Oppose Rehnquist for High Court Florabelle Gilmore Dies in N Y

Was First Black Drake Law Graduate

by marri johnson
Mrs. Florabelle Gilmore, formerly of Des Moines and a patent attorney in New York City, died in Roosevelt Hospital there on Tuesday, November 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gilmore, her parents, first learned of their daughter's illness on Monday night, November 1, when the Des Moines police department received a teletype from the New York Police Department, seeking to locate Florabelle's family. She was in Roosevelt Hospital partially paralyzed and unable to speak, and it was at first thought she had met with foul play. Neurological studies revealed that she had a blood defect. On Tuesday, November 2, she lapsed into a coma and never regained consciousness.

At her bedside were Mr. and Mrs. Bartel Gilmore, her brother and sister-in-law; Mrs. Billie Wheeler, Mrs. Carmen Logan and Mrs. Almo Jean Hawkins, her sisters; Mrs. Wheeler, a nursing instructor, provided round-the-clock nursing to her sister.

On Monday night, November 2, Mr. and Mrs. Bartel Gilmore of Juneau, Alaska, arrived for a visit with the Gilmores and so were on hand at the time of the New York City call. Bartel, after conversing with his sister's physician, arranged a flight via Minneapolis, Minnesota for New York. By the end of the neurological examinations, the pair was on hand Tuesday afternoon, November 2, at Roosevelt Hospital to receive the test results.

Miss Gilmore, was an associate on the staff of Haseltine, Lake and Company, a foreign patents, designs and trademarks associate practice located at 19 West Forty-fourth Street, New York City.

Education in Des Moines

Miss Gilmore completed her elementary and high school education at Crocker and North High Schools. While completing her high school education, she was employed by James B. Morris, attorney and publisher of the Iowa Bystander. Through the efforts of Mr. Morris, she found evening employment

NW Bell Compliments

In one of its publicity pieces, Northwest Bell said this of Florabelle: "In addition to studying and working full time, Florabelle found time to teach modern dance at the YWCA, did charity work at Veterans Administration Hospital and served on the Drake student-faculty council. She was at one time a Drake cheerleader. She also performed with a university theatre group and worked on the school paper."

At Drake

In Drake University's QUAX of 1955, a photograph shows her as a Student Union Committee member. The group is said to have produced two Kampus Knite Clubs that year — "Flapper Days" and "Springtime in Paris." A 1957 QUAX pictures her as a member of the Contemporary Dance

Group Enroute to Pella College Hurt in Mishap

A party of eleven persons, ten of whom were children was injured Saturday, November 6, when the van in which they were riding overturned on Iowa Highway 163 about a mile west of Monroe, Iowa.

The party was enroute to Central College, Pella, Iowa, where they were scheduled for a class in black history. The ten youngsters were all students at Moulton Elementary School in Des Moines.

Driver of the 1970 Ford van was charged with failure to have control of his vehicle when approaching an intersection.

Several Injured

Three of the youngsters were hospitalized at Community Hospital in Pella and later transferred to Broadlawn Polk County Hospital.

The youngsters were listed as follows: John Harris 11, son of Mrs. Jeanette Bruce, who suffered a head injury; Dwayne Ziegler, 11, son of Mrs. Carolyn Ziegler, who suffered a broken leg; and Dennis Irvin, 11, son of Mrs. Barbara Irvin, who also suffered a broken leg.

Indite Mississippians for Beating Black Prisoner

A federal grand jury today indicted two members of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol and a jailer at the Hinds County Jail on charges of beating a black prisoner who was being arrested.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell said the indictment was returned in U.S. District Court in Jackson, Mississippi.

The indictment names the defendants as Patrolmen Donald Rawson and Thomas S. Latham, and jailer Dave Crisler of the Hinds County Sheriff's Office.

The prisoner was identified as Amos Gatlin, 29, of Terry, Mississippi.

The indictment charges that on January 23, 1971, the defendants deprived Gatlin of his civil rights while acting under color of law when they struck and beat the prisoner while he was being booked on charges of suffered torn ligaments and muscles of the left arm and hand. She added that surgery was performed at 5:00 o'clock Saturday evening at Community Hospital, Pella, Iowa. When phoned on Wednesday, November 10, she stated that George is doing a lot better.

