Plan Conference on Social Improvements

Has Been Chef Cook on Oil Tanker; Little Evidence Concerning Catastrophe

All Neighborhood Boards Involved

A comprehensive plan for physical, educational and social welfare improvements in six neighborhoods will take shape during a Planning Conference for the Central Advisory Board (CAB) for the Des Moines Community Development Program.

The Conference will be Friday, Saturday and Sunday (Feb. 11, 12 and 13) at the Des Moines Area Community College near Ankeny.

The CAB will base its comprehensive plan on priorities that have been established by the six Neighborhood Priority Boards.

The Neighborhood Boards are Four Mile, Logan, Model City, Pioneer, Columbus, Southeast and Woodland-Willkie.

The following are summaries of priorities and goals that were included in planning statements filed with the CAB by the neighborhood boards last week:

Periodic flooding of Four Mile Creek and/or threat of such flooding is the most serious problem. Efforts will be made to shorten the time it might otherwise take to obtain Federal funds to control flooding.

There is a lack of recreation, social service, health care, and transportation facilities and lack of information about such facilities and services that do exist. A prime goal is to develop such programs and obtain a building to house them.

Leading the list in Logan are improved social services, including programs for the elderly, more youth activities, children's day-care facilities, food programs for the needy, better public transportation, and better mental and physical health care.

The Board also wants more emphasis on better jobs for area residents, a housing rehabilitation program and an improved

Iowa Power Seeks To Control Soot

The contract to provide two hot-gas, electrostatic-precipitators has been awarded to the Air Correction Division of Universal Oil Products Company, Darien, Connecticut, officials of Iowa Power and Light Company announced today.

Dwight H. Swanson, Iowa Power's Chairman and President, noted that with the installation of these two precipitators, "99.3 percent of the soot, ash and solid particulate matter emitted from the Company's boilers on which these precipitators will be installed in Des Moines and Council Bluffs will be eliminated."

The equipment and installation cost will be $4.2 million Swanson explained.

education program.

The Model City board gave equal weight to continuing all 31 projects now in operation. Included among those projects are children's day care services, a police cadet program, community corrections program and a public defender program.

There are also projects to increase the use of school facilities during non-school hours, to train people to hold better jobs, to prepare low-income residents for home ownership and to improve housing.

Pioneer-Columbus would like to have water mains, sanitary and storm sewers, paving and sidewalks installed in areas that don't have them.

It also wants a "multi-service community center" that would provide space for recreation, adult education, library services, medical and dental care and community meetings.

