Firm and Union Must Pay Lawyers

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Workers at the Lorillard Corp. will divide $500,000 damages as the company and the Tobacco Workers International Union settle a job bias suit.

Agreement was reached recently in the suit filed five years ago on behalf of 278 employees under the job discrimination sections of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The company and union will also pay $225,000 in legal fees for the suit. The settlement is said to be the largest ever made in an action brought under the act.

Stuard Herman, a Department of Justice lawyer in Washington who specializes in these cases, said the largest prior settlement in an equal employment case was $250,000.

The agreement came three months after the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the U.S. District Court's ruling that Lorillard's departmental seniority system was discriminatory and the employees deserved back pay.

It reversed Judge Eugene Gordon on one point, ruling that the counsel's fees should be included in the settlement.

Merchants Must Post Prices

The Office of Emergency Preparedness announced today that merchants must have a list of ceiling prices available for public inspection on or before November 1, 1971. The list, from which the seller is required to provide information, must be available at the place of sale.

George Lincoln, Director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, ruled that the ceiling price list may be a single master list for the entire establishment or, alternatively, separate lists of ceiling prices for each section or department of the establishment. Until the ceiling price information is available, sellers must provide this information in accord with new procedures outlined today by the Office of Emergency Preparedness. The new procedure, to be promulgated in the Federal Register.

literature. Many will serve also as poll watchers.

Reese Stone, associate director of Student Life, and advisor to the Political Science Society explained that the Political Science Society's project is designed to counteract the "growing apathy among Black students toward the American governing system." He said the Society hopes that its positive concern for making the political system work will motivate other students to participate in the campaign.

Two Minorities Vie for Election and City Offices

Much publicity has been given about those seeking membership on the city council but little about judges of the Municipal Court. And yet four are to be elected from the field of eight candidates chosen at the primaries.

High in the primary race was Judge Luther T. Glanton, Jr. who received a heavy vote from the citizens of Des Moines.

Judge Glanton was appointed to the bench by Former Gov. Herschel

JUDGE GLANTON

Loveless and gained approval of the voters in two succeeding elections.

A long worker in civic, political and social affairs, Judge Glanton needs no introduction to the voters of Des Moines. He has made an excellent impartial judge and has the respect of the bench and bar of Iowa.

He is a member of the Polk County, Iowa and American Bar Associations, Corinthian Baptist Church and several social and civic organizations. His record recommends him and the voters of Des Moines.

As we go to press, Mrs. Evelyn Loggins, a Republican and first-time candidate for public office, and a write-in contender for the two-year councilman-at-large position on the City Council, expresses appreciation to the sincere persons who have encouraged her endeavor to keep looking up, continuing to gain and win as much as there is to be gained by worthwhile efforts.

She describes herself as "a

candidate who realizes that Des Moines' problems are not solved by one-seventh of the voting power, (as a City Council member) but rather by one who is honest and has the wisdom to work effectively with government officials for all of the people."

Mrs. Loggins says that "win, lose or draw for the councilman seat, I am a winner! and I seek and shall appreciate continued support."

Paul Wilson Gets Support From Colleagues

A group composed mainly of Model City area residents converged on City Hall last Tuesday morning to uphold Paul Wilson, city relocation administrator who had been notified of his impending firing effective November 5.

Max Krumrey, director of Urban development in a letter dated October 22, had informed Wilson of the planned firing.

Wilson, well-known realtor, had been a City relocation administrator for 16 months with an annual salary of $11,091, and a city employee 26 months.

Leaders of the group gathered in Wilson's behalf, charged discrimination and demanded Wilson's reinstatement. Blacks made up the larger representation.

Alfred Brown, of Alfred Brown and Associates, and former director of Greater Opportunities, Inc., Des Moines' anti-poverty organization, was noted among the group's leaders. He had experienced such a firing last summer.

Unsatisfactory performance of duties was the official charge against Wilson. Lewis Pond, Assistant Director of the Department of Urban Development, informed those gathered that Wilson's failure to maintain central files on all persons relocated from urban renewal areas was a second cause for firing.

City officials said they were urged by federal officials to fire Wilson, following their evaluation of the urban renewal project.

It is claimed that it was Ed Taylor, a black official from Kansas City, who joined in making the recommendation. Taylor is a member of the regional office of the Department of

NEWS In A Nutshell

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Howard University has been granted a license to operate an FM radio station. Approval of the University's application for assignment of the license of Station WTOP-FM from Post Newsweek Stations was announced today by the Federal Communications Commission.

NEW YORK — Led by Fayette Mayor Charles Evers — the first black ever to run for Governor of Mississippi — a total of 290 black candidates and five whites are seeking state-wide and county offices in Mississippi on Nov. 2nd under the banner of the Loyal Democratic Party, it was announced today by Gilbert Jonas, National Coordinator of the Committee to Elect Evers Governor of Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. postal deposits in minority-owned banks located throughout the country more than doubled during the past year, Postmaster General Winton M. Blount today announced.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The U.S. Supreme Court affirmed a ruling by which Virginia was barred from turning a two-year predominantly white college in Petersburg into a four-year college. The district court had held that to make the change would interfere with attempts to achieve racial integration of a once-segregated black college near Petersburg.

Housing and Urban Development at Kansas City.

Krumrey states that he will employ a new city relocation administrator and would like to employ another black.

Rev. Wm. Burnette, a group member, advised city officials that the group would appeal Wilson's firing and would appeal the matter to the Iowa Civil Rights Commission. He termed the firing to be without cause.

