9 Policemen Indicted In Youth's Death

Charged With Slaying Youth Last Summer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Nine policemen were indicted on charges ranging from first-degree murder to neglect of duty by a grand jury which investigated the alleged beating death of a black youth.

The victim, Elton Hayes, 17, died following a police chase last Oct. 15. The incident touched off five days of racial violence that brought two additional deaths.

The 13-member grand jury — 10 whites and three blacks — spent three days looking into the case. Four of those indicted were charged with first-degree murder, four others were charged with assault to commit murder, and the ninth was accused of failing to perform his duties as an officer.

The names of those indicted were not released pending their arrest.

A total of 31 officers, including several top echelon supervisors, were suspended while the case was under investigation. Those not charged were presumably will be returned to duty.

"I say this is an important beginning," said black City Councilman Fred Davis, after the indictments were announced. "I think somewhere along the line police officers have to understand they can't go around hectoring people."

Police at first reported Hayes was killed in a wreck when he and two other black youths tried to outrun police cruisers following a traffic violation. The other two boys said they were all dragged from the car of their pickup truck and beaten with billy clubs.

An autopsy showed that Hayes died of a crushed skull from "blows to the head."

the pickup truck with Hayes were George Estes Barnes, 15, and Calvin McKissick, 16.

Barnes said he had borrowed the truck from his father without permission and when police spotted them speeding he headed South for the Mississippi line because he was afraid he would be punished for taking the truck.

The youth said when he saw he couldn't outrun the police he brought the truck to a sliding stop with two tires on the pavement and two off.

"The whole place filled up with police and sheriff's cars and I said, 'they are either going to shoot us, take us to jail or beat us to death.'"

He said all three boys were dragged from the cab and that Hayes and McKissick were thrown into a nearby ditch and beaten with billy clubs.

"I grabbed my head and they began poking me in the ribs with their sticks. I could see policemen on their knees in the ditch swinging their sticks up in the air, but I couldn't see who they were. Then they knocked me down and started kicking me in the side and stomach."

"I never heard anything from Calvin or Elton. All I could hear was cops calling us everything but a child of God."

Rev. Jesse Jackson Resigns from SCLC

CHICAGO — The Rev. Jesse L. Jackson has resigned from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, in which he had been National Director of Operation Breadbasket, its economic arm.

His resignation, announced here, was in the form of a telegram to Dr. Ralph Abernathy, SCLC president, and Dr. J. Lowery, chairman of the board. The Rev. Mr. Jackson signed it "the Country Preacher, Jesse Lewis Jackson."

After a conference here last week, SCLC leaders relieved the Rev. Mr. Jackson of duty for 60 days while they started an investigation into incorporation of a "Black Expo," an exhibit which grossed $450,000 by its display of industrial products, business services, and arts in the black community.

In suspending the Rev. Mr. Jackson, the Rev. Mr. Abernathy at the time emphasized The Rev. Mr. Jackson was not accused of any fiscal irresponsibility, but that the SCLC objected to his incorporation Black Expo without consulting the executive committee.

The Rev. Mr. Jackson in his telegram of resignation said that he had served since 1966 "with deep humility and great pride" since his appointment by the then president, the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"Since the time has come when I can not any longer give my active service to the organization — and since it is not my desire to stand in the way of progress — I consider 60 days too long for this vital work to be endangered by my 'leave of absence' and hereby submit my resignation for the good of the organization, effective Friday, December 17, 1971," Jackson said.

"I hasten to add that my work with the SCLC has been most valuable and fulfilling, and I deeply regret now to break my connection with it."

New Jersey Legislature Votes Against Black Flag

The New Jersey General Assembly Monday passed and sent to the Senate a bill aimed at keeping the black power flag out of Newark schools.

The bill, passed by 48-0, made no mention of the Newark situation, but debate on the bill made clear its backers were thinking of the Newark school board's recent decision to fly the flag in all schools with a black majority.

The bill itself states that no flag "other than that of the state, the municipality or a county, a school, college or university, or a foreign nation or the United Nations" or the American flag, may be flown or exhibited in New Jersey public school.

The bill's sponsor, David Goldfarb, a Republican from the Newark area, pointed to a Nazi swastika under his desk and warned: "Once the former minority becomes the majority, they abuse, persecute and superimpose their values on the minority."

All the blacks in the assembly and a handful of whites abstained.

While the vote was being taken, the Newark school board met in private session and declined to rescind its order.

John Cervase, a white school board member, said his resolution to nullify the order to fly the black power flags was met by a motion for adjournment by a member of the black majority.

Nobel Prize Winner; Assit. UN Secretary; Starred in Football-Basketball at LA

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, former United Nations Undersecretary General for Special Political Affairs and 1950 Nobel Peace Prize winner died Thursday.

Bunche had retired from his U.N. position nine weeks ago because of ill health. He had been suffering from kidney malfunction, diabetes, heart trouble and near blindness for many years and was frequently hospitalized.

Dr. Bunche's widow said "he entered the hospital for tests and seemed to be doing very well."

With U.N. from Start

Linked with the U.N. since its beginning in 1945 Bunche was one of the most admired of international civil servants. Bunche's main interest was the Middle East and his successful negotiations between the state of Israel and its Arab neighbor in 1948 won him the Nobel Peace Prize.

