

Free AT Last : Angela Declares War On Oppression

Angela Davis

SAN JOSE, Calif. — (NBNS) — Free at last, a jubilant Angela Davis is embarking on a cross-country tour to thank supporters and to make good on her promise to give "all I have" to the victims of political oppression.

It took only 13 hours for a jury of 11 whites and a Chicano to end a 13-week trial with "not guilty" verdicts on murder, kidnapping and criminal conspiracy charges leveled against Ms. Davis stemming from the death of a California judge and three others in a shoot-out in August, 1970.

Proclaiming the day of the verdict to be "the happiest day of my life," Angela nonetheless said that "a fair trial would have been no trial" in response to a question about her opinion of the American judicial system.

Supporters of Ms. Davis noted that she in effect served 16 months in jail for crimes she did not commit. Arrested October 13, 1970, Angela was confined in prison under a prohibitive bond until a wealthy Californian put forward his San Joaquin Valley dairy farm as collateral last February 23 to meet the $102,500 bail.

Charlene Mitchell, executive director of the Angela Davis Defense

Committee, said Ms. Davis will visit at least six cities to help cancel a $250,000 deficit incurred during the trial. The series of speaking engagements will be the forerunning, according to another spokesman, Stephanie Allen, of the "building of a national defense organization for victims of repression."

Following a rest and appearance in Los Angeles, Angela will travel to San Antonio, Texas on June 15. From there she will head northeast for speaking engagements in Chicago, June 17 and Detroit, June 18, before heading south to Memphis, Tenn., and her hometown of Birmingham, Alabama.

The three week nationwide tour will wind up with a June 29 "Evening with Angela" gala in New York City's Madison Square Garden.

Ms. Davis, an avowed Communist and former philosophy instructor at the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA), was immediately offered a position at Malcolm X College in Chicago following her acquittal last Sunday.

Charles G. Hurst, president of the college, said he made the offer and received a "very favorable response from Angela's parents" though he had not yet heard from Angela herself. Hurst said Ms. Davis was offered the opportunity to lecture on philosophy, logic and institutional racism.

From Moscow, the official Tass News Agency said the acquittal "signifies a victory for progressive American and world opinion."

Ms. Davis' sister, Mrs. Fania Davis Jordan, read a statement following the verdict from the National United Committee to Free Angela Davis and All Political Prisoners, which said, in part:

"There never was a legal case against Angela Davis. But the political necessity for such a trial was incontrovertible for the state ... We think that the people have taught the government of the state of California a lesson. But justice, real justice, will be done only when the authors of this conspiracy—Nixon; Reagan; Younger and Harris—are indicted and convicted ... These references were to the governor and attorney general of California and the prosecutor in the case."

Ms. Davis mother, Sallye Davis of Birmingham, described the past 22 months as a "total nightmare" and said the verdict foreshadows "freedom not only for my daughter, but for all the oppressed people of this land."

The charges came from a widely publicized incident at the Marin County courthouse north of San Francisco on August 7, 1970.

Jonathan Jackson, 17, brother of Soledad Brother George Jackson, entered the courtroom of Judge Harold J. Hailey during the trial of James McClain, an inmate at San Quentin (Calif.) State Prison, who was charged with stabbing a prison guard.

Producing three guns from a briefcase and disarming several courtroom deputies, Jackson distributed the weapons to McClain and several inmate witnesses.

During an ensuing exchange of gunfire, Judge Hailey, Jackson, McClain and another prisoner were killed. Another inmate, Ruchelle Magee, was wounded and a prosecutor paralyzed by a bullet. It was subsequently discovered that the guns used by Jackson had been purchased by Ms. Davis.

The trial ended with the jury convinced that Ms. Davis had no knowledge of the plans which led up to the shootout.

"I'm happy all of this is out of the way so that I can begin to give all I have to the struggle to free political prisoners and to the struggle to liberate all oppressed people," Ms. Davis said after her acquittal.

Her supporters maintained that the prisons of the country were filled with persons hounded for their political beliefs and jailed for long sentences for which those with the funds to hire expensive attorneys get light or suspended sentences.

Examples cited were George Jackson who, until he was shot in the back during an alleged escape attempt last summer, was in the twelfth year of an "up to life sentence" for a $70 armed robbery. Then there was Ruchelle Magee, who still faces charges in the San Marin shootout, who is serving a life sentence "without the possibility of parole" for an offense involving the transfer of $10 worth of marijuana.