Refuses to Interfere with Lower Court Ruling; Say Segregation Is Fostered

Washington, D.C. Tuesday, the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear an appeal and let stand a busing plan adopted for the schools in Pontiac, Michigan and criticized officials that they promoted segregation.

The plan and the ruling, by U.S. District Judge Damon J. Keith of Detroit, had been appealed to the court by school officials with the argument that whatever segregation exists in the industrial city 25 miles northwest of Detroit is a result of housing patterns.

While Keith charged the school board with locating new schools and arranging boundaries in such a way as to perpetuate segregation, the officials told the court that they had tried to reduce racial imbalance even amid shifting populations.

Some 10,000 of the 24,000 public school children have been bused since the new term began Sept. 7. Thirty-two per cent of the school population is black. The aim of the busing plan is to make each school 20 to 40 per cent black.

On the night of Aug. 30, 10 school buses were destroyed by bomb explosions. FBI agents subsequently made six arrests. Another 23 arrests were made by school officials in the first three days of classes.

The controversy continues, meanwhile, with leaders of an anti-busing organization contending that incidents between black and white pupils have increased sharply in the new school year.

Leaders of the group called for an indefinite boycott of the schools last week, and attendance fell off by an average 21 per cent Monday, according to Pontiac school officials.

The Supreme Court justices voted unanimously not to review Judge Keith's decision, without making any comment on the issues.

The Supreme Court has never heard arguments on a school desegregation case from a northern or western state. The school board appeal said there was no substantial distinction between the situation in Pontiac and that in Cincinnati, Kansas City, and Gary, Ind., where residential housing patterns spawned school segregation and where the court declined to hear complaints from Negro parents.

Rep. Chisholm Tells Why She Supports Mrs. Harris

According to the Afro-American, with party reform a key issue, Mrs. Harris appeared at a news conference with party chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien last week and acedly told a querying reporter who asked if she was for reform:

"That's like asking me if I am in favor for equal rights for blacks or women."

"I am in favor of reform," she went on, and added, "the bitterness of the election shows a continuing lack of trust among Democrats."

The vote electing Mrs. Harris was 72-31.

With just 3 exceptions, all of the southern delegates voted for Mrs. Harris. The exceptions were one vote from Georgia, and both votes from Mississippi.

The question asked black political leaders was why they supported Senator Hughes when there was a black candidate running for committee chairman.

Con. Chisholm told the AFRO that until two days before the election, no one knew that Pat Harris' name was in contention.

Mrs. Chisholm said, "We were intent on putting someone in as head of the credentials committee who would see to it that reform in the method of seating delegates was put into being."

"Sen. Hughes had made a

She viewed the placing of the name of Mrs. Harris on the ballot as a ploy to embarrass black committeemen. The traditional Democrats wanted someone from the "Establishment" to be in position to influence the delegate seating.

Mrs. Chisholm said she talked with Mrs. Harris as soon as her candidacy was announced. As Mrs. Chisholm put it, "Mrs. Harris was definitely not enthusiastic about being offered the post — in fact, it seemed as though she was waiting to be drafted. "I have nothing against Mrs. Harris, in fact, I feel she will be completely impartial and direct in the dealings of the committee. If we (the black committee members) had known earlier) she was in contention, our reaction might have been different. "But when we found out about it, it was too late — we had already made our commitment to Sen. Hughes, and obviously could not back out."

Be sure to install a paneling that is highly-resistant to heat and moisture. Plastic-finished farlite, which comes in colors, woodgrains and decorator patterns, can be installed right over old walls. It never needs refinishing.

Marlite paneling comes in a variety of embossed and textured surfaces.

You Know How Important It Is To Elect

CAROL HAMMER

To The City Council!

Here's How To Do It:

1..Vote for all other candidates of your choice FIRST, by flipping down the small levers over their names.

2..Then go to column five, where it says "For Councilman At Large (Two Year Term)."

3. Look ABOVE the two names listed. You'll find diagonal panels covered by black metal slides. Slide up No. 5 and hold it up. This will expose some paper on which to write.

4. With pen or pencil, write in only this:

CAROL HAMMER

5. As you open the curtain to leave, your votes for all candidates including Carol Hammer, will automatically be recorded and new paper will be rolled into place for the next voter.

We suggest you take these instructions to the polls. Then, if you have further questions or need help, ask the attendant.

Iowa State Education Association Adds Two Minority Staff Members

Harold C. Caison of Fairfield, Iowa, is the new UniServ Director for the Iowa State Education Association (ISEA) and National Education Association (NEA) in Southeast Iowa. He replaces Duane Semler, who resigned to become UniServ Director for Polk County Suburban School near Des Moines.

CAISON

UniServ is a cooperative project of local, state and national education associations designed to provide more direct service to association members. The UniServ Director serves as a coordinator to bring the resources of the NEA and ISEA to bear on local problems and to articulate local needs and interests to the state and national organizations.

There are currently 16 UniServ Directors employed in Iowa.

Caison, 28, will work in an 11-county area with more than 4500 educators who are ISEA-NEA members. Most of his time will be devoted to counseling district and local association officers, providing 911 members information about services and programs available from the NEA and ISEA, and planning district and local meetings.

Caison will work from his apartment at 408 North D. Street, in Fairfield.

The new Southeast Iowa UniServ Director is a native of North Carolina. Before coming to Iowa, he taught French and served as the school newspaper advisor at Ballou Senior High School in Washington, D.C.

Caison earned a B.A. Degree at Livingston College and has completed graduate work at Ohio State University, University of Rochester and Federal City College in Washington, D.C.

VETERANS

Q — My husband, a World War II veteran, passed away recently. Is he eligible for a headstone?

