John B. Russwurm

Black Press Week Observed

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — Black Press Week, March 11-17, marks 146 years of printed protest against one form of slavery or another for black Americans, says Garth C. Reeves, Sr., president of the National Newspaper Publishers Association (NNPA) and editor-publisher of the Miami Times.

"Today, the protest is against economic bondage that holds most black people in the lowest paid, least desirable jobs, as well as in the worst housing in the United States," Mr. Reeves adds.

One hundred and forty-six years ago, the NNPA president continues, when John B. Russwurm and the Rev. Samuel E. Cornish launched Freedom's Journal on March 16, 1827, the fight was against more than 200 years of slavery in the South and for more decent and humane treatment of freedmen in the North.

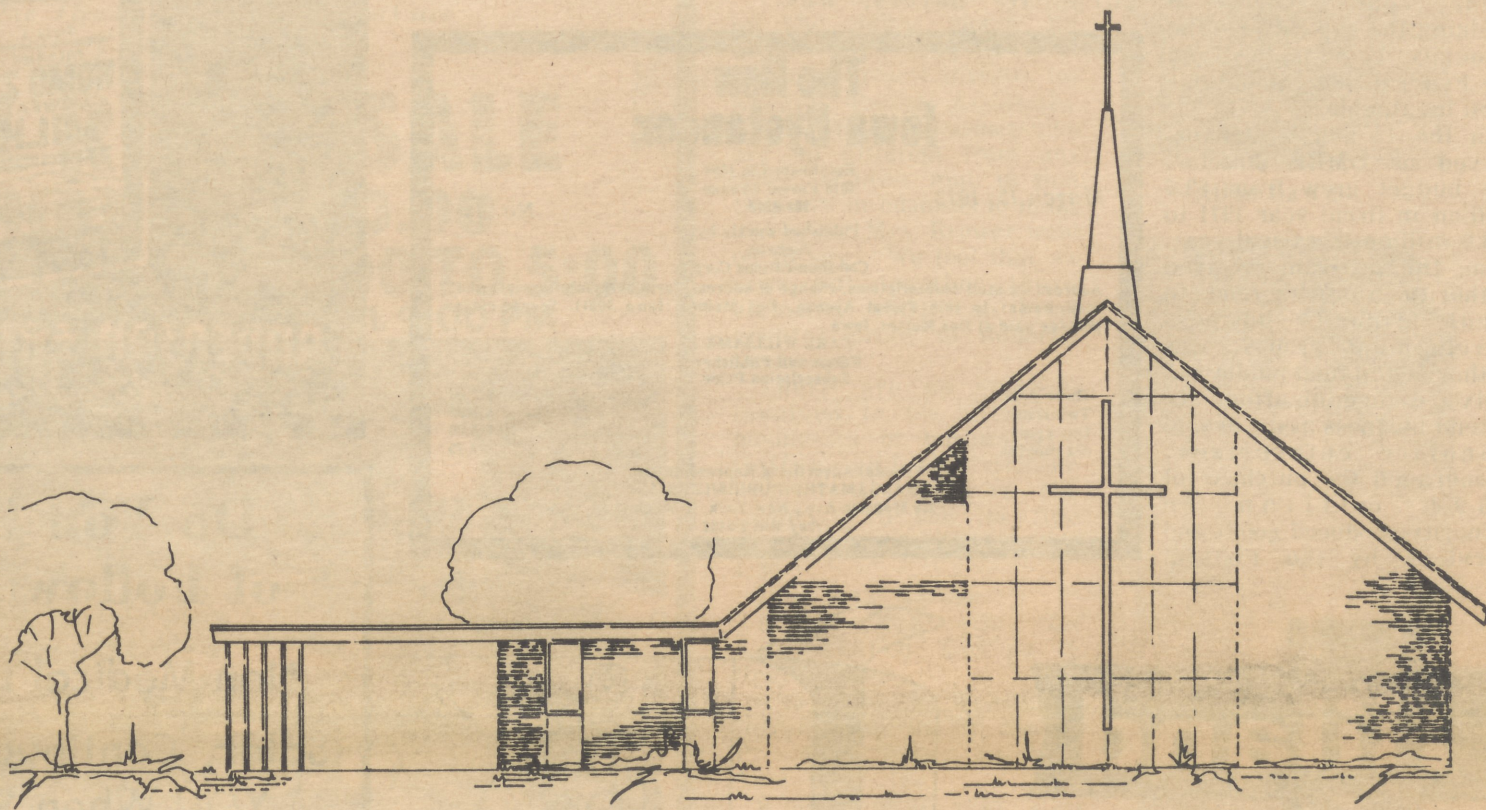

And although physical slavery was abolished in name more than 100 years ago, and considerable progress has been made, slavery in many forms still exists for black Americans, Mr. Reeves points out.

