Five Blacks Promoted To General

FAIR WEATHER FRIENDS..?

Veteran Black Legislator Now In Predominately White District

COLONEL SHUFFER

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — Five black colonels have been nominated by President Nixon for promotion to the rank of one-star general, bringing to nine the number of black Army generals.

Although the recommendations still have to be confirmed by the Senate, it is usually a formality and their quick approval is expected.

Selected for promotion to brigadier general were Col. Harry W. Brooks Jr., 43, of Indianapolis; Julius W. Becton Jr., 45, of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Arthur J. Gregg, 44, of Florence, S.C.; Edward Greer, 48, of Gary, W. Va. and George M. Shuffer Jr., 48, of Palestine, Tex.

The colonels, who range in age from 42 to 49, are among 62 colonels recommended by the Army for promotion to general.

Greer and Shuffer admitted they never expected to become generals when they joined the Army.

"I didn't think I'd ever make sergeant," said Shuffer, who joined as an enlisted man in 1940.

By then end of World War II, he had become a first lieutenant and decided to stay in. "I just liked being a soldier and thought my chances for job satisfaction were better inside than outside."

When Greer, who is the only one of the five to start as an officer, exclaimed "beautiful, just beautiful," when he learned of the appointment.

He joined the Army in 1948 when the Army had just begun to desegregate. "I thought the Army offered an opportunity for the black man—and I still do."

Three of the men hold masters degrees and the other two have college degrees. They share a total of three purple hearts and six Silver Stars, the Army's third highest award for combat heroism.

There are now four Army generals, one black Navy Admiral and one Air Force general.

Church That Helped Angela

The acquittal of Angela Davis on June 4 was an occasion for quiet jubilation and sober reflection by the United Presbyterian Council on Church and Race which made a grant of $10,000 to the Angela Davis Defense Fund on March 15, 1971. The COCAR grant, made to help assure a fair trial, was widely interpreted across the church as unwelcome. It triggered a protracted controversy among United Presbyterians concerning the use of denominational funds for legal assistance to a Black radical.

Despite the subsequent opposition of many Presbyterians a considerable segment of the church held firmly to the COCAR position that in the climate of anti-communist and racist hysteria surrounding the case, there was room for reasonable doubt that Angela Davis would receive a fair trial. She did receive a fair trial and the American judicial system has proved once again that it can operate fairly for all people.

It seems clear, however, that the outcry from the black community and the worldwide attention given the case served to expose to public view the fact that Angela Davis' arrest and incarceration had more to do with her race and politics than with clear evidence of guilt for the crimes charged.

The United Presbyterian Church played a contested, but significant part in helping to open up the fair trial question in the Davis case, and with the exception of the Y.W.C.A., was the only major religious institution in the United States to do so. Following the

Black Republicans Follow Caucus Lead

Curtis T. Perkins, National Coordinator of the National Council of Afro-American Republicans announced today that his group was moving full steam ahead with its National Convocation of Black Republicans '72 at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C., June 9th and 10th.

Perkins said that the NCAAR Conference would commence with registration at 12 noon on June 9th and conclude with a luncheon on June 10th at 1:00 P.M. The Black Republican Coordinator observed that his organization was pursuing this abbreviated schedule in order to support the dinner being held by the Black Committee for the Re-election of the President. He also emphasized that NCAAR was strictly a Republican organization and the Black Committee consisted of Democrats as well as independents who supported the Nixon program.

"We support the re-election of President Nixon also but we feel that Black Republicans must get their house in order themselves if they are to really be respected and help share in the policy-making role of their party," he emphasized.

Perkins said the following would be the agenda for the Convocation. "We are implementing on the Republican side, the spirit of the Black Political Convention at Gary" he said in listing the matters to be discussed.

- At least 10 Black Republicans (At Large by change of rules) on the Republican National Committee. There is not one Black on this Committee (A disgrace).

- Responsible Black Representation on all policy and executive committees of Republican State and County Committees where large numbers of Blacks are concerned. Such is not the case now.

- At least a Black co-Chairman or Vice-Chairmanship of the Republican National Committee and at least one paid deputy assistant chairman with decision making responsibility (with assistants).

- A paid Black Assistant State Chairman on all Republican State Committees where Blacks live in large numbers.

- An increase to full 200 Black delegates for the 1972 Republican National Convention. There were only 26 Black delegates in 1968 and only 50 alternates. The Convocation will check state by state the number of the Black delegates.

- More accountability to Blacks by Black Republican appointed officials.
- A greater share of the Republican political dollar from the national, state and county committees to help defray the expenses of Black Republican candidates on all levels and for voter education and registration of Blacks as Republicans.

- Fielding 10 Black Republican Congressional candidates in the 1973-4 elections. Recent surveys show that this is possible in 10 congressional districts not presently held by Black Democrats.