A — Yes. Any deceased veteran whose last period of service was terminated honorably is eligible for this benefit which is administered by the Army.

Q — May I borrow on my G.I. insurance to help pay college expenses for my son and daughter?

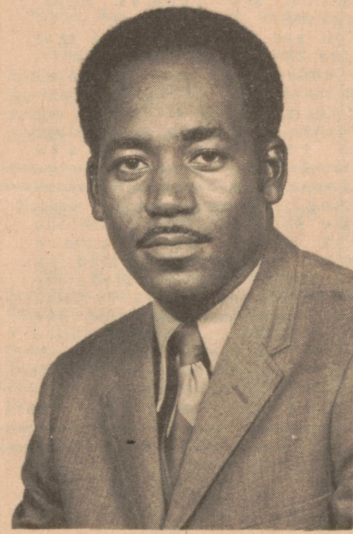

A — Yes, provided you have a permanent plan G.I. insurance policy over one year old. In that case, you can borrow up to 94 per cent of its cash value. Current interest rate on such loans is five per cent.

Q — Which is the better education program for a disabled veteran, vocational rehabilitation or G.I. Bill?

A — Vocational rehabilitation is usually more advantageous to the disabled veteran. However, there may be circumstances when it would be better to use G.I. Bill benefits, such as

W. Dean Warren, of Emmetsburg, Iowa, is the new UniServ Director for the Iowa State Education Association (ISEA) and National Education Association (NEA) in an 8-county area in Northwest Iowa.

UniServ is a cooperative project of local, state and national education associations designed to provide more direct service to ISEA-NEA members. The UniServ Director serves as a coordinator to bring the resources of the NEA and ISEA to bear on local problems and to articulate local needs and interests to the state and national organizations.

WARREN

There are currently 16 UniServ Directors employed in Iowa.

Warren, 32, will work with more than 1800 educators in the following 8-county area: Dickinson, Emmet, Kossuth, Clay, Palo Alto, Pocahontas, Buena Vista and Sac. Most of his time will be devoted to counseling officers of 48 local education associations affiliated with the NEA and ISEA providing 911 members information about ISEA-NEA services, and planning regional and local meetings.

Warren will work from his apartment on Lake Shore Drive in Emmetsburg.

The new UniServe Director is a native of Kansas City, Missouri. For the past two years, he was an elementary teacher at Longfellow Elementary School in Waterloo, and President - Elect of the Longfellow Parent - Teacher Association.

Before coming to Iowa, Warren taught in the Kansas City Public Schools and worked as Placement Director at Langston University in Langston, Oklahoma. Warren graduated from Langston with a B.A. Degree in Elementary Education in 1963.

Put Your Best Foot Forward

Today's business etiquette calls for attention to grooming details — like your socks. It began with the switch to longer over-the-calf and mid-calf lengths for both business and leisure wear. These longer socks eliminate the problem of "calf gap" — that hairy patch of skin that bristles forth when a man crosses his legs. Now technology has combined with this hosiery fashion to produce anti-static socks that won't cling to trousers when a man stands up. DuPont's "Antron" III nylon eliminates the problem of trouser "hang-ups" caused by static electricity, keeps socks from twisting and bunching, and has improved wicking properties for increased moisture absorption. And its long-lasting anti-cling properties won't wear or wash out. Socks of "Antron" III nylon are made by many hosiery manufacturers and can be purchased at local men's clothing and department stores.

A new "ten commandments" was written recently by a group of Vietnam veteran — patients in the Veterans Administration psychiatric hospital at Brecksville, Ohio.

Young veterans serving on the hospital's Vietnam Era Committee, which advises the hospital staff on how to better serve the needs of younger veterans, drafted the "commandments."

The full text, below, brought applause when read by Dr. Elaine Heath, staff psychologist of the hospital, at the recent national meeting of the American Psychological Association, in Washington, D.C.

OUR TEN

COMMANDMENTS

- I. Find yourself something to believe in — and be true to it.
- II. Be fair. Yours isn't the only bag around, and yours isn't the only color.
- III. Be free. Do what you want unless it hurts someone else.
- IV. Use wisely. It's the only body you get.
- V. Be strong. Don't compromise because of threats or promises.
- VI. Be peaceful. War destroys and gives no fair return.
- VII. Try to understand. It's what you expect of them.
- VIII. Share. Someone else might not ever experience what you have.
- IX. Keep the faith. If they won't listen to us, we've got time on them.

X. Above all else, LOVE! It is the only commodity this world has a gross lack of. "Positives rather than negatives are used," the patients added in a footnote, "because we are looking for positive action."

Master Bath Has Many Variations

Want a master bath without adding a room? A compartmented bath, which can be designed for multiple use, may be the answer to your problem, according to Robert Huff, home improvement director for Marlite paneling.

He points out that a compartmented bath may be linked to the master bedroom, while the other door provides access from the hall. With compartmentation, two people can use the bathroom in privacy at the same time.

"By putting the toilet and tub in a compartment which opens into the hall and dressing area in a second compartment adjacent to the bedroom, you create a feeling of master bath privacy while making possible simultaneous use by the children," Huff says.

To avoid door swings, use sliding pocket doors. For easy maintenance, select a washable paneling that is highly resistant to heat, moisture and stains. In the dressing compartment, Huff suggests one of the new embossed panels by Marlite, such as one with soft linen stripes. This panel works well in small areas because, although it has a definite pattern, it does not tend to overpower a room.