Secretary General U-Thant said at the opening session "Bunche would be remembered for his many achievements and especially for his qualities of mind and character." He was an international institution in his own right transcending both nationality and race.

President Nixon stated Bunche was "one of the greatest architects of peace in our time." He will sorely be missed at the U.N.

Bunche is survived by his widow, the former Ruth Ethel Harris who he married in 1930, a daughter Joan and a son Ralph Jr. Another daughter, Mrs. Burton Pierce died in 1966.

orphaned at 13. He attended University of California and Harvard where he won a doctorate degree in 1934.

Bunche collaborated with writer Gunnar Myrdal between 1938 and 1940 on study of Negro in America. This work resulted in a book, "An American Dilemma."

In 1941 he joined government service as a social service analyst for Africa and the Far East, and in 1944 he transferred to the State Department as an African specialist.

He was appointed Undersecretary in 1955, the highest U.N. position ever attained by an American.

When the Middle East, peace broke down he was charged with setting up a buffer between the two countries in 1956.

Another peace keeping operation carried out by Bunche was in the Congo.

In 1963 Bunche received the nations highest civilian award, the Medal of Freedom from President John F. Kennedy.

Urban League Announces New Community Project

New York, N.Y. — The National Urban League has launched a five-city Community Education Information Program that will use the home and the common objects it contains as a source of learning for pre-school children, thus increasing their potential for success as they enter a regular school.

The project is funded through a $50,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education, and is one of a number of grants to the NUL from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, headed by Secretary Eliot Richardson.

To be demonstrated in the project is the theory that objects found in every home, such as food containers, clothing and furniture, can be used by the parents to teach children numbers, words, abstract concepts, spatial relationships and critical thinking.

Cement Masons International Association, AFL-CIO.

Under the consent decree the three organizations agreed to work toward a goal of 17 percent black membership over a three-year period.

Over the same period the Apprenticeship Committee agreed to work toward a goal of 40 percent black participation in the apprenticeship program.

The 17 percent reflects the percentage of blacks in the population of the St. Louis metropolitan area. The 40 percent was a negotiated figure designed to correct the effects of any past discrimination.

Leslie And Robert 22 Paths To Stardom

Rags to riches? Yes and no.

Robert Guillaume and Leslie Uggams, who will appear in the fourth of this season's Bell System Family Theatre TV series, were launched to stardom from totally different pads.

They will join other greats in "S Wonderful," "S Marvelous," "S Gershwin" from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, January 17, on NBC.

Guillaume came up by his bootstraps. Miss Uggams is no Cinderella and never had it rough.

Those early years in St. Louis, Guillaume said, were "fire and brimstone." He worked as a candy cook in a cough drop factory, operated a streetcar, sold pots and pans and owned a dress shop.

Doing it the hard way, Guillaume earned an A.B. in business administration at St. Louis University and studied music at Washington University in St. Louis. He also studied music privately.

Miss Uggams, granddaughter of two ministers, was reared by middle-income parents.

She entered show biz at age 6 in Ethel Waters' TV show, "Beulah," and followed by singing kiddie songs on the Milton Berle, Garry Moore and Arthur Godfrey shows.

Her mother "retired" her from show business at 12, but she made her "comeback" at 15 by winning $25,000 on TV's "Name That Tune."

Guillaume cracked the big time in the chorus of the 1961 production of "Porgy and Bess" at New York Center. Then he took the role of "Sporting Life" in "Porgy and Bess" in New York, Vienna, Toulouse, France, and Tel Aviv, Israel.

Guillaume served as artistic director of the Afro-American Total Theater and directed two of his own plays. These were sketches originally written for the "Leslie Uggams Show" on TV.

Leslie Uggams, in her mid-twenties, has achieved stardom in the Broadway theater, on her own weekly TV show, "Hallelujah Leslie," and is the toast of the nightclub circuit.

In January 1961, she became the star of Mitch Miller's new NBC-TV series, "Sing Along With Mitch." The music polls rated her the best female singer on television.

Mitch Miller once remarked, "A singer like Leslie Uggams comes along once in a lifetime. I'm glad it happened during mine."

JANUARY... WHAT A MONTH

January is a month for beginning anew, as typified by our many New Year's resolutions. It's also a time to follow through on new social contacts made over the recent holiday season.

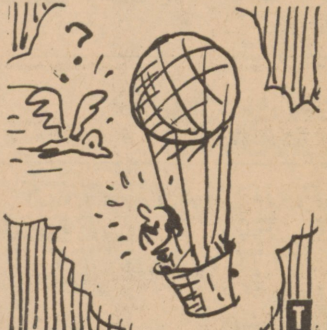

This is also a month which is likely to include the birthdays of friends to be remembered, perhaps, with a special "Forget-Me-Not" floral bouquet to perk up a grey winter day and let them know that you didn't forget. To make it easy, this lovely mixed bouquet can be sent anywhere in the U.S. or Canada via local FTD florists.

Those same friends who have birthdays in January

Beware Of Lead Poisoning

It is now illegal for any person in Des Moines to use any battery casing, lead-containing box, case, or other lead-containing device as fuel for cooking or heating," said Roger Grunow, Public Health Engineer for the Des Moines Polk County Health Department.

