Named Mrs. Bragg to Civil Rights Comm.

The Iowa Civil Rights Commission announced that it has hired Mrs. Douglas Bragg as the director of an employment affirmative action project. The purposes of the project, which was recently funded for $16,150 by the Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, are to identify and eliminate discrimination in employment on a systematic affirmative basis by utilizing the compliance provisions of the state statute, and to institute new procedures which will endure after the E.E.O.C. funds are expended.

Nancy Bragg, 25, holds a J.D. Degree from the School of Law at the University of Colorado, and B.A., and M.A. Degrees in Music from the University of Iowa. She is a native of Linden, Iowa, and was the recipient of several academic honors and scholarships while in college.

Mrs. Bragg assumed her duties on Sept. 3. Her starting salary will be $8,700.00. She will attend a training session for state commission personnel involved in E.E.O.C. projects, to be held in Chicago on Sept. 12 and 13.

Des Moines NAACP Balks Speaker

At a meeting of the Des Moines Branch NAACP Tuesday evening, delegates were elected to the Iowa State Conference of Branches annual session in Davenport September 27-29. The branch voted to withhold representation at the convention unless Chester Lewis, Witichita, Kan. lawyer, was omitted as one of the speakers.

This action was taken because Mr. Lewis has severed his connection with the organization.

The majority on the city council who supported the human rights ordinance now awaiting its last reading was commended for standing firm in their support of a strong law.

Columbia U. Teaches Negro Youths to Be Black Journalists

New York — A dozen Negro teenagers confronted the problems of news writing three mornings a week in a classroom in the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. They met there as part of a new program titled "Newsroom: A Jump Into Journalism for Black Youth," designed to inspire disadvantaged young people to consider careers in journalism.

The program was created in answer to the recommendation of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders that "it must become a commitment to seek out young Negro men and women, inspire them to become — and then train them as — journalists."

NEWS In A Nutshell

Washington — Administrator, Howard J. Samuels of the Small Business Administration said Aug. 26 he will appoint B. Winford Smith, who has worked for several years on programs to help minorities own their own businesses, as Director of the Agency's Washington, D. C. Regional office.

New York — The Freedom and Peace Party in New York State announced in New York City that Negro Comedian Dick Gregory would be its presidential candidate in the November election. Its vice-presidential candidate will be Mark Lane, author of the book "Rush to Judgment," which criticized the findings of the Warren Commission on President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Wilmington, Del. — Two retired Du Pont employees and one active employee will spend the 1968-69 academic year working at predominately Negro colleges, the company announced Aug. 27.

Plan Fourth Party Presidential Ticket

Plans to get a fourth party presidential ticket on the November ballot are being organized in Iowa and 25 other states, according to Charles Boast of Ames.

Most prominently mentioned as head of the Iowa fourth party ticket is Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, defeated Democratic party candidate for the presidential nomination.

Federal Funded Program Passed by City's Voters

A Des Moines public low-rent housing program passed.

The vote was 16,165 to 11,911 in Tuesday's primary election.

According to the Des Moines Low Rent Housing Agency, no family unit will be ordered to pay more than twenty per cent of its income for housing rental. No family can have an income of more than $3,600 per year with $100 per annum for each dependent.

No new housing units for the project will be built. All low rent rentals will be from housing already built anywhere in Des Moines.

It has taken eight years for low rent housing to come about in Des Moines. In 1961 Des Moines voters

160 May Face U.S. Court Marshal

Ft. Hood, Texas — In a "keep the faith" similarity, some 160 Negro soldiers refused to take part in riot control operations in Chicago, for security of the National Democratic Convention.

Approximately 100 soldiers staged a sit-down demonstration to protest the orders to fly to Chicago, and later Aug. 23, Major General Edward Bowls ordered the demonstrating soldiers to disperse. His command was met with cries suggesting a course of action he ought to pursue, in the soldiers' opinion. The soldiers are now reported in custody and are facing court marshal.

Object to Father's Militant Tactics

Chicago, Ill. — A priest, parochial school principal and four nun teachers, all white, have resigned from a pre-dominantly Negro parish and school.