- An increase of Black Republican strength to 33 - 1/3% of the Black registered vote by 1974 through a concentrated grass roots program to attract Blacks. Republicans constitute only 15% of the entire Black vote.

- Administrative Black Republican assistants on the staffs of all Republican U.S. Senators, Governors, and U.S. Representatives in states and districts with large Black populations.

- Use of more Black Republican campaign managers and consultants.

- More contributions by Black Republicans to all levels of the Republican structure. Blacks should help pay their own way and not wait for handouts only.

- The presentation of a Black Republican program on all aspects of matters affecting Black America to the 1972 Republican National Convention's Platform Committee.

operations in the U.S., Hood said, "and I will be one of few black men in this type of position."

Hood's resignation was accepted by the Community House board of directors at its meeting Friday.

Marion T. Antin, president of the board, said it is the board's feeling "that this resignation represents a loss to...Cedar Rapids and to the residents of the neighborhood served by Jane Boyd..."

William Hood, Jr., 39, of 4330 F Avenue NE, has resigned as executive director of the Jane Boyd Community House, a post he has held since May, 1970.

In announcing his resignation, effective Aug. 1, Hood said he has accepted the position of administrator and chief social worker of the Goodwill Industries Mental Health Clinic in Milwaukee.

The Milwaukee clinic is one of the largest such

A. JUNE FRANKLIN

A. June Franklin (D/D.M.) has announced her candidacy for the State Senate. She will face William Willits in the Aug. 1st Primary in what promises to be a scorching battle for the District 31 Senate seat. District 31 was created under the new re-apportionment plan by the state legislature. Though Mrs. Franklin has long championed the rights of Blacks and whites alike this District will be tough. She is running against a young white male, William Willits, who has some momentum going already. Formerly a member of the House of Representatives, Mrs. Franklin is an outstanding defender of human rights. She stated that her campaign will center on 11 basic issues.

1. Taxes - Property Tax Relief
2. School Aid
3. Abortion
4. 18-Year Old Right to Vote
5. Government Reform
6. Aid to Elderly

7. Alcoholism and Drug Abuse
8. Prison Reform
9. Environmental Programs
10. Day Care
11. Vietnam Bill for Job Guarantees.

With a rather late start and facing such a strong opponent we asked Mrs. Franklin about her chances in the Aug. Primary. "It is going to be a hard fight but we can win with strong community support. We are organizing our campaign now and need volunteers." Anyone wishing to volunteer their services can call 283-1820.

It is important that you act now! If Mrs. Franklin loses this primary election, she will be out of the running. Also people 18 years old and over are being asked to become mobile registrars. Do so by going to the voter registration office at 701 7th at the corner of Park this Tuesday at 7:30. It is also imperative that all Black people 19 and over register to vote.

Inner Cities Need To Be Declared Disaster Areas!

New York - (NBNS) - The inner cities should be declared disaster areas so that massive housing and aid programs could begin to meet the needs of low-and moderate-income families, U.S. Rep. Shirley Chisholm says as she vies for the Democratic nomination for President.

Mrs. Chisholm compared the recent situation when Rapid City, S.D. was declared a disaster area by the federal government after extensive flooding to the plight faced by residents of the nation's inner cities.

She stressed that designation as a disaster area would qualify families for federal redevelopment funds and housing assistance.

"To the nation's leaders it seems more important to kill the Vietnamese than it is to house Americans," Mrs. Chisholm said.

"And so the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (George Romney) has refused to allocate the full appropriations for public housing that Congress approved last year, and which even in full were inadequate. This is an outrage. That money must be released to the Cities now."

Campaigning for an additional 20 delegates from the state in New York in last Tuesday's balloting, Mrs. Chisholm admitted she only has 19 delegates now. "I'm the dark horse literally and figuratively, but I want to go to Miami to keep them honest and to shake them up."

Uptown - We find them. Negroes paying their mooselodge dues. Downtown - we find those Negroes children "window shopping" without no shoes.

The old Black man's on the corner again singing his "don't hit me no more master" ragtime blues.

And I know that poor Negro lady is tired of playing nursemaid to those Hollywood Jews.

Myself? I am through playing a hundred and one fools. Pledge allegiance to a new found movement B.A.D. BAD!

Its purpose is to obtain that which we never had.

Black Afro Americans, as my dark skinned friends, we shall reach that utmost height, a place that we never been.

The time has come to retain our rightful place in this world.

The flag of Liberation must now be unfurled.

B.A.D. BAD now it has come on to the scene.

B.A.D. BAD Do you know what it means.

But brothers and sisters if we get ourselves really M-A-D-MAD

For "him" it's going to be too B-A-D-BAD.

OUT OF MY MIND
BY IKE BROWN

I seen me in the back of my mind - trying to get back in. All the while asking myself where did I go, where have I been the strain the stress, the mysterious mystery of life itself evicted from the premises of my being - my brain.