A citizen's committee studied lead poisoning cases admitted to Broadlawn Hospital and discovered a relationship between battery burning and brain damage.

Mr. Grunow said it is also illegal for any person to sell, give or allow any person or persons to remove from his premises; any battery casing, lead-containing box, case or other lead-containing device when the seller or giver has or should have reason to believe that such material will be used as fuel for cooking or heating.

Red Cross Spent $179.3 Million Last Year, Annual Report Shows

WASHINGTON, D.C. December 1971 — The American National Red Cross spent a record $179,335,690 last year in aiding disaster victims, serving members of the nation's armed forces, and in providing blood products and its other services to the American people.

Expenditures during the year exceeded the organization's income by $4,268,454, according to the Red Cross 1971 annual report, which has just been published.

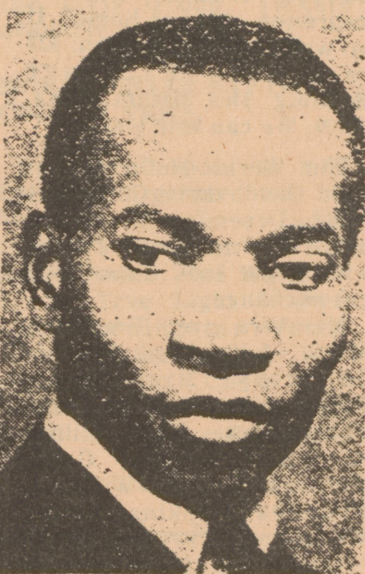

The three Red Cross activities requiring the highest expenditures were Services to Members of the Armed Forces, Veterans and their Families, $58,425,876; Disaster Preparedness and Relief, $25,494,111; and the Blood Program, $48,027,185.

As required by the Red Cross Congressional Charter, the report is addressed to the Secretary of Defense who transmits it to Congress. In a message to Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, the organization's national chairman, E. Roland Harriman, and its president, George M. Elsey, state that every one of the millions of active Red Cross volunteers contributed to the year's achievements, and that the report "reflects the constant changes taking place as the American Red Cross adjusts its operations and programs to do its part to meet the needs of the times."

Of the 1,827,600 Red Cross volunteers who served the nation in community programs last year, 93,700 were college students and 391,500 others were young people of high school age, the report shows. Another 6,576,200 students participated in Red Cross programs in the nation's schools.

Luther College Classes Close; Because of "Tensions"

Decorah, Iowa — Luther College has closed its doors until the January 1 term which begins January 10. "The action," said E. D. Fardell "came because of the tensions and stress under which many students on campus have lived during the past few days."

He said college officials did not believe students could adequately prepare for the final examinations — scheduled for this week — under current conditions on campus. He said that the students will receive faculty evaluations instead of the usual results of examinations.

Earlier this month several students threatened to leave the campus complaining about bad conditions both in the school and among townspeople. However, the school officials said that the situation was not brought about as a result of racial bias.

There need be no "bargaining table" when the plea is for humane treatment of prisoners of war.

THE prisoner-of-war issue is complex and confusing. It is loaded with political overtones and emotional tension.

But one side of the prisoner-of-war issue is simple. That's the part which deals with the condition of prisoners.

Who are they? Where are they? How are they?

Those are the questions the families of American prisoners want answered. Those are the questions the conscience of the world wants answered...now.

Of course, they want the war to end and the prisoners of war to be released as soon as possible.

But meanwhile there is no need for Hanoi and its allies to delay even a day in answering this plea:

Admit official neutral observers into the prison camps in North Vietnam, South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, where Americans are being held in secret captivity.

Assure the world, through these neutral observers, that American prisoners are being decently and humanely treated, according to the standards of civilized nations.

Hanoi can do this without bargaining, even without consultation.

By opening the prisons now to official neutral observers, Hanoi would earn the gratitude of millions of Americans and find new stature in the eyes of the world.

We ask: and pray they will.

SUPPORT OUR PLEA TO HANOI AND ITS ALLIES:

Clear away the doubts —
Open your prison camps to neutral observers...
now!

We ask no more than we give. All American and South Vietnamese prison camps are inspected regularly by official neutral observers — The International Committee of the Red Cross.

It operates both inside and outside of the framework of the National League of Cities. The present chairman of the Caucus is Robert Blackwell, Mayor of Highland Park, Michigan. It is estimated that close to two hundred NBCLEO members were present at the convention.

NBCLEO focused its attention on several key areas of concern. The Caucus concentrated on electing several of its ranks to key policy making posts in the League's organizational structure. In addition, they were actively concerned with all resolutions coming to the floor which had any substantive impact on Black Americans.

The Caucus met with enthusiastic success in this area. Evidence of this success was seen in the defeat of a strong anti-busing amendment by antagonists of racial imbalance in the public schools. Much of the credit for that amendment's defeat can be attributed to skillful NBCLEO members who engineered the necessary votes to defeat its passage in committee.

A strong and purposeful welfare reform proposal submitted by NWRO Director George Wiley was also led through the committee with only minor modifications, leaving it virtually intact for a vote from the convention floor.

In Attendance

present $108 per month allowance would be hiked to $160 in a move to interest more employers and veterans in these types of training.

