Charrette Proposal in the Making

Virginia Harper to State Education Board

Named by Gov. Robert Ray to Succeed Nolden Gentry, Resigned

Gov. Robert Ray has appointed Virginia Harper of Fort Madison, Iowa, to the State Board of Education, succeeding Nolden Gentry of Des Moines who resigned after his election to the Board of Education here.

Mrs. Harper is a product of the Fort Madison high school and attended Iowa and Howard Universities later graduating from the Medical Technical Institute in Minneapolis, Minn. Since graduation she has been employed as a medical technician in the offices of Drs. Harry, and the late George, and Harry Harper, Jr.

NAACP office Active in civic and other affairs, Miss Harper has been long a member of the Fort Madison branch NAACP and now as the Administrative Secretary and also the executive board of the State Conference. She is also a member of the League of Women and the Catholic Church.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Harper of Fort Madison.

Minority Owned Bank Receives $1 Million Deposit

NEW YORK, April 27—Atlantic Richfield Company will deposit $1,000,000 in minority-owned or managed commercial or savings banks in cities from coast-to-coast to help provide funding for minority businesses in those areas, announced Robert O. Anderson, chairman.

Approximately $600,000 of the total already has been committed in certificates of deposit or time deposits in 19 institutions in 12 areas where the company has operations or interests, and the remainder will be deposited in the near future, according to Anderson.

Anderson said funds were deposited in amounts ranging from $10,000 to $100,000 in minority-owned or managed institutions in these cities: Chicago; Compton, Calif.; Danville, Va.; Durham, N.C.; Houston; Los Angeles; Memphis; New York; Portland, Ore.; Seattle; Springfield, Ill.; and Washington, D.C.

The Atlantic Richfield executive commented: "By this action, we hope to tangibly encourage new business enterprise by minority residents in each of these areas. We feel that the deposits will have a substantial multiplier effect, helping to foster economic growth in both businesses and the communities involved."

Anderson said that Atlantic Richfield has deposited smaller amounts in a few minority banks in the past, but never in the range or numbers of institutions announced today.

"It is important, we feel, that major companies help finance minority self-reliance and economic advancement through some deposits in banks serving these minority groups," he stressed.

BACK LAW ENFORCEMENT.
DON'T LET BLACK COMMUNITIES BECOME JUNGLES.

"WE HAVE A RIGHT TO SAFETY IN THE STREETS, HALLWAYS, APARTMENTS AND BUSINESS PLACES OF OUR COMMUNITIES. WE ARE MORE CONCERNED WITH THE RIGHT OF DECENT PEOPLE TO GO TO SUPER MARKETS THAN THE SUPPOSED RIGHTS OF THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN ACCUSED OF CRIMES. IT IS THE SAFETY OF THE NON-CRIMINALS THAT MUST BE PARAMOUNT."

SAID VINCENT BAKER OF THE NAACP CRIME COMMITTEE N.Y.C.

Gov. Ray Proclaims Law May 1: H.S. Students to Hold Mock Trials

DES MOINES Governor Robert D. Ray is urging Iowans to observe Saturday, May 1, as Law Day.

This year's theme for the 14th annual observance of Law Day is "channel change through law and reason."

In signing the Law Day proclamation, Ray encouraged schools, churches, the courts, civic and service clubs, business organizations and the news media to participate in the observance.

"The United States," he said, "is faced with a great challenge: a burgeoning population, restless youth impatient for fulfillment of our nation's ideals, demands for greater civil rights, and the sapping of our country's moral strength through increased crime, drug abuse and poverty.

"The solution to these challenges must come through adherence to the rule of law, since without law, and use of legal processes, none of these problems can be satisfactorily met."

The Law Day observance, Ray noted, provides each person the chance to demonstrate responsible citizenship by recognizing the duty to uphold the law, obey rulings of the courts, assist law enforcement officers in performing their responsibilities, give testimony in court if called, resolve grievances through law, and respect the rights of others.

Throughout the state high school seniors will be taking part in mock trials. When possible "Senior Court Day" or "Law Day" will be held on May 1.

Under this plan, in its 18th year, high school seniors are invited to attend a mock trial as part of their instruction in government. A district court judge will preside with a court reporter, bailiff and clerk also present.

Lawyers will represent the plaintiffs and defendants with high school students serving on the jury. Witnesses are put on the stand, examined and cross-examined.

The program, said Ralph Bastian, president of the Bar Association, is designed to teach high school seniors something about the trial of a lawsuit, to show them what a court room looks like when in session and to eliminate the fear that persons frequently have of appearing as a witness or of serving on a jury.

Plan for Miss Black Teen-age Pageant

The Miss Black Teenage America Pageant Inc. announced from its National Headquarters in Danville, Va., that the Honorable Howard Lee, Mayor of Chapel Hill, N.C., will serve as one of the judges for the Pageant's National Finals set for the Baltimore Civic Center.