Even simple thoughts are no longer plain.

Which is wetter the water or the rain? - even these simple questions make me simple, simpler, simply insane.

I have all to lose, most to gain, what is worst painful or pain? Even though I can feel - I can't comprehend what is happening to my biological - spiritual make-up. On going to bed in the morning can I or will I be able to wake up to the fact I am out of my mind. It is all hard to explain or even define - me, a person gone out of his super cool mind.

ALMOST THERE
by Ike Turner

When the black eagle ascends from the north.

Brothers and sisters - together - shall come forth.

We have worked hard and grown strong.

The time has come to shun out oppressors, who've oppressed us so long.

The bondage that held us for these hundreds of years. Shall cease to exist, along with our fears.

Liberation, Liberation, feel it, touch it - it's in the air.

We can't stop now - cause - we're almost there.

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCE

The truth is the light
So I've been told
Which way should I go
High or go low.
You tell me
Cause I don't know
If I did, I would
Have told you so.
Sometimes I do right
Sometimes I do wrong.
But I've been down for
So very long
One thing
Is certain if I still
Have my sense - That I will Either face the Truth or
The Consequence

Discussing activities taking place at the First National Conference on Business Opportunities for Women, held June 7, 8 and 9 in Washington, D.C., are, left to right, John L. Jenkins, director of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise, sponsor of the conference; Sally Peterson, honorary chairwoman and wife of Commerce Secretary Peter G. Peterson; Inez Kaiser, conference chairwoman and consultant to OMBE, and national coordinator of its business opportunities for women program; and Arnita Young Boswell, executive chairwoman of the League of Black Women, Chicago.

Plans For Minority Businesswomen

WASHINGTON, D.C.—(CNS) The first phase of a "new thrust" to bring more Black and other minority women into the economic mainstream as entrepreneurs was begun in Washington this week.

Under the sponsorship of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise (OMBE) at the Department of Commerce, the first National Conference on Business Opportunities for Women brought together more than 500 women from throughout the country to identify the unmet business needs of existing minority businesswomen and to outline the needs of minority women interested in entering business.

Mrs. Inez Kaiser, as National Coordinator of the conference, said, "The women came to this meeting because they have strong interest in either improving their present businesses or going into business for the first time. They all recognize that they don't have the knowhow and need technical assistance and training."

Mrs. Kaiser, who is the president of Inez Kaiser & Associates, Inc., in Kansas City, Mo., added, "It is encouraging that both people and the government are beginning to realize that business is a woman's world, too, that we can contribute and perform on an equal basis with our male counterparts. And the women who attended the conference were emphatic in stating their determination to develop more local interest among women in their respective communities to expand opportunities for minority women in the private sector."

Mrs. Arnita Young Boswell, sister of the late Whitney Young, and Executive Chairwoman of the League of Black Women in Chicago, said, "I was particularly impressed by the age span of women attending the conference, from young minority women to the middle-aged."

One of the few male participants in the conference was John L. Jenkins, Director of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise. In Jenkins' words, "If minority enterprise, as a major economic program, is to succeed, it must incorporate women as well as men, and perhaps more so—because women, after all, constitute more than one-half the population and control nearly three-quarters of the wealth. And while this conference is just the beginning, it is a most promising beginning. The implementing tasks now begin and we will succeed because the urgency of the need, the rightness of the time, and the demands of women make it imperative that we succeed."

Other comments on the conference included: Dr. Ethel D. Allen, Councilwoman from Philadelphia; "The panelists here have provided tremendous insight into the problems of women in business."

Mrs. Jessie Mae Beavers, Editor, Los Angeles Sentinel: "Let me emphasize that this is not just a conference for Black and Chicano women but for all women. This is a good solid step forward for minority women, in particular. It is my hope that other branches of the Federal Government will take this as an example."

Dr. Turner To Speak

Dr. Darwin Turner, visiting professor of English at Drake University this summer, spoke on "Afro-American Literature: Then and Now" at 8 p.m. Wednesday (June 21) in room 106 of Meredith Hall, 28th Street and Carpenter Avenue. The public was invited without charge. Turner, who was a research professor at the University of Iowa last year, has taught at the Universities of Michigan, Wisconsin and Hawaii. Editor of several anthologies, Turner has authored numerous articles on literary criticism, philosophies of education, British and American drama and Afro-American literature. Among the books he has written are Katharsis, a book of poetry, and In a Minor Chord: Three Afro-American Writers of the Renaissance. He is teaching black literature at Drake during the first summer term.

A consultant at numerous institutes, Turner has lectured across the country for the Council of Deans of Arts and Sciences, National Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State-Supported Universities. Among honors and awards he has received are the College Language Association Award for Creative Scholarship in 1971 and a study grant from the American Council of Learned Societies in 1965. He is also listed in Who's Who in America, a member of Phi Beta Kappa honor society and Lambda Iota Tau, literary honor society.

