Nixon and Lindsay to Speak Here

Rally Slated at Merle Hay Plaza Saturday

Des Moines — Republican Presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon will appear at a speech and rally at Merle Hay Plaza at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 14, GOP State Chairman Jack Warren said Monday.

Warren said "this is the focal point of Mr. Nixon's trip to Iowa and we expect thousands of Iowans to be on hand to see and hear him."

The details of the remainder of the trip still must be worked out, Warren said. However, tentatively, Mr. Nixon is scheduled to arrive at the Des Moines Municipal Airport shortly after noon and depart several hours later.

"The best place for Iowans to see and hear the candidate will be at the Plaza," Warren said. "Special arrangements are being made to clear a vast area for the public, and the Plaza is a convenient place for both Des Moines residents and persons from all over the state because of the proximity to the Interstate highways."

"We will have additional announcements on other platform guests and entertainment later this week," the chairman said.

At $100-a-Plate Banquet at Vet. Aud.

John V. Lindsay, Mayor of New York City, will be the principal speaker at the Iowa Republican Party's $100-a-plate dinner to be held here Oct. 21, State Chairman Jack Warren said.

Warren said "we are delighted to have one of the Republican Party's brightest up-and-coming figures speak at the dinner." The dinner will be held at Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

um. The chairman said "we are shooting for a capacity crowd, both to sit down to eat and in the balcony."

"The money from the dinner will be used to finance part of our 1968 campaigns, both national and state. We know already that this year's campaigns will cost us record sums, and we will need a vigorous selling job of dinner tickets in every county to pay for it," Warren said.

Lindsay, 45, won election as New York Mayor in 1965, overcoming a nearly 4-to-1 Democrat margin in voter registrations. He won by more than 100,000 votes out slightly more than two million cast.

During 1955-56, Lindsay served in the U.S. Justice Department as executive to U.S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell, and helped author President Eisenhower's legislative program.

Since being mayor of New York City, he has served as vice-chairman of the National Commission on Urban Affairs.

S. Urban Renewal Administration.

Slate Task Force Executive Comm.

The 16-member Steering Committee of the Mayor's Task Force for equal opportunity has been named to an additional capacity of the Task Forces Executive Committee of the City of Des Moines, succeeding the 17-month-old Citizens Advisory Committee. The Mayor's Task Force has been functioning since April.

The Task Force Executive Committee, with meetings open to the public, will serve as an advisory group to the Mayor and the City Council. They will coordinate, study and make recommendations in matters relating to the six areas of their concern: housing, education, health, youth-recreation, employment, and government employee-community relations. Membership includes Mayor Thomas N. Urban as honorary chairman; two executive co-chairmen, Robert Mannheimer and Herman Wadsworth; and the chairman and co-chairmen of the six task forces.

Urban

"The Citizens Advisory Committee has ably assisted in the revolution of many problems," said Mayor Urban; "but it now appears we need a broader representation, such as that offered by the Task Forces Executive Committee."

The new committee will work to enlarge upon the goals of the former Citizens Advisory Committee, which served as an advisory group to all elements of the Workable Program of the City of Des Moines. Members serve without compensation and are appointed on a yearly basis by the Mayor with the approval of the City Council.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Washington, D. C. — Howard University Officials announced this week the appointment of Lawrence A. Hill, former Associate Director of Alumni Affairs, to the newly created position of Special Services Officer.

New York — NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) has dispatched a strong statement to prisons officials in all eleven southern states urging them to make certain that Negro prisoners are not denied access to Negro publications.

Washington, D. C. — Howard A. Glickstein has been appointed Acting Staff Director of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Milwaukee, Wis. — The United States should officially pay tribute to the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. by placing his picture on a new issue of the one dollar bill, Franklin D. Strubling, an independent candidate for the sixth district state senate, proposed this week.

Oakland, Calif. — This city's school teachers and administrators were urged this week to "care about minority children and not regard them as pawns to be shunted about over a city chessboard" to appease black or white groups. In a speech prepared for delivery at Oakland High School on Sept. 5, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, declared that teachers and principals must first believe that the Negro child is educable.

Newton, Black Power Head, Found Guilty

Oakland, Calif. — Following a lengthy trial Black Panther leader Huey Newton was convicted late Sunday of voluntary manslaughter in the gunfight death of white policeman John Frey in a Negro neighborhood.

