Bailey Resigns As GO Chairman

Officials Claim 'Interest Conflict'

The chairman of the Board of Directors of the Greater Opportunities, Inc., has resigned to accept a position with a GO economic development firm.

Frank Bailey has assumed the position of a manager at Des Moines Metal Fabricating, 818 N.E. Broadway Ave. which has been acquired by Quad-County Development Corp., with a salary of $14,000 a year.

A conflict of interests was given as a reason for Bailey's leaving. OEO officials in Kansas City ruled that serving on the GO board and working for an affiliated agency was a conflict of interests.

Bailey said that there was no undue pressure of him to resign.

"That was their rule and I obeyed by it," Bailey told a Bystander reporter.

A second officer has also resigned from GO on the basis of conflict of interests.

Mrs. Lucille Smith submitted her resignation from the Logan Opportunity Center Board of Directors and as secretary of the GO Board because her son-in-law, Frank Fant is director of the Logan Opportunity Center, Inc., 1727 E. University Ave.

More Working Wives With Children in 1970

Seminar Focus: Black Student Awareness

NEW YORK: - The National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students (NSSFNS) will sponsor two concurrent seminars this week-end in Columbia, South Carolina and Cincinnati, Ohio.

The seminars will focus on the topic, "Black Student Awareness" and will explore the many problems confronting the Black student body.

Counselors of Black students, college representatives, community agency representatives and students will participate in the two-day seminars.

According to NSSFNS Executive Director David Kent, the seminars or PROPS (Project Professionalization) are designed to stimulate participation of guidance counselors (especially those of Black students) in the mainstream of professional activities. Kent said, "Projects like PROPS develop contacts between counselors and college admissions officers on local, regional and national levels."

NSSFNS schedules several PROPS seminars from state-to-state with special reference to the South and to large Northern areas heavily concentrated with Black students. "NSSFNS brings together school and community persons who are actively involved in college advising," Kent said. "These persons consider area problems and coordinate strategy for increasing the number of Black students attending college."

Black Sheriff, Victim, NAACP Leader Says

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala. — The Alabama State Director of the NAACP, Rev. K.L. Buford, has termed the arrest and indictment of Lucius D. Amerson, Alabama's first black sheriff in modern times, as "blatant injustice."

He said further that "Mr. Amerson is being persecuted because he happens to be a law enforcement officer whose skin is black."

Charge: Rights Violation
Mr. Amerson, who was elected sheriff of Macon County in 1966, was charged, on Feb. 18, with violating the civil rights of a prisoner while acting under cover of law. The indictment says that he and his deputy "did willfully beat, kick, injure, and assault Wilbert Dean Harris... with the intent of imposing summary punishment."

Mr. Harris, also a Negro, is a 42-year-old resident of this community.

Dual System of Justice
The NAACP official termed the indictment and arrest "another evidence of the dual system of justice which prevails in Alabama."

"Apparently, the only reason Mr. Amerson is indicted and arrested," Mr. Buford said, "was because of his color. This office has filed numerous complaints alleging police brutality by white law enforcement officers, but the only reaction has been letters of acknowledgement of receipt of complaint in some instances, with promises of 'appropriate action,' while in other cases we have not been extended the courtesy of a letter of acknowledgement."

Mr. Buford said that the alleged victim has "requested that the complaint against Sheriff Amerson be dropped. However, the alleged victim's request was ignored." Mr. Buford said "We do not presume his guilt or innocence."

The NAACP official noted that it always has been one of the NAACP objectives to secure justice in the courts and to bring an end to police brutality. "We will continue this fight even more vigorously, using every lawful step available to guarantee this right for every citizen," he said.

NAACP Urges Culture Center For Harlem

NEW YORK.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called upon the City of New York to proceed with site acquisition to house an expanded program of cultural activities in Harlem, now confined to the limited space and resources of the Countee Cullen Library and the renowned Schomburg Collection of archives of people of African descent.

In a telegram to the Board of Estimate which held public hearings on the proposal, Feb. 22, John A. Morsell, the Association's assistant executive director, urged the Board "to endorse the total three-phase program, including (1) the Schomburg Library and Archives, (2) a museum and (3) the Countee Cullen circulating library."

