Black Muslim Slain; Two Others Wounded

Bleed on Sidewalk, Brother, Critical Suspect Sect at War

St. Louis, Mo. — A black Muslim died last Monday in a hospital after being shot in front of a restaurant, and two others are in fair to critical condition.

John Moore, 29, Clyde X. Jones, 36, and Timothy Hoffman, 29, were shot after they left the Muslim Shabazz Restaurant to quarrel with accused killer Andrew Hoffman. The assailant drew his pistol and began firing at the three men, witnesses told police. Then he fled to a nearby car.

Wounds

Moore, hit in the head, died hours later, and Jones, shot in the arm and face, is in critical condition. Hoffman, brother to the shooter, was wounded in the chest and arm and is reported to be in fair condition.

A relative to the accused killer said that he had taken his wife to work and was on his way to the barbershop when the incident occurred.

Dispute

Police surmised that the shooting was the result of some apparent internal dispute within the Black Muslim sect in Missouri. Hoffman was formerly connected with the Muslims, but had been dropped from membership.

John Hoffman, father of Andrew, said last Wednesday that there was no existing feud, as far as he knew, between the brothers or the slain man.

Trouble

"I knew that my son had been into some trouble with the Muslims and that he had been put out of the organization, but I never discussed any of his business with him."

According to the relative, Hoffman knew that he was going to pass the Shabazz and possibly anticipating trouble, went armed. Members of the sect are warned not to come on any property belonging to them, nor to attend any meetings, it was explained.

Murder Charge

Hoffman was charged with assault with intent to kill, and he was taken to the city jail, but refused to make a statement.

Final rites for John More are to be held Friday.

Pittsburgh Courier Bows to Acquisition

Chicago, Ill. — John H. Sengstacke, Publisher and Editor of the Chicago Daily Defender and President of Sengstacke Publications, announced the acquisition of the Pittsburgh Courier chain of newspapers excluding the Chicago Courier.

Publishers Service Syndicate, Inc., an Illinois corporation which Sengstacke heads, purchased the intangible assets but no physical assets of the Pittsburgh Courier Publishing Company, including the name, circulation, advertising, accounts receivable and good will.

One of the oldest Negro publishing houses in existence today, the Pittsburgh operates newspapers in major cities and a National edition which is distributed in hundreds of cities and towns.

The Courier chain will join the fourteen other Sengstacke publication newspapers.

This total newspaper group will make the largest Negro chain operating in the world with a combined weekly circulation of over 400,000 copies.

The new company will hire the present editorial and business staff.

Dr. Rice Appointed To World Bank Post

Washington, D. C. — Thursday, President Lyndon B. Johnson named Dr. Emmett J. Rice, 46, of the Treasury Department to the post of U.S. Alternate-Executive Director of the World Bank. The appointment was announced last Monday at the White House.

Dr. Rice who has a Ph.D. from the University of California and is a native of Florence, S. C., is the third Negro to be named by President Johnson to a financial post of national and international importance. Earlier the President appointed Hobart Taylor, Jr. as Director of the Export-Import Bank and last year named Andrew F. Brimmer Governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

Far East

Pres. Johnson, upon the recommendation of Secretary of Treasury Henry Fowler, made the new appointment on the eve of his departure to the Far East. Since June 1964 Dr. Rice has been serving as Acting Director, Office of Developing Nations, in the Office of the Assistant Secretary for International Affairs in the Treasury Department.

N. B. A.

Pres. Johnson urged officials of the National Bar Association to launch a program of recruitment for potential Negro law students who could find employment with white legal firms and the Federal government, who at his direction, are constantly on the lookout for competent Negro attorneys for government service.

At a meeting in the Cabinet Room of the White House last week, the President and members of the NBA Executive Board, headed by Revis O. Ortigue, Jr., NBA President, held a spirited conference that stretched from an original 15 minutes' appointment to an hour and fifteen minutes. Atty. Ortigue further added that I talked last week with the first two (post 1934) Negro bus drivers here. They are Emmett Johnson, 35, of 1302 13th street and Charles Singleton, 28, of 1419 18th street.

Q: Why, in your opinions, haven't Negroes been hired by the Transit Company before now?

Johnson and Singleton: They just hadn't applied. Most of them didn't have the qualifications.

Q: What are the qualifications?

Johnson: A high school education, physically fit, a good, clean driving record, an eye test and an aptitude test.

Q: How did you apply?

