Win Seats in Waterloo, Davenport Construction Trade Training Begins

Class Geared To Local Minorities; Starts Tuesday

By Frances E. Hawthorne
A pilot program geared to prepared minority building laborers for higher paying jobs as well as leadership as foremen, is being initiated here by a committee group which has originated the first of its kind in the nation.

Begins Tuesday
Trade Preparedness program, the plan will be set in motion here Tuesday, Sept. 16 at CEP, 12th and Mulberry street. Classes will be held between 7 and 9 p.m. each weekday and will enroll 15 to 20 persons in an 80 hour instruction program. Persons for the class will be taken from members of the building laborers Local 177.

Basic Math
The classes will include basic math, oral communication, safety toll and equipment maintenance and in minor areas, personal finances and work habits and responsibility.

When the course is completed some may qualify as craftsmen, apprentices and laborer foremen.

Originators
The program was conceived by a committee from the Merit Employers, which has Dick Ogera, representative of Weitz Construction company, as chairman. Other committee members are James Evans, president of Breiholtz Construction company; Ernest Comito, president of Building Trades Association; Roy Snyder, Business agent for Building Laborer Local 177; Clyde Lawson, El View Construction company, and Robert Jackson, Bob Stickle and Charles, Harvey of the Greater Opportunities, Inc. and Dr. Phil Langerman, director of Area Community College General instructor is Joseph Wentz, a professional teacher. He will be assisted by committee members and specialists in various subjects.

Driving Case Fined $300

Raymond Clude Monroe, Jr., 41, who gave his address as 911 Eighteenth st., has been fined $300 by Polk County District Judge A. B. Crouch.

Monroe pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated June 16 in the 2400 block of Kingman boulevard.

Disaster Victims Get First Mobile Homes

Washington, D.C. -- Homeless victims of Hurricane Camille are already moving into mobile homes rushed into stricken areas of Mississippi and Louisiana by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

HUD officials said 233 mobile homes, fully equipped for immediate occupancy, have been acquired and are being moved into sites as soon as the dwellings can be transported to the disaster areas. The homes are expected to accommodate more than 1,000 persons, and plans are underway to obtain

Mrs. Hawthorne Back at Bystander

Mrs. Frances E. Hawthorne, 1223 10th street, former news editor - reporter for the Iowa Bystander, has returned to the paper in that capacity following an absence of more than two years.

Mrs. Hawthorne will be accepting telephone news calls at the office only as well as mailed items on Monday and Tuesday of each week.

She is secretary of the North High P.T.A., and editor of the Des Moines Chapter of Jack and Jill of America, Inc. She is the wife of Peter Hawthorne, Jr., postal clerk, and the mother of four children, Victor, a senior at North; Vance, a junior at North; Venita, a ninth grader at Irving Junior High and Valerie, a fourth-grader at Moulton School.

Also a free-lance magazine writer, Mrs. Hawthorne has had several of her articles published including one at Parents' Magazine.

Dr. Grant Appointed

Cedar Rapids -- Those who had criticized the Mayor's Commission on Human Rights in the past are now praising it for its appointment of Dr. Kingsley Grant as chairman.

Dr. Grant, a pathologist at St. Luke's Hospital, is the first Negro to head the commission. He was named last Friday, Sept. 5.

Dr. Grant, a commission member since 1966, has been frequently critical of it. He said that the commission has moved too slowly on racial problems, has failed to seek out problem areas and has tried to hush up instances of discrimination in the community.

Grant to Howard For Small Bus

A new effort to help develop black capitalism and other minority group business enterprises in the Nation's inner cities was announced today by the U.S. Office of Education.