In addition, Mr. Morsell called for immediate action "to acquire the site for all

Court Agrees to Hear Appeal from Draft Evasion Prison Sentence

New York, N.Y. — The U. S. Supreme Court has agreed to hear Ali's appeal to overturn a five-year conviction for draft evasion on the ground that he is a conscientious objector. Its decision to hear the case cleared the last obstacle out of the way for Muhammad Ali to fight Joe Frazier for the undisputed heavyweight title on March 8.

The date of the hearing has not been set but attorneys for the Leal Redress Fund say it will undoubtedly be the latter part of April.

The NAACP Legal Defense Fund has filed its draft brief with the United States Supreme Court in the last effort to keep Muhammad Ali from going to jail for draft evasion.

Ali was stripped of the title and banned from boxing in 1967 when he refused to go into the Army on the grounds that he was a conscientious objector and a Black Muslim minister. A federal district court ordered last year that he be allowed to fight in the state of New York.

The brief asked the Supreme Court to review his claim that he is a conscientious objector and to determine whether erroneous information supplied to the lower courts by the Justice Department was responsible for his conviction.

Denied Constitutional Rights

The brief questioned whether Clay's constitutional rights to freedom of religion, as guaranteed in the First Amendment, had been infringed upon because he followed "the unorthodox and unpopular teachings of the lost found Nation of Islam (I.E., the Muslims)."

It also alleged that the Justice Department played a dual role in the case, pointing out that the Justice Department "was conducting FBI investigations and systematic illegal wiretaps of Muslim leaders because the department considered them a threat to the internal security of the country" while also being asked to determine whether Ali's religious beliefs and refusal to enter the war were sincere.

Black Pulitzer Prize Winner's Poem for Fight

Miss Gwendolyn Brooks, first Black American to win a Pulitzer prize and one of the country's most distinguished poets, has been commissioned to write a poem for the Muhammad Ali-Joe Frazier fight program.

Titled "Black Steel", the poem is a tribute to the historic significance of the fight of the century. It will be included in the March 8th fight program.

"Miss Brooks' distinguished accomplishments are a monument to a growing Black legacy of excellence already represented by both Joe Frazier and Muhammad Ali," said Chuck Stone, press secretary for the fight.

"In the selection of Miss Brooks, the Black experience is authenticated and the extended Black family is united," said Stone. A two-time winner of Guggenheim Fellowships for creative writing in 1946 and 1947, Miss Brooks has published six volumes of poetry and a novel. In 1950, she was awarded the Pulitzer prize for poetry, for "Annie Allen", a collection of poems about Chicago Black Life. In 1968, Miss Brooks was named Poet Laureate for the State of Illinois.

She has been a professor at Northeastern Illinois State College, Columbia College in Chicago and Elmhurst College.

President Makes History in Des Moines, Addresses Iowa Legislature, Pledges More Aid

Caroline Pokrzywinski
News Editor

President Nixon was greeted during his four hour visit to Des Moines, Monday by hardhats, hippies, farmers and students who both cheered and jered him.

The President was in Des Moines discussing problems of rural America and revenue sharing.

Four cabinet members, their aides and three Iowa members of Congress arrived at Des Moines Municipal Airport about 9:45 a.m.

The President and Mrs. Nixon landed in their personal jet, Air Force One, at 10:50 a.m.

The 20-car presidential motorcade left promptly for the statehouse where the President made a historic visit to the Iowa Legislature at 11:30 a.m.

Pickets
Hardhats, hippies and farmers carrying protest signs waited for a glimpse of the President outside the statehouse.

The statehouse was locked at 10:30 a.m. Even reporters with security clearance were not let in after 10:30 a.m.

As he was leaving the statehouse several hundred onlookers booed and a few snowballs were thrown at the President and his party.

The President later commented that he thought "snowballs were fun."

After his talk to the legislature Mr. Nixon took part in a rural development conference at Hotel Fort Des Moines.

The President was greeted with cheers and obscene chants when he arrived at the Hotel on Tenth and Walnut.