Mrs. Turner further stated that George was returned to Des Moines Sunday evening, November 7, by members of the group. Mrs. Turner had received the invitation from William Jewett for George's participation in the course at Central College. Jewett, she said, teaches at Moulton Elementary School.

Treated and released at the Pella hospital, it is said, were Ben Harris 11, son of Mrs. Helen Walden, who suffered a blood nose and a whiplash, and Phil Simon 14, son of Mrs. Darlene G. Simon, who suffered head cuts.

Northwestern Black Students Shut Down Dialogue

EVANSTON, Illinois — Black students at Northwestern University have served notice on the administration that they will no longer tolerate the use of Africa House or the academic community to promote the exploitation, oppression and enslavement of Black people in South Africa.

THE REASON for the denunciation was the scheduled appearance of Catherine Taylor, a member of South Africa's parliament at the Northwestern Harris Hall to speak to primarily Black students. The speaker had previously requested to come to Northwestern University to speak but was rejected.

Apparently without consulting the Black student body, Gwendolyn Carter, Director of Africa House and Professor of Political Science at the school granted her permission to come and address the students after receiving a second request.

After being introduced by the director, Mrs. Taylor approached the podium but was cut off by an African student who proceeded to read the prepared statement. Mrs. Taylor was never allowed to give her address as the program was taken over by Black students who conducted the balance of the program against apartheid.

NAACP and Leadership Conference Cite Bad Civil Rights Record

WASHINGTON — Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was scheduled to testify this week before the Senate Judiciary Committee in opposition to confirmation of William H. Rehnquist for the Supreme Court of the United States on the basis of the nominee's anti-civil rights record.

Shortly after President Nixon announced his nomination of Mr. Rehnquist, leaders of the Phoenix, Ariz., NAACP Branch — State Senator Claves Campbell, Billie Mills and Robert Horn — cited his opposition to civil rights legislation and school desegregation plans in his home city. They called for rejection of the nomination.

'Dangerous'
On Sunday, Oct. 31, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins, addressing a mass meeting at the annual conference of the Virginia State NAACP in Old Point, warned that the Arizona nominee, now a top lawyer in the Department of Justice, "offers a dangerous future" as a Supreme Court Justice because "he may not be able to see you for law and order."

At a meeting of Washington representatives of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, Nov. 2, it was agreed that the Conference would oppose the Rehnquist nomination and would testify against it. Mr. Wilkins is chairman of the conference and Mr. Mitchell, chairman of the group's legislative committee.

Leadership Conference Report

A Leadership Conference renaming of area high schools. ACTION seeks to have Northwest changed to Angela Davis High School; Soldan to Robert Curtis High; Beaumont to Malcolm X High; and Central to Dr. Martin Luther King High. It is said approximately twenty-five (25) thousand leaflets entitled "2 Days Off — Robert Curtis — Angela Davis Days" and having pictures of Attorney Robert Curtis, a former controversial St. Louis Legal Aid lawyer, now with a Legal Aid Project in Newark, New Jersey, and Angela Davis, have been circulated.

report said: "Mr. Rehnquist was the only major public witness (in 1964) against a Phoenix public accommodations law, arguing that the right of private property took precedence over public convenience and principle. When there was a move against 'de facto' segregation in the Phoenix schools in 1967, Rehnquist opposed the move, stating, 'We are no more dedicated to an integrated society than we are to a segregated society.'"

Representatives at the November 2 meeting "were also persuaded to oppose the nomination by evidence of Mr. Rehnquist's extreme rightwing views, expressed in pronouncements he has issued as head of the Justice Department's Office of Legal Counsel, in which he attempts to justify wiretapping, imprisonment of demonstrators without due process and denial of full constitutional rights to Federal, state and local government employees and to women."

Neither the NAACP nor the Leadership Conference took a position on the nomination of Lewis F. Powell, Jr., of Virginia whom President Nixon named for the other Supreme Court vacancy at the time he announced the Rehnquist nomination. In a letter sent to branch leaders throughout the country, Mr. Mitchell noted: "We are concentrating on the Rehnquist nomination because the record on him is clear. We do not have the same kind of information on Mr. Powell. However, this does not mean that we support the Powell nomination."

