Consent Decrees In Two Cases

MASSACHUSETTS
Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced today the entry of a consent decree prohibiting AMBAC Industries, Inc., from discriminating against Negroes and Puerto Ricans in employment at its Springfield, Massachusetts plant.

The decree was entered in U. S. District Court in Boston, concluding a suit filed against AMBAC by the Justice Department on June 28, 1968.

The decree was also signed by American Bosch Industrial Union, Local 206, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO-CLC, and the parent international union, which were named as defendants because the interests of their members would be affected by the relief sought.

AMBAC, which has 1,200 employees, manufactures carburetors and fuel injection systems for trucks, trailers and tanks.

The suit had charged AMBAC with discriminating against blacks and Puerto Ricans in its employment practices in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The decree permanently enjoins AMBAC from any racial or ethnic discrimination in its employment practices, including hiring, assigning, promoting and training.

In addition, AMBAC is

are especially pleased to be able to make this contribution."

In thanking the Foundation for its largest contribution to the NAACP, Mr. Wilkins said, "The Reader's Digest can rest assured that the NAACP will use the money wisely to further its goal of equality for all Americans. We are gratified to have earned the Digest's confidence in our purpose and competence."

American Oil Launches Quality Control Patrol

CHICAGO, DECEMBER 29 — The American Oil Company today inaugurated a nationwide program of consumer protection at the gasoline pump.

As part of a continuing effort to survey and maintain quality control of its lead-free gasoline, the company has developed 11 unique vans, each laboratory equipped to conduct on the spot tests for lead contamination. Dubbed the "Quality Control Patrol", the red, white and blue traveling labs originated at American's Whiting, Indiana Research and Development Center, and each is capable of testing a sample of gasoline for lead traces in a matter of minutes.

Previously, product testing for lead trace amounts had to be done in company or commercial laboratories, sometimes taking several days to get results including transit.

According to American's Jim Sevcik, manager of the Patrol Program, the previous method was "too slow for effective quality control."

Each van visits unannounced a number of Amoco stations every day. "In each station," says Sevcik, "a trained technician takes a product sample, determining on the spot if the gasoline meets our stringent specifications."

"We strive to meet these specifications in all instances," Sevcik adds, "however, where samples don't meet company quality standards as determined by the patrol, immediate steps are taken to replace the product."

Sevcik says the company will continue "indefinitely" this program of exercising close product control "to be sure consumers get what they pay for."

NEWS In A Nutshell

ATLANTA — (UPI) — Mayor Sam Massell unveiled a plan Monday to expand Atlanta's boundaries, reducing the city's black majority to a minority.

Massell, Atlanta's liberal mayor, conceded that his plan would draw opposition both from inner city blacks whose political clout would be diluted, and from suburban white conservatives who would be annexed into the city.

Asks ICC To Act Notice Includes Women, Blacks And Mexicans

Washington, D. C. — The U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) has charged the entire trucking industry with a "disgraceful" record of employment discrimination which excludes women, blacks and Spanish-surnamed Americans from all but the lowest-paying jobs.

Responding to a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking by the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC), EEOC submitted a 112-page statement entitled "Equal Opportunity in Surface Transportation." It asks the ICC to prohibit employment discrimination by regulated truckers.

The EEOC statement pointed out that the ICC, with life and death power to license truckers, would be best able to eliminate the shameful pattern of industry discrimination. EEOC notes that the ICC must include the national policy outlawing employment discrimination under its statutory duty to regulate "in the public interest." The ICC's statutory duty is identical to that of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) which recently issued rules prohibiting discrimination by broadcasters and common carriers.

(Earlier this week EEOC submitted findings to the FCC in support of a petition accusing American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT & T) of "pervasive, system-wide and blatantly unlawful discrimination" which increases the revenue requirements of AT & T.)

cited the following statistics submitted by local and long-distance trucking companies in 1970:

— Negroes hold 7.3 per cent of all jobs in the industry and only 2.4 per cent of white collar positions. Only 61 of 7600 (0.8%) sales workers are black.

— 93 per cent of all women in the industry are relegated to office and clerical jobs. Women represent only 2.2 per cent of officials and managers.

— Spanish-surnamed Americans participate in trucking industry jobs at a rate (2.3%) less than two-thirds of their 3.6 per cent participation rate in all industries.

EEOC argued that "the overwhelming statistical evidence of disparate treatment in employment by the industry establishes a prima facie case of discrimination at law." Thus, said the statement, "the designation by law of certain agencies to have primary responsibility for insuring equal employment does not preclude the ICC from acting independently in this area."

The EEOC position was supported by the Department of Justice, the Department of Transportation, the Office of Federal Contract Compliance and the U. S. Postal Service.

Comments were also filed by the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, the Mexican American Legal Defense Fund and the Center for the Study of Responsive Law. Reply statements from the industry are to be filed on or before January 5, 1972.

Yuye Femandes' First Twenty-three Years

When I first learned from Mrs. Franklin Owens, Sr. that her last summer's houseguest, Yuye Femandes, was arriving from the East on the night of December 27, I immediately phoned her at her home in Marion, Massachusetts, asking that she bring along some clippings. Miss Femandes promised an interview but would be unable to furnish news bits as these had been left at school. The following is her story. Her memory bank is filled to overflowing.

Let's start at Amherst where her friendship with Franklin Owens, Jr. began and which led to her first Des Moines visit last summer. During her stay, she learned from Frank that Des Moines American, Inc. in the person of Manager Fred Seele was offering a modeling assignment featuring The Gremlin, one of its popular sports models. Yuye applied and is pictured here with Seele. Capturing the job, places Miss Femandes as Des Moines' first "Gremlin" she delightedly confides. The Des Moines American, Inc. staff speaks with equal pleasure of her.

Now that we have Yuye eased as an employed person in our very own ranks, let's get on with the resume of the life of a beautiful, talented, ambitious girl just turned 23 years of age; a detailed account of an unending involvement in employment, study and training; over and over and interspersed only by travel.

Yuye (pronounced "Yi-ee") completed high school in 1966. That summer she worked for the Veterans Administration Outpatient Clinic from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. She then reported to the Mattapoisset Nursing Home working from 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. and weekends.

