C. Frank Franklin, husband of State Representative A. June Franklin, is alleged to have attempted suicide by poison Saturday as police arrived at his home to arrest him on charges of assault with intent to murder the Franklin's foster daughter.

Mrs. Franklin was notified in Washington, D.C. and has returned to Des Moines.

Their foster daughter, Regina Nichols, suffered a stab wound approximately an inch deep and one inch long in the lower left side of her back about 9:00 a.m. Saturday as she crossed Simpson College (Indianola) grounds enroute to her morning job at Hillman Hall.

According to Warren County Sheriff Bill Mathews, Miss Nichols stated she heard footsteps approaching from behind her as though someone were running.

She next felt an object pressed against her back as someone demanded that she enter a nearby car adding or "I'll kill you," Miss Nichols is quoted as saying.

She also stated that as she scuffled briefly with her attacker and the two of them fell, an unidentified onlooker from a parking lot close by arrived to assist her. Mathews stated she was taken to the administration building.

Miss Nichols later requested a physician's attention and was treated for the wound.

Warrant Issued

Indianola's Justice of the Peace Verle Wootons issued a warrant for Franklin's arrest on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Officers from Wootons' office and members of Des Moines police reached the Franklin home about 2:45 p.m.

Mathews advanced toward the front entrance and Des Moines police the back door. It is said that Franklin stood holding a cup and was seen by officer Earl Purcell to lift the cup and appear to swallow its contents, which at the time was thought to be coffee.

Loses Consciousness

Moments later, Franklin is said to have grabbed Sheriff Mathews, who had entered the unlocked door, slumped down and lost consciousness. He was taken to the hospital where he remains in serious condition.

Miss Nichols graduated from Roosevelt High School in 1971.

Franklin is a Des Moines Municipal Court attendant.

There are two other children in the Franklin family.

Contact with Mrs. Franklin, on Monday, failed to reveal additional information or clarification. She stated that she had not talked with the police nor with her husband, who remained in serious condition.

Army Announces Massive Pay Raise

The eagerly awaited pay raise for members of the United States Army became effective November 14 according to Sgt. Robert Sargent Army recruiter for Des Moines. The pay raise, which was enacted into law on Sept. 28, had been withheld temporarily as part of President Nixon's freeze on prices and wages.

Under the terms of the military pay bill, newly-enlisted soldiers will receive $268.50 per month. This compares with $134.40 under the previous law.

The pay raise will not only include substantial increases in basic pay, but will also raise quarters and ration allowances.

New Policy

The new pay scales are a giant step towards making military pay for lower ranking enlisted men and junior officers comparable with that offered by business and industry. According to U.S. government statistics, the average hourly wage in the manufacturing industry in 1970 was $3.36. Army pay for a sergeant, E-5, by comparison, will now amount to $3.11 per hour if the sergeant is authorized and receiving quarters and ration allowances. If the same sergeant were married, his hourly pay rate would rise to $3.40.

Army officials state the average service time required to reach the rank of sergeant, E-5, is in the neighborhood of 22 months active service.

"When coupled with the traditional Army benefits such as free medical and dental care, clothing, room and board and retirement benefits, the new pay increase makes Army service truly competitive as a career choice," the Army recruiter stated.

See Our Army Recruiter

"Opportunities in the Army for the young man who applies himself have never been better, — in short, Today's Army Wants to Join You — and we're proving it," he concluded.

For further information in the new pay scales and additional information on enlistment opportunities, see Sgt. Robert Sargent at his office located at 210 Walnut in Des Moines. Or, call him at 284-4509 or other recruiting offices.

NEWS

In A

Nutshell

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A black Air Force Major and a black Captain in the Army Medical Corps both testified that although the Armed Services have established housing referral services for military personnel, blacks, regardless of their rank, are still subjected to discrimination in housing procurement.

This is especially true in Germany, according to Major Washington Hill and his wife, Etta, who flew from Frankfurt to testify before the Hearings on Racism in the Military by the Congressional Black Caucus.

DETROIT, Mich. — The No. 1 male vocal group in the world, The Temptations, will be the celebrity headliners of the mammoth 45th annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City. The major television networks will beam this spectacular, time-honored kickoff to the Christmas season into millions of homes on Thanksgiving morning, beginning at 10 a.m. (EST).