Domestic Workers Plea "Freedom From Slavery"

ATLANTA—(NBNS)—A 51 year-old black woman moved members of the Democratic Platform Committee to applause—and tears—with her testimony.

Ms. Dorothy Bolden, mother of seven and founder of the National Domestic Workers Union, spoke eloquently in behalf of a group of women—30,000 in Atlanta alone—who "built this country from the baby in the cradle" but have been "overlooked and forgotten" by the world they helped create "from slavery until this very day."

Speaking at the third in a series of 10 regional hearings, Ms. Bolden told the 13 Platform Committee members that many maids were still working for as little as six dollars a day, that they were still not covered by the minimum wage law, that they were still looked upon as "slave women."

In simple, dramatic language, Ms. Bolden urged the Democratic Party to give top priority to providing the people of America with decent housing, jobs and better education. She also emphasized the need for more citizen planning.

"We are never asked for our opinion, never asked for our participation, never asked for our votes," Ms. Bolden declared. "Please, this time, won't you listen?"

Mrs. Hawthorne New Assignment

Mrs. Frances E. Hawthorne, 1223 10th Street, former Iowa Bystander news editor-reporter, has been assigned unit leader, upper level, at Kirkwood School, one of four magnet schools in the innovative Charrettes program.

In May Mrs. Hawthorne received her master's of science in teaching degree with certification as an elementary teacher and counselor. This marked the climax of two years as a Teacher Corps intern assigned to Callanan Junior High School, 3010 Center Street.

Also a free lance magazine writer, Mrs. Hawthorne recently had articles published in Today's Education and Midland Schools. Previously she had articles published in Parents', Grit, and Popular Electronics.

She is incoming president of the Des Moines chapter of the Jack and Jill of American, Inc., and member of the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

She and her husband, Peter, Jr., a postal clerk with the Main Post office, are the parents of four children, Victor, a National Merit Achievement scholar who will be a junior at Howard University, opposed McCall for years because of his enforcement within and without the law of his strong anti-black prejudices.

In a widely publicized case in 1951, McCall was accused of attempting to kill two black prisoners, Sam Shepherd and Walter Lee Irvin, after the U.S. Supreme Court had ordered retrial of their convictions on rape charges.

Shepherd was killed and Irvin gravely wounded when they were gunned down by McCall on a lonely road while being returned to Lake County for retrial. McCall claimed they were trying to escape.

Walter Lee Irvin was defended by Thurgood Marshall in his retrial, but was convicted by the second jury in largely rural Lake County. His sentence was commuted by then Governor LeRoy Collins and after 18 years in prison he began a new life in Miami. He died mysteriously, however, on a visit to Lake County.

More recently two young black men, Jerry Chatman and Robert Shuler, were saved from the Florida electric chair by a Federal judge after two former Lake County deputies reported that the evidence against Chatman and Shuler—plaster casts of footprints—had been manufactured in the back yard of another deputy with McCall's approval.

The 55-year-old white woman involved later admitted that she was not sure she had been raped. She had been sent to mental hospital before the trial and never testified.

McCall's other notorious cases included the pistol whipping of a black airman found in an Ocala National Forest cabin with a white woman; the hounding of five Indian children out of Lake County's white schools in 1955 on the grounds they had "Negro blood"; and the conviction of a mentally retarded white youth in a 1957 rape case (recently released after 14 years in a mental institution by a judge who found him competent) although 14 black men had been picked up by McCall as fitting the description of the alleged rapist.

Violence on television may be a cause of reckless and irresponsible driving, a University of Hawaii mass media researcher says. He says that if you watch such programs as "Hawaii Five-O," "Mannix," "The FBI," or "Cannon," you're more likely to be a careless driver than if you prefer "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," or other non-violent fare. That's the conclusion of DR. K.S. SITARAN, who says he spent two years comparing the television habits of good and bad drivers.

Soul Traveler

To a great extent, the first step in planning a family vacation by car is to gather all available information on the place you want to go. Then, outline your itinerary. With a little more advance planning, you should be ready to take off.

If your trip is to be in the U.S., state tourist information departments can provide you with a lot of helpful information. Each state has a travel department which will supply you with an abundance of free maps, hotel and motel guides as well as material on local tourist attractions.

This service is free. All you have to do is write for it.

One word of caution. Be selective in the material that you request. If you are sure that you are traveling to a particular city, maybe there is no need to ask for information on the entire state or region.

Too much information can sometime take up time and energy unnecessarily.

Many oil companies offer maps and other vacation guides to customers without cost. Ask your local service station attendant the next time you fill up the car. You various programs offered, contact your local Navy recruiter, located in the new Federal Building, Downtown Des Moines, or phone 284-4149.

may take home some extra surprises.

As an additional suggestion, you can always purchase maps and guides from the news or book stands. The average cost is about $2 each.