She entered Colby Junior College, New London, New Hampshire. In 1967, still at Colby, she entered the Miss Wareham Pageant, Wareham, Massachusetts, a preliminary to the Miss America Pageant. She was a semi-finalist. A month later she entered the Miss Cape Cod Pageant, was a semi-finalist and second runner-up and "Miss Congeniality".

While still enrolled at Colby, in 1968 she was chosen representative of Colby's secretarial department to participate in Kenya's Operations Crossroads in Africa. In this role she taught secretarial sciences at the University College of Nairobi. Enrolled with twenty African women, ages 20 to 40, all married. The classes were government-sponsored. These women had families, were employed, were paid for their attendance at school and so upgraded their skills. Yuye graduated from Colby Junior College in 1969.

In the summer of '69, she worked for General James M. Gavin, Chairman of the Board at Arthur D. Little, Inc. in Cambridge, Massachusetts. General Gavin advised her as to how to contact financial foundations with regard to scholarships. Listening well, she ultimately enrolled at Dartmouth from which school General Gavin holds an honorary degree.

During this period, she did summer theatre at Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge. She appeared in a review called "French Undone" in which she sang, danced and acted.

At Dartmouth, she was among the first 70 coeds and from September '69 to February '70, was their first coed cheerleader. Chuckling, Miss Femandes admits that she was responsible for "getting rid of the Dartmouth Indian", adding that she was the first of five girls selected as cheerleader.

These notes are special in that they bring to us first hand close-ups to what is happening co-educationally on some of our famed campuses. We are viewing a black girl's merry participation. At no point, does Yuye reflect anything but wholesome competition and the delight each hard won match gave her. She is out to prove one thing—how and where Yuye can get a foothold and achieve her life goals, theatre with a voice major.

In 1970, she transferred to Smith College, North Hampton, Massachusetts. It is interesting to note that in 1902 Smith College was the third largest college in the world. Now it is the world's largest women's college.

Here Miss Femandes completed a two-year course in a year and a half. Finding herself caught up in the two-year residency requirement, she petitioned the board which decided that she could start on her masters degree while completing her bachelors. She was awarded her BA degree in 1970. She will receive her MAT in August 1972.

In the summer of 1970, she worked for Deans Snyder and Spaulding at Harvard School of Public Health, Boston, Mass.

Turning again to her interest in drama, Yuye has appeared in about twenty plays. She enjoyed immensely the role of "Queen" in Genet's "The Blacks", performed at Amherst College.

Miss Femandes plays the piano and violin; has been in choirs and choruses for many years. She began playing the violin when in the third grade.

Yuye's identification makes for delightful reading and must be introduced at this point so as to prepare our readers for what is yet to come. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Femandes, and the fifth of nine sisters. Five are married; one is a secretary; the three at home are 7, 9, and 11 years of age.

Femandes does landscaping and gardening and is a construction worker. The family is of Cape Verdean descent in that her grandparents came over in 1900.

On June 25 of 1971, Yuye entered the second annual Miss Cape Verde Beauty Pageant held in Dartmouth, Mass. Cape Verdeans from all over the United States assembled—approximately 1,000 persons. Miss Femandes was one of the eighteen contestants.

Among the requirements were these points: one or both parents of Cape Verdean descent; the contestant must be between 16 and 22; possess and model an evening gown, street clothes, hot pants and display talent. Each is interviewed in each outfit and demonstrate her talent. Semi-finalists are chosen, and questioned: selections are then up to the reigning "queen."

Miss Femandes won and so was awarded a free trip back to Lisbon and to the Cape Verde Islands. This was scheduled for January 1972.

Looking back to Miss Femandes' current activities, we find that in December she appeared as "Dorothy" in The Wizard of Oz, a Smith College production. This is the school's first lead role given to a black female.

This past summer, Yuye was a singing cocktail waitress at The Sea Food Shanty in Edgartown, Mass. (It is here that you can get to The Duke Bridge on Chappaquidic!)

On January 3, 1972, Miss Femandes left New York City for Barcelona. As "Queen" she will be accompanied by a representative of her sponsors. She anticipated renting a car there and traveling from Barcelona to Lisbon. Here the Casa DeCaba Verde (special government welcoming committee) greets her and she is flown to Cape Verde Islands. Her four-day stay includes greeting people, and meeting many relatives for the first time.

Then comes the return trip to Lisbon; on to Abjion, capital of the Ivory Coast; then to Senegal, to Niger, then to Ghana.

She will go down from Ghana to Casasha, capital of the Congo; then to DarSalaam, East Africa; back to Nairobi, Tanzania.

Athens was next on her itinerary. (she visited Athens, too, enroute home in '68) Next is Sophia, Bulgaria (behind the Iron Curtain) From there to Munich, back down to Rome. Here they rent a car, see Paris, London and then the flight home on or about February 8.

The entire trip, a promotions campaign for Miss Cape Verde, establishes Yuye Femandes as an international entertainer.

KANSAS
Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced today the entry of a consent decree prohibiting a Kansas manufacturer from discriminating against Negroes, Spanish-surnamed persons, and American Indians.

The decree was entered in U.S. District Court in Kansas City, Kansas, terminating an employment discrimination suit filed by the Justice Department on April 24, 1969.

The Decree applies to Certain - Teed St. Gobain Insulation Corporation, successor to Gustin - Bacon Division of Certain - Teed Products Corporation, and Local 41 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen, and Helpers of America, which was named as a defendant because the interests of its members would be affected by the relief sought.

The original suit charged that Gustin - Bacon, which employed about 1,000 persons, discriminated against the minority group members in hiring, job assignment, testing, and promotion to supervisory positions.

The decree prohibits the defendants from any discriminatory employment practice. It requires the company to make available to Negroes, Spanish-surnamed persons and American Indians similar training made available to white employees.

In addition, the company is required to make a good faith effort to hire Negroes, Spanish-surnamed persons and American Indians for 20 percent of the clerical positions filled during the next three years.