MAYOR GIBSON ENDORSES MCGOVERN
NEWARK, N.J. — (NBNS) — The first black mayor of a major Eastern city has endorsed Sen. George S. McGovern for the Democratic presidential nomination. Mayor Kenneth A. Gibson joined a growing group of prominent black figures swinging to the McGovern camp, despite the popularity of Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the black community and the continuing presidential candidacy of New York Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm.

5. Not one window was broken throughout the building though it is 90% windows.

OUTSIDE THE BUILDING:

At least 250 whites gathered and called names, shot guns, and threatened Blacks with large dogs. The police were asked to do something about this. After many requests they strolled over to the white group and looked.

Although everyone hear the gunshots, not one person was so much as searched to say nothing about being arrested.

THE OVERALL PROBLEM:

This is just the West Jr. High Story. If we had space to tell the Hoover Jr. High Story, the West High Story, the Kittrell Story, the Bunker Jr. High Story, the facts would remain the same, only the names would be changed. The entire Waterloo School System is a system which programs Blacks for failure in life.

At one time we had a recreation center and the School Administration on the East side, now they are on the West side. Where can we go?

BLACK PEOPLE! OLD PEOPLE! POOR PEOPLE! YOUNG PEOPLE!

All people who identify with out needs - can you not see that there is no justice for Black people in America?

When will it all end?

You are either a part of the solution or you are part of the problem!

Which one will you be?

JOIN OUR STRUGGLE!!!

Today the struggle for recognition and human dignity continues in Waterloo. The picketing is for the purpose of obtaining meaningful support from the white business community for quality education in Waterloo's Black community. Blacks spend millions of dollars in Waterloo each year. According to spokesmen, "The picketing will continue until we get some satisfaction." We've supported businesses like this Plaza (Eagle Plaza) down through the years. And now we turn to them for support in our struggles."

Business has been cut by as much as 90 percent in the first few weeks of the pickets. Since the injunction on Sunday, June 11, enjoining the picketers from trespassing on private property, business has improved slightly. However, merchants in the Eagle Plaza report business down. Some estimates still place business in the Plaza 50-60% off its normal pace. The picketers were told in that injunction they must move off private property or be jailed. The picketers then moved to public property adjacent to all entrances and exits to the plaza.

'BULL' CONNOR DEFEATED

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (NBNS) — Eugene "Bull" Connor, who achieved national notoriety as Birmingham's repressive police commissioner during civil rights protests of a decade ago, had been soundly defeated for re-election as head of the Alabama Public Service Commission. Relatively unknown State Sen. Kenneth Hammond won nearly 65 percent of the vote.

Sarah Vaughan

Sarah Spinning Again

You may not have heard from her lately, but Sarah Vaughan has been a very busy lady these last five years. And even if you haven't heard one of her records recently, it's rather unlikely that you've forgotten that golden-clear, jazz-eratic voice or the melody of at least one of her classic hits.

Sarah's been out of the recording studios for the last five years, doing concerts in Europe, playing clubs across the United States, getting close to the people and turning folks on to the intimate sound of "Sassy."

"There comes a point in an artist's career, after many years of striving, when the fruits of your labor really begin to ripen," Sarah says. "Your records are hits, the royalty checks coming in afford you a beautiful home and you've got most of the comforts of life."

"But how do you really measure success," she continues, "if you're an artist you have to hear applause, you thrive on people to people contact, and, most importantly, you have to have an arena where you can experiment and try out music that you don't get a chance to when you are recording."

"That is why I went back out among the people, back to the roots, to get that energy that only a live audience can give you."

But this year Sarah went back into the recording studios as well. She recorded two beautiful albums for Mainstream. Her second album features the velvet voice of Sarah Vaughan with the genius of Academy Award winning composer, Michele Legrand's music.

Her musical tastes haven't changed, she still loves beautiful songs. But I feel revitalized. It's like having a battery inside of you that has been recharged.

"I feel now that I know what the people want to hear, and what they expect from me," the songstress explained.

The public that expects nothing but the best from Sarah Vaughan gets just that from her teaming with Michele Legrand.

Songs on the new album include such Academy Award nominees as, "What Are You Doing The Rest Of Your Life?", "Pieces of Dreams," and "The Summer Knows" from "SUMMER OF '42," all of them tinted with that very special "Sassy" essence that blends and stretches notes as only Sarah Vaughan can.

"I like good songs with beautiful melodies. It's as simple as that," she explains. "We are going through a period now where so many performers are involved with social message songs. And there is a need for that, because the best form of communication is through music. As for me, I really groove on songs about love. Love your man, love your neighbor, love your fellow man. And that's about as social as I get with my music."