PITTSBURGH — A Federal Court Judge has issued an injunction ordering six Pittsburgh policemen to end brutal treatment of black residents.

The preliminary injunction by U.S. District Judge Rabe F. Marsh was hailed — and damned — as a precedent.

WASHINGTON — Veterans Administration records reveal a 46 per cent increase in the last fiscal year in veterans training under the G.I. Bill for policemen, firemen or related "protective services" occupations.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The Nation's older population, aged 65 or over, increased faster during the 1960's than the under 65 population, according to a survey of the 1970 census figures reported in the October 1971 issue of Aging, published by HEW's Administration on Aging.

Had Served As Acting Director Since July 29; Board to Fix Salary

Mrs. Jeanette Jennings, acting executive director of Greater Opportunities, Inc. since last July 29, was named director by that agency's board on last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Jennings' position comprises four counties: Polk, Warren, Jasper and Marion. The anti-poverty organization is headquartered here. Having been in the employ of GO for five years and its acting director, Mrs. Jennings assumes her responsibilities with excellent preparation and experience.

Her first job was secured in 1965, the first year the centers were established in Polk County. She was selected as secretary to Logan Opportunity Center.

From this position she was moved to the job of administrative assistant to Donald McKenzie, then director of GO. She remained in this assignment until her appointment in July as acting director.

Mrs. Jennings is married to Lawrence Jennings. The couple are the parents of six children.

Thomas Gregory, 42, of New Brunswick, N.Y. was selected earlier in November but elected to remain in his present position until solution of an investigation of fiscal practices underway in the New Jersey agency.

Mrs. Jennings' salary was

MRS. JEANETTE JENNINGS

$10,123 as acting director. Her new role will be set by the board in conjunction with the regional office of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in Kansas City.

Chairman of the GO board, Donald Koontz, stated that she was chosen director "because she was simply the best qualified person we could hire." She's an excellent administrator and she's well known and respected by the people the agency serves.

Koontz, of Indianola, added that Mrs. Jennings was seriously considered at the time the board selected Gregory.

Des Moines Community Development Program in New Quarters

Most employees of the Des Moines Model City Program and the new city-wide Model City program have been moved out of the Model City Planning Center, 703 Seventh Street, and into larger quarters in the Old Post Office Building and New Federal Building.

The planning center will be retained temporarily as a neighborhood site office for the Model City Citizens Board. The site office will be staffed by Ronald Anderson, the Citizen Participation Specialist assigned to the Model City area, and two secretaries.

As soon as space can be located within the Model City prime service area, headquarters for the Citizens Board will be moved.

Space in both the Old Post Office and New Federal Building is temporary. J. Michael Casey, Director of the City's new Community Development Program, which includes the Model City Program and the new city-wide program, called Model City Planned Variations, said the City hopes to locate permanent quarters for the Community Development Program staff by March 1.

Space in the New Federal Building is being provided to the city free of charge. The city has agreed to pay utilities at the old Post Office, but won't be charged rent. The Des Moines City Council approved the move into the Old Post Office Building at its meeting Monday night.

The original Model City program is financed with a $2,065,000 grant from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The new city-wide program is financed with an additional $3,700,000 grant from HUD. New prime service areas that are included in the city-wide program are Logan, Southeast, Pioneer, Columbus, Woodland, Willkie and Four Mile. Present plans are for each of the new areas to have a site office within the areas served and a small neighborhood staff. Neither staff nor site office location has been selected for the new areas.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans announced today that President Nixon's minority-owned bank deposit program to increase deposits in minority-owned banks by $100 million in a 12-month period beginning Oct. 2, 1970, has well exceeded its goal. Reports from the 35 minority-owned banks now operating show that deposits increased by a total of $155.5 million in the year ending September 30, 1971 to a new, BANKS Continued on page 6

Rehnquist Can Be Beaten, NAACP Leader Maintains

The Senate Judiciary Committee approved the nomination of Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist by a vote of 14 to 4.

The names will now go to the Senate as a whole for consideration.

NEW YORK — Conceding that the Senate Judiciary Committee "seems likely to vote a favorable recommendation" for confirmation of William H. Rehnquist for the Supreme Court, NAACP Executive Director Roy Wilkins has expressed the conviction that "there is a chance that it (the recommendation) can be beaten on the Senate floor."