The six resigned charging the Rev. George Clements, an assistant priest, with being a militant black separatist who mistreated the school's white principal. Father Clements, one of seven Negro priests in the parish, denied the charge.

Father Clements is associated with the Black Catholic Clergy Caucus and other civil rights organizations.

New Horizons Project at Irving, Amos Jr. Highs

This fall teachers in grades 4, 5 and 6 in the Des Moines Public Schools will be furnished with a guide entitled "The History of the Negro in America" which has been prepared by a city-wide committee, according to the office of the assistant superintendent for Education.

This handbook will include background information for the teacher, suggested classroom activities, important dates, happenings and understandings, and a comprehensive bibliography. The history is presented chronologically, noting achievements of Negroes, both individually and as a group.

Booklet

In addition to this guide, a booklet of information has been compiled for the student entitled "The History of the Negro American" which includes a section on the Negro in Iowa. Although no attempt, the Superintendent's office said, was made to make these materials all inclusive, an effort has been made to help students recognize and appreciate the contributions of one of "our important minority groups."

The office also announced that Washington Irving and Amos Hiatt Junior High Schools will begin the New Horizons Project this fall under the direction of Paul Devin, Project co-ordinator. This project provides team teaching in the area of English and Social science. In addition, students 14 years of age may work on a half-day basis. Federal, state and Negro Athletes to Call Off Boycott?

Philadelphia, Pa. — Lack of support will apparently cause black athletes to call off a long threatened boycott of the Olympics, according to Harry Edwards, leader of the proposed shutout.

Keokuk Soldier Killed In Germany Accident

Keokuk, Ia. — Funeral services for Army Private John Russell Clay, Jr., were held Monday, Aug. 19 at the Greaves Mortuary with the Rev. Donald Spriggs officiating.

PFC Clay was killed Aug. 5 in a jeep accident near Kaserne, Germany.

Survivors are his parents; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen of La Grange, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. John Clay of Keokuk; one brother, Carl; aunts, uncles and other relatives.

Burial was in the National Cemetery.

Mitchell Is Appealing Removal from Post Off.

Washington, D. C. — Henry R. Simpson, president of the Des Moines Postal Union, NPU, has disclosed that Richard J. Murphy, assistant Postmaster General and Equal Employment Opportunity Officer, in a letter dated Aug. 20, "finds no discrimination in connection with the five attempts of Postmaster McNerney to remove" Cordell L. McGuire, mail handler in Des Moines. Simpson will appeal the ruling.

Charge

McGuire, who had designated the National Postal Union as his representative in presenting his charge of discrimination against Postmaster McNerney stated that the charge of discrimination came in the wake of "various cited instances in which Negro employees in this office were subjected to more severe penalties than those proposed against Caucasian employees." McGuire is now appealing the decision of Murphy in that the action of his being dismissed from the Post Office resulted in "whole or in part from discrimination because of race."

In a letter to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Board of Appeals and Review in Washington (dated Aug. 28), Simpson, as president, stated that exception is being taken to the ruling made by Murphy that "like penalties have been imposed against Negro and Caucasian employees for like offenses."

"The charge," Simpson wrote, "is based on the fact that of all the proposed adverse action of which I have any knowledge, only three propose that the employee be removed from the service and all three are addressed to Negroes. I cited the David L. Noland case, a Caucasian, was charged with much more serious infraction of Postal Regulations than was Mr. McGuire and the charge against him were dropped."

Simpson also cited in his letter a number of other cases in which proposed suspension had been made, then dropped.

The letter said that the appeal is "also based on similar proposed adverse action against two other employees, both Negroes, one of which, mail handler James P. Mitchell, Jr., was removed from the service on Apr.

Des Moines-Polk County Youngsters in National Health Examination Survey

The Public Health Service's Health Examination Survey, authorized by Congress in 1956, will visit Polk County in September 1968 to examine a sample of the teenage population (ages 12 through 17 years), according to Dr. Julius S. Conner, Director, Des Moines-Polk County Health Department.