The green shirted, 26-year-old defendant stared impassively as he heard the jury verdict that meant possible imprisonment from two to 15 years.

Other possible verdicts were first- or second-degree murder or acquittal. The state had asked life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber.

The jury, reaching its decision after four days, acquitted Newton on a second count of assault with a deadly weapon. Officer Herbert Heanes was wounded three times in the same street shoot-out last Oct. 28.

Poll Revealed Racial Attitudes in America

For the final broadcast in its "Of Black America" series, CBS News commissioned a nationwide poll to attempt to measure statistically racial attitudes in the United States and to find answers to such questions as: How much white racism is there in the American people? Are the black extremists the people to whom Negroes look for leadership? How do the races feel about each other?

The answers, given on "A Portrait in Black and White" recently in color on the CBS Television Network, are: There are more than a handful of black and white extremists in this country, but there are far more whites who are NOT racists than there are racists, and there is far less extremism in the black community than the white

Davenport Veterinarian Top Vote Getter in Race

Davenport, Ia. — A Davenport Negro veterinarian has been elected, for the first time in this city's history, to the Davenport School Board. Dr. Henry Philmon, a long time resident of Davenport, who has served four years of military service overseas, was elected Tuesday to the Board by a vote of 1710 votes, 224 votes over all other opponents in the nine man race. He is 35 years old.

Philmon, who resides, along with his wife Grace and son, Don, at Bradley Street Road in Davenport, is a 1962 graduate of Iowa State University, and has worked with youth at the YMCA and through the county probation office. He is a member of the Davenport NAACP and is a former Youth Director of the NAACP. He is president of the Civilian Citizenship Fund, raising funds for retarded children, and the first Negro to be appointed on the Selective Service Draft Board in the last two years.

An employee of the Whitehaven Animal Hospital, he is a member of Bethel A.M.E. Church and a member of its Trustee Board.

"I've always wanted to see a Negro history course in our system," Philmon was quoted as saying. He stated that he did not wish to have the course separate from other history, and for it to start at the elementary level and proceed on through high school.

The question was asked Philmon, along with the other candidates involved in bussing of Negro students from Central High School to West High School, and Philmon said he would like to try boundary changes first, rather than bussing, in the hope this would bring about more integration in public schools.

Denver, Colo. — Two Denver policemen who wore George Wallace campaign buttons while on duty on Aug. 12 have been ordered to forfeit five of their days off next month.

Cecil Brewton Is Named Community Co-ordinator Of Alcoholism Project

Cecil Brewton, Sr., has been appointed Community co-ordinator of the local branch of the Iowa Comprehensive Alcoholism Project.

Brewton, who has been an aide at the Project since coming to the ICAP in December, 1967, will control activities in the office, and direct aides in various community services.

The announcement was made Sept. 5.

The Iowa Comprehensive Alcoholism Project office is located at 2302 SW 9th street, and the telephone number is 283-2789.

A film on alcoholism, presented by the Iowa Comprehensive Alcoholism Program (ICAP), will be shown at Walnut Hill Neighborhood Center, 1127 13th street, at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 19. Brewton and Ann Peterson, associates of the governor's ICAP project, will be on hand to answer questions about this new program.

The film and discussion will be on the agenda of the regular monthly meeting of the Walnut Hill Neighborhood Association. All residents of the area are invited to attend.

Fall and winter programs offered at the Walnut Hill Center will be explained at the meeting.

Mayor Carl Stokes At U. of Ia. Campus

Iowa City, Ia. — The University of Iowa has announced that as a part of its lecture series, Cleveland mayor Carl Stokes will be here Sept. 26 at the Ballroom, Iowa Memorial Union, 8 p.m.

Mayor Stokes is the first Negro to be elected as mayor of Cleveland in the history of the country, and among the first Negroes, along with Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary, Ind., to be so elected to a major city in this country in American history.

Iowa State University, in its Fall Lecture Series, has scheduled William Worthy, correspondent to the community believes. The degree of overt racism in white America is diminishing rather than increasing. And while black people are listening harder today to the extremes, the majority haven't yet joined the extremists.

Rights Commission Now Has Legal Power

In the third voting by the Des Moines City Council on whether to give the Des Moines Human Rights Commission enforcement powers, in a 5-2 balloting the Commission won approval.

The Commission can hold public hearings after conciliation of disputes fail, and issue findings which can be enforced through court in permanent injunctions ordering bias to end. Failure to comply with the injunction order would result in contempt of court punishment.