Did you know that over-dressed babies are more apt to become chilled than babies who are properly clothed? That's because consistent over-dressing throws baby's built-in "thermostat" out of kilter and his body loses its ability to adjust naturally to temperature changes.

Mike Carter, North High Athlete Now Marshalltown Community College Student

Mike Carter, a June 1969 graduate of North High School and former wrestler and football player, is now enrolled at Marshalltown Community College and prominent in extra curricular activities.

Mike, one of two Iowa youths selected to attend The White House Conference on Aging in Washington, D.C., the last of November, is employed parttime at the Iowa Soldiers' Home and "likes to help others who are less fortunate." It was the Iowa Soldiers' Home's nomination of Mike which took him to Washington. He works in the agency's activities and remittance departments through the Marshalltown Community College work-study program. When he started, in the program, he was an assistant speech therapist.

Mike states he never participated in extra-curricular activities at North High School where he graduated, but suddenly finding himself nominated for vice president of the MCC student body and elected to the position, he "started getting involved."

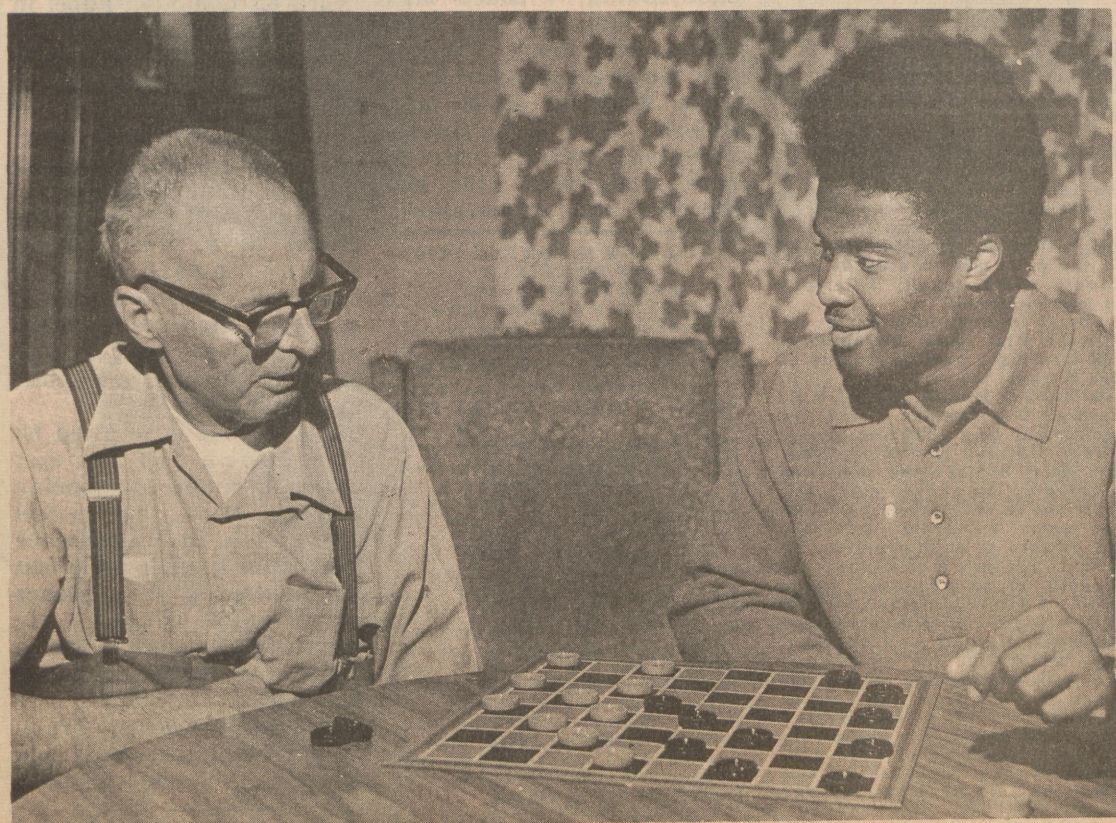

In the role of vice president, he has been on the scene in the efforts made to obtain housing for his school's students and is a member of student services, which includes faculty members as well.

Carter is not sure he will complete four years of college because of limited funds. Should money be available, he would like to major in psychology. This has been his area of study as well as courses in sociology. He feels, however, that his Associate Arts degree will be of very real worth in whatever he pursues.

He spent the past summer working for a Des Moines brewing company and has been given to understand that he can go into this firm's Minneapolis brewery which offers advancement.

Mike's excellence in his work with ISH residents is understood when one hears about his family. He is the son of Mrs. Maola Wease and R. C. Carter. His married sister, Cecelia Jackman, 22, has leukemia. It is illness and his great hope to be of assistance to her which has brought about his awareness and response to others' need of him.

Stax: Puts New Emphasis On Sheet Music

Memphis - The Stax Organization is currently expanding its interest in the production of sheet music.

With the rising popularity of Stax artists, the Organization has constantly been bombarded with requests for music and lyrics by its artists.

"In the past two months, Stax's publishing divisions have dramatically stepped up the production of printed music through its licensees, Hansen Publications (East/Memphis Music Corp.) and Birdes Music Corp. and Screen Gems Publications (Deerwood Music Corp.)," reports Stax's Publishing Administrator, Tim Whitsett.

Already, sheet music from the Isaac Hayes "Theme From Shaft" has been available to major college and university bands at no charge. As a result, it has been played at halftime of many football games with national television exposure.

Also, the Stax publishing division recently released a folio of the music from the motion picture "Shaft."

Sheet music to Hayes' platinum double album "Black Moses" will soon be available along with "Show Me How" (The Emotions), "Jamaica This Morning" (The MG's), "Only The Children Know" (Jeanie Greene), "Son Of Shaft" (The Bar-Kays), and "Do The Funky Penguin" (Rufus Thomas) which will also be in both marching and stage band arrangements.

Already on the market are piano copies for: "Theme From Shaft," "Respect Yourself," "Pin The Tail On The Donkey," "Olena," "Everybody Wants To Go To Heaven," and sketch scores for "Theme From Shaft" and "No Name Bar."

Folios on the Elektra 1.p. "Living By The Days" (Don Nix) and Stax 1.p. "Lovejoy"

(Albert King) will soon be released.