The Survey will be conducted during the period September 23 through October 15, 1968. This will be a part of a series of examinations of a nationwide health survey of some 8,000 youngsters.

12 through 17

About 200 youths to be examined will be chosen by a scientific sampling process from the 12-through-17-year-old population of Polk County.

The examinations will be given in the Health Survey's mobile examination center, which will be located in the City parking lot north of the Argonne Armory Building (Health in developing scholarships and locating qualified youth.

The committee said that the general pattern of the problem indicates Negro youths are not getting sufficient math, science and fine arts which are college prerequisites or are needed to pass college entrance examinations.

Cecil Reed and Wayne Janssen, founders of the NBLC emphasize the need for people who work with students to begin an active program to insure students get adequate and appropriate counseling. Students, they said, need to be counseled in the selection of courses as well as making sure appropriate courses are available to the students at the right grade level.

Both Brewton and Robinson said that they will be carrying non-credit classes at Ames to make up for high school deficits. Though the two young men are highly motivated and accept the handicap as a problem to overcome, both admitted that the problem could have been avoided if they had experienced better counseling and planning during the course of their pre-college education. Brewton will make up deficits in math and language, Robinson in math and science.

Chairman of the scholarship committee is Maud White.

Minor Disturbances

Over Labor Day Wkend

Three Negroes were killed Sunday following disturbances which broke out in three American cities.

The largest number of persons were injured in St. Paul, Minn., including four policemen of the 52 hurt. Police say the "riot" began when they removed a gun from whom they thought was a teenager who supposedly was waving the gun about following a dance. In Newport News, Va., police tried to arrest a lady in the Negro business district. As a result, one man was killed and the attempting policeman injured. A four hour demonstration followed the attempt to arrest the woman, who, according to the theater management, was supposedly drunk and disorderly.

In Berea, Ky., two men were killed in a gun battle between white and negroes. Whites were reported to have started the ruckus by shouting obsolete terms at Negroes passing by a states rights rally.

Purpose of the examinations is to collect, on a uniform basis, statistical information on various aspects of the health of the youngsters and to obtain data on certain physical and physiological measurements relating to growth and development in this age group.

Scope

The process will include a special examination by a physician of the eyes, ears, nose and throat, heart and neuromuscular system; a dental examination by a dentist; a test of visual acuity and color vision; recordings of blood pressure; biological and biochemical tests of a blood sample; an audiometric test for hearing performed in a soundproof room; an X-ray of the chest for cardiovascular and pulmonary abnormalities; a 10-lead electrocardiogram and phonocardiogram of the heart; a timed vital capacity test using a wedge spirometer; an exercise tolerance test under a measured workload using a treadmill; a grip-strength test; recordings of height, weight, and various other measurements of growth and development; and measurements of verbal, perceptual and social skills by a psychologist.

Purpose

The Health Examination Survey is designed to collect data primarily on the health aspects of growth and development. The Survey is not intended as a screening procedure; referral for diagnosis is not made. The fact that the examination is not complete and is not a substitute for a visit to one's own physician and dentist is stressed with the parents of each youth examined. No part of the results of the examination, except for a card stating the blood type, will be disclosed to the youth or his parents. A report of relevant findings will be sent to the youngster's physician and dentist when the parents request that this be done.

The examining physicians will be senior residents or fellows in pediatrics working temporarily with the Public Health Service. Other members of the examining team will include a nurse, a dentist, two psychologists, and X-ray and other technicians regularly on the PHS staff.

This health examination of youths is referred to as the Third Cycle of the Health Examination Survey. A Second Cycle of the children's health examinations (ages 6 through 11 years) was completed in December 1965. Over a 10-month period, 7,129 children were examined in 40 locations across the nation. A First Cycle of adult health examinations, ending in 1962, completed a -year survey and examined a total of 6,672 adults (ages 18 through 79 years).

Shriners Meet in Milwaukee, Wisc.