But whether Sarah agrees or not, she has been sending out her own special message.

Since the first night she was discovered by Billy Eckstine from the audience of the Apollo Theatre in Harlem at an amateur contest, Sarah has gone from one plateau of success to another. The message is clear.

There are not and should not be any boundaries for pure talent.

Sarah Vaughan is Black, but that does not limit her to being only a rhythm and blues star, although no one would accuse her of not being a "soul" star, because she's got plenty of soul.

At times, there have been those who thought of Sarah Vaughan as a jazz singer, but she has broken that boundary also.

She is a singer for all people, for all races, for any ethnic classification. She is what is known in show business circles as a "musician's singer." She can sing in front of a band, with a trio, or sing playing organ or piano.

If the golden voice of "Miss Sassy" was never heard again, she would have made her mark on the public. It's there on record, on tape, on film, never to be erased.

But happily, the public won't have to worry about that. Because that incredible voice that never limited its potential, that has matured with time like fine wine, is back on the record racks, back on the turntables, coming in over the airwaves, and sending out music—and it's like beautiful.

Last year, the Arndts heated and cooled their home electrically for $183.84*.

Mr. & Mrs. Erwin Arndt live in Walnut, Iowa. Their home has 1,400 square feet on the first floor and 1,400 in the basement... both heated and cooled electrically. Last year, their total heating and cooling cost was $183.84.

We asked the Arndts to tell us about total electric home comfort. Here's what they said:

"Erwin and I chose flameless electric heat for our new all-electric home because it is clean, noiseless (no blower!) and evenly distributed.

With a separate heater and thermostat in each room, some rooms, such as bedrooms, can be kept at a lower temperature, if desired.

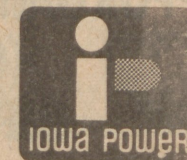

Our electric fireplace gives instant heat at the flick of a switch! (No muss, no fuss!) Even our basement is heated electrically!

We figure it costs us about $15.00 per month for total conditioning—or to be more specific, $183.84 per year for heating and air conditioning our entire home. We love it!"

When you consider the cost of a heating system, consider the value. Electric heating is cleaner, quieter and more flexible than any other system. It's the only system that will be as modern years from now as it is today.

Curious? Mail in the coupon! Let us provide you with an individually prepared estimate of the electric heating cost based on your house plans. No obligations. Just plain facts... then you decide which is best.

I would like to know more about electric heating. I understand there is no obligation.

*PLEASE READ THIS AD CAREFULLY:

The keys to saving money and enjoying total electric home comfort are properly sized equipment and well-insulated homes. The ad states the size of the house and the total yearly bill. If your bill is markedly higher, first carefully figure your complete heated and cooled area in square feet. (Please remember if you heat your basement, count this area too.) Next, check your insulation. You can do this yourself or have it done by a competent contractor.

Another important point. The total amount shown is only the heating and cooling portion of the electric bill. Each customer pays for electricity to run all the rest of his appliances. This portion varies considerably among customers and is not very relevant in specific comparisons.

ROBERT (SOULFUL) PARKER, organist of The Sunday Social, says the group is releasing a new recording, "Too Heavy to Carry". He describes the song as having "a religious flavor to it." The chorus line reads "The Lord never makes a burden too heavy to carry." It could be called a rock gospel! The group opens at the Red Barn in Adel next Monday, June 19. The new record will be heard at that time as a starter, as a prerequisite to its coming out date—in a month or two.

Robert (Soulful) Parker

THE SUNDAY SOCIAL IS IN ITS FOURTH YEAR! The men play mostly throughout the Midwest—to be exact, they play nine states bordering on or in the area of Iowa. The group may be booked through R-Jay Enterprises 276-7176.

PARKER ENTERED DRAKE UNIVERSITY last fall and is an instrumental major. He plays the organ, piano, string bass, violin, the tuba and the flute. He will be a conductor. His major is unusual in that he is an instrumental major with his major area of concentration in piano and a minor in string bass.

PARKER IS ALSO A COMPOSER! A most recent composition was for two flutes and is called "Both Sides Up." He has figured the music in its formation so that two flutists play material crossing each other and ending together right to the final note! In another situation, he wrote and directed a nine piece ensemble. (We should name him Mr. Music! He is all of that and more!)

WHEN A SEVEN YEAR OLD, Parker was enrolled, along with his sister, Cynthia, in Drake University's music department. Has continued his attendance there and just completed his first year in liberal arts there. Next fall finds him a sophomore.

