Raid black club here

An Interview with Barney Donaldson U.S. District Attorney by New Bystander

Roberts Lounge, 1025 University, subject of intense search. Agents reportedly only had warrant to inspect liquor. All patrons were frisked some hand guns found.

Ebony Lounge, 1101 University, also entered. Women's wigs were removed here. Some clients subjected to highly personal search. Note house at Rt. rear of Ebony. Two people were arrested there after being chased briefly by authorities.

exerpts from that interview:
Crime Control or Nigger Control?

Reporter: If as you say that you have been working on the case since June was it not possible to positively identify those persons who were the subject of the operations to such a degree that to search indiscriminately citizens who might have been in the area on quite innocent errands would not have been necessary?

Atty:.....I suppose....we could have made independent arrests on that. I think we were trying to make it....I can't tell you all the reasons, but I'll tell you 1 of the reasons. One of the reasons is because a bunch of these dudes go up there, flash around a big car, expensive rings, throw a lot of cash around and display the products of heroin. And I happen to be very vigorous in this area you can see by my advocacy that I happen to feel very strongly about it. We were coming back with the same, we were making a display! It's just like the ad on cigars 'we're going to get you'. I'm going to promise you that we are not going to stop until we get those heroins off the street and that place becomes a decent place for the citizens of that community to live if I can do it. Your point is very well taken. I could have done that, but I wouldn't have made the point!

Girl: I'd like to ask you a very touchy question. I happen to live right across the street from Drake. I don't live in the area either and I know very little about the area but I'd like to ask a question and it may sound like a racist question but I'm sorry. Would you have done the same thing in the same way on Drake's campus?

Atty: The answer to that is: You're damn right. Tom Kelly knows me from way back and I don't know if he still belongs to the NAACP, but talk to Tom Kelly, listen. I've been active in civil rights. I was in the first financial institution that hired blacks. I've already had calls that says that I'm racist.

Editor: If I had been in there somebody would have had an argument on their hands because I'm not very peaceful and quiet when people start to malign my rights!

Atty: It's not against the person's constitutional rights to stop them or pat them down in a raid. That's not a violation! You can pick anybody you want to.

Accuses Editor of Witnessing Heroin Traffic

Atty: Let me tell you this. If I'm willing to make the sacrifice and if I'm willing to commit the resources to clean up the area of your people then you ought to make the same commitment to your people to help them. Then quit worrying about your own sensitivity. We're going to stop this thing.

Editor: If the housing inspector never inspected anybody's house but yours in the neighborhood and you knew there were only so many repairs that you could constantly make and you knew he was only inspecting your house; wouldn't you get a little mad if you saw the guy across the street getting away with murder. That is what I'm saying.

Atty: You can't find an area in town where there is any substantial heroin trade except that particular area and if it is you lay it right on the table right now and we'll see that we do something about it.

Editor: What happened to the girl from Drake University who was picked up for selling heroin?

Atty: She got probation, the other girl got 3 years. That girl only delivered it from her house to another house. The boys both got 12 years apiece, not youth corrections either. The other girl as I remember got 3 years. The girl you named only carried the thing a couple of blocks and she got convicted and was placed on probation. But they got 12 years and that's not under youth corrections. Those are tough sentences.

Editor: Would it be possible for you to disclose at this point whether any quantities of drugs were confiscated during the raid.

Atty: No. Not at this point.

Proposed inner city clinic facing obstacles

PART 1 URBAN HEALTH CENTER TODAY
By MICHAEL MORROW

A neighborhood health center was to be opened this past July for area residents. Presently, very little is being done to open the center because of reported agency back biting. The Interim Health project is the product of Inner Urban Community Health Corporations effort to bring the quality of Health care delivery in the Model City-Woodland Wilke area up to and surpassing standard care. I.U.C.H.C. is an outgrowth of Hospital providers and citizens of the Model City Woodland Wilke area. I.U.C.H.C. is a member of the Central Iowa Health Services Corp. whose purpose is to (1) Attract monies for clinic operation.