Former Railway Clerk in Line For Vice-Admiral

At one time, Samuel L. Gravely was a railway postal clerk from Richmond, Va.; now he's in line to become the U.S. Navy's first black admiral.

Gravely, who was the first Negro to command a U.S. warship, enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and served a three-year hitch. He was recalled to active duty in 1949, and from then on "progress came naturally to him," his wife said.

Two other blacks in the armed forces hold star rank: Air Force Brig. Gen. Daniel L. James and Army Brig. Gen. Frederick Davison.

September 11th.

Mayor Lee is one of several blacks serving as mayors throughout the country. In addition to Mayor Lee, Miss Niki Giovanni and Mr. W. Beverly Carter, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, and the student government president of Morgan State College will judge this year's pageant.

Cash prizes for contestants total $5,000 with other merchandise prizes plus the right to represent the black teenagers of America, awaits the winner of this first Miss Black Teenage Pageant. Contestants will be judged for Sportswear, talent, and evening wear. Representatives from various states throughout the nation are in the process of competing in local pageants for the right to represent their respective States.

The pageants are open to young ladies between the ages of 15 and 17. Local pageants are being sponsored by civic, church, and community organizations with several states franchises still open. For additional information, potential contestants and sponsors may write Ronald Charity, Director MBTAP, P.O. Box 1139 Danville, Va. 24541.

Final Session of Study by Citizens Marks Goahead; Appraisals by June 1

By Caroline Pokrzywinski
News Editor

"We realize we're not going to get everything we asked for, but the schools will be better than what we've got," said Earl Hutchinson, member of the Des Moines Charrette and the newly formed Community Advisory Board.

Now that the Des Moines Charrette is over it is up to community members to see that the Charrette proposals are implemented.

Advisory Board Formed The Community Advisory Board which was formed in the last two days of the Charrette will do just that.

The job of the board is to organize a committee, which will see that Charrette proposals are implemented. These committee members will be elected.

There are 20 members of The Community Advisory Board, five from Bird, Grant Nash and Kirkwood Schools.

Board members are: Bird School, Kay Shopshire, Lena Smith, Raymond Bates, Clifford Terrell and Josephine Jones.

Grant School: Earl Hutchinson, Mildred Robinson, Sue Witthamp, Josephine Locke and Gaynelle Narcisse.

Nash School: Charlotte Bueford, Jane Larson, Kathy McGregor, Brenda Carter and Robert Lewis.

Kirkwood School: Dick Lowery, Bill Schmidt, Rev. Vern Peverill, Roy Green and Lin Clutter.

Development Team The development team is another group working for implementation of Charrette proposals. The developmental team is a group that will take the Charrette ideas and develop concrete proposals for the curriculum and community.

Four community members are part of this team to see that the Charrette ideas are properly interpreted, these four were also Charrette participants.

The community members on the developmental team are Lena Smith, Mildred Robinson, Bob Miranda and Robert Lewis.

The developmental team will make a preliminary report to the community, May 10 and a final report May 13. Some of the Charrette proposals are:

1. To do away with the Iowa Basic Skills Test.
2. Implement the open-space concept into the schools.
3. Re-train teachers.
4. Establish police precinct in community to help improve police-community relations.
5. Do away with report cards.
6. More parent-teacher conferences.
7. A non-graded continuous progress classroom.
8. Let the community use school facilities after hours.
9. Offer programs for adults in the school.
10. Let the parents become involved in the school.
11. Hire parents as teacher aids and para professionals to work with the teacher.
12. The Des Moines School Board and Des Moines agencies such as the police department gave full support to these proposals during the Charrette.

Some of these proposals will be implemented into the schools this fall.

Blacks and Jews Work Together

NEW YORK Blacks and Jews have been working together on a significant number of projects that have resulted in a strengthening of black-Jewish relationships, a prominent rabbi told listeners of black radio stations this week.

Speaking over stations throughout the United States, Rabbi A. James Rudin, assistant director of the Interreligious Affairs Department of the American Jewish Committee, said that reports gathered from more than 400 groups working in civil rights, education, and human relations showed that "black-Jewish cooperation is especially on the increase in developing adequate housing and quality education."

Founded in 1906, the American Jewish Committee is this country's pioneer human relations organization.

Hyacinths are ideal for contemporary gardening, as their well-defined silhouettes permit their use in clumps, in rows, in planter boxes, window boxes, and as accent flowers with other Spring-blossoming bulbs and plants. Their wide variety of color—blue, red, pink, orange, deep purple, yellow, and white—permit many colorful planting patterns and designs. Hyacinths should be planted in the fall before the deep winter freeze. The bulbs should be set firmly in well-drained soil.

Mayor Evers Is First Black Miss. Gubernatorial Candidate

JACKSON, MISS.—Mayor Charles Evers of Fayette, Miss. became the first Black candidate in history for the office of Governor of the State of Mississippi.

