C.A.C. in D.M. Files Injunction to Prevent Harrassment of It's Members In Wake of Hearings

The Community Action Committee announced this week that the transcripts and Blue Ribbon Panel recommendations from the October 31st hearings are nearly complete. The completed document will contain some 400 pages of testimony and recommendations. The Legal Committee of the C.A.C. estimates that the task will be complete by Friday, November 10th.

The C.A.C. also announced the filing this week of an injunction in District Court. That injunction was filed on behalf of the members of the Committee, 2 of whom have been subjected to apparent harrassment by police. The injunction names Robert Davis, Janet Turner and other members of the Community Action Committee as Plaintiffs and Wendell Nichols as Chief of Police and Tom Chenoweth as City Manager, both of the city of Des Moines, Iowa, as Defendants. It reads:

"This is a civil action for injunctive relief. It arises under the Constitution of the United States, including Article VI, the First Amendment, the Fourth Amendment and the Fourteenth Amendment, and the laws of the United States, including 42 U.S.C. SS 1983 and 1985. The injunctive relief requested is to enjoin the defendants and their employees and agents from intimidating, harassing and depriving the plaintiffs of the full enjoyment of their rights of freedom of speech, the right to peacefully assemble and to petition their government for a redress of grievances, and for the equal protection of the laws.

Commission says: Half of U.S. poor are hungry

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — Although Federal spending for food programs has increased from $687 million to $4.3 billion during the last five years, about half the nation's poor remain hungry, a citizens' group on malnutrition disclosed last week.

The Citizens' Board of Inquiry into Hunger and Malnutrition gave credit for substantial anti-hunger gains to both Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern and his Senate nutrition subcommittee and to the Nixon Administration, but criticized the Agriculture Department—which the board said is cost conscious—for "the most bitter and exhausting kind of bureaucratic in-fighting."

Last June, the department returned some $418 million in excess of 10 per cent of the budget for all food programs—in unspent food assistance monies to the Treasury Department.

The board, whose members consist of doctors, lawyers, education and foundation officials, focused national attention on the plight of this nation's poor in 1967 and 1968.

In its new report, "Hunger U.S.A. Revisited," which will be published soon, the board recommends that the "Hunger gap" be closed by giving cash allowances to the poor and seems to endorse a guaranteed annual income for families below the current federal poverty level of $4,000 for a family of four.

(The Administration's family assistance plan, which died in the Senate last month, called for a figure of $2,400, while welfare rights groups have said that any amount less than $6,500 would be insufficient.)

The board also noted that while federal spending has increased six-fold, 43 per cent of this country's 26 million poor receive absolutely no federal aid and about 12 per cent receive less than recommended dietary allowances.

John Kramer, director of the National Council on Hunger, who prepared an analysis for the board, said the major "hunger gaps" occur in the food stamp program which allows persons to buy food with coupons purchased at nominal costs. Kramer said that 11.8 million persons are now participating in this program, 3 million others receive food parcels instead of coupons, and 11 million others are not covered by any federal food programs.

However, he added, students in 18,000 schools across the country are unable to participate due to the lack of kitchen equipment—funds for which the Administration has refused to make available.

48 Blacks arrested 10 white mostly teens

In the following article we print portions of notarized statements made by Black students in Rock Island, Illinois. These statements can be substantiated by other witnesses. Also we believe the utterances of these youngsters to be fact. We are also withholding as many names as possible to avoid further harrassment of individuals involved.

On Friday, October 6th, Rock Island High was playing football against United Township High.

Here are some eyewitness reports from that evening. A girl: "I was standing above the concession stand talking to Sambo (Robert Colvins) and I left to get some food. When I got down to the concession stand I saw Carmen quick talking with the Policemen and I listened to what he was saying.....I went to tell Sambo that the Police were coming up for him. Before I got there they had already grabbed him by his collar and he asked them to let him go because he could walk."

They Hit Sambo Again

They let him go until they got him to the top of the stairs. They pushed him down the stairs and started jumping on him. Then Charles told the Police not to beat him that way or they would have to hit him too. They hit Sambo again and that when Charles grabbed the Police and that's when everyone tried to stop the Police...to get them off Sambo. I went to find Ike. I was then grabbed by Officer Kruege. He told me to go sit down. I told him I was looking for my father. He said he's probably over there sitting down like a good little nigger."

Another student speaks this time a boy.