Once you have obtained the map of your choice, you will want to mark your trip route. This should be done only after you have studied all of the materials and know exactly (or almost exactly) where you want to stop on the way.

A lot has been written about the rapid spread of interstate highways throughout the country. While they enable tourists to travel more quickly in theory, they frequently become so overcrowded that secondary roads may be your best bet.

Slower roads provide a better view of the natural beauty of the area through which you are traveling. Many interesting tourist sites are often located off the main roads.

Next, comes the task of deciding what kind of overnight accommodations you prefer. This is extremely important at this time of the year when motels, hotels and campsites are often full.

Making reservations in advance is the best way to safeguard against spending the night cramped up in the automobile loaded with people, luggage and other traveling accessories.

If at all possible, stop driving as early in the evening as your schedule will permit. Although you may have reservations, there is usually a specified time when you are expected to arrive at your overnight stopping point. Otherwise, your reservation may be cancelled and given to someone else.

When traveling by automobile with children, be sure to plan activities which will be of interest to them. Remember that the happier they are, the happier you will be—especially if you are the driver!

Grand Jury Indicts Sheriff

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (NBNS) - The notorious racist power of Florida's Sheriff Willis McCall has apparently at last come to an end.

The 62-year-old Lake County sheriff has been removed from office by Florida Governor Reubin Askew following a grand jury indictment of McCall on charges of murdering a black prisoner.

The Governor's suspension of McCall is subject to review by the Florida State Senate. But for the time being, at least, and perhaps for all time, the law enforcement powers which Sheriff McCall has been accused of abusing for the past 28 years have been taken from him.

McCall was indicted on a charge of second degree murder in the death of Tommy J. Vickers, 37, who had been jailed on a traffic charge.

The indictment said McCall kicked Vickers with a "deadly weapon - a shoe or boot." Vickers died of peritonitis on April 23, three days after being transferred to a hospital from McCall's Lake County Jail.

The grand jury also charged McCall with aggravated battery and aggravated assault in the attack on Vickers which allegedly took place on April 13. The indictments were returned after the Grand Jury had heard 36 witnesses in four days of closed hearings.

AT THE SUNDAY AFTERNOON ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION of Judge and Mrs. Luther T. Glanton the hostess was exotic in a caftan styled gown. It was a wildly beautiful pattern. State Representative A. June Franklin was lovely in a single sleeve caftan styled gown of many colors. It was just the occasion for such lovely feminine attire.

REGINA AND THOMAS SMITH, caterers for the Glanton's anniversary party had everyone spellbound. We are all familiar with their delicious hors d'oeuvres, but their offerings were unheard of and completely captivating. Women invaded the kitchen cornering Regina, pleading for recipes! Jessica Williams (Mrs. Carl), who loves to cook, quietly nibbled first one piece and then another, murmuring just what each contained but adding "but how did she mix it?" (Quite a sleuth? She knows what cooking is all about!)

DOROTHY LEWIS CAUSES ME TO COIN A new phrase! It is that "behind every great woman, there is a man! I herewith present Woodrow Lewis. The two are a beautiful pair! I had not yet finished my interview, when Lewis returned home. Feeling a bit edgy, I tried to hurry my talk with Dorothy. But somehow I realized that Lewis was helping! He was with us all the way. I'll say again "the two are a beautiful pair!"

JUST MUST ADD STILL ANOTHER TIDBIT from Dorothy's story about North High School's Band. The Parents Booster Club realized that the money must be raised, undertook any effort that would raise money: "We sold candy, held chili suppers, sold even vanilla! Held a Rent-a-Kid. I had to ask about this one; a child is sent to a job offer! In that way all work possible is accomplished. One woman cake decorator contributed all money earned. Another woman knitted items for sale and another made jewelry to be sold. Anything that would net money, they did it!"

AIC CLAUDE HEARD, JR. ARRIVED IN DES MOINES ON SUNDAY to remain until June 30! He will return to Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and from there go to Alaska - just seven miles from Russia! He is assigned to a cooking detail. His education curriculum is premedical training. While in Alaska, he will have to curtail his schooling, as there is no way to pursue his course there. Claude has grown up a lot since entering service. Everything about him is improvement! He is a very serious youngster and very determined.

EXECUTIVE HOUSE DAY CARE CENTER is an all of that! Director Evelyn Loggins (Mrs. Floyd) has what sounds like a full house and everyone assigned to some activity. She has enrolled some in summer school, others in the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. and a Pony Month planned for July! And there is no telling what else is rolling down from under her sleeve! (She lets it all hang out!)

EXECUTIVE HOUSE DAY CARE is an extension of the home. As parents leave for work, Mrs. Loggins takes over the child's daytime activity. Her motto is "positive thinking". She seeks to keep something going. Something out of the ordinary. If a child is to learn positive thinking, then this must be his program - positive thinking!