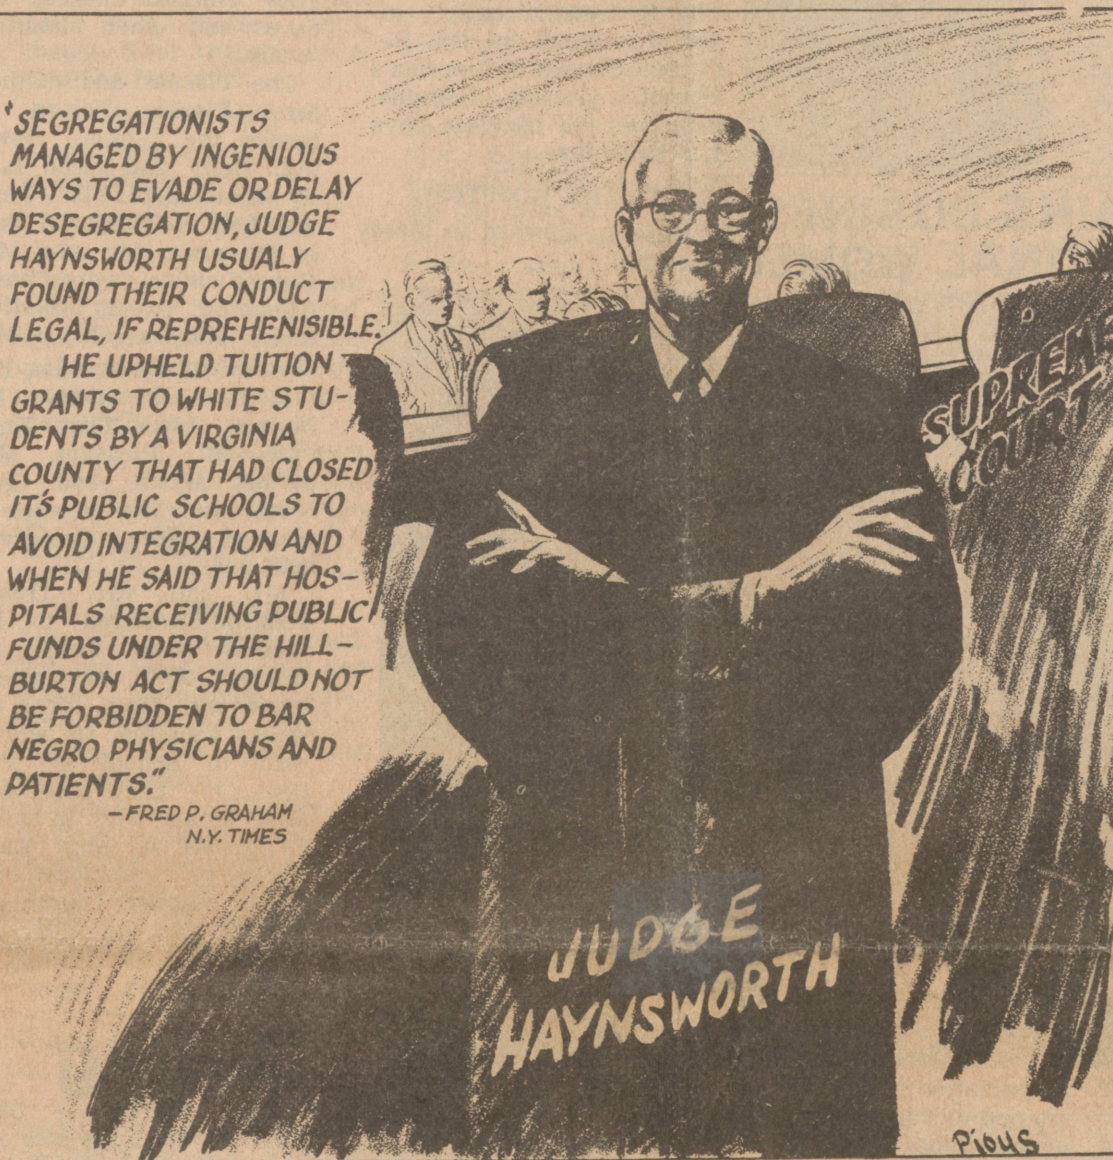

The Office's Bureau of Research said it was awarding $200,000 to Howard University's Small Business Guidance and Development Center for a 15-month project to design and establish an Institute for Minority Business Education.

more of this type of housing.

Three areas have been selected for the first groups of mobile homes--Gulfport, and Biloxi, Miss., and Port Sulphur in Plaquemine Parish, La.

Emergency
The emergency housing is one of the immediate actions taken by HUD officials following the flying visit to the disaster areas last Thursday by top Administration officials including HUD Secretary George Romney and HUD General Counsel Sherman Unger.

Sues to Get Negroes into Federal Financed Construction

New York. -- In a joint press conference here, Sept. 3, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins and Director for Labor Programs Herbert Hill announced that the Association is launching a series of legal actions aimed at stopping work on Government-financed construction programs unless qualified Negroes are employed on the projects.

Far Reaching
Possibly the most far-reaching of these actions is aimed at the Charlotte, N.C., Model Cities program. The agency will be charged with failure to implement requirements which prohibit racial discrimination in all federally-assisted programs.

Preparatory to filing a lawsuit the NAACP and the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., jointly filed a complaint Wednesday afternoon addressed to George Romney,

Secretary of HUD, and Charlotte officials as required by Federal administrative procedures. It serves notice that within 45 days a lawsuit will be filed in the Federal District Court.

Failed
Hill stated, "It is clear that the Nixon Administration has failed in its legal obligations to satisfy the statutory requirements of the Model Cities Act in relation to employment. It is the intention of the NAACP to prevent the continued use of Federal and state funds to directly subsidize racial discrimination in the construction industry."

Described
Mr. Wilkins described the building trades unions as the "last bastion against employment of Negro workers as a policy." He asserted that the blacks of the nation want a just share of the $80-billion budgeted for construction this year by the building industry.

"We want new standards before the awarding of the contracts. It may come to the point where we will have to ask for a national moratorium on public construction until black workers get their rights," Mr. Hill challenged.

2 Others
Two other Federal Court suits are being filed -- one in Buffalo and one in Chicago. These seek injunctions to prevent Federal, state and local officials from spending monies and proceeding with construction projects in those cities until qualified Negroes are hired. The Chicago suit involves the Chicago Circle Campus of the University of Illinois. The Buffalo suit seeks to cut off $60.7-million worth of construction on five separate projects including the Marine Midland Center and a Federal office building.

four other friends left International House at Sorbonne University where the group was housed and took a ride on the French subway (the Metro); this was extended later into an unscheduled but enforced four-hour walking tour of Paris. It seems the young ladies got lost, none could speak French and French cab drivers are a "little leery" of non paying passengers.

To Ghana
From Paris the group flew to Accra, Ghana arriving in the midst of the rainy season. With the undampened spirits of the young the students plunged into a three part study program, which included three hours of daily morning classes and afternoon lectures. Miss James chose the area of African History.

