Many people have written and called us indicating an interest to work on the Senator's behalf, so we have decided to have this early meeting with some specific goals in mind. We will organize a County Campaign and Finance Committee, interest groups, and discuss ways to determine the sentiment of voters in Polk County for the Senator's candidacy."

SPOTTSWOOD REPEATS DEMAND

MINNEAPOLIS - In a ringing keynote address to the opening session of the 62nd Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Bishop Stephen G. Spottswood, Chairman of the Association's Board of Directors, called for "clear, positive leadership for civil rights from 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D.C. Twenty three million black Americans and an unestimated number of white Americans look to the President to provide this leadership. Civil Rights is the fulcrum of democracy, without which the nation will perish." The five - day convention closed here Friday, July 9.

Looks Better

Bishop Spottswood conceded that, in the year since he had roundly denounced the Nixon Administration as "anti - Negro" in his address to the 1970 NAACP Convention, the President had "announced policies in certain phases of the civil rights issue which have earned cautious and limited approval among black Americans. "It is still too early," he continued, "to determine what will be the result, as far as Negro Americans are concerned, of the interpretation of and action upon the President's housing statement by the Department of Housing and Urban Development."

Challenges Separation

On the theme of the convention - "All Together Now" - Bishop Spottswood warned more than 2,000 delegates that togetherness can not be achieved "by trying to get separated from everybody else." Without a "genuine community of principles and convictions" there can be no real unity. It "cannot develop or grow and flourish solely on a basis of blood ties, of family ties, or of a common heritage."

He cited the divisive insistence upon a particular racial nomenclature. "Some want to blackball you if you use the word, 'Negro' or the word, 'colored,' others reject you when you use the word, 'black,' as a noun or, 'black,' as an adjective. We shall not achieve togetherness if some of us won't have anything to do with others just because they chose to use 'Negro' instead of 'black' or 'Afro - American' instead of 'colored.'"

BRIMMER FORSEES IMPROVED EMPLOYMENT

Federal Judge Rejects Angela Davis Plea

SAN FRANCISCO - A federal judge sent the Angela Davis murder - kidnap - conspiracy case back to state court today, saying she and codefendant Russell Magee "are in concert" to delay their trial.

"This court cannot close its eyes to the obvious," said United States District Court Judge Samuel Conti as he rejected Miss Davis' motion to transfer their case to federal court.

He also rejected Miss Davis' contention that he is prejudiced and should disqualify himself. Conti noted that since January Magee has filed 17 petitions to federal courts and Miss Davis one.

Proceedings in Marin County Superior Court at nearby San Rafael were halted last Tuesday after Miss Davis moved to transfer the case to federal court on the ground her civil rights were being violated. Pretrial hearings now are expected to resume this week in San Rafael.

Magee, who has been shackled for appearances before Marin court judges who frequently have ejected him after violent outbursts, was free of restraints in Conti's court.

Miss Davis' attorneys had asked the judge for a hearing on their claim that Gov. Ronald Reagan has led "a state conspiracy" against Miss Davis in getting her fired as a university philosophy instructor and confining her without bail.

Miss Davis and Magee face charges in connection with the Marin County courthouse shootings last August in which four persons died. The state contends that Magee, a San Quentin life term, shot and killed one of the victims, Judge Harold Haley, and that Miss Davis, altho not accused of being at the slayings, purchased the guns and helped plot the crime.

Sammy Davis Jr. Watching Document Signing

Washington - President Nixon announced the appointment of Sammy Davis, Jr. as a member of the National Advisory Council on Economic Opportunity for the remainder of a term expiring September 22, 1972. The Council serves as a general advisory board to the Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, reviewing the effectiveness and operation of programs in the agency and advising on matters of administrative policy. The 21 - member Council also coordinates the operation of OEO programs with other Federal programs developed to assist low - income individuals and families. Davis, a professional entertainer who appeared in his first film at age four, gives over 50 benefit performances a year, and has received numerous awards for his efforts on behalf of others, including: The Spingarn Medal of the NAACP and the Allen Bernstein Award for Cancer Research.

member of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, said that for the immediate future job opportunities for Negroes will remain restricted in an address before the five-day 62nd Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which closed here Friday, July 9. However, he predicted improvement later in the 1970s.

He expressed grave concern about the "apparently declining emphasis on job opportunities — in contrast to a rising demand for expanded opportunities for blacks to own and manage their own businesses. In expressing this concern, I must hasten to add that ... I believe that those black men and women who are convinced that they can succeed in business should have a chance to try their luck. At the same time, I must also emphasize that the vast majority of black people — as is true of the vast majority of the American people as a whole — must work for a living. This means that their true interest lies in the opening up of genuine employment opportunities and in accelerating occupational upgrading."

Governor Brimmer found the long range outlook more encouraging provided young Negroes acquire the skills that will enable them to handle the new jobs and occupations required by new industrial developments.

SPINGARN MEDALIST

Responding eloquently to the presentation of the 56th Spingarn Medal, the Reverend Leon H. Sullivan, the Philadelphia minister and founder of Opportunities Industrialization Centers, outlined four vital steps to freedom that the nation's Negro population must take.

The NAACP cited Mr. Sullivan for "the inspiration and resourcefulness with which he has transmuted the social gospel into economic progress for his people"; for his role "in preparing his constituents to take advantage of opportunities won by mobilizing their economic power for group advancement; for his splendid achievement in adapting his church to the social, cultural and economic — as well as spiritual — needs of its community; and for the singular steadfastness with which he has melded religious leadership and social vision for the advancement of black folk."

HOUSING PROGRAM DEFENDS NIXON

Under sharp attack by NAACP critics, the housing program of the Nixon Administration was stoutly defended by Samuel J. Simmons, Assistant Secretary for Equal Opportunity, Department of Housing and Urban Development, in a address delivered to delegates attending the 62nd Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which closed here, Friday, July 9.

Mr. Simmons said that the President's statement on June 11 on suburban housing was misinterpreted. "HUD has an effective program for eradicating housing discrimination in the suburbs. All we have to do is to implement it. There is a legal distinction between economic and racial discrimination — the law is not as clear on economic discrimination as on racial bias," he said.