Gillam said that a large number of Iowa veterans would be affected by the proposition, if approved. More than 12,500 Vietnam-era veterans in the state are currently using the GI Bill in some form. Iowa's veteran population totals 386,000, with Vietnam-era veterans numbering some 72,000.

These proposals and others were made by the VA this week in testimony in Washington, D.C., presented before the Subcommittee on Education and Training of the House Committee on Veterans Affairs. The Subcommittee was presented an administration-backed omnibus bill which, in addition to boosting educational allowances for veterans, would also provide cost-of-living increases approximating 8.6 percent in allowances paid to wives, widows and children training under other VA programs.

Gillam said the proposed legislation, in addition to boosting allowances, would authorize the payment of training allowances in advance, and would extend on-the-job and apprentice training to eligible wives, widows and children, as well as extending secondary level training and correspondence training to wives and widows. The recommended bill carries an estimated first-year price tag of $175 million.

The basic monthly allowance for a single veteran has been increased by 75 percent since the present GI Bill was enacted in 1966 — from $100 to $175 — with matching hikes for dependents.

Washington VA officials said that a cost-of-living increase is needed in addition because "the President has been greatly concerned that rises in living costs since the last adjustment in February 1970 not tip the balance adversely against a veteran's decision to enter or continue training."

In testimony to the House Subcommittee, Onley B. Owen, VA Chief Benefits Director, said, "The GI Bill participation rate has shot upward by any index. In the past three years, the participation rate of Vietnam-era veterans, on a cumulative basis, has risen from 16 per cent to 35.2 per cent."

He said there is evidence

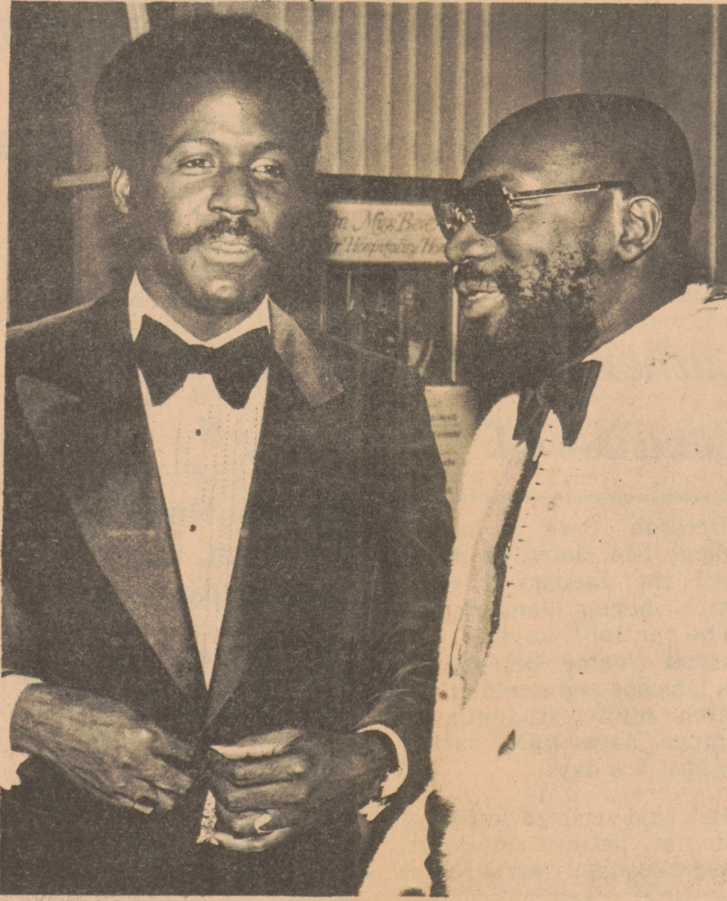

Hayes "Black Moses" Releases New Record

NEW YORK — The new Isaac Hayes "Black Moses" album, which has just been released on Enterprise Records (a division of the Stax Organization), features a unique, almost life-size album poster design that unfolds in the shape of a cross. The cover, which depicts Hayes wearing a hooded robe standing on a river bank in a "parting the waters" gesture, can be displayed as a poster, leaving separate jacket for the two-record set.

Prior to finalizing the "cross shaped" poster format, vice president and creative director, Davis Krieger, undertook a market research study to determine the acceptability of such a package in the Black and white communities. Mock-ups of the album were distributed to newspapers and radio stations who, in turn, did a consumer contact study in their respective geographical areas. The results were overwhelmingly positive.

The maverick creativity of DFK and the contemporary progressive attitude of the Stax Organization has resulted in one of the most thorough and far-reaching advertising programs ever launched. "Black Moses" from every standpoint has to be one of the most penetrating albums of the year.

also that veterans are entering training more quickly after discharge from military service, with the first year participation rate rising by 25 per cent. Enrollment of veterans in on-the-job training has risen by 121 per cent in fiscal years 1969-71, from 66,000 to 146,000. Enrollment in courses below college level has risen from 330,000 to 522,000.

Since its enactment in May 1966, Owen added, approximately 2.7 million veterans and servicemen, nationally, have received education and training under the newest GI Bill.

VETERANS

Under a new proposal by the Nixon administration, a single Iowa veteran going to school under the GI Bill would receive an 8.6 percent cost-of-living increase in monthly benefits, and veterans in on-the-job or apprenticeship training would get an additional 48 percent in their monthly allowances.