(2) Develop a pre-paid capitation Plan for low income areas, "not operate Clinics". The problem would seem to be that Community Development has and is refusing to recognize the I.U. (Neighborhood Corp.) as responsible corp. and so far will not allow C.I.H.S. to sub-contract the actual services to be rendered. C.D.A. claims it is illegal to sub-contract while contracting with M.I.D.A.C. & Des Moines School System. I.U. says the exclusion from their own project is due to the fact the boards composition is predominately Black. A spokesman from the I.U. Boards said, "It is difficult to understand why this project is being delayed."

Open house at jail house

Wilbur T. Hildreth, Polk County Sheriff, announced today that there will be a public open house at the Polk County Jail, 615 Cherry Street. The jail facility will be open to the public and the press from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 21 and from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, October 22. The open house will offer the citizens of Polk County an opportunity to view firsthand, the extensive remodeling that has been done at the jail over the past several months. Among the improvements noted by Sheriff Hildreth are an electronic security door, shower and property room, a new booking room, new paint and paneling, new light units, modernized plumbing, larger cell areas, and new kitchen equipment. Visitors will be able to visit the inmate recreation area, identification bureau, photo processing room, radio control room and LENCIR computer area. Also mentioned by the Sheriff was a newly sub-divided inmate interview area; where an attorney and his client may converse privately.