INCIDENTALLY SOMETHING OTHER THAN MUSIC claimed Roberts attention at one point! It is that he entered and won the 1968 — Optimist Club's Oratorical Contest. The $200.00 award was applied to his schooling last fall!

WE MUST ALUDE TO SOMETHING ABOUT HOROSCOPES when talking about the Sunday Social personalities. Four of the five are Gemini! They are Ed Ryan, Art Sternstrom, Gary Suddeth, and Robert Parker. This leaves Ed Kelley!

ROBERT PARKER SHARES A COMMON BIRTH DATE OF JUNE 3 with his mother, Mrs. Willa Mae Parker! (What a marvelous birthday present for Willa Mae!) His father, Jack Parker, has a birth date of June 2, so the three celebrate together, singing "Happy birthday to us!" (How can you top that?)

MRS. WILLA MAE PARKER gave me the story on her son, Robert Parker, but she was scarcely able to really keep her mind on the wonderful accomplishments of Robert. Her mind was with Cynthia, rather "Cindy" as the family calls her. Cindy was with the Des Moines part who left last week for Hawaii! Cindy is a flutist and a member of North High School's band which accompanied by parents and friends made the trip to Hawaii.

MRS. PARKER COMPLETELY ENRaptured with the trip to Hawaii is troubled, however, that perhaps not enough credit may come to Dorothy Lewis (Mrs. Woodrow) who works as a secretary at North High School and who was so instrumental in helping bring the trip about. At no time did Mrs. Lewis waiver at the prospects of the trip materializing. Mrs. Lewis has a daughter, Debbie, flutist in the band. Mrs. Lewis helped make things happen, was the backbone of all efforts in getting together the money. Band Director Karl Killinger stated that he believed Mrs. Lewis would have pulled the plane to Hawaii, if necessary, she was so anxious to get the kids going. Mrs. Lewis, as chairman of the North High Band parents, headed most of the meetings having to do with the planning of the trip. The plane returns with its precious cargo today noon, Tuesday, June 13!

MARY PARKER WHO SEEKS THE POSITION OF STATE DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATIVE made her first public appearance on Monday night before the Iowa Democratic Council at Cottage Grove Presbyterian Church. She appeared with other candidates.

Bid Whist Tournament

On last Sunday afternoon, the Levyman's Club sponsored a Bid Whist Tournament which brought together the largest group of good players to ever face each other in the history of the game in Iowa.

The game was held under some of the most horrible conditions as possible in that the Doric Lodge Hall located at 1617 Crocker was hot as the inside of a furnace. All this didn't seem to bother anyone once they were down with it.

The winners of first prize were Emma Lou and Elizabeth (Beth) Allen. Second prize went to Lonnie Woods and Jean Carr.

All disappointed and absentee players of the tournament are directed by the Club's Bid Whist Chairman Jimmy Mitchell to keep practicing and hang loose as the Levyman's Club will be having another tournament in the near future.

All's Well With Harmonettes

The Des Moines Gospel Harmonette Singers are now appearing for programs. Our lead singer is well and doing fine. The group will be appearing at Bethel Church June 25th at 6:30 p.m. They are being sponsored by the Youth Choir of Bethel. President - Nancy Mathews. Business manager is Alberta Hunter.

Band's Return From Hawaii

North High School Band's Booster Club President Dorothy Lewis was still elated by Tuesday afternoon after the return trip from Hawaii. She summed up the North High Band as having given a superb performance, had displayed beautiful manners throughout their Hawaiian stay.

Hawaii's Governor, John A. Burns sent an invitation to Band Director, Karl Killinger, to join in Hawaii's celebration honoring King Kamehameha the Great, who united the Hawaiian Islands. North High's marching band paraded in Honolulu and captured third place in the marching band category.

Garbed in green-and-white uniforms, the baton twirlers pranced up and down the sidelines as the musicians did precision marching steps.

Mrs. Lewis pointed out that irrespective of the fact that the band wore winter uniforms, as compared to the summer uniforms worn by other bands, the musicians performed with zest. Never standing still the musicians gave a top performance. Six fathers walked the full parade route to be on hand if needed.

Over a hundred family members accompanied the band. Tiny clusters of these were interspersed here and there along the parade route thus making sure there were familiar faces among viewers cheering the band.

Since the band had to appear before royalty, it had to master the nicety of a bow. This they learned, too, acquiring a masterful delivery. They gained the technique intermingling it with their precision routine.

Returning to the start of the trip, Mrs. Lewis spoke glowingly of their departure. On hand to say farewell were three principals, two former and the present one. The Shriners Band played. There were wires received from the Superintendent of Schools, from other band directors and well wishers.

