BATON ROUGE, LA. — from the exchange of tear gas between police and students which the officers started.

The students have boycotted the campus since Oct. 31 in support of the Baton Rouge student protest over the administration of the campus. They also want a voice in the operation of the campus.

"Unless students return to class we shall recommend to the governor and the legislature that a study be made to determine a more effective utilization of the physical facilities on the campus," said Board President Enoch Nix.

At the same time, the state commission has now determined that the two students that were killed were killed by

Black Congressman, TV Newswoman Die in Plane Crash
By Michael D. Petit
National Black News Service

CHICAGO — (NBNS) — Black Congressman George W. Collins and Michelle Clark, first black woman newscaster for a major television network, were among the more than 40 persons killed when a United Air Lines jet crashed into a Chicago residential area December 8.

The crash occurred when the two-engine Boeing 737 failed to recover from a faulty landing approach to Chicago's Midway Airport.

The total number of casualties was uncertain as rescue workers searched through the wreckage of the plane and the rubble of six homes for broken and charred bodies.

Representative Collins (D-Ill.) was returning to Chicago from Washington to supervise the buying of toys for the annual children's Christmas party in the 24th Ward. Collins represented the ward as Alderman before his election to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1970.

Miss Clark, a native of Chicago, was returning home for the weekend from Washington where she has been anchorman on the CBS network's Morning News Show.

Prior to joining the CBS national news staff in September, 1971, Miss Clark was a general assignment reporter with the network's Chicago outlet, WBBM-TV. She was promoted to news correspondent last July when she was covering the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach. She also covered the Republican National Convention and several of the major presidential primaries.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Clark, and a brother, all of Chicago. Miss Clark was 29.

Rep. Collins, also a native of Chicago, is survived by his wife, Cardiss, and a son, Kevin. The 47-year-old Congressman graduated from Northwestern University in business law. He made his way up politically through the Cook County Democratic organization of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, from precinct captain in the 24th Ward in 1954, to election to the City Council in 1964, and to the Congress in 1970 to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Rep. Daniel J. Roman.

Collins bucked the Daley machine, however, when it sought to force him to step aside when redistricting merged his congressional district with that of Rep. Frank Annunzio. With the united support of the black community, he forced Annunzio to move into another district and won renomination by 6 to 1 and reelection by 8 to 1.

A relatively quiet member of the Congressional Black Caucus during his first year in Congress, Rep. Collins became increasingly active in his second year. As a veteran of World War II, he took a special interest in racial discrimination in the military services. He joined his fellow Chicago Congressman, Rep. Ralph Metcalfe, in a two-man caucus probe of conditions at military bases.

The life of an inmate— an essay

By MICHAEL RYAN
(Inmate Ft. Madison, Iowa)

A sane man enters into the scheme of prison life, first undergoing the shock of being with homosexuality in wide open general practice, men raping men, screams of rape falling on deaf ears. Then there is sadistic racist officials and guards and he becomes a color and a number, nothing else. There they are, the sadistic, degenerate inmates, thoroughly institutionalized, preying upon the new guy, especially the young ones.

He is then taken to his cell, his only refuge. It is a 6'x6'x9' hole in the wall. He is given tasteless unchanged meals of cold food, and forced to labor with no consideration whatsoever given.

Then he is allowed to go to the yard, where he is approached by other inmates for various reasons, and when he denies them he is threatened, and beaten. If he asks to be locked up for his own protection no consideration is given and he is told to fight back by the ignorant counselors. He is offered a choice of either totally irrelevant programs of primitive trades or hard labor. If he is locked up for his own protection he is told that it is his own fault and that the person responsible for the threats is not, and that the reason for the request is that he wants to be locked up because he refuses to work. And this is put in his report for the parole board to read.

He finds himself in a world of brute force, deprived of his loves, such as wife, children, family, parents, and friends. He loses his normal sex relationships, told when to eat, sleep, and wash. Totally devoid of human kindness and consideration, and all responsibilities in this environment.

His lawyer, paid by the state, has refused to present any facts to prove his innocence, witnesses are ignored and not even allowed to testify. And he is sentenced, the attorney is relaxing in the back of the court-room, after stating, "I have my money, I don't give a damn what happens to you." So this man loses 7 years of his life, he is deprived of his rights, constitutional and civil, and finally, as if for an encore, he is taken away from his first born child, a son only one month old.