Singleton: I was told about the job, so I went to the Manpower Council and filled out an application. Then I talked with Transit Company president, George McLaughlin, who assured me that there were no discriminatory hiring practices.

Q: What satisfaction, if any, do you get from your job?

Singleton: I meet people, talk with them. But with any job, you have to love it in order to do it well.

Q: How do people react when they see you at the wheel?

Johnson: There was one incident when I first started. This lady was very startled when she saw me and had a comment to make.

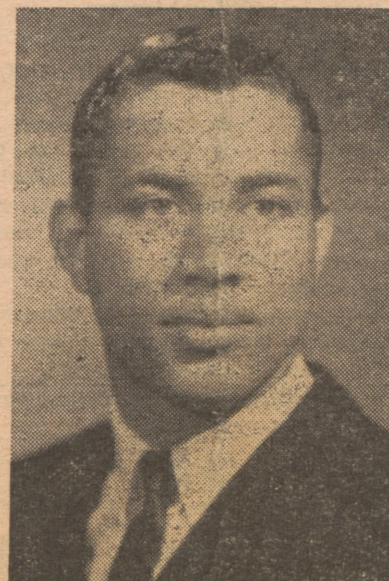

Singleton: There haven't been any for me. The only temper control I need is with other drivers. Mr. McLaughlin said that someone might say something but that it had to go in one ear and out the other.

A citizens' meeting to discuss Public Housing will be held at Willkie House on Tuesday, Nov. 1 at 8: PM. A panel of informed speakers

NEWS In A Nutshell

St. Louis, Mo. — Two high school students on their way home from school Monday were stabbed and taken to a hospital where their conditions were called serious, after fighting with three other teenagers. The girl was wounded in the back and chest and the boy suffered stab cuts in the back and contusions of the lower lip. All were charged with general peace disturbance.

Boston, Mass. — Chinese-American public school children in Boston have been officially declared white by the school committee in the controversy over racial imbalance in schools. Classification as white of the 661 pupils in two schools in the Chinatown section was intended to remove them from the racially imbalanced category. The enrollments in the two schools are almost completely Chinese.

Memphis, Tenn. — Students at predominantly white Memphis State University in Tennessee elected a 20-year-old Negro coed as second alternate to the Homecoming Queen. She is Carla Allen of Memphis, the only Negro among the 12 candidates. Toni Chiozza, 20, of Memphis, daughter of former major league baseball player, Louis P. Chiozza, and Mrs. Chiozza, reigned as queen at Saturday's homecoming. Sandra Hooper, 20, Ripley, Tenn., was first alternate.

Omaha, Neb. — Wilson L. Fitzpatrick recently was promoted to section chief in the telephone switching equipment plant at Western Electric's Omaha Works. Mr. Fitzpatrick will supervise 40 persons. Mr. Fitzpatrick joined Western Electric in 1965 as a training class leader in the training section. Before joining Western Electric, he spent five years as a teacher and coach in Louisville, Nebr. He graduated with a B.A. in education from the University of Nebraska.

New York City, N.Y. — James Dumpson, newly appointed Dean of the Fordham University School of Social Service, has been elected to the national board of Planned Parenthood-World Population, it was announced Monday by Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, Pres. Mr. Dumpson, formerly Welfare Commissioner of New York, was professor and Associate Dean of Hunter College of Social Work prior to his Fordham appointment.

Kansas City Mo. — National Future Farmers of America (F.F.A.) officials point proudly at the progress made integrating their organization. "To my knowledge, there have been no incidents," said H. N. Hunsicker, national F.F.A. advisor and official of the U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D.C.

Those attending will participate in the question and answer period following the presentation by the speakers.

'Threatened by Red China, Western Culture's Best Ally Black Man,' Says Meredith

Fairfield, Ia. — "What the white man doesn't permit in America will never be," declared James Meredith Sunday to a Parsons College audience, 2,000 strong.

"America today is at the crossroads," he stated. "The question is simply whether this nation will accept non-whites as equals or whether it will hold to the old order."

Meredith, who has been in the forefront of the civil rights movement since 1962, made no reference to his personal activities—being the first Negro student to enter the University of Mississippi and being shot and wounded while leading a Freedom March in that state last summer.

Accept

Meredith predicted that white America will eventually accept the Negro, not because it wants to, but because it will be to its advantage to do so.

He made it plain that he fears western civilization is being seriously threatened by the challenge of Red China.

"I believe Western Culture needs an ally and the only allies I see are the black men."

