Governor Sets 16-City Tour to Combat Race Bias

In a meeting before clergy, laymen, and state and local officials, Governor Harold Hughes called for more plans and efforts to better the condition of the unprivileged citizen.

Plans

Hughes, speaking Wednesday at the Hotel Kirkwood, outlined plans calling for a 16 city tour in eight days to set up committees and organizations to create an educational program to equip all citizens for a productive society, and if necessary, investigate the school boundary lines in each city represented to see if they are flexible, and to see that the boundaries are such that all students can get the best possible education in the best schools; to open up all recreational centers including in public and private schools, and to provide for supervision; this would include private organizational facilities, such as country clubs. Also, if necessary, to use the facilities of the National Guard; and to begin a total program of camps for underprivileged children.

Hughes said that many underprivileged children can not afford camping now. There is a need to establish a camp or two, such as at Camp Dodge. He hesitated about bringing the children to private camps, feeling that they may feel out of place.

Plan Youth Council For Forest Hills Center

Cooking class for boys will begin on Monday and Tuesday, Mar. 11 and 12. William Sheperd is instructor. On Wednesday and Thursdays, girls will have classes, with Kathleen Wright instructor. If enough interest is shown, the two groups will furnish sandwiches at the Friday night membership dances, with a small charge for food in order for the two clubs to raise money to purchase their own materials. To attend Friday night dances, all must purchase a membership prior to the dance. Fee is $1.

A new Employment Orientation class will begin Mar. 18. Many visual and audio aids are presented, and a number of field trips will be to different industrial and professional areas. Two courses are four hours a day, 8-12 a.m. and 1-5 p.m.

A Youth Council is in the making for youths to express their desires for improvement in the Model Cities area through the Model Cities representative, Linda Odaword, 1809 8th street, Homer McQueen, 1513 College and Al Waples of the staff are organizing the group.

There have been some changes in the settlement House staff, and those who have been reluctant to attend night High School Equivalency classes because of the previous confusion need no longer be concerned.

Forum 13 Series to Show Part Two of Pres. Report on Sunday

The President's Report: Part II will be shown Sunday, Mar. 17, 1:30 p.m. on WHO television. This is a second of a series presented, with the first program concerned with the "Minority". Commentator Bob Henry spoke with John Estes, Jr., Atty. Nolden Gentry, James Dunn, Eleanor E. Tate, and Dr. S. J. Williamson as part of the Forum 13 series.

Employment

In employment, he urged officials to go out to upgrade the person to assure them of their jobs. By providing job opportunities, such as job fairs, the person who is capable and qualified for work can be brought face to face with needy employers and agencies.

Backing the Governor's proposals is the Cities Task Force for Community Relations and the State religious leaders who have recommended action programs for bettering human relations.

The general purpose in the 16 city tour, all of which the Governor has said he will attend, is to provide the suggestions, resources and technical assistance of his office and of the state government agencies to city officials and other community leaders who wish to plan and implement coordinated programs intended to solve the existing social crises in the cities of Iowa.

Tour

Cities scheduled for the meetings are Des Moines and Marshalltown, Mar. 14; Ottumwa, Mar. 15; Ames, Mar. 19; Cedar Rapids and Burlington, Mar. 20; Davenport and Clinton, Mar. 21; Muscatine and Iowa City, Mar. 22; Ft. Members of the State Employment Security Commission including the chairman, Henry E. Carter and Commissioner Cecil Reed were present to welcome the Indiana Mayor.

Rights

Hatcher said that "America is on a disaster course because of pollution of thought and action—it has become a nation of observers rather than participants in a time of racial crisis—that churches should participate in 'rights' outside the temple as well as 'rites' in the temple."

The entire speech was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Representative A. June Franklin was requested to give the welcome on behalf of the State of Iowa to represent Lieut. Governor Robert Fulton who was delayed. He appeared later and thanked Rep.

Dessay Contest On D. M.'s Civil Unrest

Mayor Thomas N. Urban announced recently that a representative of the Des Moines High School group will speak before the May 13 meeting of the Des Moines City Council on the topic of "Civil Unrest in Des Moines — Problems and Programs". The student will be selected in an essay contest in the Des Moines Jaycees Community Affairs—View of Youth Program.