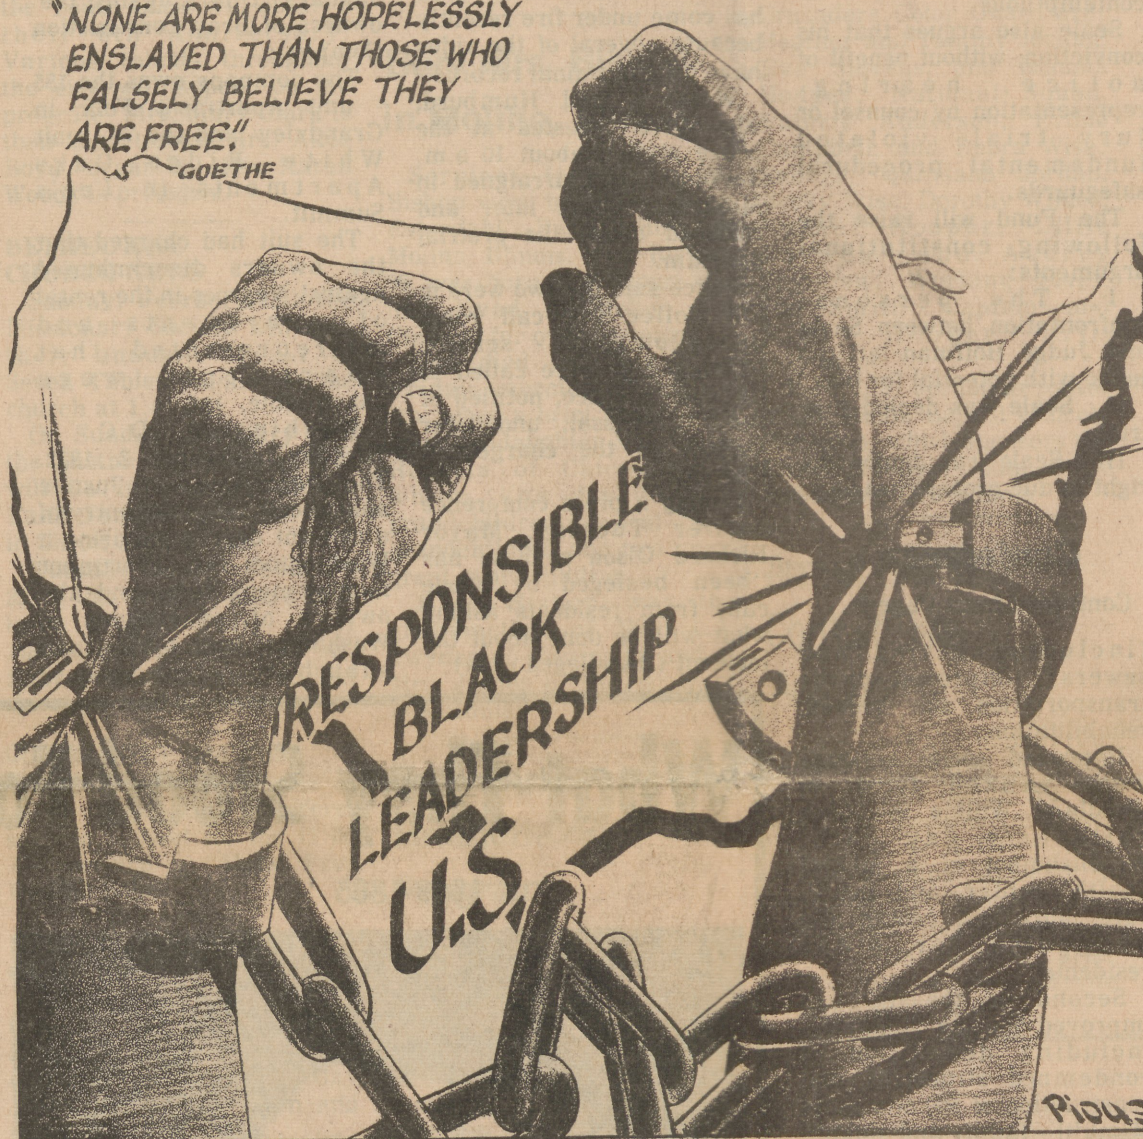

Top ranking for Southeast was given to an effort to obtain property tax relief for special assessments being levied against properties along Maury Street where

Pruitt Named Director At Knoxville Hospital

Alton L. Pruitt, former director of the Veterans Administration Center at Des Moines and now director of the Wadsworth VA hospital in Los Angeles, has been named to head the agency's Knoxville hospital.

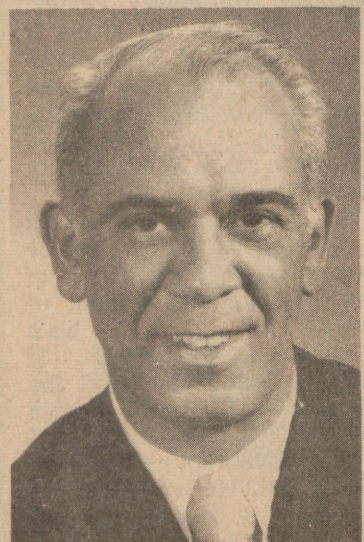

He succeeds Bernath E. Phillips who becomes director of the VA hospital at Pittsburgh, Pa. Formerly in Des Moines Pruitt, 50, was director of the Des Moines VA Center from January 1969 to August 1970 when it was still a combined facility. After his assignment to Los Angeles the Center was made into a hospital and a regional office, each with its own director.

A World War II Marine Corps veteran, Pruitt has been with the V.A. since 1946. After learning of his appointment, he said he was "happy to be returning to Iowa."

Pruitt entered the VA as a personnel specialist at the Chicago regional office, was soon promoted to personnel officer and later transferred as personnel officer of the Chicago West Side Hospital.

He became a supervisory personnel officer at the VA Central Office in Washington, D.C., in 1957, and in 1959 he was assigned to the Oakland, Calif., VA hospital as an assistant director, trainee. He later served as assistant director at VA hospitals in Spokane, Wash., Chicago West Side, and the Bronx, N.Y.

A native of Chicago, Pruitt received his B.S. degree from Loyola University, Chicago, in 1952, and later did graduate work at the university's school of industrial relations. The Pruitts have two sons and two daughters.

Black Caucus Sues for Equal Time

WASHINGTON — A suit which could become a landmark decision affecting free time on television was filed before the Federal Communications Commission on behalf of the Congressional Black Caucus.

It formally asked the FCC to require the networks to make available equal time in order that the Caucus and other members of Congress may explain their views. Five of the 13 members of the Caucus were present at a press conference called to announce the action.

Speaking for the group, Rep. William L. Clay (D. Mo.) said, "We believe the Constitution gave the Congress inherent powers

NEWS In A Nutshell

New York, Feb. 7... The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith today charged the U.S. Office of Immigration with negligence in granting a visa to Sir Oswald Mosley, "the founder of British fascism, a personal friend of the late Adolf Hitler, and a virulent anti-Semite and racist," and called for an immediate investigation.

Washington, D.C. — Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced today that federal examiners will be assigned to nine parishes in Louisiana tomorrow for the general election. Examiners will be stationed in Bossier, Caddo, De Soto, East Carroll, East Feliciana, Madison, Ouachita, Plaquemines and West Feliciana Parishes.

Approval of a $166,560 grant to help continue a program to create minority business opportunities in San Francisco, California, was announced today by Robert A. Podesta, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development.

New York, Jan. 26 — Vernon E. Jordan, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, has been elected a member of the Board of Directors of Celanese Corporation.

New York, N. Y. — Elected Black officials are reported to be divided concerning the candidacy of Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm for the Presidency, in particular regarding the wisdom of endorsing her at the present time.