Milwaukee, Wis. — The Rev. John Henry Hester, Atlantic City, N. J., the imperial potentate of the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine (Prince Hall Masonic affiliation) told Shriners at the opening session of the 75th Annual Diamond Jubilee Session of the Imperial Council, that the breakdown of moral law underlies civil lawlessness that is being experienced today not only in America but throughout the world.

According to the head of Prince Hall Shriners lawlessness has now flared into open violence and the moral and legal codes once esteemed and held dear now are "incessantly and flagrantly flouted and are under harsh ideological attack in the name of individual rights and freedoms."

Rioting

"The matter which is uppermost in our minds in terms of lawlessness is rioting, looting and arson, and it should be said rather bluntly that any effort to condone rioting and looting and particularly arson is a further effort to rip the already badly torn fabric of our society," the Rev. Mr. Hester said, while pointing out that to talk about human rights as against property rights in the matter of the forcible prevention of rioting, looting and arson is rather begging the question.

He declared, with much approval of the Shriners, that there is no human right to steal, snipe or set fires.

Grant to Urban L's "New Thrust" program

Dr. J. George Harrar, President of The Rockefeller Foundation, announced this week a $300,000 grant to the National Urban League's "New Thrust" program.

Residents

The "New Thrust" concept, co-ordinated by the National office and supervised by local chapters in cities to be chosen, will promote larger responsibility by ghetto residents in their own affairs. The objective will be to reach and enlist all elements of the ghetto and to organize partnership efforts with the traditional establishment in and around the core city. Projects will stress participation by all-rich and poor, black and white—and will focus on specific needs of the individual community.

Chicago Police Beating Should Be Investigated; Urges B'rith League

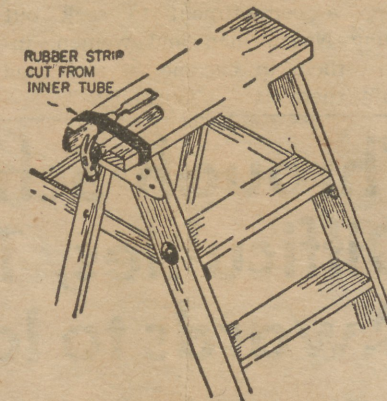

New York — U. S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark was called upon Thursday by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith to order a federal grand jury investigation in Illinois of the police activity and of any violations of the civil rights of demonstrators in the streets of Chicago while the Democratic Party Convention was in progress. Speaking for the League, Dore Schary, its national chairman, urged the Attorney General to proceed under Section 242 of Title 18 of the U.S. Code, which authorizes action.

"The incredible scenes on the streets of Chicago," Mr. Schary said, "when a major party convention was in progress, besmirched the democratic process. While undoubtedly, there was provocation on the part of some of the war dissenters who gathered in Chicago on the occasion of the Democratic National Convention, there is clear evidence of excessive and brutal police response. The presence of a 25,000 man security army which was gathered to ward off violence obviously was counter-productive and did not accomplish its mission in the streets or even in the Convention Hall."

Equality

"It is my understanding," the letter concluded, "that Congress and the Administration is on record as being opposed to racial discrimination and that the President of the United States be recognized as one in which we finally achieve full and equal opportunity for persons of every race, color, creed and national origin. I suggest that this objective has not been attained in the Des Moines Post Office when one Negro has been removed from the service and two others face similar proposals while a dozen employees of the Caucasian race are given a slap on the wrist or no penalty at all for similar offenses." "Lit my Fire" by Stax's Soul Merchants is an instrumental you gotta get, you gonna dig the sax that will sock you out of sight. This former hit by the Doors and by Jose Feliciano is bound to be hitting the charts in a big way. As will Give 'em Love, by the Soul Children, produced by Stax's Hayes and Porter.

Want to talk about soul, again? SOUL is: a Missouri dance late at night with the band going strong at maybe Hannibal or Quincy's Turner Hall, colored brothers and sisters of all ages jumping to their hearts' content, wearing any kind of clothes they want, just out to enjoy themselves, the older brothers and sisters not having to worry about somebody gonna laugh at them because of the way they dance. Everybody out to have pure D fun. Everybody is united by the music and by the contentment in enjoying themselves.