Attorneys for the legal agencies use his body as a

New F.C.C. commissioner: More blacks in media

WASHINGTON — (NBNS) — The first black commissioner of the Federal Communications Commission thinks blacks should be given preferential treatment when application are considered for broadcast station licenses.

Hooks pointed out that the easiest way to accomplish this should be to merely add black ownership as another criteria for deciding who gets contested.

"In view of the dearth of minority ownership of broadcast facilities, a necessary and legitimate goal of real diversification and equitable distribution is the institution of a preference for those applicants for new broadcast stations proposing substantial minority ownership," Hooks said.

He gave his opinion as he concurred with a decision refusing to review an FCC Review Board decision approving a grant of construction authority for a new TV station on Channel 9 in Orlando, Florida to Mid-Florida Television Corp. Hooks said he questioned whether the lack of ownership of television facilities by Blacks accurately reflects the "far and equitable" distribution of communications facilities mandated in the Communications Act.

There are no television stations, utilized as commercial stations, that are owned by Blacks.

Four other Orlando groups were competing for the Channel 9 license, but the Review Board handed down its decision last January 13th in favor of Mid-Florida.

Peace within the Panthers

By National Black News Service
Oakland, Calif.

— (NBNS) — Black Panther Party leader Huey P. Newton has extended an olive branch of peace to his former friend, exiled Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver.

In a statement published in the party newspaper, Newton offered legal assistance to Cleaver if he returns to the United States to wage personally his legal battle against U.S. authorities.

Cleaver, a founder with Newton of the Black Panther Party, has been in exile in Algeria since 1968 when he fled to avoid going to jail on a charge of parole violation.

The two leaders split over Panther philosophy and Cleaver was expelled from the party more than a year ago.

Cleaver has espoused a more violent revolutionary concept, while Newton has been developing a political approach based on community organization.

"Despite our differences in strategy, our differences in principles, Eldridge Cleaver is not our enemy, he is not our oppressor," Newton said. "He himself is oppressed and we reaffirm our position in solidarity with all oppressed people throughout the world."

Newton said he could not forget, however, the attacks Cleaver has made on the Panthers under his leadership.

"Eldridge Cleaver criticized us not to help us, but to destroy us," Newton said. "He spoke of our organization harshly. We cannot forget that."

Newton said his overture of peace to Cleaver was made in the hope it would "pull the rug from under police attempts to create a fight between the Eldridge faction and the party proper by letting everyone know we're not interested in a confrontation."

He said he would make the Panther lawyer available to Cleaver and would be willing to help form a defense fund for Cleaver's legal fight.

Newton's Panthers are currently involved in broad community activities primarily in Oakland and Chicago.

The Workshop was held for professional counselors who have volunteered to help in the Sickle Cell Education and Detection Program.

INTRODUCING SSG ROBERT SARGENT, of the U.S. Army Recruiting Service, who has been in Des Moines four years! Sgt. Sargent came here from Korea, a 13 months' detail. This is his first recruiting assignment.

SGT. SARGENT ENTERED THE SERVICE in August of '64 at Evanston, Ind. He was first assigned to Ft. Leonard Wood for basic training. He was there roughly for five months. Following basic training, he entered an advance school for business administration, from there he was assigned to Heidelberg, Germany, and remained there 17 months as personnel sergeant.

SGT. SARGENT WAS NEXT ASSIGNED to Ft. Lewis, Washington, where he was assigned to Personal Affairs, remaining here from June '66 to April '68. He was then sent to Korea where he became personnel sergeant.

SGT. SARGENT MARRIED IN AUGUST OF '66. He married the former Charlotte Quinn, a lifelong friend, at Tacoma, Washington. The couple has two daughters, Blanche 7, and Tracie 5. They live at 2504 SW Watrous.

SARGENT WAS JUST OUT OF high school when he entered the Army. I asked why he had entered the Army. He said that he was faced with waiting tables or factory work! Not choosing either of these he chose the Army because this branch of service enters into a contract with an applicant. He knew the Army guaranteed him what he sought, training in business administration. He would have had to have gone to college for at least two years to acquire this. So he entered the Army!

A GAIN HE MENTIONED THAT one enters into a guaranteed contract with the Army, which is not kept through no fault of the individual, one can be discharged immediately.

MOST ATTRACTIVE IN THE ARMY, is the maintenance of black studies and an all black cultural improvement program. Sgt. Sargent invites anyone interested to drop by and visit with him. He insists the Army offers outstanding opportunities to both male and females!

