CASTRATE RAPISTS, BILLY GRAHAM URGES

Johannesburg — (NBNS) Billy Graham, the American evangelist and confidant of President Nixon, said last week that rapists should be castrated and that the death penalty should be restored. On a two-week crusade in South Africa, Graham said, "I think when a person is found guilty of rape he should be castrated. That would stop him pretty quick."

McGOVERN PANEL ASKS FOOD PROGRAM INCREASE

Washington — (NBNS) — The Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, headed by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., last week released a report in which it recommended an $860 million increase in the fiscal 1974 budget for federal food programs. The report strongly criticized a Nixon Administration budget proposal to reduce spending next year for food stamps and the special milk program.

Des Moines Man killed in San Francisco fluke

Mrs. Hackney's request for no picture is being observed.

After black student rivals from a nearby Junior High School failed to appear at their confrontation, four Chinese youths shot and killed forty-one year old William Silas Hackney because he had the misfortune to be BLACK and in the wrong place at the wrong time.

The incident took place at the Doggie Diner on Arguello and Guearny Blvd. in San Francisco, California, as Mr. Hackney and his wife Cristine and their 11 month old child decided to stop in the diner for a snack shortly after one o'clock pm.

The four Chinese youths blocked the driveway then finally gave way and let the car enter. One of the youths hit a fender as it passed, police said and Hackney got out of the car in the midst of racial insults being hurled at him.

He was then shot twice by a .25 caliber pistol as he turned back toward his car. One bullet entered near his left eye killing him instantly. Mrs. Hackney didn't see the shooting because she was attending to the child.

Police discovered a number of items including several blue ski masks and $315 in rolled bills at a house on 412 Arguella where the four had fled after the shooting. This evidence has aided in holding the four.

The youths Robert Louie, 19 and three Juveniles who were all arrested less than an hour after the shooting are also believed to be the Ski Mask Bandits who have held four robberies in that city. The Ski Mask Bandits struck first on March 13 at Ruby's Palace Restaurant escaping with $3000.

A week later the gang hit three grocery stores in the same night, nearly $2100 was taken from the DuPont Market in Chinatown, $100 from M & J Grocery on 1701 Balboa St. and more than $100 from the New Russian Hill Market on 1198 Pacific St.

Services were held on Wed. Feb. 28th in Des Moines at Union Baptist Church for Hackney. The Rev. H.I. Thomas pastor of Union Baptist co-presided with Rev. Frank Elliot of Goldfield, Iowa.

William Hackney leaves his wife Christine, son William III, his father and stepmother Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hackney, two brothers Alfred and Stanley, one sister Rita Watkins all of Des Moines in addition to many other relatives and friends.

Summations by Brown's Attorneys

By National Black News Service

New York-(NBNS) — The defense attorneys representing H. Rap Brown in the shooting and robbery case refused to rest their case in protest of a judge's ruling, but were ordered to begin their final summations anyway.

Supreme Court Justice Arnold Fraiman has refused to permit the defense to take additional testimony from Dr. Robert Buckhout, a Brooklyn College associate professor of psychology. He was to have been the second and final defense witness.

The professor was called to relate the findings of a number of studies that disputed the validity of eyewitness accounts. He had given similar testimony in the celebrated trial of Angela Davis and a number of others in the California court system.

But William Kunstler, Brown's chief defense attorney, made it clear that his main argument was centered around a "reasonable doubt" in the identity of Brown and his three co-defendants. He also said the concept of a "presumption of innocence" was paramount when he addressed the jury.

Brown and his co-defendants are charged in the armed robbery of a West Side bar on Oct. 16, 1971, and for attempted murder in a gun battle which followed.

Kunstler told the jury that the main issue was the reliability of the eyewitnesses and their identifications. He pointed out that only three of the prosecution witnesses had positively pointed out Brown as a participant in the robbery before he was shot and captured on the roof atop the apartment building a block away from the lounge.

MICHAEL MORROW

Black Students at Grand View College have organized themselves into a group called Concerned Black Students (CBS).

"The students felt that there was a need for a liaison between the students and administration," said Miss Jane Molden, director of CHES at Grand View.

CBS had its first meeting in October of '72 and was officially recognized by the faculty in February, 1973. The group is self-supporting with $2 dues per member per month.