Cross

An unsuccessful attempt was made Sunday night to break up the Meredith visit when two students set afire a constructed cross which leaned against the north side of Trustee gymnasium. It was quickly extinguished when it was spotted by officers on duty in the Fieldhouse parking lot.

Spectra

Meredith's address was part of a fall forum series on religious concern sponsored by a new student organization, Campus Spectra.

"Before we can decide what we're going to do about our racial problems, we must determine exactly where we are at the present time."

He estimated that two-thirds of all white Americans have not yet decided whether the Negro shall be an equal.

"Until this decision is made, there will be no solution and no racial peace."

Meredith was also asked by a student how America can accept the Negroes when their leaders include Black Muslims and Stokely Carmichael, an advocate of "Black Power."

"Who says Stokely Carmichael is my leader?" Meredith shot back. Then he added that eight out of ten Negroes have never heard of the Black Muslims.

"You've got all kinds of screwballs in the white race and they don't speak for the nation," Meredith added. The Negroes should have a right to have some screwballs, too."

Meredith was given a warm and courteous reception by a large audience of students and townspeople. There was no heckling or other incidents during his campus visit. A reception for him was held at the Student Center following his lecture with several hundred students attending.

Rev. Wynegarden, associate campus director, said that the students conducted themselves in the very best way, with the exception of the cross burning. "But they have been caught," he added.

Businessmen Get

Warning From King

Atlanta, Ga. — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. last Thursday told more than 400 white people from Atlanta's business world — men who have money and control money — that the American Negro desperately needs money, too.

Looking into a sea of white faces at a packed downtown hotel banquet room, Dr. King revealed "two Americas" to his well-fed, well-dressed, prosperous audience.

He told members and guests of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce that they live "in one America. This America is invested with enrapturing beauty. It is an America flowing with the milk of prosperity and the honey of opportunity."

Another America

"But there is another America," Dr. King said. "This other America has a daily ugliness about it that makes for endless despair. This America is inhabited by the defeated, the bruised, the battered and the scared. It is an America inhabited by millions of people who are poverty-stricken aliens in an affluent society."

Start Teen Canteen, Have Pool, Records

A weekly Teen Canteen is announced to be held in the Game Room at Willkie House every Friday evening 8-12 p.m.

Activities will include pool, ping pong, shuffleboard, table games and listening to records.

Refreshments may be purchased for 5¢ and 10¢ and there will be a door prize. Admission will be 25¢.

P. Randolph Proposes $100 Billion Budget

A. Phillip Randolph, International President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, and President of the A. Phillip Randolph Institute, was joined at Harlem's Salem Methodist Church by the leaders of the nation's major union, religious, civil rights and civic groups, among others, to describe the budget designed to deal "not only with where we must go, but also with how fast and in what proportions." The $100 billion budget, formulated with the assistance of a number of the nation's leading economists, measures costs against resources and is "not only a call to action, but also a schedule for action."

Discrimination

The "Freedom Budget" leaves no room for discrimination in any form, because its programs are addressed "to all who need more opportunity and improved income and living standards—not just to some of them."

Bayard Rustin, Executive Director of the Randolph Institute, indicated that the budget spells out "a specific and factual course of action, step by step, to start in early 1967 toward the practical liquidation of poverty in the United States by 1975."

"Man," answers bachelor Lou Rawls with a smile, "they think I'm the greatest thing since Black Pepper!"

Why, after five years of singing the Blues, has Lou suddenly begun to appeal to the rock audience?

"I think," brown-eyed Lou explained, "it's because much of today's rock music was derived from the Blues. Acts like The Beatles and Rolling Stones are singing the Blues and they've shown that the kids not only can dance to it but they dig the sounds as well — and it sells."

"Five years ago, I was singing the same stuff at Pandora's on the Sunset Strip in Hollywood. The kids were digging it then and packing the place. But, it took groups like the Stones and Beatles to really put it across. They've paved the way for Blues; made people aware that the Blues songs make for good listening and dancing. They swing just as well as anything else."

BLACK PEPPER

Lou, born Dec. 1, in Chicago, grew up along with Sam Cooke, is doing his part to keep younger people off the streets and out of trouble. In the past year he's been working extensively with such programs as "Teen Post" and "Operation Cool-Head," all designed to keep the kids out of trouble and the "arms of the law."

ALBUMS — BLACK AND BLUE, TOBACCO ROAD, SOULIN'.

SINGLES — THE SHADOW OF YOUR SMILE / SOUTHSIDE BLUES, LOVE IS A HURTIN' THING/MEMORY LANE, THREE O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING/NOTHING FEELS THE SAME.