He was named by acclamation at a nominating convention that was the first of its kind to be held by the bi-racial Mississippi Democrats since they were officially recognized by the Democratic National Committee as the legitimate party structure here. Over 2,000 Mississippians attended the convention at Jackson's College Park Auditorium, and over 100 candidates declared their intention to run for local offices throughout the state.

Blacks And Whites Together "Blacks and open minded whites are on the march in Mississippi," Mayor Evers told the convention delegates in his acceptance speech after a noisy and jubilant demonstration. "Together, we are going to field the biggest slate of candidates pledged to progress and justice in Mississippi's history.

"Make no mistake about it, we are running this campaign to win—not only for governor, but for 50 or 100 local offices across the state," he continued.

"This convention and the nomination of a Black man for governor are only the first step. We need the help of decent Americans everywhere. With that help, we shall move the mountain and Mississippi will never be the same."

Earlier in the afternoon, the delegates heard a keynote address by Theodore Sorenson, former Special Counsel to President John F. Kennedy. "For generations," Sorenson told them, "you have picked Mississippi's cotton. You have picked Mississippi's corn and fruit and vegetables. And now you are going to pick Mississippi's next governor."

Civil liberties attorney Joseph Rauh, who represented the Mississippi challenges at the 1964 and 1968 Democratic National Conventions, spoke of the legal barriers that still exist for the bi-racial Mississippi Democrats.

Worst Attorney General

"Charles Evers not only has to defeat white racism in Mississippi—he has to contend with the Attorney General of the United States, who in my view is the worst Attorney General on civil rights in the history of this country."

A national committee of prominent Americans is being formed this week to mobilize support across the country for manpower and contributions that will sustain the Evers campaign.

Senate Rejects Ribicoff Desegregation Proposal

WASHINGTON An amendment to a pending education bill offered by Senator Abraham Ribicoff (D. Conn.) was defeated by a vote of 51-35, April 21, after members of the Senate had read a statement by Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington Bureau, charging that the proposal would have permitted a delay until 1983 for integration of non-southern schools and would also sanction continuance of "segregation in schools located in racially isolated areas."

Under the guise of eliminating de facto school segregation, the Connecticut Senator offered an amendment to a pending $1.4 billion bill to aid school districts seeking to integrate their facilities.

Senator Ribicoff denounced opponents of his amendment as "hypocrites" who wish to impose desegregation upon the South while continuing de facto segregation elsewhere. According to The New York Times he accused Mr. Mitchell of taking his position in order not to offend white northern contributors to the NAACP. The charge brought a prompt demand from Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive director, for "a public apology to Mr. Mitchell."

Following is an excerpt from the Mitchell statement:

"Some supporters of the Ribicoff proposal seem to overlook the fact that it permits postponement of school desegregation until 1983. This means that in addition to the 17 years that have elapsed since the 1954 decision, there would be another 12 years in which footdraggers and obstructionists could think of new schemes to prevent the inclusion of all children into a desegregated school program.

"It should also be noted that there is no clear showing that the Ribicoff proposal would get at the most troublesome of all problems, namely, the segregation in schools located in racially isolated areas.

"Unfortunately, these are the places where the poor children are concentrated. On its face at least, the Ribicoff Amendment seems to open the way for a plan of desegregation that will tolerate more than a decade to bring the white middle-class school children and the black-middle class school children together and, in addition, will consign the poor black children to segregated schools indefinitely."

Receives 30 year service pin

Leroy Franklin (right) Nursing Assistant at the Des Moines Veterans Administration Hospital, is shown receiving a 30-year service pin from U.E. Wells, Assistant Hospital Director.

William L. Caraway, X-ray Technician (left) and Frank E. Gustafson, Nursing Assistant, also received 30-year service pins at the recent presentation.

SEEING THE LIGHT OF DAY

Did you ever stop to think a camera isn't necessarily something you buy, but were born with?

When you first saw the light of day, nature's camera began to focus and bring you a world of people, places, things to study, and even some things to avoid.

20th Century men and women know how to avoid harmful ultra-violet and infrared rays penetrating the earth's atmosphere and look good doing it. Professionally made sunglasses lenses, ground and polished to prescription quality, not only protect nature's camera — the eyes — but become a fashion accessory when framed in good taste.

"Many sunglasses are only dark glasses that shut out the light," the American Optical Corporation of Southbridge, Mass., states in literature on the care of the eyes.

"Sunvogues, the serious sunglasses, filter out harmful rays while permitting you to see the world as it is and to be seen, as well. The lenses are ground optically correct to prevent distortion."

Optical counsel for the fashion-conscious male and female also advises against the wearing of frames that act as blinders — designed with wide sidepieces which hamper peripheral vision.