Mms. Franklin, Clinton, And Wimberly Are Back From Demo Convention

Three Des Moines ladies returned recently from the Democratic National Convention: Mrs. Ellere Clinton, delegate; Mrs. Helen Wimberly, alternate, and Mrs. A. June Franklin, state representative seeking re-election.

Mrs. Franklin, as a member of the national staff for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, left Aug. 20 for Chicago, principally to talk with Negro delegates to see who they would support and to urge that each delegate on the credentials issue.

MRS. CLINTON

During the convention, a number of Black Caucuses were held. Mrs. Franklin told the Bystander, in order to assure that the delegates understood convention procedures, to understand the background of challenging delegations (such as Mississippi, Georgia and North Carolina) and to persuade them to vote as presidential candidate for District of Columbia favorite son, Rev. Channing Phillips, who received 67½ votes for nomination.

The first Black Caucus was held at the Parkway Ballroom in the Chicago ghetto because it was felt that money spent by black delegates should be spent in that area and also to show the Chicago administration that, as the convention had been practically fortress against a so-called potential "riot," perhaps by blacks, the Negro delegates could more freely in the ghetto.

Among the illustrious participants active in calling the Caucus were representative John Conyers of Detroit, Gary, Ind. Mayor Richard Hatcher, Mrs. Clinton and Julian Bond, Georgia legislator nominated for vice president. Hatcher was in charge of the Caucus.

Mrs. Clinton, who was a member of the Permanent Rules Organization, told the Bystander that the Black Caucus was not a protest organization growing out of discontent, but, as Mrs. Franklin stated, set up to give the delegates a chance to get an understanding of government on the state, local and national levels and to find out more about the Demo convention.

She said she had supported McCarthy because he presented a change in his ideals and beliefs, but she said she will now support Humphrey since she does work for the Democrats and for their principles.

Her general impression of the convention as a whole was "very wonderful. People think of what happened in the streets, but this was not the convention. For some who had attended before and who had an understanding, might have thought the convention was boring, but for me it was new, it was really a wonderful event."

Mrs. Wimberly said there was no question as to whom Negroes should vote for in the November election. In view of Negro McCarthyites: "They seem to have forgotten Humphrey" at the convention. She said Humphrey had, since 1948, laid his political career on the line as he struck out for civil rights. How could Negroes, she queried, in good faith switch to McCarthy when Humphrey was a reality, while McCarthy was a promise? "And we Negroes have been told promises all these years."

Negro delegates played a vital part in the voting and seconding of nominations at the convention, Mrs. Wimberly stated, especially in the form of Julian Bond, who "has a great future in store for him."

She, too, attended the Parkway Ballroom caucus in which delegates decided to vote for Dr. Phillips. "It was a fine thing to do, to think he was qualified to be nominated." She also praised the accommodations which the city of Chicago had provided all delegates.

Saturday evening Schwengel will return to Burlington for a Republican Dinner where Congressman Robert Taft, Ohio, will be the featured speaker.

Mahon

Don Mahon, who recently won the nomination as Republican Candidate for United States Representative from Iowa's Fifth District, has challenged the incumbent Congressman, Neal Smith, of Altoona to debate the issues of greatest concern to voters in the Fifth District. Mahon cited the Viet Nam war, crime in the streets and inflation as major issues of greatest concern to the many others he has made contact with during his campaign to obtain the nomination. Mahon said that his representatives would contact the current Congressman's representatives for purpose of working out mutually agreeable dates when these debates could take place. Mahon made his proposal on the television time available basis the same as the debates being proposed for the Iowa gubernatorial and senatorial candidates.

Franzenburg

Waterloo — Democratic candidate for governor Paul Franzenburg addressed a meeting in Waterloo Saturday, Sept. 7 on civil rights issues. He called for repeal of the $500 bond provision of the Open Housing law as an "unnecessary, useless irritant." He also made it clear that he will tolerate neither violence nor violation of laws protecting civil rights. He said, "I do not believe in separatism, whether white or black. It can only lead to . . . violence. In rejecting separatism, I accept its only alternative, integration."

Bertroche

Polk County Republicans Thursday nominated Joseph G. Bertroche, a Des Moines lawyer, to run for the State Senate in Subdistrict 4 in north-central Des Moines.