Delay Hearings On Haynsworth

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- The Senate Judiciary Committee announced Monday a week's postponement -- until Sept. 16 -- of its hearings on the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth, Jr., to be a Supreme Court Justice.

The postponement was ordered because of the death Sunday of Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate G.O.P. leader and top ranking Republican on the committee.

Public hearings on the nomination to fill the vacancy created by Abe Fortas' resignation had been scheduled to start today.

Des Moines Voters Select McCraw, Goldman For School Board

Two Negroes were elected to school boards in two separate cities in Iowa Monday but the voters went to the polls in the capital city and turned thumbs down on both race candidates in Des Moines.

For the first time Waterloo, elected a Negro to its school board. He is Dr. Robert F. Harvey, 53 a dentist who led candidates in a record turnout there.

Davenport
In Davenport, voters for the second straight year, selected a Negro. Elected Monday was Dr. Lafayette J. Twyner, 50, who tallied 1,541 votes--the second

Dr. Harvey has practiced general dentistry in Waterloo, Iowa since 1951.

He has a life time Professional Teacher Certificate from the State of Texas for elementary and high school and taught for several years before entering the U. S. Armed Forces in 1942, serving for three years and nine months as a first lieutenant in the highest of six candidates. Winning in Des Moines Monday were well-known Mrs. Kate Goldman, 51 of 3417 Southern Hills drive, and president of the Community Improvement, Inc., an organization concerned with improving opportunities for the disadvantaged. The other winner was Dr. John McCaw, 52 of 4210 S.W. 26th street, a professor of religion at Drake University and former dean of the school of religion.

Dr. McCaw led all candidates. The two winners are described as giving the Des Moines School board a slight liberal edge.

Dr. Twyner
Dr. Twyner, a dentist, returned to his native Davenport in 1947 and has practiced there since. He is a graduate of Davenport public schools, St. Ambrose College and the University of Iowa.

He has four children, is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and is serving his first term with the Iowa Civil Rights Commission.

Native Texan
A native Texan, Dr. Harvey was educated in the public schools of Waco, Texas; Bachelor of Arts Degree, Paul Quinn College, Waco, Texas; Bachelor of Arts Degree, Wiley College, Marshall, Texas; Degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery, College of Dentistry, State University of Iowa, 1951.

LET'S MEET

By: Maude Esther White

Two Drake students, Natalie Reese and Lillian Chance, have teamed up and have brought into being what, without a doubt, will be a very important community facility - The Neighborhood Family Center - located at 1718 12th Street, Des Moines.

Miss Reese is a sociology major at Drake and is employed as Community Relations Director for Catholic Charities; Miss Chance, is majoring in Elementary education, administration and works part time as a Coach at the Concentrated Employment Program (CEP).

To fully appreciate it one must be able to view the before-and-after condition of the two-story frame structure. It is still quite unpretentious from the exterior, but once inside we were very much impressed with what their imagination and creativity brought into being.

Both young women exude enthusiasm - to such an extent that already many major business and civic organizations are assisting in the program with the financial and expertise, badly needed.

The main purpose of the Center is educational - that is, to provide a neighborhood educational facility for all ages: children, teen-agers, and adults. However, a great deal of emphasis will be placed on children at the pre-school age: 3 and 4 year olds who are not eligible for Head Start. Classes commenced on Aug. 15 and are scheduled from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. as well as from 3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. In addition, the following programs are available:

I Early childhood education

A pre-school will be opened which will provide a daily, 2 hour educational experience for three and four year old children. (those not attending head start)

II Tutoring :Major Emphasis on Remedial Reading, Math, and Black History

Tutors are available for anyone (any age) desiring help with school work. The Center provides a place for directed study, as well as library facilities.

III Special Activities and Recreation

Young people's clubs are encouraged to use the Center. Group or club leaders are available upon request.

A vest pocket park is planned for the backyard of the Center. This will be available to the children of the neighborhood.

IV Community Interest GROUPS:

The Center is open to neighborhood for meetings, discussions, classes, or any other community activities.

The Center houses a 600 volume lending library to serve the interests of all age levels.

A family membership fee of $2.00 entitles you and your family to the use of the Center.

Seen in the picture are Lillian Chance (foreground) who serves as the Educational Director and Natalie Reese (far right) who serves as the Program Director. They are surrounded by children who are currently enrolled: Linda Johnson, Kerry Donnelly, Sheri Bryson, Nikki Bryson, Darvin Donnelly, Arnell Parish, Hope Morris, Johnny Logan, Bonita Parish, Maxy Morris and Davey Bryson.

Other children are enrolled but were not present for the photographing. Drake Students participate in the program as volunteers. Volunteers are needed as: Tutors, Recreation supervisors and Black History instructors.

Dating

NEW YORK. — Diana Ross of the Supremes said today that black-white dating and intermarriage are "groovy" things helping to achieve integration in the truest sense.

Speaking out in a current Look Magazine interview, Diana said she feels no resentment when she sees a white girl dating a black man, or vice versa. "I happen to love a black man," she said, but added: "It's not that you just have to be with a black woman if you're a black man, or white woman, white man, it's whoever you enjoy being with as people. If you're not right

Robert Samples, Minneapolis, Minn., was in the city recently. On Aug. 29 he and Patricia Reidman, also of Minneapolis, were married in presence of relatives. Judge William Parker performed the double ring ceremony. Both Mr. and Mrs. Samples are employed at Minneapolis Art Center and will continue to reside in that city. The groom is nephew of Mrs. Howard Willis.