"And this," declares the NNPA head, "is the continuing challenge of the black press which now stands at 208 in number with a combined circulation of more than four million, according to Dr. Henry G. LaBrie, a research fellow at Harvard University who has just completed a study of the black press."

A good indication of the continuing need for a vigorous black press to help support the long hard fight for full, first-class citizenship for our people is the establishment of more and more black newspapers at a time when white papers are declining in number, Mr. Reeves explains.

UP Inc., Ministers, Laymen and Businessmen Vow to Uplift Black Community

ST. PAUL A.M.E. CHURCH

UP Reacts to Economic Development Needs in Community

The atmosphere crackles with excitement and vibrant warmth and love as you enter the basement of the new St. Paul A.M.E. church. A large circle of tables are set in a circle to accommodate the 21 member board of directors for UP Inc. which stands for United People Inc. The lively conversation settles quickly as the Chairman of the Board, Reverend Henderson Davis Sr. calls the meeting to order.

On Tuesday March 13th the final steps were taken to incorporate a non-profit organization known as United People Inc. The 21 member board of directors consists of 11 Ministers and 10 Businessmen and Laymen. The stated purpose of the corporation is to provide the capital, and advice and other assistance necessary to help members of the Black community to develop economic stability, and growth.

There have been many attempts at economic development in Des Moines not notably QCDC and the Black Federation but there is a new impetus to UP Inc. As one of the members said, "Rev. Davis holds the gavel but the real chairman of the board is God."

Historically, no movement of any significance has ever survived in Black Society without the support of the Black Church. Even the NAACP still maintains deep-rooted connections with the nation's Black Churches. The Muslims are not without very definite religious motivation.

Funding for UP Inc. will not be primarily from government sources. In its last meeting each board member pledged $110, and petitions were voted to be sent among the members of the community calling for individual pledges. The board expects to begin operations with a five figure treasury as a result of voluntary contributions and pledges.

UP's board of directors also called for time from the SBA and American Republic Insurance Company to obtain a complete audit of the ailing Paris Foodland. Paris Williams has appointed the Board power of attorney to act as negotiating agent for him with those two organizations. A meeting will be held at the SBA office on Thursday March 15th to determine whether the financiers of the food store will cooperate with UP. It was stated that the cooperative does have an interest in acquiring Paris Foodland if after thorough investigation the project is found to be feasible.

Investigation is also under way to determine why Paris Foodland was locked up by IRS on Tuesday of this week. Williams said, "We will be open soon, this is only a temporary thing."

Jenkins Resigns From OMBE Post

John L. Jenkins, director of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise (OMBE), has resigned, Commerce Secretary Frederick Dent announced recently.

Jenkins, who joined OMBE in May, 1970 to head its Community Services Division, was appointed director in August, 1971 by former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans. Before joining OMBE, Jenkins was president of Bill Cosby Enterprises.

Saying that he had accepted the resignation "with a great deal of regret," Dent noted, "you have proven time and again your sincerity as a human being and your outstanding ability as a manager. In so doing, your assistance in bridging the gap between the minority communities and the Federal Government has been invaluable."

In the 18 months Jenkins served as OMBE director, the budget grew from $3.6 million in fiscal year 1971 to $63.9 million this fiscal year. Also, the program received authority to provide funds to local minority business development groups; was authorized to fund public and private organizations to extend business assistance to minority enterprises; encouraged the purchase of $394 million in minority-produced goods and services by the Federal Government, compared to $143 million in fiscal 1971; encouraged State governments to mobilize their resources on behalf of minority business development; and financing for Minority Enterprise Small Business Investment Companies (MESBICs) reached $20 million.

In addition, during Jenkins' tenure, some $866.5 million in Federal funds were obligated for minority business programs in fiscal 1972, up from the fiscal 1971 level of $578 million, and the first National Minority Purchasing Council, consisting of executives of major corporations to promote expanded procurement opportunities for minorities from corporate buyers, was formed.

Jenkins was also responsible for two conference firsts—the first National Conference on Business Opportunities for Women, held in June, 1972, and a Conference of Minority Business Development Organizations, held last December.