Each parent had been given a schedule of their routines to be followed. Each parent had been informed as to who was their child's chaperone.

The big plane arrived about 2:30 p.m. As quickly as possible everyone went to the beach and the pool. The evening was spent in room assignments and in getting ready for the next day.

The first thing the next morning was a continental breakfast. Escorts visited with everyone, acquainting them with how they were to spend their time. The band practiced daily at Fort DeRussey. The band performed at Fort DeRussey which is the location where Viet Nam veterans and their families get together.

Activities included seeing Kodak Hula Show, a tour, Pearl Harbour Cruise, Pineapple Cannery, Little Circle Island and Sea Life Park Tours. They went on a Moonlight Cruise with dinner aboard ship.

The young people visited the Navy base and went aboard ships. They met people from Iowa wherever they went.

Mayor Richard Olson had given them a Key to the City to be presented to Honolulu's Mayor. This they did. Gifts were given each band member in still another setting.

David Lewis, The New Iowa Bystander photographer and official photographer for the school was among the guests on the occasion of the band's presentation to the Lieutenant Governor and the Mayor. As a member of the press, he was seated in the reviewing stand taking on the scene...

Unrest Growing In South Africa

CAPETOWN— Unrest continued here through the week as a South African government ban on most political gatherings, processions and protests, failed to stop protests by students on two South African universities.

And South Africa's famous heart transplant surgeon Christian Barnard threatened to resign from his government post if his brother is fired from his hospital post as a result of a speech he made denouncing the police treatment of the students.

At one university, close to 100 policeman attempted to disperse students who were seated on the broad steps leading up to Jameson Hall, a traditional gathering place at the school. Police were also sent to another university which has been the scene of student demonstrations.

The students, who are protesting in an attempt to stop the spread of apartheid in this nation, were warned repeatedly by the police to disperse at both campuses. After they refused to do so, the police charged them with wooden batons. Some also had snarling dogs on leashes.

Prime Minister John Vorster—fearful of the anti-apartheid riots spreading—has threatened to close the universities, if they continue.

The demonstrations began a week ago when violence erupted as police charged youths during a Cape Town protest, dragged them out of the main Anglican cathedral and beat them.

Mounting public criticism of the police brutality has resulted in a sharp division among the minority white population. Much of the criticism of the incidents have come from the English-speaking population which comprises 40 per cent of the 3.8 million whites.

Dr. Barnard's brother, Dr. Marius Barnard, addressed a protest gathering in the Cape Town City Hall and waved a letter from the provincial hospital warning him not to speak.

Dr. Barnard told the cheering crowd: "This was sent to me to shut me up. But I won't be shut up. I am here tonight to exercise my right as a South African to speak my mind freely."

South African authorities are expressly concerned about the demonstrations, since they could spread to South Africa's population of more than 13 million. They believe this could lead to a revolt in the nation which is one of the biggest practitioners of apartheid.

the fine print

George McGovern is always ruling out the possibility of a McGovern-Wallace ticket—one wonders about that.

Well, the present Democratic front-runner may have a cabinet position for the ole governor. If you ask me that's dipping into that honey pot of Southern strategy.

Will he have a cabinet post for Ms. Chisholm? She could be the domestic Henry Kissinger.

Racism is at it again, this time in the armed services. A former Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr wrote an article for a naval magazine. In the article it said that if the draft ended immediately there would be too many blacks and too many men with lower intelligence. He urged that there be a change in recruitment procedures before the draft expires next year.

The way that sounds to me is: if we have too many blacks then this country better be careful—you could have a military coup like in Vietnam.

Anyway, looking at the part when he said there would be men with lower intelligence—just remember who's commander-in-chiefs.

philosophical, political, etc. doctrines and fused together in one "Revolutionary Passion" the Truth about the white man and restoring our manhood to a once materially, but still spiritually noble race.

May 19 was Malcolm's birthday, a black holiday. We need not wait for it to be proclaimed by city governments and the very murderers who would still seek to exploit his name in some way. But pay our revered respects in our hearts and actions throughout this day and those that follow.

I would like to close this with an excerpt from the eulogy spoken by Ossie Davis at the funeral.

"However much we may have differed with him—or with each other about him and his value as a man—let his going from us serve only to bring us together, now. Consigning these mortal remains to earth, the common mother of all, secure in the knowledge that what we place in the ground is no more now a man—but a seed—which, after the winter of our discontent, will come forth again to meet us. And we will know him the for what he was and is—a Prince—our own black shining Prince!—who didn't hesitate to die, because he loved us so."