Coming this Spring CBS has planned a jazz and blues concert. The concert is being held to raise money for the local Sickle-cell anemia chapter.

Chairperson, Mike Harris, said, "we hope to get about four or five groups for the concert."

CBS is 26-member strong which includes both Afro-American and African students.

"The Africans have helped us a lot with CBS," said Harris.

The officers of CBS are: Mike Harris, chairperson; Steve Morrow, vice-chairperson; and Alberta Whaley, secretary.

Other members are: Udell Cason, Verna Black, Reginald Dantzler, Jerome Frison, McKeiver Jones, Fasil Kebede, Dan Lahai, Beatrice Maligi, and Anita McKee.

Also: Larry Pittman, Leonard Prewitt, Steve Slaughter, William Smith, Jerome Starling, Rickey Tanksley, Carol Williams, David Williams, Charles Yovonie, and Sam Yovonie.

12 COUNTIES TO GET FOOD STAMPS

Washington (NBNS)

The Agriculture Department said last week that 12 counties in nine states will begin distributing government food stamps to the needy later this year in place of providing them with food commodities under another federal program which will be eliminated. The move brought the number of counties and cities which are, or soon will be, operating food stamp programs to 2,509.

Almost 12.5 million people receive assistance through the program. The counties are Baker County, Ga.; Henderson and Taylor Counties, Ky.; Osceola County, Mich.; Caswell, Davidson and Mecklenburg Counties, N.C.; Burleigh County, N.D.; Pawnee County, Okla.; Carroll County, Tenn.; Gilas County, Va.; and Lincoln County, Wis.

Parrish: 'Organization may be just what Des Moines Needs'

By Michael Morrow

Alfredo Parrish

"United People, Inc., an organization of religious leaders, laymen, and businessmen, could be what Des Moines needs," commented Al Parrish.

Al Parrish is a lawyer with the Legal Aid Service. Parrish said that UP and Des Moines could provide a model for the rest of the midwest. He felt that finally the black community of Des Moines would be able to become organized under the leadership of UP.

Al Parrish is one of seven lawyers of the west side branch of The Legal Aid's staff. He's been practicing law for over a year and a half.

Parrish talked about his philosophy of law from the perspective of a black man.

"From history we find that there hasn't been any significant input of black lawyers. So without this input the black man has lost an avenue of influence."

He felt that "the legal system is an arm of the political system; in order to affect the economic system is through the legal system."

On how to attack an issue (whether controversial or not) in his words, "first you have to have a power base in which to work, in order to get a base to work from, you have to get attention to your side of the issue; after that then you have to develop an organization of people to go out into the community and gain their sentiment."

This reporter asked Parrish about corruption in the legal system especially with black lawyers.

"Personally, I don't feel that I will become corrupt," he said, "although there have been times that I have been offered deals or tried to be pressured but it just isn't the way I've been trained personally and professionally."

Tell the truth now. Did you guess "less"? Then you're in the minority. Most people don't realize that the second 3 minutes of a long distance call never cost more and usually cost less than the first 3 minutes.*

Here are some examples:

First 3 minutes	Each additional minute
75¢	25¢ or less
65¢	21¢ or less
55¢	18¢ or less

So don't be afraid to talk longer than 3 minutes. It costs less than you think.

The Unity Test

Unity is the natural order of this planet earth among living things. But in certain circumstances members of the same species or race turn on each other. Let's take a closer look at our situation in Des Moines. In the privacy of your mind examine some intimate questions. Are you a bigot when it comes to others who are Black like you? Now realize that I'm not performing for white society or you or anyone else. That's irrelevant! Now back to the question. Do you think that some blacks would be better off if they were more like you? Would Blacks be better off if they did like the white man? Is Black always beautiful? Is the Black man's situation all the white man's fault? Is church the only solution to the Black man's dilemma? Is revolution the only way to rectify the situation?

If you answered yes to any of the above questions, please review your thoughts because brother or sister, you could be a cause for the situation we're in today! And there's no use leaving you out there with that on your mind. Modern research has rediscovered a way to help.