The popularity of sheet music and the artists are marking new phenomenal phases in the Stax Organization.

It is projected that "heavy emphasis" upon this aspect of the music industry will highlight another prosperous year for the Stax Organization.

Medicare Enrollment Period Announced

Howard J. Sladek, manager of the Des Moines social security office announced that another general enrollment period for the election of Medical Insurance will run from January 1, 1972 through March 31, 1972.

Medical Insurance, Part B of the Medicare Program, helps pay for physician and surgeon services and other medical items. For many who passed up this medical insurance when they were first eligible, or terminated it, this will their last opportunity to make this election.

Sladek stated that most people enroll for Medicare during the three month period immediately prior to the month they reach age 65.

They are then eligible for both parts of Medicare (Hospital Insurance and Medical Insurance) beginning with the first day of the month in which they reach age 65.

For all who take advantage of this general enrollment period, the Medical Insurance coverage will become effective on July 1, 1972.

Sladek emphasized that these open enrollment periods occur only once each year. All eligible persons who do not already have this protection should contact their social security office during this period for additional information about the coverage and the premium rate.

If they decide to enroll the application can be taken by telephone. We urge all persons interested in electing coverage to call the social security office nearest them. The telephone number of the Des Moines office is 284-4500. The Des Moines social security office is located in Room 293, Federal Building, 210 Walnut Street.

Iowa Power Increases Rates

Residential and rural customers of Iowa Power and Light Company will be billed 3-10th of a cent more per kilowatt-hour for electricity use above 1,000 kwh per month beginning with meter readings after January 1, the Company announced today.

The rate for usage over 1,000 kwh will be at 1.8 cents per kilowatt-hour, subject to refund under bond, rather than 1.5 cents which has been in effect since June 1, 1971. The 1.8 cent rate was initially a part of the new electric rates which the Company was permitted to collect under bond by the Iowa Commerce Commission beginning last June.

Ralph Meyer, Iowa Power Vice President, emphasized that today's announcement will result in no increase for the majority of the firm's customers. It will affect only those customers who use more than 1,000 kwh a month and only for the kilowatt-hours over 1,000. These will be customers with electric bills of over $25.39 including state sales tax. All

Cure for the common cold house

For people who want a home that doesn't take on a chill at the first sign of cold weather—may we suggest electric heat. Electric heat is the modern, clean and quiet way to heat. It's also the most versatile. Many systems offer separate thermostatic controls for individual room-by-room control. Before you start your new home, talk to your architect, builder, or Iowa Power specialist. Compare the difference. Then you decide.

OLD AND NEW MEET

Any product named after a majestic Far Eastern mountain ridge must be interesting. The ancient Chinese discovered a clay-like mineral and named it "kaolin" or "high ridge" (where the mineral occurred). Today's world finds many demands for the white material. Once known primarily as a mineral used in making china, kaolin can now be used to create better seating. A new process developed by Freeport Minerals Company, can, for example, control the bounce in auto seats and make them more comfortable.

WORKING TO CLEAN

Everybody knows what detergents do — but how do they work? Actually there are two principal ingredients in detergents: a surfactant and phosphate. The surfactant actually makes the water "wetter" so that soil can be loosened from fabrics and other surfaces. The phosphate increases the efficiency of the surfactants, softens the water, keeps the dirt away from the laundry surface, and performs other necessary jobs to get our laundry clean.

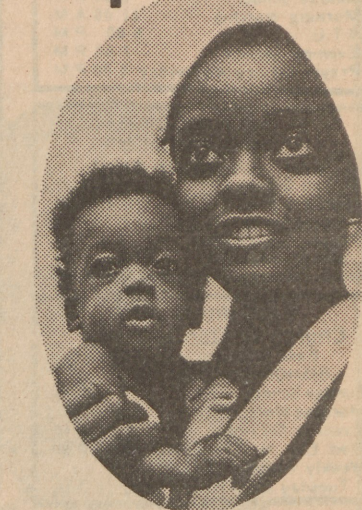

Knowledge is the knowing that we cannot know.

ANNOUNCEMENT

ESTES AND SON
FUNERAL HOME

Announce their removal from 1052 Harding Road to their new location at 1216 Forest Avenue Phone 244-5253.

"My husband, Donald, is a Sergeant 1st Class in the Army. He's been a prisoner in Vietnam for 4 years. They're bargaining to get the prisoners released. But what I want to know... is he still alive? Is he well? I can't find out. Hanoi won't tell our government. Hanoi won't tell me."

There need be no "bargaining table" when the plea is for humane treatment of prisoners of war.

THE prisoner-of-war issue is complex and confusing. It is loaded with political overtones and emotional tension.

But one side of the prisoner-of-war issue is simple. That's the part which deals with the condition of prisoners.

Who are they? Where are they? How are they?

Those are the questions the families of American prisoners want answered. Those are the questions the conscience of the world wants answered...now.

Of course, they want the war to end and the prisoners of war to be released as soon as possible.

But meanwhile there is no need for Hanoi and its allies to delay even a day in answering this plea:

Admit official neutral observers into the prison camps in North Vietnam, South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, where Americans are being held in secret captivity.

Assure the world, through these neutral observers, that American prisoners are being decently and humanely treated, according to the standards of civilized nations.

Hanoi can do this without bargaining, even without consultation.

By opening the prisons now to official neutral observers, Hanoi would earn the gratitude of millions of Americans and find new stature in the eyes of the world.

We ask: and pray they will.

SUPPORT
TO HANOI
AND ITS ALLIES:

Clear away the doubts —
Open your prison camps to neutral observers...
now!

We ask no more than we give. All American and South Vietnamese prison camps are inspected regularly by official neutral observers — The International Committee of the Red Cross.

Simon Estes Delights Audience at North High

Mrs. Barbara Williams, Music Director, of Corinthian Baptist Church shared the following notes concerning Simon Estes, famed bass-baritone who gave a benefit performance in behalf of the Church fund raising campaign.