SCLC cuts back staff, serious money woes

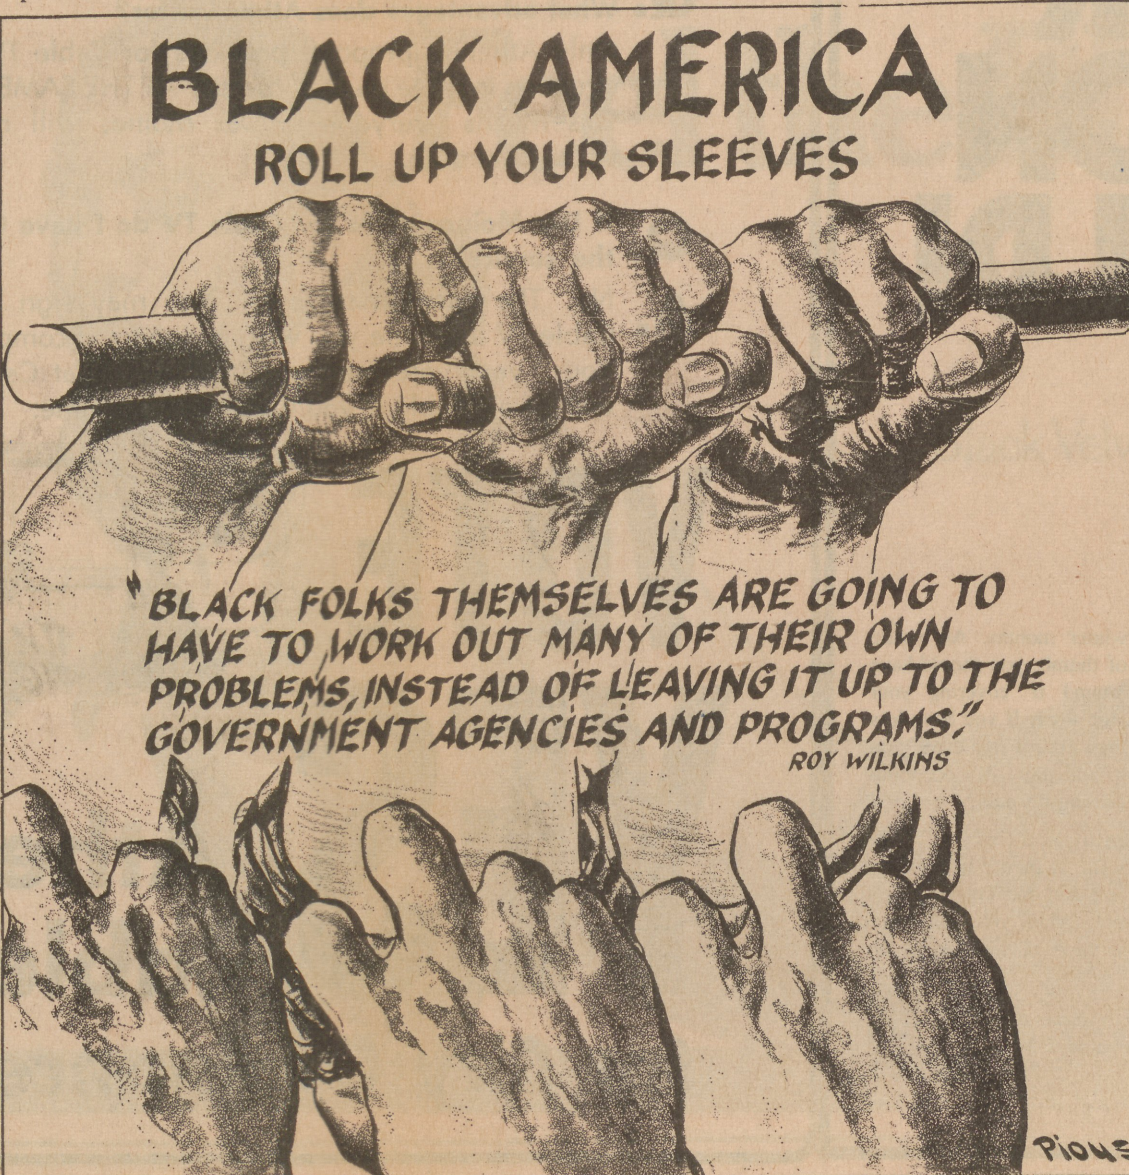

By National Black News Service

ATLANTA—(NBNS)—The Southern Christian Leadership Conference has been experiencing serious financial difficulties recently and as a result has had to cut 21 employees, leading some of its top staff members to resign in protest.

SCLC's executive director Stoney Cooks was one of those. "I disagreed with the cuts," he said, "and felt strongly enough about them to resign." Cooks said he thought SCLC may also have to cut back some of its programs.

The cutback of staff members, according to Bernard Lee, executive assistant to SCLC President Ralph Abernathy, will save in excess of $100,000 a year. Lee maintained, however, that SCLC's financial problems are not new and that the organization has always had difficulty in raising enough funds to support the political campaigns of blacks.

He learns also how to prepare surfaces; match and mix colors; and apply various types of interior and exterior materials (including stain, lacquer, enamel, oil, and varnish). He must also learn how to erect scaffolding.

Reporter: Don't you think if D.A.L.E. continues to work in this way that their effectiveness has been pretty much damaged by what has happened over the weekend?

Atty: No, I don't think so at all. I don't buy it at all.

Reporter: Are you at liberty to say whether they are continuing to work in the area.

Officials Spent Hours Planning Raid

Reporter: Was it best in your estimation tactically to do this in the club?

Atty: Yes...Do you realize how many hours we actually sat around here and considered the alternatives? I said what if somebody takes a gun out and takes a shot at someone in a drugs. But he sort of has a stigma from now on as being the owner of that place that was raided that time and I was just wondering if you had taken that into consideration or if it was just one of those things that had to happen.

Atty: You know I think we arrested several 16 year old kids in there as I remember. Wasn't there 4 or 5, I don't remember exactly. I'm not sure. But I'm going to tell you whatever sympathy he had - he has none now.

Doesn't Believe Residents were Upset

Reporter: I'm a recent mover to Des Moines and I came here from a place where drugs are much worse than you can imagine at this time. Granting the need to clean up the drug traffic what there is of it, is it not worth some special effort, particularly involving the group of citizens who have been disenfranchised for so long, to take into consideration their dignity even in aiding them in removing a blot to the community. One hopes that law enforcement understands that the dignity of black people is an extremely sore point and that rather than feeling that you have been done a service I am sure that a great many of the residents of that community are outraged if for no other reason but the method.

Atty: I'm not willing to buy very much on the citizens of that community being outraged until I hear from the residents of the neighborhood who want to weigh the fact that they can't stroll down the street in the middle of the night and leave their house.

Editor: People don't trust law enforcement.

Atty: I know that people don't trust law enforcement. I know that there is a lack of communication and that there has been in the past.

James Brown

endorses Nixon's re-election

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — Soul singer, James Brown, known in the black community as Soul Brother No. One, has endorsed the re-election of President Nixon after talking to the President in the White House and eating lunch with a Nixon aide.