"I was sitting inside the stadium with some friends of mine when one of my friends said that the cops were down on the steps beating up my cousin. So I went down the steps and saw the Police beating on Robert and Charles. I went down and tried to get them off the two. Robert and Charles, the police began spraying mace and some of it got into my eyes and I couldn't see. Someone took me up the steps and when I was able to see I asked somebody where Robert and Charles were? They said the cops had taken them down to the station. I started walking around to see what was happening. A Policeman asked me where was I going and I kept on walking. I didn't stop because I was worried about what they did to my cousins, and another reason I didn't say anything is because if I left I didn't have to go to the cop. He grabbed me and jerked me back toward him and asked me again, I told him to let me go because I didn't need anyone to hold me, that I was capable of standing up on my own. Then the cops ran down the steps and grabbed me and took me on the car. When I got down to the station they put me in some kind of room. Everyone else had gotten out but me and Luther. Some Policemen come into the room I was in and said you niggers really did it tonight and started hitting me."

Yet Another Student Also A Boy

"Around 9:30 p.m. at Rock Island Public School Stadium, my mother told me if anything ever starts, a fight or something, for me to come home. After a few fights had taken place, I was on my way home toward the east side of the stadium. In the tunnel, a policeman pushed me and hit me in the stomach and sent me back in the stadium to watch the game. So I did, to avoid trouble."

Another girl talks about another incident that occurred the following week:

On the way home we turned around and saw a lot of people running across the street and then a police car came around the corner real fast and then a lot of policemen jumped out of the car and started chasing them with their nite sticks so we got down to the car on 11th Street and 10th Avenue so they told us not to go through the car lot so one policeman asked me did I go through the car lot every day. He told me I wouldn't be walking down it tonight, so we got to the corner down by my house. About 3 police cars came by and stopped. They told Howard to stop and don't run. He stopped and the policemen searched him. Then this police car came down the street and stopped, then a policeman threw him against the car and then threw him in the police car. Then this girl, Luther's girl, was crying and screaming cause she was scared. The police said to take her down town also Luther said leave her alone, so they took him downtown. They told us that they give us five minutes to get home or they would take us all in.

Run Stevie, Run

One member of the band was reported to have been beaten as he left the dressing room after the game. A witness explains:

"I was standing outside the stadium talking to Carmen, when everybody was shouting 'Run Stevie run' then I told Carmen that I would be right back. I went to see about Steve at the gate. I ran over and pulled a policeman off Steve, he (police) said if I didn't get back, he was going to hit me. Then I said that 'Man, you didn't have to hit Steve no more he's just a kid.' Then the policeman said 'Shut up!' Then I ran to the gate, while all the Black kids were running out the gate. Then I stopped and told everyone to get back, then one of the policeman told the others to catch the one in the Black jacket. Then the girls told me to run and I said 'I ain't running no damn where,' then the police took me to the station."

Two Boys Attacked By 6 Policemen

As recently as last week Black youngsters were still being accosted and roughed up by police on the streets according to reports. An incident was reported to the Bystander by 3 separate sources and all accounts were the same. That incident involved 2 Black teenagers who were chased by two off-duty policemen. According to the reports the police had just come out of a bar and appeared to be 'high'. They chased the two boys into a blind alley and summoned 4 on-duty patrolmen. They (police) accused the boys of having had relations with white girls. The condition of the boys is unknown as a severe beating was administered by the six men. We realize that in the heat of excitement reports of such vicious brutality may have been inaccurate. But all of the above incidents have been corroborated by more than 1 credible witness.

GHANA URGES SELF RELIANCE

ACCRA — (NBNS) — Ghana's military government is seeking to rally the people behind its "self reliance" program of economic austerity measures. The 10-man ruling National Liberation Council which seized power last January has been trying to cope with the problem created by the lack of foreign exchange resulting from low prices for cocoa, Ghana's chief export.

Apprentice Bricklayer: Basil Townes

Basil Townes

The Nation's economic strength depends to a great extent on the initiative and competence of its skilled work force.

Basil Townes is one such skilled worker. Now well into his fourth year as an apprentice bricklayer, he will graduate to journeyman status in March of 1973. In addition to earning journeyman pay, this will also mean that Basil has mastered the skills of his trade, and thus, joins an elite group of young black men who have become masters of their craft.

Basil was a red cap at the Des Moines Airport when he was first contacted about the bricklayer's apprenticeship program by members of the Apprenticeship Information Center. Having the right mental and physical attributes to make a good prospect for their program, he was then referred to their Joint Apprenticeship Committee for consideration. After being accepted as an apprentice he was then sent to their pre-apprenticeship school which was held at Area XI Community College. After successfully completing this 7 week course, his first job assignment as an apprentice was in helping to build the new annex at his former place of employment, the Des Moines Municipal Airport.