At Hotel Fort Des Moines President Nixon took time to shake hands with some onlookers lining the hotel lobby.

The hotel's state room was used as a press room for the farm reporters covering the Presidents visit. Reporters were there from Washington, U.S. News and World Report and most of the Des Moines press media, including Caroline Pokrzywinski and Marshall Hood of the Iowa Bystander.

During the Presidents conference at Hotel Fort Des Moines, Tenth and Eleventh streets were full of onlookers and protesters.

The crowd threw raw eggs at the Des Moines police on Tenth Street.

After being subdued by the police and the Iowa Highway Patrol, the protesters stood behind street barricades and ropes.

The Des Moines police department was armed with billy clubs and one hockey stick taken from a protestor. A spokesman from the Iowa highway patrol said that they would not have to use any weapons on the crowd other than their hands.

One CBS cameraman who has covered many riots in the United States said that "Des Moines people just don't know how to have a good riot."

The President left Hotel Ft. Des Moines by the 10th St. exit at 3:00 p.m. and was again greeted by crowds of newsmen, onlookers and protesters lining 10th and 11th Streets.

The President was on his way back to Washington by 3:45 p.m.

Nat'l Urban League Resolves To Back 'Store Front Schools'

The National Urban League today announced its Board of Trustees passed a resolution strongly backing the Street Academy program, declaring that the storefront schools "make a significant contribution to opening up educational opportunities for young persons who otherwise will be denied these opportunities."

The Board declared it "would do everything possible to obtain financial support for the implementation" of the Street Academy concept.

Educates Dropouts

The program, which brings intensive educational training to public school dropouts, has been given high marks by responsible researchers. The most recent such evaluation was made in August, 1970 by the Human Affairs Research Center.

While the New York Urban League will respond directly to various questions raised about the Street Academy program in the press, this resolution puts the National Urban League on record in full support of the concept of the academies as important vehicles for changing the educational system that mis-educates black youngsters.

Dropouts Can Be Motivated

staffed by teachers and street workers have proved that dropouts can be motivated to the point where many of the academy's graduates go on to college. Based on the New York experience, street academies have been organized by the Urban League in Pittsburgh, Pa., Hartford, Conn., and Cleveland, Ohio, and expansion into other cities is planned.

Noting that the economic situation and the impatience on the part of some corporate supporters with the length of time required for success in attacks on social problems has led some companies to cut funds for the program, the Board asked corporate supporters of the program to take note of the following considerations:

"That experimental approaches to opening up new opportunities in education, as well as in the areas of health, and welfare, result in society confronting unprecedented problems in the field of administration;

"That the process of trial and error and profiting from error is unavoidable as society endeavors to work out solutions to these unprecedented problems;

"That while society is endeavoring to profit from these experimental approaches, it is imperative that those whose support has enabled these projects to be launched should continue to provide that support until it either becomes clear that the approach is unsound or other segments of society have accepted financial responsibility for the approach;

"That those who support experimental approaches in education and in other areas involving the welfare of human beings should be just as tolerant of reverses in these areas as they are of reverses encountered in research and development projects in other areas of human endeavor;

"That failure in many parts of the nation to follow the above principles is resulting in the nation moving into a period of lowered expectations with the accompanying feelings of frustration and despair."

Ghana to Host Filming of 'Soul to Soul' Concert

The first major motion picture featuring the music and tradition of black soul and gospel artists, "SOUL TO SOUL" will be filmed during the 14th Independence Celebration in Ghana.

It will be brought to the screen by Josef Shafel and distributed in the English-speaking world by Cinéma Releasing, it was announced by Joseph M. Sugar, President of Cinéma Releasing.

The screen record of the eight-day celebration in Accra, the capital of Ghana, will bring together internationally famous musicians and artists including: Ike & Tina Turner, the electric duo who toured the U.S. last year with The Rolling Stones; Santana, who recorded one of this season's best-selling albums, "Abraxas"; Wilson Pickett; The Voice of East Harlem; the Staple Singers; Roberta Flack; Les McCann & Eddie Harris; and gospel singer Marion Williams. "SOUL TO SOUL" will also be recorded on a soundtrack album, released through Atlantic Records.