Kambui Yero Speaks Out

Wake up Black Des Moines! Let us move with a determined unity of will toward complete emancipation from this dog oppressive system. As we move let us remember that though one has sudden unusual outpouring of energy it must not be confused with a long-term sense of commitment and dedication to change. Further: It is one thing to expose the enemy, it is entirely another thing to destroy, it is the former that much of our activity and thought have been concerned with, it is the latter we must be concerned with now. With the above in mind we must begin to re-educate ourselves keeping in focus that the greatest battle is with one's self. We must also understand from the outset that the monster system is merciless. I present the following discussion between two brothers concerning the Des Moines Model Cities Program. This discussion is definitely the pulse of the community—for how can we liberate ourselves when hustling negroes are continually disillusioning the basic building blocks of a nation.... its people.

uh-huh! well the thing is that the whole downtown office is being run by a bunch of white southern racist, and sellout negroes what? that's right, the whole g.d. show is being controlled by white racist, and sellout handchief head uncle tom negroes.

kiss my wrist! dig that!

well how in the hell did they get the g.d. job this so-called board made of so-called community folks appointed them—however, all appointments had to be approved by that fascist and racist city council (you know "HITLER'S LITTLE HELPERS") that's really give now you know why i'm looking so evil.

ain't there something that can be done? hell yeah, we can organize to liberate—overturn this unworkable system and help institute SOCIALISM—that is a system that speaks to our needs and answers them—a system that says uncomprising—FROM EACH ACCORDING TO HIS ABILITY TO EACH ACCORDING TO HIS NEEDS. man that's something to fight for in a relentless manner.

what about the negro leaders and those so-called folks who think they have made it in this white capitalistic—dog eat dog society?????

they are too busy running around supporting whatever this system does to black folks and people of color all over the world—why some of them even support fascist nixon (mad bomber) program of war against the vietnamese brothers. ain't that a buster, negroes always messing over black folks and third world folks (people of color). well, later man, i gotta split, i can't let this jazz hang me up, after all we're supposed to be about liberating ourselves from this vicious oppressor—the united states corporate controlled government, that means we must unite and wage a relentless struggle—which i know we can win, we must fear neither hardship nor death.

yeah, you're right brother, it's each nigger for himself in america—but for the BLACK MAN, its NATION TIME—LIBERATION TIME.

you're right good brother—see you around! all power to the people, and america belongs to the people—not fascist nixon and the corporate elite. we shall win our complete emancipation without a doubt brother. let us fearlessly advance the struggle to new heights.

RECEIVED THE FOLLOWING ENCOURAGING LETTER FROM A PRISONER IN ONE OF IOWA'S CONCENTRATION CAMPS!

Two of Jupiter's twelve moons are bigger than the planet Mercury—Callisto, whose diameter is 3,220 miles, and Ganymede, at 3,200! Saturn's satellite Titan is even bigger, at 3,500 miles. Mercury measures 3,000.

I read the Bystander recently and was indeed impressed. I believe that the articles are correct concerning "Prisoners Political Captives" and Black People in general uniting to overthrow this oppressive system. The articles serve as a very good information focus for the people. George Jackson's quote explains how prisoners are victims of social injustice: how "criminals" and "crimes" are the product of a capitalist society and its property relations. I agree that the true function of prisons should be exposed to the masses. I further agree the article calling for the abolition of the american prison and jail systems, instead of deceitful "Prison Reform". It explains how a mass based anti-prison movement is possible (using the anti-U.S. war as an example) because of the contradiction between the peace-loving interests of the people and the recent openly fascist acts carried out by the State. Also because of the growing consciousness of the people. Our Liberation Will Come Only Through Armed Resistance. Intensify The Struggle. Peter J. Williams Number 202860 Box B Anamosa, Iowa 52205

IMPORTS DESTROY BLACK JOBS
WASHINGTON, D.C. — (NBNS) — Increased imports of electronics products are destroying the jobs of many American workers, including a significant number of black laborers.