FLOYD, JR., 13, CHARLES, 11, and CLYDE ALLEN, JR., 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Allen, Sr., talked Mrs. Loggins into expanding her trip to Washington last week to include them! Also in the party was Mrs. Velma Cameron, Mrs. Loggins' sister, and her children, Johnetta, 14, and John Earl, 10. Enroute the party toured a bit in Indianapolis, Indiana. In Washington the fellows had their own suite with television and refrigerator. They stocked up with cereals, juices and snacks, and were so situated that they could pad out to the pool for swims! They enjoyed a tour of The White House. Chuck wanted to know why couldn't they see

Mr. Nixon, since they were in his home! They toured other well-known sites and had their picture taken at The Lincoln Memorial. Enroute home the party again stopped in Indianapolis and shopped! Incidentally (okay, fellows?) Mrs. Loggins and Mrs. Cameron attended Washington's Black Committee for Relection of Mr. Nixon.

Griggs And Peeler Wed In Cedar Rapids

Miss Marsha Lynn Griggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Griggs, 2921 Iowa Avenue, SE, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Saturday became the bride of Wilmer Purvis Peeler, son of Mrs. Purvis Peeler of New York City and the late Mr. Peeler. The 3:30 marriage ceremony was performed by Dr. LeRoy White at Mt. Zion Baptist Church.

The bride wore a gown of peau de sole satin with a Chantilly lace overskirt, scooped neckline and long lace sleeves. Pearls and rhinestones were used to accent the waistline of the gown and form the tiara which held the chapel-length veil. A cascade of deep pink and red roses with miniature white mums formed the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Frank Allen, Jr., Des Moines, attended her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Samuel Sabaji, Kingston, Jamaica; Mrs. Norman McCune, Des Moines, and Mrs. Carole Reed, Cedar Rapids, were bridesmaids. The attendants wore deep pink Empire gowns with gathered skirts, cape sleeves, ruby red velvet sashes and velvet bows.

Iowa Contest will be nationally known individuals. Selection of black judges is on the premise that black people can tell their own beauty. This beauty is not based on the white person's beauty standards. One can see beauty in someone who has a wide nose or large lips and short hair. One can see the warmth in a beauty's blackness.

There will be no restriction on the type of hairstyle the participant may wear.

The winner will earn the right to represent Iowa in the Miss Black America Contest to be held in Hollywood, California in Mid-August.

Applicants may obtain entry blanks by calling 283-0064 or by writing to Miss Black Iowa, 1112 Fleming Building, Des Moines, Iowa 50309.

MRS. WILMER PEELER

They also wore matching pink veils and carried colonial bouquets of miniature pink carnations and white mums.

Richard Price of Davenport served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Glen Connor, Ames; Reginald Anderson, New York City, and Mr. Frank Allen, Jr. of Des Moines. Ushers were Thomas Wallace, Houston, Texas, and Nelson Evans, Cedar Rapids. Frank Allen III of Des Moines and Hazel Miller of Cedar Rapids were ringbearer and flower girl.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 250 guests was given in the church social hall. A wedding dinner for 75 guests was given by the bride's parents at Jane Boyd Community house at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Peeler, a graduate of the University of Northern Iowa, has been a counselor advisor for the Educational Opportunity Program at the university. The bridegroom, also a UNI graduate, is a captain in the Army stationed at Homestead Air Force Base in Florida, where the couple will reside following a wedding trip to Nassau, Bahamas.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Viola Tate of Des Moines, entertained at a rehearsal breakfast Saturday morning at the Grigg's home.

Auditorium.

The Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses at 2608 24th Street, normally used for congregation meetings, has this week taken on the appearance of a busy well equipped office, staffed with specialists in typing, filing, collating, equipment installation, food buying, manpower utilization and logistics.

The specialists are all Jehovah's Witnesses, volunteers, who have been brought to Des Moines from different parts of the country to organize the "Divine Rulership" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, slated for July 20-23 at Veteran's Auditorium.

By the time the convention opens some 21 different departments will be functioning in order to care for the details of the gathering. J. M. Yasko, convention manager, said most all of the department heads have had previous experience in organizing such meetings, and that all was going smoothly. He explained that the Witnesses handle assembly matters themselves, from preliminary planning right through the actual meeting. This work includes, among other things: Arranging accommodations for the delegates, one of the major departments now functioning at 2608 24th Street; food buying and preparation for the convention cafeteria; and assembling enough manpower to staff all the departments.

Mr. Yasko says his pre-convention "family" now numbers about 20, not including local Witness volunteers, and will continue to grow as the assembly nears.

Assembly officials estimate some 10,000 will attend the Des Moines convention, one of 59 such meetings scheduled for this summer in the United States. Other conventions will be held in Canada and the British Isles.