The highlight of the Independence Celebration is the all-night concert which will be held in Black Star Square in Accra on March 6th. It is expected to draw over 100,000 people.

"SOUL TO SOUL" will be directed by Denis Sanders and filmed by Aura Productions, Inc. in association with Nigram, Inc. Richard Bock and Tom Mosk will produce with Edward Mosk as executive producer.

Secure Vote For Youth: NAACP

NEW YORK.—The Supreme Court's rejection of the NAACP effort to lower the minimum voting age to 18 in state and local elections, as it has been in national elections, will not deter the Association to this end, Nathaniel R. Jones, NAACP general counsel, said here this week.

The NAACP filed motions in the Supreme Court on Jan. 14 on behalf of Dawn P. German, 19, of Dallas, Texas, asking for a rehearing of the suit and leave to intervene.

Last December, the Court

ENTER MOANING—Sammy Davis, Jr. wants to borrow a telephone to report to his studio that he had bumped his nose and will be delayed, and Lucille Ball guarantees that delay when she attempts to care for upheld the constitutionality of the act lowering the voting age as it applies to Federal elections. The NAACP brief contended that Congress, under Article I, Section 8 of the Constitution, has the power to grant the franchise to 18-year-olds in state and local elections as well as in presidential and congressional elections.

The Court ignored this plea in its December ruling and, on Feb. 22, turned down the NAACP's follow-up motions without comment.

Reacting to this latest Court action, Mr. Jones said: "Although disappointed that the Court did not act favorably on our motion to reconsider, we are not giving up our efforts. This action by the Court was not on the merits of the questions we raised and we regard the issue as yet unresolved."

Miss Black America on Board Kitty Hawk After Splash Down

Loaded with bombs, bullets, and fighter planes, the U. S. Seventh Fleet aircraft carrier, Kitty Hawk, was not far from the shore of Vietnam when the Navy oiler Camden pulled alongside to refuel and send a special cargo via helicopter to the towering carrier.

The helicopter lifted off the replenishment oiler then landed on the carrier's flight deck to debark its passengers, as the door of the helicopter was drawn back to the thunderous noise caused by its rotors. Navy men rushed toward the helicopter chanting, "Welcome Aboard Miss Black America."

This according to many of the crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier was a first for them. Some related that they had never seen an all-black troupe at sea before, while others remarked, they had never heard of Miss Black America, but all seemed excited and proud that she appeared.

On tour with Miss Black America 1970, Miss Stephanie Clark, 20, of Washington, D.C., "to show black brothers that they were not forgotten," were Miss Black Alabama, Brenda Duff, 20, of Birmingham; Miss Black North Carolina, Sylvia Smith, 23, of Durham; and Miss Black Utah, Inas Slade, 18, of Salt Lake City and a King of the Court, Lou Ashley, of De Ridder, La.

According to Miss Black America, her troupe represented more than just a soulful show for troops in Vietnam and the Western Pacific. She said, "We not only present the men with a soulful show, but we also introduce them to an experience in black culture, showing them that black is beautiful."

The winner of the third Miss Black America Beauty Pageant held at Madison Square Garden last year, the 5 foot 5, 130 pound, curvy 34-23-36, Stephanie Clark made it to the finals as Miss Black District of Columbia and defeated entrants from 31 states.

The purpose of the Miss Black America Pageant and the entertainment provided by Stephanie Clark and her troupe was to acclaim and applaud Black Beauty and parade the women of color as a universal symbol of pride.

The judges who selected Stephanie Clark to project the beauty of the black woman in all her charm, poise and beauty as well as dignity, courage, talent and elegance for 1970 included former baseball star Jackie Robinson; Willis Reed, captain of the New York Knicks; Fannie Lou Hamer, vice chairman of the Mississippi Freedom Party; Ellis Haislip, producer of the NET television show, "Soul"; Rep. John Conyers Jr., (D. Mich.) and Joyce Norton, president of the student council of Spelman College, Atlanta, Ga.