Heat Up Some Memories With Chunky Soups

Years ago, the big soup kettle simmering all day on the back burner of the stove was sort of an American institution. Now, thanks to canned Chunky Soups, treating your family to the home-style goodness and flavor of delicious soup is as easy as opening a can.

Choose from the four original Chunky Soups . . . Chunky Chicken, Chunky Beef, Chunky Turkey, or Chunky Vegetable. Or, try one of the two new additions . . . Chunky Clam Chowder and Chunky Sirloin Burger.

Ready to heat and serve, Chunky Sirloin Burger makes a great main course for a busy day. And, while the soup heats you'll have time to whip up a sweet 'n simple dessert . . . Chocolate-Banana Parfaits.

For extra flair and flavor, garnish bowls of Chunky Sirloin Burger Soup with a dollop of Sour Cream-Horseradish Topping just before serving.

SOUR CREAM-HORSERADISH TOPPING

Combine 2 tablespoons sour cream and 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish. Spoon on 2 servings of Chunky Sirloin Burger Soup.

CHOCOLATE-BANANA PARFAITS

1 package (about 4½ ounces) chocolate instant pudding mix
1 medium banana, chopped
1 cup whipped topping
¼ cup chopped walnuts
Generous dash ground cinnamon

Prepare pudding as directed on package. Combine remaining ingredients. In 4 parfait glasses, alternate layers of pudding and banana mixture. Garnish with additional walnuts. Makes 4 servings.

Huff adds that local building material dealers have complete information on plastic-finished hardboard, including the new embossed and textured panels that can be used so effectively in remodeling a bathroom.

CARVED LEAF—This deep-textured panel by Marlite, called carved leaf, is available in 16" x 8" planks. Tongue-and-grooved edges simplify fitting. Marlite has a washable plastic finish that reduces maintenance to the minimum.

Vivian (Mrs. Calvin) L. Pruitt

Iowa's First Black Woman to be Elected District President in the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

For over 40 years Mrs. VIVIAN PRUITT, wife of State Capitol employee, Calvin Pruitt, has been active in public affairs. A native of Kansas City, Kansas, she first developed an interest in public service while acting as an assistant to her father — a political committeeman in Kansas. This interest was nurtured and has manifested itself in the various activities in which she participated associated with the work of her son, the Rev. John L. Shaw, an A.M.E. minister in Leeds, Missouri; and in her own programs and projects.

Mrs. Pruitt was graduated from high school in St. Louis, Missouri, and later completed training and became certified as a Cosmetician. For several years she was an active business woman — owning two beauty salons and a grocery store in both Kansas and Missouri. It was during this period that she came face to face with the complex problems involved in business and economic development, and became politically active in the Republican Party.

In 1958, Mrs. Pruitt moved to Des Moines and from 1960 to 1970 was employed in the pre-auditing section of the Sales and Income Tax Division of the Iowa State Revenue Department. At the present time she is working in the Polk County Recorder of Deeds Office.

Most of Mrs. Pruitt's present day activity is centered in the Veterans of Foreign War organizations. From an active member in the Roy Leonard Follin Auxiliary No. 5487, she has been elected Chaplain, Junior Vice, Senior Vice and President, respectively. During the last few years most of her activity is confined to the Fifth District where she has been elected Chaplain, President, Trustee, Chairman of the Americanism and Loyalty Day, and Chief Deputy of Staff. Her work as President includes the inspection and conduction of Auxiliary and District meetings. It covers 15 Auxiliaries, 839 members, and 22 officers. The Auxiliaries are located in Winterset, Knoxville, Ames, Ankeny, Indianola, Nevada, West Des Moines, and Des Moines. There are 7 Auxiliaries in Des Moines.

Election to the Presidency in the Fifth District came in May, 1970 — installation was conducted in Davenport, Iowa. Because of her outstanding work in the Promotion of Unity among the Auxiliaries — throughout the Post — and for her participation in Activities in behalf of the District, she has been the recipient of many gifts and courtesies; and was honored at an Appreciation Tea in May, 1971, and was attended by officers and members of the VFW Auxiliaries and Posts and friends from all over the State.

In addition to her work in the VFW, Mrs. Pruitt is quite active in the Federation of Women and Civic Club — the Rosa L. Gragg Club; and in the Rose Temple No. 33 of the Elks — IBPOE Post.

Her work with the Elks began in 1949, and she has served as Gatekeeper, Chaplain, Assistant Daughter Ruler, and Vice Daughter Ruler. In 1968 she was awarded the coveted Post Grand Ruler Collar for her $1,000 scholarship contribution to worthy students while working with the Education Board.

Mrs. Pruitt's work with the Republican Party has included serving as Assistant Co-chairman of the Black Republicans working closely with the elected chairman, the Honorable William Parker, Judge of the Municipal Court in Waterloo. Mr. Parker is now serving in Washington, D.C. She has also assisted in the planning and hosting of social functions within the Governor's Mansion and has made herself available within the Party structure for activity where and when she was needed. She is currently an appointive member to the Executive Board in the Iowa Republican Womens Club.

A soft-speaking, dignified and gracious woman, Mrs. Pruitt has quietly and effectively participated in groups and organizations where she believed she was needed and could utilize her skills and ability in the service of others. She has often captivated the hearts of the people with whom she worked — evidenced by the many felicitations conferred upon her.

Technocrats' Techniques

The technocrats are once again commanding our attention, via space walks, moon buggies and the possibility of cassette television. Even today's modern office equipment is becoming "2001" efficient. Making secretarial headlines is IBM's new Selectric II typewriter. It comes with a dual pitch mechanism, allowing the typist to alternate between two distinct spacings with a flick of a lever. Letters and reports can be typed in a large 10 characters-per-inch style; documents and forms in a compact 12 character style.