Although today our unemployment rate is decreasing, we in the Negro Community still suffer from a great deal of underemployment. Now just what do we mean by underemployment? For example, Willie Mays is a highly skilled baseball player who is paid somewhat more than $100,000 a year for using those skills. Now suppose the "Say-Hey" kid worked on the maintenance crew of Candle-

Open Letter to Youth

I write you as one whose skin is also black and who, therefore, knows your anguish and hopelessness in the face of continued discrimination, broken promises and token progress.

Never, since I first joined the freedom movement in 1914, have I felt so much grief and distress as in these days, when around the country we have seen our cities transformed into racial battlefields.

... I know that hundreds of thousands of you desperately wanted to return to school, but that you did not have the money to do so. I know that hundreds of thousands of you want nothing so much as to stick Park at $8,000 a year instead of playing center field for the Giants. That's underemployment.

Or closer to home, let's say you have the skills to be an over the road semi-trailer truck driver at $12,000 a year, but instead you are working at the Hotel Savery as a porter for $3,000 a year. Are you underemployed? You had better believe it.

Now, what do we do about it? It used to be the case that we couldn't do any better than these low paying "pick and shovel" jobs. But things are changing, not fast enough but they are. Firms that previously wouldn't have hired you in any capacity, have now for one reason or another changed their policy. It's up to you to take advantage of this change. In most cases the job isn't going to come looking for you; you find decent jobs that will make it possible for you to buy the necessities and some of the nice things in life that make dignity possible.

I know that you face an unemployment rate that is four times as high as that of white youth, that most of you have never been permitted to gain skills, that police often mistreat you and that our society seems content to ignore you. ... that despite this callous disregard, many of you have nevertheless walked the streets day after day only to find no work available for have to look for the job. The classified section of the newspapers is a good place to start. Every day many attractive job opportunities appear in these pages of your local newspaper. When a firm indicates they are an "Equal Opportunity Employer," check them out on it. If you feel you weren't treated fairly, register a complaint with your city or state Civil Rights Commission.

In addition, these agencies regularly receive requests for assistance in recruiting Negroes for their work force:

you. I know your parents have year after year sought decent housing only to return to rat-infested ghettos. I know that many of your young brothers and sisters are going to schools far inferior to and more segregated than those you attended.

In other words, where there is justice, community peace is possible. Where there is injustice, social discord is inevitable. Thus we must act to make government responsible to human need.

But I have learned from many struggles that it is not enough merely to ask the government for the President to do what is necessary and right. Government officials respond to many pressure groups. They respond most readily to those who exert greatest power.

In proposing the Freedom Budget I do not want to raise false hopes. Given the conditions in America today we will have to make a vigorous effort to get the Congress to vote any such sum of money. I do not make you promises. I ask your help.

Therefore, I do not ask you to cool it. On the contrary, I urge you to put the heat on the government. I urge you to become active in the Freedom Movement and make it an irresistible power.

Call these agencies and let them know you are interested in a better job. It won't cost you a penny and may mean thousands of dollars a year in additional income.

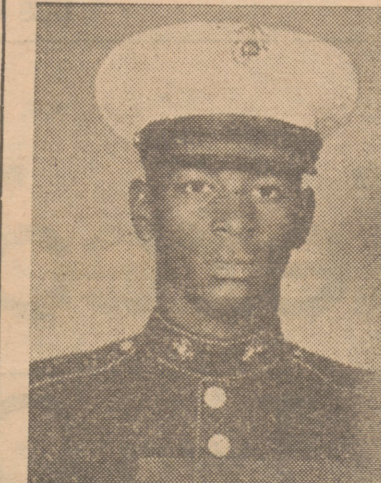

Finally don't let the lack of particular skill stop you. In general if you meet the minimum age and physical requirements, there are training programs (such as OJT, MDTA, apprenticeship) available to develop the needed skills. After all, the white man wasn't born knowing how to lay brick, set tile, operate machinery, etc., either.

Commission Backs Adam Clayton Powell

New York, N.Y. — The Commission on Religion and Race released discussions given in its fall meeting held here.

"In light of the recent tragic failure of the Senate to pass the civil rights bill, and the current attack in the House on the school desegregation guidelines, the present attack on Congressman Adam Clayton Powell can only further undermine the faith of American Negroes in the legislative process and give encouragement to some of the worst elements of American life," said a telegram to be sent to President Johnson.