In a communication dispatched on Nov. 18 to all units of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People throughout the nation, Mr. Wilkins urged them to "get word at once to your Senators that you and all those who hope and work for democracy with you are opposed to William Rehnquist as a Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. Write, wire, telephone, but get the message over to your Senators. LOUD AND CLEAR. VOTE NO ON REHNQUIST!"

New Urban League Head Explains Program

New York, N. Y. — The central civil rights issue of the Seventies is the restructuring of America's economic and political power so that Black people have their fair share of the rewards, the responsibilities and the decision-making in every sector of our common society, Vernon Jordan, Executive Director, Designate of the National Urban League declared here Thursday night.

Mr. Jordan made his statement before a capacity audience of 2,200 persons many of whom were top executives of major corporations whose firms had paid $5,000 per table as corporate sponsors of the National Urban League's Equal Opportunity Day Dinner.

The dinner was held in the main ballroom of the New York Hilton Hotel and took the form of a tribute to the late Whitney M. Young, former executive director of the League. Proceeds of the dinner will be used to further the work of the National Urban League.

Jordan said Black people in the Seventies will no longer be comforted by singing "ain't gonna let nobody turn us round" as they did in the Sixties, "because when they see the new Supreme Court, they'll know we've been turned around."

Biased Military Justice Perils Fighting Force, NAACP Council Charges

WASHINGTON — NAACP General Counsel Nathaniel R. Jones told the Congressional Black Caucus last week that the U.S. Armed Service's "most intense" problem was the maladministration of justice which "is the cancer that erodes America's ability to maintain an effective fighting force."

Mr. Jones' assessment during the three days (Nov. 16-18) of hearings that the Black Caucus held on racism in the military was based on an investigation of complaints he and two other NAACP staff members made in West Germany last January.

He noted that the Army was attempting to correct some of the abuses, most notably through the efforts of the new Seventh Army Commander, General Michael Davison. Nevertheless, the problem has hardly been touched.

The defects in the judicial system of military justice, the NAACP general counsel told the committee, resulted from "its lack of credibility" among servicemen. They felt that it was impossible to "receive a fair shake because it (the system) is white controlled."

Consequently, he said, black GIs usually opted, when possible, for nonjudicial punishment. But this is devoid of safeguards and "replete" with "indications of bias," Mr. Jones explained.

A direct result of nonjudicial punishment was the disproportionately high number of bad conduct and general discharges that black GIs received. These "are tantamount to lifetime sentences," he said.

Another strong reflection of the maladministration of justice was the high proportion of Negro soldiers in the stockade. About 48 per cent of the soldiers incarcerated were black, while nearly 50 per cent of those detained in pretrial confinement were black. Only 14 per cent of the military population in West Germany was Negro.

NEW YORK — The NAACP housing department will conduct a statewide housing training conference in Columbus, Ohio, on

Training, Jobs, Set For 281 Iowans

Skill training, jobs, or work experience will be provided 227 disadvantaged Iowans through six Manpower Administration projects announced today by the U.S. Labor Department in Kansas City.

William S. Harris, regional manpower administrator, said the Departments of Labor and Health, Education, and Welfare have allocated $722,473 to the projects.

Most of the money will go to four projects under the Manpower Development and Training Act, in which 224 persons will be given entry-level skills in a variety of occupations, with $719,145 from the two Federal departments.

Employers will hire and train three disadvantaged jobless workers under the industry - Government Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) program.

The two JOBS contracts, negotiated through the National Alliance of Businessmen, call for Labor Department reimbursement to the employers of up to $3,338 of their extraordinary expenses in hiring persons with little or no work experience.

Saturday, November 27.

The conference, which is the most comprehensive that the housing department has ever sponsored, will involve Ohio NAACP branches, Negro real estate brokers, lawyers and Federal and state agencies.

The keynote speaker will be the Hon. C. J. McLin, Jr., special assistant to the Ohio governor on minority affairs. Mrs. Delores Tucker, secretary of State of Pennsylvania and Paul Davidoff, co-director of the Suburban Action Institute in White Plains, will also be speakers at the conference.

The topics that will be covered are far reaching and cover every area of housing for black people. These topics include urban renewal programs, housing sponsorship, the effects of regional planning, and "The Suburban Curtain."

Jepson To Hold Press Conference

DES MOINES, Ia. — Lt. Governor Roger W. Jepsen, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will hold a news conference in the Capitol Room of the Fort Des Moines Hotel in Des Moines at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, December 8, 1971.