Bravo to Marlon Brando the old 'on the waterfront' rebel is alive and well! All people who give a damn can't cut right to the heart or the monolithic dream machine that shapes so many stereotypes in our world as he? George C. Scott did by renouncing the Oscar, and we congratulate him for his courage.

only odd factor in this rationale is that none of the persons victimized were guilty of any crimes nor had they previously been in police difficulties. To resume the serious matter at hand, I don't think the functions of a law enforcement agency is to get revenge on the citizens they are being paid to protect. To me this has the implications of a police state where the enforcement agency is the judge, jury and executioner.

The police department has a community relations component for the purpose of sensitizing children, teenagers, and adult to the problems they encounter in the performance of their duties. Under the present circumstances I wonder if this unit shouldn't have some sessions within their own ranks? I am aware that attitudes of people cannot be regulated or legislated but we can work toward eliminating bigotry and racism through education and proper supervision. It seems I have read that the police department has had some difficulties in recruiting Black applicants on the force, this can be easily understood with the present atmosphere prevailing. One more factor to contend with is that illusive quantity called upward mobility. Can the present police administration honestly say they are utilizing the experience and education of it's black members at the present time? Have these black police officers been promoted equally or given the respect due them at all times? As a longtime dweller of this community I must confess there are times when I doubt the sincerity and impartiality of the many agencies of both the city of Des Moines and the State of Iowa. It must be remembered that if one demands respect one must give that measure of respect in return. Distrust, ignorance, and petty jealousies are the tools by which fools destroy themselves and whatever entity they are connected with. So it is imperative that we all try our utmost to work together for the benefit of a strong community embracing all of it's constituents.

I went to the store the other day and you will never guess what I saw. Give up? Once I tell you, you'll know what I'm talking about. The price of food is unbelievable.

I like cheese like anyone else so I go in and try to find my favorite cheese. I found it and then I had a look at the price and I said forget it!

But if that's not bad enough I stumbled over to the meat section; well, they had to carry me out of the store.

For the price of two steaks, and not large ones mind you, you could go and drink yourself into a stupor and then some.

What makes it worse is that you try to economize, I learned that you can't even do that anymore.

Why? Well, as I understand it since everybody is trying to cut corners with meat they're going to less expensive cuts and types of meat.

So that means fish and those odd parts of an animal body that us black folks know so well already are going up in price. So you're stuck with hardly any meat for a ridiculous price.

There for awhile you could get neckbones free of course, that was before white America found out about them or in other words we knew pigs intestines as chitlings instead of chitlerlings but now they're about fifty cents a pound—that is really hiking that price up.

This is a sample column and we would appreciate your response. The next col. by Mr. Bell will appear in 2 weeks.

A good deal has been said and written about the recent devaluation of the dollar.

Certainly, its effect on international monetary markets, on the currencies of other nations and on the balance of payments and foreign trade of the United States are all important.

But, what does devaluation actually mean to you - the average citizen - and what immediate effect will it have on your life? Very little.

Devaluation of a nation's currency - in this case the U.S. dollar - means that the dollar is made cheaper in relation to currencies of other countries. In other words, an American buying other currencies will get less for his money and foreign goods will cost more for Americans to purchase.

If, as a consumer, you purchase an All-American made product, there should not be any change in price due to devaluation. However, if that product is produced elsewhere, or manufactured here but contains some foreign parts, that product will probably go up in price.

Also, if you are planning to make a trip abroad this spring or summer, be prepared to pay more

So really what is a person to do these days? Because hamburger is about as expensive as your tougher cuts of steak I know what I'm going to do, like a friend of mine, I'll become a vegetarian.

It seems that the government is trying to slow down everything that moves. Recently, in the news, the Federal Aviation Commission announced because of complaints across the nation about jets making ungodly racket trying to build up speed to beat the sound barrier.

That is the trouble see, the jet in order to travel at supersonic speeds has to go faster than the speed of sound—I use to know what it was but I don't now. When the jet breaks the barrier it makes a thundering noise.

Most of us in the inner city don't have to put up with that because by the time they go overhead they've reached the supersonic speed anyway.

The only ones hampered with it are those dear poor rich white folks that ran away when we started to move next door to them.

So good ole Unc. Sammy is going to make where no jet can fly faster than sound over the U.S.

The ironic thing about that is what are they going to do with all these jets if they can't do what they were built for?

dollars in exchange for the currency of the country you will visit.