Congressman Powell, with all that may be said of his personal life, has been an aggressive champion of Negro rights. He represents the largest foothold that the Negroes have been able to secure in the political power structure at the national level. Because the Negro has been denied this position of power for so long and is so desirous of it Powell is, notwithstanding his personality and other attributes, the best example of what most Negro leaders mean by "Black Power." The threat now to eliminate Powell by self-righteously applying to him moral standards by which for years white politicians have seldom felt restrained, looks very suspiciously like racism and will be interpreted as such by the Negro community.

For most Negroes this is simply another example of how "Mr. Charley" keeps Negroes out of the "big leagues" of power and influence in this country. He simply requires that every Negro be a Jackie Robinson before he is permitted to play the game!

Iowa's United States Senator Jack Miller also supported the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Constitutional Amendment barring poll taxes in federal elections.

Jack Miller has one of the best records of any Senator on Education legislation. He has worked to bring federal projects to Iowa to help industrial growth needed for more job opportunities.

He has fought against spending and tax policies of the Administration which have led to the increased cost of living and the highest interest rates in over 40 years.

It's an eye catcher because people don't know quite what it is," said Mrs. Cortez Wade, referring to the newly painted sign — "TESSES BEAUTY SHOP."

Mrs. Wade, owner of the newly located beauty shop at 1511 Forest avenue, is one of the small-business women who has profited from the Oakridge Urban N. Renewal. Not long ago she was awarded $2500 for the Small Business Adjustment, the first small business management to be relocated by Oakridge.

"I am very much for Oakridge," she said. "Otherwise I would have still been on Maryland avenue, in my home basement trying to do my work, as I have been for 11 years. The expenses are more, but so is the income."

Joining her in her new shop will be Mildred Graves, presently at Mildred's Beauty Salon, 1206 Center street and Helen Lynch.

Mrs. Wade describes her shop this way: "Much of the walls are in cherry paneling or in an off-white. And there are white scoop chairs, air conditioning, and an ample two-room supply area for shampoos."

"I don't have a large per cent of customers who are not Negroes, but there are enough to say that my shop is very well integrated."

"And by the way, there is coffee for costumers, and this winter we will be serving soup."

LOIS AND ALLEN MARTIN of Mason City are in the cast of "Anything Can Happen"—(a bibliography of the life of George Pashville — a Russian from the Province of Georgia, written by his American wife, Helen Waite.) His work has been on display at Mason City's public library. He has also illustrated a book. Al's studio is located in his home. IRVIN WHITE, best known as an actor was called upon to fill the United Presbyterian Church pulpit, Monroe, Iowa on Sunday. At my wedding, he explained "Well, this isn't exactly new to me. Last year I appeared at Leroy and Osceola, Iowa." We know he did a splendid job of these assignments. (Bet he could even bring in the sheaves.) . . . WHAT IRV DOESN'T KNOW is that his dramatic readings which ended with a short talk of his philosophies relatives to brotherhood given before the Highland Park Presbyterian Women's Association was so enthusiastically received that he was invited back to appear before a combined meeting of husband and wives of the same groups. . . . In his spare time Irv is rehearsing in John Webster's "Duchess of Malfi". He appears in 3 roles: Silvio, Lord of Milan; Servant to the Cardinal; and Executioner. (The play is a Drama Workshop production directed by Professor Curtis Page.) After executioner, what then, Irv?

THE CASSELLS GATHER: Mrs. M. E. Cassell and her family welcomed Elder and Mrs. Eugene Sublett and two of their children, Eugene, Jr. and Luella, of Minneapolis, Minn. HOLD EACH INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBLE

Years ago when the Ku Klux Klan and other Negro hating groups were riding in the South committing crimes of intimidation, murder, destruction of property, nobody thought the day would ever come when Negroes would be doing the same things. The only difference was that the Klan did not have the courage to let the public know who they were while the foolish young Negro today operates in the open—and as such is entitled to more respect.

Even though these rotten organizations operated over the years, Negroes felt that they did not represent the decent white people in the community and therefore charged Klansmen and nobody else for what they did. This was the charitable, right thing to do.

Today, there is much talk about the black lash, about penalizing Negroes generally for what the foolish of the generation do. In fact, a lot of people, who heretofore have been passive but not vindictive against all Negroes, blame them for what these few do. It is unfair and far less charitable than the Negro has been to those white people who refused to line up with Klan and their ilk.

