panel, she traveled throughout Iowa and into other states talking frankly about prejudice between races and creeds, and bringing new understanding to many people.

Kate is Education Chairman of the Polk County Community Action Council, on the Executive Committee of United Community Services, and on the Executive Committee of the Iowa Citizens' Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Taxes, education, local land state government, recreation, and welfare are important to city people, and are issues she is informed on and will give us a strong voice in.

Kate Goldman has vision, imagination, and courage. Polk County needs her and we need her.

Every single vote counts!

We need your help to ELECT KATE ON NOV. 8!

U. S. SENATOR JACK MILLER And The Civil Rights Act of 1964

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE
TWENTY WEST FORTIETH STREET • NEW YORK, N. Y. 10018
June 11, 1964

The Honorable Jack Miller
Senate Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Miller:

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the general Negro public and the millions of friends of the civil rights cause thank you for your vote June 10 to invoke the cloture rule by a vote of 71-29 to end the 74-day Senate debate on the civil rights bill.

The 27 Republican Senators once more echoed Abraham Lincoln and the 44 Democratic Senators upheld the finest tradition of their party. This was an historic action which was taken only after all opponents of this legislation had been given much more than ample time to state their views. Continuance would have constituted a prima facie case of pure obstruction and would have stultified the whole Senate.

We have, naturally, a deep satisfaction, shared, we are certain, by many proud Americans, that the June 10 vote was taken on a human rights issue whose resolution has plagued the conscience of our nation as long as we have been a nation and especially so in the past one hundred years.

We look forward now to the enactment shortly of a civil rights bill of meaning and strength.

Very sincerely yours,
Roy Wilkins
Executive Secretary

MOST THINGS ARE HIGHER
THAN THEY WERE IN 1936

... BUT LONG DISTANCE RATES ARE LOWER!

Thirty years ago a Long Distance call was a big event for the average family. Putting the call through often took several minutes, and the cost could put quite a dent in the family budget. Today you can call anywhere in the nation in a matter of seconds. Your voice is carried across the miles as clearly as if you were phoning a neighbor. And as for cost—just look at these comparisons:

3 MINUTE STATION-TO-STATION RATES

	DAY RATES 1936	DAY RATES 1966	NIGHT & SUNDAY RATES—1966*
Des Moines to Seattle	$5.25	$1.70	.90
Sioux City to Miami	5.00	1.70	.90
Davenport to Phoenix	4.25	1.55	.80
Council Bluffs to New York	4.25	1.55	.80
Mason City to New Orleans	3.50	1.45	.75

*Lowest rates in history are in effect after 8 P.M. daily and anytime on Sunday. During those periods you can make a 3-minute station call to anywhere in the U.S., except Hawaii and Alaska, for $1.00 or less.

LINES by Marri Johnson

Cliff and Calara Bayles and Dick and Catherine Williams had as their guest, Jeannine Brewton, at the Horse & Buggy last Sunday. Jeannine is the five-year-old daughter of Cecil and Sharon Brewton. As the five passed through the food line, Jeannine was given small portions of this and that but back at the table didn't appear too interested — simply ate a couple or three olives and fell silent. Her friends asked if she would like to go back for something. "Yes."

It was for three or four olives — a different color, but olives. Twice more she returned "for olives". When all was said and done she had neatly consumed an entire meal of say 15 or so olives!

Miles for olives, yet! Cute?

Dr. and Mrs. Meredith H. Saunders recently entertained his brother and sister-in-law, Atty. and Mrs. Philip Saunders and Mr. and Mrs. James Smallins, who accompanied them. Neighbors, the two couples reside in Milwaukee, Wis. Mr. Saunders and Mr. Smallins were old high school mates back in Mason City, Ia. Mr. Saunders is attorney for AC Electronics Division for General Motors in Milwaukee, and Mr. Smallins is basketball coach for Milwaukee State High School Champions.

Rose Johnson, busy Republican candidate for State Legislature, was enthusiastic over this year's NAACP State Conference. Being her usual self — an earnest participant.

Marjorie E. W. Smith, whose home is the nucleus of so many important civic activities, invited me to accompany her to hear A. June Franklin, Democratic candidate for State Legislature, in her appearance as guest speaker of First Unitarian Church's Adult Program last Sunday morning. She next urged me to accompany her to Mount Olive Baptist Church's Women's Day Program. She reported the women gave a highly successful program, when I phoned her later.

Niles & Jones Mixed Bowling Team League reports Betty Shepherd had a 179 high game and a 502 series. Jeannette Bethel had a 198 high game and a 476 series. Turning to the men: Jim Bethel had a 202, Sy Forrester a 203, Bob White a 209, Wilbur Hunt a 216, Elmer Tolson had a 214 and Dick Henderson a 256 high game and a 615 series.