Mrs. Alice Martin entertained at tea on Sunday afternoon. Many of her friends were in to meet Mrs. Eunice Joy, who resides with her. Mrs. Joy is teacher in primary department at Grant Elementary School, having taught there for five years. Her home is Grundy Center, Iowa.

Senior citizens of Waterloo have returned from a tour of the Black Hills sponsored by Waterloo Recreation Commission. Mrs. Howard Willis and Valetta Fields were among the 38 who went and report a wonderful trip. Besides seeing Rushmore Memorial Badlands were toured, Custer State Park and the zoo there. Two nights were spent at Graham Motel enroute and returning, that is in Murdo, S. Dakota. At Rapid City, South Dakota all stayed at Alex Johnson Hotel, we could not help praise our driver, who was most efficient.

Word has been received from St. Louis of serious illness of Mrs. Clara Roberts, older sister of late Milton F. Fields. Chicago Annual Conference of A.M.E. Church scheduled for Sept. 9-14. It is being held at St. Stephens A.M.E. Church, claiming of you judgment in the case of Ten Thousand Four and 45/100 Dollars ($10,034.45) with interest thereon at the rate of Six and three-fourths per cent (6 3/4%) per annum from August 31, 1969, on the first mortgage note, made, executed and delivered to General Mortgage Corporation of Iowa, by the Corporation of Hans Eugene Fish and Linda Lou Fish, husband and wife, on or about the 4th day of December, 1968, which said defendants agreed to pay and subsequently thereto had been duly and legally assigned to this plaintiff, which amounts include the interest, late charges and continuation of abstract of title. Plaintiff's petition further asks for the costs of this action, including statutory attorney fees and other items of expense permitted to be paid by this plaintiff, and that the aggregate of all such sums in judgment be found, determined and decreed to be a first and valid lien on the following described property situated in Polk County, Iowa, to wit:

Lot One Hundred Thirty (130) in Third Plat of Prospect Park, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Polk County, Iowa, by virtue of a first real estate mortgage made, executed and delivered to General Mortgage Corporation of Iowa by the said defendants Hans Eugene Fish and Linda Lou Fish, dated December 4, 1968, which said defendants agreed to pay and subsequently thereto had been duly and legally assigned to this plaintiff on or about the 3rd day of January, 1969, that the same be established, confirmed and foreclosed and executed in manner sufficient to pay plaintiff's said debts, together with costs and accruing costs in full, and that any right, title or interest that may hereafter be acquired by or claim to have in and to the same be found, decreed and determined to be junior and inferior to plaintiff's mortgage. Hence, that your equity of redemption be forever barred and foreclosed, except the statutory right of redemption and that a Receiver be appointed to take possession of the above-described premises and apply the rents and profits therefrom to pay all remaining amounts on the said sum owing the plaintiff herein under order of this court and possession continue during the period of redemption or until the sums are paid in full.

For further information see plaintiff's petition now on file. Plaintiff in said petition asks for a judgment in rem against the real estate and is also asking for all general and other equitable relief.

IT IS ALSO HEREBY NOTIFIED to appear before the District Court of the State of Iowa in and for Polk County, Iowa, on or before the 18th day of October, 1969, and unless you so appear, default will be entered and judgment and decree rendered against you for the relief demanded in this petition.

Minister in Housing Area Sues City Over Water Leak

The Rev. William D. Andrews known locally and nationally as the Brother W.D. Andrews, this week initiated a suit to make the city fix a water main leak which has persisted for over a month.

Bro. Andrews lives in the Cleveland Park area which is presently being developed mainly by Grubb guilders. Several houses are presently under construction. The complaint began over a month ago when a city truck supposedly ran over a water cut-off valve about 150 feet south of Bro. Andrews residence. The ensuing runoff has created a junior stream flowing continually. A collection of silt has accumulated at the corner and the curbing itself is broken.

Bro. Andrews initiated the suit after being told by Mr. Formaro that the city could fix it but they refused because of the recommendation of their investigator. A major pothole which was created near the corner was fixed only after a television crew came out to look at the damage. The question was raised would this condition have been allowed to persist this long in an area outside of Cleveland Park? Another question is should the private citizen have to resort to the expense and trouble of hiring lawyers to accomplish what our tax dollars have paid for?

Reverend Andrews who has seven children can by no means spare the expense of a lawsuit but feels that it is necessary to accomplish this end. This seems ironic for a man who at the height of the civil disorders a few years ago was one of radio's biggest voices in the city against civil disobedience, a man who once felt that his voice was so important that he delayed purchase of a printing machine so funds could be used during the hot summer for radio time.

Whether the running water is a health hazard or just a nuisance, it seems a shame that a private citizen should be expected to maintain sidewalks and curbing and pay assessments for the maintenance of a street while the city stands by and watches it deteriorate.

housing, offer adult education courses, and establish a neighborhood economic board are also in the plans.

Trinidad, Colo. plans to raise its educational levels, develop greater economic opportunities, increase its tourist industry, and build a new health complex.

St. Louis, Mo., is planning five community schools, centers "for human services," and a complex of health, economic, and social facilities, as well as a Neighborhood Housing corporation.

