In the wake of the raid of October 13th at Robert's Lounge and the Ebony Lounge the Black Community has reacted with reason and strength. As The New Bystander goes to press, reactions have been registered from dozens of organizations. Among them the NAACP, local and national. The Black Political Assembly local and national (Black Caucus). The Community Action Committee which was formed October 17th, 1972 and is composed of a broad cross section of Des Moines Blacks. The Community Development Agency, and Neighborhood Advisory Board.

A special meeting of the Des Moines Branch National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) held Monday evening at the Willkie House October 23, 1972. There was considerable discussion of the recent raid at Robert's Lounge, 1025 University, and Ebony Lounge, 1101 University. It was reported that 100 persons at each lounge were searched by police and agents armed with shotguns and drawn pistols.

The proposed hiring of a Black investigator was advanced by instructing the Legal Redress Committee to take such legal action as the case warrants. The following conclusions were reached:

(1) The Des Moines Branch believes and insists that law enforcement officers should not violate the Civil Rights of citizens.

(2) The facts presented to the Des Moines Branch show clearly that the Civil Rights

Documentation of police harrasment extends 10 years back of some of the people were violated.

(3) The Policy of the NAACP is to support citizens in the exercise of their Civil Rights when such rights have been violated. The Branch offers its services to those individuals especially those who because of the expense involved cannot afford to pay for legal service.

(4) The Branch agreed to co-operate with other groups and interested individuals involved in this or similar cases where the Civil Rights of individuals are violated.

The Community Action Committee which is composed of a broad cross section of Des Moines Blacks met again on October 24th. That Council was an outgrowth of last Thursday's mass meeting held at the Black Theology Center. A series of events are now planned in response to the raid.

The Committee has appointed a 9 member Blue Ribbon Hearing Panel to hear testimony by the victims of the 13th raid. Witnesses will also be produced to further document incidents of harassment dating as far back as 1968. The Panel's findings will be used to separately or jointly file class suits against appropriate government bodies local - state - and national. Members of the hearing panel are: A. June Franklin, former State Representative, Al Correll - Director Des Moines Human Rights Commission, Ora McQueen - Black Theology

Typical of the resolutions to come forth from the citizens in the planned variations program was the following introduced at the last Citizens Advisory Board meeting by Earl Hutchinson: "(Resolved) that C.A.B. go on record as opposing drug traffic and supporting any type of actions against drug dealers. But the type of raid conducted on October 13 at Robert's Lounge and the Ebony Lounge against innocent citizens cannot and will not be tolerated by C.A.B.

The Community Action Committee will begin the week with a mass rally at 11th and University on Sunday, October 29, at 2 p.m. Hearings will begin on October 31st at the Theology Center at 12 noon and run until 9 p.m.

Black caucus blasts Nixon for using black showmen

Certain black members of the House of Representatives blasted the Nixon Administration for "blatant exploitation of politically naive" black entertainers as a hoax to influence black voters.

The black Congressmen were incensed over recent White House visits by Black entertainers and athletes and their subsequent statements praising President Nixon for "all that he is doing for black folks." The most recent black entertainer to be invited to the White House for lunch with the President was singer James Brown. Following the luncheon meeting with the President, Brown indicated his support for the President's candidacy.

The reactions of black Congressmen were sharply critical.

Rep. Louis Stokes, Chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus, said "Sammy Davis, Jr., Lionel Hampton, James Brown, Johnny Mathis and

Jim Brown all have one thing in common: they are all dancing to the tune of "benign neglect."

We watched as 'busing' law and order and now 'quotas' were turned into systematic attempts to deprive black Americans of their rights. We watched as Nixon appointees to the courts began to chip away at hard-earned civil rights.

We watched as black Americans became the victims of an economic program that gave industry its biggest profits in history. We watched our children's schools be deprived of the funds they need to operate. We watched as grain dealers, milk producers, railroad executives and high Republican officials were allowed to use their money and connections to open White House doors. But it took the Congressional Black Caucus over 2 years to get a meeting behind those doors. Over the years, less money was available for programs for the poor.

Either the black entertainers know about this record and don't care, or they are uninformed. In either case, they have turned their backs on their own people, and they deserve the strongest condemnation from black Americans.

"Finally," Stokes says, "if Mr. Nixon is re-elected, by 1976, when white Americans are celebrating their Declaration of Independence, black Americans will have nothing to commemorate but a return to slavery."

Congressman William Clay, of St. Louis, Mo., commented, "I have respect for the musical talents of Sammy Davis, James Brown and Lionel Hampton and I think Jim Brown is a great football player and a promising actor, but as political spokesmen for black folks they are terribly naive, ignorant and are either witting or unwitting pawns of the Nixon Administration."

"It is both sickening and disgraceful for any blacks, especially entertainers, who are where they are because of black support, to be duped by shrewd political men and then to have the gall to try to con black people into believing that one of their greatest oppressors, Richard Milhous Nixon, is their friend and should be supported for re-election. That is nothing but pure bull.

Shriver on the black vote

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — R. Sargeant Shriver, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, continued to try to woo the Black vote last week by reassuring a group of Black newspapermen that the McGovern-Shriver ticket has not been in the past, and is not now, taking the Black vote — or the minority vote — for granted.