There had been speculation several weeks ago that Jenkins would be leaving and that he would be replaced by a Chicano, thus, leading to conjecture that President Nixon would be shifting the emphasis from blacks to Mexican-Americans during his second administration.

RIPP OFF

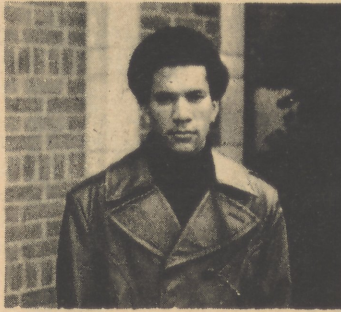

The question to be asked this week and the problem I want you to try to find a solution for is 'What is the RIPP OFF that broke the camels back or is there such a straw as far as black people are concerned?' Can it be what happened to Arthur Higgins or is this going down as one of those unfortunate things? Are you familiar with the case? If not let me appraise you of the facts. Mr. Higgins is or should I say was an administrative aid with the Community Development Program. On January 26, 1973 approximately two hours prior to a list being published in the great publication, that is our daily paper, Mr. Higgins was informed that his name was on this list. Incidentally the list that I'm referring to is the one that was the 'Dear John' of the Community Development and our illustrious City Council, or to put it in the vernacular "Dear John send your saddle home another horse is occupying your stall."

When he questioned this decision by the powers that are, he was told his performance record was not up to par, even though he had not received any communique from that source to that effect. Due to the fact, (in Mr. Higgins Mind) that he was not willing to accept this theory as gospel, he decided to pursue the matter further. Now we reach the ultimate in the art of RIPP OFF, he related to the old great one (Bwana) by memo that he had seniority over others in his same department and had the audacity to file a law suit to protest his rights, he was reinstated for the moment.

It was then decided at this time that the administrative aid jobs should be reclassified. They didn't have enough class or prestige as such, "Let's call them, Senior Administrative Aides huh?" So now in order to be fair and the fact that this is a new position, we must restructure the jobs and interview all over again. This was done even to the point of interviewing some new applicants besides the ones who were already in these positions. But as per usual in the great RIPP OFF of disadvantaged folk or to be more specific Black Folk "A funny thing happened on the City Hall Circuit everyone was verbally reinstated but Mr. Higgins." End of story? Not quite, you see this 'uppity fellow' is quite persistent, he wrote his supervisor asking confirmation of the charges leading to his dismissal. What did you say? Did he get any immediate reply to his query? Would you believe not yet? Could it be that "Mack the Knife" said if you don't want your throat cut but you better ignore that memo? I wonder if the name of the game is Rover roll over and play dead always? If you can justify most of the questions asked with an affirmative reply then join the cast of Harriet Beecher Stowe because you should be a character in Uncle Tom's--Cabin.

I could say more, but you see I'm a nice guy.

Fine Print

Morrow

Well, in the Big Apple (New York City) they want to legalize the numbers racket. And why not? Just look at all the money being shelled out -- how much? Something like $600 million and that's a lot of money in somebody's piggy bank.

Of course, that's New York, but right now I can't see Iowa having a numbers game yet. In fact, we've just got into pari-mutual betting and that is going to the dogs.

But, what if the community of Des Moines could have numbers think of all of that extra revenue coming in. And what about employment opportunities. The New York proposal has it that past criminal records in running numbers wouldn't be a hassle. There are a lot of black men unemployed right now because they are ex-cons and employers are hesitant about hiring them. Also it would strike a blow at organized crime -- I've always said that if you want to wipe out organized crime, well legalize what ever they do and have them open a school training junior executives, on the the corporate structure. But who listens these days anyway?

Then you ask: what can you do with this money? After a brief period of years (around three or four years) the operation could support itself. With the extra money that could go into social services. To help pay for things that the King's crumbs (revenue sharing) don't cover.

Strange, yes, but wouldn't it be better to do it this way rather than raise property taxes still higher.

Anyway, one bright, shiny day you could win. By the way, under the proposal the odds are 750 to 1 compared to organized crime's (basement bargain of) 500 (or 600) to 1.

A report came out the other day from one of the national civil right organizations on drug abuse programs in the cities. What did they find: that more money is spent on suburban drug rehabilitation centers than on centers in the inner city area.

I thought that most people knew that suburbia would rather have its kids clean and pure again before they would bother with our inner city kids... Remember there wasn't a drug epidemic until it got outside of the ghetto. Then smash you have all kinds of research teams, sociological studies, centera.