A meeting of New York's Council of Elected Black Democrats was held last weekend at the home of Borough President Percy Sutton, where a motion to back her candidacy was not formally brought to a vote, although the consensus was said to go against her.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Representative Charles Diggs (Dem., Mich.) has resigned and been replaced by Representative Louis Stokes (Dem., Ohio) as chairman of the Black Caucus in Congress, informed sources said Wednesday.

They said Diggs resigned Tuesday during a closed-door meeting of the group, which consists of the 13 black members of the House.

Diggs is chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Africa, an active panel.

President Nixon was given 30 minutes of prime time free time to deliver his State of the Union message, the Caucus statement said. The petition to the FCC is the result of a year of frustration in seeking equal time.

TEXAS CITY, Texas — Last Tuesday, the 552 foot tanker VA FOG unloaded 9 tons of benzidine, a highly inflammatory substance at the shipping dock.

Subsequently the tanker moved out to sea about 50 miles for the purpose of cleaning the boat where it went down. To date, there has been little evidence of the cause of the disappearance of the craft other than the discovery of two life rings with the name of the boat printed on them.

Included among the crewmen was Tommy Lee McGregory, son of Mrs. Lizzie McGregory of 1610 Franklin. He was a cook on the craft and had been engaged in this type of work since he was 17 years old. He often came to Des Moines to visit his mother and other relatives.

McGregory was born in Alabama and came to Des Moines while still a youngster where he grew up and attended the public schools.

The tanker was owned by the Texas City Oil and Refining Company.

Besides his mother, McGregory is survived by two brothers, Otis of Des Moines and Walter of Chicago and his sister, Mrs. Fannie Simmons of Kansas City, Missouri.

There have been rumors that a blast was heard about the time the vessel was alleged to have been sunk but there is no confirmation of this.

The Bystander learned these facts from an interview with the police Dept. and daily news of Galveston, Texas.

The Senate Filibuster On The EEOC Bill Continues

Since January 19, the day this session of Congress got underway, the Senate has been debating S. 2515, the bill to strengthen the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

So far the chief sponsors of the bill have been able to defeat most of the weakening amendments offered. Three times, and twice by only two votes, the Senate has rejected attempts to gut the bill by striking the provision that would give the EEOC authority to issue cease-and-desist orders against violators of the law.

But the amending process still goes on. It is a strange filibuster that opponents of the bill, mainly Senators Peter Dominick (R., Colo.), Sam Ervin (D., N.C.) and James Allen (D., Ala.) are waging. They are not trying to talk the bill to death so much as trying to amend it to death. Almost every day they bring up a new proposal for weakening the bill and, after a suitable time for debate, let the Senate vote on their amendment. What they will not do is let the Senate dispose of the matter and vote on final passage.

Two Tries At Closure...

The Senate has already tried twice to put a limit on debate. Twice in the past week, on Tuesday, February 1 and Thursday, February 3, the Senate has tried to invoke cloture. Although a majority voted each time to close debate — the first vote was 48 to 37, the second, 53 to 35 — both times the votes fell short of the necessary two-thirds of those present and voting.

...And A Third Try in the Offing

A third attempt to invoke cloture will be made shortly, either within the next day or so or if not, after the Lincoln Day Recess, which runs from the close of business on Wednesday, February 9 to noon on Monday, February 14. Whenever that comes, however, it will be the crucial vote on the bill. Debate must be ended if the bill is to pass.

SCLC To Initiate Memphis Tenn. Boycott

MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, January 26 — A new movement has been launched by the black community in this city where Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated nearly four years ago.

Following a wave of police brutality, including killings of three black men by police during the last three months, the movement is being organized by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference's Memphis Chapter, with the full backing and support of the national SCLC and Dr. Ralph David Abernathy, Dr. King's successor as President of the organization.

Boycott Announced

Announcing a city-wide economic boycott, Rev. Ezekiel Bell, President of the Memphis Chapter of SCLC, SAID: "We have reached the end of what we consider to be the chance for meaningful talks. We are now forced to take action. Since the death of Dr. King, many of us feel that conditions for the black community of Memphis have gotten worse instead of better."

In the recent killings, one young black man was beaten to death by police and two were shot in the back while running with a case of allegedly stolen beer.

In a statement from his Atlanta office, Dr. Abernathy said: "Police brutality against black people in Memphis is a daily routine. The city where Dr. King gave up his life remains one of the most racist in the country. I commend and support our SCLC Chapter in Memphis for taking the initiative in organizing a boycott that must make the power structure of Memphis come to its senses."

Marches, Meetings Planned

"We will go all-out with the boycott until the situation brightens," Rev. Bell said.

"Our strategy will include many tactics, such as marches, house-to-house organizing, telephone networks, leafletting, mass meetings and picketing."

"If injunctions are used against us, we do not plan to obey them."

The Memphis movement is in the process of writing a broad manifesto of demands, which will include the following:

— An end to police brutality and a policy of strict restraint on the use of guns by police.

— Hiring of more black police officers. Only 76 blacks are now on the police force of 1,200 — in a city with a black population of 42 per cent.

— Hiring of more black firemen. There are now 27 out of some 700.

— More and better jobs for blacks in the city government.

— Fair representation of the black community in the school system, where 59 per cent of the students are black. There are now three blacks and six whites on the school board.

— Fair representation on the city council, which now has three blacks and 10 whites.