James Holden, Assistant Superintendent of Schools for the Diocese of Des Moines, juniors and seniors in the eight Des Moines Schools will be encouraged to submit their views on this topic of vital concern to Des Moines. A winning essay will be chosen at each high school. These eight students will appear on WHO-TV Profile program May 10, with three finalists presenting their views. The final winner will then address the Council.

Causes

The program is another in a series of dialogues attempting to find the underlying causes of civil disorder and develop programs to alleviate the problems and avoid the major conflicts which have struck major cities throughout the country.

Washington, D.C. — Phillip Montez has been appointed Director-Western Program for the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Breaks Filibuster Friday; Monday's Vote Is 71-20 Measure Goes to House

Washington, D.C. — After two months of filibuster, the Senate finally passed a rights bill which will establish federal criminal penalties for interfering with an individual's rights.

The vote was 71-20 in favor of the bill. Its major provision will gradually prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of housing. By Jan. 1, 1970, it will affect all multi-unit dwellings except owner-occupied buildings with four or fewer units—and all single family houses sold through brokers.

Juries

It will also establish federal criminal penalties for interfering by force or threats with the right to vote, serve on juries, use public accommodations, attend public school or engage in other protected activities.

The bill also makes it a federal crime to cross a state line with intent to incite a riot or to obstruct firemen or policemen engaged in suppressing a riot—or to make, transport in interstate commerce or teach how to make and use firearms, explosives and incendiary devices in riots.

Plan Baseball Games By Police Department

Progress has been made at the second Willkie House police-community relations program held here March 5, according to detective Tom Spencer, and this summer will hold much promise for young baseball enthusiasts.

Spencer said that under the auspices of the Police Department, the three softball teams and maybe a fourth, will compete. They are Roadside, Willkie and Julia B. Meyer, and possibly Bidwell.

Spencer said last Thursday that full uniforms and equipment with the exception of shoes, will be provided for the youngsters. The teams will be registered with the Softball Association, City League and Industrial League.

Catalogues

So far, in this declaration, the bill does not cover what actually constitutes a "riot" such as those on college campuses decrying the draft and/or farmers in strikes. Nor does it explain whether the transportation of firearms and/or explosives will include firecrackers as incendiary "devices" and mail-order catalogues advertising firearms. Labor riots and interfering with workers crossing a picket line are not covered.

The bill was sent back to the House.

Both parties supported cloture last Friday by almost the same two-thirds margin. With the debate limitation in force, the Senate divided more closely on a series of amendments aimed at limiting the open housing section.

Still largely intact is the original civil rights protection bill which was approved last session by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Iowa Senator Jack Miller's amendment to the housing bill was defeated; his bill would have prohibited any kind of housing discrimination against a veteran of war, but exempted most other housing.

In the Friday voting, both Senators Miller and Bourke Hicklenlooper voted against the over-all civil rights compromise amendment.

Working with the Police Department for the softball league will be Eddie Violet, staff worker with Willkie House.

At the last meeting on police community relations, Rev. James Shopshire of Burns Methodist Church was named temporary chairman of the steering committee, and seven co-workers were named.

Next Willkie meeting will be Apr. 2, 7:30p.m.

STATE NAACP MEET

Robert A. Wright, state president, has announced that the Iowa State Conference of branches will hold its third board meeting of the year on Mar. 30, 1 p.m. in the "Nia Smith" room at the YMCA.

Board members are asked to notify the president or secretary if they are unable to attend.

Rather Live in a Chicken Coop Than in Chicago's Ghetto, Says DM Worker

Eleanor E. Tate

The 1960's civil rights movement brought with it the pouring in of American white middle-class college students, working with black people to secure equal opportunity. One of these is Tina Bergeson of Des Moines, a VISTA worker in the suburban slum of Brookside, Ill.

Pembroke, 60 miles from Chicago, has some 6,000 black people struggling to eek out a living. Most of them live in cardboard and tarpaper shanties or in trailers, (15 persons to a unit normally suited for four), trying to live on the "worthless swamp-drained land," according to Miss Bergeson.