PRIME NEEDS OF EDUCATION

Declaring that "knowledge is power," Dr. Wilson C. Riles said on Wednesday that the nation's public schools are in "serious trouble" because they are underfinanced.

Dr. Riles, a black man, gained national attention in 1968 when he defeated conservative Max Rafferty in one of the most stunning upsets for the job as head of California's public school system and director of education.

Dr. Riles also said that he has proposed that California "knock off" the 12th grade in its schools and begin pre-

Alpha Phi Alpha Holds Convention in August

CHICAGO, Ill. — The 65th anniversary convention of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, Inc., will be held July 30 - August 5, 1971, at the Sheraton-Schroeder Hotel in Milwaukee, Wis.

Juvenile Court Judge Ernest N. Morial of New Orleans, will preside over the Convention, which will be developed around the theme: "ELIMINATION OF THE GHETTO - CONTINUING GOAL FOR THE SEVENTIES."

Serving as host chapters for the Convention are Epsilon Tau and Delta Chi Lambda. Kermit J. Hall, Yeadon, Pa., is director of General Conventions.

"More than 3,500 delegates and visitors are expected to participate in the discussion sessions, which will include a job recruiting workshop and seminars with officers representing more than seventy corporations," said

Judge Morial, while pointing out that job interviews and recruitment will be done daily and will be open to the public.

The head of more than 35,000 college men who make up the fraternity's membership said that the local convention committee, headed by Hoyt H. Harper, local convention chairman, "has planned activities that should prove interesting to all ages, males and females, and they include 'Alpha Night at the Playboy Club', a Golf Tournament, a Bowling Tournament and a Teen Basketball Clinic for youngsters 12-16, which will begin July 31 and continue through August 4. The clinic will be conducted by members of the Milwaukee Bucks, Marquette University and the University of Wisconsin basketball players. Participants must furnish their own shoes."

schooling at the age of four. This proposal, he said, is based on his discussions with high school students who feel that education is irrelevant.

YOUTH UNITS

Approximately 500 young people attended the Youth and College Division sessions of the 62nd Annual Convention of the NAACP, here last week. These young people, coming from all sections of the country, wrestled with problems they regarded as relevant to their needs.

They participated in a series of youth-oriented workshops on drug abuse, tensions caused on college campuses, possible effects of the 26th Amendment granting the vote to citizens at age 18 in local and state, as well as national elections, and finally, on ways and means of making their concerns, needs and ideas felt through the structure of the greater body of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The National Youth Work Committee created a new device to get their message across to the larger body. They developed and submitted in the Convention's advance drafting resolution committee a series of seven resolutions dealing with problems plaguing young people throughout the country. The purpose of this effort was to bridge the communication gap between the youth and college division and with the larger body of the organization.

VETERAN REPORTED HAILED

Orrin Evans of the Philadelphia Bulletin, one of the pioneering journalists in America, was honored during the 62nd Annual Convention of the NAACP here last week by both his colleagues and the more than 2,200 registered delegates.

DO YOUR HOMEWORK

Mal Goode, the dean of black television correspondents, challenged the younger generation of his race to "do your homework, not only in the history of the NAACP, but on the history of the civil rights movement in this nation."

The ABC-TV United Nations correspondent drew upon his many years of experience as a journalist and as a black man in the U.S. He decried the "racial problems which afflict this nation."

Today, Goode told his audience, "you are a part of the one organization which has done more to move this country toward equality for black people than all the other organizations put together."

Nineteen employees of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Des Moines were recognized in a special awards ceremony held at the Federal Building Friday afternoon.

Claude Gillam, Regional Office Director, presented a "Director's Commendation" to T.M. Mehls for eleven years of significant service to the veterans of the state while serving as Loan Guaranty Officer in Iowa. Mehls is retiring after more than 30 years employment by the Federal Government.

Gillam also presented a "Director's Commendation" to Glenn Dugger, who recently retired as Adjutant of the Iowa Department of the American Legion, for his assistance to the Veterans Administration during the 25 years he was associated with the American Legion.

The following employees were recognized at the ceremonies:

Shriners To Invade Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. — The annual convention of the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine (Prince Hall Masonic affiliation) will be held August 15-20 in Houston, Tex., announced Charles A. Dargan of New York City, Imperial Potentate.

More than 15,000 Prince Hall Shriners, as the AEAONMS rather be referred than Black Shriners, are expected to invade the Oil City.

The general theme of the 77th annual gathering is "A Better Way of Life for All Mankind."

Headquarters for the convention will be the famous Shamrock Hilton, and this will be a historic convention, since it will be the first one in the South, since the Order was founded in 1893.

According to Dargan the Houston Convention should be the largest attended in the organization's history.

Among the programmed activities will be a salute to a famous Houston personality, along with a talent and scholarship pageant, and a music festival.

The Shriners' two street parades and drill competition have through the years proved top attractions, as have the Golf Tournament, Bowling Tournament and Card Festival.

Meeting in Houston during the same period will be the Imperial Court, Daughters of Isis, which will be presided over by Mrs. Gladys N. Dixon of Baltimore, Md., Imperial Commandress.

Heart Association Announces Record Research Program

An Iowa medical scientist has been named by the American Heart Association to receive a research grant during the 1971 - 72 fiscal year, Dr. William R. Wilson, President of the Iowa Heart Association, announced today.

With the newly announced Grants-in-Aid, more than $15 million — a record amount — will be expended on research by the American Heart Association and its affiliates in the next fiscal year, Dr. Wilson said. The Association's research program is supported entirely by public contributions to the Heart Fund campaign each February.

Protects Against Imposters

Postmaster John P. McNeerney of Des Moines, Iowa reminded postal customers today that a new program is available which can provide blanket protection against unsolicited mailings of sexually oriented advertisements.

Postmaster McNeerney said participating citizens need

Racism, Black and White, Scored by Judge Hastie

MINNEAPOLIS. — Black racism was scored as "hurtful and hateful in American life" as white racism by William H. Hastie, chief judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, in a only give their names and addresses to the Postal Service to guard against being sent sexually oriented ads, even if they have never received such materials.