In a 45-minute telephone press conference last Saturday, Shriver said minority voter registration "is not as good as it would have been if we had a lot of money," referring to the much-publicized lack of funds in Democratic campaign coffers as opposed to the super abundance of funds now controlled by the Republicans.

(President Nixon recently said that the GOP is presently directing its campaign contributions to senatorial elections since the presidential election has enough working capital to finance Nixon's re-election.)

In an apologetic tone, Shriver also spoke of the absence of advertising in Black newspapers and magazines, saying, "Nixon is spending a great deal of money to get anything he can from the Blacks or from the Spanish-speaking people, Puerto Ricans, and so on. And he's got millions and millions of dollars to spend. Now the reason we don't have a lot of ads in magazines, whether it's... Jet, or Ebony or other places is because we don't have the money. It's not because we don't want to spend it, we just don't have the money to spend," he added.

Participating in the Press Conference were Robert DeLeon, Jet Magazine; Howard Woods, St. Louis Sentinel; Vasee Shields, Houston Forward Times; Carlton Goodlett, Sun-Reporter; and Paul H. Wyche, Jr., National Black News Service.

Shriver's telephone press conference with the Black newsmen followed a similar one by Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate, two weeks ago. Both spoke about the issues in the impending Nov. 7 election and the necessity of not only registering more Blacks and other minorities but also getting them to vote — and vote Democratic.

Shriver also took the opportunity to put in a plug for Democratic programs, namely —

— A revenue sharing bill which, Shriver said, would put $5 billion back into the cities — many of which have high unemployment rates and a dire need for improved and expanded municipal services;

— A national health security bill that he said "would be like social security but only it would be health security. Under that health security, we would create a large number of centrally-located health clinics, the purpose of which would be to give quality health care to everybody in the neighborhood at a very minimum cost."

— A job program which would "give jobs to everybody who wants to work";

— A national transportation "which, Shriver said, would be converted from the highway trust fund ("that's the money that people pay through gasoline taxes... to build highways around the country") and would be used to improve municipal bus service "so that there would be much better and much cheaper bus service."

Black favor McGovern 4 to 1;

ATLANTA, GA. — "Although national public opinion polls show Black voters favor George McGovern over Richard Nixon 4 to 1, and although there are now more Blacks registered than ever before, there is evidence that fewer and fewer Blacks vote in Presidential elections every four years," an independent political research firm said this week.

The firm, Political Associates, headed by Georgia State Representative Julian Bond, reported that a recent Gallup poll gave McGovern a 4 to 1 lead over Nixon among Black voters.

"The support Blacks currently give McGovern nearly matches the average vote Blacks have given Democratic candidates in national elections since 1952," George Gallup reported.

"The vote of Blacks for the Democratic (presidential) candidates in the last five elections averages 77," the Gallup report said.

"These figures and predictions must be encouraging to McGovern supporters and disappointing to the Nixonites," Political Associates said in a pre-election report on potential Black voting strength and current trends, "but a closer look at the declining percentages of eligible Blacks who actually vote in Presidential elections would startle anyone interested in Black participation in American decision-making."

A smaller percentage of registered and eligible Blacks actually voted in Northern cities in the 1960's than in the 1940's. Southern Blacks, who have had greater difficulty in winning the franchise, tend to vote in larger percentages than their Northern counterparts, and in rare instances, are registered in higher percentages than are Northern Blacks.

"In 1968," Political Associates reported, "13 fewer registered Blacks than whites voted for President. Had these voters participated in the 1968 election and split their votes in direct proportion to those Blacks who did vote, Hubert Humphrey and not Richard Nixon would now be President of the United States."

Low political participation and low income and education levels are parallels, Political Associates said. As long as disproportionate numbers of Blacks live below or near the poverty line, low voting profiles will result.

"In conclusion," Political Associates said, "Black politicians and Black political activists of any party must make a special election period effort to insure a maximum Black vote."

Elks meeting in Waterloo

The Iowa State Education Committee, of the Iowa Improved Benevolent Protective Order of the Elks of the World, met October 15 with Melrose Temple of Waterloo as host.

Our workshop was given by State Directress Bernice Carter assisted by State Director Ron Carter, of Des Moines. Iowa is a part of the Sixth Region and received honors and plaques at the National Elks Convention in St. Louis in August. The amount contributed to the National Education Department was $6000.00.

Sioux City, Ottumwa and Des Moines enjoyed fellowship in the beautiful potluck hosted by Waterloo.

Update on health clinic

Morrow, Michael

Since the last article was written earlier in the week to be put into last Friday's paper there has been a meeting (Wednesday, Oct. 18) between the Inner-Urban Board (I-U) and the Community Development Agency (CD).

The result of the meeting is that I-U has a lease for the Interim Health Clinic for the Model Cities area.

The purpose of this latest meeting was to develop and get approval of an agreement that enable I-U to lease the proposed facility (the old St. Ambrose School Building).

CD stated at the meeting those items which were important to them and to I-U: 1) I-U got together with the providers (Lutheran and Mercy Hospitals and the College of Osteopathic Medicine) to implement the project; 2) that the actual HEW grant of $2 million for the Central Iowa Health Services (CIHS) was developed by I-U; 3) the current contract between CD and CIHS was produced by the efforts of I-U.

The Clinic is planned to open in the near future.