Claude Gillam, Director of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Des Moines, said today that under the proposal a single veteran going to school under the GI Bill would receive $190 per month instead of the present $175.

For veterans engaged in on-the-job or apprenticeship training, the

PARTY CHEESE ROUNDS
Better make plenty of these creamy appetizers for they make a savory beginning to your most spectacular of holiday parties.

Toast two-inch rounds of white bread on one side in the oven. Blend American blue cheese with equal parts of butter and spread on untoasted bread rounds. Top each with a spoonful of sauteed onion and mushroom mixture and toast in the oven just until the cheese begins to melt.

SOUPS ON
An interesting luncheon addition is made by floating a tablespoonful of crumbled American blue cheese on bowls of steaming soup just before serving. A creamy, blue-marbled cheese begins to melt, it imparts a zest, flavoring to any creamed or meat stock soup.

DEVIL AND DEEP BLUE
Crumbled American blue cheese adds an interesting twist to your favorite deviled eggs recipe. Prepare these for a special football buffet.

FOR JAMES D. MCDANIEL (MARGARET'S SPOUSE), the wheels of progress sometimes turn slowly. McDaniel is an AFGE officer at the Veterans Administration. In December '65, he was first vice president; completed an unexpired term as president; in 1966, again elected first vice president and completed this 2-year term. In 1968, was defeated in his quest for the presidency. In 1970, was elected to second term as president!

ANYTIME IONE LLOYD (MRS. DALTON) IS DESCRIBED, it has to be a running account, I swear! Even something like this: On October 19 entered St. Joseph Hospital of Mayo Clinic; out the 24th — her plane landed in Des Moines about 6:15 p.m.; she had dinner and by 9:00 o'clock the same evening was in Des Moines General Hospital. Returned home November 8, but by December 8 was being reentered. Returned home Wednesday afternoon, December 16. The chick has to be running even if its from crib to crib on hospital wards! (Action, sister! Action!!) In all sincerity, we wish Ione the best!

THE HOMER THOMPSONS ARE A NEWFOUND talented pair. He is in business for himself — general cleaning which means the rest of us need not be a "do-it-yourselfer". And Rachel? Homer says she makes his suits and that they are expertly tailored — the fine finishing, which sets good tailoring apart from other work. No, she is not available! She is a member of Evelyn Davis' Tiny Tots, Inc.

Executive Fashions Des Moines' Newest Fashion House

Executive Fashions of Iowa tailoring opened recently at 1104 Keoway and brings to Des Moines the best in men's wear. Executive Fashions designer and tailor is Keith Bennett, whose superbly tailored apparel is the shop's best advertising and assurance of its fashion awareness. Bennett states that Executive Fashions is prepared to make a suit or anything desired. Just submit your idea or something straight out of Ebony GO or anywhere. For example, a vest may be designed and made from scratch right in the shop. Each garment is as perfect inside as outside.

LIFTED THIS IDEA FROM VERA MORROW'S (Mrs. J. W. Sr.) home. On the leaves of what appeared to be an artificial cyclamen, Vera had placed very small colored Christmas trimming balls. The plant and colorful balls looked so real and very, very pretty!

MET SGT. HENRY WILLIAMS, OF NORFOLK, VIRGINIA. He has been stationed at the Fort since September, when he came here immediately following completion of his Vietnam tour of duty. Williams, before service, was a student at Norfolk State College, Norfolk, Virginia. Thus far, Williams prefers to remain in the military, making no commitments as concerns the future. He has acquired five years of military duty. He is the son of Mrs. Vannie Williams, of Norfolk, and Owen Williams, of Portsmouth.

THRESSA LAMAR HELD MY TOTAL INTEREST when describing her move from Chicago to Des Moines many years ago. She sought an acceptable community in which to rear her brood. Looking back, she said that she had grown up in Chicago. Had gone to Felsenthal Elementary School with Publisher John H. Johnson and the late Singer Nat King Cole. She and a childhood friend, Marian Abernathy, had danced on stage as Cole accompanied them at the piano. Curious about this, I asked what had he played. It was Dardtown 'Strutters' Ball. The girls were costumed in tall hats, tails, the works, and, of course, "strutted across stage." Were 5th or 6th graders!

Parliamentary Law & Culture Club Hold Annual Doll Exhibit

The Parliamentary Law and Culture Club again delighted its annual audience with still another Doll Show which this year was larger and more varied than ever before. In a colorful Christmas time setting children and adults assembled, expectantly awaiting a program of music and songs, a period of exciting competition in the king and queen contest, and last and finally refreshments. Throughout the whole affair was the central subject of "dolls and more dolls" for this was a doll show. Mrs. Musette Perkins opened the affair and introduced Mrs. Leona Webb who was in charge of the doll display. On this particular Sunday afternoon and for this particular group, the world was a world of dolls. Beautifully dressed dolls represented Viet Nam, France, Germany, Belgium, Africa, and China. As though to welcome them, there were American Indian dolls. There were other dolls as well. These were old fashioned rag dolls, corn husk dolls, china and clothes pin dolls, some of which were fifty years old. Music selections were by the Gosselers, directed by Mrs. Rose Marie Webster. This group was developed by the Expanded School Facilities of Washington Irving Junior High School. The Gateway Trio, under the direction of Everett Trindrell, Jr., also appeared. The doll parade was led by Mrs. Felice Rhodes. Children participating for the titles of Prince and Princess of Christmas raise money by obtaining contributions through the use of popularity cards. This year's winners were Brett Jones, Prince and Jennifer Manly, Princess. Members of the Court were DeLora Jones, Prince Webster, Aaron Henry, and, of course, the royal pair, who were crowned by Mrs. Roberta Frazier. Mrs. Madge Gaiters made the presentations. Unlike former years, Sunday's social hour provided separate tables for the children and adults. The children's hostess was Mrs. Ruth White. Adult's hostesses were Mesdames Lois Hunt, Roberta Frazier, and Mrs. Geneva Robinson. The Doll Show general chairman was Mrs. Musette Perkins and co-chairman, Mrs. Rhodes. Mrs. Julia Canon registered the guests. Mrs. Ethel Volineer is treasurer. An enthusiastic though brief talk was made by club president, Mrs. Madge Gaiters at the close of the show.