Bertroche in his announcement stated that Des Moines had been spared the ravages of demonstrations and protests because of the able leadership and patient understanding of the Des Moines Negroes. However, he stated, that it is now the responsibility of the white community to respect the

The third show entitled "Helping Build America" will feature Des Moines junior high school students. "The eighth show, 'Up From Slavery,' promises to be a real exciting one. It will feature Negro music teachers, musicians and choruses from the Des Moines area."

The weekly radio shows will be aired over KDPS-FM every Tuesday, beginning September 10, at 10 a.m. and repeated at 1:40 p.m. the same day.

The television series will be broadcast monthly over Des Moines Educational Television Station KDPS, Channel 11. The shows will be televised at 11:30 a.m. and repeated at 2:30 p.m. the same day.

The following programs will be presented: They Also Came, Oct. 29; Lost Culture, Nov. 12; Helping Build America, Dec. 3; Negro Explorers and Settlers, Dec. 17; Underground Railroad in Iowa, Jan. 28; Negro Pioneers in Des Moines, Feb. 11; Contributors to Industry, Feb. 25; Up From Slavery, March 11; Cowboys, Cavalry, and Cattle Trails, March 25; Culture Regained, Apr. 15.

efforts of the Des Moines Negroes and immediately undertake steps to further strengthen the social and economic associations between the races.

He emphasized that there is too much of a gap between the needs of the Negro community and the responses of the white community and the only solution is for the whites to come forward and take action which should have been accomplished years ago.

Bertroche stated that the other major problem confronting Polk County is the gigantic and irresponsible tax bill passed by the last Democratic Legislature which places an as intolerable burden upon the low income and middle income brackets

Epic Records' new group Sly and The Family Stone were cited by NBC's "Showcase '68" as the major new talent of 1968 on the television show's final program of the summer season Sept. 3. A recent issue of Rolling Stone referred to their latest album, "Life," as being "Easily the most radical soul album ever issued," and an article on showmanship in Variety (Aug. 28) said that Sly and The Family Stone "is emerging as one of the top entries on the contemporary scene."

It's unfortunate about the Chicago demonstration and the hundreds of whites were who injured, but blue people (Azure) have been telling you for years and years about the Man, and I guess it had to take some cleancut, middle class intellectual heads to get cracked up and bloody before the nation rises up in wrath.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate . . . and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally curly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does?

Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing. Otherwise, unnecessary irritation to the scalp and damage to the shaft and ends of the hair occurs. To achieve this needed softening and a temporary relaxing effect that prevents breakage on all human hair (including wigs), most beauticians rely on Clairol® Hair-So-New® spray-on creme rinse. For combing ease and for beautifying your hair in many other ways, trained beauticians stock a complete family of fine Clairol products for your specific needs.

Visit your expert hairdresser, who cares about your hair care and your comfort. Whatever the nature of your hair problems, only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

Barber was enroute to Oakland, Calif. from where he expected to leave for Viet Nam. Previously he had been stationed at Ford Ord, Cal.

For Mrs. Holt, his mother and his sister, Miss Barber, the trip was a combination of missions, which also included sightseeing, and visiting with friends and relatives.

In Kansas City, Mrs. Holt was able to call a cousin whom she had not seen for many years.

In Salt Lake City, Utah, they visited the Mormon Tabernacle. A brief stay in Reno, Nevada proved exciting.
In Los Angeles they visited Mrs.
Pearl Lemons, Aunt of Gretchen and James. Some former Waterloo residents visited in L. A. were Mrs.
Eunice Jennings, Mrs. Hortense Childers-Reynolds, and Harry Crockett. In Pomona they were able to see Mrs.
Maxine (Douglas) Wauls. Of course, they stopped in San Francisco.

Returning alone Mrs. Barber and Gretchen made a trip without any trouble what-so-ever and report a glorious time.

Midtown Opportunity Center Senior Citizens heard Vernon Myers of district Social Security Office speak on medicare and social security at regular meetings last Thursday. Three cookies were served. Receiving a cake presented by Mrs. Betty Allen Aide.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"Too much of a good thing?" It's a perfect definition of a popular sport: taking vitamins on the theory of the more the merrier. Or the healthier. It doesn't work that way.

No doubt about it, vitamins are indispensable to all of us. But vitamins by themselves can't guarantee good nutrition. Their job is to coordinate the body's utilization of nutrition derived from other materials. There are, in fact, distinct limits to the amount of vitamin intake that can benefit anybody.