Tina, 20, there since last August, herself lived in conditions not unlike those of the inhabitants. She and a roommate fought rats in the upper three rooms of a garage, with no heat except for that of a coal stove's chimney which reached to the kitchen floor. At least half of the windows were out.

There is no industry to speak of, said Miss Bergeson, unless you count the Casket Factory which employs fourteen persons. Therefore residents in Pembroke must commute to Mokena or Kankakee, Ill. for employment.

The VISTAs first projects were to initiate a day care center, and also to provide $4,000 worth of toys for the children at Christmas. Tina is currently tutoring a mentally retarded boy. The most ironic factor, she said, was that Pembroke is surrounded by an all-white community, which offers nothing but token helping hands.

She has no fear, however, being the only white female in the area, exploding the myth of white woman's fragile womanhood. "I feel safer out here than I do on a college campus."

Black People Only Need Skin Graft, Says Wright

Speaking before a predominantly college audience Thursday, Dr. Nathan Wright, Jr., chairman of the National Black Power Association, stated that black people "don't need white niceties; they need black power."

Wright, one of the speakers for Drake University's "Analysis and Alternatives," a two week program on civil disorder, said that whites have nurtured black folks for 300 years, without the thought that blacks would grow up, as a parent tends to always see his offspring as children, and who is taken aback at seeing them stand on their own.

"Black men," he said, "must see the glory and beauty of blackness" and that they must see themselves with "black integrity."

Roadblocks

Unless all men are free, no man can claim to be truly free, he said. Whatever is done, it must be done inter-racially, but "Some things we do together, others we must do alone, and that "there were things which white people must do, as white people alone. They alone "can and must remove the roadblocks which they, their friends and their ancestors have placed in the paths of black people."

Black people, he continued, must set for ourselves a limit and must address ourselves to the issues of self-respect. It is the lack of self-respect, he said, which causes black people to rebel. After the hundreds of years of being hated, the cause of black people to hate themselves, they cannot accept their blackness and they turn to destruction.

Household

In the following question and answer period, Wright, when he was asked as to whether Dr. Martin Luther King's scheduled march on Washington would hurt the cause of black people's progress, smiled and said that "he never offered criticism of one of his black brothers while in the household of another."

Gregory to Speak at Drake U. Thursday

"Dick Gregory helped me to laugh at myself and to make me realize that I was a racist like most white people." This was a statement from a white student in regards to Dick Gregory, scheduled speaker Thursday afternoon, 2 p.m. in the Drake Fieldhouse of Drake University, and also to speak Thursday night, 7 p.m. for CONVA.

In Harrisburg, Pa., nominating petitions with over 16,000 signatures were filed Mar. 6 to place the names of Gregory for president and Dr. Benjamin Spock vice president on the November ballot on a Peace and Freedom ticket. Only 10,551 names were required.

Campaign

"The Peace and Freedom Party will campaign for an immediate end to the War in Vietnam, full support for and implementation of the findings and recommendations of the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders and an immediate redirection of the billions now being wasted on the war toward a real war on Poverty," according to a statement issued at the time of the filing.

Gregory is scheduled to appear at a press conference Thursday morning at the Ft. Des Moines Hotel. He is scheduled to arrive in the city at 9:30 A.M. and depart about 10 P.M. He is one of several speakers on the two-week seminar. Past speakers included Dr. Nathan Wright, Andrew Hatcher and Gov. Otto Kern.

It just takes a little common sense."

Chicken Coop

What is the hope for Pembroke? "It's kind of sad," she said Sunday afternoon. "Most of the people came from the deep South and moved to Chicago in search of better opportunities. Finding none, determined that their children would not be raised in the ghetto, they bought long strips of worthless land, sight unseen. One family even lived in a chicken coop for two years rather than see their children grow up in Chicago."

She left Des Moines Sunday night for Pembroke. When she finishes in August she said she may return to Des Moines, and likens Pembroke to this city: "I think about Des Moines, I think about its ingrown stubbornness, and I feel that it's no good to run away from our own problems."

Miss Bergeson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bergeson. She is a 1966 graduate of Roosevelt High School.