Students visit U.S. Navy installations

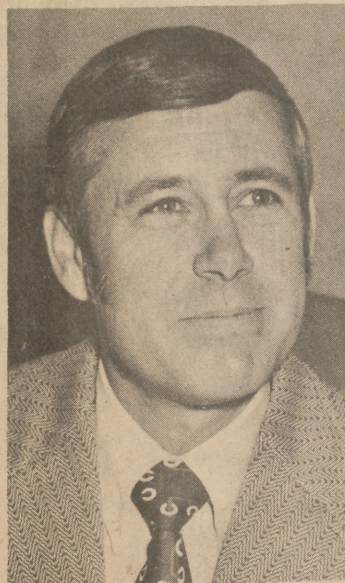

On Friday October 20, 1972 a group of Black students and adults were invited by the U.S. Navy to tour the NROTC facilities at The Southern University Campus in Baton Rouge, La. and the Naval Pilot Training facilities in Pensacola, Florida. The group spent approximately 7 hours in Baton Rouge and then went on to Pensacola for the remainder of the weekend.

The students were quite attentive as Black officers explained scholarship opportunities to them. They learned that a scholarship student in NROTC gets his books and tuition and supplies paid for 4 years of college. Such a scholarship is good for approximately $12,000 annually. Students were warned about test deadlines, and that it is a must to have taken the S.A.T. Test or the ACT preferably in the Jr. Year so as to get a 2nd chance.

Once they arrived in Pensacola, the high schoolers were allowed to board the USS Lexington which is an Aircraft Carrier used for training. They also viewed the Navy's survival museum.

New director says employment service will change

Kenneth L. Hays

The employment service division of the Iowa Employment Security Commission will be entirely restructured and redirected beginning immediately, according to its new director, Kenneth L. Hays.

Hays told his plans following the announcement of his appointment to the post of director by IESC Commission Chairman James T. Klein.

"Basically, the purpose of the employment service is to find jobs for workers and to provide workers for employers," Hays said. "To accomplish this in today's changing world, the employment service must change and change drastically.

"Our aim is to provide services to every Iowan in the state, not just those in the vicinity of one of our present 34 employment service offices. We'll reach out, find the unemployed and place them in jobs."

Links gives $22,000 to sickle cell research

The Links, Inc., a national women's organization, presented $22,979 to Meharry Medical College, Nashville, to be used for sickle cell disease research and training of physicians in this field. Dr. Lloyd C. Elam, college President, announced. The association contributed an equal sum to Howard University, Washington, D.C. for the same purpose. Eighty-five per cent of the Black doctors practicing in this country are trained in these two institutions.

The Links adopted the fields of education and health as top priorities for the 1970's and presented $68,000 to the United Negro College Fund, which is composed of 40 predominantly Black colleges.

In making the contribution Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, national president, said, "The Links is very conscious of the fine national contribution which Meharry makes through its graduates who have achieved the highest levels in American life."

At the 18th National Assembly, held in New Orleans, The Links paid tribute to the college presidents and civic leaders who help support the institutions which were recognized, and work for general community betterment.

N.A.M.E.S. is the name of the game

Silas S. Ewing

On February 9, 1972, in New York City's Americana Hotel, a group of Black businessmen assembled and formed the National Association of Minority Employment Services (N.A.M.E.S.). This is a unique organization which is designed to implement change, and develop a new approach to minority employment programs.

The basic purpose of N.A.M.E.S. is to create a cooperative exchange program of minority applicants and others to work together toward a goal of filling positions in and industry with qualified candidates. Blacks are still being discriminated against at the upper and middle management levels more than at any other level of employment.

N.A.M.E.S. will address itself to the following areas: betterment of minorities in entering the country's industrial complex; identification of political and communication problems that plague the minority professional who has established himself with a firm.

Industry should no longer use the excuse that they cannot find qualified applicants. The members of N.A.M.E.S. are engaged in an applicant exchange program. The total number of applicants in the files of minority employment consultants is well over 250,000 white collar and professional applicants.

In order to promote constructive publicity regarding its members, the Association will create better understanding and cooperation among its members. To increase the efficiency for serving employers and employees, members will investigate and study industrial and economic conditions, and will maintain highest standards of ethical practices.

The members and officers of the Association make up an interesting group of Black entrepreneurs. All have demonstrated their ability to establish and maintain profitable businesses. It must be noted that this fact is not just "business as usual" for a Black enterprise.

On July 28, 1972, N.A.M.E.S. held a second meeting in St. Louis.

Missouri at the same time the National Urban League was in session. The Association's membership has now increased one third.

N.A.M.E.S. will move forward under the direction of Mr. J. Phillip Hatchett, President of Bronze Personnel Service in Greensboro, North Carolina. Assisting Mr. Hatchett is an elected executive board: Mr. Sam Watson, Vice President, Ebony Employment, 1103 Grand Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri.

Mr. Bruce Robinson, Board Member at Large, Bruce Daniels Associates, 10 Hill Street Suite 2A, Hallmark House, Newark, New Jersey.

In the coming year, N.A.M.E.S. will present conferences to inform the business community of methods and programs to alleviate some of the problems connected with minority recruitment. The Association will take a stand on issues that directly affect the minority business and the minority professional.

Charles Anderson: Plumber apprentice

was then referred to the Plumbers union to make application. He was turned down at that time. Subsequently he tried again in 1970 and again in 1971, with no more luck than he had in 1969. Finally in 1972, through a joint effort on the part of the Apprenticeship Information Center and the Apprentice Outreach Program, Charles was finally through the door.