The Lieutenant Governor will open with a statement on major campaign issues, making extensive use of visual aids in his presentation. Following his opening statement he will answer questions from the news media.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, sex, political affiliations, or any other non-merit factor.

VETERANS

Veterans Administration reminded veterans studying under the G. I. Bill that they can hire a tutor at VA expense, if needed, and still get the full educational allowance.

About 4,000 veterans received more than 60,000 hours of tutorial help in connection with their G. I. Bill educational studies, VA reported today.

VA officials noted that to be eligible for this benefit (established by the Veterans Education and Training Act of 1970), the veteran must be enrolled under the G. I. Bill

Dr. Payton Head Ford Foundation Program

NEW YORK — The appointment of Dr. Benjamin Payton, president of Benedict College, South Carolina, to head the Ford Foundation's expanded $100 million program of assistance to minorities in higher education was announced today by McGeorge Bundy, president of the Foundation.

On Leave

Effective January 1972, Dr. Payton will be on leave from Benedict for an unspecified period. He will serve in the Foundation's division of Education and Research, and will be in charge of the Foundation's grants for black, Mexican-American, Puerto Rican, and American Indian undergraduate and graduate students, for selected graduate level ethnic studies above the high school level on a half time or more basis.

If the veteran needs tutoring to pass a required course, VA allows up to $50 monthly for a maximum of nine months to pay for it.

These tutorial fees are in addition to the regular monthly education check the veteran receives, and are not chargeable to his basic entitlement, officials pointed out.

VA urged veterans interested in tutorial assistance or education benefits to contact their nearest VA office, or local veterans service organization representatives.

The Veterans Administration advises every veteran who sells a home purchased with a G. I. loan to get a "release of liability" before closing the sale.

From June through October, VA increased the number of drug abuse treatment centers from five to 32, thus completing a six-fold increase announced in June 1971.

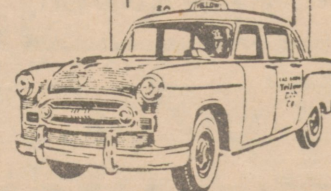

Some callers can stay longer in an hour than others do in a week.

EXECUTIVE SEES THREAT TO PRESS FREEDOM

"Throughout history, there have been numerous attempts to coerce and influence the press... Recently, however, we see the beginnings of a new form of pressure against the print media."

Citing current political pressure on newspapers and magazines that carry cigarette advertising — to provide space for anti-cigarette messages — Ross R. Millhiser, president of Philip Morris U.S.A., recently expressed his concern over the increasing incidence of encroachment on our freedoms of press and speech.

Speaking before members of the Virginia Press Association at their 89th Annual Convention in Charlottesville, Virginia, Mr. Millhiser warned that "If the American press knuckles under to this pressure, to the presumption by some officials of superjudgment of what's good for us, it will open the floodgates to a vast outpouring of demands for more free space against other products and ideas that someone considers to be controversial."

Honored by the VPA as 1971's "Virginian of the Year," Mr. Millhiser went on to state that this new threat to our freedoms of speech and press, both guaranteed by

Tiny Tot-Gateway Centers Unite for Xmas Party

Gateway Opportunity Center and Tiny Tot Child Care Centers are uniting again this year to help our people in these areas have a Happy Christmas.

Gateway Opportunity Center, under the directorship of Sister Jean Minahan and Tiny Tot Director Evelyn Davis, are in the process of gathering together food, toys and needed items for the less fortunate families in the centers.

The plan is to give food baskets containing staples and hopefully a chicken, canned ham or some form of holiday meat. These will go to carefully screened unfortunate families so as to make certain a basket will be accepted and used in the spirit in which it is given.

A lot of time and hard work has gone into this particular program. Donations are still needed from grocers, merchants, business firms and concerned individuals in the city.

The Christmas Party is for the children of these centers

The Bill of Rights, began with the FCC ruling that bans cigarette advertising on radio and television.

Mr. Millhiser is convinced that those persons responsible for these curtailments of our rights honestly believe they are championing and protecting the public's best interests. "Every attempt at censorship," however, "is always done in the name of the 'greater good.' But the greatest good we have seen in our history has been when courageous men have steadfastly insisted on applying provisions of the Bill of Rights against censorship."