"Continental Flair" Theme At Entre Nous Fashion Show At Willkie House

Carrying out the theme "Continental Flair," the Entre Nous Club went all out to present this year's fashion show in all its glamour.

Held at Willkie House from 4-6 p.m., the Ways and Means Chairman, Mrs. Delores Bailey, brought models who styled from velvet to suede to mink outfits, and from children's clothes to after-five costumes.

There were several fashions which drew reactions from the capacity audience, the first, of course, being the tiny tot section, when the Ira Hicks children paraded before the lights. The little girls wore blue, bodiced, ruffled blouses and blue, full skirts, and the little man had on a blue blazer, with a plaid bow tie, and grey slacks.

Commentator

Commentator, Mrs. Billie Jean Morrow, appeared in a green, floor length silk formal coat, under which was a fully lined dress with side slits. She wore cocktail length white gloves.

Featuring the "mod" look was Judi James, attired in a grey and blue tiny-floral print blouse, with a wood, A-line, hip hugger skirt, held up by a black wide belt. Her blouse was accented by a blue turtle-neck dicky.

In the casual department was Noretta Fowler, in a three-piece outfit. Her skirt and bermudas were of orange, brown and red design and her top was a yellow "poor boy" sweater.

Ed Beechum

Drawing "oh's" and "ah's" from the women was Ed Beechum, as he stepped out in a red, corduroy lounge jacket, black suede slippers and polka dot ascot. His lounge pajamas were vanilla. His pipe was walnut.

In a gold, v-necked pullover suede sweater was Billy Cockrell, finishing in black trousers and shoes.

Moving to the more mature department, Mrs. Helen Harris appeared in a grey, two piece suit, with an over blouse as its top. The jacket had a tiny collar trimmed in white. Her accessories were white gloves, black purse and white and black shoes.

Dressed for rain, Mrs. Erma Carr was snug in a black and white military raincoat. The white coat and calf high boots were trimmed in black with black buttons.

Mrs. J. Jackson was attired in a three piece green suit, with a side buttoned jacket, similar to a cape coat. Her green hat, shoes and gloves complimented the rounded ends of her jacket.

Miss Carolyn Clinton appeared in a cocoa brown suede coat. Double-breasted, it was collared in lynx fur, with an optional belt.

No Back

Evening wear went dramatic when Mrs. L. Mosby, attired in gold and white, showed off a semi-fitted, A-line dress with a gold jacket. When removed, it uncovered a cut-out back. Mrs. Mosby's accessories were gold drop earrings, gloves and satin shoes.

Another eye catcher was a black velvet formal, with a matching cape top. The overblouse was a white shell, and accessories were swing back shoes.

Capping off the evening was Mrs. Linda Hunt Redd and bridal attendants.

Made

Models who made outfits for the occasion were Mrs. Les Flanagan, Mrs. Jo Ann Davis, Mrs. L. Mosby and Zoe Mitchell, a national designer, formerly of Des Moines.

Hostesses were mesdames Lavena Henderson, Geraldine Draffen, Grace Wade and Birdie Thorpe.

Pianist was Mrs. Doris Davis, and attendants escorting the models to and from the platform were Lucian Bailey, Charles Holmes and Ronald Mackey. Refreshments — fruit punch and cookies — were served from cut-glass crystal and flatglass, which held the cookies. The tables were clothed in white, with the vased flowers in autumn colors.

Further music was provided during intermission, when Clifton Slaughter, Diane Webster, Gary Jackson and Mona Bell sang, "I Been Trying," and "You Must Believe Me."

Models

Among models appearing were Wanda Carter, Deborah Burrell, Debby Brewer, Joyce Morrow, Beverly Griffin, Charlene Pack, Daphne Bell, Marsha and Noretta Fowler, Patty Holmes, Mrs. G. Randle, Ronene Parky, Ginger Wilson, Jessamine Dixon, Mary Hobbs, Christine Johnson, Miss R. Greenfield, Cecelia Thompson, Marsha Fant, Joyce Jackson, Mrs. Thelma Clark, Wanda Griffin, Mrs. Leona Payne, Diane, Pam Hunt, and Mrs. Minnie McGuire. Male models were Ira Hicks, Jr., Ira Hicks, Sr., Ed Beechum, Billy Cockrell and Anthony Langford. Program chairman was Mrs. Lydia Perry.

President of the Entre Nous Club is Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, who wishes to apologize for an error made in omitting one of the club members, Mrs. Ruth Moore, long-time member.

HEALTH FOR ALL

FASHION NOTE — A decline in the appendicitis case rate has been widely noted of late, and the trend is confirmed by Medical Tribune. Nobody is quite sure of the reason, but two possible causes are said to be better nutrition and the use of antibiotics.