In addition to club officers named above are Mrs. Oradell Henry, secretary; Mrs. Jeanne Morris, auditor; and Mrs. Lucille Smith, parliamentarian; Mrs. Rose Johnson, historian and reporter.

Young People To Host Christmas Party

The Model City Young Peoples' Council has been in existence since September, 1970. One of its purposes is to combine the efforts of the various neighborhood centers and to provide technical assistance therein. The Young Peoples' Council along with Gateway and Headstart held a joint meeting combining their efforts in hopes of finding ways to help make the Holiday Season a little more enjoyable for the disadvantaged children and youth of the Model City area. From this meeting came the idea that the three agencies would host a Children's Christmas Party to be held December 23 from 2:00 until 4:00 PM at Gateway Center, 1016 Forest Avenue. The children and youth of the Model City area are cordially invited to attend. Membership in the Young Peoples' Council is open to all young peoples between the ages of 14 and 20. For additional information, contact our offices temporarily located at 908 Twelfth or give us a call at 244-3813.

SAVE ROOM FOR NECTARINE PIE

You can apply the word "fancy" to "Nectarine Butterscotch Pie". But actually, here's a dessert that requires very little preparation. Packaged butterscotch pudding mix eases the kitchen chores. Just before serving the chilled concoction, you whip up nectarine meringue puffs as the glamorous garnish. Golden sliced nectarines provide the final juicy filip. Should you prefer to simplify the garnish, just fold diced nectarines into sweetened whipped cream instead of making the meringue puffs. Either way, this is a delectable summer pie.

NECTARINE BUTTERSCOTCH PIE
2 packages (4 oz. each) butterscotch pudding and pie filling
1 envelope plain gelatin
2 eggs, separated
3 1/2 cups milk
1 baked 9-inch pie shell
2 to 4 fresh nectarines
1/4 cup sugar

Combine in saucepan pudding mix and gelatin. Blend egg yolks and milk; stir gradually into pudding mixture. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Cool 5 minutes, stirring once or twice. Pour into pie shell. Chill. Just before serving, dice nectarines to make 1 cup; slice remainder. Beat egg whites until foamy; add sugar gradually and continue beating until soft peaks form. Fold in diced nectarines. Spoon puffs of meringue onto cookie sheet. Bake at 425 degrees 3 or 4 minutes until golden. Garnish pie with nectarine meringue puffs and nectarine slices. Serve at once. Makes 1 pie (9-inch).

DUCK TALK!

Did you know that the waterfowls have a language all their own — one they use to "talk to" ducks? From the Remington Arms facts file, we learned the following: there are far more duck calls sold than any other call made; while many species of waterfowl will respond to calls, those used for mallards and black ducks are most popular; that ducks' voices vary just like humans; there is a right and a wrong way to hold a duck call; that a "highball" is an invitation to "come on back;" and that the responsibility of the caller is to keep the duck's mind on the decoys! Z

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. When a man and woman are attending a theater together, who properly leads the way down or up the theater aisle?
A. Going down, if your seats are reserved, the woman follows the usher, her escort bringing up the rear. If the seats are not reserved, she still goes first and it is up to her to choose where she wishes to sit. On the return trip up the aisle, she again leads the way, her escort following.

Q. When writing a letter to a woman in business, and you're not certain whether she is "Miss" or "Mrs.," what do you do?
A. When in doubt, address her as "Miss."

Q. When the time and place of a funeral are included in the death notice in the newspaper, may anyone attend even if not invited?
A. Yes. In this case, anyone who knew the deceased, whether professionally or socially, or who knows his survivors, is privileged to attend the service.

Q. Is it proper to write a few lines of good wishes on the card that you enclose with a wedding gift?

A. While not required, this is still a proper and nice thing to do.

Q. When a person making an introduction fails to speak a name clearly, and it is important that you know the name, of whom do you ask that the name be repeated?
A. Always ask the person being introduced, not the one who has made the introduction.

Q. Since I have no father, brother, or near male relative or friend to give me away at my wedding, my fiancé has suggested that his father would like to serve in this capacity. Would this be proper?
A. Yes, quite proper.

Q. What is the correct way to eat bacon?
A. Very crisp bacon may be eaten with the fingers, but bacon with any trace of fat must be cut with fork or knife, and eaten with the fork.