This year with Charles' acceptance, he pushes the ever growing number of young blacks in the building and construction trades up even higher. There is still quite a disparity between blacks and whites in apprenticeship in terms of numbers, but things are beginning to change.

Most plumbers are employed by plumbing contractors in new building construction. A substantial number of plumbers work for plumbing contractors doing repair, alteration and modernization work. Others do maintenance work in industrial and commercial firms. Charles is currently working on a new construction site located just behind Slinder School on 28th and Center Street here in Des Moines.

Charles' story is one of persistence personified. In 1969 he was contacted by members of the Apprenticeship Information Center for the first time, and Sargeant Shriver addressed the closing session of the convention Friday morning. Mr. Shriver stated "It is because of your valuable contribution on the health team that I am so honored to have the opportunity to address you today."

"An Equal Opportunity Employer"

Nixon-A four year lesson

By Mayor Richard Hatcher, Gary, Indiana

In this continuing series of articles prepared exclusively for the National Black News Service, a Black Democrat tells why Black voters should cast their ballots for Democratic Presidential nominee George S. McGovern.

It has been four years since President Nixon took office—four years of frustration and disappointment for black Americans. In that time, we have seen our schools and our educational opportunities go from bad to worse.

We have seen decades of hard-fought advancement reversed almost overnight. All as a result of Nixon's total disregard for the desperate educational needs of our young America was not founded on the idea that only the wealthy should be entitled to a decent education, but Nixon has forgotten that. What is even more tragic is that he has forgotten blacks altogether.

He has robbed a whole generation of blacks of four very vital years—years which should have provided increased opportunities and improved educational facilities, but instead, provided only despair.

Nixon has not been subtle in his disregard for the plight of black Americans. He has vetoed three education appropriations bills which he felt were a waste of money. Is it a waste of money to provide adequate numbers of teachers and decent materials and facilities for our schools?

Nixon has made his views very clear: As long as white America is receiving a good education, there is no need to provide for anyone else. This is racism in its most blatant form.

Not only has Nixon failed to provide the urgently needed additional funds for education, he has systematically reduced the amount of money spent on it. His budget request for 1972 included a cut of $50 million from what was spent on elementary and secondary education last year.

He requested this cut with the complete knowledge that it would affect the children of Harlem and Watts, not the children of Scarsdale and Beverly Hills. He has cut the OEO budget to almost nothing. This practically eliminates projects like the Job Corps which aimed to training blacks for suitable jobs with advancement possibilities.

In short, Nixon has made inner city existence more unbearable than ever, and he has made it more difficult than ever before to escape from it. During the years of Kennedy and Johnson, new opportunities were opened up to black Americans, and an earnest effort was made to deal with educational injustice.

We could envisage a time when all children, of all races, would have an equal chance to learn and grow and succeed. A time when no race would be hopelessly wallowed up within the heart of decaying cities.

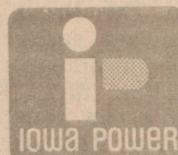

We have not lost that hope—Nixon has stolen it. Martin Luther King had a dream and Nixon was not part of it. We cannot and we must not stand for four more years of Republican domination.

CABLE TV

How will you vote?

In the November election, Des Moines voters are being asked to decide an important issue. Cable TV. Local ownership or absentee ownership? The two firms up for approval are: Hawkeye Cablevision of Des Moines; and Athena Communications... a firm whose base of operations is New York. Both firms' proposed service was judged equally adequate by a consultant hired by the Des Moines City Council. We asked a number of Des Moines people how they would vote on the Cable TV issues... and why? Here are their comments... decide for yourself.

Vote NO for ordinance 8430 (Athena) . . . Absentee Ownership

Vote YES for Hawkeye your local Cable TV Company

Hawkeye Cablevision, Inc.
345 Insurance Exchange Building
Des Moines, Iowa
Phone 283-2106

John Carr 2819 48th Street

I'd vote for Hawkeye because I know the people who operate it. They're good Des Moines people. I don't know, though, that I'd ever subscribe to it; I haven't made a study of it.

James Richards 6817 University

I'd be in favor of the Des Moines outfit. They're here, and can give us better service than people who aren't here. We can get at them with our complaints if we have any. I'd vote for Hawkeye.

Chester Swinnie 1192 12th

I'd vote for the local group. Why go for somebody who's out of town? Keep the money in Des Moines. I don't know anyone in either of the groups. Don't know that I'd subscribe, but I'm going to vote for Hawkeye anyway.

Linda Speed 1643 E. 13th Street

I signed a petition for Hawkeye. I wonder how informed the average person, the public, really is. I consider myself an average person—I read the paper, and I really haven't read that much about it. I'll probably vote for Hawkeye and against Athena. I'd like to have somebody local be responsible for Cable TV.

Harry L. DeCarlo 4124 E. 9th

I know very little about the issue. I feel that if Hawkeye can do as good a job as the people from New York, they should have it. Because they're local. Keep the money in Des Moines.

Janice Corless 4008-77th

I live in Urbandale. We've already agreed to have Cable TV in Urbandale and the Cable TV company is Hawkeye. I think Des Moines people would benefit if they had a Des Moines firm serving them... more local control. I think that people should support the people in their own community first about anything that would affect their own community.