And, according to Mr. Millhiser, the best guarantor of press freedom — is the press itself... when it keeps the public fully informed.

New Contract for Friendship City

On Thursday, November 11, Rev. Orzelyea Roberson, owner-operator of Friendship City, Iowa's first half-way house, contracted with the State Department of Adult Correction making Friendship City a work release center.

Under this agreement, the State of Iowa will place prisoners at Friendship City for interim stays of at least three months. Also, under these terms, a nominal weekly fee of $28.00 for board and room is charged each man individually.

For the first time, the operation of Friendship City was furthered by the Summer Training Enrichment Program (STEP) which provided secretarial assistance during the past summer months. Now The Concentrated Employment Program (CEP) is providing regular janitorial assistance and secretarial aid.

"These loans and the economic development they engender," the Secretary said, "will be an effective, demonstrable force in the expansion of the business and private sectors of the minority communities in which these 35 banks are located."

The minority-owned bank deposit program was a joint effort of the National Bankers Association and the government. The Treasury Department coordinated all federal government deposit activity while the Department of Commerce's Office of Minority Business Enterprise worked with Capital Formation, Inc., a New York City non-profit organization, in solicitation efforts from the private sectors. Both sectors exceeded their goals.

Deposits were solicited on both national and local levels

ON TUESDAY NIGHT, DES MOINES AUDIENCES were once more treated to a concert by mezzo-soprano, Carolyn Stanford, assistant professor of voice at Drake University.

CAROLYN STANFORD

IT IS HARD TO BELIEVE THAT Miss Stanford has been on Drake's faculty since 1969! Simply stated, it is hard to believe that Des Moines is so fortunate as to have this singer among us for so long a time. Our community is vastly enriched by this personality whom the late Ogden Dwight, music critic of The Register, described in her 1969 debut as "an accomplished singer and an accomplished performer. Her voice has body and power in low and high registers..." He said much more but hearing an artist for oneself is the greatest reward. I find her completely enjoyable. For me, she sings one or two of the more familiar and always satisfying numbers! Her voice and her performance are always great, great pleasure.

THE PAUL TISHMAN COLLECTION of the Sculpture of Black Africa

remains the leading attraction at The Art Center. Check the dates Thursday, Dec. 9, 8:00 p.m., Levitt Auditorium; Discovering the Music of Africa and Under the Black Mask films showing twice (2:00 and 3:00 each day in the Levitt Auditorium) on Friday, December 10; Saturday, December 11; and Sunday, Dec. 12.

LARRY COOPER, OWNER-OPERATOR OF "THE SCENE" tried his talented hand at something "brand new and different" (to my knowledge, of course) when he arranged and produced Des Moines' first "First Narrated Dance" starring Songstress Ella Ruth Piggee and which played to a most appreciative audience, Sunday, November 14.

COOPER'S CHOICE OF THE BILLY HOLLOMAN TRIO for the occasion further displayed his showmanship and appreciation of a group that has great creativity. Its arrangements together with its own improvisations make for jazz at its best. (N they are still at The Scene)

MET DIANE WEBSTER and a friend when dining Saturday night. The notes giving an account of this are at home! Ruth Davis' line is busy — sought Diane's phone number from her. A young friend directed me to Ruth D. Diane plans giving us a story about Drake's young people's black organization. Encountered Peggy Gassberry, a freshman presently in pre-journalism. She is a '71 graduate of Roosevelt. She and Raelin Prince, a St. Joseph's senior, had attended The Black Cultural Experience! On Friday, as told to me by Diane, the group planned a soul dinner — a fund raising affair.

Princess Oziel Chapter Initiates

Princess Oziel No. 9, O.E.S. initiated four new members November 16. They were the Mesdames Doris Wilson, Katherine Moore, Betty McAiley and Miss Raoulyn Parker.

The chapter extended a hearty welcome to a visitor, Mrs. Bertha E. Wolder, Past Worthy Matron of Princess Zorah Chapter No. 10, O.E.S. and Past Grand Worthy Matron of Electa Grand Chapter O.E.S. of Iowa and Jurisdiction. Mrs. Wolder complimented the officers on the efficient manner in which the initiation was carried out and wished the new members good luck.

Plans were announced for the chapter's annual Christmas party to be held on December 23 at Doric Masonic Lodge Hall, 1617 Crocker.