SSG SARGENT MAY BE REACHED BY GOING TO 3609 Douglas, or phoning 277-6478. Male or female - why not give him a ring? Now?

MET MAJOR MELVIN FOWLER, advisor to the National Guard. Major Fowler has been here about 16 months. He is a career man, and has been in the service 12 years! He was commissioned from the ROTC of South Carolina State College. He is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and a member of Southern Baptist Church.

MAJOR FOWLER HAS SERVED in Puerto Rico, Panama, Bolivia, and two trips to Vietnam! In the States he has been assigned to Fort Worth, Texas, Fort Belvoir, Virginia, Fort Gordon, Georgia, Ft. Monmouth, New Jersey and now Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

GIRLS, MAJOR FOWLER IS SINGLE! HARDWAY'S RESTAURANT IS BEING OPERATED by Rozenting Hardaway and his wife, Janie, thus it is known as "The R&J". How clever! And the food is good!!!!

MT HEBRON BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Last Saturday night the Senior Choir and the Usher Board had their annual Christmas dinner at the Black Theology Center, 11th and Forest. It was a pleasant get-together between the two auxiliaries of the church with the Pastor and his wife there. The food was wonderful and plentiful. On Sunday morning at the 11:00 service the Pastor's topic was "Running From God". He preached from the 1st Chapter of Jonah. It was very inspiring. He made it so plain that a child could understand that God still lives. Rev. William Scott was pulpit guest Sunday morning. He prayed for the sick and shut-in. It was very touching. At 6:00 p.m. two candidates were baptized. That was very spiritual. We enjoyed the baptism to the highest. Then following that at 7:30 p.m. the Mother's Board sponsored the Revolutionary Faith Pageant which really put us on the mountain top. The spirit of God surely was in Mt. Hebron Sunday night. Narrated by Mrs. Lillie Mae Seigh. Also this Sunday, December 17th, at 7:30 p.m. the two choirs will get together for the last time for this year for their regular request program because the 4th Sunday is Christmas Eve. They will have their request program the 3rd Sunday. Mrs. Luvenia Jones is Mt. Hebron Senior Choir President and Mrs. Bessie Guy is Morning Star Senior Choir President. Mrs. Jettie Mae Harris, our Pastor's wife, was able to be in service with us Sunday morning for the first time in quite some time

MORNING STAR BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Hello friends and neighbors. Thank the Good Lord; another week has come and gone and God almighty has blessed us with all the good blessing from on high. First of all I want to retract the statement I made concerning the Meditation of the service. I am very sorry for the mistake, in other words, it isn't the Lord's Prayer that was recited it was the 23rd Psalms.

Sunday morning, December 10th, Rev. A. Crawford was in complete charge of the 11:00 service.

Mother A. C. Crawford brought a very inspiring Prayer at the altar.

Rev. A. Crawford's sermon was taken from 2nd Chapter of 2nd Peter 1st - 2nd verse. Subject: "False Teachers." Text: "Follow Jesus, Don't Sell Him Out."

After the 11:00 service, Rev. A. Crawford and members went to Fort Dodge to be with Rev. & Mrs. R. B. Knox on his first anniversary.

I don't have to tell you that Rev. A. Crawford preached from his heart. The Junior Choir also sang from their hearts. His text was taken from 6th Chapter of Judges 12th - 31st verse. Test: "God Is With Us." We had more than a glorious time.

The Pastor thanks each and everyone who was able to go.

Sunday, December 17, the East Side Mission will be at Morning Star at 3:00 p.m.

Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. we will go to the Little Church next to the Corner in West Des Moines instead of the 4th Sunday evening.

Friday evening, Dec. 22nd, at 7:30 p.m. Rev. A. Crawford is sponsoring an appreciation service for the sponsor of the broadcast. Everyone is invited.

Rev. Wayland Heath of Pilgrim Baptist Church and congregation will be the quest church for the East Side Mission. Rev. Wayland Heath will be the speaker.

National welfare crackdown

WASHINGTON (NBNS) — Welfare payments totaling up to $689 million to states will be withheld if ineligible recipients are not dropped from the rolls, the federal government warned last week.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said it would begin cutting welfare matching grants January 1, unless states improve their systems for weeding out ineligible and overpaid recipients. For most states the loss would be equal to welfare-spending errors detected by mandatory, state-run spot checks last March.

HEW officials said the immediate goal is to eliminate an estimated 700,000 persons illegally receiving Aid To Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) and another 150,000 ineligible persons receiving aid for the aged, blind and disabled.