According to the American Medical Association's Council on Foods and Nutrition, as little as 1,800 units of vitamin D taken daily for several months decreases appetite, reduces the body's ability to retain certain minerals, and slows growth. "Vitamin A, taken in excess of 50,000 units daily, can lead to severe disorders of the nervous system, bones, and other tissues."

Healthy persons receiving adequate diets have no need of additional vitamin, except women during pregnancy and for a short time thereafter. Of course many people don't receive an adequate diet. And nobody is healthy all the time. But that gets us into the question of individuals or groups and their particular needs—a question for doctors or other experts, not patients or laymen, to decide.

The money spent on unnecessary vitamin supplements by Americans each year would feed whole nations of people or our own countrymen who really need it. Worse than mere money waste can be the effects of overzealous promotion, such as the broad implication by one TV advertiser that your infant's diet isn't terribly important so long as he gets plenty of a certain brand of vitamins.

MRS. CLARK

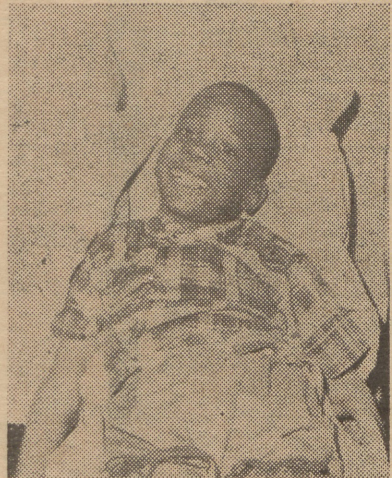

held in Dayton, Ohio September 4-7, 1968). Its theme was Citizens Participation. Platform speakers and resumes of their talks follow:

CHARLES SANDERS, Willkie House Director for the first two years following the passing of the late Lillian Edmunds and now Dayton Urban League Director, opened the meeting, declaring the term "Model Cities" to be erroneous because the program seeks only to grant black people a freedom that is theirs by right. It is a right earned by blood, sweat and tears. He urged that "we rededicate ourselves to making Model Cities a reality. Citizens participation is achieved through struggle. All concessions are born out of struggle. We must teach individuals to struggle and participate in a meaningful way to rebuild the cities and to shape our own destinies."

ARTHUR E. THOMAS, Education Coordinator, Dayton Model Cities Planning Council, headed a group of 27 persons representative of the 40,000 people in the Target Area. A forceful speaker, he stated: "You fight to control your own destiny and so must have confidence in yourselves." He requested the audience to say in unison "Black is Beautiful," repeatedly. "There must be cooperation between the Model Cities people."

La Femme Club Has Resumed Meetings

The members of the La Femme Club met at the home of Willie M. Rowe, on Sept. 5 for the first meeting of the season after a two months' adjournment. Old business was discussed and new plans for the club calendar were made. Mrs. Erna Carr is club president. Next meeting will be Sept. 19. Location will be announced later.

Liberation and freedom for black people can be gained only when they stop being middle class or poor. Education is the only destiny for our children. We must move them up to a better education! We must develop unity. There are black people everywhere and if one man is mistreated, all of the 87,000 here in Dayton should come to his rescue. Money and power, is black power! Nothing is turning us around!"

CHARLES TATE, of the Dayton Alliance for Racial Equality (DARE) counseled target area residents to demand control over the programs, rather than "settling for the illusion of power." For example, "Citizen participation is not citizen power. The program is to improve the ghetto and the blacks in them. One million dollars is spent a year by black people. Twenty Five million is spent with such food stores as Kroger, A and P, and other big chain stores. Model Cities is here so we must take control of it and unite our power. We must seriously use these programs to educate, organize, and unite. All programs may be over in January. Think black and be black! You cannot tolerate a division of those with education, position, or servitude. Don't divide your people before you develop your program. Deal with every man on his abilities. Educate yourselves for this struggle."

JIM GARNER described Dayton's planned program, stating Dec. 31 was its Model Cities deadline. Adding that the machinery is ours, is our salvation, and in 1981 we will look back on a fine job well done, he declared black running from the ghetto to integrate, declaring rather that the "ghetto is hallowed ground, and our only place until we can turn around. If there is division within your house it will fall!"

WILLIAM MCGAUGHY headed 71 Toledo residents. Describing their training program he stated: I am an angry man; I can't afford to be happy. The problems confronting me night and day keep me angry and therefore alert. Model Cities is here to stay and action should be our symbol.