— Improvements in housing.

— More and better jobs throughout the economy of Memphis. The boycott will place special emphasis on stores and companies which profit most from the black community.

Birch Society Condemns Added Value Tax

Following his State of the Union Message, President Nixon, through his press secretary, launched a trial balloon of the Added Value Tax. The Added Value Tax is one of the most insidious taxes that can be instituted by any Government because it is a series of hidden taxes which are camouflaged in the retail price of commodities. The general public is then deluded into thinking that increased prices are due to labor and business; and all the while, the real cause is increased taxation.

The Nixon hypocrisy was evident in the Wage and Price Controls. After promising the American people and Congress that he would not impose Wage and Price Controls, President Nixon instituted an economic dictatorship. Significantly, wages and prices were frozen; but taxes and Government spending were not.

The Added Value Tax would compound this problem even further. Inflation would continue, business and labor receiving the condemnation and blame for it while the real culprit, Government, increases taxes and spending. Regardless of whatever euphemistic title is finally assigned to the Added Value Tax by the Nixon Administration, let us hope that the American people will demand that their Congressmen vote against this vicious and unnecessary tax.

LDF Files Reply Brief for Bobby Seale

NEW YORK, N.Y. — On February 2, a reply brief was filed on behalf of Black Panther leader Bobby G. Seale by attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. (LDF) and Black Panther attorney, Charles Garry. The original brief in this case was filed June 1969. The Legal Defense Fund first announced its involvement in the case February 18, 1970 after Charles Garry requested LDF's assistance.

Oral argument on behalf of Seale will be presented February 9, in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit, by Charles Garry and Anthony G. Amsterdam. At issue is the four-year contempt sentence imposed on Seale by U.S. District Judge Julius Hoffman during the course of proceedings in the Chicago conspiracy trial.

The purpose of the reply brief is to answer the government's brief; and to deal with a number of recent Supreme Court decisions that LDF and Garry contend, requires that Seale's conviction be reversed and that charges be dismissed.

Virtually all of Seale's contempt convictions arose, as his reply brief indicates, out of "the trial court's wrongful denial of Seale's right to counsel of choice and to self-representation after Seale discovered that his own lawyer, Charles Garry, could not be present to represent him. Legal Defense Fund attorneys contend that Seale, "was in the end punished with contempt for his attempts to explain in the court that he had never authorized anyone but Garry to act as his lawyer; and in the absence of Garry, he wanted to Seale also argues that his conviction, without benefit of notice, hearing, representation by counsel or jury trial, violated fundamental procedural safeguards.

The Fund will raise the following constitutional arguments:

I. The personal confrontation between Seale and Judge Hoffman left the judge with potential for bias.

II. Seale was denied jury trial.

III. Seale was denied the right to due process hearing.

(including paving and sewers), improved public transportation and housing rehabilitation.

Improved social services were ranked first in Woodland Wilkie including children's day care, establishment of a mental health center and health care outpatient center and programs for older residents.

Second on the list was improved housing conditions, including demolition of condemned structures and construction of 500 new units of multi-family and single-family units.

Following the Planning Conference, the CAB will sewers and paving are being installed.

Other projects include a junk car removal program, establishment of a multi-purpose community center, subsidies for all physical improvement projects have a month to revise and complete its Comprehensive Plan. The Plan will be filled with the Des Moines City Council on March 13.

If the City Council approves the plan it will be sent to the Regional Office of the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). If HUD officials approve the plan, the City will receive nearly $5.8 million on April 1, for implementing the plan. About $218,000 of that total has already been released to the city to cover administrative costs incurred setting up the Community Development Program.

Charge Police Aides with Wallace Big Issue Assault on 14-Yr. Old Girl In Florida Primary

Following a complaint by a Des Moines couple that their 14 year old daughter had been abducted and raped by two Model City's police aides, authorities filed charges against Rich Weston, 1720 Forest Avenue, and Robert Humburd, 1924 Washington Avenue and charged them with the offense.

Later they were dismissed from their jobs by City Manager Tom Chenoweth upon recommendation of Chief of Police Wendell Nicholls because they were in uniform and supposed to be on duty but not at their assigned area Monday afternoon.

The young girl was alleged to have been enticed away from Washington Irving Junior High and was taken to a house where she was given intoxicating substance and later subjected to assault by the two young men.

"This is a blow to the community service aide program. We're having enough trouble as it is," Nicholls said.

The program now operating in the near northside Model City area has come under fire recently because several of the aides have prior criminal records.

Western and Humburd, who were arrested at the police station about 10 a.m. Tuesday, were arraigned in Municipal Court later and released under the pretrial program.

Police said the two were in the police roll call room undergoing in-service training and were called to the chief's office, notified of their dismissal, and later booked on the charges at City Jail.

During a press conference earlier Tuesday, Mayor Richard Olson said he has "been besieged by phone calls from residents asking what will be done about the incident (the alleged rape)."

Apartment Case

Wednesday, February 2, 1972 Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced today the entry of a consent decree prohibiting the owners of two apartment complexes in suburban Kansas City, Missouri, from racial discrimination in rental of apartments.

Mr. Mitchell said the decree was entered in U.S. District Court in Kansas City, resolving a suit filed by the Department of Justice on January 11, 1971, against the owners of Bray Construction Company.