In making his announcement of support for Nixon, Brown said he didn't however, intend to give the Nixon campaign any money. Brown said blacks and the poor had been helped "somewhat" by the Nixon Administration.

"I say don't quit the boat in the middle of the stream," said one of the nation's top singers and entertainers.

This is no riot, says rebellious prisoners

By Page Townsend

NATIONAL Black News Service WASHINGTON, D.C. (NBNS) — Rats and roaches run across the floor. Young men of 16 and 17 are crowded into cramped cells with older prisoners. Some of the men have been confined in cages 16 months without being brought to trial.

It is a typical prison, the D.C. jail.

It was not a typical disturbance.

"Mr. Claiborne," said one of the inmates to Washington Post writer William L. Claiborne, "we want you to understand on thing very clearly."

"This is not a riot, it's a revolution. You understand?"

Claiborne said he understood. He stepped into the ancient D.C. jail and joined Kenneth L. Hardy, Washington's director of corrections, in tense conferences with the fifty prisoners who staged a rebellion by capturing 11 hostages and setting city officials on edge for the next 22 hours.

There were unusual visits by dignitaries, this being the Federal City and seat of the U.S. Government. Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm and D.C. Delegate Walter E. Fountroy, a former assistant to the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., acted as intermediaries. "They were prepared to die. They don't have much faith in people anymore," said Ms. Chisholm.

There was an extraordinary night session across town where U.S. District Court Judge William Bryant met with six prisoners to discuss conditions at the D.C. jail.

Inmate Albert McCoy spoke first.

"You take a 16-year old kid and stick him in there with someone who's been in Leavenworth, or Atlanta for 30 or 40 years...it ruins the kid." He paused. Then added, "Then, they're in there with the homosexuals... We want some help. That's what we're screaming for."

"Maybe it's too late for me. I don't want (my little brother) to go through there. But who's going to help him? I'm screaming for help."

Consider: Eighty percent of those in prisons don't need bars, walls and watchtowers manned by guards carrying high-powered rifles. The huge majority are perfectly safe in a prison without walls in the heart of a city.

So said the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Julian Tepper, an attorney who was a negotiator during the Attica prison tragedy last year in New York was asked when the trouble in the D.C. jail began.

"It started 200 years ago. What the public doesn't understand is that the inmates are in control anyway. Any power over them they give by consent. The people just don't understand it... You cannot make that place humane," he said.

Three hours after the court session began it was recessed by Judge Brvant.

10th & University guarded heavily

Atty: We have other cases right now that are made. That we have not gone further on, but we'll wait for a lab analysis or something like that. If you are in Roberts every day you can't possibly sit there and tell me that you don't know that there is a wide spread of heroin right there.

crowded place. What if we don't get this or what if we don't get that? What happens if there's a riot? Do we have enough men. Are we prepared to take the consequences of what we're doing? Well we came up with the decision that we were prepared to take the consequences and but do the Heavily armed officers also patrolled this corner.

Editor: That's what I'm going to say. I certainly am. Because I have sat in there night after night when we were broadcasting out of there.

Atty: What station do you broadcast out of there?

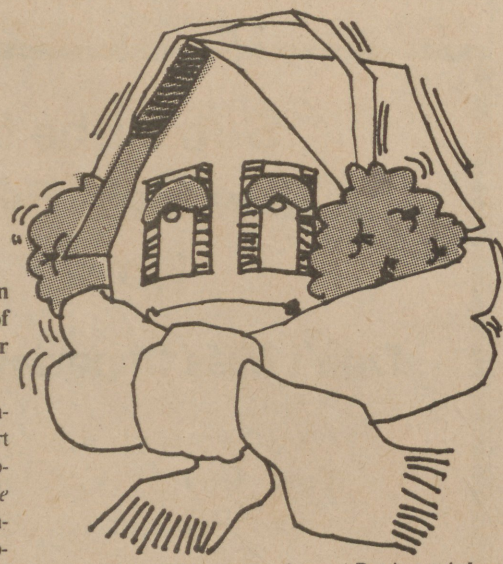

Editor: We had KYNA FM in there at one time back in December of last year - November and December. We broadcasted from there every night. From 8 to approximately 12:00. I don't look for that.