Following the meeting, a delicious dinner, furnished by the new members was served. Worthy Matron is Mrs. Ruby Wilson and Worthy Patron is Mr. Edgar Palmer, Sr.

TOB Club Holds November Meeting

A delightful dinner was served. The club will hold its next meeting December 3, at the home of Mrs. Muriel DeSleet.

Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Griffin returned from a recent trip to New York City to see their daughter, Linda, in the cast of "Pearlie" on Broadway. Linda is in the cast of the road show now playing in Philadelphia. They will next appear in Canada, and will be in Chicago in June.

Miss Griffin's grandmother, Mrs. Edward Williams, of Springfield, Massachusetts, came to New York City especially to see her performance. Mrs. Williams was accompanied by a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harold Williams.

Mrs. Jesserean Dixon is in Los Angeles, California, for the Thanksgiving Day holidays. She is the houseguest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dixon. Mrs. Dixon is enjoying her newest grandson, Christopher Allen, born November 4 his father's birthday.

Second Of "This Is Irving" Seminars Held

The second in a series of informal coffees was held Thursday, November 11th, at 9 am to 10 am in the home of Mrs. Cortez Weeks. In addition to Mrs. Weeks the group included Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Helen Aaron; Irving was represented by Mr. Tom Drake, Dean of Students and me, John Viviano, Administrative Intern.

A presentation on the 7th grade Introduction to Career Education Planning (ICEP) 8th grade World of Construction, World of Business, and 9th Grade New Horizons programs was followed by general discussion concerning attendance, grading, community involvement, Teacher Corps and many other topics. Mr. Drake and Mr. Viviano stressed that it is the goal of the Washington Irving staff and its principal Mr. Gerald Conely, to make Irving a leader among the junior high schools of Des Moines. Both men also emphasized that it is only through a total effort on the part of students, community and school that this goal can be accomplished.

Any member of the Irving community interested in hosting or attending a coffee should contact Mrs. Helen Aaron at Irving.

Closet Converts To Home Office

An unobtrusive home office or a hideaway hobby room can be added easily by converting a large family room closet and enclosing it with bi-fold louver wood doors.

To hold a music center, writing desk, games, toys and hobby supplies, the closet is filled with shelves of western pine in varied widths.

The desk can be built onto the wall, with room for a chair to tuck under, and built-in shelves above.

The folding doors quickly hide spread-out work, if unexpected guests arrive. Light-toned paneling, such as western hemlock, on the back wall helps brighten the room.

Modern Etiquette

Q. My wedding will be soon, and I am hesitant about sending invitations to relatives and friends who live far away and will be unable to attend. I think this indicates that I am bidding for gifts. Right?

A. Wrong! The obligation to send invitations is one of affection and therefore the same whether friends and relatives live near or far away. Failure to send invitations could in fact hurt some feelings.

Q. Is it considered good manners to sip coffee or tea in order to help "wash down" a morsel of food in the mouth?

A. Never! Only one item, either of food or of drink, should be in the mouth at any one time.

Q. When a dish is passed at the table and carries both a spoon and a fork, how do you help yourself to this dish?

A. Using your left hand, place the spoon under the food being served, and with your right hand use the fork (placed on top of the food) to guide a portion to your plate. Don't try to lift too much food at a time.

Q. We've been having a big discussion in our group as to whose place it is to speak first when meeting on the street, the man or the woman. Will you please settle this for us?

A. It doesn't matter at all — either one may speak first.

Q. Is it proper for the bride to carry her bridegroom's ring to the altar with her?

A. The maid or matron of honor usually takes care of this ring, handing it over the bride at the proper moment during the ceremony.

Q. Is it always necessary to acknowledge the receipt of a birth announcement with some sort of gift for the baby?

A. While a popular custom, it is not an obligation. A little note of congratulation, however, would be in good order if no gift is sent.

Q. Does it really make any difference whether one sits down from the right or the left side of his chair at the dinner table?

A. No; whichever side offers the easier and quicker access is the one for you.

Q. I am planning a very small, informal wedding, with only about twelve or fifteen guests. Is it necessary that I mail out engraved invitations to these people?

A. No. Short, personally-written notes, or even the telephone, will do nicely.

Your professional hairdresser knows the answer...

Was haircoloring first done in Africa?