FOREST AVENUE COGIC CHURCH NEWS
On our last midweek service Thursday night, we had a great outpouring of the spirit and a timely message presented by our Bishop concerning the necessity of trusting in God. We were highly blessed to have in our midst Bro. Mike Frazier bearing greetings from Dallas Texas and Expo 72, a student evangelistic movement). We heard his inspirational and enlightening message and know without a doubt that he has the calling to the ministry.

A beautiful expression of love was exemplified in commemoration of Father's Day by our church Mother Watson who prepared a full course steak dinner for the ministers, deacons, and all brothers over 20.

The highlight of our Father's Day afternoon service was a solo from Mother Skipper of Mt. Olive Baptist Church and Sister Carol Brandon, moving everyone to great depths of spiritual response in the rendering of her solo. "I Trust In God."

It was a coincident the Evangelist E.L. Johnson from the J.W. Memorial District of Minneapolis, Minnesota, taught a message from Psalms 1:1, unaware of the fact that our Bishop A.B. Carter Sr. preached the identical text Sunday morning.

We are thankful to have Deacon A.B. Carter, Jr. and his family back. They toured Columbus, Ohio, Philadelphia, New York, and Washington, D.C.

Blacks Back Nixon

WASHINGTON, June 15 - More than 2,500 black leaders from all parts of the country gathered in the nation's capital Saturday and heard former CORE Director Floyd McKissick declare that, "If you have a two-party system or the semblance of a two-party system, it's stupid for all black people to be in just one."

McKissick also told the guests at a $100 a plate dinner sponsored by the Black Committee for the Re-election of the President, "It's a new day, brothers and sisters."

"Who created the ghetto?" McKissick asked. "President Nixon didn't create the ghetto."

"Who created the war?"

President Nixon didn't create the war in Vietnam. But he's tried to get us out."

McKissick was one of several national black leaders who praised President Nixon, prompting Paul R. Jones, Executive Director of the Black Committee for the Re-election of the President to note, "A lot of people are going to be surprised this year. The President only received 12% of the black vote in 1968, but he's going to do much, much better this time - because he's earned it."

Others attending the dinner were: Mayor Robert Blackwell of Highland Park, Mich., who served as Master of Ceremonies; Dr. Charles Hurst, President of Malcolm X College, Chicago; Mark Rivers, President of Watts Manufacturing Company, Los Angeles; former CORE Director Floyd McKissick; professional football great and motion picture star Jim Brown, C.A. Scott, Publisher of the Atlanta Daily World, the oldest black newspaper in the nation; W.O. Walker, publisher of the Cleveland Call-Post; baseball Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson; Arthur Fletcher, former Assistant Secretary of Labor and President of the United Negro College Fund; jazz immortal Lionel Hampton, who presented a Cavalcade of Music for the evening's entertainment; recording star Billy Eckstein; former Dodge star Don Newcombe; and 2,500 others.

Thousand

Bank

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—Milprint Inc. today deposited $25,000 in the North Milwaukee State Bank, the only black controlled and basically black managed institution of its kind in Wisconsin.

James B. Kurtzweil, President of the flexible packaging firm, a world leader in this industry, said the deposit was made with the intention of providing and maintaining stable monies which the bank can depend upon in arranging their asset allocation. He added, "We are eager to support this institution to help you progress and grow during this second year in business and in successive years."

High Court Rules
In Favor of Consumer

WASHINGTON - (NBNS) - The Supreme Court has ruled that a consumer who falls behind in installment payments has a constitutional right to hearing before the merchandise is repossessed.

In a split decision, the court struck down laws in Florida and Pennsylvania which permitted a merchant to demand that police seize goods when the buyer defaults in time payments. Such laws exist in just about all of the states.

Kambui Vero Speaks

REVOLUTIONARY

Friday, June 16th
Dateline: Chicago.
Revolutionary Warriors Supporters and friends gathered at McCormick Place to hear Black Revolutionary Communist Angela Y. Davis denounce this filthy corrupt unworkable system. Angela continuously called for a collective movement across the country to free all political prisoners, and to overthrow the oppressive system of capitalism that continues to dehumanize and enslave the masses of Black and Poor people. That the way to get such a movement afoot is through solid - arity unity togetherness.

Angela further stated that "if millions of people can come together to defend me - I know we (across this country) can come together in a movement to defend Our community from the repressive acts of the local fascist authorities and to defend those victims of repression by any means necessary. That a powerful aggressive offensive people's movement is the only way to free all Political Prisoner from concentration camps (prisons) in this country. That we must relentlessly fight against the evils of racism / fascism and imperialism. That we must be aware of the sacrifices that will have to be made so that millions of other people can be free. That when the people start moving against the system in a uncompromising fashion - that system begins a counter-attack upon the people to try and stop the force of the people. However, we know that the people and the people alone will be the determining factors of the outcome in the relentless fight struggle against this inhumane system. Angela went on to state that we will defeat Nixon's insane policy by overthrowing this system that has enslaved its people for far to long. The sister also extended a most "touching" "thank you" to the masses of people who supported her and/or assisted in fighting relentlessly for her freedom which intun has / will make way for more and more intense battles against the corrupt judicial system in this country.