The law allows an individual to ask the Postal Service, for himself and on behalf of his minor children under 19, that he not receive such material from any source.

"Once a person's name has been on the list more than 30 days, the prohibition becomes effective, and a mailer must not send sexually oriented ads to him," Postmaster McNeerney said.

"If a mailer sends sex ads to a person named on the Postal Service list for 30 days or more, the mailer is subject to civil action or criminal prosecution," he said.

Approximately 215,000 persons already have taken advantage of the anti-smut program since it went into effect February 1 as part of the Postal Reorganization Act.

The new program, Postmaster McNeerney said, complements the 1968 Pandering Advertisements Law, which allows citizens a means to shut off mailings from a particular smut peddler.

Win School Segregation Case

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A Federal District Court in Oxford, Miss., ruled invalid, on June 23, a school district requirement of a 1,000 score on the National Teacher Examination as a standard for hiring and dismissing teachers. In a suit brought by the National Education Association and its affiliate, the Mississippi Teachers Association, against the Columbus Municipal Separate School District, Judge Orma R. Smith held that the school district's use of the NTE violated the Fourteenth Amendment because it was discriminatory and arbitrary.

JUDGE HASTIE

brilliant, analytic address to the 62nd Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which was concluded here Friday, July 9 after five days of meetings.

Speaking bluntly, Judge Hastie said that "black racism is no better than white racism. For generations, many Caucasians have glorified their whiteness, making a spurious virtue out of color and compensating for their own shortcomings by consoling themselves that at least they are white. Now many Negroes are practicing the same arrogant self-deception, glorifying their blackness, making a spurious virtue out of color and compensating for their shortcomings by shouting 'black is beautiful'. To me, red or green is more beautiful than white or black. But that is an unimportant matter of taste. The serious thing is that racial mystique, with its overemphasis on racial differences and its attendant hostility toward other racial groups, is destructive of that sense of our common humanity and that willingness to make common cause for human betterment which blacks and whites so badly need."

Rise Above Superstition
Optimistically, the veteran jurist looked forward to that time, "within the life span of many who are here today, when most whites and most blacks will rise above the superstition of caste and the feeling of racial superiority or inferiority... But that day is not here yet. And the black separatist is helping postpone its arrival by lending aid and encouragement to the white separatist in his losing fight to preserve caste as the pattern of American life. He is also blinding himself to the indignity of caste and the dreadful harm it does to blacks and whites alike by convincing himself that he likes it this way. I would have only compassion for the black separatist if he and the white separatist together were not perpetuating so much that is hurtful and harmful in American life."

7 ways to save electricity and money when running your air conditioning!

As much as you may like it — and want it — air conditioning can be expensive. Oftentimes, more expensive than it has to be.

Here are seven tips on how you can cut down on cooling costs... and conserve energy at the same time.

- If you're planning to be gone all day... set your thermostat at a slightly higher temperature. This way you won't be wasting normal cooling on an empty house. Then, when you return — it won't take much to lower it to your comfort zone.
- Finally—avoid heating up the kitchen during summer's scorchers. While you may be comfortable baking bread with the air conditioner running—the cost of simultaneous heating and cooling is going to show up on your next bill.

THERMOSTAT SETTINGS	HOW MUCH YOUR USAGE INCREASES WHEN YOUR THERMOSTAT IS BELOW 78°

Let Ice Cream Soften Slightly For Serving

When you plan to serve ice cream that has been stored in your freezer, home economists at Meadow Gold Dairies suggest setting the container in the food storage section of the refrigerator 20 to 30 minutes before serving time. Or, if you're pressed for time, let the unopened container stand at room temperature about 10 minutes.

The ice cream will soften just enough for easy dipping, yet will remain sufficiently firm to make nicely rounded scoops.

QUESTION: In line with the great deal of discussion about "truth in lending" today, how about life insurance? What is the true rate on my policy loan (a stated 5% rate) and what about the rate applied by the company in accumulating my cash value and in paying out benefits?

ANSWER: If you read the policy, you'll see two interest rates. One (the 5% you mention) is the interest you have to pay if you borrow against the policy from the insurance company—and that's quite a bargain today!

The other interest rate is the one the company must pay you on the cash value of your policy. This payment is made by adding the interest to the cash value.

Now it is hard for some people to understand, but the surprising fact is that many an insurance company often pays more than it has to.

It does this, when business is good, by paying dividends—payments over and above what the company has to pay according to the rate mentioned in the policy.

But even if business is bad, the company is required by law to pay you at least the rate promised in the policy.

And no matter how business is, the company is required to lend you money against the cash value of your policy at a rate no higher than the loan rate mentioned in the policy.

So—on the rate you pay when you borrow, it's clear. On the rate the company must pay you, you're sure of at least that much, and you may get more.

The Iowa State Fair Quarter Century Late

DES MOINES, Ia. It has been a quarter century since 1946 and the Iowa State Fair again set up business after those five grim war years.

Then, for the first time since 1941, the racket, roar and razzle - dazzle resumed, just in time to celebrate Iowa's hundredth birthday.

Sunday attendance totaled 89,295 eager visitors. There had been nothing like it since the fair went flossy with planes and polo in 1919.

Before the last patron was out of those gates in mid-week, a fervent fair booster predicted more than half a million total attendance, $100,000 in profits.

(The 1970 attendance was 665,165; gross income $1,383,977.)

The theme of the 1941 and 1946 fairs had been similar—abundant food. The latter suggested Iowa's food to feed the far away hungry would make them their friends.

The Centennial fair was whipped up between Apr. 30, when the 842d air force storage depot was moved out of the fairgrounds just before midnight, and Aug. 21, the opening day. Iowa received $535,400 from the federal government for wartime use of the area.

That was the first year everybody paid to get in. Even legislators.