A sophomore at Ithaca College (Ithaca, N.Y.), Stephanie Clark feels that there is a need for a Miss Black America. She said, "A Miss Black America is definitely a necessity to give a black man a chance to see his woman in a place of honor."

During Miss Black America's tour through Vietnam and the Western Pacific, many black servicemen as well as white had their opportunity to "see a black woman in a place of honor." Stephanie Clark and her troupe spent some 35 days on tour entertaining servicemen from the deltas of Vietnam to the highlands of Thailand, and aboard several U.S. Navy ships.

Los Angeles, Feb. 23... Smokey Robinson, The Miracles and The Four Tops set a concert attendance record at the Los Angeles Forum last Saturday when they performed before a standing room only (SRO) audience of 18,675. The show grossed more than $100,000.

The two Motown acts'

Forum appearance was a triumphant climax of 10 one-night concert performances that began in Ohio and ended here.

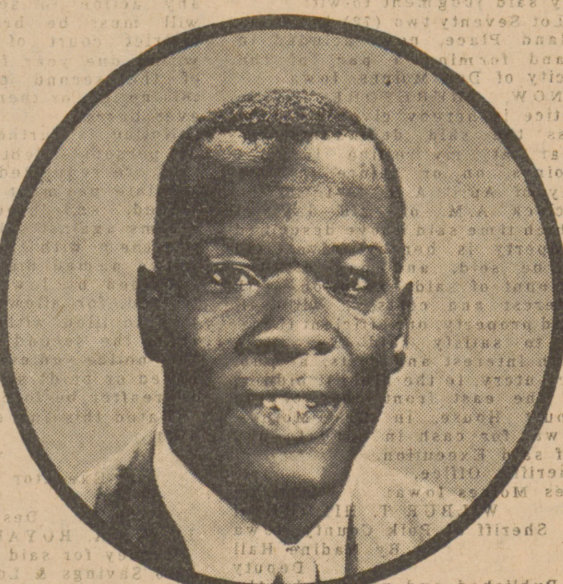

Smokey Robinson and The Miracles, currently riding the success of their two-million-plus seller "Tears of a Clown," have a new Motown album which is due to be released later this month.

The Four Tops, whose hit single recording of "Just Seven Numbers" is rapidly climbing the charts, have been set to make their debut performance at the Sahara-Tahoe Hotel in Lake Tahoe for a limited engagement beginning Friday, February 19.

THE THEME FOR ALPHA PHI ALPHA FRATERNITY'S ANNUAL BLACK AND GOLD BALL 1971 was Black and "Gold" is beautiful. The affair was planned with the pleasure of the guests in mind. The Alpha Phi Alphas succeeded!

A NEW APPROACH AS TO THE GUESTS: Each man selected the guests with whom he was to spend the evening. The choice extended beyond fraternal groups. Emphasis was that the evening should bring everyone a good time. IMAGINE THE PLEASURE OF THE GUESTS as each Alpha served his turn as host! Each greeted arriving guests and escorted them to their appointed table.

ROYAL CORBIN, A PLEDGE, also assisted in hosting! Further identification of Corbin is that he is a graduate of Simpson College and is employed by an accounting firm.

THE SEATING ARRANGEMENT was such that in essence each of eight tables with their fourteen persons had direct access to the dance floor -- was abutting the dance floor!

SHADES OF SOUL provided the evening's dance music. The group is very young but was prepared to please each of its listeners. There was music for all age levels! Their singers were altogether satisfying!

SELECTION OF EDDIE WEBSTER'S was an opportunity to enjoy of another of Des Moines' finer restaurants. Last year's choice was the Hyperion Golf and Country Club. A little forethought in planning makes a unique experience as well as a social one!

BUFFET SERVICE IN MID EVENING was a rarity! The men cannot be topped for this thoughtful gesture. By now it was quite believable that a good time for all was the goal of the evening's efforts! At this time the band took a break and recorded music was played as the guests went through the buffet line! And still there was Eddie Webster's 25 foot bar! Still!