The company owns the 155-unit Apartment Four in Grandview and the 74-unit White Ridge Oaks Apartments in Lee's Summit.

The suit had charged that the owners discriminated against Negroes in the rental of apartments and misrepresented that apartments were unavailable.

Try Eleven Involved in Mississippi Shootout

JACKSON, Miss. — Trial of the RNA Eleven will start March 27 before Judge Russel B. Moore III in Hinds County Circuit Court. First to be tried will be Hekima Ana.

The date was set by Judge Moore after a week of hearings on motions by attorneys for members and officers of the Republic of New Africa (RNA).

Seven of the 11 have been in jail under high bonds since a shoot-out here last August. A police lieutenant was killed and a patrolman and an FBI agent were wounded after officers attacked headquarters of the RNA.

During the hearings, FBI agents refused to tell the name of an informer who caused the agents and Jackson police to go to the house where the shooting took place.

The agents said the informer told them that Jerry Steiner, wanted on a federal warrant issued in Michigan, was living at 1148 Lewis Street. This is headquarters of the RNA.

Judge Moore refused to force the FBI to give the name of the informer. He promised to rule later on a motion to dismiss the indictment against the Eleven because of hostile coverage of their case by the regular news media.

Meantime, there is mounting criticism of the way police and FBI agents acted when they went to the Lewis Street house to serve a warrant on the fugitive who was said to be there.

The Social Concerns Committee of the First Unitarian Church of Jackson declared: "The death of Lt. Skinner and the wounding of one Jackson policeman and one FBI special agent would never have happened, and the trial would not now be taking place, if the authorities of the FBI and police had themselves followed their own legal procedures."

The Student Government Association at nearby Tougaloo College said: "We feel that it is an outrage against justice and the sanctity of black life to incarcerate members of the RNA. We doubt that they will receive justice in Mississippi courts and we will not sit idly by and watch justice crucified a second time."

Legal Defense Fund, a corporation based in New York and headed by noted actor and playwright, Ossie Davis, the spokesman said. One of the Fund's trustees is Mrs. Sallie Davis, mother of the 28-year old former college professor and avowed Communist.

Miss Davis, who is scheduled to go on trial this month in San Jose, California, on murder, kidnapping and conspiracy charges, also denied the allegations against the Communist Party in a statement made in court Wednesday. Miss Davis asked that the state pay the cost of her defense and for her four lawyers, saying that fund - drives on her behalf had not brought in the amount of money needed. Her attorneys had indicated last week that Miss Davis did not have funds to finance her defense.

Temporary halt on artificial turf is asked.

Namath wonders if it's wise to return this year.

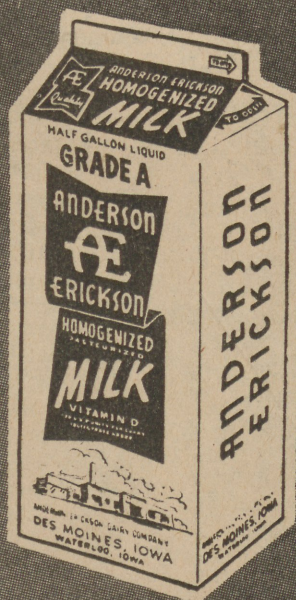

Diversion of Angela's Defense Fund Denied

Reports that thousands of dollars intended for the legal defense fund of Angela Davis have instead been diverted by the Communist Party for its own use were denied Thursday by officials of the Angela Davis National United Defense Committee.

A spokesman from the Defense Committee headquarters in San Francisco told the Daily Defender in a telephone interview that "At no time has money raised for Miss Davis' defense ever been used for any other purpose."

In denying the reports which have appeared recently in several newspapers and which have been circulating here, the spokesman said that the Committee has raised $100,000 for Miss Davis' legal defense fund in the last year, $20,000 of which was used for printing costs.

Funds raised went into the

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We are met to dedicate a portion of it as the final resting-place of those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work they have thus far so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that the government of the people, for the people, by the people shall not perish from the earth.

To Church Reporters and Pastors
Please see that only one person reports the news as it is confusing to have material coming from more than one source.

Do not list meetings of the church, clubs and organizations unless some special feature is reported.
Don't run advertising as news, and additions to the church or visitors unless from out of town. The slick should include only those in hospitals, which should be separate from the church news.

Dead-line for news is Tuesday at twelve noon and dead-line for advertising is Tuesday at 5 o'clock.

scope from this country to the globe by producing Who's Who in the World, an authoritative guide to the outstanding citizens of 168 countries.

In our present day society the number of intellectual and scientific disciplines has multiplied and it has become increasingly difficult for a person in one country to know who his peers may be in other countries. Who's Who in the World attempts to provide, at least partially, an answer to the age-old question, "Who knows what?" through a comprehensive list of the "Who" and people of the world.

More than 25,000 names have been selected for this new directory, each for individual achievements within specific fields of endeavor, from the arts and sciences to business and government.

The volume offers students, writers, businessmen, researchers, and browsers a wide range of background data, all in concise form. A complete biographical sketch in the directory includes the individual's full name, birth date and place of birth, parents' names (including mother's maiden name), education, honorary degrees, marital status, children's names, career positions held with dates, career-related activities, civic and political activities, military service, awards and decorations, professional and other memberships, titles of published works, and mailing addresses.