The nationwide welfare-mispending rate is 8.3 percent, said HEW, with Nebraska high at 9.8 per cent and North Dakota low at 1.2 per cent.

John D. Twiname, administrator of HEW's social and Rehabilitation Service, said the cutbacks will be based on quality-control investigations first instituted in 1964 and refined in 1970.

Regulations require to states to check on a certain percentage of welfare cases

RALPH BOOKER, JR.

Services for Ralph Booker, Jr., 23 of 1262 E. Eighteenth St. were at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Pilgrim Baptist Church, of which he was a member, with burial in Glendale Cemetery.

Mr. Booker died Friday at Broadlawn Polk County Hospital after a four-day illness. Cause of death is undetermined, pending results of an autopsy.

A lifelong resident of Des Moines, Mr. Booker was a bartender at Hobie's Lounge, 1751 E. University Ave.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Helen G. Quinn, and his father, Ralph Booker, both of Des Moines; two sisters, Mrs. Geneva M. Daye and Mrs. Marjorie M. James, both of Des Moines; five brothers, Michael J., Ray A., Lonnie R. and Timothy, all of Des Moines, and George A., who is serving in the Navy stationed in The Philippines; a half-sister, Sherrie Ranell Quinn, and a half-brother, Isaac K. Quinn, both of Des Moines, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Magnolia Bagby and Mrs. Elizabeth Booker, both of Des Moines.

A wake was held Tuesday night at L. Folwer & Son Funeral Home.

semi-annually to make sure there are no ineligible, overpaid recipients.

The nationwide 8.3 per cent mispending figure will be applied as cutbacks to 21 states that have failed to review at least 85 per cent of the AFDC sampling, and to the 18 states that have not reviewed a similar percentage of adult cases.

The first dollar cutback will be made in January for the third quarter prepayment in fiscal year 1973, but quarterly readjustments will be possible as states comply, said Twiname.

BIBLE QUIZ

Warren Walker

Several months ago you said that eleven different Hebrew words were used for wine. My question is, what was the most common? W. O., RENO, NEVADA

The most common word is Yayin which is used 133 times in the earliest versions of the Old Testament.

The announcement in the Federal Resister provides only 15 days for public comment, because officials said the normal 30-day comment period would require a delay "contrary to the public interest."

Two states have already publicly disagreed with the HEW decision. New Jersey's welfare chief G. Thomas Riti said his state will challenge the plan because there's no latitude for human error.

We believe part of the responsibility for error lies in other Federal mandates," said Riti.

In New York state, George F. Berlinger, the Welfare inspector General, said the state took over the checking of welfare ineligibility from localities last July and "it would not be fair to punish the state for past errors by local agencies."

National Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO) officials could not be reached for comment on that group's reaction to the HEW mandate.

Call for volunteers

The American Friends Service Committee which is establishing a volunteer supervisor program for people unable to afford bail will be holding an informational meeting at the Center For Study and Application of Black Theology, 1016 Forest Avenue, on Wednesday, December 20, 1972, at 7:30 p.m.

Inability to pay bail is a problem that many members of our community are continually faced with. All concerned and interested persons are definitely urged to attend.

Presenting the program, which will go into effect on the 2nd of January, 1973, will be Douglas Washington, a member of the committee. The American Friends Service Committee is hoping to identify at least 20 persons willing to get involved in their volunteer supervision program.

It has been proved historically that community participation is a force for the elimination of the deplorable conditions poor and oppressed people live under. Incarceration on any level is indeed a facet of this oppression. If you are sincere in assisting the more unfortunate community members, please act now and contribute according to your abilities.

Asks end to "De Mau Mau" trial

CHICAGO — (NBNS) — Attorney Richard Halprin has asked that the "De Mau Mau" murder indictments be quashed on grounds that official press statements "prejudice the rights of the defendants to a fair trial."

Halprin represents four men accused of murdering four members of the Paul Corbett family in suburban Barrington Hills on Aug. 4. Five other men accused of being members of a band of black veterans of the Vietnam War have been arrested in connection with nine slayings in Illinois.

Cook County Sheriff Richard Elrod said after the arrests that race appeared to be a prime motive for the slayings. The group was labeled "De Mau Mau" by officials.

Letter to the editor

I am writing this letter in the form of a complaint against WHO-TV-Radio.