As far as is known only three persons neither admission nor tax: Pilot Dean Mealy of the commercial airship Ranger, a war veteran on its own and a super - attraction at the fair, and two passengers. They sailed over the fence, looked down superciliously on the ticket takers, quite indifferent to the overhead lawbreakers, the races, midway, campsite and acres of roofs. They also flew out without incident.

The grounds were a quagmire some of the time, but visitors, happy that the fair was here again, donned raincoats and hats and slogged from the art salon—which offered guided tours—to the cattle barns. Tama's Mesquiques stolidly fried bacon and eggs over an outdoor fire in the gray mists.

Then Gov. Robert Blue presented a gold medal for valor—to a 4 - year - old Dennis Aguilera of Manly who had carried his tinier sister to safety from home during a fire. Aguilera, who has a couple of youngsters of his own now, is a Northwestern railroad roadmaster in Rochelle, Ill.

Edith Spear, 13, Indianola, was the pretty girl who showed the grand champion baby beef. Now Mrs. Merrill Henry, she lives on a farm near Indianola. Angus cattle decorate the farm.

J. E. Simms, Conrad, who was partially handicapped, won the art salon's $100 purchase prize for his painting, "Spring Plowing". Warner Bros. studio cameramen from Hollywood, filming a fair documentary, rated very well when choosing 11 young lovelies as "typical" Iowans.

Visitors still could jump on a street car to go to and from the fair.

Patrons queued up from here to there to glimpse the first full - scale television shows on the grounds. For the first time there were no Civil War veterans in the throngs, but many a young man there was just back from another war. Horseshoe pitchers tossed their ringers on a dusty lot, not on a special indoor court. The unscheduled burning of a fair hay barn was the biggest show on the place.

Three pupils representing the Runnells Consolidated School won the Iowa school quiz derby. All still live in or near Runnells. Barbara Fleming is Mrs. Arthur Mott; Robert Beattie is with the Stanbrough Realty Co., in Des Moines; and Billy - Bill - Fritz is employed by the Meredith Publishing Co., also in Des Moines.

The late Bob Adams, Fairfield barber, won the whisker derby and 100 silver dollars.

Don Purdy, now local sales manager for Radio Station KCBC in Des Moines, was the "Voice of the Fair," making frequent announcements on lost children, paging persons for long distance calls, plugging fair activities, playing music and carrying out diverse chores. He worked in an 8 square room.

Twenty - five years ago Lloyd Cunningham was the longtime fair board secretary; the Grand Concourse was Grand Avenue, where pedestrians and vehicles fought it out; and parking space was plentiful.

The 1971 fair with its invitation to Discover Mexico is a far cry from that earlier exposition. Visitors will see the many differences when the fair opens Aug. 20 for its 10 - day run in Des Moines.

Negro, White and Korean Soldiers In Knife Fight

SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA (SATURDAY) About 37 Koreans and 10 American soldiers were reported injured today when about 80 black GIs armed with knives and clubs raided a Korean village south of Seoul in a flare - up of racial trouble Friday.

A U.S. Army spokesman said Saturday an American soldier and a Korean were evacuated to a U.S. military facility in Seoul from the village, Anjogni, near Camp Humphreys, a U.S. Army logistical unit, about 40 miles south of Seoul.

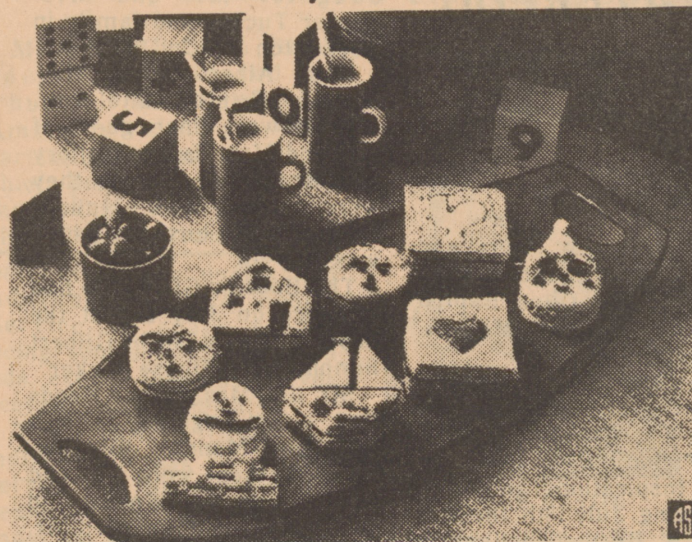

The spokesman said nine other American soldiers and two Koreans were treated at Camp Humphreys' dispensary.

Another Black Caucus Formed

HUNTSVILLE, ALA. — Dr. John Cashin, a black whose independent National Democratic Party of Alabama captured a number of local elected offices last November, said Thursday that black politicians throughout the country will hold a top-level meeting in Mobile in August to work out a unified strategy for the 1972 elections.

Children's Party Sandwich Cutouts

These perky cutout sandwiches, which contrast white bread with darker Roman Meal bread, are from Molly Bishop, home economist for Roman Meal Company. Faces and decorations shown here are made with olive slices, pimiento, green pepper, raisins, grated carrot and piped cream cheese. You're sure to think up lots more decorating ways of your own.

Cottages—Remove crusts from two slices of bread and cut off top corners to form a pointed roof. Spread filling on one slice. From the second slice cut door and windows; place it over first slice and decorate.

Clowns—Cut a round head, with a cone-shaped hat on one side, from a slice of dark bread. Spread with filling. Place a circle of white bread over filling for the face and a triangle of dark bread for the hat. Decorate.

Humpty-Dumplings—From a slice of Roman Meal bread, cut an egg-shaped piece attached at bottom to a small rectangle of bread. Spread egg-shaped section with filling; cover with egg-shaped piece cut from white enriched bread and decorate.

Funny Faces—Cut circles from two slices of bread. Fill and put together. Decorate.

Mosaics—Use cookie cutter to cut a design from center of a slice of buttered whole grain bread and from a slice of white bread. Reverse cutouts, placing white bread cutout into whole grain slice and vice versa. Place mosaic slices on contrasting colored bread slices spread with filling. Trim crusts.