Compiled by the Sunvogues people at American Optical, the following steps will help you be kind to your natural camera and to see as well as you look:

- Choose the finest sunglasses you can buy and allocate the bargain table to other purposes than protecting your eyes.
- Select individually-styled frames that fit well and look well. (A pleasing appearance is important as well as good vision.)
- When not wearing your sunglasses, put them away in a well-made case or the lens may become scratched.

Designed for the extraordinary woman who likes to flatter and be flattered, Fashion Green and Fashion Tan lenses by Sunvogues do not hide your eyes from view. Fashion Lens Shades reveal eye makeup. It's visible through the lens.

Quality lenses also come in cool-green (Calobar) and neutral gray (True-Color) for people who know that fashion and quality are one and the same.

No matter the need, there is a Sunvogues style for the man and woman of the day, who want to enjoy the light of day, while protected.

The Americare Scholarship - Internship Program is designed to discover able and financially needy young people in the greater Des Moines community and aid them in a college education in liberal arts or business administration at Drake University. In addition to academic enrollment at Drake, each recipient is awarded a work - internship at American Republic's National Headquarters office in Des Moines.

The work - internship provides an opportunity to apply and test the knowledge and insights gained through the university experience. Recipients work part-time

Sterling Ball Guests

Modern Day Horatio Alger Cited In Congressional Record

DETROIT, MICH. Motown president Berry Gordy was cited this week in both houses of Congress for his unique and successful program to provide scholastic aid to inner-city high school graduates who are financially unable, but who wish to continue their education.

Gordy's program is centered around a grand fund raising affair called the Sterling Ball, which takes place tonight (Saturday) at the Gordy mansion.

On the eve of the second annual Sterling Ball, Senator Philip A. Hart (Democrat of Michigan), in a speech to the Senate, referred to Gordy as "a modern day Horatio Alger who started Motown 10 years ago with $700 and a dream" and that he went on to head "the biggest independent record firm in the world and the only black company in the entertainment industry."

"Now with the annual Sterling Ball," Hart said. "Gordy is making it possible for many young men and women to see their own dreams come true. Berry Gordy and his family have earned our thanks and I welcome making this expression a part of the (Congressional) Record."

In a similar speech before the House of Representatives on the same day, congressman John Conyers, Jr. (Democrat of Michigan) read into the Congressional Record a speech praising Gordy as a Black man "who has paid his dues, but like all truly outstanding individuals, Berry Gordy has never really stopped paying his dues."

"He has never forgotten," Conyers continued, "that the racial discrimination and economic roadblocks which he confronted still exist for most who would follow in his steps."

Nothing particularly festive, nothing especially expensive, nothing extremely unusual or exotic... instead, simply hearty, family-pleasing, suppertime soups served in large old-fashioned tureens.

Such soup suppers make ideal fare for cold winter-y evenings. Add a chunk of cheese plus a plateful of crackers. Then offer pound cake with sliced peaches or berries (either the fresh frozen or canned varieties) for dessert. Altogether, the menu's a sure, people-pleasing one that means quick fixin' for you.

The tureen can be filled with endless hearty soup recipes. For a starter, try this Creamy Chicken Pot. Then, switch to one of your favorite varieties. You'll find by starting with a condensed canned soup, the recipe is simple to make, even if you're a beginner "chef."

Whatever soup special the tureen holds, you'll soon discover that for cold winter-y evenings, it's perfect to think soup 'n' crackers for the menu fare.

|---|---|
| 1 1/2 cups diced cooked ham | 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed chicken noodle soup |
| 1/2 cup sliced onion | 1 1/2 soup cans water |
| 3/4 teaspoon sage | 1 package (10 ounces) frozen mixed vegetables, cooked and drained |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1 cup diced cooked potatoes |
| 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup | |

In saucepan, brown ham and cook onion and sage in butter until onion is tender. Blend in cream of chicken soup. Add remaining ingredients. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

One-Third of Panthers May Be G-Men & Editors

As many as one third of all Black Panthers may be FBI agents.

So contends a leading black editor, Dr. Metz T.P. Lochard, in a revealing article in the May issue of Sepia magazine. Of the total of 1,500 Panthers nationally, "perhaps some 600 are infiltrators. This accounts for the fratricidal acts that keep so many members in the clutches of the law," states Dr. Lochard.

In his article, "Why The Black Panthers Can't Win," in Sepia, Dr. Lochard cites several trials of Panthers as "startling instances of the extent to which undercover agents have infiltrated the party." An associate editor of the Chicago Daily Defender and its chief editorial writer, Lochard quotes J. Edgar Hoover as stating that the FBI has penetrated to the "top echelon of extreme groups," and his description of the Panthers as "the greatest threat of all black extremist groups."

Lochard in his Sepia article supports the goals of the Panthers as "worthy and laudable" but expresses doubts on their tactics of trying to achieve "social reform out of the muzzle of a gun or by shooting it out with police." He ridicules the announced Panther intention of sending "an undetermined number of troops" to assist the North Vietnamese war against the U.S. and their support of the Arabs against Israel.