Black Congressmen Ask Political Parties To Lead in Redistricting Procedures

WASHINGTON, D. C. OCTOBER 20, 1971 — The Congressional Black Caucus has insisted that the leadership of the Republican and Democratic parties exert maximum influence on state party officials to develop a plan of action that guarantees substantial blocs of minority voters are not arbitrarily divided into separate districts in redrawing the district lines. They asserted that the parties must take direct action.

In a letter to each party chairman, Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins (D-Calif.), Vice Chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus, said, "Failure on the part of the national committees of both parties to strenuously oppose the deliberate breaking up of Black voting blocs by redistricting constitutes tacit approval of such procedures." Hawkins was representing the Caucus Chairman, Charles Diggs (D-Mich.), who is currently serving as United States Representative to the United Nations General Assembly (26th Session).

The 13 Congressmen stated that the question of Black political representation is the priority over the discussions of urban vs. rural representation in redistricting. Rep. Hawkins said in his letter, "We are greatly disturbed by the prevailing theme of urban vs. rural representation in most discussions concerning the problem of redistricting." The Congressional Black Caucus was "horrified at the prospect of the spectre of the late 19th century rising to diminish or eliminate Black representation in the Congress of the United States."

Presently, there are 13 Black members of the House and one member of the Senate. Therefore, the situation raised by the Black Caucus is that more than 30 million Black Americans, 15 percent of the total U. S. population, have only three percent of the representation in the House of Representatives, and only one percent in the Senate. Also, the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia and Mississippi have major percentages of Black populations, but neither of these states has a single Black representative of this population in the U. S. Congress, according to the Black Caucus. The State of Alabama has more than a 30 percent Black population, according to available Census figures; 42 percent of the population of Mississippi is Black; Georgia has 29 percent and Arkansas shows 22 percent. "Such glaring disparity in representation," Hawkins added, "cannot be passed over as being an unfortunate accident."

The letter, which was mailed on Wednesday, October 20, clearly stated that the "Congressional Black Caucus contends that there is a national movement to dissipate Black political power," and blamed the national political parties for it by their failure to exert strong opposition to diminish those districts with substantial Black votes.

This move by the Caucus, according to a spokesman, is the continuing efforts of the 13 Black Congressmen to represent, to the best of their abilities, the political dreams and concrete demands of their constituents and all Black Americans.

Wainscots Now Back In Kitchen

Wainscots, long associated with traditional kitchen decor, are back in the decorative forefront. Today, these wainscots are done with prefabricated paneling, which helps set the mood for the entire room.

A particularly effective dining area in a combination kitchen features Marlite's shell pattern paneling for the wainscot and a new green Riviera tile pattern on the upper walls.

Like all Marlite, these plastic-finished panels can be damp-wiped clean. Coffee, food stains, and messy handprints will not spoil the surface of this paneling. Local building material dealers have complete information on this prefabricated paneling for remodeling or new homes.

Color Coordination Key To Decoration

Color coordination in a remodeling project becomes a simple exercise in common sense when you reduce the problem to working around one key color.

For instance, the key color in a room may be blue, green, or pink.

Easy To Plan

Paneling manufacturers, such as Marlite, are coordinating their lines so it is easy for the homeowner to plan a room.

Since bathrooms usually are high on the remodeling priority list, let's take a look at how this color coordination actually works.

To create a feminine decor, perhaps for two teen daughters, combine a cool green wainscot and an embossed green linen stripe paneling on the upper walls.

Another effective bathroom treatment is a gold wainscot with a gold fern-patterned paneling on the upper wall.

Dressing Area

For a dressing area off the master bath, consider a blue wainscot with a blue yortile upper wall. This paneling has a soft delft pattern that is very pleasing to the eye.

Another feminine decorative treatment can be achieved with a pink wainscot and a pink fleece paneling on the upper wall.

Marlite produces harmonizing moldings for use with all of its plastic-finished paneling, which simplifies the use of color-coordinated panels in the same area.

The washable paneling comes in 4' x 8' sheets and 16" wide planks. The home handyman can easily install the convenient-size planks, for they have tongue-and-grooved edges that simplify fitting and speed application.

ON THE NATIONAL LEVEL THE SEATING OF RED CHINA IN THE U.N. is topic number one! The event follows a 22 year battle over China's U.N. representation. The subject remains as large as large can be.

ON THE LOCAL LEVEL next Tuesday's election of two - year at - large City Council members is all there is to talk about - virtually all. Listed from left to right in Wednesday morning's October 27 Des Moines Register are Russ LaVine, Jack Nicodemus, Carol Hammer and Evelyn Loggins. This statement is the quietest observation uttered by any Des Moines mortal, I am sure. Ah, the community is so excited, so hurried, so busy.

EVELYN LOGGINS IS AT LEAST one of the most widely discussed first - time candidates ever to enter the political arena. Curious about the schedule of a political candidate, I caught up with Evelyn just as she and the younger members of her brood set off on the simple task of purchasing milk (and a relaxing ride, really). (Togetherness?) I climbed my SAAB and dinked into their wagon.