In New York, Jerry M. Guess, NAACP field director for New York and New England, alerted the branches in these states to move promptly to mobilize sentiment against the Rehnquist nomination: "We cannot overemphasize the importance of your organizing a letter-writing and telephone-lobbying campaign involving members of the branch and other groups and organizations who are sympathetic with our point of view."

Planned Variation Election To Be Held Sat. Nov. 13, 1971

Des Moines was selected, along with 20 other cities in the nation, to participate in Planned Variations, an expanded Model Cities Program, making funds available so that they may be applied in ways that citizens can get the services they need most. In the past, Model Cities was confined to one neighborhood, with Planned Variations, Model Cities, is expanded into a city-wide program.

Neighborhood Boards are presently being formed to determine the needs in their individual areas; the following areas have been designated as prime service areas in the Planned Variation Program: WOODLAND-WILLKIE, LOGAN, PIONEER-COLUMBUS, SOUTHEAST, FOUR MILE.

Prime Areas

After the aforementioned prime service areas were selected, the residents of these areas, formed "interim boards, and public meetings were held, at their respective areas. These interim boards merely were to organize the prime service area's neighborhoods, and were instrumental in distributing information regarding the Planned Variation Program.

From the interim boards, election committees were formed, again by the residents of that prime service area. Nomination papers were drawn up, election policies, and terms of office, and candidates who would be vying for seats, on their individual neighborhood priority boards, to make recommendations of all and any needed services in their respective neighborhoods.

Election Policy Different

Each election policy is different in all the prime service areas, and the number of seats varies in each neighborhood; since population varies in each of prime service areas, the neighborhood seats to be occupied is varied.

Rallies were held in each prime service area, which gave each candidate, a chance to give his or her views relating to his or her neighborhood.

Vote November 13

The election for the neighborhood priority boards, will be Saturday, November 13; each area will use either mobile or stationary voting units, some will use both.

We have received great cooperation from the City Clerk's Office, in support of the election process. An instructional meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening, November 11, at 7:00 p.m., to be held in the Council Chambers; this meeting is for all clerks, judges, and poll workers; one major requirement, in the election process, is that only experienced poll workers, clerks, and judges, be present in all voting units.

Old Y Members Due Remember

Just about a year ago, the Dear Old 'Y' Camp Club was formed to help assure the continuation of the Y Camp opportunity for thousands of youngsters in years to come.

A group of former campers and leaders, feeling that Y Camp had made better men of them, wanted to try and give something back. A camp providing better than 50 years of service has some needs which only money can furnish. So, the Dear Old 'Y' Camp Club was formed to see if former Y Campers would like to share in supplying the resources to help meet these needs.

The results have been truly exciting. 162 former campers and leaders have contributed approximately $4300.00 during this past year for the betterment of Y Camp. The funds have been carefully used to do those things which otherwise would have gone undone because of budgetary limitations.

EEOC Schedules Public Utilities Hearings On Minority Employment

Top executives of major gas and electric utility companies will participate in the U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's three-day public hearings to discuss employment patterns of minority and women workers. The hearings will be held November 15, 16 and 17 in the Department of the Interior auditorium, 18th and C Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Chairman Brown said that the purpose of the hearings is to explore the particular advances made by some companies in providing equal employment opportunity and the techniques which produced such advances. The Commission will also explore the reasons some companies are not successful in providing full equal employment opportunities.

Minority group and women workers in the utility industry are compressed in the unskilled, low-paying jobs, according to employment statistics reported annually to EEOC. These statistics are required by law of all employers of 100 or more persons.

This is the fourth public hearing scheduled by the Commission. Other hearings were held in New York City (1968), Los Angeles (1969) and Houston (1970).

Measure Will Strengthen EEO

On Thursday, October 21st, the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee reported out a version of the bill to strengthen the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission that we can readily and wholeheartedly support.

The bill still carries the original number, S. 2515, although some amendments were adopted in committee. However, none of the amendments makes a serious change in the bill. We enclose an analysis of the measure with this MEMO.