At 9:30 p.m. Sunday nites "Sanford and Son" is televised thru Des Moines, numerous times there has been audio trouble or video trouble. I am beginning to believe this is not an accident but is a case of prejudice because it is on all Black programs.

I think they are pushing the competitive program "Maude", however I do not feel this is nationwide since the producer of both programs is one and the same. I feel this is a local prejudice problem. I am not alone in my thinking. There are quite a few people who feel as I do. If this continues, we plan to picket WHO and expose them for what they are.

Mary Clark's study - a boutique

Mrs. Mary Clark's study has been re-designed! It is now a shop containing many African art pieces, with the colors red, black and green predominating! Jewelry was everywhere. Earrings by Diane Webster were on display. Rings small and large by Mary Clark were to be seen. African wall hangings and African bib-type jewelry was in abundance. Handsome macrame belts were exhibited. They are the work of Luther Clark. The belts are for men and women. They have enormous buckles! Then there are tie belts on display, also head bands. There are small plastic packages containing aprons! She has thought of everything! What a lovely place to browse and shop.

One enters the shop from the dining room. The dining room table is filled with Mary Clark's handcrafted pieces. There are brown angels and blonde angels. There are center pieces in Christmas design and many others for year-round use! Not for sale but part of the beauty of the setting are Mary's antiques: there are many busts and on one wall are hung painted plates, which formerly belonged to her mother, which are very much not for sale! Matching necklaces and earrings, boxed for gifts laden the table! They are key rings, snowflakes to be hung. There is a real tree branch with its smaller branches bearing earrings!

Two of Brown's traveling companions, Oliver Dyer and Freddy James Holmes, also were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct and assault on a police officer.

Brown said he and his road show workers were loading their music equipment when police told them to move on. When they did not immediately heed the order, Brown said, the police began beating them. Police denied the accusation.

Two patrolman, David McGoldrick and Phil Bowling were injured in the altercation and were treated at Baptist Hospital.

Brown was released on $250 bond.

Black millionaire dies

HOUSTON — (NBNS)

Hobart Taylor, Sr., wealthy Texas businessman active in the fight to open political primaries to blacks, has died in Houston Memorial Hospital at age 76.

In 1967, Taylor was described in U.S. News and World Report as a millionaire who "has always had a mission other than money-making. This mission is to encourage better relations between Negroes and whites and to teach young Negroes how to rise to positions of responsibility."

Taylor descended from a pioneer Texas family.

Happy birthday CAC

Our Community Action Committee is two months old today. It is alive, well, and ready to take a few steps early in the New Year. Those who have already returned postcards volunteering their help in one committee or another are hearing from a chairman.

The Public Relations Committee will be the only topic on the agenda, Thursday night, Dec. 15 7 p.m. Black Theology Center, 1016 Forest. All who have returned postcards volunteering their services have been invited to attend.

The Legal Committee has pieced together all available information and complaints about the Oct. 13th police invasion. A written summary of information and evidence is now available. This committee is in need of volunteers who are not lawyers to help write information in plain language, five things every citizen must know about his or her rights. This committee has assisted in decisions on what legal actions are taken.

The Finance Committee has raised most of the money necessary to pay for hours of recording and typing of two court reporters. This committee needs help in ways and means of raising money to provide membership cards and bill fold size copies of your rights when faced with possible arrest. Should there be one large fund-raising each year in support of CAC? Here's a need where you can really serve. Help make decisions.

The Watchdog Committee will become the eyes and ears of our community. The badge number, the name. Know who. Know when. Know where it happened. Write it down. Get your chairman out of bed, if necessary. Every CAC member is responsible in helping serve as eyes and ears in our community. This is what CAC is really all about.

AJC protests Baraka appearance at nat'l church group

BARAKA DENIES ANTI-SEMITISM

By National Black News Service

Dallas, Texas — (NBNS) — The appearance of Imamu Baraka as an opening day speaker at the general assembly of the National Council of Churches in Dallas last week drew sharp criticism from the American Jewish Committee's (AJC) observers here.

The Jewish group had tried unsuccessfully to have the invitation to speak at the assembly withdrawn from Baraka because of what they term his "anti-Semitism."