Atty: We had another motive but I can't reveal it at this point.

best job we could. I'm sure some tempers were... but upon careful reflection you tell me and show me the person who disagrees with the purpose, the motive and the ultimate aim of what our goals were there. Not necessarily how we went about it because you can disagree...

Reporter: I don't disagree with the aims or goals. I'm sort of concerned about, regardless of whether its ever proved or ever stated, that the man who owns Robert's Lounge you know does in no way deal with

INSULATION: CURE FOR A COMMON HOUSE COLD!

If your house takes on a chill at the first sign of cold weather... better check the insulation.

Proper insulation will increase your living comfort year 'round. How? By helping keep the heat inside your home during the winter months—and by keeping it outside during the summer months. This not only reduces your heating and cooling bills—it helps conserve precious energy at the same time.

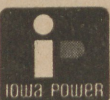

Why not see if your home measures up?

The easiest place to start is in your attic. That's where most of your heat escapes during the cold winter months. As a rule of thumb, you should have around 6" covering your attic floor. If you have less than that, it might pay you to add more. It's economical and it's easy.

Insulation in your side walls is harder to measure and add to. This is a job for a "Registered Insulation Man". He can make a quick check and tell you what, if anything, has to be done.

How does your home measure up? Better find out soon. It's liable to be a long hard winter.

CABLE TV FOR DES MOINES What's It All About?

On November 7, Des Moines voters have the opportunity to vote for a cable TV system for Des Moines. What's it all about? Here are some important questions and answers.

Q. What is Cable TV?

A. It brings TV into your home with a special cable that eliminates ghosts, weak pictures, snow and interference from auto ignition and other sources.

Q. My reception of local stations is good now, so what could Cable TV do for me?

A. It will give you an even better picture from the 4 local stations — plus many additional channels of programs to choose from — a total of at least 18 channels immediately.

Q. What's on these extra channels?

A. You'll see special high school and college sportscasts and activities, 24-hour news and weather, movies, special closed-circuit coverage of local civic issues, educational programs, channels from Minneapolis/St. Paul and Kansas City, and many other events and programs not available to you now.

Q. If I vote for Cable TV will it raise my taxes?

A. Absolutely not. Cable TV is a private service much like your telephone, and the Cable TV company provides the system at its own expense.

Q. Who is the Cable TV company?

A. The Des Moines City Council chose Athena Cable-vision Corp. of Iowa to be on the Nov. 7 ballot.

Q. Who is Athena?

A. An experienced company with Cable TV franchises in many parts of the country. It holds the patent on the home channel selector which is used by all other cable TV companies.

Q. What advantages does Athena offer?

A. Only Athena's proposal provides for Cable TV construction in three parts of the city AT THE SAME TIME. This means everyone in Des Moines will receive equal treatment.

Q. If Des Moines votes for Cable TV do I have to take the service?

A. No. The decision is yours. You may sign up for Cable TV any time you wish or ignore it completely. Your "yes" vote merely assures you that Cable TV will be available if you want it at any time.

Q. What would Cable TV cost me if I did sign up?

A. Installation is free the first 2 months after service is available. Thereafter there would be a maximum installation charge of $15 to run the cable into your house and connect it to your set. Then there is a monthly charge of $6 for the service. This monthly charge is less than your telephone.

Q. What if I sign up for Cable TV and later want to discontinue it?

A. You are free to do this at any time, and there is no charge for disconnecting your set.

Q. How long will it take to get Cable TV after the franchise is voted?

A. Athena promises a maximum of two years and probably only 14-16 months. ALL PARTS OF THE CITY will have Cable TV available in the shortest time possible.

Q. How can I be sure this will happen?

A. Athena will post a $100,000 Faithful Performance Bond to guarantee its construction timetable if the franchise is voted.

Q. Why are we voting on Cable TV? What's the purpose?

A. In order to have Cable TV available, Des Moines residents must vote to grant a franchise for the service. This permits the CableTV company to install the system throughout the city for your use if you want it.