FLORABELLE GILMORE, ATTORNEY, is a loss to her beloved family and friends and to black people in general. Accounting for the last phrase, mention must be made that here is one young woman, who came from a large closely knit, religious family and worked her way to the very top in the law profession. She was a credit to women, and to her profession, to her brothers and sisters and God's gift to Rev. and Mrs. Allen Gilmore.

GIVEN THE OPPORTUNITY, I hope to do a larger story of Florabel Gilmore, Atty.

THE MACK CARSON GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY is another fine affair. It seems that more and more celebrations are taking place. As I try to think of earlier events these come to mind: that of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Morris, the William Robinsons, the Robert Wright, Sr., and now the Mack Carsons. These are selected without reference to which category or to the year celebrated — just what came to mind.

See you — next week.

Your professional hairdresser knows the answer...

Was haircoloring first done in Africa?

Centuries ago in Africa (before it was explored by Europeans) beautiful black women used herbs and other ingredients to change the color of their hair. It was one way to complement their dark rich complexions... to accent their natural warmth and beauty. Whether or not Africans were the first to use this method, no one is sure. Yet, they are among the first in terms of recorded history to go through the then-tedious process of coloring their hair.

Today changing your haircolor can be as quick and as brief as a visit to your professional hairdresser. That's because many professional hairdressers use Miss Clairol® Hair Color to lighten hair, to make slight color changes and to cover gray. Hairdressing experts know that exotic blacks and browns are generally gorgeous for darker skin tones. Golden or red shades are stunning for lighter tan complexions.

Today black pride brings you closer to the cultural ways of your African heritage. Haircoloring is a part of black history too. Ask your professional hairdresser about changing your hair color with Miss Clairol... and be more beautiful than you already are.

Encourage Citizens to Stay Near Nature

The Iowa Development Commission has been for years conducting a campaign aimed at business and travel vacation designed to emphasize and or present the advantages Iowa offers. It has paid off in many areas as is evidenced by the industrial growth and the improved recreational facilities provided in different parts of the state.

Since the drop in employment, some states have discouraged citizens to move to their borders due, in part, to the fear that they might become public charges and thus a drain on their finances.

Now, at last, we are telling citizens what Iowa has to offer so as to draw more people to the state and thus reduce the net loss in population or its slow growth which automatically reduces representation in congress.

Most of the overall shift in population has come from small towns and farms. And they have concentrated in large cities where the grass looked green but experience has taught many of them otherwise. Many had no trades or are equipped to start low and advance to higher jobs. Thus, the ghetto evolved and many of these people can't get out, some would not if they could.

This country has great resources in the land. There is still public land owned by the U. S. Government. Life in the small towns may not be glamorous, but they offer opportunities for comfortable living. And while the federal government has done little to tackle this problem other than making loans, programs such as are provided in cities would help people on the farms and in small cities and get some to return from the overcrowded cities.

Iowa could use some of these people, especially those who WANT to work, build their character and that of their children. We should do more to get some of these people so as to keep pace proportionately with that of other states.

Abusing Rights and Privileges

Iowa maintains a traveling library which serves most areas of the state. Like the schools, they are free to purchase reading material which they believe meets the needs of the people and keeps them abreast of what goes on.

Operating funds come from the state and, like any other department of the government, must present their needs to the proper body for approval and, of course, or disapproval.

Recently, the state executive council was asked to approve payment of a subscription to Berkley Barb, an underground newspaper published in California. It is underground because the reading material is disgraceful and brings nothing constructive to its readers.

The council vetoed payment for the subscription and rightly so for the taxpayers should not be required to finance

"underground" material which helps to poison the minds of its readers.

A great howl has gone up accusing the council of setting themselves up as censors. There comes a time when sane people must. Somebody should stand up and disapprove many of those things that are glaringly unfit for young people. In fact we, along with our schools, have not had the courage to stand fast against many of those things which, in the name of the exercise of privileges and rights, have gotten the moral and ethical standards of the youngsters and oldsters in a mess - a mess it will be difficult to undo.

The executive council should be commended for exercising some backbone while spending the taxpayers money. Let these people who wish to read underground newspapers pay for them - the taxpayers should not be asked to do it.

Health for All

IMPLANTING MEDICATION

Taking medication is a daily routine for millions of people. Soon some of these medications may be implanted internally.