On one of Simon Estes stopovers in Des Moines to visit his Mother and family last spring, he visited our church as is always his custom. (Simon is a deeply religious man, having studied several years for the ministry before concentrating his career on singing.) As usual, he generously accepted an invitation to render a selection for us. On the same occasion he offered to give a benefit concert for our building fund, if we would make arrangements with his management.

Since this offer was made to the church through me, naturally I was asked to assume responsibility for the undertaking. I asked Mr. Charles Robinson, Mr. Otis James, Mr. Henry Wilcots, Mrs. Geneva Lewis and Mrs. Doris Wade to assist me, which they graciously accepted. Initial contacts were made with over 100 churches and organizations to publicize the event. The news media were most cooperative in assisting us in every possible way in our efforts.

Simon, in the meantime, has been busy with concert appearances throughout the United States and appearances in opera performances both here and abroad. He premiered the Shostakovich 14th Symphony and appeared as Rampis in "Aida" with the Philadelphia Lyric Opera. He was featured singer at the opening of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington D.C. and leaves Des Moines to appear in several more concerts in the United States before returning to Amsterdam, Holland in February to perform with the Amsterdam Opera Company. He is soon to be featured on the Mike Douglas Show and in a feature article in Ebony Magazine. He can now be heard on Columbia Label in several recordings.

Simon's mother, Mrs. Ruth Estes and other members of his family are members of the Corinthian Baptist church where Mrs. Estes is a member of the Senior Choir. Though still suffering the effects of a virus ailment, Simon performed a beautifully executed concert at North High on Thursday evening, December 30th, and as usual was his amicable, delightful self.

Usually one is so awed by the aura of great accomplishment surrounding a gifted artist, that to feel comfortable in his presence is practically impossible, but not so when in the presence of Simon Estes. He immediately seems like a member of the family and is humble about his magnificent talents. Truly, he has all it takes to attain any heights of achievement.

The New St. Paul Church

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH

The history of an organization is the story of its people and program. This is a brief history of St. Paul A.M.E. Church, organized 90 years ago.

On October 9, 1872, a group of sixteen Christians met in the home of Mrs. Anna Allen, 1213 Park street, for the purpose of organizing a Church. The following persons were charter members: Anna Allen, Archie Brown, Amanda Carter, Bill Carter, Isaiah Carter, Jennie Carter, Margaret Carter, Olive Carter, Rachel Carter, Sampson Carter, Nan Cothron, Jefferson Mash, Mary Mash, Dudley Miller, G. W. Turner and Sarah Turner.

Rev. John W. Benson, a Missionary Preacher under the Illinois Conference, was sent to organize the group. Rev. George W. Benson, who was the first pastor, held his first service October 9, 1872. Rev. Benson remained but one year and was followed in close succession by several ministers who remained only one year.

The Church was incorporated September 29, 1879 under the administration of Rev. J. W. White, with the three trustees, Henry McCraven, Jefferson Mash and H. H. Lewis, signing as incorporators. At that time, services were being held in a second story hall on West Court ave.

The next pastor, Rev. T. A. Cheek, passed away during his ministry and together with Rev. J. A. Hahn and Rev. W. C. Trevan, the third pastor to die in office, were buried in the church lot in Woodland cemetery. Rev. C. W. Newton did the first remodeling of the old church. In 1891 Rev. Dr. J. W. Laws suggested and became President of the first District Sunday School Normal Institute in African Methodism and organized and taught the first class in this church.

In 1901 Rev. Horace S. Graves became pastor and under his leadership the old church took on new life. The old mortgage was completely liquidated and the church was again remodeled. A vestibule and balcony were added and a pipe organ was installed. In 1903 St. Paul entertained the Chicago Annual Conference.

During the administration of Rev. Graves, a significant occurrence caused a number of members to withdraw from St. Paul and organize the Union Congregational Church.

In 1906 Rev. Graves was transferred to St. James Church, St. Paul, Minnesota. He was followed by Rev. Dr. Robert Seymour, who was followed by Rev. Dr. W. Sampson Brooks, who later became one of the leading Bishops. Bishop Brooks, for whom our W. Sampson Brooks Missionary Society was named, served a number of years in Africa.

Rev. Dr. George W. Gaines, Rev. I. N. Daniels and Rev. Dr. Brice U. Taylor followed. Rev. Taylor again paid off a mortgage and contracted for the first parsonage at 1045 13th street. Rev. Taylor was succeeded by Rev. E. G. Jackson.

In 1915 Rev. S. L. Birt became pastor of St. Paul. His name will go down in history as the builder of the present St. Paul, which when completed in 1918, was credited with being the best building, built by Negroes between Chicago and Denver, Colorado.

In 1920, Rev. Birt was transferred to Bethel Church in Chicago. Worthwhile service was rendered by Dr. W. H. Griffin, who was followed by such noted preachers as Rev. Dr. H. L. P. Jones and Dr. T. L. Scott, Dr. George Williams followed and during his administration the articles of incorporation which had expired were renewed for another forty years.

Dr. Williams was followed by a number of outstanding ministers including Dr. Carl M. Tanner who remained only three months, and Dr. William E. Guy, who later became presiding elder of the St. Paul District. The next four years saw Rev. Dr. John Alexander as pastor of St. Paul. He, too, became pastor of Bethel Church, Chicago. Rev. Dr. R. H. Hackley, the next pastor, died in office and was buried in Glendale cemetery.

Rev. H. C. Boyd remained as pastor for six years and was followed by Rev. Dr. A. J. Irvine, who was responsible for his fine financial system and secured the next parsonage.

Rev. Irvine was succeeded by Dr. George A. Singleton, the author, historian and editor of the A.M.E. Review, with headquarters in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1951 a dynamic young minister, Rev. John E. Hunter, came to St. Paul and brought the Church up to date both spiritually and physically. Under his administration the sanctuary was remodeled with new cushioned pews and the divided chancel. It was inevitable that he should go on to greater things and is now pastor at Gary, Indiana.

In close succession for the next two years were Rev. Peck (1956) and Rev. A. Lewis Williams (1957). Rev. David A. Blake was pastor for the next two years. He purchased the present parsonage. In September, 1961, we saw the coming of Rev. E. P. Williams and wife, who have again put new life and enthusiasm into St. Paul A.M.E. Church.