Your Tax Questions

Q—My father, who qualifies as my dependent, is over 65. Is it true that I can't deduct the doctor's bills I pay for him anymore?

A—No. The medical expenses you paid last year for your father are deductible but they are now subject to the 3 percent limitation.

Another change in medical deductions is the new provision on medical insurance premiums. You may now deduct one-half of the premiums paid for medical insurance up to $150 without regard to the 3 percent rule.

Even if your total medical expenses including those you pay for your father are less than 3 percent of your income, you may still deduct half of your medical insurance premiums up to $150.

BLUE LEMON AWARDS FOR MARCH: to Miss Tina Bergeson, a junior and high school friend with a lot of soul. I have much respect for anyone from Roosevelt High School who can give of themselves without expecting something in return. Also to James Flansburg and James Risser of the Des Moines Sunday Register for exposing our favorite councilman on his recent campaigns on humanity.

Not long ago I had a chance to talk with Lou Williams, former director of Julia B. Mayer Center, and he gave me some inside information concerning the Center. However, the good gentleman must have not realized that other media read the Bystander and would like to look in on the Center's situation, and he had the misfortune on radio to repudiate the Bystander's article. The facts—and they were facts—presented in the article were as told by Mr. Williams, whether he wanted them aired or not, and I am sorry to see that he is resigning after 35 years of directorship.

Who knows? That salvo of squawks and yowls, emitted by a just-born infant to mark his earthly debut, may not be a comment on his new habitat after all. It could just possibly be a round of cheers for the latest news about his immediate prospects. The news is that babies born in the United States in 1968 have a 14 per cent better chance of surviving their first year than did the freshman class of a decade ago.

FREDA NAHAS DIRECTS "AF-TER THE FALL" which opens Drama Workshop, located in The Thursday night, Mar. 14, at The First Unitarian Church, SW Bell and Casady Drive. As you may recall, many persons feel the play depicts the author's, Arthur Miller and Marilyn Monroe's marriage.

CHERIE SHERMAN, "Maggie", in After the Fall, believe it or not is a Drake University Theatre Administration major and no great lover of acting! On the other hand, she is quite proud of her role as advisor to the Drake Theatre's light crew and has managed the box office for the past three years. Jokingly but accurately she merits the title of "Master Electrician" in Residence.

JOHN THOMPSON, Quentin, in After the Fall, and everyone's favorite actor, entered the show for the first time Saturday night. Thompson, a North High School instructor, is directing a show there, and is in rehearsal in "110 in The Shade". (Don't you wonder like How? and When?)

STAN RITCHIE, is Dan in After the Fall, a well-known realtor exclaimed one night "I've been running a leg behind all day!" And it's been that way the past two weeks! He was speaking for everyone, I would say.

DIANE BARTLETT, Louise in After the Fall, gave the cast a thrill as she recounted the biggest surprise of her life! Omaha's Joselyn Art Museum had informed her husband, Phillip an abstract painter, that his painting, Quatrain, Series 4, had been purchased for the Museum's permanent collection! The painting is being exhibited in the Midwest Biennial held at Joselyn. Over 900 entries and approximately 70 works were chosen for the exhibition being held Mar. 9-April. The correspondence brought with it a $400 check. (Saved the best til the last?)

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos. Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

Tea With Meals For Family Good Will

When planning a family meal, most women think in terms of likes and dislikes of the members of their family. They strive for good nutrition first, which is essential in rearing a healthy family. But meals serve a purpose other than gustatory revelation... it's also a time of day to encourage esprit de corps among family members. One of the elements so basic in encouraging family oneness is relaxation. In this connection we'd like to recommend a hot beverage—tea—as the ambassador of good will in the family unit.

Tea not only aids digestion but relaxes the body, relieves nervous tension and provides a pick-up which most folks need—especially parents after a busy day.

To make a good, full-bodied pot of tea for the family meal, it's important to follow the Four Golden Rules—just as it's important to follow a cake recipe precisely. The rules are simple—(1) always use a teapot (2) use 1 teaspoonful of tea or 1 tea bag per cup (3) bring fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

A surprise main dish, sure to please the family is Duck Hawaiian.

DUCK HAWAIIAN

(Makes 4 to 6 servings.)