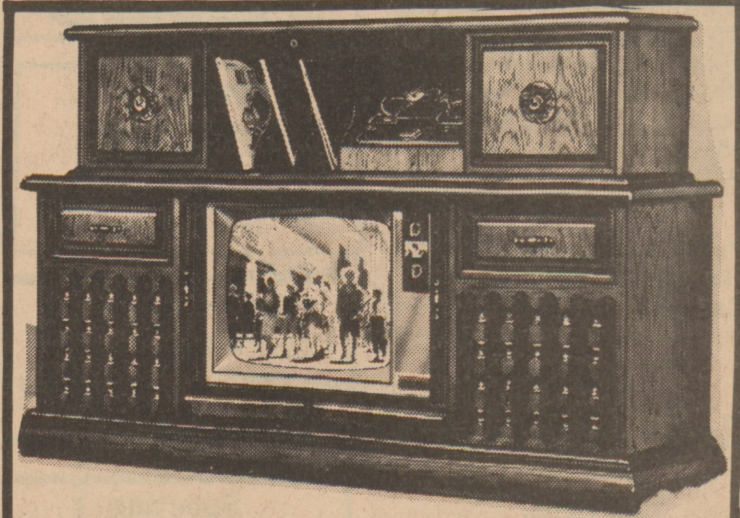

Portland, Maine, has plans for a pilot school program, an Opportunities Development Corporation, and creation of 300 jobs in the next year, as their plan puts it, "to break the pattern of poverty, frustration, apathy, and decay."

Charlotte N.C., has tentative solutions to such problems as broken homes, child neglect, and illegitimacy. It plans for urban development corporations, coordination of education, cultural, recreation, health, social, rehabilitation and child care systems. It also envisions an Urban Studies Course with neighborhood feedback from those who are largely out of the mainstream of the community life, its income, and opportunities.

Eagle Pass, Texas, is planning for more water, sewers, drainage, paving, and health education programs.

JANE HARRIS ENDED HER ANNUAL MIDWEST SUMMER VACATION with her parents, the Edward C. Harrises and small sister, Allison, and other relatives and friends. Jane, who resides in the State of Washington usually makes her return trip by plane. This summer she accompanied her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrow, Jr. and her cousins, Steven and Michael by train for her journey home. Jane, now a lovely 14 year old, is quite special to her young Allison — special as only a big sister can be!

DELORES DUNCAN
FRELOT (MRS. JOSEPH) AND HER BROTHER, WILLIAM THEODORE (TED) DUNCAN accompanied by his wife, Betty, and their three children packed a lot of action into their week-long vacation here in the Midwest. They motored to Monmouth, Illinois, where they visited their Great Aunt Mae Johnson, who was 92 years old July 15. They visited, too, their aunts, Mary Webb (Mrs. Arthur) and Harriet Wallace (Mrs. Kenneth) and their families. In Monmouth they enjoyed a family reunion dinner in the home of Mrs. Webb. In Des Moines Sy and Maehenri Ewing entertained them with a cocktail party; Bill and Ellaree Clinton entertained them at a barbecue dinner.

MISS HORTENSE PETERSON TRUMBO, former Des Moines resident and now of Detroit, Michigan. She was guest of honor at a fish fry in the home of Lloyatus and Thelma Clark. Bill Clinton and Lloyatus were chefs for the evening. They are excellent cooks—believe me! Sharing Mrs. Trumbo's evening of fun were Mrs. Ellaree Clinton and her son, David and Mrs. Marri Johnson. (Me!) Pssst! The fish fry was a sample of Mississippi Buffalo and Catfish Fry to be held at Burn's A.E.E. Church soon! Clark motored to Illinois to purchase the fish! He usually casts a silver hook to land his fish and so never misses!

MET PETE STEWART WHOSE PLANS TO ATTEND DRAKE this fall were delayed until the fall of 1970. Stewart, a junior is a psychology major. Until now he has been attending Peru State College, Peru, Nebraska. Stewart was injured in a car accident the night before Memorial Day, when returning from his employment in Perry, Iowa. He suffered an injured kidney, broke an ankle, bruised both lungs and bruised his heart. His stomach was injured. He returns to the hospital in two weeks for the removal of a kidney. He is the son of Mrs. Marcella Stewart, 1148 8th St.

JOSEPHINE JONES (MRS. RALPH E.) just back from an extended vacation in Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and a few days at their resort home in Idlewild, Michigan, met with a setback! In delivering the last of the subpoenas — this one to Rev. Pettis — which go to pastors only and which offers them the alternative of singing or performing on St. Paul's Musical Court or paying a $5.00 fine, the talented Mrs. J. fell and broke her ankle. (Last year's Waterloo for this lady was a snake up at Idlewild — remember?)

So come Sunday, she will float to the St. Paul podium wearing a cast! She and Dorothy Campbell planned the Musical Court via long distance from Idlewild which is highlight enough; but add that autographed cast, please! Sharing the work behind the forthcoming program was Dorothy Campbell, who notified the churches; Joan Cheatom, who single-finger-typed the subpoenas; it was Joan who rounded up the "real" subpoena forms, too. Mrs. Joburness Kelso is Program Chairman; Mr. St. Paul (Gad B. Tucker) is — you guessed it — Finance Chairman; Mary Ruth Simmons helped get the program under way.