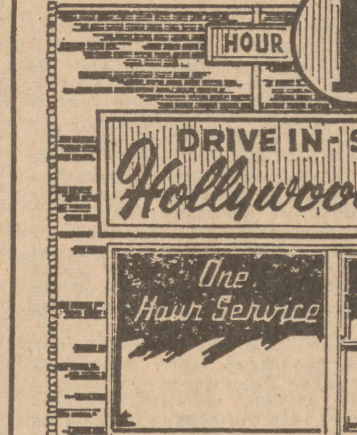

Besides the alphabetical listing of biographical sketches, Who's Who in the World contains a country-by-country index. Within the alphabetical listing are cross references to selected government leaders.

HELP YOURSELF TO A BETTER JOB

I would like to get more schooling that would lead to a better job. My problem is spelled M-O-N-E-Y.
There are several sources of H-E-L-P.
If you are a veteran, Uncle Sam will give you an educational allowance of $175 a month, more if you have dependents, to go to school; or will reimburse you for the cost of a home study program. The more months of service, the more months of educational allowance you are entitled to.

Get in touch with the nearest Veterans Administration office for information about a "certificate of eligibility" and other details, and then apply to the school of your choice. For home study the VA will approve courses which are likely to lead to a job or a new position in your present work. Educational loans backed by Uncle Sam offer another source. The loans bear interest at 7 percent. Banks, savings and loan organizations

The phone number of the Family Service, East Side, is 323-9801.

It is an effort to bring the agency's services closer to the people who may need them. Persons or families having problems in their everyday lives are eligible for the service.

Some of the problems which the agency can help with are marriage difficulties, unwanted pregnancies, problems with parents or teenagers, and planning for the care of a family member.

The program was started out of a concern of the board and staff to provide more services on the east side.

Those attending the Iowa Civil Rights Commission Seminar at Cedar Rapids, Monday and Tuesday, February 7 and 8 will be: Mayor Kathy Kirschbaum, City Attorney Ralph Beal, and Alderman Powell Owens. Those from the Human Relations

SUNDAY'S PHONE CALL TO MRS. LUTHER T. GLANTON was one of the most rewarding I've ever made! She informed me of the Lovejoys' Art Studio Exhibit. Their first, and one of the most beautiful I have ever viewed.

THE SECRETARY SURROUNDING THE ARTISTS' choice and preparation of materials enhanced the interest of everyone. What ever is used by them, in my opinion, makes their art "live". I definitely prefer the enormity of their paintings. Their art displays techniques hard to define. A local artist has promised to share with me his reactions, when he has had the good fortune to view their forthcoming show — they promise another, you know!

JIMMY AND TIM WERE INTERESTING TO INTERVIEW, though the time was all too brief and the two much in demand by viewers and collectors. I've tabled a real interview with each for the future. Each is very generous toward the other and somehow so similar. This generosity on their part sends one's appreciation skyrocketing. Because of it, one learns what their goals are and achieves a greater understanding of what they have done.

THE LOVEJOYS' CHOICE OF ART as a gift to Governor Robert E. Ray in behalf of the State of Iowa was a plantation scene. It was an astute move to place an original work in the state capitol. To observe the acceptance of this art, was to see history in the making. Specifically, it was black history at the time of its creation.

SONGSTRESS ONEDA COOPER MITCHELL made her choice of the exhibits End of an Era and walked coolly and happily away, while I sat green-eyed. Forgot about me — thought only of a story and still another story! (Which can't hang from a wall!)

AT THE EXHIBIT MET MRS. GRACE SWANSON who with Miss Sharon Harold supervise the J. Thompson Apartments Halfway House, 604½ School Street. This building was at one time under Bethel Mission made available to it by a faithful worker, Jane Thompson, who will be approximately $20,000 to the Mission. The Mission provided housekeeping rooms and units for women, the State Dept. of Social Service now heads the home. Women and girls from Rockwell reformatory and from all over the state and from this community may live here and find suitable employment and so reenter the mainstream of day-to-day living. Mrs. Swanson brought a group of five girls to view the Lovejoys' Exhibit.

LeRoy Mitchell Exhibit At Amos Hiatt Jr. High

Mitchell's work will include jewelry and sculpture developed from metal, wood and plastics. The artist is coordinator for Community School Project at Amos Hiatt Junior High School.

Lovejoys' Art Studios Present Exhibit

Lt. to rt. Tim and Jimmy Lovejoy

Artists Jimmy and Tim Lovejoy held the first Iowa exhibit of their works Sunday at Hotel Fort Des Moines Wedgewood Room.

To many viewers, it was the emergency of the two brothers as artists. The revelation was tremendously pleasing and for those fortunate enough to have been in attendance establishes the two as truly fine artists of Iowa.

The two brothers had actually launched the opening of their show last Friday February 4 with the presentation of a painting to Governor Robert Ray in behalf of the State of Iowa.

The show Sunday opened with exhibit of the painting and a few comments by Dick Gilbert, Governor Ray's press secretary, in place of the Governor who was out of town.

The picture is entitled "The Visit" and, according to Jim Lovejoy, is based on an actual engraving from the Book of Knowledge entitled "People Visiting on a Plantation."