The study centered on 20 medium-size cities across the country to find out where the money is being spent and whose spending it. They learned that the majority of the money was in suburbia where the problem isn't as serious as in the ghetto. Let me add as a personal note drug abuse is serious no matter where it is the only thing that irks me is spending the money where the resident could support rehabilitation on their own instead of where the community is too poor to do it themselves.

Another problem that affects the persons involved was what to do with the ex-addict after he is rehabilitated. Job training and place had much to be desired. Also the local drug programs were hampered by lack of staff and that Black and Hispanic groups are protesting the use of methadone as a treatment for addicts.

The recommendations from the report could be summed up in one word: HELP. Help primarily for inner city people and street people in general.

Black Press Week Marks 146 Years of Printed Protest

According to Dr. LaBrie's study, Mr. Reeves points out, of the 208 black newspapers in America, 132 have been established since 1950; 96, since 1960; and 31, since 1970.

A generation ago, says the NNPA head, black newspapers numbered only a little over 100, although since Russwurm's Freedom's Journal, nearly 3,000 black papers have come and gone. Now there are 208. Of these, five were founded in the 19th century: The Philadelphia Tribune, 1884; the Baltimore Afro-American and the Houston Informer & Texas Freeman, 1892; the Des Moines New Iowa Bystander, 1894; and the Indianapolis Recorder, 1895.

Mr. Reeves says there are now three black dailies in continental U.S.: The Atlanta Daily World, the Chicago Daily Defender, and the New York Daily Challenge. Weeklies number 190, semi-weeklies, five; monthlies and bi-monthlies, 10.

"Black Press Week," Mr. Reeves declares, "is the time for a re-dedication of this press to an ever-continuing fight until every black American is free to advance himself or herself to the full extent of his or her abilities."

Jesus is the reason for any lovely season of peace
And joy in my soul.
If it be summer, winter or autumn,
We must always let His praise roll.

ARITIA SCHULTZ, POLK COUNTY, IOWA

You are hereby notified that the petition of the plaintiff in the above entitled cause of action is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the State of Iowa, in and for Polk County, asking judgment against the defendants named in the caption hereto, and against the mortgaged property hereinafter described, for:

(1) The sum of $22,985.76 with interest at 8 1/2 per cent from March 1, 1973, being the amount due plus interest upon the promissory note in the principal sum of $23,000.00, dated December 21, 1970, which note was made and executed by the defendants, Jack L. Schultz and Aritia G. Schultz payable to this plaintiff, which note this plaintiff has declared due and payable forthwith because of the default of the defendants in failing to make payment of monthly sums of principal and interest due. The said sum includes delinquent interest and advancements to and including March 1, 1973, and represents the total sum due after allowing defendants all just credits; also asking for judgment for any further or future advancements plaintiff may be required to make for continuing abstract of title or for any other purpose authorized by the terms of said note and mortgage and by Iowa law.

(2) Also asking judgment for costs including statutory attorney's fees.

(3) Also asking as against the defendants above named a decree of foreclosure of the mortgage made and given by the defendants, Jack L. Schultz and Aritia G. Schultz, which mortgage is dated December 21, 1970, recorded in Book 4186, Page 387 of the records of the office of the Recorder of Polk County, Iowa, said mortgage being given to secure the above mentioned note and other sums claimed, which mortgage covers the following described real estate, to-wit:

Lot 23 in Tufts Acres Plat No. 1, an Official Plat, now included in and forming a part of the Town of Bondurant, Iowa.

Plaintiff also asks for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the mortgaged premises and to collect the rents, issues and profits arising or which may be had therefrom and to apply them as by court directed. Plaintiff waives any deficiency judgment and asks that the period of redemption be reduced to 60 days. No money judgment is asked except against such persons who executed said note and mortgage.

For further particulars see the petition now on file.

You are also hereby notified to appear before said court at the Polk County Court House, Des Moines, Iowa, by April 13, 1973, and that unless you so appear before said court at the Polk County Court House, Des Moines, Iowa, by April 13, 1973, your default will be entered against you and judgment and decree rendered therein as prayed.

PICK A, B or C:

If the first 3 minutes of a long distance call cost 65¢ how much is an additional 3 minutes?

- a.) Never more than 81¢
- b.) Never more than 67¢
- c.) Never more than 63¢

The best answer is C. On any long distance call, 3 additional minutes never cost more than the first 3 minutes, and usually cost less.* So don't be worried if your long distance call runs over 3 minutes. It doesn't cost much to keep on talking.
A little money still goes a long way on the telephone.