Today some TB patients must swallow as many as 30 pills a day to treat active disease. Some diabetics take insulin daily. People with allergies get weekly shots before each pollen season.

Now researchers are developing devices that can be implanted in the body to release chemicals at a steady rate over long periods. An ingenious, implantable pump about the size of a hockey puck has been developed by Perry J. Blackshear, a pre-med student at the University of Minnesota, who worked on the project with the departments of mechanical engineering and surgery. The pump, which is made of light stainless steel, releases medication through special tubes directly into a blood vessel or organ. Tested successfully on dogs but not yet on humans, the device, researchers predict, will be useful to administer potent anti-cancer drugs and insulin.

At the Alza Corporation in Palo Alto, California, researchers have already tested on humans a plastic wafer the size of a teardrop that is placed inside the lower eyelid of glaucoma patients to release medication.

Tomorrow the medication for many diseases, including TB, may be implanted directly in the body. But tomorrow may be far off. In the meantime, TB patients can help treat active disease and even prevent an outbreak of the disease by taking pills. To find out more about TB and how to treat it today, check with your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

ON THE SPORTS SCENE

BIG EIGHT AND BIG TEN FOOTBALL

What do you say when the two teams, Iowa U. and Iowa State had such afternoons. If one had all the ground gained by both teams combined stuck into his eye, it wouldn't be enough to cause much discomfort. But, still, the Cyclones have a chance for a good mark, if they can win their next two games. They have a good shot at beating both Missouri and Oklahoma State. This would give them a seven and three mark with a very possible win over San Diego State. Iowa faces an Indiana team that has lost three games by one point margins. Last week they lost to Illinois on a call that pictures seem to prove that somebody goofed. With the score 22-21 Illini, the Hoosiers were trying for a big play on fourth down. Their passer ran up to scrimmage line and fired a pass which was complete to the Illinois 22 yard line. But the play was called back because it was ruled that the passer had gone over the scrimmage line. After the game, but too late to reverse a pure judgement call, pictures showed that the passer hadn't run even up to the line before he threw the ball. That has been the story of the boys from Indiana all season. If there is a way to lose, they seem to find it. So, instead of first and ten on their opponent's twenty yard line, they lost the ball, and Illinois held on to preserve their narrow win. They have been victimized by such breaks all season, so one would have to say that they are over due for some good breaks. Let's hope they don't all come at once against Iowa. This game is for the cellar championship!

Drake

Drake had problems, and their coach says he goofed. Well, he isn't the first coach to goof, and he certainly won't be the last one. They might have pulled out their game with Southern Illinois if they had ten seconds more. The Bulldogs were supposed to win their remaining games in order to get a bowl bid. Now what?

Book on

Negro Athletes

Before we get into the situation at home, there is a little item that ought to be mentioned. The Gulf Oil company is featuring a book on famous black athletes. In order to get one of these books you should have cut out the coupon that was in the October 28 issue of the Bystander and mailed it in according to directions. But, if you did not read the ad and would like to have one of these books, call me at the Bystander, and I will see that you get one. I expect to hear from quite a few kids.

High School Football

Now, to the business at hand. It must have been quite a jolt to Dowling last Friday. But we were only mildly surprised. As we always argue, emotion plays a mighty important part in any football game, and we will bet that Heelan was as high as they could get and stay on the field. Defense is sixty percent frenzy, and the Sioux City boys must have been really fired up to shut off the usually potent Dowling running game. But after watching them practice just about all season, our chief observer said that a good passing team would beat them.

Phil Hamman of Lincoln had quite an evening. The big fellow sounded like a really good player. He threw blocks and made tackles besides running for a couple of acres of ground. Don't know how he can be kept off the all state teams, and we mean the first one. If there are any better backs around the state, we would like to see them. Last year Phil ran into the line with his head up, and gave some of his supporters anxious moments fearing that someone would behead him on one of his journeys through the scrimmage line. But this year he has learned to keep that noggin down, and was harder to stop than a mad steer. We hear that he is good enough with the books to be able to pick his school, and maybe he will do just that.

But the sounds you hear in the background are East, North and Tech hollering. "Wait till next year!"