"The Panthers' anti-Semitic assertions defies logic and explanation. They need all the friends they can make to insulate them against the heat of their unflagging oppressors," states Lochard.

The Panthers "have lost much of their psychological appeal and emotional magnetism," states Dr. Lochard. "The membership is dwindling." But despite its setbacks Dr. Lochard feels that the Panthers' importance should not be underestimated. "It has effected a transformation of race spirit," he concludes.

When children are grown, a small bedroom can assume a new role by removal of one wall. If adjacent to the master suite, it becomes an adult lounge; next to living room, a conversation cove or library-den.

more power to you

What electric appliance in your kitchen is used more than your frypan? Probably none. It's the portable fifth burner for today's busy homemaker.

Here are a couple of ideas to prolong the life of this versatile tool:

1. Clean it thoroughly every time you use it, including the underside, to prevent build-up of burned-on-fat.
2. Remember to disconnect and clean the heat control unit with a damp cloth.
3. Never immerse a hot frypan in water. Cool it to room temperature first. Why? To prevent warping. Warped pans don't cook foods evenly.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. James Haynes, Mrs. Evelyn Snipes and Mrs. Inez Ware motored to Des Moines Sunday to visit their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Trotter.

The Tabernacle Baptist Church chartered a bus to take the members and Youth Choir to Omaha, Nebr. Wednesday evening to Bethel Baptist Church, to help Rev. Charles Thomas's installation services.

April 25, was Choir Day at Bethel A.M.E. Church and Tabernacle Baptist Church.

For Bethel, it was the seventh annual celebration.

Mrs. Betty Thomas, is director of the hostess choir. Six choral groups were featured this year from four churches. Mrs. Theresa Rollins was emcee.

First annual Youth Choir Day was celebrated at the Tabernacle Baptist Church. Participating were the Voices of Zion, and the Inspirational Singers, both of Omaha, Nebr. Special guest soloist and organist was Rev. Willis.

Directress of the host youth choir is Mrs. Lillian Haynes, president, Jessie Cotton.

Bethel A.M.E. Church has a new minister Rev. Solomon Holly, Jr., who came to Council Bluffs from a six month pastorate at the Wayman A.M.E. Church, Rock Island, Ill. He received his theological training at Lane College in Jackson,

The IOWA BYSTANDER has made arrangements with the Des Moines office of the Social Security Administration to answer questions for our readers about social security and Medicare. Send your questions to Field Representative, Room 293 Federal Building, 210 Walnut Street, Des Moines, Iowa 50309.

QUESTION: How much of the total income for people over age 65 comes from social security?

ANSWER: The total income to this group is approximately 59 billion dollars a year. 20 billion dollars or about 34 percent is from social security. Surprisingly, about 29 percent is from work by those who do not completely retire.

QUESTION: When I receive a letter stating that my claim for hospital insurance benefits is denied because it has been determined that it was not medically necessary for me to receive in-patient hospital

Church Women Elect President

Mrs. Claire Collins Harvey, granddaughter of a slave and the wife of Dr. Martin Harvey, an A.M.E. minister and Dean of Student Affairs at Southern University, was elected president of the National Council of Church Women United at their ecumenical meeting in Wichita, Kansas.

2,043 women from five countries met from April 22-25 in the Century II Building.

The group explored the implications of the claim that God in Christ made a radical breakthrough in history and to discover what this faith compels us to do in the midst of new technology and social problems.

There were many outstanding speakers including a theological team and a think tank composed of outstanding scientists.

The church women celebrated their 30th anniversary Sunday.

48 negro women went on a chartered bus from Iowa.

Some of the women who attended from Iowa are: Mrs. Sam Morrow and Mrs. V. Ragland, Marshalltown; Mrs. V. Fields, Waterloo; Mrs. R. Comp. Davenport; Mrs. Ed. Frazier; Mrs. Clyde Morris, and Mrs. Ed Bayles.

This was the third national assembly Mrs. Morris attended.

services, what recourse do I have if I do not agree with the determination?

ANSWER: If you need an explanation of the decision made on your claim, you may contact the hospital or your hospital or your physician. If you disagree with the determination you should contact your social security office for assistance in requesting a formal reconsideration of your claim.

QUESTION: I am receiving a 100 percent VA disability pension and a friend told me that I could receive both VA benefits and social security disability benefits. Is he correct?

ANSWER: As you may also meet the requirements for payment of social security benefits, you should visit your closest social security office or contact station as soon as possible. However, the fact that you are a 100 percent disabled veteran is not a controlling factor for social security disability benefits. Other medical evidence and information must also be evaluated.