FOR THE CAREER-MINDED — For young people and their elders interested in careers in the health field, the U.S. Department of Labor offers a comprehensive manual called Health Careers Guidebook. Copies at $1.50 each can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.S. 20402.

HIT THE BOTTLE? — Although nursing the baby has distinct advantages over the bottle routine for baby and mother alike, Dr. Frederick W. Goodrich, Jr., advises that bottle feeding is preferable if Mom has a strong aversion to nature's method. Could be psychologically bad for Junior, the theory goes.

MENTAL PATIENTS — The New York State Dept. of Mental Hygiene announced that the number of resident patients in its hospitals decreased from 84,862 on March 31, 1965, to 82,765 a year later. In 1955, the patient population totaled more than 93,000. The improvement is generally attributed to the use of tranquilizing drugs. It doesn't mean, unfortunately, that mental health is ceasing to be a serious problem.

INHALE, EXHALE — Latest "in" is the "breathe-in" as conducted some months ago at the California State Capitol in Sacramento. Many state senators and assemblymen joined the general public in taking a lung function test to find out whether signs of respiratory disease might be present. The action was carried out by the TB and Health Association of Sacramento County.

LOW COST HOUSING CAN HELP MORE THAN ONE WAY

Answering a critic of the housing program to be voted on at the election on Nov. 8, who questioned whether undesirable people would be eligible as renters, William F. Poorman, chairman of the committee and who has made an extensive study of projects in other cities, said that each applicant would be screened carefully and that any who failed to maintain standards would be evicted.

He stated further that the social welfare agencies had agreed to lend its services in educating and training tenants in better methods of homemaking in order to help maintain better homes.

This is an excellent program which should be carried further and help other recipients of public funds bring their standards up to that of orderly clean homes and neighborhoods.

The Bystander had hoped that anti-poverty projects would undertake such a program instead of dipping into fields that are already being handled by existing agencies.

Thousands of dollars are being spent by ADC and other agencies to help families provide a better life for children. But beyond seeing that the recipients get what the law allows, nothing is done to help and educate the families to do a better job maintaining their houses and improving surroundings, many of which are a disgrace. They simply perpetuate ghettos and badly maintained homes and neighborhoods which pass on from one generation to another.

We believe that the social agencies working with existing groups, including the anti-poverty program (which in our observation are not helping the unfortunate to better themselves as they might) could evolve a program which would train and help these people to maintain better looking houses and neighborhoods. It would do more to break down the stiff opposition to open housing occupancy than all the laws, protests and marches combined. For years, public charity has helped the unfortunate eat and keep a roof over their heads but it has taken little interest in the kind of roof or the character of the neighborhoods that have been provided.

Most of these people would welcome such help. Low cost housing, including public assistance, is not a Negro problem, as too many people view the situation, but one affecting blacks and whites similarly situated.

A FOOLISH FIGHT

Negroes must not spend their energy fighting among themselves over "who the leader is". Those people who are willing to spend their time and money working for the betterment of the human race tend to stand out in the Community not necessarily as leaders but as citizens who have made some contribution to the uplift of all the people.

Such people are not "selected" as leaders but are recognized and sought after when there is a job to do.

GALLOP POLL SHOWS DECLINE IN NEGRO REPUBLICAN VOTES

A recent Gallup poll indicates that the Republican party has made some gains among organized labor but continues to lose ground among the Negro voters.

We are not so sure that this is untrue for the Democrats, under the leadership of President Johnson, have been doing some excellent things which are on display while the Republicans, as a minority, cannot make what they do show such a display.

Much criticism has been hurled at Senator Dirksen for his part in defeating the 1966 Civil Rights measure. But these same critics don't realize that there are sufficient Democrats in Congress to have passed the bill without a Republican vote and yet Republicans are blamed for the defeat.

These same critics don't know or realize that the civil rights measure passed by Congress last year or before could not have passed without Republican support and that it was Senator Dirksen who saved the measures from defeat. It was Senator Dirksen and not majority leader Mansfield who rescued and saw that the bills were passed.

A disproportionate number of Negroes are on some type of relief or another most of whom can be counted on to vote the Democratic ticket. Not that we are opposed to relief, but the system tends take a lot of backbone and drive out of some people.

REAL ESTATE TAXES A PRIMARY ISSUE

A man came to the Bystander to place an ad for the sale of his home. Upon inquiry why he wished to sell, he said "I am paying about $100.00 per month taxes. This is too much for my income."

Now, everybody is not paying $100 per month taxes on his home, but whatever it amounts to is burdensome and an unequal contribution to the costs of maintaining the state.

Iowa has $85,000,000 surplus which has been collected mostly from sales taxes of one kind or another and which is doing nobody much good. This surplus could well be used to lower real estate taxes next year. It would help home ownership and further equalize support of the state by all the people.