As we stated in the beginning, this is the story of people and program. We cannot give space here to so great a recital; we can only briefly mention the many great clergymen and laymen who have been associated with St. Paul A.M.E. Church during its 90 glorious years. We hope from time to time to give more time and space to perpetuate the memory of these individuals and events.

It was during the administration of Rev. E. P. Williams that a program was undertaken for the construction of a new church and the first deposit in the building fund which subsequently totaled many thousand dollars was made on February 8, 1962.

In October 1966, Rev. Henderson S. Davis, became the leader of our flock and by virtue of his efforts we have come this far on the way. It should be pointed that the last decade has seen the loss of many long time and stalwart members of the congregation, but with the assumption of added responsibility by the younger members we have been able to maintain our momentum.

VISITING WITH GWENDOLYN SEMPLE TURNER, after so, so long, was real pleasure. I asked referring to the January 9 move, "Aren't you happy that you are going into a new church within your lifetime?" Adding, I imagine that your grandmother enjoyed the old edifice when it was the new church! Looking back she deduced that her grandmother Jones, Lottie Emanuel and her father were members of St. Paul A.M.E. Church when it was by the river behind Mercy Hospital and was moved to Twelfth and Crocker Streets. She has heard it said that they marched from Second to Twelfth and Crocker. Children of the family was composed Muriel DeSleet, Marguerite Howe and Raymond DeSleet.

Mrs. Howe and Mrs. DeSleet head the group now composed of Rev. and Mrs. LaVelle Johnson (she is the former Marguerite DeSleet), Freda Steele, Gwendolyn Turner, of the DeSleet family; Patti Howe; Dorothy Jenkins and daughter, Darlene Greenfield; Orvan Emanuel.

IT WAS FASCINATING TO NOTE THE large attendance of our very young people at the program of Simon Estes. They appeared to enjoy his performance and displayed impeccable behavior.

LAWRENCE W. OLIVER'S RECENT SURPRISE POP CALL at The Executive House Day Care Center delighted the staff and is further reason why the agency strives to be on top all day every day. They were very proud that he stopped by.

PREDICTIONS OF THINGS TO COME: Viewed a group of tomorrow's community leaders as they visited at Simon Estes' Concert. They were Shelly Morrow, Cindy Robinson and (I'm guessing now) Ozzie and Ricky Morrow. These youngsters are intelligent, charming and — to my thinking — should prove to be among our brightest and most successful individuals.

FRED BARR, I'VE JUST HEARD has a new goal: he is seeking to become a professional golfer. Mrs. Barr, the former Cassandra Yancy of Rock Island, Illinois, is a bank secretary. (Hope this couple attains their goal!)

MICHAEL (MIKE) CARTER gave me an assist in pointing out who was in town for the holidays. Let's include Carl Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cook. Then there's Neal Brown, son of Mrs. Juanita Hall; Chuck Freeman, described as basketball stand-out and ranking No. 6 — son of Eugene Freeman. Lonnie Rowland and Delbert McGuire. There was Charles Cheatom, son of the Eugene Cheatoms.

DEBRA HAWKINS WAS MY FRIEND IN NEED the other Sunday, when I was trying

THE ULCER PERSONALITY

Most people assume corporate presidents, advertising copywriters and ambitious executives are the only ulcer sufferers. But the gastro-intestinal experts at Smith Kline & French Laboratories report more than 5,000,000 Americans have ulcers — and they vary in age and occupation. What they have in common is a need to control the stomach's acidity. Many doctors recommend "Ducon", a new, pleasant tasting antacid... and they urge the ulcer victim to try to relax.

Zodiac SERVING IDEA

Currents Run Deep In Pisces Personality

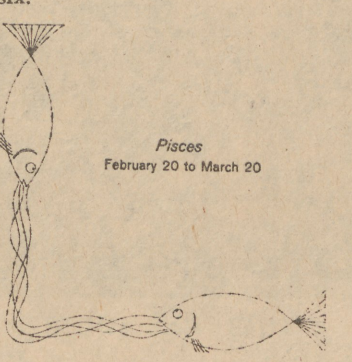

Pisces is quiet and docile. But those born under the sign of the fish (February 20 to March 20) like still waters, often run deep. The quiet Pisces personality has a vivid imagination and is often given to the dramatic. And though Pisces always manages to present a brave exterior, underneath it all there runs a current of timidity and fear of trouble.

In Pisces' party planning there will be no fear of trouble when the menu includes a dessert which calls upon both Pisces' imagination and love of detail. Perfect for Pisces is the Pisces Sampler Cake, a vivid expression of a refined, gentle and modest nature, beginning trouble-free with a completely baked, fresh frozen Sara Lee Orange Cake, decorated in colored-icing "cross-stitching" in a Pisces pattern.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. What have you to say about letters of condolence?

A. All too often this is a letter that is put off and finally never written at all, simply because you can't think of what to say. It is extremely thoughtless to let this happen, for in time of great sorrow the fact that one's friends are standing by can mean so very much. It isn't WHAT you say that's so important—it's the fact that you SAID it.

Q. Would it be proper for an elopement or "runaway" marriage to be announced later by means of the customary engraved cards?

A. Quite proper.

Q. Is it all right to use informals in giving thanks for wedding gifts received?

A. Yes, so long as there is no greeting that substitutes for the written words of thanks and if the informal is conservative and of good quality paper. It should be sent, of course, first-class mail, sealed.

Q. Is it considered proper or in good taste to send a male patient in a hospital a bouquet of cut flowers?

A. Although not exactly "improper," cut flowers are usually sent only to women. A growing plant is the customary gift to a male patient.

Q. How does one properly eat a hard-boiled egg at the table—an egg that has been served in its shell?

A. Tap it gently with the blade of your knife, strip off the shell, then eat the egg with your fingers.

Q. How long properly does a young woman wear mourning for her father or mother?

A. Propriety no longer has anything to do with this, as it did in yesteryear. Now it is entirely a matter of a woman's feelings and choice. Most people today do not consider it necessary at all.