QUESTION: My husband and I have both worked the past 40 years. We have both paid in about the same amount of social security tax. We each get $160 a month from social security. My neighbor never worked outside of her home and she gets $80 a month as a wife on her husband's account. Why can't I get $80 as a wife as well as my own benefit?

ANSWER: You can't get the wife's benefit in addition to your benefit because you were not completely dependent on your husband's earnings. You have had several advantages during your working years that your neighbor didn't have. You had the protection of disability benefits, and monthly benefits for your survivors. Also a lump-sum payment will be paid when you die. You retired 3 years before your MAN OF LA MANCHA OPENS THURSDAY NIGHT at The Drama Workshop located at Bell and Casady Drive (take Fleur Drive to first set of lights after Holiday Inn South, then turn left; second block is Bell and Casady). Man of La Mancha runs April 29, 30; May 1, 2, 6, 7, 8 & 9, 1971. Dale Wasserman authored the play. Freda Nahas directs. Paul Dieke does the musical direction. Jan Stewart choreographs, and Keith Cranston designed the set.

AND WHOM DO YOU KNOW among those heading the play, and whom do you know among the cast? Irv White heads the cast and is Captain of the Inquisition. You probably know others in the cast. And I personally know that any of the cast could have been you, you and you and you over there! I phoned many people extending Freda Nahas' invitation to try out. Model and actress Miriam Boggs, replayed the same invitation to persons whom she knew! Big, handsome and talented LeRoy Mitchell, Artist, was approached and sincerely regretted that his educational pursuits and responsibilities did not permit him to participate in this, another educational and cultural undertaking. But he was asked. And so were many of you.

NOW FOR THE SHEER PLEASURE of viewing a famous show, why not plan to attend. Freda is a fabulous director and has directed nothing but rave-winning productions yearly! One friend has viewed Man of La Mancha in Chicago and other large cities and once here to the count of almost a dozen times! It is that intriguing! Hope to see you there, beautiful friends! In whatever attire you're happiest! An evening at Drama Workshop is like being out of town for a night of nights! See you?

DUNNER were the happy donors of a very special gift to the Drama Workshop for Man of La Mancha! It was a shiek's garb, his gift to the Dunners. He was Tawsi Sabounji of Iraq and at the time a political science student in one of Professor Dunner's classes. The Dunners are of the Jewish faith and have friends among all peoples. Their friend, Sabounji, was an anti totalitarian. He wanted to live in peace with western democracies, including Israel, and so was killed in an uprising. Sabounji was still under thirty years of age.

ARTIST JENNIE BIER, a newcomer from New York City to Des Moines, and mother of Ada Dunner, designed and created the lovely red circular burlap skirt worn by the female lead, Pamela Porter, as Aldonza. (Costume designers are much sought after in little theater work, you know!)

ARTIST JACK MASTROFSKI, an instructor to some of your children, since he is in the Public School System, designed and made a horse's head and a mule's head which are worn by two dancers. These heads are magnificent and so believable! The gear and helmet worn by Tim Tracy as "Duke" (KNIGHT of the MIRRORS) appear very, very real. These costumes and all of the others cause one to become very engrossed in the play and the period it represents!

FOR EVER SO LONG AND FROM TIME TO TIME this column has mentioned the pleasure Drama Workshop activities can bring into your life as a hobby, as an avocation, Electricians, set designing requiring carpenters, painters, costumes utilizing talented dressmakers, whatever you do is what needs to be done. Beauticians would be the answer to those in makeup. Surely some of this calls for you or you or perhaps you!

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. When one has just taken mouthful of food and a question is directed at one, what is the proper thing to do?

A. Under no circumstances attempt to talk with food in the mouth. Wait until you have swallowed the food before responding.

Q. How do the wordings differ in the formal wedding invitations and in the invitation to the reception?

A. Wedding invitations "request the honour of your presence," while reception invitations "request the pleasure of your company."

Q. My husband and I have received an invitation to a wedding and reception which I shall be unable to attend. Would it be all right for my husband to attend alone, or must we both decline the invitation?

A. There is no reason at all why your husband should not attend alone.

Q. A college man whom I formerly dated regularly has asked me to return the fraternity pin he gave me. The sad thing is that I have lost the pin. What is the proper thing for me to do?

A. Confess the loss to the young man and reimburse him for the cost.

Q. Should the used silverware be left on one's plate when it is removed from the dinner table?

A. Yes.

Q. Must you send a wedding gift, even if you are unable to attend the ceremony and reception?

A. If you are a close friend of either family, you'll certainly want to respond with a gift whether or not you are able to attend.

Q. Am I correct in assuming that the position of salaried "companion" in a family is one of social equality with one's employers?

A. Correct.

Q. My fiancé's brother is to be his best man at our wedding. Does this obligate me to ask his wife to serve as one of my bridesmaids?

A. Not at all. If you don't however, be sure to include her in all social functions revolving around the wedding.

Your professional hairdresser knows the answer...