A LOT OF BLACK POWER WAS TO BE SEEN AT SATURDAY night's ball! Cause for great pride. The men were most handsome in their various type tuxedos and formal wear. The women were astonishingly lovely in their many, many formal styles! As never before! Viewing the entire scene gave one tremendous feelings of black pride and Black Power at its best!

GUESTS WERE ECSTATIC IN THEIR PRAISE: Mr. and Mrs. Russell declared the event "tremendous." They admired the table arrangement! The accessibility of the dance floor. The intermission during which recorded music was played as guests passed through the buffet line! Their sentiments were shared by the several other persons with whom I talked about the ball. Among them were Mrs. Gus Guydon, and the Davises. Highly complimentary, too, was Mrs. Silas Ewing and Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm C. Hogan motored to Kansas City, Mo. to attend the 1971 formal dance presented by the original Silhouette Club.

While there, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Toombs.

Annual Black, Gold Ball Hosted by Alpha's has

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity's Annual Black and Gold Ball held Saturday night at Eddie Webster's, Des Moines Restaurant and lounge, was one of the city's best social events.

It was attended by 130 persons. The facilities of Eddie Webster's provided a luxurious setting for the gala evening.

Music for dancing was provided by Shades of Soul, a six member band plus four singers. Their playing was superb and their choice of numbers completely pleasing. The wide variety suited all age levels.

Guests were served from a buffet and the restaurant's twenty-five foot bar provided refreshments throughout the evening.

There were a number of out of town guests. The five Danforth brothers and their sister, reunited at the ball for the first time since 1959. The Grammy Awards 13th Annual Presentation ceremony will be held at the Hollywood Palladium, March 16.

The albums are now being made available through Motown's regular distributors, with tentative plans for distribution through educational marketing outlets in the near future.

Black Federation Seeks Data Process Trainees

To correct and further clarify the article submitted to last week's BYSTANDER entitled BLACK FED. TO OFFER IBM COURSE. Mrs. Shirley Woods, scholarship director of the United Black Federation, stated that the announced no-charge data processing training program is sponsored by the United Black Federation with the assistance of local insurance, computer manufacture, communication and other firms. Mrs. Woods reported that response to the Federation's search for data processing trainee applicants has been very good. However, she states that applicants are still being sought.

The program is to provide formal schooling in data preparation and computer operations for under-employed black workers in the Des Moines community. The project also includes a plan to obtain sufficient job pledges from local industry to provide employment for successful graduates to fill expanding data processing needs. Some firms have already pledged jobs in support of the school project.

Mr. Preston Love will lead a discussion and provide information to interested parties and applicants about the program on Friday, March 12, 7:30 P.M. at Soul Village 1409 Forest Ave. Interested persons are urged to call Mrs. Shirley Woods at 262 - 5313.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Just what is the correct form regarding the use of the suffixes after male names, "Jr.," "II," and "III"?

A. When a son's name is the same as that of his father, "Jr." is tacked onto his name. When the father dies, the "Jr." is dropped, except in the case of the father's having been famous or very well known enough to make it advisable for the son to retain the "Jr." for the purpose of identification. When a boy is named for a grandfather or uncle, he carries "II" after his name. And the third member of a family to use the same name becomes "III."

Q. Whose duty is it to see that the bride and bridegroom's car is ready and waiting for them at the reception?

A. This is one of the duties of the best man.

Q. How many vegetables is it necessary to serve at a dinner?

A. Two vegetables are sufficient.

Q. Are correspondence cards considered in good taste?

A. Yes, and very popular too for the short, informal kind of messages. They should be used.

Q. Is it necessary that a widow with two children, ages 11 and 14, continue to wear her wedding ring for the sake of her children -- but in spite of the fact that she is going regularly with another man?

A. There is no hard-and-fast rule about this, and certainly the fact that she has young children doesn't compel her to wear the ring. It's up to her.

Q. By whom should the first gesture of friendship be made, by the family of the man or of the girl, when they have become engaged?