THE SEVEN WORKSHOPS were attended by Thelma Clark, Betty Jackson, Homer Lewis, Father Samuel Palmer, David Pickett, and Jacqueline Taylor.

MORE APPEASEMENT,
THE MORE CRIME

The most striking instance of appeasement with bad end results was the rise of Hitler to power in Germany. The world remembers the famous remarks of Prime Minister Nevel Chamberlain of England upon his return from the now famous meeting with Hitler when he described their agreement with these words "peace in our time".

Last year, Columbia University in New York City was rocked with one of the terrible riots on college campuses. It wound up with hundreds of students arrested for committing felonies and misdemeanors. They are being tried in court and who but the president of the trustee board asked the court for leniency and/or dismissal of some of the cases.

But the leader of the rioters has said that this was not enough and that some of the demands made by the students had not been met.

Or witness the strike of teachers in New York City even though they have a law forbidding strikes by public officials. (Strikes are occurring in many other cities.) Many of the schools are closed and leaders have vowed that they will ignore any court ordering them back unless they get what they think just. (Some more "by whatever means.") And we are not impressed that some predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican schools have chosen to remain open, even though they belong to the union, because even criminals don't have respect for traitors of their cause.

Here in Des Moines, there have been three instances of dynamiting machinery belonging to contractors resulting in great loss. Nobody has been arrested in either case. And why?

These instances of law violation in high places are cited as examples of how we have come to wink at crime among the high and mighty or worked it so they can go out and do some more.

The prime issue in our political campaign today is law and order. All candidates are against it but nobody will say how the plan to stop it. (Crime in the streets they mean.)

Officials in high places in whatever line must quit appeasing law violators because the more they do, the more rope they will take.

WARNS OF CODDLING
LAW VIOLATORS

William A. Wexler, president of the B'nai Brith, speaking at its national convention in Savannah, Ga., said that the white community is hearing the views of "black extremists talking violence and making anti-Semitic noises" and of "black separatists favoring a segregated, self-sufficient and independent Negro community."

He called on the silent substantial Negro community to provide its own answer to the racial crisis.

Over the years in spite of the ungrateful attitude of some, the silent substantial Negro has carried on with the result that the race has come a long way. And while the progress has not been as fast as most Negroes desired, it has been substantial and has formed the basis of what is being done today.

However, taking a leaf from other pressure groups, led by organized labor, many youngsters have vowed that they will get their wishes by whatever means necessary. And as a result, the white community deals with them in fear.

This is true in most communities and Des Moines is no exception to the rule. Too much attention has been given to providing a place to play and dance and sometimes clown, and little to substantial responsible living that any group must embrace and practice if hopes to move ahead.

Of course there are some substantial who do nothing, are selfish and don't care if the house falls down. They need an awakening.

NIXON IN DES MOINES
FOR SATURDAY SPEECH

Des Moines will be host to the Republican nominee for President, Richard Nixon, Saturday. He has appeared in Des Moines on other occasions and has generally found a welcome here.

So far, the campaigns have not moved off well particularly in the light of the short period in which to corral the vote. On the other hand, television and radio have taken over much of the personal appearances.

Mr. Nixon has drawn excellent crowds wherever he has appeared and undoubtedly Des Moines will do likewise.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

Now that another Ashe has won both the U.S. Open and Amateur Tennis titles, the writers are saying he has to be the world's number one amateur and would have to rate in the top ten of all the amateurs and professionals.

This is likely true. Now people are wondering how come the pros didn't eat up the amateurs as they do in other sports.

This is our guess: the tennis amateurs, especially Ash and his Davis Cup team mates are not kids, but seasoned veterans of top flight tennis. There aren't too many professionals around who have been playing longer than those two have. The ones who have are nearing the over-the-hill mark or are already there. Most of the new pros had their troubles with Ash last year before they turned to play for money.

Whenever the rules are the same for the professional and amateur games and the amateurs can get in as much time at the game as the pros. The amateurs aren't always outclassed when amateurs and pro wrestling rules are the same there were a lot of amateurs who could hold their own with second season pros. We knew of one with whom we were personally acquainted and he beat a lot of the pros.

Matches

So there is probably the answer to your tennis surprises. And tennis is just about the only sport where the amateurs do get top flight competition. As much as the pros. What next for Ash after the Davis Cup matches?