How do you keep a 'Fro free from problems?

An "afro" or "natural" looks best when every strand of hair stands independently full and attractively healthy. But, kinky or frizzy hair mats and tangles easily and can break off in everyday combing. Because professional hairdressers realize this most of them use Clairol condition™—The Beauty Prescription for Troubled Hair®... as well as Clairol Hair-So-New®, the no rinse creme rinse for general softening.

They know condition™ leaves dry hair shiny and plump. What's more, it silken and helps mend split ends. Hair is left stronger to withstand even chemical straighteners and the picking method of combing an "afro." A condition™ treatment only takes a few minutes. And you can feel the difference in your hair right away.

For easy combing most professional hairdressers soften the hair first with a product like Hair-So-New. It temporarily relaxes hair so tangles and snarls quickly go away and scalp feels soothed. Combing is easy... and fewer ends are broken.

When you wear your hair in a "natural," you'll want it to look beautiful. The more beautiful it is, the better it expresses your black identity. That can be a proud distinction. But, whether you wear your hair "naturally" or straightened, see your professional hairdresser about giving you a treatment with Clairol condition™ and Clairol Hair-So-New. You'll be so glad you did.

More Trained Workers,
Less Prepared Protesters

An estimated 1 to 3 hundred thousand people in Washington, D.C. have been protesting our involvement in southeast Asia while about one hundred thousand did likewise in San Francisco last weekend. Initially the crowds have been peaceful.

These people have a right to protest as long as their conduct is orderly. But as they stay in Washington, the radicals raise their heads and the protesters become restless.

This group in Washington was led by veterans mostly, many of whom have served in Vietnam. Some bore maimed bodies and scars which will be with them for a lifetime.

The U.S. Supreme Court had issued an injunction forbidding the use of certain public grounds around and near the capitol. The veterans took a vote as to whether they would obey the injunction. They voted to ignore it.

The courts and officials eased away from a confrontation with the protesters feeling that more serious consequences would follow this course.

More and more we are finding ourselves moving toward lawlessness often by those who are demanding rights. Rebellious groups flout the law with impunity and get away with it. They assume that laws are something to wear when convenient.

It would be interesting to know the percentage of people who left their jobs to make this protest; of those who are idle and spending their time protesting rather than preparing for a job.

We yearn for the day when America gets its forces out of Vietnam after which we hope this same type of protests will not find something to help them keep up their disruptive conduct.

Another Blow to School Segregation

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that the use of busing in public school to attain integration did not violate the U.S. Constitution. It also gave lower courts more definite authority to determine whether school using deception and other tactics to foil integration in their program, met the test of school integration in the light of the 1954 school decision.

The court made no finding as to two way busing of white and Negro students which are designed to put some white children in all Negro schools and Negroes in all white schools. What the court said that not a few but all underprivileged should attend other schools.

Implementing the school desegregation decision of 1954 has been a difficult undertaking. First because many people did not wish to comply having been steeped in segregation from generations of such practices, and second, public officials sympathized with the dissidents or did not have the courage to enforce the law.

The NAACP which handled the case before the U.S. Supreme Court and has vowed to see that the decision is implemented in both North and South.

Des Moines Area College
A Pleasant Surprise

It often happens that fine things are right under our feet as we look far away to find them.

This is well illustrated as one makes a tour of the Des Moines Area College campus in Ankeny and finds out what opportunities are offered in the field of the trades and industry, business and health occupations, continuing education and other fields.

Modern equipment for instructions with prepared instructors for teaching the courses are far beyond anything an unsuspecting person would visualize.

A unique feature of the college is the program to interest and help the drop-outs, the underprivileged, those who after moving from one field after another are able to level off and prepare themselves for good jobs, for higher learning, for stepping up their status in areas where they are already working.

The tuition is cheaper with facilities provided for work and study.

We recommend that Des Moines area citizens look the campus over, take a friend who may be a visitor. The surprise of a lifetime is waiting.

Health for All

TB AND STEROIDS:
BAD MEDICINE

At first glance, the idea of any relationship between TB and arthritis seems about as unlikely as a culinary merger between spaghetti and ice cream. Yet there is an important link between the two hazards (TB and arthritis, that is). It's a matter of treatment methods.

Arthritis is commonly treated with steroid drugs; and these drugs and reactivate tuberculosis in a former patient. Steroid drugs can also cause breakdown into active TB on the part of one who is infected with the tuberculosis germ but so far has not actually been ill.

The implications of all this are sufficiently plain - and ominous. The activation of TB by steroid drugs can be particularly unfortunate in one who lives or works closely with numbers of people - for example, a school teacher or an institutional worker. Local epidemics of TB have been traced to school employees under treatment for arthritis who have a past, half-forgotten history of tuberculosis.