Shiloh Members Fetes Mrs. Daniels

Mrs. William Sharp Visits in Europe

On Aug. 19, Mrs. William Sharp of 1718 Crocker st., flew to Frankfurt, Germany where she was met by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Powell, who reside in nearby Giessen, Germany.

He is an officer of the armed forces and has received numerous citations for his distinguished service.

Aug. 22, Mrs. Sharp was given a surprise birthday party with champagne, birthday cake, barbecued ribs, and all the trimmings.

While in Giessen, Mrs. Sharp attended a fabulous floor show including trio's and combo's from London, Luxembourg, Paris, and the lovely "Flirtations" from U.S.A., a very well known Negro trio who have made many television appearances in the United States.

On Sunday August 24, Mr. and Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Sharp motored to Basel and Zurich, Switzerland where they stayed at one of the largest hotels of the city for three days, going on several bus and boat excursions touring the largest city in Switzerland and viewing the beautiful Lake Zurich, which empties into the famous Rhine River.

Some of the many highlights were seeing the Swiss National Museum, Zurich Guild Houses built in 1752 and the Cathedral of Two Clocks, which is 800 years old, riding a Cable Car to the mountain top and attending Swiss Night Spots.

After returning to Germany, Mrs. Sharp was taken to dinner at the famous Dach-Cafe on the top floor of one of Giessen's tallest buildings and also enjoyed other delicious German recipes throughout the city, ending her vacation with shopping in Frankfurt and returning to the United States by way of New York and Chicago.

went on to Valdosta, Ga., stopped overnight before driving on to Miami, Fla.

To Bahamas
The next morning they flew to Nassau and stayed three days at the Nassau Harbour Club hotel, which is located directly on the blue waters of the Bahamas. On their arrival they were greeted by a Calypso combo. The first night they dined in the Botanical Garden Room and listened to authentic calypso music. The next day they chartered a special cruiser, The Mad Marlin No. 2 and took a four-hour cruise around the entire island.

Fishing
While fishing one of the men caught a large barracuda. Their cruise skipper pointed out sightseeing interests. Next day they went shopping in the "Straw Market" and climbed the Queens Staircase, which is carved from solid limestone. The many steps ascend to Old Fort Finscastle. Then an elevator to the top gives a view of the entire island.

After three days they returned to Miami stopping overnight at the Casal Gables Motel. From there they motored to Tallahassee, Fla., and to New Orleans, La.

New Orleans Tour
They toured the Old French Quarters, Dueling Places, Spanish and French Homes, Residential section, the huge Moss hung trees and Scenic Lakeshore drive. They also toured some of the night spots.

The next day they motored on to Memphis, Tenn., and then to St. Louis, Mo. for another overnight stop where they celebrated Mrs. Hayter's birthday.

During the trip the vacationers saw for the first time, cotton and tobacco fields and citrus trees growing. They also saw some of the poverty areas as well as the fine southern homes.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION
CHIDED FOR LACK OF MINORITY EMPLOYMENT

Bernard Mercer, a member of the Iowa Highway Commission, has chided the body for its poor record of employing minorities. The record shows that while a couple of Negroes hold fairly good jobs, there are hundreds of employees among whom none are Negroes.

With all the work the commission has done here in recent years, it has always been a mystery why no Negro employees were seen on construction and in the maintenance of the freeway.

And further, a large share of the expenditures of the commission come from federal funds and are allotted with nondiscrimination provisions as a condition of the grant.

While the commission is doing work in areas where there are no Negroes and thus it is understandable that they may not be available, this situation is different in many counties.

Other commissions have expressed agreement with Mercer's position and undoubtedly some changes are bound to come.

A FEW GAINS
BUT BIG LOSSES

It is difficult to understand how those Negroes, who are heading the drive for separations from white people, can ever expect to accomplish anything for the whole race when they use tactics such as were done at the Episcopal convention in South Bend, Indiana, last week.

Roy Larson, writing in the Des Moines Sunday Register, reported that "at the opening-night session, a Dashiki-clad vice chairman of the black economic development conference grabbed the platform microphone from a lay delegate making an official report and said: 'What you are talking about is not important to the black people of America. Today, the agenda for the church and the country belongs to Black America.'"

Here, these people threw aside any semblance of decorum or decency operating as gangsters without guns.

The convention finally allocated some funds - the amount is in controversy - to be channeled through black ministers for the benefit of unfortunate people. It is interesting that no mention was made of the 2 million dollars allotted by the women of the church at the general convention in Seattle, Wash. for disadvantaged areas.

The militants had the ground work laid for them by a group of dissident Negro Episcopal clergymen, most of whom are looking for separate organizations within the church in order to be the head of something rather than push the younger intelligent ones who are capable of measuring up and can take their chances in an integrated church. It can be done as has been shown in the Methodist Church where, in this area, Negro ministers are pastoring integrated churches and a Negro bishop heads the state conferences.

Conduct such as carried on by the head of the black economic development conference may produce a few dollars here and there but their methods further build up tensions between the races that hurt in the long run.

SENATOR DIRKSEN DID MUCH SOME REFUSE TO ACKNOWLEDGE

A person who does anything is bound to incur some ill will, some enemies. Considering his overall performance, Senator Dirksen was just such a person.