RELAXING. EVELYN ASKED Tanya (5 yr. old granddaughter) and the fellows, Floyd, Jr. 13 and Charles 12, about caramel apples, her favorite goodie as well as their's. The boys were all for "making" them. It seems they really can. So we had caramel apples along with my contribution of corn kurls (?) - whatever. (Sound good?) Floyd, Jr. offered further proof of his cooking skill - "won't you have some rice and chicken? I cooked it!" And so I did. Some of the hottest food (pepper) and most delicious concoction I've ever eaten. Floyd, Jr. is a super cook! More importantly, realizing what his mother was about that day, this was the young man's offering and surprise for her. You see, Floyd, Jr. and Charles are the clerks in the Loggins campaign. These two are the young blood of their mother's organization - a very real help. "They" hope to win. (When Mrs. Loggins attended the President's Youth Conference, she carried with her all of her children! "This way they learn," she says.)

ON SATURDAY NIGHT AT YOUNKERS TEA ROOM, The Elks will honor six of its members. They are Vivian Pruitt, Thelma Calderon, Juanita Brown, Freda Garland, Wm. Carver and Anna Ruth Russell. The testimonial dinner is another fine affair by this tremendous organization! See you there!

FROM YOUNKERS I SHALL ATTEND THE KOSCOT KABARET at Johnny & Kay's fabulous Hyatt House, see the oh so pretty professional models made most beautiful by Koscot Kosmetics, and dressed in high fashion at its best, Feldman's Phase II merchandise, and enjoy entertainment by the staff of Radio Station KYNA-FM 9.4 on your dial. Late evening dancing which continues until dawn.

Five-Member Fishing Trip to Canada

Members of a six-day fishing expedition invaded Lake of the Woods, Nester Falls, Canada, were Thomas Reilly, Billy Yost, of Adel, Iowa, Malcolm Hogan, Clyde Morris, and James B. Morris, Jr.

The men enjoyed a trip with the full accommodations of cooking and outdoor facilities of a live - in camper. However, they preferred to go first class during the trip and, therefore, had the accommodations of Bull Moose Lodge, which is owned by black entrepreneurship. Here they were provided full on the site cook - in meals and lodging, all of this in lieu of the good life on wheels throughout their stay in Canada. The trip was an immense pleasure as is certified by the photos showing a one - day catch of walleyes and northern pike. Their lake trout catch weighed up to 10 lbs. each. The photo shows only the walleyed pike but it is hoped by the men that a dinner sometime during the winter will provide an opportunity to establish proof of the Lake Trout.

Any persons hoping to enjoy a trip of this nature may contact either of these men. They will be glad to discuss the arrangements for such a trip, which is a certain enjoyable family vacation.

PAULINE B. HUMPHREY, Manager

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Just how much may a "lady" properly make up in public?

A. The rules regarding this are much more relaxed than they were once upon a time. However, anything too technical in the matter of making up—hair combs, mascara applying, painting on of lips, application of a cake makeup, manicuring—are all in very bad taste. A light dusting of powder and an unobtrusive repair of lipstick are acceptable—and usual—in public places.

Q. Is one supposed to open one's napkin into the lap as soon as one sits down at the table, or should one wait until the food is served?

A. Guests should wait until the hostess takes up her napkin before opening their napkins.

Q. When a girl is attending a boy friend's church with him and his parents, is she supposed to drop an offering of her own into the collection plate when it is passed?

A. Although not exactly required of her, still it would be nice of her to give an offering of her own—just as for any good cause.

Q. Someone has told me it's not good manners to use the handkerchief while at the dinner table. Is this true?

A. This is not so much a matter of "good manners" as of "necessity." Certainly, if the handkerchief is necessary, use it—but do so as inconspicuously and as quietly as possible.

Q. Is it all right, if more convenient, to mail out the marriage announcements a few days before the wedding itself?

A. No—and for the simple and logical reason that the couple is not really "married" before the wedding has taken place. These announcements are properly mailed out immediately after the ceremony.

Q. Should one have salad forks, or may medium-sized regular forks be used?

A. The medium-sized fork serves all purposes and is always in good taste.

Q. What is the correct salutation to a business letter written jointly to a man and woman?

A. "Dear Sir and Madam."

Your professional hairdresser knows the answer...

Was haircoloring first done in Africa?

Centuries ago in Africa (before it was explored by Europeans) beautiful black women used herbs and other ingredients to change the color of their hair. It was one way to complement their dark rich complexions...to accent their natural warmth and beauty. Whether or not Africans were the first to use this method, no one is sure. Yet, they are among the first in terms of recorded history to go through the then-tedious process of coloring their hair.

Today changing your haircolor can be as quick and as brief as a visit to your professional hairdresser. That's because many professional hairdressers use Miss Clairol® Hair Color to lighten hair, to make slight color changes and to cover gray. Hairdressing experts know that exotic blacks and browns are generally gorgeous for darker skin tones. Golden or red shades are stunning for lighter tan complexions.

Today black pride brings you closer to the cultural ways of your African heritage. Haircoloring is a part of black history too. Ask your professional hairdresser about changing your hair color with Miss Clairol...and be more beautiful than you already are.

Vote in Election Is Important

The city primaries on October 19 nominated candidates to be voted on Tuesday, November 2. Frankly, there are some posts that many voters will grit their teeth when they vote.

There was a time when able strong citizens ran for public office. The make up of our city governments just about sets up a committee which acts as a legislative body and a manager is the executive office. Few people vie for the offices.

And while the city manager system has its merits, too often a pretty sorry pack predominate as candidates.

We have the candidates, there remains the responsibility of citizens to go to the polls and vote.

Finally Some Practical Communications with China

In keeping with the policy of this country to look with disapproval upon governments taken over by force, it has supported Nationalist China over the years. And Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and his brilliant wife have continually sold America on the idea that his nationalist army would again take over the mainland and become the ruling party.