Sailboats—Cut a sailboat shape from a slice of dark bread; spread with filling. Cut two sails from white bread and a hull from dark bread. Place them over filling, leaving a narrow strip of filling showing between sails for the mast. Decorate.

You undoubtedly have favorite recipes you'd like to share with other readers. Why not submit them to the Molly Bishop Contest? You could win a free loaf of Roman Meal Bread each week for an entire year. Simply mail your recipe, or recipes, and name and address to Molly Bishop Contest, Box 1971, Tacoma, Washington 98401. The contest will be judged quarterly on the basis of originality. It is void where prohibited by law. Decision of the Roman Meal Judges is final.

QUESTION: I haven't worked full time for about 15 months. I would have filed a claim sooner, but I kept thinking I would be able to return to work. Have I missed out on any benefits?

ANSWER: There is a six month waiting period beginning with the first full month you were disabled and your application for benefits can be retroactive as many as 12 months. So you haven't lost any benefits. If you had waited more than 18 months before filing your claim, you would have missed out on some payments.

QUESTION: I've been disabled for 12 months and I know about the 6 month waiting period, but I returned to work twice for a week each time since then. Does my 6 month waiting period have to January 1972. Will I be able to receive social security from his account (I have never worked away from home)? Could I have been receiving this from age 60 or must I wait until 62?

ANSWER: You will be able to receive benefits at age 62 as his wife. Normally, you can receive benefits at age 60 only as a widow.

QUESTION: I was recently married. What would I do to get my social security record changed?

ANSWER: In many of the counties in this area the clerk of court gives the prospective bride a green card to complete and send in to get the name changed on her social security account. If you don't have one of these forms, contact the nearest social security office or post office for the necessary form. Only the name is changed, the number remains the same.

ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA: Arrived Wednesday, June 30, for a visit with the Arthur E. Sidners, 4 year old Aaron and 3 year old Alison, all of whom were scheduled to leave 6:00 o'clock Friday morning for the Senior Sidners in St. Louis, Missouri.

MARY HYDE IN MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. was radiant with enthusiasm over her special summer educational assignment being done in connection with a government agency. I believe. (Those notes still haven't arrived, Mary!) She and Sue (Mrs. Alfred Williams), whose position entails considerable travel, throughout the years have been dedicated careerists. Deciding to take time out to play for a change, the two recently joined a pinochle club! The meetings are monthly and are either luncheon or dinner affairs. If a dinner meeting, then husbands and boyfriends are invited. (Two or three other long - standing card clubs here in Des Moines came to mind!)

ON FRIDAY MORNING, Art, my 6'6" son - in - law, accompanied by Tammy, their two year old German Shepherd pet, and her ten puppies bade me to join them in their Volkswagen bus and so all thirteen of us went to the bus station! Tammy and her brood were enroute to a farm. Not St. Louis!

ARRIVING IN ST. JOSEPH, MINNESOTA, I was met by Mrs. Leo Subotnik, her two daughters and their guests and Miss Marjorie E. W. Smith of Des Moines, yet! Doesn't she get about though?

PRIOR TO ATTENDING THE NAACP CONVENTION in Minneapolis, Marjorie journeyed with Lenore (Mrs. S.) to visit Mrs. Ann Graves at her farm outside Rice, Minn. A longtime social worker, Mrs. Graves is a past president of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. Marjorie is a charter member of the Des Moines branch. The Mississippi River can be viewed from Mrs. Graves kitchen window. In fact, one of the Graves' sons was married in the middle of the Mississippi on New Year's Day 1970. He wanted to be married at his old family home and by the justice of the peace from the Unitarian Fellowship. The latter's jurisdiction for the opposite township extended only to the middle of the river. Hence the unusual setting for the wedding!

THE GRAVES' FARMHOUSE is decorated with rugs hand - hooked by Mrs. Graves. One impressive one, done in 1953, has a map of the world in various colors. The words "PAX" figures prominently in many of the works.

THE SUBOTNIKS, MARJORIE AND PAT BRENNAN and I viewed St. Cloud's traditional Fourth of July Celebration. It is a parade in which the barber, butcher, baker, two beauty shops, someone from each of the town business participated! Some entries were even "elegant"!!

WE WERE INVITED TO VIEW the parade from the front lawn of the William Kletts. Dr. Klett is Chief Psychologist at the VA Hospital in St. Cloud. The parade was assembling in the blocks near the Klett home, as we formed our own little parade marching past the waiting floats making our way to the Klett's. Your's truly had the recurring feeling that put into words went something like this "Who is watching whom?" (Dig?)

IF YOU'RE STILL READING THIS, I may as well add that we visited a vacation and I enjoyed every moment of it. You may as well hear, too, that the Subotniks assigned Marjorie and me to very private lake-front quarters; our own patio; a path to the lake!

DRAKE WRITERS' CONFERENCE being held in Room No. 106, Meredith Hall is all pleasure. It is even held at 7:30 p.m. What luck! Two friends left over from Writer Henry Felton's class were there and of course brightened my summer!

LET THE BYSTANDER WRITE YOUR STORIES. Phone or come by. We're trying to stay put so everyone can be served. Let's give this a whirl. As you may well imagine, Des Moines is ever so much larger travel - wise. Take a look at what you do to reach your friends these days?????It is that far and further for Bystander coverage. See you? (Thank Mrs. D.W. for your visit. Hope you are each pleased!)

By Marri Johnson
The spacious, beautifully furnished quarters of the newly erected Y.W.C.A. was the setting of The Three Purpose Club's observance of its Fortieth Anniversary on Sunday, July 11.

In a celebration most unusual and tremendously interesting from every standpoint of its planning and execution, The Three Purpose Club, family members and friends found pleasure in this occasion.

Looking back to its inception, in the mind of Mrs. Julia Proctor, after discussion with Mrs. Lillian Edmunds, then director of the Negro Community Center, the Three Purpose Club was founded. Mrs. Edith Webb named the club. Its purpose to be social service work, recreation and intellectual improvement. Mrs. Julia Proctor was the first president. The year was 1931.