Born in almost obscurity, Senator Dirksen trained himself to be one of the most astute politicians of our time, a holdover of the politicians of years gone by with a gift of oratory, the knowledge of how to get things done and to gain the confidence of his constituents to get elected.

It is generally known that it was he who finally drafted the civil rights bill of 1965 and helped to secure its passage as well as those of 1957 and 1964, even though he was the minority leader in the senate.

Senator Dirksen had the respect of his colleagues evidenced by the fact that he is one of only three senators whose body lie in state at the nation's capitol.

tory and Culture. For this she will be accredited from three to six hours of her required studies at Spelman.

Impressions

Many things impressed Miss James in Africa--the country itself, customs of etiquette, the festivals, the status and elite treatment of college students, the inexpensiveness of food and other items and of course the lack of many modern-day improvements like the telephone, plumbing electricity, radios, televisions, and cars.

Dedication

"What really impressed me most was the dedication of the African student. Over there education is competitive. Over here we want to get an education so we can get a good job and lots of money. The African students want to get a good education so they can help their people."

"There are very few doctors, hospitals and you hardly see more than six dentists. Even the hospitals they have are presided over by midwives."

Warm, Friendly

"I remember most of the people; how warm and friendly they were. They did many things for us that they might not have done for a white group of students, not that they would not have been friendly to them."

Festival

The friendliness of the African people was really impressed on Miss James when the group took a long trip into the bush country, the last having to be made by walking about three hours.

"It was a small village which had a female chief, which is very unusual. Children from 8 to 12 years old put on a festival of songs and dances for us. Everything, including the making of the costumes had been made and done by the children themselves."

Side Trip

"It was a poor village, but according to African custom they gave each of the students a gift and made us feel very welcome."

The group also made a week-long side trip to the University of Technology at Kumasi, capital of Asante. They saw all the chiefs meeting in annual conclave there with the Head Chief, sitting in all his flamboyant regalia of the ruler, on a throne-like platform.

Slaves

They also went to visit the Elmina Castle and Kormanti Castle, places where most of the captured bush slaves were gathered on the African coast before shipment to the United States.

Before leaving for Spelman last week where she served as a counselor of freshman students, Miss James admitted she has not decided definitely what she wants to do, but she is sure of one thing. She would like to return to Ghana and work with the people there, at least for a while.

SPORTS

With Allen Ashby

Now the big stories are about the fellows wanting out of football. Even here in our local high schools there is a problem of finding enough guys who really want to play. A lot of people say there is too much money for the kids and they don't want to play because they won't have time to spend their money. This could be one factor.

And as we think the thing over the trouble at the high school level just could be too much football. Kids used to have sandlot football games because the fellows on the team wanted to play. Equipment wasn't even a problem. You wore what you had. If some older fellow watched you play and maybe showed you a thing or two you were happy.

But now, the boys start in at say 11 in Little League football. He has all the equipment he needs plus a real coach and all the drills and practice of the big teams. Then there is the pressure to win which prevents some who want to be able to brag about their son. And the coaches win and get into the playoffs. Then win the big one.

Well this goes on from little league up into high school. By the time the lad is a junior in high school he has had six or maybe seven years of organized football and coaching. He doesn't get a bang out of it anymore. Especially if he isn't likely to be a star or at least pretty good. So he gets tired and just quits.

When some way can be found to make that Little League football fun without the pressure to win, there will be more kids playing high school football. Then there is the great stress on certain positions for instance. The quarterback; we weren't trying to minimize the importance of a quarterback. But there ought to be some way to call attention to the guy without using so many figures. "Bill" so and so completed 15 passes. Now on maybe 10 of them the fellows really make some circus catches that didn't go down in the books. But the pass completion does go down. So a lot of guys quit playing because they can't be the quarterback.

Then some want to be the star ball carrier and if they can't be that to heck with it. But it takes blockers to make the quarterback and ball carrier go. Nobody wants to be one of those because they seldom rate headlines or get the big money from the pros.

There are just a few things that ought to be straightened out in football at the high school and college level. And they should start in the Little Leagues. If they must exist make them fun.

Veterans enrolling in college for the first time -- or who have changed their program or school -- must obtain a Certificate of Eligibility from the VA and submit it to the college registrar, who in turn completes it and forwards the certificate to the VA.

The Veterans Administration estimates that there will be 685,000 veterans enrolled in college or on the-job training this fall, 125,000 more than participated under the G.I. Bill last year.

Activities of the Iowa
Civil Rights Commission

89 nonwhites, mostly Negroes, have been hired by 11 companies, which have had their total employment practices investigated recently by the Iowa Civil Rights Commission. One Commission investigator is assigned full-time to making detailed systematic investigations of major companies in large cities to determine if there is under-utilization of minority group members.

In breaking patterns of discrimination, the Commission expects a company to stop making conscious efforts to employ only whites and to stop using obsolete methods of job recruitment and job testing which tend more so to exclude nonwhite than whites. Minority referral sources are supplied to the companies to aid them in making more effective efforts in recruiting and hiring nonwhites.

Companies also are expected to keep on active file the names of all qualified non-white applicants who are available for future job openings, if there were none at the time they applied. Thus far, nineteen companies have been reviewed, in this special project financed by the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. These companies are located in cedar Rapids, Davenport, Des Moines, Fort Dodge, Keokuk, Muscatine, Sioux City, and Waterloo.