Cut 1 5-6 lb. Long Island duckling, dressed weight, into serving pieces. Remove skin; place duck pieces in mixing bowl. Combine 2 tablespoons kitchen bouquet, ½ cup lemon juice, 1 clove garlic finely minced; pour over duck. Marinate 45 minutes turning occasionally. Melt 2 tablespoons duck fat in heavy frying pan. Brown pieces of duck on all sides. Add 1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice and any left-over marinade. Cover tightly; simmer until duck is tender—about 45 minutes. Add 2 green peppers cut into 1½ inch cubes. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer. Blend together 2 tablespoons corn starch, liquid from 1-3 ounce can of mushroom crowns and ½ cup sugar. Add to duck stirring constantly until thickened. Add 4 slices unsweetened pineapple cut in quarters, 4 medium sized carrots quartered and cooked and fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

LOUD NOISE IS NOT ALWAYS BEST

There has been much complaint that the press is giving too much publicity and recognition to the extreme element in the race struggle in America which makes the people think that these untried civil rights workers have all the answers to cure our ills.

Some of our schools have fallen in the same line in an effort, they say, to allow students to hear both sides of a question. Hearing this both sides has produced and nurtured such people as former Governor Wallace of Alabama and his predecessor, such as the late Senators Cole Blaise of South Carolina and J. K. Vanderman of Mississippi who have done irreparable damage to race relations in America.

Progress in any movement succeeds not by following the extremes on either end of the pendulum but by taking from each such good as may be salvaged, blending it with the middle which is always the leader in the end.

We have had a fine report from the President's committee pointing out some of the ills which brought us to this bitter struggle. Naturally it cannot be implemented over night. Careful planning must be had and yet not so slow as to be stalling.

Over the years, it has been the steady intelligent course which has produced the great progress Negroes have made. And while we have had belligerent elements all along they have not been able to create such dissension as we have it today.

The old saying the squeaking wheel gets the oil does not meet the bill today for the "oil" they pour on has grit in it and often times ruins the wheel.

POOR JUDGMENT BY PUBLIC SERVANTS

One of the attributes of a good public official is to know the confines of his job and to stop there. Last week Des Moines witnessed two glaring instances of the lack of this.

A city council member said he got a "tip" that 150 guns were stashed in a private home, proceeded to get an off duty policeman to secure a search warrant to search the place. It turned out that there was "one" gun in the place and a typewriter which they claim was stolen.

This search warrant was secured on a "tip" when in fact it was a rumor, the warrant was of dubious legality produced by officials who should know better.

It does seem that the policeman, who are constantly under fire for brutality and illegal exercise of their authority, should have been more careful and not permit—or maybe help—place the police department in a bad light.

And while pulling such a deal on any citizen denotes bad judgment and poor handling, the whole thing helps make Negroes feel that what they say about police brutality is true.

Chief Douglas needs to give his men proper instructions which will help keep them clear of pitfalls such as these officers fell into. In the meantime legislative personnel have no right trying to run the executive branch of the government.

Spreading rumors out in the best of times is bad but with the tensions we live with today they are dangerous paralleling the irresponsible who cry fire when there is none.

SENATE PASSES RIGHTS
MEASURE; IOWANS LACKING

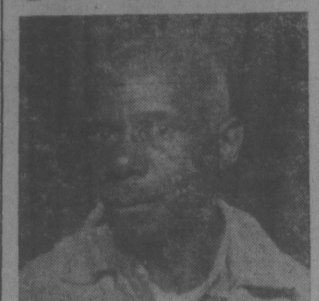

Following weeks of stalling and blocking tactics, the senate passed Senator Dirksen's version of the civil rights bill by a vote of 72 to 22. Both Iowa Senators voted with the Democrats.

The measure now goes to the house where an effort will be made to reconcile the differences and finally pass a watered down bill.

While the bill is not all the proponents hoped for, it still shows that a majority of the senators feel that it makes some contribution toward helping better the racial tensions that exist today.