Mrs. Kelso

A CHAT WITH MRS. JOBURNESS KELSO, as we looked among her momentos of long, long ago, provided some newsworthy facts. You see, Mrs. Kelso has invested more than fifty years in St. Paul A.M.E.'s music department.

AT THE TIME OF THE 1971 dedication of the new St. Paul A.M.E. Church, Mrs. Kelso was one of honored guests at a banquet and given a plaque honoring her more than fifty years of musical service. She is still a member of the choir, according to G. B. Tucker, choir president. Mr. Tucker, who has served two previous terms of office, states that at no time has there been any question as to Mrs. Kelso's attendance at her post. She was never absent except for illness. Always at her post.

READ A PROGRAM describing The Dramatic Recital by Miss Jennie Watts Brown, held Tuesday, April 27, 1915, under the auspices of Callanan Industrial Club and Richard Allen Aid Society. Mentioned also was Miss Joburness Redmond.

READ A PROGRAM OF THE GOLDEN JUBILEE CELEBRATION 1872-1922, 50th Anniversary observed in a service from October 1st to the 9th, 1922, when Pastor Wm. H. Griffin, D.D. asked each pastor to lay a golden offering on the table at the Wednesday, October 4, Golden Jubilee Prayer and Praise Service. Joburness was there in the days of gold money!!!

JOBURNESS WAS A REGULAR for many years in Drake University's production, "The Messiah". HEAVEN BOUND was a renown production by Mrs. Kelso. It was given many times. Thousands came from every corner of the state. Many were turned away on some occasions. In this particular program, Mr. George Brewer, played the part of the devil, a role played many times by Mr. Colen Scales. Mr. G. B. Tucker played the rich man. People clamored to take part and to view this moving play. Mrs. Kelso has the desire to produce it still again.

OUTSIDE BUSINESS SOUGHT her talents just as with today's young women. Mrs. Kelso was sought to portray "Aunt Jemima." She found this role lucrative and provided an opportunity to travel all over Iowa. Some dates disclosed regarding these ventures were September 9, 1954, Feb. 6, 1956 and Feb. 22, 1956. There were countless other dates. One bit of correspondence from the Quaker Oats Company J. E. Bennett, Manager, Cedar Rapids Field Sales Office read "We are always proud and happy to have you representing our good Company in retail grocery outlets. It is my sincere wish that you have a rapid recovery and I will appreciate it very much if you will keep us informed as to developments. If there is anything any of us can do, kindly let us know. Sincerely.....This note concerned an illness. Other writings were equally gracious, setting appearance dates.

AS AUNT JEMIMA, Joburness appeared in a news of interview type program; she could answer questions simply by reading right off the ticket as to where the event was to be held, the dates, the price of the tickets. What would be served-Aunt Jemima's pancakes, then mentioning the brands of orange juice, syrup, sausage, butter, milk, coffee, etc. Where the proceeds would go: for underprivileged and youth activity work. How long she had been doing this type of work? Why for as long as she would care to remember? If asked if she were the original Aunt Jemima, the accepted answer would be the original Aunt Jemima would be over 100 years old and naturally died some years ago. In an April 8, 1957 appearance, the proceeds went to the Fort Dodge Kiwanis Club. This concludes a private look into another side of Mrs. Kelso's personal life.

MRS. JOBURNESS KELSO is the mother of Howard Redmond Kelso, who is married to the former Miss Madeline Ewing. The couple has three sons: Richard, Gayle and Kevin.

SUNDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 5, 1972. Goodbye to a Giant, a musical salute and a fond farewell to KRNT Theater featuring The Inn-Sound Singers, courtesy of the "Top of the Tower" Restaurant, Holiday Inn Downtown was given at the Drama Workshop under the direction of Paul H. Dieke and produced by L. K. Boutin. Glimpses into the past included reminiscences by two former Theater managers, visuals of the great performers who appeared there, and the music that made them famous. Music by the Inn-Sound Singers was fabulous. The evening was a most impressive goodbye!

GOT LOST THE OTHER SATURDAY NIGHT IN MAUDE ESTER WHITE'S PENTHOUSE! Found myself at last in the gracious company of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hayes! Julia (Mrs. Hayes) is unbelievably warm and friendly, sincerely so! She is a wife, who could spend her life being a homebody period.

OTHERS ON HAND on this occasion in Miss White's beautifully situated and fabulously furnished penthouse were Mrs. Clara Bayles, Mrs. Lillian Scales, Mr. William Spriggs and Mr. Baker Dixon.