LDF Wins In Detroit

DETROIT, MICH. - Legal Defense Fund attorneys were elated by the affirmative decision handed down today by the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in the Detroit Metropolitan school case, Bradley V. Milliken.

Though the court did not eliminate the separate school districts in Detroit, it assigned pupils and teachers across the lines of city and suburbia, and ordered the two systems to function as one. This involves fifty-five school districts and 800,000 pupils.

Cooperating Attorney Louis R. Lucas for LDF explained that, "For the first time, the State Board of Education in Detroit will be required to enforce its own rules on construction to prevent the creation of new segregated schools. This school desegregation case will result in desegregation for more Black children than any other case in history."

The suit originally filed in 1970 by a local branch of the NAACP along with a group of Black and White parents and children, was filed against the State Board of Education, conservative members of the school board who had replaced previously liberal board members, Attorney General Frank J. Kelly, State Superintendent John Porter, and others.

Sports Then

With Allen Ashby

A bunch of us were arguing about present track marks and those of some years ago. For instance, the world's mark for the quarter mile was around forty seven seconds. Now, that would just make it in some of the better high school meets.

leadership in a mass movement across this country would serve to untie the masses of people for still greater victories. This writer firmly challenged and further extended the call for a massive collective people's movement in Des Moines and throughout the state of Iowa. It is about time for us to stop jiving and to "be about the business of fighting for our complete emancipation." We must begin by becoming supportive of the righteous struggles against repression and for freedom that are taking place in Des Moines and the rest of the State of Iowa. By becoming supportive of programs that truly speaks to Our needs and wants. Then consciously moving the above action / support to a higher level - keeping in focus a continuously re-education and re-defining of ourselves and our priorities as they relate to us gaining complete emancipation (FREEDOM) from this oppressive unworkable system. Let us now move Black Des Moines to deal decisive "blows" to a corrupt system. FREEDOM BY ANY MEANS NECESSARY!

And the marks for the hundred, two twenty and shorter distances, saying nothing of the longer runs, are so much better than the older ones that one has to wonder how they got so far apart. We finally figured out that part of the difference was lighter shoes, better and faster tracks, and so many more people competing. Then there was the matter of better training methods and specialist in various events. Time was when a guy got into as many events as he could last out, but now people are concentrating on one event, and that would have to make for better marks. Then, in the shorter races, there is the better timing. Formerly timers used to watch for the puff of smoke and the flash from the starter's gun before they started their watches. Now the thing is done electrically, and is accurate to the tiniest fraction of a second.

I remember that the late Howard Drew said that there were times when he knew that he had beaten 9.6 in the century, but he didn't get the time. Stop watches measured time only in fifths of a second. So there were probably plenty of 9.5 sprinters around who just couldn't get recognized because the watch wouldn't split seconds any finer. Then Charley Paddock, the first of the world's fastest humans, said that he felt that he couldn't run any faster than nine six or was it five, because his legs wouldn't stand the strain. Now some guy is going to crack the present mark and put it down to maybe nine flat. Running techniques differ also. For instance, in the quarter, the accepted method was to give it all you had into the first curve, coast on the back stretch, and start your drive as you came into the two twenty mark. Well, now if you tried floating on the back stretch, you'd be too many miles behind. The same applies to the half mile and the two twenty. You run them with all you have, and you better not let up for a minute, not even in high school. So with running all the way, you have to get better marks.

In your field events you have better equipment as well as people who are concentrating on their event and taking special exercises to build themselves up for it. Then they are studying ways to improve their methods, and are really working at it. The shot put, discus and speed depend on speed in getting across the ring, and a fellow doesn't have to be a giant, although size does help a lot. But little fellows do all right. By little fellows I mean guys weighing around two hundred pounds. By today's standards a fellow weighing less than two fifteen and shorter than six feet tall is considered small, and people marvel at how well he handles the bigger men. Do you suppose that could make the difference between oldtimers and the present day competitors? The old timer weighed anywhere from one sixty to maybe one ninety and was seldom better than six feet tall. Your sprinters were usually short men not over five feet nine, usually around five seven. Those guys couldn't keep up with long legged guys like John Carlos, John Smith and other tall runners. Probably the greatest sprint race of the Olympics was the hundred and two twenty races featuring Ralph Metcalf and Eddie Tolan. Tolan was so short, he looked like a midget, but he led the great Metcalf to the tape by refusing to tighten up when he heard those footsteps thundering behind him. Wonder how Eddie would fare with about six of those six foot sprinters who could take strides half again as long as his and move their feet just about as fast.

But do you know that I believe that some of the older competitors, given today's advantages would have done all right in this modern competition.