Years have gone by, we have dumped millions in to help our friends. We have kept them in the United Nations. The Peoples Republic of China, with more than a half billion people has been kept out of the UN. No communication with them has been had and yet they have infiltrated our country and others one after another making us fight to save our hides from Communism.

Other nations have recognized Red China and done business with them. They have not been hurt. And to admit them to the UN, as was done Monday, will make little difference in their attitudes toward Communism. On the other hand, it opens the door to nations to see what's going on and in the meantime better our relations with them.

America is a great strong country. It is a leading country and has the responsibility to help keep peace in the world. Better relations with China will help.

It is reported that some members of Congress are threatening to cut off funds it has appropriated each year for the support of the UN. This is a silly position to take. It would gain nothing other than demonstrate that our faith in democratic actions stops when we lose a vote.

The Iowa Bystander is definitely opposed to communism but it is a large factor in the world today and must be dealt with intelligently.

Mutilating Negro History

More emphasis is being placed on Negro history today than ever before. Not that the opportunity to learn was unavailable, but it escaped most people who failed to read their own newspapers, books and periodicals; also that most schools gave it little attention.

Negro spirituals constitute one of the great contributions Negroes have made in this country. The music is beautiful and Negroes and many whites sing them with great fervor and beauty.

The white world produced many beautiful historical musical numbers both in America and the old country. They sing them today just as their ancestors did and thus the music remains beautiful and as they were written.

Negro spirituals, a great part of history, are being mutilated and sung with rhythm that changes everything about them and, of course, the beautiful melody.

We preserve relics by leaving them in their original state and, if partially destroyed, restore them to their original appearance.

This part of Negro history is not being preserved in its original state. It is unfortunate, with all the money being spent on education and the improvement of music departments, particularly in predominately Negro schools. Music lovers and Negro historians should bend every effort to keep alive Negro spirituals as they were sung by their ancestors and not twist and turn them into tunes that are a disgrace and a lack of appreciation of this piece of Negro history.

Football Certain

Some guy once said that football is a funny game. He also said that on certain days any team is apt to beat any other team. Or as they used to say about the Big Ten: "On a given day any Big Ten team is apt to beat any other conference team." Well, last Saturday must have been that given day, not only for the Big Ten, but for just about all of the college and pro football teams around the country. There were the luckless Hawkeyes, making nineteen first downs, and not scoring one touchdown. The Michigan State team fumbled fourteen times, and still Iowa didn't score! And yet, one must think that those fellows will suddenly put it all together and upset some team that they shouldn't beat. They have four more games left, and two of them at home. Let's keep our fingers crossed. One of our pool hall coaches says they don't have anything to come up with. He could be right. But, we have always argued that winning football was a combination of two of three factors, luck, emotion, and ability. The Iowa team seems to have the emotion. Now, if they can somehow get one of those other things on their side. By luck we mean keeping free from injuries to important men, major penalties on crucial downs, and getting a few bounces of that funny bouncing football. Those are the things that have plagued Iowa in the games we saw.

Iowa State Home-Coming
Iowa State had a glorious homecoming. Any game is a good one when your team wins. But, as good as the

With Allen Ashby

Cyclones looked, they got a lot of help from Kansas that they won't get from either Oklahoma or Nebraska. It was good to see the smile on the face of the Iowa State coach when he realized his boys had this one in the bag. Majors knows what Iowa's coach is going through. And, like Majors, FXL will bring his charges up in a short time.

One wonders whether the state boys would have a better offense with Moses running at the other running back slot. If they did, they would have to be given a chance with just about anybody.

Drake

Drake had a field day to bounce back from that Tampa debacle. The Bulldogs can have a fine season, and might possibly get one of those small bowl bids that float around. Do you know, we haven't seen Drake play once this year, and they have finished their home schedule? Oh, well, can't be every place.

High School Football

Here at home, Dowling won the big one with

Roosevelt, and now has a fired up Lincoln team waiting. They figure to get by this one. The Maroons should key on Hamman, and it should be a long evening for him. But, if they get careless, the big guy could hurt them. North and East are having a "Wait till next year" season. And, we might add, so is Tech. We kept thinking the Tech boys were going to spill someone. But they didn't seem to have the reserves necessary to keep their best men from having to go both ways, and they just couldn't stand the pace.

Pro Foot

Those of us who were watching the pro game between the Bears and Lions last Sunday didn't know what we were seeing when that player collapsed. We always hate to even think of those things, and yet, there is always a possibility when teams play such hard rugged football that someone will really get hurt. The key to insurance from serious injuries is conditioning, and we guess the big teams try to stress that. But, even then the fellow with the scythe slips into the act and makes everyone wish he hadn't seen it. When we think of how many years we kids played the game with little or no protection, and never got hurt badly, we have to realize that we were under somebody's wing. For our contact was just as hard and violent for us as that between players is today for these fellows.

Somebody said that we hadn't mentioned the World's Series. Man, I am still speechless. But, glad the Pirates won, even though we are not really a baseball fan.

LOOK OUT FOR LICORICE ADDICTS

Ex-smokers switch to all kinds of substitutes. Like licorice drops. It sounds harmless enough. But sometimes it isn't.

According to a recent United Press International report, one man was rushed to the Bryn Mawr Hospital in Pennsylvania as an emergency patient. He had most of the signs of a heart attack, but diagnostic tests showed no attack had in fact occurred. However, the heart muscle was behaving badly. The man's body chemistry was too alkaline, and the potassium in his blood was at a critically low level. There were also symptoms of kidney failure.

After 24 hours of tests, the patient happened to mention that he had quit cigarettes three months earlier and now ate licorice drops instead. Surprised by the serious interest of the examining physicians, he said he had been eating about a quarter of a pound every day for months.