DOUBLE SUPER-CHARGER - Frank McRae, former football star with the Chicago Bears and the Los Angeles Rams, has abandoned the gridiron for a career in motion pictures. Pictures at the left as a football threat, he presents an entirely different kind of threat in the role of Reed Youngblood, in American International's soon-to-be released action-drama, "Dillinger". McRae portrays the role of a condemned murderer, who in real life aided John Dillinger in his most spectacular escape. "Dillinger" is being filmed entirely on location in Oklahoma with Warren Oates in the title role.

Frank McRae, who will portray the role of Youngblood in American International's "Dillinger," started his football and acting careers simultaneously. He attended Tennessee State on a Football scholarship, majoring in speech and drama.

The tall, handsome athlete was a dramatic hit in his college productions of "Purle Victorious" and "Raisin in the Sun," and upon his graduation in 1966 was snapped up by the Chicago Bears with whom he remained for the ensuing three years. Although he made a good name for himself, alternating between defensive tackle and defensive end positions with equal facility, acting was always uppermost in his mind.

Consequently, when an opportunity came to play with the L.A. Rams, he welcomed it. "I wanted that position with Rams because they were closer to Hollywood," McRae unabashedly states.

He joined the Rams in 1969 and, until he left them in 1970, utilized every spare moment to improve his acting ability - studying at the famed Lee Strasberg School of Acting and with his mentor Lawrence Parks.

Now Frank McRae has turned in his football uniform for the varied wardrobe of the professional actor. With many television commercials to his credit, he has also been seen in NBC's "Mystery Movie-of-the-Week," "McMillan & Wife," and essayed the role of a bodyguard in MGM's "Cool Breeze."

Now in the role of Youngblood, a condemned black prisoner who allegedly aided John Dillinger in the notorious bank robber's most daring jail break, he faces the most challenging role of his embryonic career.

"Mastering this role," says the articulate McRae, "will help me gain some more yardage toward my goal of becoming a polished actor."

Hawkeye Star Cat Club Exhibits

The Hawkeye State Cat Club observed its Silver Anniversary November 4 and 5, 1972 at Hotel Fort Des Moines. The Club is affiliated with the Cat Fanciers' Association which has a present membership of 442 clubs including groups in Canada, Alaska, Japan and Hawaii. Hawkeye State Cat Club has members living in Cedar Rapids, Newton, Marshalltown and Marion.

The Club's purpose is to promote selective breeding, to improve the cat fancy, and to instruct and encourage better feeding, health and over-all care of our cats.

Bob Bradshaw, the sole black exhibitor noted, was again on hand. Bradshaw, a very young man, lives in Chicago, Illinois. This year he exhibited Russian Blues, two of which won second best champion and third best cat. Last year Bradshaw showed Wire Haired cats. He has four different kinds in his cattery: Russian Blue, Rex, American Short Hairs and Wire Hairs. He tends to breed exotic and unusual but nice cats.

Bradshaw stated that he comes every year to the shows because he enjoys the show and the people. It is one of the best areas for cats and people, he added with a chuckle. He is employed as chief technician in the X-ray Department of Northwest Hospital, Chicago, Illinois.

Miss Doris Leahy, of Des Moines, is Hawkeye State Club president.

questioning by his defense attorney Luke B. McKissack. He answered "No," when asked by McKissack if, while in Vietnam, he had any desire to kill any officers, wound any officers or scare any officers.

Smith again answered no when asked if he tried to set off a fragmentation bomb in Building 1102 at the Bienhoa base on March 15, 1971.

The young black soldier is accused of setting off the grenade in an attempt to kill Capt. Randall L. Rigby, his battery commander, and Sgt. Billy E. Willis, Second Lt. Richard E. Harlan, of Dallas, Texas, and First Lt. Thomas A. Dellwo, of Mechanicsville, N.Y., were killed in the blast.

In denying the accusation of intent to kill Rigby, Smith described him as "the best CO" the battery ever had, but that there was still room for improvement.

Of Captain Rigby, Smith said he was "gung-ho in non-combat activities" and kept the unit "busy with unnecessary work like beautifying the area for inspection."

Smith also said he "never had a really big fallout with First Sgt. Willis." He said the noncom was "liked by some of the people some of the time and disliked some of the time by some of the people. It depended on his mood."

The soldier denied he had told an Army investigator that a grenade pin found in his pocket after the blast had been "planted" on him.

"You're not going to pin this thing on me," is what Smith said he actually told the army investigator.

Smith's case is one of approximately 200 such "fragging" cases involving soldiers in Vietnam and West Germany during the past two years.