Dressed in rags or finest, it's all the same. Middle-aged chick can get up to do her thing and you can see the joy on her face cause that's what she's on the floor to get: satisfaction.

The difference in the atmosphere of DM and Ill., and Mo. dances is astounding. In DM, a person is almost afraid to dance, especially if he is older because he is liable to get laughed off the floor either due to the fact that he is older or that his clothes may not live with the standards of the others or that maybe the only thing he can do is the Truck. But babe, in ole Mo., just do your Thing and you're all the way.

True or false: Missouri souls are the best? Right?

Take it slow and give 'em love mini-soul.

Service is as important as the product you buy.

Save money by making sure . . . before you buy . . . that reliable repair service is available locally.

Six rules of buying a product that will need maintenance or repair:

1. Expect good sales service. If you don't get it you're likely to have trouble when you need repairs.

2. A guarantee is only as good as the organization behind it. Read it carefully.

3. Think of the product in terms of need for maintenance and availability of parts and service.

4. A good product name is essential but not enough if facilities for service are lacking.

5. Utility companies may be able to tell you where to obtain good service.

HEALTH FOR ALL

A new leaflet, called "Tuberculin Testing Today," is now being distributed to physicians all over the United States. The leaflet, published by the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, embodies an up-to-date briefing on the various methods now used in performing a tuberculin test.

Some methods of tuberculin testing—the multiple puncture types—use devices that pierce the skin at several points simultaneously. The most widely-used test, however, uses a single needle. All of the methods are easily and quickly administered, and hurt no more than a pin-prick.

If swelling appears after 48-72 hours, and attains a certain size, the reaction is positive.

What does a positive reaction mean? That active TB is present? Not necessarily, although it may be. The reaction may indicate only a tuberculosis infection without active disease. Either condition — active

TB or a tuberculous infection — can be treated promptly, and as a rule successfully, with drugs.

Every person's medical checkup should include a tuberculin test. Persons who do not respond to the tests — those who are tuberculin negative — should be tested annually, but many physicians give the test less frequently unless there is a known special risk. Persons who are in contact with active TB cases, for example, need more frequent testing.

Tuberculin testing is vitally important. If all persons who have active TB or tuberculous infection could be found and treated, there would eventually be no new active TB cases.

All school children in kindergarten, 7th and 10th grades are tested each year in all of the Polk County, Parochial and Des Moines Schools.

Are Buying Blond Wigs, Says Company

Negro militancy and its accent on black pride is having major effects on the wig market. One wig manufacturer, David and David, Inc., the largest hair goods company in the United States with a $25 million annual volume, is selling two thousand "L'Afrique" wigs a week.

The "L'Afrique" is a natural stretch wig which, according to the manufacturer, makes it wearer look like an African princess.

A survey indicated that it takes some months for a Negro woman to grow "natural" hair to a fashionable length. This was designed to offer an attractive substitute during that period.

where she spent the summer in repertory theater training. She is now back at Dubuque.

ED MORTON TRAVELED OVER 4000 MILES IN TWO WEEKS—he wanted "to see what was happening as far as the Black Movement is concerned." Mort works in conjunction with the Black Panthers and their clinics and efforts to further Black culture throughout this area. During his travels he made purchases for Mort's Den, 1012 University, which features Afro modes and is the most exciting shop hereabouts! He has bubus (silk Moroccan ceremonial robe; dashikis (long sleeved sport shirt with "V" neck in Far Eastern pattern); togas (long flowing cloth wrapped continuously around the body); these are but a few!

RALPH AND JOSEPHINE JONES FOUND THEIR IDLEWILD, MICH. vacation well worth the two weeks spent there. They enjoyed their son-in-law and daughter, Leon and Loraine Dante, and their young children. Their evenings were brightened by visits to The Paradise Club under its new manager, Choker Campbell, a well-known Chicagoan, and the club's famous Idlewild Chorus Review. She stated that the resort has 19 churches. Its flower show was tremendous. The flowers are gorgeous, so very large! Mrs. Vivian McKnight is one of the show's sponsors. Her husband, Ed, is the cousin of Atty. Henry McKnight. On a visit to Detroit's Flamingo Club, the largest night club in the state, they heard Winnie Brown, widely known recording star. Finding the Flamingo's style show's ticket sale had passed the 600 mark on an evening when the temperature was nearing 100 degrees and the air conditioner had broken down, Jo passed up the show!