Centuries ago in Africa (before it was explored by Europeans) beautiful black women used herbs and other ingredients to change the color of their hair. It was one way to complement their dark rich complexions... to accent their natural warmth and beauty. Whether or not Africans were the first to use this method, no one is sure. Yet, they are among the first in terms of recorded history to go through the then-tedious process of coloring their hair.

Today changing your haircolor can be as quick and as brief as a visit to your professional hairdresser. That's because many professional hairdressers use Miss Clairol® Hair Color to lighten hair, to make slight color changes and to cover gray. Hairdressing experts know that exotic blacks and browns are generally gorgeous for darker skin tones. Golden or red shades are stunning for lighter tan complexions.

Today black pride brings you closer to the cultural ways of your African heritage. Haircoloring is a part of black history too. Ask your professional hairdresser about changing your hair color with Miss Clairol... and be more beautiful than you already are.

Some Experts And Planners
Confuse The Public

More and more words are full of planner and experts telling people what is wrong but with no answers to correct conditions of which they complain except to spend more money.

Periodically, some of these people turn up in Des Moines, pose as experts of the status of the Negro community and somehow get the ear of people who should know better. Some have not been around long enough to meet the people who know what goes on. Yet, many responsible people listen because they are confused and have their doubts about what should be done to help blacks.

The statistics they dig up are generally erroneous; their knowledge of the community is almost nil and the soundness of their proposals don't hold water.

William Raspberry, whose syndicated column appearing in the Register and Tribune and other dailies, said that such practices are an attempt to pick Negro Leadership. The reports, true or not, make news. On the other hand they do a disservice to those who have moved the general level of racial justice in Des Moines higher than most communities. They make those who fall for these people more confused on what to do.

Unauthorized Solicitations

Greater Opportunities has complained that merchandise is being sold in this area representing that it is being done under the supervision and for the benefit of that organization.

GO denies that any one is authorized to do this.

This is a practice engaged in by a lot of people who find it profitable to represent an organization which people feel qualifies itself. A common example is the use of "My Church" as a vehicle to hide behind and one that most people are willing to support.

New organizations are springing up each day geared to the more normal willingness to help black people. There are national organizations appealing for funds to help black causes most of which spend these funds and account to no one for them. It's their aim to feather their own nest from these gross misrepresentations of groups and individuals. They make no contribution to society.

The theory back of Community Chest organization was that the public would not be harassed for funds by several organizations, plans would be on a business basis enabling the recipients to account for their collections and that good business practices would prevail.

Much has been accomplished by organized collection of charity funds and having them reach the right source.

Unauthorized solicitations we shall have always but the public should take more time to investigate these people.

Thanksgiving

We have so many holidays that have become common but some are not some celebrated.

Thanksgiving day is one which stands out because it draws attention to a period in the history of this country which tried the mettle of its earliest settlers. The Pilgrims had gone through months of hardships which depleted their wealth and reduced their number considerably.

However, they had begun to see the light of prosperity. They had become better off by weathering the storm, recognizing they could not have come through without the help of God. And they paused to give thanks for Divine help.

Essentially America is a religious country and Thanksgiving day should be one which we all should observe whether in the homes or in the churches.

Today, we face life with a lot of uncertainty much of which we contribute ourselves. In the name of freedom and generation gaps we have come to tolerate and sometimes foster many things that make no contribution to normal life and continually keep people off balance.

But, in spite of our short coming, people have more of this world's good than ever before. More people are seeing the fruits of their labor and more enjoying the fine things of life which they would not have envisioned 25 years ago. It is this spirit which prompted the Pilgrims to observe the first Thanksgiving Day. The same spirit should be perpetuated.

Health for All

Shrinking Hospital Stays

Hospital stays are getting even shorter.

At least one major surgeon says most surgical patients should be discharged on the first or second day after their operation. As soon as they recover from the anesthetic, in fact.

Dr. Paul T. Lahti of the William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, Michigan, based his conclusions on a study he made of more than 1,000 surgical patients, many of them in major surgery. According to him, long hospital stays in the past have led to high mortality because of pneumonia, lung disorders, and other complications.

Prolonged periods of inactivity and bed rest after operations, Dr. Lahti says, make patients recover slowly. Getting patients up and walking soon — and out of the hospital — decreases the period of postoperative disability and eliminates most complications.

"The patient who knows that he will be up and about the afternoon of surgery and home the day after surgery," says Dr. Lahti, "is relaxed, not fearful and requires much less postoperative medication."