Social Projects
The ensuing years have been concerted efforts in many social service projects. For example, sponsoring a girl at school in Piney Woods, Mississippi, a boy at Woodward, campsites for the Y.M.C.A., contributions to the Y.W.C.A., United Campaign, and Inn Gathering. By contribution and personal endeavor the Club has continued.

Views Daughters
Recognition of this diligence was expressed on this occasion by the sons and daughters of the club members. They presented each member with a sterling silver bracelet to which was attached a medallion bearing the initials "TPC", and on the reverse side "1971". A corsage of three pink rose buds accompanied each gift.

The Reception
The reception table, draped in pink taffeta, was lovely. It held a floral center piece of pink roses and green carnations from the top of the flowers cascaded downward. Shimmering crystal candelabras holding pink candles enhanced still further this artistic creation. A bouquet of flowers identical to those of the reception table adorned the registration desk. Flowers for the anniversary were furnished by a former club member, Mrs. Gladys Walton of Cambridge, Massachusetts. Background music was furnished by Mrs. Marian Morrison.

A guided tour of the Y.W.C.A. was made available to interested guests. About two hundred guests attended. The daughters and granddaughters assisted the members as hostesses. They were Pamela Wallace, Paula Perkins, Jackie Fair, Cleota Wilberkin, Imogene Long, Linda Thomas, Barbara Parkey, Paula Duncan, Garoldine Webb and Camille Bradley.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. When a house guest wishes to give his hostess a little gift of appreciation, when should he present it?

A. He may bring it along and present it to her soon after his arrival, or send it to her soon after his return home. This, of course, does not relieve him of the responsibility of writing that all-important bread-and-butter letter to his hostess as soon as possible after his return home.

A. Is it considered a "social must" to acknowledge the receipt of a birth announcement with some kind of gift for the baby?

A. This is a popular custom, but not a "must." However, if you do not send a gift, it is nice always to send a little note of congratulations to the proud parents.

Q. May a bride wear a white gown and veil when being married in a magistrate's office?

A. This would be in poor taste. The traditional white and veil are for church and home weddings.

Q. Different members of our family received a number of notes and cards of condolence following the passing of a loved one. Should these be acknowledged by us?

A. Personal notes of acknowledgment are in order, although it is understandable that they be brief, even to close friends.

Q. If a knife has not been used at all during a meal, should it be picked up at the end of the meal and placed with the fork across the plate so that it will be taken out when the plate is removed?

A. No; it should remain where it is on the table.

Q. I'm soon to be "the father of the bride." Will it be one of my duties to stand in the receiving line at her wedding reception?

A. This is optional. The father of the bride may "receive," if he wishes, or he may mingle with the guests.

Q. When using a lace tablecloth, do you lay it over the bare table or on a table pad -- and also, is a lace tablecloth ever used on a colored lining?

A. You use a lace tablecloth directly over the bare table. And as the lace design is decorative enough in itself, it is in better taste not to put it over a colored lining.

Q. My wife and I are compelled to decline an invitation to a weekend party in a friend's home in the near future. Must we give a reason?

A. This is a nice thing to do. A refusal without is too blunt, and somehow suggests you don't want anything socially to do with them.

Sights Growth of Tiny Tot Comprehensive Child Care

Under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn K. Davis, Tiny Tot Comprehensive Child Care Inc., has grown and developed from a small child care corporation, to an adequate and necessary part of our community. Through its development, Tiny Tot is always feeling the need to expand its program to accommodate the working parents of children ages 2-12. With concern for community problems it's main objective, Tiny Tot has developed still another facet of the program to aid parents working in the evening hours. The 11-7 Child Care program, to be initiated August 15, will thus make Tiny Tot a 24 hour child care service. The facility to be used for this program will be the Tiny Tot center, Forest Hills, located at 1401 Forest Ave. Parents wishing this service should contact Social Worker, Helen McFeters at the Oakridge Center.

Food Stamp main office 284 - 6193 or Roadside Settlement, 244 - 7179. It is hoped to have registration at this location every month.

With summer in full swing, Tiny Tot continues its child care services. The program is enhanced more for the children with the addition of field trips and tours to such sites as the Capitol, the Historical Building, and Anderson - Erickson Dairy. Parks are the scene of picnics held every week. The addition of some 35 Neighborhood Youth Corps workers for the summer has also helped make the summer program more efficient and successful. A word of thanks to the Tiny Tot Guild, whose diligence and time has made the summer more enjoyable for the children at the centers. Their donations of clothes and a swing set and many other things have made the children quite jubilant. Tiny Tot also wishes to express its deep appreciation and thanks to the many private citizens and organizations who have also donated clothing, toys, and other very usable items to the centers. It is this type of community concern and effort that helps keep an organization such as Tiny Tot at the peak of efficiency. Tiny Tot is truly a valuable community organization providing services to many working parents who could not afford child care otherwise.

Your professional hairdresser knows the answer...

Was haircoloring first done in Africa?

Centuries ago in Africa (before it was explored by Europeans) beautiful black women used herbs and other ingredients to change the color of their hair. It was one way to complement their dark rich complexions... to accent their natural warmth and beauty. Whether or not Africans were the first to use this method, no one is sure. Yet, they are among the first in terms of recorded history to go through the then-tedious process of coloring their hair.

Today changing your haircolor can be as quick and as brief as a visit to your professional hairdresser. That's because many professional hairdressers use Miss Clairol® Hair Color to lighten hair, to make slight color changes and to cover gray. Hairdressing experts know that exotic blacks and browns are generally gorgeous for darker skin tones. Golden or red shades are stunning for lighter tan complexions.

Today black pride brings you closer to the cultural ways of your African heritage. Haircoloring is a part of black history too. Ask your professional hairdresser about changing your hair color with Miss Clairol... and be more beautiful than you already are.

Their Soldiers Abroad The Government must Protect

Negro Soldiers have been experiencing some embarrassing treatment in Korea where segregated facilities are maintained by the natives and off limit restrictions placed on them by the armed services.

Apparently, enraged by the insults by some of the Korean people whom they are there to protect against Communism, our men have taken it upon themselves to exercise their rights and in the process injured some civilians.