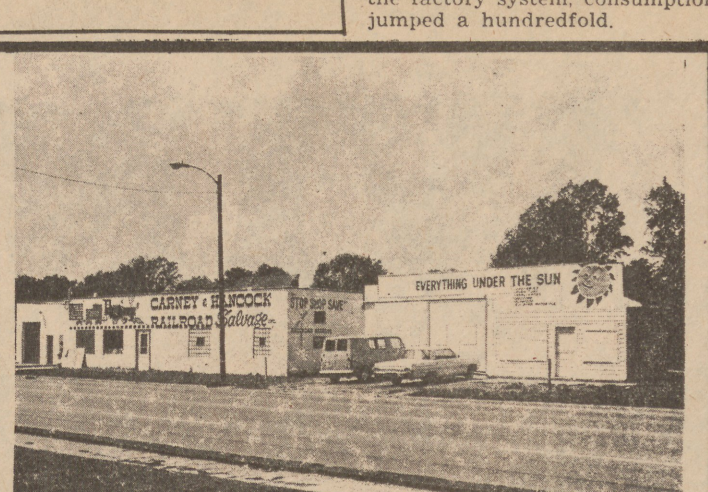

The Department of Labor acknowledged the impact of imports on domestic jobs in authorizing trade adjustment assistance benefits for approximately 400 workers at the General Instrument Corporation plant at Joliet, Ill. About 20 percent of the workers there are black.

Trade adjustment assistance is provided only on an official certification that the plant has been forced to close because of import competition resulting from trade agreement concessions. Workers will be eligible for cash readjustment allowances, job retraining and relocation assistance.

SCLC PLANS 'RESURRECTION CITY NO. 2'
ATLANTA, Ga. — (NBNS) — The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) has begun recruiting people to make - up "Resurrection City No. 2" at Miami Beach during the Democratic National Convention this July. The effort will seek to dramatize the plight of the nation's poor, as a successor to the "Resurrection City" in Washington which climaxed the 1968 poor people's march on the nation's capital.

At the end of the 18th Century cotton was providing an estimated four per cent of the world's textiles. After invention of the gin and development of the factory system, consumption jumped a hundredfold.

BETHEL A.M.E. CHURCH

"Women's Day" was a smashing success at Bethel this past Sunday, both Spiritually and financially. Mrs. C.W. Ellison electrified the congregation with a dynamic message entitled "All Life is Vanity" at the 4 p.m. service. Mrs. Ivan J. Johnson wife of the pastor was equally impressive at the 11:00 hour, speaking on the theme, "Giving It To God Straight".

This was the morning services. Mrs. Marshall Smith Jr. was reader of the morning scripture. It was strictly WOMEN'S Day. Mrs. James Sanders conducted the opening with the call to Worship followed by the consecration of the choir by Mrs. Charles Peguese who also gave the morning prayer. Mrs. Mildred Miller did a beautiful job leading the Decalogue. And of course our Chairman Mrs. Nathaniel Gilbert was the director of it all.

Sunday evening we were delighted with the singing of the Kyle A.M.E. Zion and St. Paul A.M.E. Church choir, and the Cason's Trio added to the musical feast with their very near professional style. The order of service was capable handled by the Chairman, Mrs. Nathaniel Gilbert, in the afternoon service. Mrs. Leonard Stovall gave the scripture reading, Mrs. Ethel May prayed an inspiring prayer. Mrs. Charles Barnett welcomed all visitors and the response to the welcome was

Core Names Officers

LeRoy McDowell

Leroy McDowell, Davenport, chairman of the Quint - Cities Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) was named Iowa chairman of the group Friday by CORE's national headquarters in New York, N.Y.

Donald Austin, Davenport, was appointed at the same time to succeed McDowell as Quint - Cities CORE chairman.

The two promotions were announced by a telephoned interview with Charles Cook, North Central regional chairman of CORE.

COOK commended both men on having done an exemplary job in building the Quint - Cities chapter into "one of the outstanding chapters in the Midwest."

McDowell's new responsibilities, Cook explained, will include "extending and coordinating CORE's battle in Iowa against poverty, drugs, ignorance and racism."

He said special emphasis will be placed on education to combat the "growing intolerance and negative fixed position" in Iowa's schools.

Charging that busing is not the answer to improving education Cook said that CORE's task is to bring "reason and sanity to Iowa's schools through pragmatic means of quality education and community control."

McDowell, of 919 Sylvan Ave., has been chairman of the Quint - Cities chapter since it was reactivated in

Donald Austin

October 1971.

Austin served as chapter vice - chairman during that period.

During the past year, Quint - Cities CORE has organized programs in the black community in the areas of education, employment, economics and welfare, drug abuse and inner city beautification.

The chapter has also initiated a fund - raising project to fight sickle - cell anemia, a fatal blood disease which affects mostly blacks.

THE GROUP opened its new headquarters at 1005 W. 6th St., Davenport, last April. McDowell, commenting on his promotion, told newsmen, "I am honored to be given the responsibility and the opportunity to promote CORE through out the state of Iowa."