A. By the family of the man.

Q. When one is eating meat at the table, should one mosey of meat at a time be cut?

A. Yes. It is ill-bred to cut up the meat into numerous pieces before eating it.

President Wants Country, As Well as City, to Prosper

President Nixon told the Iowa legislators that he had allocated an additional one hundred million dollars for farm and country dwellers in order that the sagging economy in these areas can be helped. This is in line with what has been done for cities. It would bolster his plan for revenue sharing with the states - many of them now being almost bankrupt.

His visit in Des Moines with four midwestern governors appeared designed to gain support for the president's legislation little of which has been able to get through Congress.

Certainly, the President's program is needed to bolster the economy of those small communities which have no industries while farm jobs are scarce due to mechanization.

Today, there are hundreds of vacant farm houses with comfortable surroundings that would make a good home for some families provided work could be secured to keep them going. We don't wish to create such a disgraceful welfare system in these areas as exist in the cities.

In the meantime, Mr. Nixon's tax sharing plan is meeting stiff objections both in and out of Congress. And much of the objection comes because the money would come to the states with no strings attached. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the house appropriations committee, and Roy Wilkins have voiced objections on that ground.

Wilkins knows from experience how some communities have mishandled funds coming from Washington and over which they have control. Negroes have been given the little end of the stick.

Both the urban and farm area help proposals have merit but they must be handled so that those who need them can share.

Model Cities Accomplishments Need to Justify Expenditures

It would appear that the Model Cities program in Des Moines will be funded another year. We hope it comes through for another 12 months try.

Frankly, we have been disappointed with the showing Model Cities has made with 2.5 dollars. The community looks no better physically and most houses being built resemble rat traps.

We had hoped that most of the money would not be spent for administration of one kind or another which means that little is left to build a "Model City."

The tiny tot program has been a real high spot. On the other hand fantastic claims of excess cannot be substantiated with facts.

If the program is to continue, well-planned projects - not just recreation, dance and other play programs - should be evolved and put into operation by competent management. It has not been done so far.

We don't believe Congress will continue to finance Model City projects with no prospect for maintaining themselves.

Equal Opportunity Means Jobs and Promotion

In an effort to further implement equal opportunity programs for minorities, the government called upon business to agree that equal employment would be the policy at their business and thus adopted the slogan "an equal opportunity employer." The slogan appears in the advertising in the news media.

Seemingly most Iowa based companies have not done this. (See the ads appearing in newspapers and magazines.)

The program did much to enlist the cooperation of many business concerns which had never employed minorities before; some which had never promoted any. Many Des Moines companies have done an excellent job; some not; some have slipped back into their old rut because less pressure is being put on them.

In recent months some companies, that are doing business with the federal government, are being required to live up to their contracts which include equal opportunity provisions.

Unemployment in Des Moines has not reached serious proportions as some communities - the rate is a fourth of that in some cities. This, of course, means that the fellow who has done a good job will hold on; many will be promoted. And as is the case anyone with any kind of training is not working the streets.

Equal opportunity means a chance to be hired and promoted; it requires responsibility of the employed that he will keep his part of the bargain - deliver a good day's work for good pay.

Health for All

Half of all the deaths of people injured in automobile accidents in this country may result from "shock lung" or "wet lung."

This condition of the lung - in which a flood of white cells blocks the tiny blood vessels - often follows hemorrhagic shock and other major trauma.

Dr. James W. Wilson, an assistant professor of pathology at Duke, has documented this kind of respiratory distress in a film of the lungs of dogs and cats. Within 20 minutes after the onset of shock, the capillaries of the lung narrow, the air sacs lose their shape, and the red cells begin to clump and sludge. Gradually, the lungs turn white as the flow of blood stops.

Lung failure and death follow.

From his work with experimental animals, Dr.

Wilson has found that steroid treatment will prevent death if given 45 minutes after the onset of shock. Recently, Dr. Wilson prescribed steroid therapy, via telephone, for a young patient in another hospital. The treatment saved the life of the 16-year-old boy, who had been injured in an automobile accident.

Dr. Wilson believes the treatment can be used to help prevent tragic deaths on the highway - if treatment is administered fast. To find out more about the way the lungs work under normal and abnormal conditions, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

ON THE SPORTS SCENE

With Allen Ashby

may make a difference.