Threats of "Go Home Nigger" were hurled at some of the Negro soldiers as Korean and white soldiers collaborated to capture and attempted to punish the soldiers who dared fight back.

The Bystander does not condone lawlessness in or out of the service. But it is fully in sympathy with those Negro soldiers who refuse to be humiliated by the very people they have been sent thousands of miles to protect. And it further feels that if this is the kind of treatment they meter out to their protectors then we would have no remorse if the Communists ran these Koreans in the sea.

The army itself has a responsibility to see that the constitutional right of Negro soldiers are protected abroad as well as at home.

Constitutional Principles Clash

In recent weeks, the news media has been filled with secret operations of the government and the right of the people to know what goes on.

With most of it, we agree except for the slap on the wrist given by Dr. Ellsberg, who stole the information from the boss for whom he was working. He is no more to be pitied than the employee who steals goods from his boss for whom he is working.

But the right to know, the freedom of the press hit the big headlines.

Recently The Iowa Legislature was considering a wire tap bill. Such a measure was passed by Congress several years ago and being used to run down crimes and criminals which cannot be dealt with in any other manner.

Last Sunday the Des Moines Register published an exceptional story of how the justice department had been able to track down a crime syndicate in New York by the use of wire tapping. The job was done under court authority as provided by law and we hope opponents of the system appreciate the good the law has done.

The Bystander does not advocate permissiveness wire tapping; it knows of no honest citizens who have been hurt by having wires tapped and yet there are a few. But it does believe that under proper court supervision nobody is seriously hurt by wire tapping.

After all, the public is faced with crime on every hand and is entitled to use every device available to protect themselves. Surely, the public has as much right to protection as criminals who, in the long run, have most to gain by preventing wire tapping.

Des Moines has fine YW

Des Moines has a useful as well as a beautiful YWCA. Those who have used it's facilities, so far, and particularly the members and friends of the Three Purpose Club, can testify to that. The class, elegant and well arranged reception given by the club Sunday is ample testimony of fine facilities the "YW" has to offer.

In recent years, the YWCA has not been a place of fine gatherings due, no doubt, to the big job on hand of getting an adequate place built and occupied. We can remember, in years gone by, that it has been an important part of the civil and social civil rights upsurge in the community, which brought the races together for mutual cooperation and helpfulness.

Today they are ready for the use of their facilities for fine gatherings that are not available elsewhere. We hope the community will use it not just as a rooming house for girls but also a gathering spot for civic, cultural and social activities.

Bypassing Excuses

We buried two men recently who came from lowly beginnings and reached the top in their chosen fields. The first was Whitney Young Jr. and last week Louis Armstrong who used his talent to make money and to serve his country as a goodwill ambassador abroad and substantial citizen at home. These men took advantage of the best American has to offer.

Anyone who watched the all-star baseball game must have marvelled at two Negroes, one from Alabama and the other from Louisiana who led off as batter and pitcher, positions from which Negroes had been excluded until recently. There were numerous other Negroes in the lineup all of whom were there because of their ability as ballplayers.

Opportunity! All these fellows made use of their opportunities without whining that somebody is "blocking my chances". More and more, the old cry of lack of opportunity is being conquered by those who try.

SANDBAGS AND SUSTAINED BREATHING

Breathing with a sandbag on your stomach may be uncomfortable. But some emphysema patients learn to breathe deeply this way.

In an experimental project at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Brooklyn, New York, new techniques are being tried to help people with this respiratory disease. Lying on the floor with a 15-pound sandbag across the abdominal area focuses attention on the up-and-down movement of the diaphragm. Patients also use a treadmill to practice deep breathing in an upright position.

Group hypnosis to induce sustained deep breathing is part of the experimental program. Hypnosis can be controversial; not all physicians favor such methods. But three physicians at the VA Hospital — Drs. Wilkins, Field, and Herring — explained their choice of this technique in a recent research report. "Because breathing is partially an unconscious process," the report said, "hypnosis is used to facilitate relearning. Diaphragmatic breathing is of critical importance to the emphysema patients because it permits a more complete interchange of air in the lungs."

While under hypnosis, patients are told to inhale and imagine they are filling a balloon with air. They are instructed to concentrate on pushing out their navel with each inhalation; when exhaling, to think of touching their navel to their backbone. They are told this way of breathing is life-giving and should become part of their lives.

When conscious, patients are asked to practice deep breathing once an hour every

ON THE SPORTS SCENE

WE FORGOT

We were going to write about our annual Hilltop Open tennis meet. But last Sunday we walked in to visit with our older brother. The guy jumped all over us. He said we had written about all of those old time Negro baseball players. "But you never mentioned that a black ball club beat a team of major league triple A ball players right at the end of World War I. 'Man, this is the first I ever heard about that,'" and it was.

In Europe

Then he went on to explain that right after that war, there was a huge athletic tournament in just about all sports for the members of the armed forces in Europe. It was called the AEF championships, meaning the American Expeditionary Forces. According to Lucius, everybody had a shot at the big title. You played or competed for your company title, then the rest of them on through to the regimental honors. Then you got a shot at the division crown, and all the winners met in Paris.

Tunney Wins

The heavyweight champion, Gene Tunney, won the AEF boxing crown, and this led to a crack at Jack Dempsey. Well, brother says that the baseball final came down to two teams, an all black team of barnstorming players from several of the black traveling teams of that era, and this fine collection of players from organized baseball. The battery for the other fellers was composed of a couple of famous big leaguers, Grover Alexander, an ace pitcher, and Hank Gowdy of the world's champion Boston Braves. Lucius says the blacks won, but he wasn't sure about the score, thinks it was 8 to 2.

Iowa State School Master Golf Tournament

The annual Iowa State Schoolmen's Golf tournament will be held at Grandview Golf Course in Des Moines on July 22nd and 23rd. The tournament, won last year by Roosevelt High School coach Don Prior, is open to teachers, administrators, school board members and salesmen of school supplies. A field of nearly 200 from around the state is expected. Qualifying rounds will be shot on Thursday and flight championships will be decided in the final round of play on Friday.