This, to us, is a most important issue in this campaign.

Well, two of the three games we thought IOWA U. might win have come and gone and still no wins. Maybe this weekend will be it. NORTHWESTERN hasn't been too tough all season, but teams that play IOWA have a habit of suddenly getting tough. We hope to be there to see.

WHAT is the answer? We would guess there is only one. Get some more good players. IOWA STATE has just about played itself out to the end of their physical limits. And they have a couple of tough ones coming up. The CYCLOES have a fine first unit, but that is as far as the strength goes. No reserves. So they are in for some long afternoons.

DRAKE really got a tiger by the tail at LOUISVILLE. It was said that DRAKE could do nothing right and the home boys could do nothing wrong. Oh, well, there goes our unbeaten season and our bowl bid.

The WARRIORS really pulled one out of fire last week at OMAHA. They never led until the final field goal. Must have been a tough one for a guy with a BAD HEART to watch. Wonder why people don't go out of their home games in large numbers.

Here at home the expected duel between ROOSEVELT'S KEN WHITNEY and NORTH'S JIM KIRBY never really developed. KIRBY was handicapped by a bad ankle and without him to take some of the passes of RICH RAMSEY, NORTH didn't have much of an offense. ROOSEVELT got a couple of early breaks and that was it. Somebody once said that most games are lost rather than won.

EAST played an always tough home FT. DODGE team and pulled out a win. Now the three leading names are tied. They are KIRBY of NORTH, WHITNEY of ROOSEVELT and JOCK JOHNSON of EAST.

We talked last week with a guy who mentioned the old MAROON ATHLETIC CLUB.

This was a local NEGRO ATHLETIC CLUB that finished in the twenties and just before. Maybe they can over into the early THIRTIES, but we don't think so. They had football and basketball teams and played anybody anywhere.

Those old MAROONS were a rough and ready lot. They had to be because they never had a home field.

It has been said they practiced on paving, they were that hard. They never won too many games because in those days you weren't supposed to beat the home team.

This fellow said he would like to see the members of those clubs have a reunion sometime. It would be nice to see how many MAROONS are still around.

Is White Backlash Factor in Elections?

Washington, D.C. — White backlash is emerging as a bipartisan threat in the 1966 election campaign, haunting Democrats in some areas and Republicans in others.

It is expected to damage Northern Democrats more than Republicans to the extent that voters blame the pace of President Johnson's civil rights program for the strife and violence erupting from the drive for racial equality.

Democrat

Blacklash is believed to be working against the Democrats in the contest between California Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown and GOP gubernatorial candidate Ronald Reagan, and in the race between Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and challenger Charles H. Percy.

To a lesser extent it could also be a factor in the struggle between Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and his Democratic opponent Frank D. O'Connor.

Political Candidates' Doings and Sayings

"Calculated timing on the part of the Democratic Governor of Iowa and the President of the United States has increased the plight of Iowa's senior citizens", GERALD SHEARER, Republican candidate for State Senate said.

"Johnson has waited until near adjournment time for Congress and Hughes did nothing until after the last session closed.

DON MAHON, Republican candidate for Congress, cited a rising trend in his favor with regard to a change in Washington representation in Congress from Iowa's Fifth District.

Mahon said this view was backed in his behalf with a substantial contribution to his campaign by the Republican Congressional Boosters Club. The support was made by private contributions in Mahon's behalf.

KATE GOLDMAN, Republican candidate for Senator from Polk County, Wednesday called for the elimination of the present Board of Social Welfare and the Board of Control, and for a new structure combining the functions of the two boards.

She said, "These three member administrative boards must go if we, the citizens, are to get our value for the $50 million annually that is appropriated to these two boards."

"I voted for cloture and for the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and for the Voting Rights Act of 1965. In my judgment, both bills were constitutional. There were some who questioned the constitutionality of the Voting Rights act, because it provides that a state or other governmental unit must prove that it has not been discriminating in certain cases. Thus, the burden of proof seems to fall on the accused." This was a statement prepared by Democratic SEN. JACK MILLER.

Oct. 17, Congressman JOHN R. SCHMIDHAUSER demanded a full explanation concerning the construction of an excessively costly underground parking ramp in the District of Columbia. Total cost of the project, Schmidhauser said, is estimated at 30 million dollars.

"Strong state and local action is needed now to halt Iowa's rising crime rate," WILLIAM G. MURRAY, Republican candidate for Governor, said.

"Our concern, however, is not only with serious crime. Recently, Iowans have been disturbed by riots and hoodlums. These are not classified as serious crimes, such as murder and assault, but are of grave concern to our citizens," he said. Murray said "all Iowans expect to be safe in their homes and on the streets. They have a perfect right to demand this, and aggressive state policies could make this happen."