Their vote was no credit to Iowa and served to give aid and comfort to those who don't wish Negroes to have an equal chance in America.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

For about a month we had been telling a bunch of prospective Golden Glove fighters that they couldn't win any titles by walking around a pool table. There were four of them: Oscar Johnson and his brother Ernest, Glen Sellers, and Don Avant, who is the flea, we meant flyweight champ. The guys never argued back, but come last Thursday and Friday, they went to the Golden Gloves meet. And wouldn't you know it, all four of the mugs won titles. They all came back champions, and you never saw a happier bunch of fellows in your life. But the crowning piece was Willie Wells, owner of the pool hall. He swears that the place is the greatest gym since Stillmans in New York and says if you have any more fighters, bring em down here. "When they leave here, they will be champs." But we were all glad to see the fellows win, and hope they do all right in the big one next week. Saturday they were back playing pool as if nothing had happened, so maybe they didn't get fatheaded.

Big One

From what we hear, the guys could really have a fair chance in the big meet, if only they would get serious about training. We mean sacrifice pleasures for about four months, and work like hell to really get in shape. They are pretty good now, and they could be a lot better if they would really work at it. But we always say that, and nobody ever does it.

And in the meanwhile the basketball season rolls on. The NAAC showdown between Houston and UCLA is getting closer. The Cougars showed that they can't be written off as beneficiaries of a soft schedule by whumping a pretty good Loyola team last week. The fellow Elvin Hayes scored a bushel of points in that one. We were pretty sure the Uclans

Former East Wrestlers
Pour it on for Central

Pella—Two East Des Moines High School graduates, who are freshmen at Central College, Pella, Ia., produced the second and third best records on the Central wrestling team this season.

JEWETT, WILSON

Wrestler

The two are Tony Wilson, ward of Mrs. Elnora Tolson, who turned out a 10-6 record in the 115-pound class in dual meet competition, and Bill Jewett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jewett, 1503 Walker, Des Moines, who finished the dual season with a 11-4 record in the 123-pound class.

Discussing the two young athletes, Coach Jim Danks said, "Tony is one of the team leaders in wrestling experience. He has the ability to be an outstanding 115-pound wrestler in future years."

Mean

"Bill has been our most consistent and steady wrestler this year," Danks continued. "He is definitely not a 'mean' wrestler yet, but when he develops this trait, he will be very tough to beat."

"I'm looking forward to three more years of outstanding intercollegiate wrestling from these two men," he concluded.

Haweyes Drop Close Game
To Ohio; Fail in Bid to Regional

Lafayette, Ind.—Even playing on a neutral court, with half the audience seeming to root for them, the Iowa Hawkeyes, co-champions of the Big Ten title, lost Tuesday night to Ohio State, 85-81.

Sam Williams and the team were cold from the floor until 11:58 was left to play in the first half, and Chad Calabria shot in the first two-pointers, making the score 13-7, Ohio.

Williams, playing his final game, scored 29 points.

At the end of the half Iowa trailed 38-32. Iowa trailed most of the game, managing to tie the score only twice, 24-24 and 50-50.

In the last few minutes of play Iowa got sparked and shot in five points in less than a minute, but Ohio came right back to widen the gap.

Williams, playing his final game, scored 29 points.

Service is as important as the product you buy.

Save money by making sure . . . before you buy . . . that reliable repair service is available locally.

Six rules of buying a product that will need maintenance or repair:

1. Expect good sales service. If you don't get it you're likely to have trouble when you need repairs.

2. A guarantee is only as good as the organization behind it. Read it carefully.

3. Think of the product in terms of need for maintenance and availability of parts and service.

4. A good product name is essential but not enough if facilities for service are lacking.

5. Utility companies may be able to tell you where to obtain good service.

6. A dealer with adequate service facilities may have to charge a slightly higher price for the product.

You save in the long run with those who have facilities for good service.

Kite Flying Is Fun...Keep It Safe

It's kite flying time again. Following these simple safety tips will make it more fun:

• Fly kites in open areas, away from traffic and electric lines. Electricity can sometimes travel down a kite cord—even if it's string!

• Use only paper, string and wood in your kite—never wire or metal. And don't fly it on rainy days.

• If a kite does get tangled in electric wires, TV or radio antennas, notify your power company. Never attempt to retrieve it yourself.

Being a going, growing Iowa.