As we look over the local high schools, East, Dowling, and Roosevelt seem to be tops with Hoover a possible sleeper. We have been inquiring around about Tech and some fellows say the good boys won't go out for football. Why?

Maybe somebody can tell us. Oh yes, our friends says, don't forget North this year.

And here at home the guy who started the ball rolling at Iowa State has left again, it is said. He was on the squad for a while and is said to have taken exception to a story about his being demoted to the second team and left. We don't know if the fellow who wrote the story just took things for granted or if he asked someone who ought to know about it. But at any rate the story got out and it evidently made the man mad enough to quit.

Majors

We would guess that Coach Johnnie Majors at Iowa State is really making an effort to get along with the Negroes and he told the press it was none of their concern which is fine. That seems to be the way these things are handled around the country. The coach or athletes directors meeting with the fellows with a little give and take on both sides. Iowa State is the only group that we know of where the athletic Council talked to the press first and then finally read a prepared statement that had been handed to the press earlier it was said. We might have walked out of that meeting, too.

But we guess that once the schools start playing their schedules, the players who are out there will be too busy trying to stay healthy to have too many complaints and this could be a year when barring injuries, the black boys get a stranglehold on the two major football trophies for individual play.

Open Meet's Title
Gives Ashe Sweep

Forest Hills, N.Y.—Amateur Arthur Ashe, Jr., once barred from playing on the courts of his native Richmond, Va., because of his race, reached the pinnacle of tennis Monday when he beat Tom Okker of The Netherlands for the U.S. Open championship.

The score of the near three-hour marathon was 14-12, 5-7, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3. Amateurs Margaret Smith Court of Australia and Maria Bueno of Brazil defeated top-seeded Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals, 4-6, 9-7, 8-6, for the women's doubles title.

Ashe's victory was his twenty-sixth straight in singles competition dating back to July.

First White Athlete
To Grambling F'ball
Scholarship

Grambling, La. — James Gregory, a 170-pound quarterback from Corcoran Calif., is the first WHITE athlete signed to a football scholarship at Grambling College.

Gregory, a rollout-and-run type signal caller, who can also drop back into a pocket and set up before unloading the ball, is coveting with the squad in daily practice sessions.

He will serve his apprenticeship under the helpful guidance of quarterback James Harris.

Harris, a 210-pound senior All-American candidate, is one of the better throwers and signal-callers in college football.

Coach Eddie Robinson noted that Gregory has the reputation for making the big play. "He is a natural leader and should show tremendous improvement as the season progresses."

Something of a handyman on kickoffs and extra points, Gregory will also get a shot at a kicking job.

McCarthy Backers
Were Inconsistent

To the Editor:

I wish to commend you in your factual editorial in the Aug. 22 issue of the Iowa Bystander.

It was tragic to note the short memory of those who support Senator McCarthy at the same time displaying a degree of inconsistency in their philosophy of the rights and loyalties of black people. As stated, Hubert H. Humphrey for more than twenty years has been not only a staunch advocate of but personally involved in civil rights risking his political future as candidate for U.S. Senator in fighting for a civil rights plank at the 1948 Democratic convention when the Dixiecrats walked out. The performance of Hubert H. Humphrey is a fact, a reality, that of Senator McCarthy at best only a promise. Should we support promises or performances?

It is interesting to note that as a token to the Negro people Senator McCarthy announced if elected he would appoint Mrs. Coretta King as U.S. representative at the U.N., but appointing a white man to fill the cabinet post of Robert Weaver, at the same time the Johnson-Humphrey administration had announced the appointment of not only the first Negro woman Mrs. Barbara Watson but the first woman to a position with the title of Assistant Secretary of State.

Mrs. Dameron said her son stopped in the states of Washington, Alaska and in Japan before entering Viet Nam.

Dameron attended Des Moines public schools before enlisting in the Army in February of this year. Recently 19, he did his basic training at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and further training at Ft. Ord, Calif. Everything is up to date. One 5th grader, hurrying off to school, asked, "Mom, do you have an extra comb?" We had our class picture taken yesterday, and Sister wa in it. She borrowed my comb and forgot to return it."

A golfer did everything wrong according to the experts, yet managed to play a very creditable game. One day in a foursome with strangers one of them remarked, "I can't understand it. You often take your eye off the ball and still you make good shots consistently."

To which he replied, "I have a good memory."

When answering the phone, a four-year-old boy was asked if his mother was at home.

"I don't see her right now," he replied, "but I know she's around because the phone is still warm."