Anyone in Iowa who feels that he or she has been discriminated against in employment, housing, or public accommodations should immediately contact the Iowa Civil Rights Commission, State Capitol Building, Des Moines, Iowa 50319. Telephone: Area code 515 - 281-5129. It costs nothing to have a complaint of discrimination investigated and resolved; the work is done by the Commission.

Social Security

Health, Education
Welfare

QUESTION: I am receiving social security benefits and I want to change my address on my checks. How do I do this?

ANSWER: Write or telephone your nearest social security office. By reporting directly to a district office, you can take advantage of a high speed communication circuit used to transmit information to record centers.

QUESTION: I employ a part time maid in my home. Do I have a choice whether to report the wages paid to her?

ANSWER: No. If the cash wages total $50.00 quarterly, the wages must be reported to Internal Revenue. For further information ask for SSI-21.

QUESTION: My mother who lives with me is receiving monthly social security benefits. She is over 90 and, at times, is quite forgetful. Occasionally she refuses to sign her social security check. What should I do?

ANSWER: Contact your nearest social security office to discuss filing application as a payee for your mother. If she is no longer able to handle her own financial affairs, you can have the check come to you on her behalf. The money, of course, must be used or saved for your mother.

QUESTION: I retired when I was 62 and started getting my social security checks. I am now 67. Recently I was offered a job which I would like to take since it pays $600.00 monthly. Should I stop my social security checks now or wait until I have earned the $1680.00 I'm allowed?

ANSWER: You should report your work to your social security office just as soon as you start to work. When you report your return to work, you should also be prepared to estimate your earnings for this year. Any estimate can, of course, be revised later if your plans change. DO NOT wait until you have made the $1680.00. A delay may result in an overpayment of your benefits.

of industry and a decline of its agriculture. Huntsville, Ala., where the bright area has 75 percent of its families living in dilapidated housing, plans to generate nearly $4 million in capital construction, as well as build some greatly needed utilities.

The two Texarkansas -- adjacent border cities in Texas and Arkansas -- have joined forces in planning their respective programs which will demonstrate the feasibility of inter-city, interstate cooperation. In the first action year, eight projects will be carried out jointly by the two cities.

In addition to HUD grants and technical assistance, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Department of Labor, the Department of Justice, the Economic Development Administration of the Department of Commerce, the Department of Agriculture and the Office of Economic Opportunity will contribute funds to Model Cities.

HUD Secretary George Romney emphasized that "If we can make the Model Cities program work, we will have provided local government with an instrument to sort out and untangle Federal programs... Elimination of blight and poverty cannot be accomplished overnight. It will be a hard and often frustrating struggle, but Model Cities does offer us the means of better using our present resources, and thus taking an important step in that direction."

ROSE-COLORED GLASSES

In my hurry-scurry of life's long race,
My rose-colored glasses I often misplace.
Then for some time I am forced to wear
Dark, gloomy "specs"—a detestable pair!

Through dark glasses the world looks lost,
And life isn't worth one half what it cost.
Then nothing seems right—myself I despise—
It's all because of my gloom-covered eyes.

Then all of a sudden the gloom disappears...
Gone are my grouches—
Gone are my fears;
Nature starts singing, the world seems kind—
When my rose-colored glasses I find.

Health for All

WORLDWIDE TARGET-TB

TB germs plague people everywhere. Especially the world's poor.

Crowded housing conditions, inadequate diet, and poor general health make people more susceptible to TB and other germs. Once they are infected with TB germs, they are less able to fight off and contain the infection.

Big Problem

The problem in South America, the Far East, India, and other parts of the developing world is enormous. And earlier this year in the Congo, Dr. Halfdan Mahler, Danish chief of the TB unit of the World Health Organization, told Africans that more than half the people on that continent are infected with virulent TB germs.

People who are concerned about controlling the threat around the world -- as well as in their own countries -- are meeting in New York this month, from September 2 to 6. The meeting is the twentieth annual conference of the International Union Against Tuberculosis.

Speakers

Speakers come from such diverse countries as the Ivory Coast, Mali, Brazil, Madagascar, and Czechoslovakia. Discussion will cover many subjects. The use of drugs to cure and prevent TB. New ways to make decisions about controlling TB. Training TB teams in developing countries. Recent findings in mycobacterial genetics. And other pressing topics.

Active Cases

Controlling TB is an international problem. And an American one. Last year, over 40,000 new active cases were found in this country. Many of these cases come from the nation's poor.

Local tuberculosis and respiratory disease associations across the country will send representatives to the conference. And the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association will be host at the international meeting.

TB is the target. And the people of the world are taking aim.

Hurricane Victims

WASHINGTON, D.C.--Deconstruction figures now available reflect such a grim picture of human need along the hurricane-stricken Gulf Coast and the Virginia and West Virginia floods, that the American Red Cross has revised upward to a $15 million minimum the amount being sought from the public to help bring about recovery for the thousands of victims.

General James F. Collins, Red Cross president, said that the devastation now being found in the Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama disaster area by Red Cross survey teams makes the reassessment of the cost to the Red Cross imperative.

The new $15 million target for the Red Cross nationwide hurricane relief appeal is $9 million above the minimum initial amount sought when the drive was first announced last Monday.

Latest survey figures increased to more than 69,000 the number of families who suffered losses when the storm slammed ashore last Sunday night.