George Holloway 446 S.E. Leland

I'm going to vote for Hawkeye simply because I own a few shares in it. The council... from the Governor on down, in this state, always talks about local ownership and control. I don't understand the way the city council voted. It just doesn't make any sense. I'm one of six hundred and some people here in Des Moines who own shares in Hawkeye... and I think local business should be given the chance to succeed.

Lynn White 2821 Hull

Well, I think we should keep our money in the community. I'd like to see Hawkeye Cablevision get the franchise. If everything else is equal, and both firms meet the requirements, I think it should be kept locally. I'm in favor of good Cable TV.

THIS YEAR ON HER TRIP HOME TO JAMAICA, NAOMI BRYANT (MRS. JOHN W.) WAS accompanied by Clara Bayles (Mrs. Clifford). They rode a 747 (the big Jumbo Jet) to Miami. Both described the plane as luxurious and the music most lovely, and the meal delightful. The flight was so easy, so smooth, one scarcely realizes one is up in the air!

THEIR CHANGE TO AIR JAMAICA was the beginning of Jamaica. The scene is set as they come aboard: as you enter, the Jamaican music is being played. Jamaican punch is served. A Jamaican newspaper other souvenirs are placed in your hands. Finally the stewardesses appear in a style show! All of this as they wing their way to Kingston, Jamaica! ARRIVING AT KINGSTON, they were met by Mrs. Bryant's sister, Mrs. Clara Parry, of The Bronx, who had gone over earlier, and who was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Elaine Greenland's new home, in a new addition. Ellston's Flat, a very pretty home located near the beautiful, large campus of West India University.

AT THE END OF THE FIRST WEEK, Mrs. Bryant went to the country to visit her mother other relatives, who reside at St. Mary's, near the resort town, Ochos Rios, with its luxurious ocean front hotels and shopping areas and other tourist interests. Mrs. Bayles accompanied Mrs. Bryant for the first day. The party went swimming near Ochos Rios at Puerto Seco Beach in the Caribbean Sea. Mrs. Bayles returned to Kingston and stayed at the Flamingo Hotel for the balance of that week.

HOME TO MRS. BRYANT, is her mother, Mrs. Ada Parry, a beautiful, active 92 year old, surrounded by loving family consisting of two identical sons and their families made up of scores of nieces and nephews. Mrs. Parry heads a beautiful new home designed by her and built by her sons, who hired what help they needed. The family dwells on family property. The father, now deceased, was Justice of the Peace and Mrs. Parry was District Nurse.

MRS. BAYLES WAS TAKEN INTO this enormous gathering becoming one of them. The familyland, many, many acres, produces bananas, coconuts, pineapple, coffee, cocoa, timber, cedar, some fenced off for pasture, oranges, grapefruit, corn, yams (not sweet potatoes but much like Irish potatoes), they have sweet potatoes, pumpkins, beans, red kidney beans, mangoes, neeherries, starapples and pawpaws. Many more fruits and vegetables are produced by the hands of this family. They stick together, each one working in behalf of the other. Mother Parry hasn't a care in the world, only the center of a large, loving multitude.

MISS DAPHNE HAY, A NIECE, OPERATES A GIFT SHOP. The woven bags she first buys, then decorates, so that much of the work on gifts is by her own hands. Her shop is filled to overflowing with beautiful things. So when the two women went shopping, they were still in the family! The colorful beads come from plantations of seeds sewn just for the beads. The beads are gathered, processed and dyed and the women string them.

MRS. BRYANT'S FAMILY sets the tone of freedom. Take Mrs. Ada Parry, her identical twin sons, Levi and Gad Parry; two daughters Mrs. Dorcas Byfield, Mrs. Repursha Hay and Mrs. Clara Parry and their families and their self-sufficiency! They are a community in and of themselves! Multiply such people and you can see what Kingston must be like. Predominantly black it is a busy, large bustling city. It has been free for the past ten years, out from under British domination. 1969 census figures estimate a population of 1,861,300 predominantly Blacks, but also some Europeans, Chinese, Indians and persons of mixed races.

AT THE END OF THE FIRST WEEK, we have Mrs. Bryant and her sister in the country with Mrs. Parry and the families. The two sisters did such things as planting flowers around the trees and any other such prettying up as they thought of. The three women visited to their hearts' content and worked themselves to the bone with such joy and happiness.

BACK IN KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Clara Bayles was being just that, "Clara". She did much sightseeing, picture-taking and tape recording of The music, sounds, and voices of Jamaica, visited the straw market. This captured her interest: the straws made by the natives, clothing and many other artifacts that interest tourists.

THROUGH MRS. BRYANT AND MRS. CLARA PARRY, she had met a Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shepherd. Mrs. Shepherd has worked at the Governor - General's palace for the past 28 years. This couple took her on several tours and had her to dinner. They showed her the Governor's mansion, formal flower gardens and other beautiful flower gardens, and the chair which the Queen of England uses on her visits there. This couple escorted Mrs. Bryant and Clara to the airport for their return trip.

THE ECONOMY WAS OBSERVED from the angle of the small native shops, the hand-pushed two wheel carts to the distinguished appearing business man driving a Mercedes Benz, who lunched at The Flamingo. AT THE END OF THE SECOND WEEK, Mrs. Bayles enjoyed accompanying Mrs. Bryant's niece, Elaine, and her three year old daughter, Nicola, to St. Mary's to pick up Mrs. Bryant and her sister, Mrs. Parry. She observed the beauty of the countryside, the tall, lush green mountains along part of the way. The beauty of the flowering bouganvillea trees, and the poinciana trees and the hibiscus flowers all lent their beauty to the scene enjoyed by the visitor.