The new state chairman said that although he will maintain his office at the Quint - Cities chapter headquarters, he expects to travel extensively throughout the state in the performance of his new duties.

He said CORE presently has legations in Waterloo and Des Moines, Iowa, and that active chapters will be formed in those cities shortly.

Chisholm Visits Wallace

WASHINGTON, D.C. — (NBNS) — Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm became the latest Presidential aspirant to visit the bedside of George Wallace and came away noting that the Alabama governor had "a great deal of spunk in him."

They talked and laughed over the generalities of campaigning, she said, and stayed away from the specifics that have ideologically kept them so far apart.

"We agreed that we're not like some other candidates. We don't fiddle faddle around on the issues," she said.

Mr. Smith Goes To Miami

Bob Smith of 721 West 8th St., Davenport, has been elected to attend the National Democratic Convention as an uncommitted alternate delegate.

He is one of six Black delegates and alternates who were selected at the Iowa Democratic Caucus last month in Des Moines.

Smith, with members of the Iowa Black Caucus, met with Sen. Harold Hughes to discuss issues with him.

Also in Des Moines the Black Caucus was successful in having its proposal on community controlled schools accepted by the Platform Committee.

The Black Caucus recently held an organizational meeting in Davenport.

With Allen Ashby

Since I have been writing this column, I have met a lot of people who want to go back into yesterday. Last week I talked with a guy who was recalling old softball players. He was in charge of an organization that was selecting players for the Iowa Hall of Fame. And naturally the talk got around to the fellow who was perhaps the best softball catcher ever in Iowa softball. Bob Vandiveer was probably one of the greatest all around athletes in Iowa athletics, so softball was just one of the games he played. He was the flashiest halfback around the state in his time, good enough to merit a trial by the Detroit Lions in days when black players weren't considered for professional football. He was the best catcher in the state as long as he played the game, and was one of the first selections for this fellow's hall of fame. I understand that he will receive his award in the near future. Bob was fast. Nobody knew just how fast. I don't think he was ever timed. We used to have a track meet on Memorial day in which most of the black high school track stars and some of the Drake runners competed. Well, Bob won the hundred and two twenty yard dashes, and wasn't even close to fellows who were ranked high in the state as sprinters. In the two twenty he nearly walked the last ten yards, and was so far out in front. In basketball he was so fast that anybody guarding him had to give him plenty of room, or he would burst by you before you could wink an eye and go in to score. In today's fast break game he would have been a big star. But I am glad the guy will finally be recognized.

Then I got to talking to another guy and we were talking about football players, and he came up with the idea that I should try to pick two all star squads of players, one for the years between 1920 and 1940, and another for the years between 1940 and 1960. I said I needed some time on that one, but would bring it out sometime later this year. I wanted it to be squads because I felt sure I would leave out some good men, but with squads, I might not miss so many. Could stretch that another five years back, say, 1915, for there were not too many black players then, not enough to make up a team. Then the fellow said he had been coaching at a small town in the thirties and they had a paid semipro team as just about all the small towns in the state that could afford one did. He said there were about five black players on the team in his town. They came in for the summer, were put up at the hotel, maybe given light jobs, and played baseball. Their main job was playing baseball, and that is what they were paid for. He has promised to bring me the list of black stars they had in his town the next time he goes up there. Says he intends to look up the old papers of that era and he will find them. Thinks maybe I might know some of them. Maybe I did.

There were a lot of black athletes who made pretty good money playing with small town football and baseball teams in the twenties and thirties. They tell me that Curt Morton used to pick up a little dough on Sundays as did my older brother Lucius Ashby, by playing with nearby towns. There were a few others we could name, but they are gone now. Just about every town had at least one black star, usually a pitcher, who was paid to come there and he had better not have a bad day. The ones I recall as being outstanding are Jap Crowe, a left hand pitcher who threw aspirin tablets, and a battery composed of Hugh Casey, and a fellow named Tyree. About all they had to do for a win was toss their gloves out on the field, they were that tough. I heard that Casey would laugh so loud you could hear him a block away when he fooled a hitter pretty badly which was pretty often. Our friend, Chet Brewer, got his start pitching for one of the small towns, and I will never forget him telling me how big the traveling team of Brown's Tennessee Rats looked to him. As I recall that team, most them could have played in organized baseball, so they had to barnstorm. Brewer said that the harder he threw his fast ball, the harder it came back, and the further it went. So he finally tossed his glove off the mound and followed it. Said that was one of the very few times in his career when he failed to finish a game. But that was life in the twenties and thirties. Blacks couldn't play in league baseball, but they had one helluva lot of fun wherever they played.