Q. Should candy be served to guests in its box, or in a special dish?

A. It's all right to offer candy in a box to guests in the living room—but at the dinner table it should be served in a dish.

Q. What do you think increases one's popularity as a conversationalist?

A. The ability to be a good listener. It takes perseverance to learn how, especially if you want to express your own view. Don't fidget, sneak glances at your watch, or stare into space, even if you're bored. Look the speaker in the face and give him your undivided attention. It's a nice feeling when someone else does the same for you, isn't it?

Minorities Are Making Progress

There are those who say that Negroes are not making any progress and that they are worse off now than they were several years ago. They make the charge without regard to the actual facts for the purpose of "showing their intelligence".

Without attempting to assess the situation from a national standpoint we make observations about where we stand in Des Moines.

There are more Negroes holding positions above that of clerk or office worker than ever before and this includes employment in financial institutions, insurance companies, utilities, manufacturers and retail stores. Employers are advertising for trained help in the professions, mechanical, electrical, operations which they did not in years gone by.

Jobs for women, who know how to work, are available particularly in offices while jobs for men who want to work are going begging in some instances. This does not mean that there is no unemployment but it is far less than the average over the country. In fact, there are jobs to be had for which we have no one to fill.

Housing among Negroes continues to improve as they make more money to buy and rent them. True, organized brokers do nothing to improve the situation but individuals can and do sell to Negroes which accounts for a large number of better homes today. Most loan companies and banks do a good job financing homes for Negroes which adds materially to the situation and permits them to buy and sell practically in any area of the city. Some difficulties do occur but if the prospective buyer is willing to stand up for his rights the problem can be solved.

Except for taverns, clubs, barber shops and beauty shops Negro business has not kept pace with the general advancement. Some have prospered while others have failed making prospectors jittery about going into business.

Much of this is due to the thrust of Negro businessmen at Negro trade ONLY. Except in a few instances this is not sufficient nor is it desirable. This is particularly true in areas like Des Moines which do not have large concentrations of Negroes in one area.

On the whole, our situation in Des Moines is far ahead of that of most communities in matters of continued employment. There is room for more and we hope that 1972 will see it.

Glaring Headlines Are Sometimes Deceiving

An article in the Des Moines Tribune last week told the beautiful story about Dalton Lloyd of West Des Moines who has worked for the Rock Island Railways for 50 years and has never lost a day.

His employment was in the railway yards and he was engaged in preparing trains to move and keep moving. And since he worked at the job for 50 years his employment must have been satisfactory.

Lloyd is a good citizen. He and Mrs. Lloyd have identified themselves with a religious, social and civic affairs of their community. He is to be congratulated for having served so well.

But there is irony in this beautiful story that we cannot overlook. During this period Lloyd not only worked but he taught many newcomers how to do their job including the tricks of the trade, many of whom have since become fireman, engineers, superintendents and on up to higher echelons of railway employment.

But for him, there were no promotions and thus the differential in the amount he earned during the 50 years and that he should have earned because of management, the unions and railway labor board prevented him from moving up.

This presents an excellent example of why white people earn more money than Negroes and thus have more money to live on, educate their children and enjoy the rights guaranteed by the constitution of the United States.

It is this kind of situation that some of the organizations need to address themselves to as; much as raising scholarship to educate people for employment which they are not able to get after they finish school. There is some improvement in such situations but they need to be routed out if the economic level of the Negro is to be enjoyed like that of white people.

News media announced the death of Wilson, a former president of the General Electric Company. He, too, started at the lower end of pay, receiving $3.00 per week, but rose to the presidency of one of America's great corporations. Everybody black or white will not do but the example is certainly analogous.

Health for All

LIVING TO BE A HUNDRED

By the end of this century, man's life span may reach 100 years.

"We aren't just talking about longer existence, either," Dr. Alex Comfort of London said at a recent conference on aging, "but about a longer period of active, vigorous life." Some scientists such as Dr. Comfort are ready to administer certain drugs, including antioxidants sometimes used as a preservative in bread, to try to extend the human life span. Antioxidants have already been used to increase the life span of mice.

One of the scientists at the conference, which was sponsored by the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, said preliminary evidence suggested that long-lived persons had lower body temperatures than those who are short-lived. If more extensive studies bear this out, said Dr. Bernard L. Struhler of the University of Southern California, it should be possible to devise methods to adjust the body to optimal temperatures.

"We know that most people die of infection rather than senility or old age," reported Dr. Takashi Makinodan, who has conducted experiments at Oak Ridge that have lengthened the lives of older mice by injecting them with spleen cells taken from younger mice. Another researcher, Dr. D. Carleton Gajdusek, reported his research among primitive people showed many viruses lay dormant in the bodies of most people. "So long as they are latent they are of no demonstrable significance to disease," he said. "But they can be activated by numerous stresses."

The tuberculosis germ is one invader that can enter the body and lay low for years. In times of stress or weakened condition the germ may become activated and attack the lungs or other parts of the body.

TOURNAMENT

While people were watching football games over the weekend, the basketball meet called the Christmas tournament featuring eight black colleges was held in Chicago. We thought it would be held a bit sooner, but it was this last weekend. Now this meet has been held several times, and the profits go to a worthy cause. The only trouble with that is there haven't been any profits so far. The basketball is as good as you will find in any small college meet in the country. Then, why don't people attend better than they do? Beats me. A good guess would be that the thing is held in the wrong place. Probably should be held in the Stadium. And maybe there should be a lot of news stories about the competing schools at least a month before the meet. Folks don't know who the teams are. Now, that is just fine for white people to say. But how come that not too many black folks go to the thing? Surely there are enough black cage fans to fill even the Chicago stadium. The thing holds around twenty three thousand for a basketball game. Maybe the event could be worked up into one of the leading social events of the winter with everybody who thinks he or she is somebody being seen there. And they wouldn't have to know a basketball from a beef roast. Maybe someone will take that approach to the meet. And, now, for what happened. Prairie View defended its title, becoming the first school to do this in the brief history of the tournament. They beat Texas Southern.