Not all physicians recommend such a swift discharge, though.

Long periods of bed rest were once standard procedure after most serious operations. They were also the accepted treatment for TB — once. Today many people who have TB do not even have to go to a hospital for treatment. Most TB patients can receive the major part and sometimes all of their treatment as outpatients — either in a clinic, health center, or doctor's office. When hospitalization is necessary, it is usually for short stays in general hospitals. A patient who has active TB can become noninfectious within a short time — on drug therapy.

For more information, contact your local TB and respiratory disease association. For Polk County it is at 208 Flynn Building in Des Moines. Phone 288-3349.

ON THE SPORTS SCENE

Football Season Over

Now the football season for our Iowa schools is almost over, and what a season. For Iowa U it was a long tough year. They just managed to win one ball game, although they should have maybe won at least two more. They were really done in by five opponents, and just couldn't get the blasted ball over the goal line often enough. But, as FXL said, the boys were really in there battling all the way, no matter what the score was. Reminds us of the line by a fellow during the hey days of Minnesota.

"Minnesota 54, Iowa fights." But we have to think that the fellow will come up with a good team if not next year, surely the next. All he needs is a good freshman team, and he will be off and running.

Iowa State

We don't think that Iowa State had any idea that things were going to turn out for them as they did. A possible eight and three mark, a bowl game a first division finish in the Big Eight. All this and anything else you want to add. We still maintain that if the Nebraska and Oklahoma games had been spaced differently, one of them would have had their hands full. And we have to repeat that if Moses had been healthy? Would the Cyclones have done any better? Likely not, because both the Sooners and Cornhuskers would have probably beaten them. But they might have tripped Colorado. Then, for the first time they have made it into the top twenty.

With Allen Ashby

Without taking anything away from Iowa State, we would have to say that Oklahoma State didn't give them the strongest opposition in the world. But, maybe they can cope with that tough LSU defense. They do have a pretty good passing game, something that Notre Dame just didn't have this year. Maybe next year, Cliff Brown will come of age, and if he does, the Irish will be tougher than an old shoe.

Drake

Drake finished on a pretty good note, with a win, and had another winning year. Don't know why we can't get interested in those games. We used to watch them, but in recent years, just can't make it out to the games. Any old excuse will do. Could that we are prejudiced against the Bulldogs. And there is nothing quite as tough as an old prejudice. Some fellow said that about us, and he just might be right. Why? Don't know, but maybe we can think of some reasons.

Basketball

And right around the corner comes basketball. Drake likely won't be a big contender for the Valley crown this year, giving rise to the old thoughts that John could have won it all. But, even Maury John has to have the horses or he doesn't win. It will be interesting to watch his first year at Iowa State. He will maybe get the Cyclones higher than people think. Iowa U is still trying to rebuild, and will probably have to struggle to finish in the first division.

Here among our high schools it looks as if Roosevelt is about to take their accustomed place at the head of the line. We look for the sleeper to be Tech. We have been hearing that Sonny Mitchell is helping out with the fellows. Sonny is an intelligent fellow, who could probably be a good coach, and he gets fellows to listen to him. With him in the corner of the Tech coach, they can pull some surprises. It is said that big Sy Forrester is also putting in his two cents worth, and what a big two cents worth that must be, if we are to judge by the size of Cy. But the real reason for this interest is that both Mitchell and Forrester have sons on the team, and it just happens that they know what they are doing, and not like so many fathers who want to coach the club, and don't have the least idea of what it is all about. "Just so my boy gets to play."

QUESTION: My 17-year-old daughter has been disabled since birth. She and I are collecting monthly social security benefits on my deceased husband's earnings record. Is there any way my daughter's monthly benefits can continue after she reaches 18 even though she will not be attending school?

ANSWER: If her condition is severe and she remains in your care, you and your disabled daughter's social security benefits may continue after her 18th birthday. Call or visit the social security office about 6 months before your daughter's 18th birthday to apply for childhood disability benefits.

QUESTION: I retired at age 62 and have been receiving social security benefits. In 6 months, I will be 65. How do I make sure that I have full Medicare coverage at that time?

ANSWER: Since you are already receiving cash benefits, at age 65 you will automatically become eligible for Part A of Medicare or Hospital Insurance. Part B, or Medical Insurance, coverage is voluntary and you must enroll in the program. About 3 months before you reach