A style show narrated by Miss Pam Taylor, of the T&K Business Association, Inc. was next on program and was well received.

Dr. Harper Has Made History

Negro History Week is being observed in many quarters, directed mainly at what has happened in the past. It is an excellent idea in that it emphasizes what America should know about the Negro's history.

However, it is mighty important what the Negro is doing today for not only does it enhance his position but also leaves a legacy for youngsters to shoot at.

We sometimes overlook the history that is being made around us looking far off at what we have right at home.

Saturday, the people of Ft. Madison, Iowa are honoring Dr. Harry D. Harper an outstanding citizen. He has made Negro history in Iowa.

The son of just a hard working but substantial father and mother, Dr. Harper persevered to secure an education, settled in his home town — not the big cities as too many professionals do — and proceeded to build an excellent practice, interested himself in the business and professional affairs of the city which brought for him the respect and admiration of the people of Iowa.

His success has not prevented him from interesting himself in the struggle of the Negro as evidenced by his active participation in the NAACP, as a member of the State Civil Rights Commission, his church and assistance to youngsters in their effort to get an education.

Dr. Harper has been an excellent family man inspiring his sons and daughter to follow in his footsteps. He has made Models from the New Association Club of Des Moines included Bruce Taylor, Lolita Powell, Larry Welch, Gail Watson, Terry Watson, along with Linda and Ben Nicholas. Wardrobes were provided by Reichardt's, the Country Cobbler, The Loft, Arnold's, and designer Gail Watson.

A number of the paintings had been sold but were borrowed for the show. One was entitled "Kanen Bornu", an African Warrior, owned by Judge and Mrs. Luther T. Glanton.

The Lovejoys' works are very similar but can be differentiated. However, the materials in the paintings are kept secret.

The men's media will be revealed in a story soon to be published by True West Magazine, forthcoming from Madeira Beach, Florida.

The frame of each painting is a fascinating story in itself and is handmade by one or the other of the artists. They are said to be created from old fence posts, old cedar light posts, 2x4's, bamboo sticks and many other materials.

The Lovejoys anticipate a second show within the next three months.

history for himself and his family and Iowa. The Bystander salutes Dr. Harper on the occasion of this recognition.

Q. What is the correct manner in which to butter your bread or roll?

A. In the first place, never hold your bread in midair while spreading the butter. Instead, it should be held against the edge of the butterplate. Nor is the bread or roll ever buttered in one piece. Break the bread or roll into pieces, and butter each piece as you use it.

Q. Should one write "Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Hodges" on the inner envelope of a wedding invitation, just as it is written on the outer envelope?

A. Just "Mr. and Mrs. Hodges" is sufficient.

Q. When a woman's husband is a "junior," should she also use this affix in her correspondence?

A. Yes, certainly. She is "Mrs. George W. Harrison, Jr."

Q. I've been criticized for wearing perfume in the office where I am employed. Is this really improper?

A. It may be that you are wearing a too-heavy type of perfume. Otherwise, there is nothing at all wrong with wearing perfume in an office, but it should emit a dainty and delicate fragrance, not a heavy and cloying one.

Q. I am a girl about to be married, but have no father, brother, or other male relative to give me away. My fiancé has suggested that my father would like to serve in this capacity. Would this be proper?

A. This would be quite all right.

Q. What does a person do if an uninvited guest drops in while he is listening to a TV program in which he is particularly interested?

A. Explain that the program is something you want especially to see or hear, and ask your visitor to join you. "Come in and watch if you care to — it should be over in about 15 minutes." The visitor can then either do so or proceed on his way.

Q. At a birthday party in my honor recently I received a number of nice gifts and I thanked each person personally at the party. Is it necessary also that I write a thank-you note to each person?

A. No.

Q. Who is the first to present his ring in a double-ring wedding ceremony, the bridegroom or the bride?

A. The bridegroom.

Q. For my wedding, my gown will be ballerina-length. Should the dresses of my attendants also be short?

A. Yes.

Moving Backward

Senator Sam Ervine, Democrat of South Carolina, has introduced a Constitutional Measure to the United States which would bar the use of busing of students in public schools to achieve integration. He is the leader of the "Law and Order" conservative anti-civil rights forces.

The real object of this move is to gather the forces opposed to integration in any form and those who heretofore have favored it but now have reversed their convictions because they too don't believe in integration.

We don't believe the measure will pass the Senate much because it is not the type of law that should grace the constitution.

Further, it is a smoke screen for those who are waging the battle against the broadening of powers of the Equal Opportunity Commission which would give them enforcement powers.

The emotional controversy on busing will be continued to be debated in the coming election for George Wallace is in the running on just that platform.

Clamor for integration arose over the failure of some states to provide equal facilities in the public schools for races. In some states for years following the turn of the century the ratio was $1.00 spent for a Negro child and $7.00 for a white child. This provided unequal facilities for minorities which the Civil Rights Leaders felt could only be cured by integration.

That inequality has arisen in some other states due to the concentration of Negroes in packed areas.