Congressmen Invade Urban League

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Two members of the Black Caucus, one of whom is being prominently mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in 1972, will play key roles in the National Urban League's Annual Conference in Detroit's Cobo Hall, July 25-28.

Congressman John Conyers, Democrat of Michigan, now in his fourth term as representative of the First Congressional District in Detroit and Freshman Congressman Ronald V. Dullums, Democrat of California, serving his first term from California's Seventh Congressional District are the two members of the Black Caucus scheduled to address the Conference.

day until the process becomes automatic.

Results so far show that not all emphysema patients, especially those with advanced disease, benefit from the techniques. But some patients have shown an increased ability to breathe more comfortably.

For more information about emphysema, see your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

Black Fighters

Then he said that two or three black fighters won AEF boxing titles, but they didn't have a dead Chinaman's chance in football. But he wanted me to be sure to get in this bit of ancient history, because he said that black baseball players had always been capable of playing big league ball. All they ever needed was a chance. Now, read this between sips of brandy.

Hilltop Tennis

Now, we are getting under way for our twenty fourth Hilltop Open tennis meet. It goes without saying that we are looking forward to more help than Cecil Brewton and your's truly got last year. How we pulled it off, we really can't say. Maybe we might not have made it but for some real help by people who like to be around tennis. But, things are looking up this year with only a few minor problems to overcome. We wish there was some way we could get more black players in the thing.

Just don't know what will happen to tennis around the park when the older players around hang up their clubs. We have said so often that this meet is unique in that it is just about the only tennis meet of its kind in the country that we know of. The participants are usually about ninety percent white, and the Hilltop club is just about one hundred percent black. This was an outgrowth of our old Negro city meet that we used to have. Tennis in general fell out an all time low in Des Moines, and our club was asked to do something to help it get up. So our meet was enlarged to take in everybody who wanted to play, and the thing became an instant success. Now, that tennis is really on the zoom again, we find the going for our meet a bit tougher, but we are all too stubborn to give the thing up. We have had our problems with coverage in the daily papers. Have often had to write our own stories and get them downtown in time for publication. However, in these last few years, we have had some good stories on our meet, and have been covered by just about all the media. If the entry blanks get out this week end, the deadline for accepting entries will be July 26.

We shouldn't be fussing about getting our meet covered. The Prairie Tennis Club of Chicago, one of the oldest tennis clubs in the midwest, was just noticed in the Chicago Tribune the other day. They had quite a story about this club as if it had just come alive yesterday. All we can say is where have the tennis writers in Chicago been? This club is better than fifty years old and has put out some outstanding players over the years, including two Big Ten singles champions, Dick Hudlin of Chicago U. and Doug Turner of Illinois U. Then we don't know how many city champions the club turned out, but it was quite a few.

Steal TV from Elderly Woman

Mrs. Alma Polen, 84, of 1349 Fourteenth St. was beaten by two youths who broke into her apartment and took a color television set valued at $500 early Monday, police said.

Officers said the youths climbed through a bathroom window to get into Mrs. Polen's apartment shortly after midnight.

One youth knocked her down, pulled a blanket over her head and kicked her several times before the two fled with the television set, she told officers.

Officers said she suffered arm and leg bruises but was not hospitalized.

Hold Up Cab Driver, Gets $10

A cab driver was robbed at gunpoint by his passenger of about $10 Sunday evening, police said.

Police identified the cab driver as Larry Carter, of 1163 Harding Road. Carter, a driver for the Yellow Cab Co., told police he was not injured.

Carter told police that the man pulled a pistol and ordered him to stop near the intersection of Seventeenth and Day streets about 9:30 p.m. Carter said he handed over the money and the man fled on foot.

Police blocked off an area around the scene of the robbery and a number of officers searched the area on foot, but the holdup man escaped.

VETERANS

Q — My husband, a WWII veteran, died recently. I applied for the proceeds of his National Service Life Insurance, only to be informed by the VA that I was not the beneficiary. Is this money lost to me?

A — It may be. The VA must pay the proceeds of NSLI policies to the beneficiary last designated by the insured. Many veterans neglect to keep their beneficiary designations up to date. In your case, the situation can be resolved in your favor only if the named beneficiary recognizes the unfairness, and can be persuaded to assign all or part of the proceeds to you.

Q — I am receiving pension under the so called "old law." May I change to the "new law?"

A — Yes. You may change; however, before changing, it is suggested that you discuss it with a VA representative. Phone: 202 DU-2741

Q — I have National Service Life Insurance which has been in force on the ordinary life plan since 1945. My children are grown now, and I am thinking of discontinuing the payment of premiums and taking a paid-up policy. If I do, will my dividends be discontinued?

A — No, but they will not be as large as those on your existing policy. If you take a paid-up policy, the amount of insurance in force will be less than the present face value of your policy. The dividends will be computed on this reduced insurance coverage.

Q — How does a veteran or serviceman go about getting a loan for a mobile home?

A — He should first obtain a certificate of eligibility from the nearest VA Regional Office. Then, he should find a mobile home of his choice which meets Veterans Administration standards, arrange for rental or purchase of a mobile home lot, and apply to a private lender for a loan.

Q — My father served on the Mexican border in the U.S. Army before World War I. Is he qualified for a pension?

A — He may qualify for disability pension payments provided he served honorably for 90 days or more in Mexico, or in one of the adjacent states, or in Guatemala or British Honduras, or served at sea in the area of Mexico. He should contact his nearest VA office, or service organization representative, or local Veterans County Service Officer for full details.

LIGHT FOILS CRIME

A recent survey of 1,300 police chiefs confirmed the importance of adequate lighting in the war against crime and vandalism. A drop in crime was reported by 85% of the chiefs when lighting was improved. Take precautions to protect your home against burglary. Lighting experts at GTE Sylvania Incorporated recommend: setting several lights to timers to go on at dusk; leaving your backyard well lighted, and keeping a porch light burning when you're away from home. It's easy for a home owner to take a few safety precautions and help prevent crime.