Another shortcoming is the willingness of good neighbors to tolerate rich criminals in their midst whose children hobnob with their children and do far more damage than a Negro family would do. Promoters of gangland crime, prostitution and narcotics live in the most exclusive neighborhoods in many cities. And yet nothing is done or said about these "business men".

Even in Des Moines, this is true, but the "realtors" and their followers take it and say nothing.

Far be it for the Bystander to accuse everybody of embracing backlash because a few Negroes have been and are foolish just as some white people. We only ask that each man be held responsible for his acts and not that of his neighbor.

Ask that he help improve his neighbors but not be responsible for their acts.

WHY REAL ESTATE TAXES RISE

Last year the Iowa legislature abolished the tax on "moneys and credits," a tax on personal holdings such as stocks, bonds, mortgages and money in the bank. Revenue from this source was funneled back to the counties to which it was applied and gave some relief to real estate taxes.

Unfortunately, the legislature enacted no tax to fill the gap which means that real estate taxes will be higher next year.

Iowa has a surplus of more than 80 million dollars. The legislature which repealed the moneys and credits tax knew there would be a big surplus and yet made no effort to alleviate the continuous burden of real estate taxes.

It is little consolation to a taxpayer when his taxes continue to rise that the treasury has a big balance on hand.

Somebody should have recognized this unfortunate situation and made provision to use some of the surplus to relieve real estate taxes. This is an important issue in this campaign which should alert the legislature to make some changes in 1967.

Homecoming Oct. 22 Draws Many Ia. Fans

Homecoming for football fans at Iowa City still brings a large number of graduates, former students and parents and friends of students. The showing this year was not up to par, due, in part, to the poor showing the team has made.

While students are now quartered all over the city, and many visit the dormitories (Negro students have not always stayed in them), most visitors were callers at the homes of Mrs. Helen Lemme, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hester.

VISITORS

Noted among visitors — some out of state — were Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wohl, Clinton; Mrs. Joe Moore-Stewart, Mason City; Mrs. Gage C. Moore, Ottumwa; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Harper, Mrs. Norma

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING
VICE AND ITS COMPANIONS

For a great many years, our area has suffered and endured the shame and humiliation that vice and all of its companions have brought to this area. Aside from causing human degradation, loss of family income and sickness, we have documented evidence from law enforcement officials that this evil is even now drawing some of our youngsters down a dead end road from which the trip back is very hard.

We have heard it said that some time ago, this was the only way for some people to earn a living. To that we say, time changes everything. In this city of plentiful jobs, no one has to earn a living this way. As for our youth, it is a hard enough job just growing up without having all these temptations placed in their pathway, and there are some who do give up the struggle.

It is for these that we now declare that however painful to some it may become, the time has come to put your house in order and join the rest of the community as law abiding citizens. We have heard it stated and also read it in print, that the above mentioned things are the chief stumbling blocks to first class citizenship. If so, it would seem to us that whoever does these things is a traitor to the cause of civil rights. We also have with us the problem of selling a popular brand of cough syrup, namely Robatussin to any youngster who has three dollars and signs his ? name. It would seem to us that the State and Federal Food and Drug Administration should look into this area and if necessary come up with some new regulations to put a stop to this problem. Take youth, Robatussin poured into beer, and trouble ensues. Comes now the problem of busy people.

Practically everyone to whom we talk will say that we are on the right track and are doing good work, but when asked to help us with these things, will in the same breath say that Quote, I'm too busy, Unquote. Somewhere, Somehow, Sometime, parents and all citizens are going to have to find a few hours to help their own children as well as others or we shall all collectively have to take the consequences of such apathy. It is the fond hope of this group that every citizen in this city will join us in the effort to rid the area of these evils. We should also point out that the Taxpayer of the city has to pay indirectly for the gambler who loses his pay weekly, or the drinker, who drinks up his money, or the youth, who takes drugs, snatches purses, and goes to jail. This is a vicious circle that can and must be broken.

Duke Slater was Absent

Conspicuously absent was the late Duke Slater, a proverbial visitor seen at all games since he graduated.

To the Editor:

Now that I have spoken out against the supposed Des Moines Negro leaders, it would be a good idea if we made our mind up who is going to take this job as a full time position so that we will be able to get something out of the meetings with the people governing us. . . We all do not belong to the city N.A.A.C.P., so we cannot complain if they are not getting us any action . . . in housing, jobs and apartment rental.

It also must be someone who is not afraid to speak his mind under any circumstances and be able to turn down any proposal in which the city council will use the term of "under investigation" and delay action. . . We need this in the Fonza case with the fire department. We need to do this today.