As a result of this case, the word is being spread through the medical world to watch out for licorice addiction among ex-smokers. Licorice depletes the amount of potassium in the blood that is necessary to keep the heart pumping.

Once the diagnosis of "licorice intoxication" was confirmed, it took 33 days in the hospital to restore the normal level of potassium in the man's blood. But at the end of that time, all his symptoms were gone.

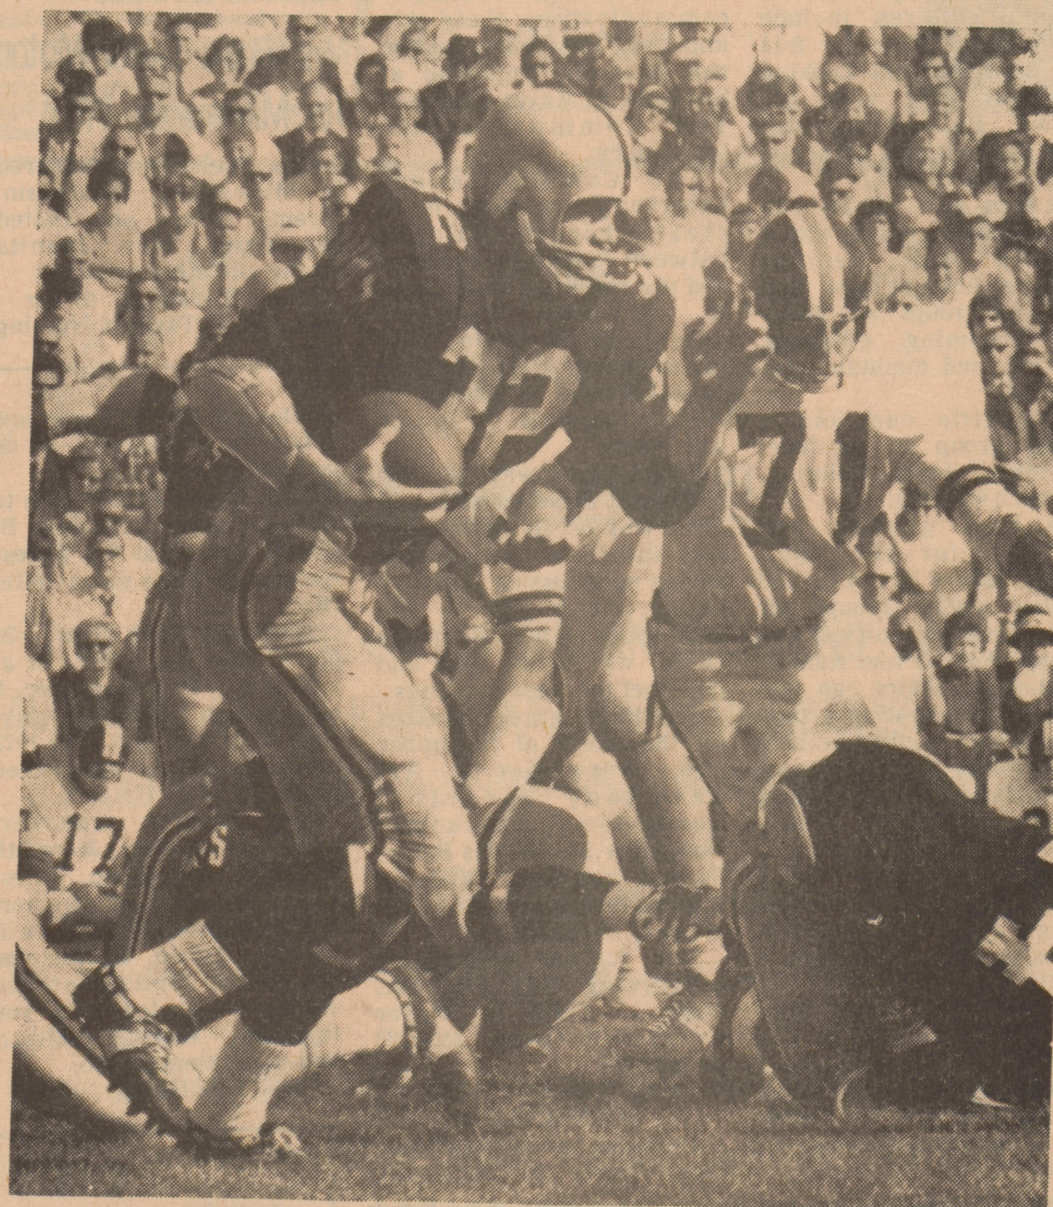

Too much of any one substitute for cigarette smoking can have ominous repercussions. But quitting smoking, accompanied by sensible substitutes, is an essential step toward health.

A CONCERNED CONGRESSMAN

Congressman John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.) is concerned about some of the new, non-phosphate detergents. He wrote in a recent magazine article: "... a wide array of low quality but higher priced hoaxes, some of them dangerously caustic, is being fobbed off on American housewives under the banner 'Look — no nasty phosphates!' " Congressman Blatnik is Chairman of the House Public Works Committee.

In 1957, when Iowa beat Oregon State 35 to 19 in the Rose Bowl Game, you could buy a box of popcorn for ten cents, a cup of coffee cost a nickel, and a congratulatory station call from Iowa to Pasadena, California, after the game cost $2.20.

Today you can make that same call after 5 p.m. weekdays, or all day Saturday and Sunday, for 75¢ or less if you dial direct without operator assistance.

A little money still goes a long way on the telephone.