Q. How do I vote for the best Cable TV?

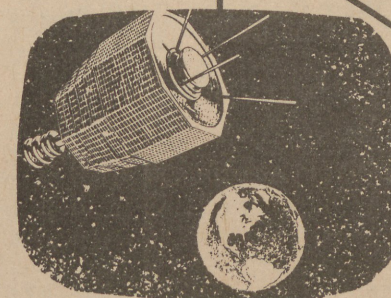

A. To vote for the Athena franchise, vote "Yes" to adopt City Ordinance No. 8430. You will be voting for a larger system that will give you better service and programming in the shortest time.

More black women die from cancer

New York, NY ...

According to Dr. Mildred I. Clarke reporting in the October issue of Essence, some alarming statistics have recently been released from the Howard University School of Medicine which indicate an increase in the number of deaths among Blacks due to cancer; the leading threats to women being cancer of the breast and genital area. And, states Dr. Clarke, in 1972 the American Cancer Society estimates some 43,000 new cases of uterine cancer will occur from which approximately 12,000 women will die.

Studies, including population statistics of the disease, have indicated there are certain ethnic and religious trends with regard to the incidence of uterine, or cervical, cancer. For instance, cases of carcinoma of the cervix is quite low in Jewish and Moslem women. And, it is believed that the practice of circumcision of the males of these groups may be a preventative factor.

Early marriage and sexual exposure also seem to be contributing factors in the development of cervical cancer; early and prolonged trauma to the cervix as in the marital relations of very young women, or sexual relationships with many partners, are thought to be etiological factors. There also seems to be some degree of correlation between early and repeated childbirth and the disease; a higher incidence is revealed in women who have pregnancies before the age of 20, and it is thought that repeated trauma to the birth canal and cervix may possibly be instrumental in setting up a chronic type of infection which may be a focus for the development of cancer cells. The latter statement is somewhat substantiated by the fact that single women who have never had children report a low incidence of the disease.

Unfortunately, there are no specific signs or symptoms of cervical cancer; but because of its value in the detection and prevention of the disease, the Pap test is one of the most important discoveries of the century. This examination is painless and can be performed routinely by a gynecologist or family doctor, and Dr. Clarke emphasizes the importance of having a Pap smear performed yearly.

Carcinoma of the cervix continues to be a deadly killer of Black women; but when diagnosed in its early stages is highly treatable and virtually 100 per cent curable. And, with the advent of mass screening programs by the American Cancer Society, clinics and private physicians, there is evidence of a definite decrease in cases of cervical cancer which have progressed into an advanced stage without detection.

S O C I A L

She started the 'fro: Remember Cicely Tyson

TENSE MOMENT — Cicely Tyson gathers her children (played by Eric Hooks and Yvonne Jarrell) around her when hostile white men approach her share cropper cabin in this dramatic scene from the 20th Century-Fox movie, "Sounder," in which she stars with Paul Winfield. The Radnitz-Mattel film was produced by Robert Radnitz and directed on location in Louisiana by Martin Ritt.

By Walter Burrell

Few people may remember it, but actress Cicely Tyson was the first to wear an Afro hairdo on national television. And it was way back in the now ancient year of 1959. Of course, nowadays natural hair styles are the order of the day and Blacks in all walks of life wear them without a second thought. But when Cicely made the decision to throw away the straightening comb, the times and attitudes were vastly different.

Cicely, currently starring with Paul Winfield and Kevin Hooks (son of actor Robert Hooks of "N.Y.P.D.") in the Robert Radnitz-Martin Ritt film for 20th Century-Fox, "Sounder," had appeared in a segment of the play, "Dark of the Moon," which was viewed by several important film and theatre producers on Broadway.

She Wore Natural In 1st Film

From that production she won her first film assignment, a segment of the "Camera Three" series titled "Between Yesterday And Today." For that film, she committed a most revolutionary act: she cut her hair and wore it in a air. I went to the barber and asked him to cut my hair off."

The barber was reluctant, but he did it. When he had finished, he told Cicely: "One thing's for sure. If you want to see beautiful woman, just cut her hair off and her real beauty shines through." His compliment helped Cicely feel she hadn't done the wrong thing. But she still had to face her director.