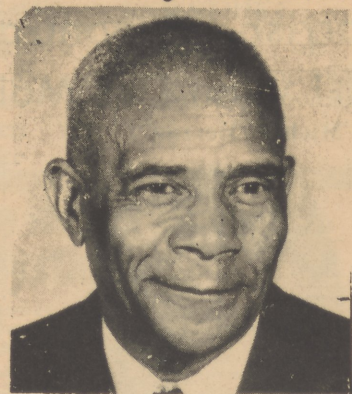

A foreign make automobile will undoubtedly cost more, too.

Not all imports are expected to rise in price. Such countries as Brazil and Mexico probably will devalue their currencies along with the dollar. Thus, there will be little effect on the price you pay for coffee or the trip you take to Mexico.

Although the term devaluation has negative connotations, economists in this country generally believe it was a good move for the American economy.

A prolonged deficit in our balance of payments, they point out, would be proof that other countries are outdistancing the United States in the competitive world economy. This would ultimately mean more jobs for peoples of such countries as Germany and Japan and fewer for Americans.

Therefore, the prime purpose of this new devaluation of the dollar is to improve the nation's international accounts - the trading account which showed a record deficit last year of $6.4 billion, and the over-all balance of international payments, an estimated deficit of some $10 billion.

A look at sports in retrospect With Allen Ashby

When a fellow looks at that apartment house going up on Twelfth and Crocker, he can't help but think of the old Crocker YMCA building called "the hut" that was there and the lot outside the building that we all played on. As a building, the Crocker Y wasn't much. It was an old world war I Camp Dodge hut, and it was just about big enough to whip a small cat in if he didn't move around too much. But the leadership that came out of that hut must have been something. There were a bunch of dedicated young men helping the director, Quinten Mease, and they all played a part in putting over his programs. Perhaps the best way to judge the fellows of the Y was the fact that almost everyone of them who went to World War II made good war records, and gained some sort of rank.

There some fine basketball players developed on that one basket basketball court. You got so you could play one on one with your man and that would have been a big asset today. Several boys went on to make their high school team, and several more could have probably made it if they had wanted to. But the fun came in the Sunday School or church leagues in baseball and basketball. In the baseball league it was just about always St. Paul, Cornithian, Burns, Maple Street, Kyles AME and Union Baptist. It was started out with bonafide church members playing, but soon the urge to win took over and everybody began to recruit fellows who played ball on the semi pro teams, and the church and Sunday School members went out the window. But don't think those semipros didn't want to win! There was a whole lot of pride at stake when these teams met, and the games were some thing to see. There was never a question of just playing for fun. It was always for keeps. And, do you know, a very small percentage of those fellows couldn't even find their way to the churches they represented, but the members were always out in force to cheer them on. Why? I don't know.

Basketball started out the same way and later became a league of clubs along with the churches. There were two divisions, junior and senior and these games were always for keeps. St. Paul, with Bunny Wilson, Bus Brown, and James Allen, and just anybody else they could pick up to make five usually won the league in the senior division.

'Round City Hall

By Ken Warren

Last week's article touched very lightly on the removal of some of our city's finest by the Chief of Police. This week I would like to delve deeper into this affair because it points out some of the problems that are allowed to fester in our community. The administration continues to ignore the basic principles that cause these problems to exist and that is a two way educational process that will eradicate racial hatred on both sides of the ledger.

In the last two weeks four police officers have been released from duty either by firing or resignation for irregularities such as breaking windows in business establishments and dropping water filled balloons on passing automobiles. Three more police officers have been reprimanded for making their patrol cars backfire as a method of greeting each other. The actions of these officers seem very immature to say the least and especially since Mr. Nichols claims that the group they belong to is his ELITE CORPS. In a later statement he referred to them as being a group of kids (perhaps just sowing a few wild oats as BWANA use to say when he caught his son down in the old compound). I wish he would make up his mind. Funny thing is all of these kids are in their late 20s or early 30s. Not being exceptionally familiar with words I proceeded to make use of my friend the dictionary to look up ELITE and to my surprise it means "choice or superior group" if that definition applies in this case I have one question to ask, what is the status of the rest of the staff?