Here at home, our local high school teams head into their tournament games, and everyone would like to see North make it to the state finals. They seem to have a well balanced club, and they have been down and come back, so they shouldn't panic when they get in a tough spot. We still believe that in just a few years, the team that wins the metropolitan title will automatically qualify for the state finals.

Ali-Frazier Bout

Next Monday is the fight. There has been so much written and said about the thing by writers and the fighters that just about everyone is ready to say let's get the thing on. Everybody we meet is asking us who is going to win. If we knew for sure, we would come out of the deal a rich man, or at least, quite a few dollars better off.

But, we can have an opinion, which nobody has to agree with. We don't think the thing will go the distance.

Might Catch Frazier

There is a distinct possibility that Ali, with his superior speed, might catch the Frazier guy a good one early and that may be it. Frazier has been knocked down, so one would have to say that he isn't unbeatable. And, then we can't recall that he has kayeed too many guys with one punch. He seems to be more the Rocky Marciano type, carrying his man such a fast pace that he wears him down. Maybe he can do that to Ali.

But, the great one should be ready for this one, if he ever was ready for a fight, and might not wear down. But if it does go the distance, we would have to think Muhammad would be the winner. Well, by this time next week, we will all be trying to analyze the thing, and people who don't know a boxing glove from a watermelon will know just why the loser didn't win.

Dislike Each Other

As we see it, the unknown factor in this thing seems to be the fact that they really don't like each other. This could be more than just a boxing match it could be a real fight with each man determined to prove his superiority over the other. How much of that pre-fight bombast is real and how much is imaginary, for publicity will be a big factor in deciding the ultimate winner.

Fighting somebody you don't like makes a fellow awfully tough.

Do you know, we lost track of the black high school wrestlers in the state high school meet. Does anybody know how many winners, if any, there were?

One of our friends has taken a crack at the Negro baseball hall of fame. Says it is segregation. We don't know. We do know that when you saw a couple of those old teams play, you were seeing baseball of major league caliber. Those guys should be given some recognition, but we would like to see the nominating committee consist of some of the black sports writers who covered some of the games, and maybe some of the older players or managers if there are many around. Campanella, and Jackie Robinson ought to be on the committee as they are, but there should be several more blacks who were there.

Veterans

Q - Shortly after I was separated from service I converted my GI insurance policy, and have kept it in force. May I borrow on this policy?

A - Yes. Your policy describes the loan features. If you wish exact figures, you should contact the VA office to which you send your insurance premiums. They will explain your policy's loan provisions, tell you the amount available, and provide an application form. The interest charge on policy loans was raised to five per cent earlier this year.

Mini-Cigar Introduced In Des Moines Area

A new mini-cigar, was introduced in the Des Moines area February 2, as a preview to its national introduction early next week.

Called Tijuana Smalls, the new product is manufactured by the General Cigar Company, Inc., of New York, which pioneered and helped popularize the small cigar in America. The company also makes Tiparillos.

Except for its white plastic tip, the Tijuana Small is about the length and thickness of a king-sized cigarette but is made from extremely mild cigar tobacco.

Introduced experimentally last year in Boston, Denver, Washington and New York, and earlier this year on the West Coast, Tijuana Smalls have broken all cigar industry traditions, according to George Reichart, vice president of General Cigar. In these cities, he said, the product is selling at several times the rate of any other small cigar. "Moreover," Mr. Reichart said, "our research shows that most Tijuana Smalls purchasers, perhaps as much as 75 percent, are former cigarette smokers. The majority are young, between 20 and 35, contrasted to the cigar industry's traditional youth market, which up to now has begun at age 45."

Most surprising, Mr. Reichart said, has been the number of women smoking the new cigar. He estimates that some 100,000 women are using the product. Most are ex-cigarette smokers. Of the three Tijuana Smalls tastes, Regular, Menthol and Aromatic, women seem to prefer the faintly sweet, non-cigar taste of Aromatic.

Reichart attributes the product's success in the experimental stage to the fact that Tijuana Smalls can be enjoyed without inhaling. "This," he explained, "can eliminate or at the