Q. Is it proper to walk about with a cigarette dangling from the lips?
A. You know it isn't!

Your professional hairdresser knows the answer...

Was haircoloring first done in Africa?

Centuries ago in Africa (before it was explored by Europeans) beautiful black women used herbs and other ingredients to change the color of their hair. It was one way to complement their dark rich complexions... to accent their natural warmth and beauty. Whether or not Africans were the first to use this method, no one is sure. Yet, they are among the first in terms of recorded history to go through the then-tedious process of coloring their hair.

Today changing your haircolor can be as quick and as brief as a visit to your professional hairdresser. That's because many professional hairdressers use Miss Clairol® Hair Color to lighten hair, to make slight color changes and to cover gray. Hairdressing experts know that exotic blacks and browns are generally gorgeous for darker skin tones. Golden or red shades are stunning for lighter tan complexions.

Today black pride brings you closer to the cultural ways of your African heritage. Haircoloring is a part of black history too. Ask your professional hairdresser about changing your hair color with Miss Clairol... and be more beautiful than you already are.

All Do It: There Is A Limit

When successful candidates take office as was the case following the city election in Des Moines last November, they look for possible questionable practices in past administrations.

Much criticism was directed at the operation of Model Cities during the campaign; it is being carried on by some members of the city council now.

Specifically, they criticize the expenditures of delegates to a meeting in Omaha, Nebraska and claiming that they cover up the liquor item in their hotel bill. A check by them shows that some money was spent for liquor.

Many delegates attending most conventions find their way to lounges, bars and other places of amusement. There is nothing wrong with this. But when it comes to spending the taxpayers' money it should be kept separate.

Some councilmen have also criticized the payment to members of the Model Cities board for attending meetings. We don't agree with this. To do otherwise

Board members of banks, insurance companies and other corporations are paid could certainly decrease the attendance.

These board meetings were held at nights, took a lot of time as they planned and directed the expenditures of $2,000,000.

The trouble here is that people in the Model Cities Area are being paid for the same work that cooperate board members are.

The average board member of Model Cities is inexperienced; they are new at the work and are bound to make mistakes. On the other hand they must realize that they are being watched with a hopeful eye that folks high up will eventually be given complete authority.

The administrators in Washington recognize that these tactics are being carried on by local groups seeking to get control of these funds. In the absence of criminal practices, they will not succeed.

More Than Meets the Eye

Luther College at Decorah, Iowa has been plagued with disturbing conditions recently due, they say, to dissatisfaction among black students. Officials state that tensions have become so pronounced that they suspended classes until after January 1st in order for the situation to cool off.

Then too, a number of these black students asked to leave school before the examinations which was agreed to further conceding that their academic status would not be jeopardized.

A few days ago, students at Grinnell college challenged officials for changes particularly affecting them some of which were almost ridiculous, the agreement to which would have allowed them to run the school. Out of this flurry, a special committee was set up to pass on the admission of black students to the school. Foolish.

The incidents are most unfortunate leading one to believe that the public has not been told the whole story.

These students were recruited as a gesture by the school to do more in helping young blacks secure higher education. In most instances, these students could not attend without the outside help which they are receiving. They are getting more and better education than their parents and yet bite the hand that helps them.

The Bystander has not visited these campuses but has talked with students who have received their education from them but who have little explanation as to why these disturbances occur.

This kind of thing hurts the school, the community and the state. They should not be allowed to get out of hand. However, we are of the opinion that a few trouble makers have had a hand in precipitating these uprisings as was done at Iowa City last fall, when a few black girls made life miserable for one of their number who had been elected a cheerleader and chose to perform in the regular, cheering section.

And we wonder how well these students are attending the YMCA, YWCA, Debating Society and other activities which not only add to their social life but also further general education.

These schools would be better off in the long run to weed out the trouble makers and at the same time work with local public officials and enlightened citizens of the community to help make the stay of these students in their community more friendly and an asset to the community (All black students don't have this trouble)

The Wrong Idea About Flags

The School Board in New Jersey has authorized the display of the Black Liberation flag in those public schools where 50 per cent of the population is black.

This action has produced much resentment among the citizens and rightly so.

The idea of a Negro state, which the Liberation flag represents, is ridiculous, impractical and builds up false hopes in the minds of unsuspecting people. It further drives a wedge between the races which does nobody any good.

Should the Ku Klux Klan or Nazi Swastika be displayed we would be furious and rightly so just as we have protested the display of the Confederate flag in some schools and public places of the south.

The American flag suits good Americans. We should not use devices which rub the wrong way.

LOW TARS AND NICOTINE

Do cigarettes with low levels of tar and nicotine make any difference?

The proof is not yet in. But recent evidence presented by Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, president of the American Health Foundation suggests that low levels of tar — the substance most associated with lung cancer — may slightly reduce a smoker's risk of developing that disease. But the slightly reduced risk is apparent only in smokers who have used filtered cigarettes with low levels of tar for at least 13 years. The research was published in a September issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Experiments with smoking dogs who developed lung cancer and emphysema show similar effects. Cigarettes with filter tips that reduce the tar content caused less extensive lung damage than nonfiltered cigarettes.