After Baraka's talk AJC issued a statement

Basketball is here again. Today, people think of basketball as a black man's game, and they think it just got that way in the last few years. Well, black people have nearly always been tough at the roundball game. Aside from the New York Celtics, the first great white professional team that I heard of, there were a lot of black teams that were playing the best white competition on their own floors, and doing them in. There was the New York Renaissance, called the greatest team, even better than the Celtics, although you could have gotten some arguments on that from a lot of people. Then there were the Philadelphia Sphas (never did find what that meant) and the games between them and the Renns were basketball classics. But then, as there began to be more money in the game, the black clubs were gradually frozen out. They almost never got mentioned in the sports pages except in the black press, so people never knew how good they were. You are all probably familiar with the story of how the Harlem Globe Trotters originated, but did you know that they played any number of their early games in

North Star guardsmen

The North Star Guardsmen will have their annual Christmas Party Sunday, Dec. 17th, 1972 at the North Star Lodge Hall, 1121 Clark St., at 2:00 p.m.

There is a little fellow lying in the Veteran's Hospital who I think deserves special mention. I heard that Hale Snyder has lost one leg to his illness, and rumors have it that he could lose the other. Hale broke into athletics in the days right after World War I. At that time there was competition between the Des Moines grade schools in baseball, football, and track just as there is between the high schools

The Family of Lucy Lawrence wishes to thank Rev. F.W. Strickland, Rev. James Green, Rev. Albert Fox, the Princess Oziel Chapter No. 9, Rebecca Court No. 3, the YWA Club, Pallbearers, Estes & Son and wish to thank those who sent telegrams, sympathy cards, donated food, cars and other expressions and services rendered to the family.

Mrs. Anna Mae Summerville

At press conference following his speech, Baraka dismissed the charge saying that as a writer he had also made harsh references to "niggers, Italians, Polacks, Anglo-Saxons and other strange forms of life in America" in his thousands of poems

The statement indicated that the group would preferred that the invitation be extended to one of "numerous responsible and serious Black leaders who would have a genuine moral and social contribution to make to the building of a just and cooperative society that respects the dignity of every human being."

In his address to the assembly, Baraka, who is northern Iowa, and went on from there to the Dakotas and Nebraska. In the thirties there were several black traveling basketball teams touring the midwest, and all of them were tough. They had organization, and good men, and most of the local teams didn't have much of a chance with them. Then the team we around here know best was known as the Famous Trotters, and was run by Bobby Grund. Cleo Johnson, who works for the Register and Tribune as a paper handler, came here with that team, and when his playing days were over, settled down here. But I guess the Trotters got into legal troubles with the original Globe Trotters, and had to change their name. Never did know how good those guys were. I remember I got into it with Grund when I said that they couldn't claim the black championship unless they beat some good black clubs. Well, we went around and round on that, and nobody backed up. But the fellows did beat most of the good teams in Iowa, so they must have been pretty fair. There is a lot more that you ought to know, but some other time.

The statement indicated that the group would preferred that the invitation be extended to one of "numerous responsible and serious Black leaders who would have a genuine moral and social contribution to make to the building of a just and cooperative society that respects the dignity of every human being."

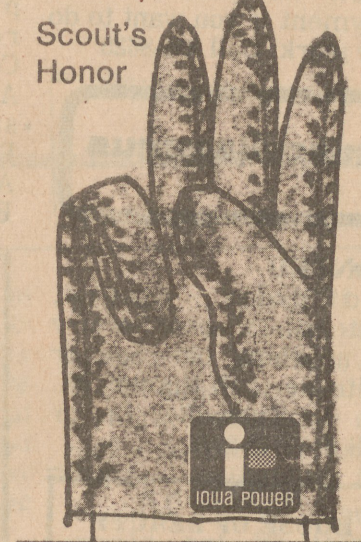

In his address to the assembly, Baraka, who is now. Hale was a pitcher for old Amos Hiatt, and pitched against Chet Brewer, who hurled for Olive McHenry, and Harry Crump playing for Cattell. He was a tough end on the football team, but I can't remember how many games they won or lost. After he got out of Amos Hiatt, the guy became a full time catcher, and caught for several of the black semi pro teams of which there were several, and all of them good. He didn't weigh over one thirty, but he was as game as they come, and didn't hesitate to block the plate with his skinny frame, and sometimes got knocked into the backstop for doing it, but he would do it again. He was a scrapper, and wouldn't back up from anybody. When runners tried to score, Hale would tag them so hard that they never did say that he didn't touch them. Frequently they got tagged so hard that they got up swinging. Hale would swing right back, although he really wasn't much of a fighter, just wasn't afraid of people. As I said, the guy was a pretty fair. There is a lot more that you ought to know, but some other time.