Thought She Would Be Fired

The following morning she arrived at the studio prepared to do the live show. Her hair was cloaked in a bandana. Then, when the director called for everyone to get in their places, she took the bandana off and one could have heard a hair drop on the floor. Cicely was absolutely paralyzed and the only comforting thought she had was that it was too late for him to fire her. So she just stood there listening to her heart throb loudly in her ears.

Finally, after what seemed like an interminable length of time, the director went over to Cicely and said very calmly, "Cicely, you cut your hair," which had to be the understatement of the decade. Cicely, at a loss for words, answered "Yes, I did." Then the director smiled and said "You know, I wanted to ask you to do it, but I didn't have the nerve." Then everyone relaxed and did the show.

Mother Wouldn't Speak To Her

The reaction from Cicely's mother was less charitable. She was appalled. She couldn't believe her daughter could be "so damned foolish" as to cut her hair off. She didn't speak to Cicely for a year. She refused to see her for two years afterward. She felt Cicely had embarrassed her before her neighbors and forbade her to come to the family home.

The initial reaction from other segments of the Black

Harmonettes guests of Easter Seal Society

The 1972 annual meeting for the Easter Seal Society of Iowa, Inc. for crippled children and adults was held Saturday, October 14, at Sunnyside Camp. The highlight of the meeting was held in the Main Lodge of the Camp. The 1973 Easter Seal Campaign Captain and the Easter Seal Sweetheart is Dalynn Williams were honored. The Des Moines Gospel Harmonette Singers were dedicated to perform. "Songs of Love and Happy Songs" were sung group was led by Alberta Hunter. The Harmonettes also were special guests of the program with a love'y luncheon which was served in the dining room of the lodge and the entire tour of the Camp led by the Board Officers.

community varied. She went to Washington, D. C. some time later to accept an award for her "Eastside, Westside" series from the Capitol Press Club and was met with subtle hostility. After the awards presentation was over, the press club women, aided by more than a few drinks, attacked her verbally.

The Beginning of a New Day

They said it was wrong to "distort" the image of Black women that way, especially since Cicely was in a position to project "a beautiful image of Black femininity." They said that for Cicely to wear her hair cut and natural was "embarrassing and humiliating to us as Black women."

Then there was the reaction from beauticians across the nation who complained that Cicely was causing them to lose business.

CABLE TV

Is Still Your Choice

Despite recent action by the Des Moines City Council, thousands of concerned Des Moines voters have signed petitions to put Hawkeye Cablevision, Inc. on the ballot November 7th. We think you should know why. The franchise proposals by Hawkeye and Athena are basically the same. They are a matter of public record at City Hall and you are invited to inspect them. Both companies meet the legal regulations and requirements set by the FCC and the City of Des Moines. Both were judged equally adequate by the Des Moines consultant. But there are differences. Please take a few minutes to compare:

- 1. LOCALLY OWNED AND CONTROLLED . . .
Hawkeye Cablevision is based in Des Moines. Many Des Moines wage-earners and businessmen have their savings and capital in it. . . Des Moines and its people will benefit by it.
- 2. A BOOST TO DES MOINES ECONOMY . . .
Des Moines financial institutions and Des Moines people, will serve the financial needs of Hawkeye. . . This will help stimulate the Des Moines economy.
- 3. A STRONG INVESTMENT IN DES MOINES . . .
Profits from Hawkeye's operation will be re-invested. . . in Des Moines. As Hawkeye grows. . . Des Moines grows. A stronger tax base. More jobs for the people of Des Moines. A healthy employment picture.
- 4. A BETTER SERVICE ORGANIZATION . . .
Hawkeye will construct as many distribution centers (hubs) as are necessary to meet Des Moines needs. Better reception. Better facilities. Better service.
- 5. A DEDICATION TO EDUCATION . . .
Hawkeye plans to (and will) set aside 4 separate channels for educational broadcasting. These channels will serve Des Moines homes and businesses, Des Moines public and private school systems, Grand View Junior College, Des Moines Area Community College and Drake University.
- 6. ALREADY GROWING IN THE COMMUNITY . . .
Hawkeye has franchises in five Des Moines area suburbs: Urbandale, Clive, Windsor Heights, West Des Moines, and Ankeny. The franchise now sought in Des Moines will enable Des Moines area people to have quality cable TV reception, better and superior service without the costly duplication caused by the selection of an outside company.
- 7. IMMEDIATE ACTION . . .
When Hawkeye is given the "go-ahead" they will. . . "go ahead." No delay after franchise is approved.
- 8. REALISTIC COMPLETION DATE . . .
Hawkeye plans to complete their system by November 1, 1973. This date was projected based on experience in the Des Moines area with utility companies and make-ready work already being done in Des Moines suburbs. In Hawkeye's opinion it would be highly unlikely that a quality system could be completed in less time.
- 1. OWNED AND OPERATED BY OUTSIDE INTERESTS . . .
Athena is owned and operated by investors outside of Des Moines, even though a selected few local persons hold stock. Main headquarters are in New York City. . . A far cry from your friends and neighbors in Des Moines.
- 2. FINANCED BY EASTERN INTERESTS . . .
Financial interests in New York, Boston and Philadelphia will provide financial backing for Athena. When outside money is involved. . . outside interests benefit.
- 3. THERE GO THE PROFITS . . .
The profits from Athena's operation will be sent out of Des Moines. . . forever.
- 4. IF THREE WON'T DO IT. . . TOO BAD . . .
Athena proposes to serve its Des Moines customers with a predetermined number of hubs. There is no accountability for the growth of the city of Des Moines in their proposal.
- 5. EDUCATION CUT SHORT . . .
Athena proposes only two educational channels be made available to Des Moines' growing educational needs. Only Drake University would be served in Athena's proposal.
- 6. WHAT COMMUNITY? . . . WHAT GROWTH? . . .
Athena holds no Iowa franchises. They have held franchises in some cities outside the state for several years, yet construction has barely begun. Athena is committed to build thousands of miles of system in other cities — probably before work can begin in Des Moines.
- 7. A 30 DAY DELAY . . .
Athena's proposal has a built-in delay in system planning and engineering. Once a delay is granted it becomes easy to extend that delay.
- 8. REALISTIC COMPLETION DATE? . . .
Athena has unconditionally promised completion of their system by December 1, 1974. (But does their past performance give any assurance that this promise will be kept?)

Rev. Harry D. Pierson, a man who says he has "come this far by faith," is the new pastor of Mount Zion A.M.E. Church.

He is an active, progressive pastor who has worked in the area of civil rights with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Both in the South and in the Chicago struggle for racial equality for Blacks and other minorities.

Raised in central Illinois, Rev. Pierson graduated from Alton Senior High School and was involved in the Korean conflict while in the Army. Following service, he obtained a bachelor of science degree from Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

He taught public schools in Chicago for a year and then attended Central State College in Wilbur Force, Ohio, returning to Chicago after graduation to be associate pastor at St. John A.M.E. in Aurora.

Rev. Pierson received his first charge in West Brook, Ill., at St. Mark Church. After four years in that pastorate, he organized a church in a new racially changing area in Chicago called Roseland. St. Luke A.M.E. became widely known because of Pastor Pierson's stand on the issue of racism, both black and white. He also spoke out against street gangs, and black and white leaders who were exploiting the minds of the youth. He organized youth programs to try to curb youth street gang activities.

Rev. Pierson later worked for the Chicago Department of Human Resources and presented plans to unite the communities-block clubs.

Rev. Pierson says he comes to Mount Zion in Ottumwa "to lead the church both spiritual and secular to

Kennedy decries human experiments

WASHINGTON, D.C. (NBNS) — Babies were used as guinea pigs in experiments 14 years ago at the Los Angeles County-University of Southern California Medical Center charges Massachusetts Senator Edward Kennedy.

The doctors who conducted the experiments, in which 39 infants died, used "poor, uneducated" persons to achieve their goals much as did those who conducted the infamous Tuskegee syphilis study in which patients were permitted to die without treatment, Kennedy charged.

Kennedy, chairman of the Senate Health Committee, announced that he plans to conduct hearings next year on the subject of doctor experimentation on patients.

Those who participated in the California experiments objected to Kennedy's appraisal of their work.