Rev. Orzealya Roberson phoned from San Francisco's Hotel Hilton to say she was attending the International Halfway House Convention. That organization, at this year's meeting, merged with the American Correctional Association which is a 98 year old National body, from now on, meeting yearly at the same time as the American Correctional Association.

Rev. Roberson has been a member of and attended all but one of the five year old Association's annual meetings. On her flight out she stopped over in Denver and had a telephone visit with Flora Mae Danforth, who is working at the telephone Company; Johnene is an RN in Denver's Public Health Nursing Association. Sydney now seventeen, will graduate from high school this year.

From San Francisco Rev. Roberson is flying to Los Angeles where she'll be house guest of June and Frankie Smith who live at 358 E. 115th street. They will meet her at the airport. A number of friends from Ward AME, where Rev. Roberson served as associate pastor, have several things planned for her.

But, the tremendous sale has the company puzzled. Some Negro women who work for white companies wear straightened hair at work and don the "natural" when they are home in their community.

The popularity of the wig has caused the company to manufacture it in blonde, red and light brown hair shades. These are beginning to catch on with white teenagers. Macy's and Abraham and Strauss in New York both sold out their initial orders with at least 25 percent of the purchasers being white. Dombroff said it was a little difficult to get a racial message from the sales since some Negro women are buying blonde natural wigs.

BOTH SIDES ERRED
IN CHICAGO FIASCO

Most people are pretty well disgusted with the fiasco at the Democratic convention in Chicago last week. It was a disgrace. But there is a difference of opinion as to who was at fault.

Both the police and the marchers went beyond what was expected of them. But in the final analysis, it was the marchers who bullied the police and violated the law. The police certainly had the right and a duty to enforce the law. It was just unfortunate that some lost their heads and went beyond the call of duty in carrying out the law.

There has been considerable criticism about police brutality toward citizens who were not involved in the law violations and also innocent bystanders. Television coverage proved that this was true. But they did not equal the treatment accorded Negro and sympathetic people who marched in some of the earlier parades and about which not much was said—certainly no investigations came out of them.

But we go back to the proposition that all citizens are required to obey the law or take the consequences for refusing to do so. Unfortunately, we have permitted protests against opponents of issues, programs and people to get beyond the legitimate stage and in an effort to permit as much free speech as possible too many have taken it as a license to go even further.

Somehow lawlessness has got to stop in America for it simply makes votes for Gov. Wallace and those who embrace his thinking.

GIBSON WOULD BE NO SEGREGATIONIST

Sunday, Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Gary Nolan of the Cincinnati Reds engaged in a masterful pitching duel for their respective baseball clubs. It was inspiring to watch Gibson, a Negro and Gary Nolan, a Caucasian, as they vied for honors, demonstrating great skill that transcended race or color.

The Cardinals earned one run after Nolan was forced to leave the game. Gibson won his 12th shutout and 20th game of the season.

Following the game, the audience viewed a program designed to ascertain the conflicting views of those Negroes who want a separate state or a separate community within a country or who want all white people out of their community, against those who feel that our present system is the best in the long run and in spite of some imperfections progress is being made.

The argument of the separate proponents is so impractical that they are hard to listen to at times.

Negroes had their own baseball teams at one time and were excluded from the major league. Fine players like Satchel Page and even Jackie Robinson found themselves jumping from one city to another with little to show for their superior ability and hard work.

And if these separatists had their way Bob Gibson would be doing just what Satchel Page was forced to do at the peak of his career—play exhibition games and in leagues that netted little returns.

Today Gibson and the other Negro players are in the money, they are enjoying the comfort and security which the white players have been getting over the years.