The American Thoracic Society, medical section of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, recommends that no patient be given steroids without a prior checkup to find out whether he has a history of TB or is currently infected. This information can be gained through a tuberculin test or a chest X-ray; the ATS recommends both in such cases. It also recommends that anyone who has been receiving steroid treatment, and has positive reaction to either test, be given the highly effective anti-TB drug isoniazid while steroid treatment is in progress and for six weeks thereafter.

As a matter of simple safety, all school employees should receive a TB checkup periodically, plus appropriate treatment where disease or infection is found. For further information ask your local Christmas Seal association.

ON THE SPORTS SCENE

Drake Relays

We sat through the running of the sixty second Drake Relays, and know that there was at least one record set. It was one of the few times when we had two good days of good weather. This meet differed from the one last year in that last year just about everyone in the press box knew where Lufkin, Texas was and just how to get there from just about anywhere. It seems that there were a lot of unwound watches in town that had been won by the Mills Brothers of Texas A&M. Well, these same Mills brothers were just a couple of fellows in red sweaters. One pulled a leg muscle, and the other one couldn't bring the Aggies one by himself. Oh, there was a twenty second two twenty run by one, but he was so far behind the other runners when he got the baton that he never did catch anybody.

Powers

Then, the powers like Texas Southern, Grambling, Prairie View, and Southern didn't stage the complete blackouts that these schools usually do. Schools like Northeastern Michigan, Southwestern Louisiana, Hastings, and the like had a few dark runners, too. They ran up alongside these perennial winners and asked for their credentials, and if the fellows didn't have them in the form of at least two guys who could run like hell, the opponents ran off and left them. Of course, Texas Southern defended their three crowns, the distance medley, sprint medley, and the mile relay. But they needed an assist from the relay officials to retain their distance crown. Prairie View had them beaten from hereto yonder, but the second runner ran out of his lane. There were some strange schools in places like second and third.

Missouri's Mel Grey became one of the select few to win three crowns in the same event when he ran off with the hundred, and Trimble of Southern raced away from the crowd with the high hurdle crown. Wisconsin's man defended his broad jump, or long jump crown.

High School Surprise

The big surprise to me was the absence of black fellows in the high school section. The best black runner with a chance to win anything was Cedar Rapids' Emmitt Doolin, who was injured in the preliminaries Friday. Aside from him, there just weren't any more worth writing about. They say he might have brought his school one in the short relays if he could have run, but that if got in the way.

Girls

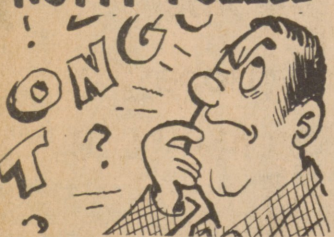

There have been a few girls coming up in the last two years in the girl's mile relay. Now, this race has always been the exclusive property of the Iowa Track club or the Texas Track club. Last year some girls from Chicago and Milwaukee entered, and ran as if they hadn't known how far a quarter of a mile was. Well, this time a bunch of kids from Kirkwood High school in Missouri came here with the intention of not looking bad. They didn't. They were in the race most of the way, even if they were behind. But, come the last leg, the Kirkwood anchor girl, Jill Thomas simply ran faster the further she ran, caught the Iowa girl, who was shaking a pretty good pair of boots herself, and pulled away at the tape to win by ten. The Kirkwood girls were Loetta Simms, Deborah Taylor, Janice Bell, and Miss Thomas.

Half-Milers

Illinois had two fine half milers in the two mile relay, and Indiana came up with three brethren. Mike Goodrich, Mike Miller, Gary Powell, and Larry Highbaugh to win the 400 relay, and they had to out hustle Michigan State's Herb Washington. Prairie View ran away with the mile relay by getting a :45.7 quarter from Alvin Dotson, and a :46.5 from Aaron Thompson. How are you going to beat that kind of running?

VETERANS

There are now more than one million veterans job-training or enrolled in schools and colleges under the current G. I. Bill.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson revealed that 1,064,000 men and women are in training under the G. I. Bill. He pointed out this is an increase of 36 per cent over last year, 70 per cent over the level two years ago, and 240 per cent over 1966. By the end of 1972, Johnson said the Veterans Administration expects the G. I. Bill monthly utilization to reach 1.8 million. Of the 1,064,000, more than 60 per cent are enrolled in college level studies.

The current G. I. Bill is not quite five years old. Johnson said, and pointed out that more than 2.4 million veterans have already trained under it, exceeding the 2.3 million high reached during the 14 years of the Korean Conflict G. I. Bill.

The current G. I. Bill has provided training for nearly 20,000 veterans enrolled in police and fire department on-job training programs throughout the country.

Separations from military service have been running about 90,000 a month and, since last fall, VA has been receiving about 75,000 applications monthly for G. I. Bill training. Johnson urged servicemen interested in schooling or job-training to contact their nearest VA office, or their local veterans service organization representative.