Nicotine, however, is the compound most smokers get hooked on. Nicotine constricts the small arteries, cuts down the flow of blood through the body, triggers a discharge of sugar from the liver into the bloodstream. Researchers also suspect that the hormonal upset in the blood caused by nicotine

ON THE SPORTS SCENE

Football Ends

As the football season slowly dies, we have our all star teams. The one bright spot for Iowa's Hawkeyes is the constant selection of corner back Craig Clemmons on the defensive teams. In all of the games played by Iowa, the fellow was just about always the outstanding player on defense.

Then, on a couple of teams there were some fellows we had never heard of, one being from Jackson State. He must be some ball player. But sooner or later basketball comes into its own. Earlier in the young cage season, we picked USC to upset the Uclans for the Pacific coast title. It looks as if we could be wrong. But it is a long road ahead, and we shall see. So far nobody has come close to the Bruins who have been scoring at a red hot clip. Another club with a chance to upset UCLA would be Marquette, currently rated number two. We thought that if they had made it to the finals last year, there might have been a new national champ. But you have to win the rest of the teams also.

Lakers Winning

And just as people are talking about a Milwaukee dynasty behind the cage play of Jabbar Kareem, who used to be Lew Alcindor, along comes Lakers with a red hot winning streak, and it looks as if they may never lose again. This could be one of the shortest dynasties ever. But, now, as in professional football, there are so many good players that the day of one team dominating any league is just about over. Any team in either the cage or football league is apt to beat any other team on a given day.

Iowa Colleges

Our colleges in Iowa, the big three, are having troubles getting on the right side of the ledger. Neither of the three, Drake, Iowa or Iowa State has a soft pre-conference schedule, and this may help mold them into tough conference teams if they don't get killed first. We think they all are going to surprise the rest of their leagues.

Speaking of college ball, you should be in Chicago this week end if you would like to see some really good basketball. They are holding the American National basketball meet at the Stadium. This is an all black college meet, and has been held for some years. So far no team has won the meet twice in a row, and there have been some good teams. The defending champs are Shaw, and people are betting that they don't win it again.

YOUR CAREER IN A LIBRARY

In ancient Babylon, literary works were preserved in clay and librarians were called "men of the written tablets."

Today, however, the library has become a woman's world, with a wide variety of exciting vocations to challenge the talents of creative women.

Here's a simple little guide to this fascinating career:
BEGINNING POSITIONS: Secretaries; typists; shelve; other clerical workers.

TRAINING AND QUALIFICATIONS: BA degree plus library science courses; interest in books; organizational ability.

PREPARING NOW: English, typing, language and use of the library courses; part-time work in school library.

ADVANCEMENT OPPORTUNITIES: Librarians; cataloguers; reference, school and children's librarians; technical librarians.

may be detrimental to normal functioning.

Lower doses of nicotine probably cause less distress to the body. But people hooked on nicotine tend to smoke more cigarettes when they switch to ones with low levels of nicotine. So they wipe out any benefits.

Tars

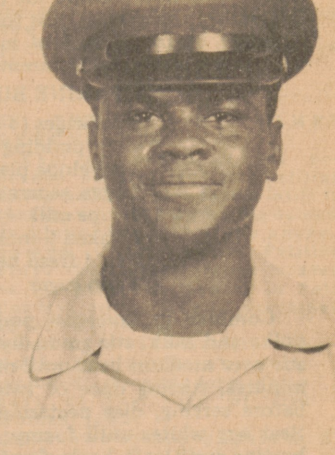

Tars and nicotine, however, are only two of the dangerous ingredients in cigarette smoke. Carbon monoxide reduces the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood. Chemicals called phenols first stop and then destroy the small hairlike mechanisms, cilia, that keep the lungs clean and ward off infection.

There are no safe cigarettes — regardless of the levels of tars and nicotine. To find out more about ways to quit smoking, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have some timely suggestions.

Last year Arkansas AM & N appeared to have the title sewed up for the second straight year, but they were upset by somebody who wasn't supposed to give the guys a workout. The teams this year besides Shaw are, J. C. Smith, Prairie View, Howard, Tennessee A & I, Jackson State, Virginia Union, and Southern. There may be some that we missed, but we don't think so. And even if we did, it will be some meet. We have always argued that black schools were ready to play the best big schools in basketball twenty years ago, much sooner than they were in football.

Home Teams Full of Surprises

Here at home, Tech has yet to lose one as we write this. We are just hoping that we haven't put the curse on the fellows. Tony Mitchell of Tech got a fine write up in the Tribune last week if you didn't notice. Do you know that just about every time a fellow gets a feature story he has a bad game next time out? Don't let that happen to Mitchell. We should soon find out just how good those guys are, and every win gives them that much more confidence. North came a cropper last week at the hands of Dowling who isn't supposed to be really tough, but was for that game. Look for the Bears to bounce back, and be in the thick of things later. And, say, East just might be getting tougher. They played the ears off Tech, losing in overtime. They could be trouble down the stretch.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The issue of Bystander of December 9, 1971 reached me today and the editorial concerning the Grinnell episode interested me. When I read that one of the so-called demands was for Soul Food I wondered what might happen if the Irish demanded Mulligan Stew, the Germans sour kraut, the Italians spaghetti and the Scandinavians lute fisk. Pity the caterers and let's hope the chef is a good cook.

Sincerely,

A. Houglund, Boone, Iowa