We have no quarrel with advocates of Negro pride, Negro ownership of homes and businesses or that owners of the businesses which receive a large share of their dollars should spend it with those who fill their coffers.

No doubt that Bob Gibson would not be in favor of forming a separate Negro league because he knows where the money is and wants to be well paid for his superb ability to win games.

Baseball

The pennant races seem to have settled into place and it looks like Detroit and St. Louis for the big series. Of course, with a month to go, there could be some drastic revisions, but we don't think so.

We looked out the window and saw a bunch of youngsters wearing football jerseys and helmets. Little leaguers or the equivalent of that. Then we thought of our kid days when we played our sand lot football in whatever we happened to have on. Even our Sunday suit. Of course, we got not a few whacks for that, but they never stopped us. Then even after we were no longer kids we used to meet on a lot near East 16th and University where East High's athletic field is now. We had some real games there. If you had any part of a football outfit you wore it. If you didn't, it didn't matter. The teams were not limited to eleven men. And there were as many as twenty guys on a side. That was a real test of your broken field running if you got by the scrimmage line.

Perhaps our finest hour came when a bunch of us with about two complete uniforms among the lot went to a little town one Sunday and took on the town team who had new outfits. When we piled out of the pickup truck, we must have given the townspeople quite a shock.

If they were shocked then, the good folks were flabbergasted when our makeshift men beat the pride of the city, 6-0. We don't suppose they ever got over it, but as we recall they were good sports about it and said they were glad we didn't have suits.

We haven't heard all of the team members, but from the fellows we do hear, we get the impression that team pride is a thing of the past. That was the only means of controlling a team that a coach or manager had. The boys were proud to be on a team and any threat to put them off really made them hustle. Now we hear the few fellows we listen to say they don't care, they can play with somebody else.

So the manager or coach often has his orders disobeyed because he has no means of enforcing them. Whether the fellow is right or wrong, any team can have but one head who should be respected and listened to.

Pride

Just about all of the old teams had a fierce pride in their outfit, and the regular starters were jealous of their positions. A practice meant everybody out or miss the next game, even if you were a star. If that happened and your team lost, the time between games became a tough period for the fellows who were benched. The whole team got on the unlucky one. And if they won without the guy, he had to win his position back. Now there were not the rules of the team, coach or manager, but the rules of the players and they really stuck to them in most cases.

Every so often we get off on one of these way back when deals. May-much as we do telling about those be you don't enjoy reading them as days.

Picket Indiana A and P
Stores in Job Bias

Indianapolis, Ind. — The local branch of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference may picket the William H. Block Company later this year. About a dozen members of SCLC walked a picket line in front of the A and P grocery recently. The A and P. was picketed due to the store's refusal to "live up to their promise of upgrading Negroes, hiring more Negroes, and advertising regularly in the two Negro newspapers."

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate... and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

Performs in Harlem
Cultural Festival

New York — Naturally the center of attraction for the Harlem cultural Festival recently was Miriam Makeba, the internationally famed singer from South Africa. Dressed in a beautiful beige African gown with black sequin designs and a black turban, Miss Makeba sang a medley of tunes both in English and her native tongue that kept the audience listening for sixty minutes. Among the more familiar were "What is Love", "Pata Pata", "Who Needs Love" and the "Click Song". Also included in her repertoire were Jeremy Taylor's "A Piece of Ground" song in Broadway hit, "Wait a Minim" and "Mas Que Nada" a Brazilian tune made popular by Sergio Mendes' vocal group.

Quips

Mobile Home Park: "Wheel Estate."

A six-year-old boy was watching a neighbor dampen clothes for ironing and asked her what she was doing.

"I'm sprinkling clothes," she told him. "Doesn't your mother do this?"

He unhesitatingly replied, "Oh, no! She washes them!"

Church sign: "Open Sundays for Your Convenience."

Two pessimists met at a party. Instead of shaking hands, they shook heads.

Said the doctor: "You have only one hour to live. Is there anyone you'd like to see?"

"Yes," replied the patient. "Another doctor!"