BACK IN TOWN, the women shopped, buying souvenirs for home. Mrs. Bayles enjoyed some immensely delicious native dishes in the home of Mrs. Elaine Greenland. There was salt fish and ackee, breadfruit, mangoes, pawpaws, grapefruits, cold fish call "soul fish". It is an imported product cooked up with breadfruit, a tree brought there by Sir Walter Riley. Rice and red beans is a popular dish, very spicy. Another native dish is plantin, also an African dish.

FOREST AVENUE COGIC CHURCH NEWS

We had representatives of all 3 jurisdictions of Iowa in our State Convocation. And again we would like to mention that our meeting was very successful financially, spiritually, and in attendance. The Mayor had accepted an invitation to our meeting however due to a tragic accident in Chicago involving a member of his family, he had to fly there instead. Therefore, Mr. Terry Smith was asked to come in his place.

The selection that Sister Brandon sang on last Sunday which was, "Don't Drive Your Mother Away" was very inspiring.

And The Civil Rights Act Of 1964

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE
TWENTY WEST FORTIETH STREET • NEW YORK, N. Y. 10019

The Honorable Jack Miller
Senate Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Miller:

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the general Negro public and the millions of friends of the civil rights cause thank you for your vote June 10 to invoke the cloture rule by a vote of 71-29 to end the 74-day Senate debate on the civil rights bill.

The 27 Republican Senators once more echoed Abraham Lincoln and the 44 Democratic Senators upheld the finest tradition of their party. This was an historic action which was taken only after all opponents of this legislation had been given much more than ample time to state their views. Continuation would have constituted a prima facie case of pure obstruction and would have stultified the whole Senate.

We have, naturally, a deep satisfaction, shared, we are certain, by many proud Americans, that the June 10 vote was taken on a human rights issue whose resolution has plagued the conscience of our nation as long as we have been a nation and especially so in the past one hundred years.

We look forward now to the enactment shortly of a civil rights bill of meaning and strength.

Very sincerely yours,
Roy Wilkins
Executive Secretary

Leadership Conference
JUNE 25, 1964
THE HONORABLE JACK MILLER
SENATE OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON 25, D C
DEAR MR MILLER:
YOUR VOTE TOGETHER WITH THOSE OF YOUR MIDWESTERN COLLEAGUES IN THE SENATE WAS THE SINE QUA NON FOR PASSAGE OF AN EFFECTIVE CIVIL RIGHTS ACT. YOU HAVE EARNED THE SINCERE GRATITUDE OF FREEDOM LOVING PEOPLE THE WORLD OVER. I ADD TO THEIRS MY SINCERE AND HEARTFELT THANKS.
SINCERELY YOURS,

Your Senior Iowa Republican Senator, Jack Miller, was there on the Senate floor when his votes were needed; and he also voted against the many crippling amendments which were offered. YOUR VOTE NOVEMBER 7 WILL BE APPRECIATED.

Independents for Miller, Maurice Stark, Fort Dodge, Co-chairman.

Sports Then

With Allen Ashby

October 19, 1972

I may get my all star football team of the period from 1940 to 1960 together yet. I let it be known that I was having difficulty with this team because of the advent of the two platoon system. Well, a guy is going to go over the stuff with me and since he played in that era, he knows or has heard about several of the players on both the defensive and offensive teams. It won't be his selection only insofar as that he will probably furnish me with some names, and I shall decide who goes where. We talked about all star backfields, and we both wondered if the backfield that we had in the thirties could do much with that backfield of the later times. Certainly the later guys were bigger, but probably not any faster. The lines were probably bigger, although I think that Bob Webb, Paul Thomas, and James Allen could have played with anybody. So could Jess Hill, Lawrence Redrick, and Al Thomas. Who can say which would be the better team? Just wait till I come up with this last outfit. If I had known how hard this would be, I don't think I would have tackled the job.

Now basketball is coming around the corner. For years there weren't too many black basketball stars around. Among the early ones were Kenneth Palmer at East, Jack Howard, James Allen and Scotty Rowland of North. This Rowland fellow was quite a versatile athlete. Short as he was, he was a good low hurdler, and scored points for his school in the event. The he was a foot baller who was one of the best in his time. Then he was an excellent swimmer at a time when black kids didn't get too much swimming instruction, and a pretty good boxer. Allen was a shot putter in track, and made his share of points with the big ball, and could run if he had to. He was good enough as a pitcher to rate a chance with the Kansas City Monarchs. I heard that he could have made the team, but he couldn't handle the lack of support that he got from the veterans something every rookie had to contend with. Chet Brewer had that same lack of support, but he wouldn't let it get to him.