We have come a long way in the climb of Negroes toward equality in American Life, further than many who carried the load for years ever expected to see. As the Bystander has often compared this with a General on the battle field that in order to capture an objective and he must regroup his forces to hold it otherwise the enemy will counter attack and drive him off. This must not happen and thus the forces of Equal Opportunity Must Regroup and stop the enemy in its tracks.

If those who have changed their mind oppose busing then in good conscience they should come up with a system of their own which will guarantee equal education opportunities.

Brotherhood Month

February is Brotherhood Month, and observances generally built around those forces and finally built up sentiment brought an end to slavery in this country.

For some time following the First World War Brotherhood Programs went on through churches, in some schools and other places in its observance and in recognition of the birth of Abraham Lincoln on February 12.

Among the forces that led this buildup against slavery were dedicated men and women as Harriet Beecher Stowe, Fred Douglas, Henry Ward Beecher who did much of the ground work by convincing the American People that slavery was wrong and had no place in a democracy.

Douglas was a Negro, born in Maryland who bought his freedom, moved to New England and preached the anti-slavery doctrine both in America and England. He became an outstanding figure and up until his death in 1895 became a leading figure in the arena of politics and civil rights. His home is located at Anacostia Maryland and was reclaimed and rebuilt by the Association of Colored Women, many of whom were from Des Moines and who raised the general funds among both white and Negro citizens. Some of this history may be found in the schools. It is available in most libraries and the Negro Press has published it over the years and continues to do so.

It is for this reason that the Bystander has cooperated with those forces who have been interested in the Brotherhood Movement and not only emphasize it not only in this issue prior to February 12th but also the one following.

We dare say that the turbulent state of our nation today is due, to a great extent of the people who are guided by its principles.

Health for All

WHEEZES AND GASPS

Wild sneezes and gasps go with certain allergies. Allergies to pollen, fur, dust, and dozens of irritants.

Asthmatics think they wheeze upon direct contact to pollen or other offending substances. But they could be wrong. The trouble may start after the substance gets to their stomach.

In experiments with volunteer asthmatics, researchers at the medical school of UCLA painted pollen with a radioactive material that registers dramatically on special cameras. When the volunteers breathed in the radiopollen, cameras picked up traces of pollen in the mouth. But none in the nose. Then the materials moved down the esophagus into the stomach. Not into the lungs.

Although the patients coughed a little within the first half-hour after inhaling the pollen, coughing cleared up quickly. Four to nine hours later, however, they developed clinical signs of asthma. The severity of their coughing and wheezing was closely related to the dosage of pollen they had inhaled.

Dr. Harold S. Novey, assistant clinical professor of medicine, presented these findings at a recent meeting of the American Academy of Allergy. "The allergic reaction, he said, 'appears to result from late reabsorption of pollen particles from the gastrointestinal tract.' He speculates that the breathing difficulties seen during asthmatic attacks may be touched off by pollen particles that have traveled through the bloodstream to the lungs and bronchial tubes after they have been ingested by the intestinal tract.

"If the pathways can be worked out," says Dr. Novey, "then we may be able to develop means for blocking the allergens, preventing them from reaching the area where they do their damage."

To find out more about allergies and respiratory diseases, check with your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. It's a matter of life and breath.

Gophers — Ohio State

Still getting reverberations from that Ohio State-Minnesota Basketball Game. There was a real blast at the Gophers and their coach, about which the kindest thing that one could say was that the writer broke one of the rules of objective writing. He wrote that one while he was angry, and it showed. We won't go into the details of the thing, but we're glad a lot of writers don't let their anger get the best of them. So Much for that.

Now the Minnesota Gophers team is on the spot every time they play a game. They seem to be bearing up well under the pressure. They kept their cool and edged out a one point win over Iowa after beating the Hawks at Iowa City earlier. As usual, politicians have to get into the act. Instead of playing the role of leader, and while letting everyone know they don't like it, the politicians are thinking about passing laws to forbid games with Minnesota. It makes political hay to blast Minnesota and their coach. How silly can lawmakers get?

Iowa State
I.S.U. Has Chance
While Iowa U was dropping that close one at Minnesota, Iowa State was squeezing past Kansas by a point, and Drake was getting it on the chin at Louisville.

With Allen Ashby

The Cyclones have an outside chance to win the Big Eight Crown. Drake will have to hustle to keep out of M.V.C. the second division as will Iowa in the Big Ten. Iowa State seems to be playing in spurts, good some days, poor on others. Drake just doesn't seem to have the guys to put it together this year.

One more item on the Gopher-Buckeye situation. What sort of reception will the Northerners get at Columbus? Some people claim that the suspension of the two Minnesota players, Ron Benhagen and Corky Taylor was largely on racial grounds.

Tech Misses Colton
Here at home Tech had one of their key men missing in the game with Roosevelt, and it hurt them. With Colton in there, the Engineers might have pulled that one out. And if they don't get him back for the Lincoln Game they will be in trouble. Both the Riders and Lincoln have had second semester help while Tech will have to go out and really scuffle to stay on top. Then comes North, still a good team, but one that seems to be having difficulties. They might get back together for Tech, and if they do it will mean more trouble for the engineers. East got up off the floor and came up with a win just when people thought they might roll over and play dead. They did Dowling in, and have had quite a few good games.

Then, of course, there is district wrestling and swimming coming up soon and we have promised to get around to see some of this stuff.