Some West Coast black activist groups have organized protest activities centered around Pvt. Smith's case, which is viewed as a bellwether by observers.

Poem

COUNT YOUR BLESSING
Let us count our blessing
Naming them one by one.
Life could be so beautiful
if we would take the time to stop and count our blessing.
We hurry through life so fast
we miss some of the blessing
Our precious Lord has intended for us.
So let us go a little slower and take time to count our blessing.
Sometimes we don't deserve
all the wonderful blessing
The Lord gives us.
So let us be grateful to God
And start counting our blessings.

Sports Then

With Allen Ashby

Well, here we go again. I still haven't been able to come up with the second half of that long ago promised all star football team. My problem is finding linemen and players who were on the defense during that period. When I talked to fellows who followed the high school teams then, they couldn't recall many of the fellows either. The backfield is simple. Where could you dig up a better backfield even now that John Estes, Paul DeVan, Jimmy Clark, and Chuck McQuerry? They would be tough to handle by most of the big high school teams today, because each fellow could do what had to be done, run, block, kick, pass, and could run the team if he had to. Estes was a quarterback by today's standards, even in the middle forties. McQuerry and DeVan could run around people, but would rather run over them. And Jimmy Clark was a fine all around back. Then there could have been another bunch headed by John Thomas of East. You could add Bobby Harris of Dowling, Naomis Ward of Tech and John Williams of East. There were several fellows who were either in the class with that bunch or right behind them, so if you can think of someone I left out, why, I didn't you send it to me when I asked for help. You would have to include the Taylor boys of Tech, the first of the Shade boys, and maybe some others I omitted. The linemen would have to include the Volineer boys, Jim and Leonard of East, Bill Bell, also of East, Harold Wolders and Nathaniel McNeal of North. John Brewer of East was an outstanding lineman then. Later came Levi McGuire at end from East. Then you can't think of anybody but Bill Cropp and Bruce McCraney of North, but there must have been some others. Most of the fellows I got referred to me played in the sixties. A guy I almost left out was Joe Howard of North, who might have been a good man at Iowa but for the war in 1941. There was Jay Neal of North, who was a fine guard, and wasn't too big. So I will put Levi McGuire and Joe Howard at ends, Jim Volineer and Bill Bell at tackles, John Brewer at center, Leonard Volineer and Jay Neal at guard, and let you place the rest of them where you want to. Maybe your team will be better than mine.

Each time I see the name of some of the old timers in the obituary column, I am tempted to write a story about the guy. The latest was French Brown. French was a member of what was one of the best known semipro baseball teams of its day; the old Buxton Wonders of the early 1900's. French played that game and was a better than average boxer. If there had been amateur boxing, I am sure French would have been one of the better ones. He wasn't too big, I think he was a middleweight, but he was tough, and it took a good man to handle him. But, do you know that this town of Buxton was a coal mining town not far from this city, and they had some of the finest black athletes around for years, until most of them came to Des Moines. An amusing feature of that was the fact that just about every fellow who played baseball and came from there would tell you that he was a star with the old Wonders. Why, if all the fellows who said they played for that team really did, they would have had to have a full fledged eight team league, and even that may not have been big enough to get them all in.

But French took his turn at bat with most of the fellows, and was a good infielder in spite of a limp. I think he boxed George Bourland in what was billed as an exhibition, but turned out to be the real thing. George was just too big and had too much ring savvy for Brown and I think he stopped him in about the fourth round. But he was one of the very few men who could say that, and French tackled them all, barring none, no matter how big they were.

There was a special breed of athletes in those days. They played all the games, baseball, football, basketball for fun. Boxed just to see who was the best, and nobody thought about making any money. If they got some, fine, but if they didn't nobody was hurt, because they were too busy telling about what they had done in the game. I have always had a silly daydream about old athletes meeting

U.N. DEBATES

AFRICAN COLONIALISM

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (NBNS)—The U.N. General Assembly has been urged to take stronger action to bring down the illegal white-minority regime in Southern Rhodesia and to free millions of other black Africans from colonial rule.

The chairman of the Committee of 24 on decolonization, Salim A. Salim of Tanzania, said at least 28 million people still are being deprived of self determination and independence in Africa by the Rhodesian regime, South Africa and Portugal.

The report of his committee said independence is "still far from early or peaceful realization" in the territories in southern Africa. Chairman Salim said all aid should be halted to colonial regimes and all necessary assistance should be given to African liberation movements.

somewhere in the great beyond where they can relive their youth and their glorious moments. Bet they move over for French Brown.