Our first basketball for a lot of us was in a Sunday school league organized by the old Crocker Street branch YMCA. I think this may have made it difficult for us to get good teams for a while. The referees sent to us from the central Y used to think that we liked to play rough, so they called very few fouls. Our games resembled indoor football games. Very few of us got to know the rules, and when we went downtown to play in a tournament, we were so rough that we usually lost our best men on fouls almost before the game started. Well, the secretary of the Crocker Y got mad, and began to referee the games himself. He studied a rule book and called fouls as he saw them, and then he missed a lot of them, but it wasn't intentionally. From then on the caliber of our basketball picked up and with a few of us getting to play on the high school teams, we had some pretty fair teams, and were able to make decent showings. But only in the junior meets. Our seniors had trouble. We played all season with what we had, and the other fellows would get the cream of the college and high school stars for the post season meets, and we had trouble getting past these vastly improved teams that we had beaten in the regular season.

Our first semi-pro team of any consequence was called the Crocker Y Big Five, although we had ten players and platooned them. That system plus the fact that our fellows were in pretty good shape let us beat a lot of good teams in the final minutes of a lot of games. We would play teams by quarters, substituting a whole team at once, and wore down some good teams. Sometimes we got over matched like the time the Jewish Community Center team came up with a fast break and scored all the points in the world before we knew we were in the game, and the time when a fellow brought over the Drake University varsity team intact on us, and we lost in the final seconds of an exciting game. It would have probably been better if we had got crushed, because that close finish triggered a small riot, and things got pretty hot. First time I ever saw a basketball crowd go nuts, but it wasn't the last time. Yes, we had fun in those days, and played sore basketball.

I am still struggling with my all-star team of players from 1940 to 1960. I didn't know all of the players during that period and since there were two platoons, offense and defense, the defensive players didn't get much space. So I'll have to take another week to get my facts together, and then I will probably leave out some good men. Could sure use some help now.

Since the football team is on the shelf for a week, I can tell about another happening, even if it is a bit out of season. Irv Kawarsky who is chairman of the Iowa softball Hall of Fame Committee, called to tell me that the group had elected Frank Massey and Bob Vandevere to the Hall. Bob was one of the first to be selected some time ago, but nobody could locate him. He was a star at whatever he played, football, basketball or baseball, and fellows who knee him say he was a fine wrestler. He was just about the fastest human I ever saw who didn't run at the Drake Relays. I don't recall that he was ever timed for any distance. He might have been in a track meet at the old Crocker "Y". But Bob beat a collection of college and high school stars so badly that he nearly walked the last ten yards of a two twenty, and won the hundred by at least five yards. Somebody has given me an address for him. It is Mt. Siani Hospital, Room 525, Minneapolis, Minnesota. I haven't heard how sick the guy is, or what his problem is, but I intend to see that he gets a copy of this article. Might cheer him up. Certainly it won't do any harm.

Frank Massey was the spirit behind the old Hottentot softball team. Frank wasn't the greatest third baseman who ever played the position, nor was he the greatest hitter. But Frank was the guy without whom the team was nothing. He kept everybody on their toes, and I always said that he didn't have enough sense to know when he was beaten. You could be ten runs ahead of Frank, and he would still be trying to find some way to get back into the game, and if you didn't watch yourself, he would do just that. He was valuable to the club as an organizer, and was the fellow who just would not let the team give up. Frank always refused to accept defeat, and just too many times pulled games out by sheer hustle and holler. I was glad to see him recognized for his talent.

I was reminded last week that there was quite a number of black football stars in the local high schools before 1920. Of course I knew about that gang from North High, but it seems that there were others. Charley Howard was an end at East High before going to Drake. Then there were the Lewis brothers, Homer and Jim. Cecil Stone, and my older brother, Lucius. I may be wrong on this, but I think Lucius was the first black all-stater on the high school teams in Iowa. If there was anyone before him, I am sure someone will let me know.

Then there was Tad Fredericks of North who came along just behind Curt Morton and that gang. Fredericks was a fine back and an excellent kicker in a day when kicking was important.

Jim Crow makes comeback

Black separatism is a poison distilled from equal parts of traditional white racism and a new, virulent black nationalism. Self-segregation by blacks is so widespread that it now represents as grave a threat to American society as white-imposed segregation has in the past.

These are the views of a pair of distinguished journalists - one black, the other white - who have surveyed the bleak racial scene in America and have concluded that the two races "are as far apart as they have been in half a century."

The worrisome conclusion almost everywhere is that the old American dream of integration is dead," write former USIA director Carl Rowan, who is black, and his white collaborator, David Mazie, in an article in the November issue of the Reader's Digest.

One major component of the tragic situation is black disillusionment as the "glowing promises" of the 1950's and '60's have turned to dust. Instead of equal opportunity, what blacks have found is a ten percent unemployment rate, one black in three mired in poverty, hundreds of thousands on welfare, and "normal" family income just 60 percent that of "normal" white families.

But if white society has failed to keep its promises, black society has also failed to take full advantage of opportunities that do exist. For example, there were 680,000 blacks in U.S.

colleges in 1971 - a 200 percent increase from a decade earlier. Yet for thousands of these students, college means self-imposed segregation and intellectual copping-out in "sop courses about black history," write Mazie and Rowan.

"For 95 percent of the blacks in college, success and genuine pride will be achieved only in competition with the white majority," the authors write.

Perhaps surprisingly, the article gives high marks to the military for its attempts - far ahead of those in civilian sectors - to promote true equality. Although blacks comprise only 3.8 percent of the Army's officer corps, they now make up 10.8 percent of the total enrollment in ROTC, which is the Army's main source of newly commissioned officers.