With Allen Ashby

LeMoyné, Jackson State, and J. C. Smith college won the rest of the honors. And the all star team would make just about any coach drool. Big fellows, fast and good ball handlers and shooters. I should have been there.

Football Bowl Games

Did the bowl games come out to suit you? If not, maybe we can get them played over, if people who don't like to watch football don't raise too much fuss. We thought one of the Alabama guys had put on the wrong shirt. But we weren't seeing sights. There was a black playing defensive end for the Tide. He must have been pretty fair, because we saw him throughout the game and there were a couple playing for Arkansas, but they weren't enough. We have it from the grapevine that there will probably be a couple of black quarterbacks in the deep South next fall. These fellows were stars on the freshman teams of Mississippi State, and we think Tennessee. There are a couple of other fellows who might make headlines, too.

Ratings

As we listen to folks fuss about the ratings, we have to remind them that most of the ratings are popularity contests, as we see it. We say that because there just isn't any way the best team in the country can be chosen. There will be times when a ball club that started poorly can lick the pants off the top team, and sometimes does. Witness the fuss last year. Nebraska defeated the number four or five team. Notre Dame beat the number one team that had held the top spot all year. So the Cornhuskers go to the top by beating a team that had lost to Notre Dame, while the top team went down, and Notre Dame didn't move up much by beating the team that nobody had beaten in two years. Then there were times when the top rated team really had a soft schedule. The more we think of it, the more we are in favor of the playoff series. And then the best team could get way laid on the way to the final game.

High School
Basketball

Now we can get back to the home scene. We thought Tech as in for a tough event; by playing at Roosevelt, and still think they have their work cut out when they face North. But they handled that first big one like the Lakers, and as we say, each win gives them that much more confidence. And then there is North waiting to prove that they are really the best team in the city, even if Tech doesn't think so. When they get together, it ought to be a heck of a game. Sure would like to see Tech with a fellow about six feet nine or better. They could go all the way. Oh, yes, there are some college games featuring Iowa U. Drake, and Iowa State, but who are they?

The Free Southern Theatre Fund Drive

In an effort to establish a broad base of support in the Black communities all over the country, the Free Southern Theatre has launched a fund raising drive that will entertain functions in New York and Atlanta, Georgia.

Julian Bond, Chairman of the National Committee of Sponsors of the Free Southern Theatre, will host a reception at this home in Atlanta on January 22 that will benefit the theatre. The reception will follow a tennis exhibition by Arthur Ashe and is expected to draw top personalities in theatre, politics and sports, as well as business and community leaders from the Atlanta area.

In April, New York's Waldorf Astoria will be the site of a mammoth event that will feature, in addition to food and dancing, a floor show of some of the country's black "superstars". "If Black theatre is to survive, we in the Black community must support it," says John O'Neal, Executive Producer of FST. "We want FST to continue to be a viable force in the theatrical community, and in order to achieve our goals we need the support of everyone," he continues.

The roster of FST alumni and supporters reads like Who's Who in Black American Theatre. Gilbert Moses, Director of Melvin van Peebles' "Ain't Supposed to Die a Natural Death", which is now enjoying a successful run on Broadway, was co-founder of FST with John O'Neal. Denise Nicholas, of "Room 222" fame started her acting career at FST and is now a member of the Board of Directors.

The National Committee of Sponsors of FST consists of people from all over the country, in all walks of life, who have vowed to support in whatever manner available to them the commitment of FST so that it may continue to be an inspiration to its audiences in the South and to provide a much needed training facility for aspiring actors, actresses and theatre technicians. Some of the members of the Committee of Sponsors are Theodore Bikel, St. Clair Bourne, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Krim, Nathewtoff, Jack Lemmon, Wm. F. Ryan and Gregory Peck.

The April affair at the Waldorf will be loosely patterned after the highly successful "Soul Food at the Waldorf" that Bill Cosby and Ava Gardner hosted for FST in 1969. Support is expected for the affair from not only the theatrical community but from corporations such as Gulf Oil. Gulf has donated the services of Brenda Joyce, Community Relations specialist to help gather support from many

Veterans
Checks
Increase

Cost-of-living increases for many Iowa veterans, their dependents or survivors will be reflected in larger checks received from the Veterans Administration early in February, according to the VA.

The local VA office reports there is some apprehension that older veterans, widows and dependent parents affected by the increased payments may think they will get the larger amounts in their January checks since the two new laws are effective Jan. 1.

However, the increases will not be reflected in the January checks because those checks are for a month of December.

The new legislation provides a 6.5 per cent cost of living hike to 2.2 million veterans, widows and children who draw VA benefits based on the death or disability of veterans for non-service-connected causes.

Another new law provides a 10 per cent increase for 186,000 widows of veterans who died of service-connected causes. Called dependency and indemnity compensation, such payments are also made under some circumstances to children and parents of veterans.

About 53,000 children will receive 5 per cent and 68,500 corporations for the goals of the Free Southern Theatre.

parents 6.5 per cent hikes under this new law.

VA officials emphasized that no application for the increases will be necessary, and that recipients will be included automatically on February checks.

QUESTION: I am a widow receiving Social Security checks for 3 minor children and myself. Will my total payment be the same when I have just the two minor children and myself receiving benefits.

ANSWER: Yes. As long as there are at least three members of a family receiving survivors benefits, the total amount remains the same. The amount will decrease somewhat when there is only yourself and one minor child receiving benefits.

QUESTION: If I don't sign up for Medical Insurance when I am first eligible but enroll later, will my premium be the same?

ANSWER: No. The law requires that the monthly premium be increased 10 per cent for each 12 months that a person is eligible but does not enroll.

QUESTION: My father had a stroke and now has to have a wheelchair to move around. I know that Medicare will help pay for his, but how does he claim payment for the cost of the chair?

ANSWER: Durable medical equipment prescribed for use by a doctor is covered by Medical Insurance. A claim is filed in the same way you claim payment on medical bills, with one exception. In addition to the claim form and an itemized bill, you will be required to furnish a statement from your father's physician showing why he has prescribed the use of the equipment and how long he expects the equipment to be necessary. Payments are made over a period of time based on the reasonable rental rate for the equipment, and payments stop when the need for the equipment ends.