By the way, the explanation given by the gentlemen in question was that they were so frustrated by the fact they could not arrest these desperate criminals that they used this method for retaliation. The

On Thursday evening, March 22, Des Moines was given a fine opportunity to see and hear Georgia's State Representative, Julian Bond speak at Drake University's Field House. He is an excellent speaker, maintaining a low-key style of delivery, in a relaxed, easy-going manner. His listeners respond to this, speaking in a controlled, thoughtful way. Their applause was resounding but never for a moment was any part of his listeners out of hand.

Our former State Representative, A. June Franklin, was responsible for his evening following his appearance on stage. She and Mr. Bond have developed a close friendship resulting from their united efforts throughout the United States representing the Black population in government. They have fought many battles side by side.

Mrs. Franklin's home was the scene of her entertainment for Mr. Bond. A large brick dwelling it is beautifully furnished in dark and light woods, favoring the colors beige and brown. Guests flowed freely from living room, to dining room, to kitchen with some gathering in small groups in one of the bedrooms. This last mainly women for their heart to heart chats.

In the dining room the dining table was extended to its fullest length and laden with platters of barbecued turkey with a container of barbecue sauce; a tray of ham, a casserole of noodles topped by ground beef; a relish tray was laden with cherry tomatoes, cucumbers, olives, green onion rings, celery, a bowl of cauliflower chunks, an enormous platter of crisp fried chicken. These and other bowls and trays were served with a container of an assortment of breads. Of the salads one topped all the others — a pale green gelatin whipped cream affair — delicious to recall!!

Mrs. Franklin relayed to those assembled, John Hoskins' invitation to Julian Bond and the entire party to be his guests at his Black Playboy Club, Des Moines' newest and one of its most beautiful niteries!

When we heard this incredibly good news, everyone accepted, got into our cars and converged on the Black Playboy Club.

Among those gathered at June Franklin's were the following. Let's begin with her charming family: her mother, Mrs. Jean McGee assisted by Mrs. Arline Freeman were on hand to greet the guests until Mrs. Franklin's arrival with the guest of honor. Also assisting were 17 year old Tonya, who will receive her diploma from Roosevelt High School this June. In the meantime, she rehearses for a school play and is a volunteer worker in the children's day care program and in another agency; there was tall, handsome Charles Franklin, a 14 year old 8th grader, who was very much at home among the young men, proving himself a very fine host.

Others noted were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reichardt, Mrs. Geraldine Smith, Eddie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John Estes, Jr.; Kirk Glover, Homer McQueen, Mrs. Janet Turner, Leonard Johnson, Vern Hill, Laurence Robinson, Miss Manella Hendred, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Last winter the Simmons' heated their home electrically for $40⁶⁰ a month.*

Mr. & Mrs. A. L. "Speck" Simmons live at 3410 S.W. 31st in Des Moines, Iowa. Their home has 2750 square feet on three levels... heated with electric baseboard units. We asked them to tell us about their electric heat. Here's what they said:

"The nice thing about baseboard heat is that you can zone heat your home. We have thirteen thermostats in our house so we're able to keep each part of the house at an individual temperature if we so desire.

"We're extremely satisfied because the heat is even throughout the house... there are no cold spots.

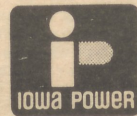

"I was a little skeptical about the cost at first, but it really exceeded my expectations.

"It's clean, we don't have any dust, and it's very quiet.

"We will always stick to electric heat if at all possible. If we ever build a new home, it will definitely be electric heat. We are very pleased with electric heat."

When you consider the cost of a heating system, consider the value. Electric heating is cleaner, quieter and more flexible than any other system. It's the only system that will be as modern years from now as it is today.

Curious? Mail in the coupon! Let us provide you with an individually prepared estimate of the electric heating cost based on your house plans. No obligation. Just the plain facts... then you decide which is best.

*PLEASE READ THIS AD CAREFULLY:

The keys to saving money and enjoying total electric home comfort are properly sized equipment and well-insulated homes. The ad states the size of the house and the average bill for the five coldest months. If your bills are markedly higher, first carefully figure your complete heated area in square feet. (Please remember if you heat your basement, count this area too.) Next, check your insulation. You can do this yourself or have it done by a competent insulation contractor.

Another important point. The average dollar amount shown above is only the heat portion of the electric bill. Each of these customers pays for electricity to run all the rest of his appliances. This portion varies considerably among customers and is not very relevant in specific comparisons.

I would like to know more about electric heating. I understand there is no obligation.