If the poisonous polarization is to be halted, the authors say, both blacks and whites must take strong action. White society must work harder to offer "the training, the promotions, the status that will permit minority youths to believe that they are not just in this society, but part of it." And black leaders should speak out more boldly about "the self-defeating aspects of blind anger and self-exclusion" that has permeated so much of black society.

True integration of American society is still possible, the authors believe - but it is getting late.

McKissick forming 2-party system unit

By National Black News Service

NEW YORK—(NBNS)—Saying that the Democratic Party has made "some accomplishments" for blacks but "has done as much as it can do at this time," Floyd McKissick, former director of the Congress of Racial Equality, has announced that he has formed a new Republican-oriented group, the National Committee for a Two-Party System.

McKissick, a supporter of President Nixon, said Blacks, who have traditionally voted Democratic, "should belong to both political parties rather than deal with 50 percent of the system."

"Now is the time to go in and do something about the Republican Party," he said. "I'm not happy about everything it's done, but we can't change it without getting in and fighting to change it."

The former CORE director said he changed his party affiliation from Democratic to Republican last June, denying publicized reports that he is supporting Nixon because of Federal funding for his Soul City, N.C.

CARMICHAEL SAYS LITTLE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN NIXON, MCGOVERN

WASHINGTON—(NBNS)—Stokely Carmichael told an overflow crowd at Howard University last week that there is really little difference between the two major party candidates for the Presidency.

"McGovern is fighting Nixon over tactics, not principles. They both believe in the same principles; both are thoroughbred capitalists," he commented.

A naturalized citizen of Guinea, West Africa, Carmichael said he is intent on a plan to "destroy imperialism. As long as imperialism exists our

Romney says: Need long range plans for cities

Putting out "fires" is not enough to meet the problems of cities, HUD Secretary George Romney has declared.

Addressing the Cornell University faculty and student body in Ithaca, N.Y., Mr. Romney said that this Nation cannot afford billion dollar mistakes in public spending on the basic physical structure of the Nation's metropolitan areas.

We must organize "for the truly significant effort—the long-range effort of setting goals, determining the major challenges down the road, and ordering systematic steps to meet them."

"We are locking ourselves into concrete for the next 30 to 40 years as we commit ourselves into highway grids, mass transit, sewage and waste disposal systems, housing, schools, and provision for clear water and adequate energy."

"On the one hand we need long-range plans, and on the other we need continuous flexibility to be responsive to new human preferences and innovation."

"Up to this time, Americans have emphasized individualism and personal reward for contribution. These are still important, indispensable values. But they have to be tied together in a new method of community cooperation of a massive scale."

The Secretary pointed out that it is becoming clear that the country is dealing with large-scale complex systems—"complex beyond our present reach of knowledge because they involve the decision-processes of millions of unpredictable minds and wills."

He said it is desirable that our free society "places definite limits on the degree of coercion public bodies may place on individual choice."

"We are committed to the voluntary social process and the free market economic process—the competition of different methods and products to test the better way," Romney declared.

"At the same time we must make the long-range decisions in the field of highway and sewer construction, mass transit, water purification, communications technology, energy production location and distribution—and similar types of physical structures that must stay people will be held in bondage."

He told the crowd of students and visitors that "electoral politics is not the answer" for blacks to solve the racial problem in America.

"America has already lost the war in Vietnam, Kissinger and Nixon just don't know how to tell the people," he said.

He also called the state of Israel "immoral, illegal, and unjust," and he pledged to "fight it with every breath in my body."

Carmichael also commented on an assortment of other subjects during the 90-minute speech. At one point, he was handed a note that there was a bomb in the auditorium, but he replied, "They can't bomb us, and even if they bomb us, they can't stop the march of our people." No one left the auditorium.

where they are and be useful and efficient for at least 30 to 40 years."

NATIONAL BUSINESS LEAGUE COMMITTEE ENDORSES PRESIDENT

DALLAS—(NBNS)—An ad hoc committee of the influential National Business League has endorsed the President, breaking a 72-year tradition of staying out of Presidential politics.

"History has not recorded any greater interest on the part of any President in the development of minority business enterprise in this nation than you have shown," the group said in a telegram to the President.

In a prepared statement, the group said that "President Nixon in 1968 made it clear that minorities would never be free until they became a viable part of the economic mainstream of America—not just as consumers, but as producers—not just as employees, but as employers."

RNA MEMBERS GIVEN FIVE-YEAR TERMS ON PISTOL CHARGE

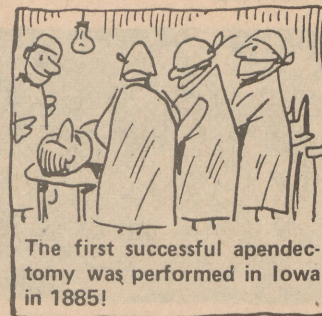

MIAMI—(NBNS)—Two members of the Republic of New Africa, who were arrested outside Sen. George McGovern's hotel during the July Democratic National Convention, have been sentenced to five year terms in prison for carrying a concealed weapon.

Malik Sonebeyatta, 32 and Ahmed Obatemi, 33, shouted their sentences were a "travesty of justice" as they were led from the courtroom of Criminal Court Judge Murray Goodman.

They were stopped by security officers outside the hotel McGovern was staying in during the convention, but they claimed they were there only to distribute leaflets on their movement. Officers searched their nearby car and found the pistols under the front seat.
